8.370.12.30 MEDICAL RECORDS SERVICES:

A. Medical Record: A medical record shall be maintained for every patient admitted for care in the hospital. The record shall be kept confidential and released only in accordance with Sections 14- 6-1, 14-6-2 NMSA 1978 and, where appropriate, Section 43-1-19 NMSA 1978.

B. Service: The hospital shall have a medical records service with administrative responsibility for all medical records maintained by the hospital.

(1) Confidentiality:

(a) Written consent of the patient or legally authorized person shall be required for release of medical information to persons not otherwise authorized to receive this information.

(b) Original medical records may not be removed from the hospital except by authorized persons who are acting in accordance with a court order, and where measures are taken to protect the record from loss, defacement, tampering and unauthorized access.

(2) Preservation: There shall be a written policy for the preservation of medical records The retention period shall be for 10 years following the last treatment date of the patient, except in the case of minor children whose records shall be retained to the age of majority, plus one year.

(a) Laboratory test records and reports may be destroyed one year after the date of the test recorded or reported therein provided that one copy is placed in the patient's record, or stored electronically in the hospital's information system. The hospital is responsible for electronic storage.

(b) X-ray films may be destroyed four years after the date of exposure, if there are in the hospital record written findings of a radiologist who has read such x-ray films. At anytime after the third year after the date of exposure, and upon proper identification, the patient may recover his own x-ray films as may be retained pursuant to this section. The written radiological findings shall be retained as provided by these requirements.

(3) Personnel:

(a) Adequate numbers of personnel who are qualified to supervise and operate the service shall be provided.

(b) A registered medical records administrator or an accredited records technician shall head the services, except that if such a professionally qualified person is not in charge of medical records, a consultant who is a registered records administrator or an accredited records technician shall organize the service, train the medical records personnel and make at least quarterly visits to the hospital to evaluate the records and the operation of the service, and prepare written reports of findings within 30 days.

(c) In this subdivision, "a registered record administrator" or an "accredited record technician" is an individual who has successfully completed the examination requirements of the American medical record association.

(4) Availability:

(a) The system for identifying and filing records shall permit prompt retrieval of each patient's medical records.

(b) A master patient index shall include at least the patient's full name, sex, birth date and medical record number or reference to treatment dates.

(c) Filing equipment and space shall be adequate to maintain the records and facilitate retrieval.

(d) The inpatient, ambulatory care and emergency records of patients shall be kept in such a way that all patient care information can be provided for patient care when the patient is admitted to the hospital, when the patient appears for a pre-scheduled outpatient visit, or as needed for emergency services.

(e) Pertinent medical record information obtained from other providers including patient tracking information for patients admitted during disaster and emergency shall be available to facilitate continuity of the patient's care.

(f) The original or legally reproduced form of all clinical information pertaining to a patient's stay shall be filed in the medical record folder as a unit record. When this is not feasible a system must be in place to provide prompt retrieval of all medical records when a patient is admitted.

(5) Coding and indexing:

(a) Records shall be coded and indexed according to diagnosis, operation and physician Indexing shall be kept current within six months from the discharge of the patient.

(b) Any recognized system may be used for coding diagnoses, operations and procedures.

(c) The indices shall list all diagnoses for which the patient was treated during the hospitalization and the operations and procedures, which were performed during the hospitalization.

C. Medical record contents: The medical record staff shall ensure that each patient's medical records contain:

(1) accurate and adequate patient identification data;

(2) a concise statement of complaints, including the chief complaint, which led the patient to seek medical care and the date of onset and duration of each;

(3) a health history, containing a description of present illness, past history of illness and pertinent family and social history to be made part of the record within the first 24 hours after admission;

(4) a statement about the results of the physical examination, including all positive and negative findings resulting from an inventory of systems;

(5) the provisional diagnosis;

(6) all diagnostic and therapeutic orders;

(7) all clinical laboratory, x-ray reports and other diagnostic reports;

(8) consultation reports containing a written opinion by the consultant that reflects, when appropriate, an actual examination of the patient and the patient's medical records;

(9) except in an emergency, a current, thorough history and physical work-up shall be recorded in the medical record of every patient prior to surgery;

(10) an operative report describing techniques and findings written or dictated immediately after surgery; the completed operative report is authenticated by the surgeon and filed in the medical record as soon as possible after surgery or available electronically in the hospital information system; when the operative report is not placed in the medical record immediately after surgery, a progress note is entered immediately;

(11) a post operative documentation record of the patient's discharge from the post anesthesia care area;

(12) tissue reports, including a report of microscopic findings if hospital policies require that microscopic examination be done; if only microscopic examination is warranted, a statement that the tissue has been received and a microscopic description of the findings shall be provided by the laboratory and filed in the medical record;

(13) progress notes providing a chronological picture of the patient's progress sufficient to delineate the course and the results of treatment;

(14) a definitive final diagnosis including all relevant treatment and operative procedures performed expressed in the terminology of a recognized system of disease nomenclature;

(15) a discharge summary including the final diagnosis, the reason for hospitalization, the significant findings, the procedures performed, the condition of the patient on discharge and any specific instructions given the patient or family. A final progress note is acceptable when stay is less than 48 hours and in case of normal newborn infants and uncomplicated obstetrical deliveries;

(16) autopsy findings when an autopsy is performed; and

(17) for comprehensive inpatient programs the following information shall be present as well: rehabilitation evaluation including medical, psycho-social history and physical exam; rehabilitation plans including goals for treatment; documentation of patient care conferences held minimally every two weeks, or as indicated, by appropriate disciplines involved in the care and treatment of the patient, in which the patient's treatment and response to rehabilitation services shall be evaluated and modified as indicated.

D. Authentication: Only members of the hospital staff or other professional personnel authorized by the hospital shall record and authenticate entries in the medical record. Documentation of medical staff participation in the care of the patient shall be evidenced by at least:

(1) the signature on the patient's health history as the required by medical staff by-laws and results of his or her physical examination;

(2) periodic progress notes or countersignatures as defined by the hospital rules and regulations;

(3) the surgeon's signature on the operative report; and

(4) the signature as required by medical staff by-laws on the face sheet and discharge summary.

E. Completion:

(1) Current records and those on discharged patients shall be completed promptly.

(2) If a patient is readmitted within 30 days for the same or related condition, there shall be a reference to the previous history with an interval note, and any pertinent changes in physical findings shall be recorded.

(3) All records of discharged patients shall be completed within a reasonable period of time specified in the medical staff by-laws, but not to exceed 30 days after discharge, excepting autopsy reports.

F. Maternity patient records:

(1) Prenatal findings: Except in an emergency, before a maternity patient may be admitted to a hospital, a legible copy of the prenatal history shall be submitted to the hospital's obstetrical staff. The prenatal history shall note complication, Rh determination and other matters essential to adequate care.

(2) Maternal medical record: Each obstetric patient shall have a complete hospital record, which shall include:

(a) patient identification, prenatal history and findings;

(b) the labor and delivery record, including anesthesia;

(c) medicine and treatment sheet, including nursing notes;

(d) any laboratory and x-rays reports;

(e) any medical consultant's notes; and

(f) an estimate of blood loss.

G. Newborn medical records: Each newborn patient shall have a complete hospital record which shall include:

(1) a record of pertinent material data, type of labor and delivery, and the condition of the infant at birth;

(2) a record of physical examinations;

(3) progress sheets to include medicine, treatment, weights, feeding and temperatures; and

(4) the notes of any medical consultant.

H. Fetal death: In the case of a fetal death, the weight and length of the fetus shall be recorded on the delivery record.

I. Authentication of all entries:

(1) Documentation:

(a) All entries in medical records by hospital staff and medical staff shall be legible, permanently recorded, dated and authenticated with the name and title of the person making the entry.

(b) All orders shall be recorded and authenticated. All verbal and telephone orders shall be authenticated by the prescribing practitioner, or a practitioner authorized to sign on behalf of the prescribing physician, in writing within 72 hours.

(c) A rubber stamp reproduction of a person's signature or an electronic signature may be used instead of a handwritten signature, if: the stamp is used only by the person whose signature the stamp replicates, the facility possesses a statement signed by the person, certifying that only that person(s) shall possess and use the stamp.

(2) Symbols and abbreviations: Symbols and abbreviations may be used in medical records if approved by a written facility policy, which defines the symbols and abbreviations and controls their use. There shall be only one meaning per symbol.

8.370.12.31 LABORATORY SERVICES:

A. Services and facilities:

(1) The extent and complexity of laboratory services shall be commensurate with the size, scope, and nature of the hospital and the needs of the medical staff.

(2) Necessary space, facilities and equipment to perform both the basic minimum and all other services shall be provided by the hospital either on-site or by contracts and services.

(3) All equipment shall be made to carry out adequate clinical laboratory examinations and services, as appropriate for the care of the patients. In the case of work performed, the original report or a legally reproduced copy of the report from the laboratory shall be contained in the medical record.

B. Availability:

(1) Laboratory services shall be available at all times, and there shall be a sufficient number of qualified laboratory testing personnel and support staff to perform promptly and efficiently the tests required of the pathology and medical laboratory services.

(2) Adequate provision shall be made for ensuring the availability of emergency laboratory services, either in the hospital or under arrangements with another laboratory. These services shall be available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, including holidays, and shall include the referral of specimens potentially related to disaster and emergency to the scientific laboratory division of the New Mexico health care authority for confirmation, or rejection, of that relationship, and the reporting of notifiable conditions to the office of epidemiology of the New Mexico health care authority and to the local public health office.

(3) A hospital that has contracted for laboratory services is in compliance with this paragraph if the contracted services have a current CLIA certificate at the appropriate level of testing.

C. Personnel:

(1) A qualified medical technologist shall be a graduate of a medical technology program approved by a nationally recognized body or has documented equivalent education, training, or experience; a qualified medical lab technician shall be a graduate of a program approved by the federal health care authority and human services.

(2) The laboratory may not perform procedures and tests that are outside the scope of training of laboratory personnel.

D. Records:

(1) Laboratory test records and reports may be destroyed four years after the date of the test with the exception of minor children whose records must be maintained until the age of majority plus one year.

(2) The laboratory director shall be responsible for the laboratory report.

(3) A mechanism by which the clinical laboratory report shall be authenticated by testing personnel shall be delineated in the laboratory services' policies and procedures.

(4) The laboratory shall have procedures for ensuring that all requests for tests are ordered in writing by individuals authorized by the medical staff.

(5) The hospital shall have available a copy of their current CLIA certificate or a verification of current CLIA certificate by contractor.

E. Anatomical Pathology:

(1) Pathologist:

(a) Anatomical pathology services shall be under the direct supervision of a pathologist. If it is on a consultative basis, the hospital shall provide for, at minimum, monthly consultative visits by the pathologist. The pathologist must be available in person or electronically at all times.

(b) The pathologist shall participate in lab quality improvement and department conferences.

(c) The pathologist shall be responsible for establishing qualifications of pathology laboratory staff.

(d) An autopsy may be performed only by a pathologist, other qualified individuals qualified by the office of medical investigator or another qualified physician.

(2) Tissue examination:

(a) The medical staff and a pathologist shall determine which tissue specimens require macroscopic examination and which require both macroscopic and microscopic examinations.

(b) The hospital shall maintain an ongoing file of tissue slides and blocks, for a minimum of ten (10) years. Use of outside laboratory facilities for storage and maintenance of records, slides and blocks is permitted.

(c) If the hospital does not have a pathologist or otherwise qualified physician, there shall be a written plan for sending all tissues requiring examination to a pathologist outside the hospital.

(d) A log of all tissues sent outside the hospital for examination shall be maintained. Arrangements for tissue examinations done outside the hospital shall be made with a certified laboratory, or a laboratory approved for the federal CLIA program.

(e) Specimens shall be considered hazardous waste and shall be disposed of in a safe manner.

(3) Records:

(a) All reports of macroscopic and microscopic tissue examination must be authenticated by the pathologist or other qualified physician.

(b) Provisions shall be made for the prompt filing of examination results in the patient's medical record and for notification of the provider who requested the examination.

(c) The autopsy report shall be distributed to the provider and shall be made a part of the patient's record.

(d) Duplicate records of the examination reports shall be kept in the laboratory and maintained in a manner, which permits ready identification and accessibility for a minimum of two years.

(4) Blood bank:

(a) The blood bank shall be operated according to standards set by the accrediting agency; either the FDA or CLIA, whichever is more stringent.

(b) Records shall be kept on file in the laboratory service and in the patient medical records according to CLIA guidelines to indicate the receipt and disposition of all blood and blood products provided to patients in the hospital.

(5) Laboratory certification: The hospital laboratory shall successfully participate in proficiency testing programs that are offered or approved by CMS in those specialties for which the laboratory offers services. Provisions shall be made for an acceptable quality control program covering all types of analysis performed by the laboratory and any other department performing any other laboratory tests.

8.370.12.32 RADIOLOGICAL SERVICES:

A. Diagnostic X-Ray services.

(1) Requirement: The hospital shall make diagnostic x-ray services available. These services shall meet professionally approved standards for safety and the qualifications of personnel in addition to the requirements set out in this subsection.

(2) Location: The hospital shall have diagnostic x-ray facilities available in the hospital building proper or clinic or medical facility that is readily accessible to the hospital's patients, physicians and staff.

(3) Policies: Written policies and procedures shall be developed and maintained by the person responsible for the service in consultation with other appropriate health professionals and administration. The governing body shall approve the policies. The administrative and medical stall shall approve the procedures where appropriate.

(4) Safety:

(a) The radiological service shall be free of hazards for patients and personnel.

(b) Proper safety precautions shall be maintained against fire and explosion hazards, electrical hazards and radiation hazards.

(c) Hospital x-ray facilities shall be inspected by a qualified radiation physicist or by the New Mexico environment department radiation consultant at least once every two years. Hazards identified by inspections shall be properly and promptly corrected.

(d) Radiological equipment and radiation services shall conform with the requirements of the Radiation Protection Act, Sections 74-3-1 through 74-3-16, NMSA 1978.

(e) Attention shall be paid to current safety design and good operating procedures for use of fluoroscopes. Records shall be maintained of the output of all fluoroscopes.

(f) Policies based on medical staff recommendations shall be established for the administration of the application and removal of radium element, it's disintegration products and other radioactive isotopes.

(5) Personnel:

(a) A physician shall have overall responsibility for the radiological service. This physician shall be certified or eligible for certification by the American board of radiology. If such a radiologist is not available on a full-time or regular part-time basis, a physician, with training and experience in radiology, may administer the service. In this circumstance, a radiologist, qualified as above, shall provide consultation services at suitable intervals to assure high quality service.

(b) A sufficient number of personnel capable of supervising and carrying out the radiological services shall be provided. Their training must conform to the requirements set out in the Medical Radiation Health and Safety Act, Sections 61-14E-1 through 61-15E-12, NMSA 1978 and regulations promulgated by the New Mexico environment department titled radiologic technology certification, 20.3.20 NMAC.

(c) The interpretation of radiological examinations shall be made by physicians qualified in the field.

(d) The hospital shall have a board- certified radiologist, full-time, part- time or on a consulting basis, who is qualified to interpret films that require specialized knowledge for accurate reading.

(e) A technologist shall be on duty or on call at all times.

(f) Only personnel designated as qualified by the state radiology technologist licensing body may use the x-ray apparatus, and only similarly designated personnel may apply and remove the radium element, its disintegration products and radioactive isotopes. Only properly trained persons authorized by the medical director of the radiological service may operate fluoroscopic equipment.

(6) Records:

(a) Authenticated radiological reports shall be filed in the patient's medical record.

(b) Written orders by the attending physician or other individual authorized by medical staff for an x-ray examination shall contain a concise statement of the reason for the examination.

(c) Interpretations of x-rays shall be written or dictated and signed by a qualified physician or other individual authorized by the medical staff.

(d) Copies of interpretive findings shall be retained in the medical record for at least 10 years. Scans and other image records shall be retained for at least four years.

B. Therapeutic X-Rays Services: If therapeutic x-ray services are provided, they shall meet professionally approved standards for safety and for qualifications of personnel. The physician in charge shall be appropriately qualified. Only a physician qualified by training and experience may prescribe radiotherapy treatments.

C. Anesthesia:

(1) Policies:

(a) The anesthesia service shall have effective written policies and procedures to protect the health and safety of all patients.

(b) If explosive gases are used, the service shall have appropriate policies, in writing, for safe use of these gases.

(2) Anesthesia use requirements:

(a) Every surgical patient shall have a pre-anesthetic assessment, intra-operative monitoring, and post-anesthesia assessment prior to discharge from a post-anesthesia level of care, according to hospital policy.

(b) In hospitals where there is no organized anesthesia service, the surgical service shall assume the responsibility for establishing general policies and supervising the administration of anesthetics.

(c) Anesthesia shall be administered only by a licensed practitioner permitted by the state to administer anesthetics.

(d) If a general or regional anesthetic is used and an MD or DO is not a member of the operating team, an MD or DO shall be immediately available on the hospital premises.

D. Dental service: All dental services shall meet the following requirements.

(1) Dentists performing surgical procedures at the hospital shall be members of the medical staff.

(2) Surgical procedures performed by dentists shall be under the overall supervision of an M.D. or D.O., unless the dentist is a licensed oral surgeon.

(3) There shall be policies for referral of patients in need of dental services. These policies will be readily available to all emergency care staff.

E. Maternity:

(1) Definitions: In this subsection.

(a) "Neonatal" means pertaining to the first 27 days following birth.

(b) "Oxytocics" means any of several drugs that stimulate the smooth muscle of the uterus to contract and that are used to initiate labor at term.

(c) "Perinatal" means pertaining to the mother, fetus or infant, in anticipation of and during delivery, and in the first post partum week.

(d) "Perinatal care center" means an organized hospital-based health care service which includes a high-risk maternity service and a neonatal intensive care unit capable of providing case management for the most serious types of maternal, fetal and neonatal illness and abnormalities.

(2) Reporting numbers of beds and bassinets. The number of beds and bassinets for maternity patients and newborn infants, shall be designated by the hospital and reported to the licensing authority.

(3) Maternity admission requirements. The hospital shall have written policies regarding standards of practice for maternity and non-maternity patients who may be admitted to the maternity unit.

(4) High risk infants. Each maternity service shall have adequate facilities, personnel, equipment and support services for the care of high-risk infants, including premature infants, or a written plan for prompt transfer of these infants to a recognized intensive infant care or perinatal care center.

(5) Institutional transfer of infants.

(a) Written policies and procedures for inter-hospital transfer of perinatal and neonatal patients shall be established by hospitals which are involved in the transfer of these patients.

(b) A perinatal care center or high-risk maternity service and the sending hospital shall jointly develop policies and procedures for the transport of high-risk maternity patients.

(c) Policies, personnel and equipment for the transfer of infants from one hospital to another shall be available to each hospital's maternity service. The proper execution of transfer is a joint responsibility of the sending and receiving hospitals.

(6) Personnel:

(a) The labor, delivery, postpartum and nursery areas of maternity units shall have available the continuous services and supervision of a professional registered nurse for whom there shall be documentation of qualifications to care for women and infants during labor, delivery and in the postpartum period.

(b) When a maternity unit requires additional staff on an emergency basis, the needed personnel may be transferred from another service if they meet the infection control criteria.

(c) The service shall have written policies that state which emergency procedures may be initiated by the professional registered nurse in the maternity service.

(7) Infection control:

(a) The infection surveillance and control program in the maternity service shall be integrated with that of the entire hospital.

(b) Surgery on non-maternity patients may not be performed in the delivery suite, except in emergencies.

(c) Hospitals unable to effectively isolate and care for infants shall have an approved written plan for transferring the infants to hospitals where the necessary isolation and care can be provided.

(8) Labor and delivery:

(a) The hospital shall have written policies and procedures that specify who is responsible for, and what is to be documented for, the care of the patient in labor and delivery, including alternative birthing rooms.

(b) Equipment that is needed for normal delivery and the management of complications and emergencies occurring with either the mother or infant shall be provided and maintained in the labor and delivery unit. The medical staff and the nursing staff shall determine the items needed.

(c) The facility shall have policies for the performing of newborn genetic screening.

(d) Written standing orders shall exist allowing nurses qualified by documented training and experience to discontinue the oxytocic drip should circumstances warrant discontinuance.

(e) The hospital shall be responsible for proper identification of newborns in its care.

(9) Postpartum care: The hospital shall have written policies and procedures for nursing assessments of the postpartum patient during the entire postpartum course.

(10) Newborn nursery and the care of newborns.

(a) Oxygen, medical air and suction shall be readily available to every nursery.

(b) Hospitals that may require special formula preparation shall develop appropriate written policies and procedures.

(c) Newborn infants shall be screened for hearing sensitivity prior to being discharged.

(d) In the event that a newborn infant is brought to the hospital after birth and has not received a hearing sensitivity screening, the attending physician, nurse, audiologist or authorized staff shall arrange for a hearing sensitivity screening to be performed by a program approved by children's medical services of the health care authority.

(e) The hospital shall have effective written policies and procedures to assure that newborn infants, who are brought to the hospital for emergency services, receive a hearing sensitivity screening.

(f) Documentation of the hearing sensitivity screening shall be entered into the infant's medical record as subject to Subsection G of 8.370.12.29 NMAC.

(g) Parents or the legally authorized person may waive the requirements for the newborn hearing sensitivity screening in writing if they object to the screening on the grounds that it conflicts with their religious beliefs. The waiver for the hearing screening shall be after the parents or legally authorized person have been provided with both written and oral explanations by the infant's physician so that they may make an informed decision. The document of waiver shall be placed in the newborn infant's medical record.

(h) Parent(s) who have lawful custody of the infant screened for hearing sensitivity shall be notified of the test results.

(i) Hospitals that permit minor siblings to visit the maternity unit shall have written policies and procedures detailing this practice.

(11) Discharge of infants:

(a) An infant may be discharged only to a parent who has lawful custody of the infant or to an individual who is legally authorized to receive the infant. If the infant is discharged to a legally authorized individual, that individual shall provide identification and, if applicable, the identification of the agency the individual represents.

(b) The hospital shall record the identity of the parent or legally authorized individual who received the infant in the infant's medical record.

(2) Facilities for the emergency service shall be separate and independent of the operating room.

(3) The location of the emergency service shall be in close proximity to an exterior entrance of the hospital.

D. Personnel:

(1) There shall be sufficient medical and nursing personnel available for the emergency service at all times. All medical and nursing personnel assigned to emergency services shall be trained in cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

(2) The medical staff shall ensure that qualified members of the medical staff are available at all times for the emergency service, either on duty or on call, and that an authorized medical staff member is responsible for all patients who arrive for treatment in the emergency service.

(3) If unable to reach the patient within 15 minutes, the physician or a licensed independent practitioner shall provide specific instructions to the emergency staff on duty if emergency measures are necessary. These instructions may take the form of written protocols approved by the medical staff.

E. A sufficient number of professional registered nurses qualified by training or experience to work in emergency services shall be available to deal with the number and severity of emergency service cases.

F. The hospital shall ensure that all personnel who provide care to sexual assault survivors have documented training in the provision of medically and factually accurate and objective information about emergency contraception within 60 days of employment.

G. Complaints:

(1) Complaints of failure to provide services required by the Sexual Assault Survivors Emergency Care Act may be filed with the authority.

(2) The authority shall investigate every complaint it receives regarding failure of a hospital to provide services required by the Sexual Assault Survivors Emergency Care Act to determine the action to be taken to satisfy the complaint.

(3) If the authority determines that a hospital has failed to provide the services required in the Sexual Assault Survivors Emergency Care Act, the authority shall:

(a) issue a written warning to the hospital upon receipt of a complaint that the hospital is not providing the services required by the Sexual Assault Survivors Emergency Care Act; and

(b) based on the authority's investigation of the first complaint, require the hospital to correct the deficiency leading to the complaint.

(4) If after the issuance of a written warning to the hospital pursuant to Subsection D of this section, the authority finds that the hospital has failed to provide services required by the Sexual Assault Survivors Emergency Care Act, the authority shall, for a second through fifth complaint, impose on the hospital a fine of $1,000:

(a) per sexual assault survivor who is found by the authority to have been denied medically and factually accurate and objective information about emergency contraception or who is not offered or provided emergency contraception; or

(b) per month from the date of the complaint alleging noncompliance until the hospital provides training pursuant to the rules of the authority.

(5) For the sixth and subsequent complaint against the same hospital if the authority finds the hospital has failed to provide services required by the Sexual Assault Survivors Emergency Care Act, the authority shall impose an intermediate sanction pursuant to Section 24-1-5.2 NMSA 1978 or suspend or revoke the license of the hospital issued pursuant to the Public Health Act.

H. Medical records:

(1) Adequate medical records to permit continuity or care after provision of emergency services shall be maintained on all patients. The emergency room patient record shall contain:

(a) patient identification;

(b) history of disease or injury;

(c) physical findings;

(d) laboratory and x-ray reports, if any;

(e) diagnosis;

(f) record of treatment;

(g) disposition of the case;

(h) appropriate time notations, including time of the patient's arrival, time of physician notification, time of treatment, including administration of medications, time of patient discharge or transfer from the service or time of death.

(2) Where appropriate, medical records of emergency services shall be integrated with those of the inpatient and outpatient services.

I. Emergency committee: An emergency services committee composed of physician, professional registered nurses and other appropriate hospital staff shall review emergency services and medical records for appropriateness of patient care on at least a quarterly basis. The committee shall make appropriate recommendations to the medical staff and hospital administrative staff based on its findings. This review may be part of a hospital's overall quality improvement program. Minutes of these meetings shall be maintained for a one year period.

J. Equipment and supplies: All equipment and supplies necessary for life support shall be available, including but not limited to, airway control and ventilation equipment, suction devices, cardiac monitor, defibrillator, pacemaker capability, apparatus to establish central venous pressure monitoring, intravenous fluids and administration devices.

8.370.12.39 SOCIAL WORK SERVICES:

A. Organized service. If the healthcare system provides social work services there should be corresponding written policies and procedures governing the scope and provision of services. If the system does not have employed providers for social work services, then they must be obtained via consultation with outside sources.

B. Personnel.

(1) Direction: Social work services shall be directed by personnel who have:

(a) a master's degree in social work from a graduate school of social work accredited by the council on social work education, and has one year of social work experience in a health care setting; or

8.370.12.40 ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS FOR PSYCHIATRIC HOSPITALS:

A. Additional medical record requirements: The medical records maintained by a psychiatric hospital shall document the degree and intensity of the treatment provided to individuals who are furnished services by the facility. A patient's medical record shall contain:

(1) identification data, including the patient's legal status;

(2) the reason for treatment or chief complaint in the words of the patient, when possible, as well as observations or concerns expressed by others;

(3) the psychiatric evaluation, including medical history containing a record of mental status and noting the onset of illness, the circumstances leading to admission, attitudes, behavior, estimate of intellectual functions, memory functioning, orientation and an inventory of the patient's personality assets recorded in descriptive fashion;

(4) social services records, including reports of interviews with patients, family members and others and an assessment of home plans, family attitudes and community resource contacts as well as social history;

(5) a comprehensive treatment plan based on an inventory of the patient's strengths and disabilities, which shall include:

(a) at least one diagnosis;

(b) short-term and long-range goals;

(c) the specific treatment modalities used; and

(d) the responsibilities of each member of the treatment team.

(6) staff shall plan, implement and revise, as indicated, a written, individualized treatment program for each patient based on:

(a) the degree of psychological impairment and appropriate measures to be taken to relieve treatable distress and to compensate for nonreversible impairments;

(b) the patient's capacity for social interaction;

(c) environmental and physical limitations such as seclusion room or restraints, required to safeguard the individual's health and safety with an appropriate plan of care; and

(d) the individual's potential for discharge and successful care management on an outpatient basis.

(7) the documentation of all active therapeutic efforts and interventions;

(8) progress notes related to treatment needs and the treatment plan are reviewed, revised and recorded at least weekly as the status of the patient requires by the physician, nurse, social worker and staff from other appropriate disciplines involved in active treatment modalities, as indicated by the patient's condition; and

(9) discharge information, including:

(a) recommendations from appropriate services concerning follow-up care; and

(b) at least one diagnosis.

B. Additional treatment plan and staffing requirements:

(1) The hospital shall have enough staff with appropriate qualifications to carry out an active plan of psychiatric treatment for individuals who are furnished services in the facility.

(2) The treatment of psychiatric inpatients shall be under the supervision of a qualified physician who shall provide for taking an active role in an intensive treatment program.

(3) If non- psychiatric medical and surgical diagnostic and treatment services are not available within the facility, qualified consultants or attending physicians shall be immediately available if a patient should need this attention, or an adequate arrangement shall be in place for immediate transfer of the patient to an acute-care hospital.

(4) Nursing services shall be under the supervision of a professional registered nurse qualified to care for psychiatric patients and, by demonstrated competence, to participate in interdisciplinary formulation of individual treatment plans, to give skilled nursing care and therapy, and to direct, supervise and educate others who assist in implementing the nursing component of each patient's treatment plan.

(5) Professional registered nurses and other nursing personnel shall participate in inter-disciplinary meetings affecting the planning and implementation of treatment plans for patients, including diagnostic conferences, treatment planning sessions and meetings held to consider alternative facilities and community resources.

(6) Psychological services shall be under the supervision of a psychologist licensed under the Professional Psychologists Act, Section 61-9-1 through 61-9-18 NMSA 1978. There shall be enough psychologists, consultants and support personnel qualified to carry out their duties to:

(a) assist in essential diagnostic formulations;

8.370.12.41 PHYSICAL ENVIRONMENT:

A. General: The buildings of the hospital shall be constructed and maintained so that they are functional for diagnosis and treatment and for the delivery of the hospital services appropriate to the needs of the community and with due regard for protecting the life, health and safety of the patients and staff. The provisions of this section apply to all new, remodeled and existing construction unless otherwise noted.

B. Definitions in 8.370.12.41 NMAC.

(1) "Building, existing" means a building erected prior to the adoption of this requirement, or one for which a legal building permit has been issued.

(2) "Existing construction" means a building, which is in place or is being constructed with plans approved by the authority prior to the effective date of this chapter.

(3) "Full-term nursery" means an area in the hospital designated for the care of infants who are born following a full-term pregnancy and without complications, until discharged to a parent or other legally authorized person.

(4) "Intermediate nursery" means an area in the hospital designated for the care of infants immediately following birth who require observation due to complications, and for the care of infants who require observation following placement in the critical care nursery, until discharged to a parent or other legally authorized person.

(5) "Life safety code" means the standard adopted by the national fire protection association (NFPA) known as NFPA 101 life safety code.

(6) "New construction" means construction for the first time of any building or addition or remodeling to an existing building, the plans for which are approved after the effective date of this chapter.

(7) "Remodeling" means to make over or rebuild any portion of an existing building or structure and thereby modify its structure, structural strength, fire hazard character, exits, heating and ventilation systems, electrical system or internal circulation, as previously approved by the authority. Where exterior walls are in place but interior walls are not in place at the time of the effective date of this chapter, construction of interior walls shall be considered remodeling. "Remodeling" does not include repairs necessary for the maintenance of a building or structure.

(8) "Special care unit" means an organized health care service that combines specialized facilities and staff for the intensive care and management of patients in a crisis or potential crisis state. "Special care units" include psychiatric special care, coronary care, surgical intensive care, medical intensive care and burn units, but do not include post- obstetrical or post-surgical recovery units or neonatal intensive care units.

C. Approvals: The hospital shall keep all documentation of inspections on file in the hospital following any inspections by state and local authorities for a period of five years.

D. Fire Protection:

(1) Basic responsibility: The hospital shall provide fire protection adequate to ensure the safety of patients, staff and others on the hospital's premises. Necessary safeguards such as extinguishers, sprinkling and detection devices, fire and smoke barriers, and ventilation control barriers shall be installed and maintained to ensure rapid and effective fire and smoke control.

(2) New construction: Any new construction or remodeling shall meet the applicable provisions of the current edition of the building code, fire code, life safety code, and AIA guidelines for hospitals and health care facilities.

(3) Existing facilities: Any existing hospital shall be considered to have met the requirements of this subsection if, prior to the promulgation of this chapter, the hospital complied with and continues to comply with the applicable provisions of the 1967, 1973 or the current edition of the life safety code, with or without waivers.

(4) Equivalent compliance: Any existing facility that does not meet all requirements of the applicable life safety code may be considered in compliance with life safety code if the facility achieves a passing score on the fire safety evaluation system (FSES) developed by the U.S. department of commerce, national bureau of standards, to establish safety equivalencies under the life safety code.

E. General construction:

(1) Prior to any construction, one copy of schematic plans shall be submitted to the licensing authority for review and preliminary approval.

(2) Before construction is started, one copy of final plans and specifications which, are used for bidding purposes shall be submitted to the licensing authority for review and approval. Plans must be prepared, sealed, signed and dated by an architect registered in the state of New Mexico.

(3) If on-site construction above the foundation is not started within 12 months of the date of approval of the final plans and specifications, the approval under these requirements shall be void and the plans and specifications must be resubmitted for reconsideration of approval.

(4) Before any construction change(s) is undertaken affecting the approved final plans, modified plans shall be submitted to the licensing authority for review and approval. The licensing authority shall notify the hospital in writing of any conflict with this subchapter found in its review of modified plans and specifications.

(5) General: Projects involving alterations of, and additions to, existing buildings shall be programmed and phased so that on-site construction will comply with all codes and minimize disruptions of existing functions. Access, exit ways, and fire protection shall be so maintained that the safety of the occupants will not be jeopardized during construction.

(6) Minimum requirements: All requirements listed in Subsection G of 8.370.12.41 NMAC new construction, relating to new construction projects, are applicable to renovation projects involving additions or alterations. When existing conditions make changes impractical to accomplish, minor deviations from functional requirements may be permitted with the approval of the licensing authority if the intent of the requirements is met and if the care and safety of patients will not be jeopardized.

(7) Nonconforming condition: When doing renovation work, if it is found to be infeasible to correct all of the non-conforming conditions in the existing facility in accordance with these standards, acceptable compliance status may be recognized by the licensing agency if the operation of the facility, necessary access by the handicapped, and safety of the patients, are not jeopardized by the remaining non-conforming conditions.

(a) Plan approval and building permit by the construction industries division or local building department, are also required for any new construction or remodeling.

(b) Copies of the life safety codes and related codes can be obtained from the national fire protection association, 11 Tracy Drive, Avon, MA 02322.

F. Construction and inspections. Construction shall not commence until plan-review deficiencies have been satisfactorily resolved.

(1) The completed construction shall be in compliance with the approved drawings and specifications, including all addenda or modifications approved for the project.

(2) A final inspection of the facility will be scheduled for the purpose of verifying compliance with the licensing standards, and approved plans and specifications.

(3) The facility shall not occupy any new structure or major addition or renovation space until the appropriate permission has been received from the local building and fire authorities and the licensing authority.

G. New Construction:

(1) General: Every hospital building hereafter constructed, every building hereafter converted for use as a hospital, and every addition or alteration hereafter made to a hospital shall comply with the requirements of these standards.

(a) Compliance with these standards does not constitute release from the requirements of other applicable state and local codes and ordinances. These standards must be followed where they exceed other codes and ordinances.

(b) No building may be converted for use as a licensed hospital, which because of its location, physical condition, state of repair, or arrangement of facilities, would be hazardous to the health and safety of the patients who would be housed in such a building. Any hospital or related institution that has been vacated in excess of one year or used for occupancy other than health care will be classified as a new facility.

(c) All new construction, remodeling and additions must meet requirements set forth by these standards, the building and fire codes and by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), for accessibility for persons with disabilities.

(2) Codes and standards: In addition to compliance with these standards, all other applicable building codes, ordinances, and regulations under city, county or other state agency jurisdiction shall be observed.

(a) Compliance with local codes shall be pre-requisite for licensing. In areas not subject to local building codes, the state building codes shall be pre- requisite for licensing, as adopted.

(b) New construction for acute-care hospitals, limited services hospitals and special hospitals are governed by the current editions of the following codes and standards: uniform building code (UBC), uniform plumbing code (UPC), uniform mechanical code (UMC), national electric code (NEC), national fire protection association standards (NFPA), American national standards institute (ANSI), American society of heating, refrigerating, and air conditioning engineers (ASHREA), American institute of architects (AIA), academy of architecture for health guidelines for design and construction of hospital and health care facilities, NFPA101, and New Mexico building code (NMBC).

H. Patient rooms-general:

(1) Bed capacity: Each hospital's bed capacity may not exceed the capacity approved by the licensing authority.

(2) Privacy: Visual privacy shall be provided for each patient in multi-bed patient rooms. In new or remodeled construction, cubicle curtains shall be provided.

(3) Toilet room:

(a) In new construction, each patient room shall have access to one toilet without entering the general corridor area. One toilet room shall serve no more than four beds and no more than two patient rooms. Where the toilet room serves more than two beds an additional hand washing shall be placed in the patient room.

(b) In new and remodeled construction, the door to the patient toilet room shall swing into the patient room, or two- way hardware shall be provided.

(c) The minimum door width to the patient toilet room shall be 36 inches (91.4 cm) for new construction. The door shall swing outward or be double acting.

(4) Minimum floor area: The minimum floor area per bed shall be 100 square feet of clear floor area in multi-bed patient rooms, and 120 square feet of clear floor area in single-bed patient rooms, exclusive of toilet rooms, closets, lockers, wardrobes, alcoves or vestibules.

(5) Minimum furnishing:

(a) A hospital-type bed with suitable mattress, pillow and the necessary coverings shall be provided for each patient.

(b) There shall be a bedside table or stand and chair for each patient.

(c) Each patient shall have within their room adequate storage space suitable for hanging full-length garments and for storing personal effects.

I. Isolation room(s) Z: Rooms shall be provided for isolation of patients whose condition require isolation for physical health reasons.

(1) Each isolation room shall have a separate toilet, bathtub (or shower), and a hand washing sink. These shall be arranged to permit access from the bed area without passing through the work area of the vestibule or anteroom.

(2) Each room shall have an area for hand washing, gowning, and storage of soiled materials located directly outside or immediately inside the entry door to the room.

(3) Each room shall have self-closing devices on all room exit doors. All wall, ceiling and floor penetrations in the room shall be sealed tightly.

J. Patient care:

(1) Nursing station or administrative center: Nursing stations or administrative centers in patient care areas of the hospital may be located to serve more than one nursing unit, but at least one of these service areas shall be provided on each nursing floor or wing. The station or center shall contain:

(a) storage for records, manuals and administrative supplies;

(b) an area for charting when the charts of patients are not maintained at patient rooms;

(c) hand washing sink conveniently accessible to the nurse station;

(d) staff toilet room: in new construction, a staff toilet room and hand washing sink shall be provided on each nursing unit; and

(e) securable closet or cabinet for the personal articles of nursing personnel, located in or near the nursing station.

(a) have at least one room equipped for surgery and used exclusively for this purpose;

(b) have a scrub room or scrub area adjacent to the surgery room used exclusively for this purpose;

(c) have a clean-up or utility room;

(d) have a storage space for sterile supplies;

(e) have means for calling for assistance in an emergency in each operating room;

(f) have housekeeping facilities adequate to maintain the operating room or rooms;

(g) have a flash sterilizer, unless sterilization facilities are accessible from the surgery area;

(h) be located and arranged to prevent unrelated traffic through the suite;

(i) ensure the room or rooms for post- anesthesia recovery of surgical patients shall at a minimum contain a medications storage area, hand- washing facilities and sufficient storage space for needed supplies and equipment; and

(j) have available oxygen and suctioning equipment in the operating suite and recovery rooms.

(4) Labor and delivery:

(a) The labor and delivery unit shall be located and arranged to prevent unrelated traffic through the unit.

(b) Facilities within the labor and delivery unit shall include: at least one room equipped as a delivery room and used exclusively for obstetrical purposes, a scrub-up room adjacent to the operative delivery unit if operative deliveries are performed, a clean- up or utility room with a flush-rim clinical sink, and a separate janitor's closet with room for housekeeping supplies for the unit.

(c) In new construction, in addition to lightning for general room illumination, adjustable examination and treatment lights shall be provided for each labor bed.

(d) The following equipment shall be available: sleeping unit for each infant, and a clock.

(e) Space for necessary housekeeping equipment in or near the nursery is required.

(f) An examination area and workspace for each nursery shall be provided.

(5) Isolation nursery:

(a) If an isolation nursery is provided in new construction: the isolation nursery shall be within the general nursery area and may not open directly to another nursery, and access to the isolation nursery shall be through an anteroom which shall have at least a sink equipped for hand-washing, gowning facilities, an enclosed storage space for clean linen and equipment and a closed hamper for disposal of refuse.

(b) A private patient room with hand- washing facilities may be used as an isolation nursery.

(6) Postpartum lounge area: The lounge and dining room when provided for maternity patients shall be separate from other areas.

L. Other physical environment:

(1) Thresholds and expansion joint: Thresholds and expansion joint covers shall be flush with the floor surface to facilitate the use of wheelchairs and carts, and as may be required by OSHA. Expansion and seismic joints shall be constructed to restrict the passage of smoke.

(2) Emergency fuel and water: The hospital shall make provisions for obtaining emergency fuel and water supplies.

(3) Emergency lighting system: The emergency lighting system and equipment shall be tested at least monthly.

(4) Diagnostic and therapeutic facilities, supplies and equipment: Diagnostic and therapeutic facilities supplies and equipment shall be sufficient in number and in good repair to permit medical and nursing staffs to provide an acceptable level of patient care.

(5) Walls and ceilings: The walls and ceilings shall be kept in good repair. Loose, cracked or peeling wallpaper and paint of walls and ceilings shall be replaced or repaired. Washable ceilings shall be provided in surgery rooms, delivery rooms, janitor closets and utility rooms.

(6) Floors: All floor materials shall be easy to clean and have wear and moisture resistance appropriate for the location. Floors in areas used for food preparation or food assembly shall be water-resistant and grease-proof and shall be kept clean and in good repair.

(7) Cords: Electrical cords shall be maintained in good repair.

(8) Carpeting:

(a) Carpeting may not be installed in rooms used primarily for food preparation and storage, dish and utensil washing, cleaning of linen and utensils, storage of janitor supplies, laundry processing, hydrotherapy, toiling and bathing, patient isolation or patient examination.

(b) Carpeting, including any underlying padding, shall have a flame spread rating permitted by the national fire protection association's national fire codes. Certified proof by the manufacturer of this test for the specific product shall be available in the facility. Certification by the installer that the material installed is the product referred to in the test shall be obtained by the facility. Carpeting may not in any case be applied to walls except where flame spread rating can be shown to be 25 or less.

(9) Acoustical tile: Acoustical tile shall be non- combustible and non-asbestos.

(10) Wastebaskets: Wastebaskets shall be made of non-combustible materials.

(11) Fire report: All incidents of fire in a facility shall be reported in writing to the licensing authority within 72 hours of the incident.

M. Maintenance: The hospital must maintain written evidence of routine maintenance performed for the facility, supplies and equipment to ensure an acceptable level of safety and quality.

8.370.13.8 GENERAL REQUIREMENTS:

A. Eligibility: The following facilities that were enrolled and certified to participate in Medicare as of December 27, 2020, are eligible to be an REH:

(1) CAHs;

(2) A subsection (d) hospital (as defined in section 1886(d)(1)(B) of the Social Security Act (the Act) with not more than 50 beds located in a county (or equivalent unit of local government) in a rural area (as defined in section 1886(d)(2)(D) of the Act) (referred to as rural hospital);

(3) A subsection (d) hospital (as so defined) with not more than 50 beds that was treated as being located in a rural area pursuant to section 1886(d)(8)(E) of the Act (referred to as rural hospital);

(4) Facilities that were enrolled as CAHs or rural hospitals with not more than 50 beds as of December 27, 2020, and then subsequently closed after that date, would also be eligible to seek REH designation if they re-enroll in Medicare and meet all the COPs and requirements for REHs.

B. Action plan: An action plan must be submitted to the authority by the applicant facility to initiate REH services. The action plan outlines the facility's plan for conversion to an REH and the initiation of REH specific services including the provision of emergency department services, observation care and other medical and health services elected by the REH. This should include details regarding staffing provisions and the number and type of qualified staff for the provision of REH services, as set forth in the CMS COPs.

(1) The action plan must include a detailed transition plan that lists the following:

(a) specific services the facility will retain;

(b) specific services the facility will modify;

(c) specific services the facility will add; and

(d) specific services the facility will discontinue.

(2) The facility must include a description of services that the facility intends to furnish on an outpatient basis if elected by the REH.

(3) The facility must also include information regarding how the facility intends to use the additional facility payment. This includes a description of the services that the additional facility payment would be supporting such as the operation and maintenance of the facility and furnishing of services (i.e., telehealth services, ambulance services etc.).

(4) Eligible facilities may submit the action plan and additional information on letterhead or use the model template available on the CMS website. The submission should be signed by the facility's legal representative/ administrator.

(5) The authority will forward the action plan and information along with its recommendation for approval or denial to the designated CMS location for review and approval of the action plan components. The CMS location will make a final determination and notify the MAC once the enrollment package is complete and has been reviewed and approved.

(6) The action plan and information must include all the required elements as specified in Paragraph (1)-(3) of Subsection B of Section 8.370.13.9 NMAC. Missing or incomplete information may delay the conversion and enrollment process for eligible facilities applying to become an REH.

(7) In accordance with section 1861(kkk) (2)(A) of the Act, action plans will be available to the public and will eventually be posted on the CMS website.

C. Transfer Agreement: Pursuant to section 1861(kkk)(2) of the Act and 42 CFR 485.538 Condition of participation: Agreements, the REH is required to have a transfer agreement with at least one medicare-certified hospital that is designated as a level I or level II trauma center. The agreement is intended to ensure an appropriate referral and transfer process is in place for patients requiring emergency care and continued care services beyond the capabilities of the REH. In order to document compliance, a copy of the transfer agreement should be submitted to the authority along with the action plan.

D. Attestation:

(1) An REH is required to meet the COPs for rural emergency hospitals set forth at Subpart E of 42 CFR Part 485 (485.500 - 485.546). Other than the requirement that the REH submit its agreement with a nearby trauma center, eligible facilities converting to an REH may self-attest to meeting the REH COPs and will not require an automatic on-site initial survey as eligible facilities are expected to be in full compliance with the existing CAH and hospital requirements at the time of the request for conversion.

(2) Facilities may submit the attestation for compliance with the REH COPs along with the action plan and copy of the transfer agreement to the SA. The attestation may be completed on facility letterhead or the model template provided on the CMS website may be used. The attestation should be signed by the facility's legal representative or administrator.

(3) The authority will review the additional information for completeness and confirm compliance with any applicable state licensure requirements. Once complete, the authority will forward the additional information to the CMS location, along with a recommendation for certification or denial.

(4) The CMS location is responsible for making the final determination for certification of the REH. The effective date will be based upon the date the application package was determined to be complete and approved by the CMS location for meeting all REH requirements. For facilities that require an on-site initial survey, the effective date will be based on current CMS policy, which is the exit day of survey if no deficiencies are cited, or in the alternative, if deficiencies are noted, the date an acceptable plan of correction was approved (see 42 CFR 489.13).

E. Types of licenses:

(1) "Annual license": an annual license is issued for a one-year period to a hospital that has met all requirements of these requirements.

(2) "Temporary license": the licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, issue a temporary license prior to the initial state survey, or when the licensing authority finds partial compliance with these requirements. Facilities that were eligible as of December 27, 2020, which subsequently closed and re-enrolled in Medicare would require an initial on-site survey by the authority. These facilities do not have to submit an attestation, as required in Subsection D of 8.370.13.9 NMAC, as an on-site initial survey will be performed to determine the facility is operational and in compliance with the REH requirements.

(a) a temporary license shall cover a period of time, not to exceed 120 days, during which the facility must correct all specified deficiencies;

(b) in accordance with Subsection D of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, no more than two consecutive temporary licenses shall be issued.

(3) "Amended license": a licensee must apply to the licensing authority for an amended license when there is any change of administrator, name, location, capacity, classification of any unit as listed in these requirements:

(a) the application must be on a form provided by the licensing authority;

(b) application must be accompanied by the required fee for an amended license; and

(c) application must be submitted at least 30 calendar days prior to the change.

[8.370.13.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.13.9 LICENSE RENEWAL:

A. The licensee must submit a renewal application on forms provided by the licensing authority, along with the required fee prior to the expiration of the current license.

B. Upon receipt of the renewal application and the required fee prior to expiration of current license, the licensing authority will issue a new license effective the day following the date of expiration of the current license if the facility is in substantial compliance with these requirements.

8.370.13.10 POSTING:

The license, or a copy thereof, shall be conspicuously posted in a location accessible to public view within the hospital.

[8.370.13.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.13.11 NON-TRANSFERABLE REGISTRATION OF LICENSE:

A license shall not be transferred by assignment or otherwise to other persons or locations. The license shall be void and must be returned to the licensing authority when any one of the following situations occur:

A. ownership of the hospital changes;

B. the facility changes location;

C. the licensee of the hospital changes; or

D. the hospital discontinues operation.

8.370.13.12 EXPIRATION OF LICENSE:

A license will expire at midnight on the day indicated on the license as the expiration date, unless sooner renewed, suspended, or revoked, or:

A. on the day a facility discontinues operation; or

B. on the day a facility is sold, leased, otherwise changes ownership or licensee; or

C. on the day a facility changes location.

8.370.13.13 SUSPENSION OF LICENSE WITHOUT PRIOR HEARING:

In accordance with Subsection H of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, if the licensing authority determines immediate action is required to protect human health and safety, the licensing authority may suspend a license. A hearing must be held in accordance with the regulations governing adjudicatory hearings, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

8.370.13.14 GROUNDS FOR REVOCATION OR SUSPENSION OF LICENSE, DENIAL OF INITIAL OR RENEWAL APPLICATION FOR LICENSE, OR IMPOSITION OF INTERMEDIATE SANCTIONS OR CIVIL MONETARY PENALTIES:

A. A license may be denied, revoked or suspended, or intermediate sanctions or civil monetary penalties may be imposed after notice and opportunity for a hearing for any of the following reasons:

(1) failure to comply with any provisions of these requirements;

(2) failure to allow survey by authorized representatives of the licensing authority;

(3) permitting any person while active in the operation of a facility licensed pursuant to these requirements to be impaired by the use of prescribed or non-prescribed drugs, including alcohol;

(4) misrepresentation or falsification of any information provided to the licensing authority;

(5) the discovery of repeat violations of these requirements during surveys; or

(6) the failure to provide the required care and services as outlined by these requirements.

B. for the purposes of calculating civil monetary penalties, penalty rates will be applied as set forth in Subparagraph (d) of Paragraph (3) of Subsection B of 8.370.4 NMAC.

8.370.13.15 HEARING PROCEDURES:

A. An applicant or licensee subject to an adverse action may request an administrative appeal.

B. Hearing procedures for an administrative appeal of an adverse action taken by the licensing authority against the hospital as outlined in Section 14 and 15 above will be held in accordance with adjudicatory hearings, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

C. A copy of the adjudicatory hearing procedures will be furnished to the hospital at the time an adverse action is taken against the licensee by the licensing authority. A copy may be requested at any time by contacting the licensing authority.

8.370.13.16 WAIVERS AND VARIANCES:

A. Applications: All applications for the grant of a waiver or variance shall be made in writing to the licensing authority, specifying the following:

(1) the rule, regulation, or code from which the waiver or variance is requested;

(2) the time period for which the waiver or variance is requested;

(3) if the request is for a variance, the specific alternative action which the facility proposes;

(4) the reasons for request; and

(5) an explanation of why the health, safety, and welfare of the residents or staff are not endangered by the condition.

B. Requests for a waiver or variance may be made at any time.

C. The licensing authority may require additional information from the hospital prior to acting on the request.

(1) Grants and denials. The licensing authority shall grant or deny each request for waiver or variance in writing.

(a) Notice of a denial shall contain the reasons for denial.

(b) The decisions to grant, modify, or deny a request for a waiver or variance is subject to appeal one time only.

(2) The terms of a requested waiver or variance may be modified upon agreement between the licensing authority and the hospital.

D. The licensing authority may impose whatever conditions on the granting of a waiver or variance it considers necessary.

E. The licensing authority may limit the duration of any waiver.

[8.370.13.16 NMAC – N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.13.17 COMPLIANCE WITH EXISTING REQUIREMENTS:

An REH shall comply with the following:

A. 42 CFR Part 485, Subpart E (relating to conditions of participation: Rural Emergency Hospitals (REHs));

B. In addition to the conditions of participation at 42 CFR Part 485, Subpart E, the hospital shall comply with 8.370.12 NMAC to the extent it does not conflict with the conditions of participation.

8.370.13.18 INCORPORATED AND RELATED CODES:

The facilities that are subject to this rule are also subject to other rules, codes and standards that may, from time to time, be amended. This includes but not limited to the following:

A. Health facility licensure fees and procedures, health care authority, 8.370.3 NMAC.

8.370.14.8 GENERAL LICENSING REQUIREMENTS:

A. Licensure is required. No person or entity shall establish, maintain or operate an assisted living facility without first obtaining a license.

B. Application for licensure. An initial or renewal application shall be made on the forms prescribed by and available from the licensing authority. The issuance of an application form is not a guarantee that the completed application will be accepted, or that the authority will issue a license. Information provided by the facility and used by the licensing authority for the licensing process shall be accurate and truthful. The licensing authority will not issue a new license if the applicant has had a health facility license revoked or renewal denied or has surrendered a license under threat of revocation or denial of renewal. The licensing authority may not issue a new license if the applicant has been cited repeatedly for violations of applicable rules found to be class A or class B deficiencies as defined in health facility sanctions and civil monetary penalties, 8.370.4 NMAC or has been non-compliant with plans of correction. The licensing authority will not issue a license until the applicant has supplied all of the information that is required by this rule. Any facility that fails to participate in good faith by falsifying information presented in the licensing process shall be denied licensure by the authority. The following information shall be submitted to the licensing authority for approval:

(1) a letter of intent that includes the proposed physical address, the primary population of the facility and a summary of the proposed services; after the letter of intent has been received, an application packet including; the application form, fee schedule and the licensing rule will be issued to the applicant by the licensing authority;

(2) the completed and notarized application and the appropriate non-refundable fee(s);

(3) a program narrative identifying and detailing the geographic service area, the primary population including any special needs requirements, along with a full description of the services that the applicant proposes to provide including:

(a) a description of the characteristics of the proposed population of the facility;

(b) a description of the services and care that will be provided to the residents;

(c) a description of the anticipated professional services to be offered to the residents; and

(d) a description of the facility's relationship to other services and related programs in the service area and how the applicant will collaborate with them to achieve a system of care for the residents.

(4) policies and procedures annotated to this rule;

(5) evidence to establish that the applicant has sufficient financial assets to permit operation of the facility for a period of six months; the evidence shall include a credit report from one of the three recognized credit bureaus with a minimum credit score of 650 or above;

(6) copies of organizational documents to include the following list of items:

(a) the names of all persons or business entities that have at least five percent ownership interest in the facility, whether direct or indirect and whether in profits, land or building; this includes the owners of any business entity which owns all or part of the land or building;

(b) the identities of all creditors that hold a security interest in the premises, whether land or building;

(c) any changes in ownership or management shall be reported to the authority within thirty (30) days;

(7) building plans as required at 8.370.14.41 NMAC of this rule;

(8) fire authority approval as required at 8.370.14.60 NMAC of this rule;

(9) a letter of approval or exemption from the local health authority having jurisdiction for the food service and the kitchen facility;

(10) a copy of liquid waste disposal and treatment system permit from local health authority having jurisdiction;

(11) approval from local zoning authority;

(12) building approval (certificate of occupancy); and

(13) any other information that the applicant wishes to provide or that the licensing authority may request.

C. Application for amended license. A licensee shall submit an application for an amended license and the required non-refundable fee to the licensing authority prior to a change with the facility. An amended license is required for a change of: location, administrator, facility name, capacity or any modification or addition to the building.

(1) An application for a change of the facility administrator or change of the administrator's name shall be submitted to the licensing authority within 10 business days of the change.

(2) An application for increase in capacity shall be accompanied by a building plan pursuant to 8.370.14.41 NMAC of this rule. A facility shall not increase census until the licensing authority has reviewed and approved the increase and has issued a new license that reflects the approved increase in capacity.

D. Application for license renewal. Each facility shall apply for a renewal of the annual license within thirty (30) business days prior to the license expiration date by submitting the following items:

(1) an application and the required fee;

(2) an updated program narrative, if the facility has changed the program or the focus of services;

(3) the annual fire inspection report; and

(4) the licensing authority may not issue a new license if the applicant has been cited repeatedly for violations of this rule or has been noncompliant with plans of correction or payment of civil monetary penalties.

E. License. Any person or entity that establishes, maintains or operates an assisted living facility shall obtain a license as required in this rule before accepting residents for care or providing services.

(1) Each facility that provides care or treatment shall obtain a separate license. The license is non-transferable and is only valid for the facility to which it is originally issued and for the owner or operator to whom it is issued. It shall not be sold, reassigned or transferred.

(2) The maximum capacity specified on the license shall not be exceeded.

(3) If the facility is closed and the residents are removed from the facility, the license shall be returned to the licensing authority. Written notification shall be issued to all residents or the residents' surrogate decision maker and the licensing authority at least 30 calendar days prior to the closure.

F. Temporary license.

(1) A temporary license may be issued to a new facility before residents are admitted provided that the facility has met all of the life safety code requirements as stated in this rule and policies and procedures for the facility have been reviewed and approved.

(2) Upon receipt of a temporary license, the facility may begin to admit up to three residents.

(3) After the facility has admitted up to three residents, the facility operator or owner shall request an initial health survey from the licensing authority.

(4) Following a determination of compliance with this rule by the licensing authority, an annual license will be issued. The renewal date of the annual license is based on the initial date of the first temporary license.

(5) The licensing authority has the right to determine compliance or noncompliance.

(6) A temporary license shall cover a period of time, not to exceed 120 calendar days.

(7) No more than two consecutive temporary licenses shall be issued. If a second temporary license is issued, an additional non-refundable fee is required. If all requirements are not met within the 240 day time frame, the applicant shall repeat the application process.

G. Annual license. An annual license is issued for one year for a facility that has met all the requirements of this rule.

H. Display of license. The facility shall display the license in a conspicuous public place that is visible to residents, staff and visitors.

I. Unlicensed facilities. Any person or entity that opens or maintains an assisted living facility without a license is subject to the imposition of civil monetary penalties by the licensing authority. Failure to comply with the licensure requirements of this rule within 10 days of notice by the licensing authority may result in the following penalties pursuant to health facility sanctions and civil monetary penalties, 8.370.4 NMAC.

(1) A civil monetary penalty not to exceed $5,000 per day.

(2) A base civil monetary penalty, plus a per- day civil monetary penalty, plus the doubling of penalties as applicable, that continues until the facility is in compliance with the licensing requirements in this rule.

(3) A cease and desist order to discontinue operation of a facility that is operating without a license.

(4) Additional criminal penalties may apply and shall be imposed as necessary.

[8.370.14.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.14.9 WAIVERS AND VARIANCES:

The licensing authority may vary or waive certain licensure requirements for facilities, provided that it would not adversely affect the health, safety or welfare of the residents or staff.

A. Requests for a variance or waiver may be made at any time, shall be made in writing to the licensing authority and shall specify the following:

(1) the section of the rule for which the variance or wavier is requested;

(2) the time period for which the waiver is requested;

(3) if the request is for a variance; the specific alternative action that the facility proposes;

(4) the reason(s) for the request and an explanation of why and how the health, safety and welfare of the residents or staff are not endangered by the requested variance or waiver; and

(5) justification that the goal or purpose of the rule would be satisfied.

B. The licensing authority may require additional information from the facility prior to acting on the request.

C. The licensing authority may impose conditions on the variance or waiver.

D. The licensing authority shall limit the duration of any waiver.

E. Variances and waivers are nontransferable and shall be kept on file and readily available at the facility.

F. Variances and waivers are granted at the discretion of the licensing authority.

[8.370.14.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.14.10 AUTOMATIC EXPIRATION OF A LICENSE:

A license shall automatically expire:

A. at midnight on the day indicated as the expiration date on the license;

B. when the operation of a facility is discontinued;

C. when a facility is sold or leased or the licensee changes; or

D. when there is a change of location for a facility.

[8.370.14.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.14.11 SURVEY OR MONITORING VISITS:

A. The licensing authority shall perform on-site survey or monitoring visits at all assisted living facilities to determine compliance with this rule.

B. The facility shall provide the licensing authority full access to all facility operations, buildings and information related to the operation of the facility.

C. The most recent survey inspection reports and related correspondence shall be posted in a conspicuous public place in the facility.

D. Failure by the facility to provide the licensing authority access to the premises or information, including resident records, may result in the imposition of sanctions including but not limited to civil monetary penalties, license revocation or an order to cease and desist, as deemed appropriate by the licensing authority.

8.370.14.12 CORRECTIVE ACTION:

If violations of this rule are cited, the facility will be provided with an official statement of deficiencies within 10 business days following the survey.

A. Informal dispute review (IDR). The facility may request an informal review of survey deficiencies by providing a written request to the licensing authority within 10 calendar days of receipt of the written survey findings. With the request, the facility shall include information or evidence that justifies the disagreement with a cited deficiency.

(1) The licensing authority will review the submitted information and make a determination.

(2) If the deficiency is removed, a new statement of deficiencies will be issued to the facility.

(3) The facility shall provide a new plan of correction for all remaining deficiencies upon receipt of the new statement of deficiencies.

(4) A copy of the "IDR operating rules" is available upon request.

B. Plan of correction (POC). The facility shall submit a plan of correction within 10 calendar days of receipt of the statement of deficiencies and after receipt of a revised statement of deficiencies, when the findings are changed pursuant to an IDR.

(1) If the first plan of correction (POC) is rejected by the licensing authority, the facility will be sent a second (2nd) copy of the statement of deficiencies. The facility shall complete and return the second copy of the statement of deficiencies with an acceptable plan of correction within three business days. The process will repeat until an acceptable plan of correction is received by the authority.

(2) Failure to provide an acceptable plan of correction (POC) within a reasonable period of time, may lead to civil monetary penalties or other sanctions.

(3) The plan of correction shall:

(a) address how all violations identified in the official statement of deficiencies will be corrected;

(b) address how the facility will monitor the corrective action and ensure ongoing compliance; and

(c) specify the date that the corrective action will be completed.

(4) All cited violations shall be corrected within 30 calendar days from the date of the survey; unless the licensing authority approves an extended date.

(5) Failure to submit an acceptable plan of correction may result in sanctions, including but not limited to civil monetary penalties, suspension or non-renewal of the facility license.

(6) The licensing authority may accept, reject, or direct the plan of correction.

(p) shall not be required to work for the facility; and

(q) are protected from unjustified room transfers or discharge.

E. The resident's rights shall not be restricted unless this restriction is for the health and safety of the resident, agreed to by the resident or the resident's surrogate decision maker and outlined in the resident's individual service plan.

8.370.14.34 CUSTODIAL DRUG PERMITS:

A facility with two or more residents that is licensed pursuant to this rule and that assists with self-administration or safeguards medications for residents shall have a current custodial drug permit issued by the state board of pharmacy.

A. Procurement, labeling and storage: The facility shall provide assistance to the resident in obtaining the necessary medications, treatment and medical supplies as identified in the ISP. The facility shall procure, label and store medications for residents who require assistance with self-administration of medication in compliance with state and federal laws.

(1) All medications, including non- prescription drugs, shall be stored in a locked compartment or in a locked room, as approved by the board of pharmacy and the key shall be in the care of the administrator or designee.

(2) Internal medication shall be kept separate from external medications. Drugs to be taken by mouth shall be separated from all other delivery forms.

(3) A separate, locked refrigerator shall be provided by the facility for medications. The refrigerator temperature shall be kept in compliance with the state board of pharmacy requirements for medications.

(4) All medications, including non- prescription medications, shall be stored in separate compartments for each resident and all medications shall be labeled with the resident's name.

(5) A resident may be permitted to keep his or her own medication in a locked compartment in his or her room for self-administration, if the physician's order deems it appropriate.

(6) The facility shall not require the residents to purchase medications from any pharmacy.

(7) Medical gases (oxygen) and equipment used for the administration of inhalation therapy and for resuscitative purposes shall comply with the national fire protection association (NFPA) 99.

(8) A proof of use record shall be maintained separately for each schedule II through IV drug (controlled substances). The proof of use sheet shall document:

(a) the type and strength of the schedule II through IV drugs;

(b) the date and time staff assisted with self-administration;

(c) the resident's name;

(d) the prescriber's name;

(e) the dose;

(f) the signature of the person assisting with delivery of the medication; and

(g) the balance of medication remaining.

(9) Any remaining medication discontinued by a physician's order, or upon discharge or death of the resident shall be inventoried and moved to a separate locked storage container. Such discontinued medications shall be destroyed upon the next quarterly visit by the consulting pharmacist in accordance with 16.19.11.10 NMAC.

(10) The record of medication destruction shall be signed by the administrator or designee and the pharmacist and shall be kept on file at the facility.

B. Consulting pharmacist: The facility shall maintain records demonstrating that the consulting pharmacist provides the following oversight and guidance.

All irregularities shall be reported to the administrator of the facility and these irregularities shall be resolved by the administrator within 72 hours.

(2) A system of records of receipt and disposition of all drugs in sufficient detail to enable an accurate reconciliation.

(3) Consultation shall be provided on all aspects of pharmacy services in the facility, including reference information regarding side effects and, when needed, physician consultation in cases involving the use of psychotropic medications.

(4) The consulting pharmacist will be responsible for assuring that the facility meets all requirements for storage, labeling, destruction and documentation of medications as required by the state board of pharmacy, 16.19.11.10 NMAC and 8.370.14 NMAC.

8.370.14.35 MEDICATIONS:

Administration of medications or staff assistance with self-administration of medications shall be in accordance with state and federal laws. No medications, including over-the-counter medications, PRN (when needed) medications, or treatment shall be started, changed or discontinued by the facility without an order from the physician, physician assistant or nurse practitioner and with entry into the resident's record.

A. State board of nursing licensed or certified health care professionals are responsible for the administration of medications. Administration may only be performed by these individuals.

B. Facility staff may assist a resident with the self- administration of medications if written consent by the resident is given to the administrator of the facility or the administrator's designee. If the resident is incapable of giving consent, the surrogate decision maker named in accordance with New Mexico law may give written consent for assistance with self-administration of medications. All staff that assist with self-administration of medications shall have successfully completed a state approved assistance with self- administration of medication training program or be licensed or certified by the state board of nursing.

C. PRN (pro re nada) medication:

(1) Physician or physician extender's orders for PRN medications shall clearly indicate the circumstances in which they are to be used, the number of doses that may be given in a 24- hour period and indicate under what circumstances the primary care practitioner (PCP) is to be notified.

(2) The utilization of PRN medications shall be reviewed routinely. Frequent or escalating use of PRN medications shall be reported to the PCP.

D. Only a licensed nurse (RN or LPN) shall administer any medications or conduct any invasive procedures provided by the following routes: intravenous (IV), subcutaneous (SQ), intramuscular (IM), vaginal or rectal. Only a licensed nurse shall administer non- premixed nebulizer treatments.

E. The facility shall have medication reference material that contains information relating to drug interactions and side effects on the premises. Staff that assist in the self-administration of medications shall know interactions or possible side effects that might occur.

F. Medications prescribed for one resident shall not be used for another resident.

G. Medication assistance record (MAR): For residents who are not independent and require assistance with self- administration, the facility shall have a MAR that documents the details of the residents' medication, including PRN and over-the-counter medication that is assisted with self-administration by qualified staff or administered to the resident by licensed or certified staff. The information in the MAR shall include:

(1) the resident's name;

(2) any known allergies to medication that the resident has;

(3) the name of the resident's PCP or the prescriber of the medication;

(4) the diagnosis or reason for the medication;

(5) the name of the medication, including the drug product brand name and the generic name;

(6) notation if the medication is a schedule II-IV drug;

(7) the dosage of the medication;

(8) the strength of the medication;

(9) the frequency or how often the medication is to be taken or given;

(10) the route of delivery for the medication (mouth, eye, ear, other);

(11) the method of delivery for the medication (pills, drops, IM injection, other);

(12) the date that the medication was started or discontinued;

(13) any change in the medication order;

(14) pre- medication information (i.e., pulse, respiration, blood pressure, blood sugar) as required by the medication order;

(15) the date and time that the medication is self- administered, administered with assistance or is administered;

(16) the initials and signature of the person assisting with or administering the medication;

(17) the desired results obtained from or problems encountered with the medication (pain relieved, allergic reaction, etc.);

(18) any refused dose of medication;

(19) any missed dose of medication; and

(20) any medication error.

H. No medication shall be stopped or started without specific orders from the primary care physician.

I. If a resident refuses to take a prescribed medication, it shall be documented and the facility shall report it to the prescriber.

J. A suspected adverse reaction to a medication shall be documented on the MAR and reported immediately to the PCP and the resident's surrogate decision maker. If applicable, emergency medical treatment shall be arranged. Documentation of the event shall be kept in the resident's record.

K. Prescription medication, other than blister packs and unit dose containers, shall be kept in the original container with a pharmacy label that includes the following:

(1) the resident's name;

(2) the name of the medication;

(3) the date that the prescription was issued;

(4) the prescribed dosage and the instructions for administration of the medication; and

(5) the name and title of the prescriber.

L. Any medication that is removed from the pharmacy container or blister pack shall be given immediately and documented by the staff that assisted with the medication delivery.

M. The facility shall report all medication errors to the physician, documentation of medication errors and the prescriber's response shall be kept in the resident's record.

N. The facility shall develop and follow a written policy for unused, outdated, or recalled medications kept in the facility in accordance with 16.19.11.10 NMAC.

8.370.14.36 NUTRITION:

The facility shall provide planned and nutritionally balanced meals from the basic food groups in accordance with the "recommended daily dietary allowance" of the American dietetic association, the food and nutrition board of the national research council, or the national academy of sciences. Meals shall meet the nutritional needs of the residents in accordance with the"2005 USDA dietary guidelines for Americans." Vending machines shall not be considered a source of snacks.

A. Dietary services policies and procedures: The facility will develop and implement written policies and procedures that are maintained on the premises and that govern the following requirements.

(c) develop menus enjoyed by the residents and served at normal intervals appropriate to the residents' preferences;

(d) post the weekly menu, including snacks where residents and families are able to view it; posted menus shall be followed and any substitution shall be of equivalent nutritional value and recorded on the posted menu; identical menus shall not be used within a one week cycle;

(e) have special menus or meal items following guidelines from the resident's physician for residents who have medically prescribed special diets;

(f) serve all residents in a dining room except for residents with a temporary illness, or with documented specific personal preference to have meals in their room;

(g) allow sufficient time for meals to enable residents to eat at a leisurely pace and to socialize; and

(h) contact the resident's PCP within 48 hours if a resident consistently refuses to eat.

(2) Staff in-service training: The facility shall provide an in-service training program for staff that are involved in food preparation at orientation and at least annually and that includes:

(a) instruction in proper food storage;

(b) preparation and serving food;

(c) safety in food handling;

(d) appropriate personal hygiene; and

(e) infectious and communicable disease control.

B. Dietary records: The facility shall maintain the following documentation onsite:

(1) a systematic record of all menus and revisions, including snacks, for a minimum of thirty (30) calendar days;

(2) a systematic record of therapeutic diets as prescribed by a PCP;

(3) a copy of the most recent licensing inspection and for facilities with 10 or more residents, a copy of the New Mexico environment department inspection with notations made by the facility of action taken to comply with recommendations or citations; and

(4) a daily log of the recorded temperatures for all facility refrigerators, freezers and steam tables maintained and available for inspection for 30 calendar days.

C. Clean and sanitary conditions: All practices shall be in accordance with the standards of the state environment department, pursuant to 7.6.2 NMAC.

(1) Kitchen sanitation:

(a) Equipment and work areas shall be clean and in good repair. Surfaces with which food or beverages come into contact shall be of smooth, impervious material free of open seams, not readily corrodible and easily accessible for cleaning.

(b) Utensils shall be stored in a clean, dry place protected from contamination.

(c) The walls, ceiling and floors of all rooms that food or drink is stored, prepared or served shall be kept clean and in good repair.

(2) Washing and sanitizing kitchenware:

(a) All reusable tableware and kitchenware shall be cleaned in accordance with procedures that include separate steps for prewashing, washing, rinsing and sanitizing.

(b) Proper dishwashing procedures and techniques shall be utilized and understood by the dishwashing staff.

(c) Periodic monitoring of the operation of the detergent dispenser, washing, rinsing and sanitizing temperatures shall be performed and documented.

(d) When a dishwashing machine is utilized, the cleanliness of the machine, its jets and its thermostatic controls shall be monitored and documented by the facility. A monthly log of the recorded temperature of the dishwasher shall be maintained in the facility and available for inspection.

(3) Sinks for hand washing shall include hot and cold running water, hand-washing soap and disposable towels.

(4) All garbage and kitchen refuse that is not disposed of through a garbage disposal unit shall be kept in watertight containers with close-fitting covers and disposed of daily in a safe and sanitary manner.

(5) Cooks and food handlers shall wear clean outer garments and hair nets or caps and shall keep their hands clean at all times when engaged in handling food, drink, utensils or equipment in accordance with the local health authority. Disposable gloves shall be used in accordance with the local health authority.

D. Food management: The facility shall store, prepare, distribute and serve food under sanitary conditions and in accordance with the regulations governing food establishments of local health authority having jurisdiction.

(1) The facility shall ensure that a minimum of a three calendar day supply of perishables and a five calendar day supply of non-perishables or canned foods is available for the residents.

(2) The facility refrigerator and freezer shall have an accurate thermometer which reads within or not more than plus or minus three degrees fahrenheit of the required temperature, located in the warmest section of the refrigerator and freezer and shall be accessible and easily read.

(a) The temperature of the refrigerator shall be 35 - 41 degrees fahrenheit.

(b) Freezer temperatures shall be maintained at zero degrees fahrenheit or below.

(3) Refrigerators and freezers shall be kept clean and sanitary at all times. Food stored in refrigerators and freezers shall be covered, dated and labeled. Unused leftover food shall be discarded after three calendar days.

(4) Steam tables, hot food tables, slow cookers, crock pots and other hot food holding devices shall not be used in heating or reheating food. Hot food temperatures shall be checked periodically to insure that a minimum of 140 degrees fahrenheit is maintained.

(5) Medication, biological specimens, poisons, detergents and cleaning supplies shall not be kept in the same storage areas used for storage of foods. Medications shall not be stored in the refrigerator with food; an alternate refrigerator for medication shall be used.

(6) Canned or preserved foods shall be procured from sources that process the food under regulated quality and sanitation controls. This does not preclude the use of local fresh produce. The facility shall not use home-canned foods.

(7) Dry or staple food items shall be stored at least six inches off the floor in a ventilated room that is not subject to sewage, waste water back-flow or contamination by condensation, leakage, rodents or vermin.

(8) The facility shall ensure the following:

(a) all perishable food is refrigerated and the temperature is maintained no higher than 41 degrees fahrenheit;

(b) the temperature for all hot foods is maintained at 140 degrees fahrenheit; and

(c) all displayed or transported food is protected from environmental contamination and maintained at proper temperatures in clean containers, cabinets or serving carts.

E. Milk:

(1) Raw milk shall not be used.

(2) Condensed, evaporated, or dried milk products that are nationally recognized may be employed as"additives" in cooked food preparation but shall not be substituted or served to residents in place of milk.

F. Collateral requirements: Compliance with this rule does not relieve a facility from the responsibility of meeting more stringent municipal regulations, ordinances or other requirements of state or federal laws governing food service establishments. Local health authority having jurisdiction means municipal, county, state or federal agency(s) that have laws and regulations governing food establishments, liquid waste disposal, treatment facilities and private wells.

8.370.14.37 LAUNDRY SERVICES:

A. General requirements: The facility shall provide laundry services for the residents, either on the premises or through a commercial laundry and linen service.

(1) On-site laundry facilities shall be located in areas separate from the resident units and shall be provided with necessary washing and drying equipment.

(2) Soiled laundry shall be kept separate from clean laundry, unless the laundry facility is provided for resident use only.

(3) Staff shall handle, store, process and transport linens with care to prevent the spread of infectious and communicable disease.

(4) Soiled laundry shall not be stored in the kitchen or dining areas. The building design and layout shall ensure the separation of laundry room from kitchen and dining areas. An exterior route to the laundry room is not an acceptable alternative, unless it is completely enclosed.

(5) In new construction or newly licensed facilities with more than 15 residents, washers shall be in separate rooms from dryers. The rooms with washers shall have negative air pressure from the other facility rooms.

(6) All linens shall be changed as needed and at least weekly or when a new resident is to occupy the bed.

(7) The mattress pad, blankets and bedspread shall be laundered as needed and at least once per month or when a new resident is to occupy the bed.

(8) Bath linens consisting of hand towel, bath towel and washcloth shall be changed as needed and at least weekly.

(9) There shall be a clean, dry, well ventilated storage area provided for clean linen.

(10) Facility laundry supplies and cleaning supplies shall not be kept in the same storage areas used for the storage of foods and clean storage and shall be kept in a secured room or cabinet.

B. Residents may do their own laundry, if it is their preference and they are capable of doing so, or if it is part of their skill- building for independent living and is documented as part of their ISP.

8.370.14.38 HOUSEKEEPING SERVICES:

The facility shall maintain the interior and exterior of the facility in a safe, clean, orderly and attractive manner. The facility shall be free from offensive odors, safety hazards, insects and rodents and accumulations of dirt, rubbish and dust.

A. All common living areas and all bathrooms shall be cleaned as often as necessary to maintain a clean and sanitary environment.

B. Combustibles such as cleaning rags or flammable substances shall be stored in closed metal containers in approved areas that provide adequate ventilation. Combustibles shall be stored away from the food preparation areas and away from the resident rooms.

C. Poisonous or flammable substances shall not be stored in residential areas, food preparation areas or food storage areas. If hazardous chemicals are stored on the property, material safety data sheets shall be maintained and stored in the same area as the chemicals, pursuant to state environment department requirements, 11.5.2.9 NMAC.

8.370.14.39 SITE REQUIREMENTS:

The facility shall be located and maintained free from environmental and other factors that are detrimental to the residents and staff's health, safety or welfare. The facility site shall be designed and maintained to encourage outdoor activities by the residents.

[8.370.14.39 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.14.40 CAPACITY OF BUILDING(S):

No facility shall house more residents than the maximum bed capacity for which it is licensed.

A. Each individual building containing resident activities, services or sleeping rooms on the premises shall be separately licensed.

B. Buildings on the grounds of the licensed facility and all rooms within the licensed buildings that are used by the residents of the facility shall be subject to inspection for health and safety standards.

C. All facilities shall comply with the state building code and fire codes, pursuant to 14.7 NMAC.

(1) Facilities with 16 residents or fewer are classified as "group R."

(2) Facilities with more than 16 residents are classified as "group I-1."

(3) Facilities with more than five residents who are not capable of self-preservation are classified as "group I-2."

D. Facilities shall provide separate sleeping quarters for male and female residents unless they are married or the arrangement is consensual.

8.370.14.41 BUILDING CONSTRUCTION:

All building construction shall be based upon the facility occupancy in accordance with the state building code and fire codes, pursuant to 14.7 NMAC.

A. New facilities: All new facilities, relocated into existing building(s) or remodeled facilities shall conform to the current edition of the state building code, accessibility code, mechanical code, plumbing code, fire code and the electrical code.

(1) With regard to building height, allowable area or construction type, the state building code shall prevail.

(2) Minimum construction requirements shall comply with all applicable state building codes.

(3) A facility may share a building with another health care facility licensed by the authority or other suitable facility with prior approval from the licensing authority.

(4) Where there are conflicts between the requirements in the codes and the provisions of this rule, the most restrictive condition shall apply.

B. Access for persons with disabilities: Facilities with four or more residents shall provide accessibility to residents with disabilities in accordance with the state building code and the American Disabilities Act. Areas of specific concern are as follows:

(1) the main entry into the facility and all required exits shall provide access to persons with disabilities;

(2) the building shall allow access to persons with disabilities to all common areas;

(3) at least one bedroom, for every eight residents, shall have a door clearance of 36 inches for access by persons with disabilities;

(4) at least one toilet and bathing facility, for every eight residents, shall have a minimum door clearance of 36 inches for access by persons with disabilities; this toilet and bathing room shall provide a minimum 60 inch diameter clear space to accommodate the turning radius of a wheelchair;

(5) when ramps are used, each ramp shall have a minimum slope of 12 inches horizontal run for each one inch of vertical rise; ramps exceeding a six inch rise shall be provided with handrails on both sides of the ramp;

(6) landings at doorways shall have a level area, at a minimum of five feet by five feet, to provide clear space for wheelchair maneuvering;

(7) parking spaces shall provide access aisles with a minimum width of 60 inches and 96 inches for van parking; a minimum of one van-accessible parking space with a minimum width of 96 inches shall be provided;

(8) an accessible route for persons with disabilities from the parking area to the main entrance(s) shall be provided; and

(9) changes in elevation of one half inch or greater shall be sloped to a minimum of 12 inches horizontal run for each one inch of vertical rise.

C. Construction drawings: Prior to commencement of all new construction, remodeling, relocations, additions or renovations to existing buildings; the facility shall submit preliminary plans and final construction drawings with specifications to the licensing authority for review and approval.

(1) Building plans and specifications shall be submitted and approved by the authority when:

(a) construction for a new facility is proposed;

(b) a building that has not previously licensed as a facility is proposed as a location for a facility;

(c) any renovation that increases the number of beds is proposed;

(d) any addition to an existing structure is proposed; or

(e) any renovation to the existing structure is proposed, regardless of the size of the facility.

(2) The codes that are in effect at the time of the submittal of building plans shall be the codes used through the end of the project.

(3) Drawings and specifications shall be prepared for the architectural, structural, mechanical and electrical branches of work for each construction project and shall include the following:

(a) the site plan(s) showing property lines, finish grade, location of existing and proposed structures, roadways, walks, utilities and parking areas;

(b) the floor plan(s) showing scale drawings of typical and special rooms, indicating all fixed and movable equipment and major items of furniture;

(c) the separate life safety plans showing the fire and smoke compartment(s), all means of egress and exit markings, exits and travel distances, dimensions of compartments and calculation and tabulation of exit units, all fire and smoke walls shall be graphically coded;

(d) the exterior elevation of each facade;

(e) the typical sections throughout the building;

(f) the schedule of finishes;

(g) the schedule of doors and windows;

(h) the roof plans; and

(i) the building code analysis.

(4) For facilities with more than 15 residents: architectural drawings shall be stamped, signed and dated by a licensed architect registered in New Mexico. In addition to items listed in section (3) above, the drawings shall include the following:

(a) the building code analysis; and

(b) when an elevator is required, the details and dimensions of the elevator.

(5) Structural drawings shall include the following:

(a) a certification that all structural design and work are in compliance with all applicable local codes;

(b) the plans of foundations, floors, roofs and intermediate levels that show a complete design with sizes, sections and the relative location of the various members; and

(c) the schedules of beams, girders and columns.

(6) Mechanical drawings shall include the following:

(a) a certification that all mechanical work and equipment are in compliance with all applicable local codes and laws and that all materials are listed by recognized testing laboratories;

(b) the water supply, sewage and heating, ventilation and air conditioning piping systems;

(c) the heating, ventilating, HVAC piping and air conditioning systems with all related piping and auxiliaries, if any, to provide a satisfactory installation;

(d) the water supply, sewage and drainage with all lines, risers, catch- basins, manholes and cleanouts clearly indicated as to location, size, capacities and location and dimensions of septic tank and disposal field;

(e) the sprinkler head layout; and

(f) the graphic coding (with a legend) to show supply, return and exhaust systems.

(7) Electrical drawings shall include the following:

(a) a certification that all electrical work and equipment are in compliance with all applicable local codes and laws and that all materials are currently listed by recognized testing laboratories;

(b) all electrical wiring, outlets, riser diagrams, switches, special electrical connections, electrical service entrance with service switches, service feeders and characteristics of the light and power current and transformers when located within the building;

(c) a fixture legend; and

(d) a graphic coding (with a legend) to show all items on emergency power.

(8) Include additional information as needed and requested by the licensing authority.

(9) Final working drawings and specifications shall be accurately dimensioned and include all necessary explanatory notes, schedules, legends and have all rooms labeled. The working drawings and specifications shall be complete and adequate for contract purposes.

(10) One set of final plans shall be submitted to the licensing authority for review and approval prior to the commencing of construction. All construction shall be executed in accordance with the approved final plans and specifications.

(11) Review and approval of building plans by the licensing authority does not eliminate responsibility of the applicant to comply with all applicable laws, rules and ordinances.

(12) The final approval of building plans and specifications shall be acknowledged in writing by the licensing authority.

(13) The approved building plans shall be kept at the facility and readily available at all times.

D. Fire resistance: Required building construction and fire resistance shall be in accordance with the state building code and the fire code. Facilities with nine or more residents shall be protected throughout by an approved automatic fire protection (sprinkler) system.

E. Prohibition of mobile homes: For facilities with four or more residents, trailers and mobile homes shall not be used.

F. Construction: Construction shall commence within 180 calendar days of the date of receipt of approval (unless a written extension is requested by the facility and approved by authority). This approval shall in no way permit or authorize any omission or deviation from the requirements of any restrictions, laws, ordinances, codes or standards of any regulatory agency.

8.370.14.42 MAINTENANCE OF BUILDING AND GROUNDS:

The building(s) shall be maintained in good repair at all times. Such maintenance shall include, but is not limited to, the following areas:

A. Storage areas/grounds: Storage areas and grounds shall be maintained in a safe, sanitary and presentable condition at all times. Storage areas and grounds shall be kept free from accumulation of refuse, weeds, discarded furniture, old newspapers or other items that create a fire hazard.

B. Floors: Floors shall be maintained stable, firm and free of tripping hazards.

8.370.14.43 HAZARDOUS AREAS:

Hazardous areas include: Fuel fired equipment rooms (not a typical residential kitchen), bulk laundries or laundry rooms with more than 100 sq. ft., storage rooms more than 50 sq. ft. but less than 100 sq. ft. not storing combustibles, storage rooms with more than 100 sq. ft. storing combustibles, chemical storage rooms with more than 50 sq. ft., garages and maintenance shops/ rooms.

A. Hazardous areas on the same floor as, and in or abutting, a primary means of escape or a sleeping room shall be protected by either:

(1) an enclosure of at least one hour fire rating with self-closing or automatic closing on smoke detection fire doors having a three-quarter of an hour rating; or

(2) an automatic fire protection (sprinkler) and separation of hazardous area with self-closing doors or doors with automatic-closing on smoke detection; or

(3) other hazardous areas shall be enclosed with walls with at least a 20 minute fire rating and doors equivalent to one and three-quarter inches solid bonded wood core, operated by self-closures or automatic closing on smoke detection.

B. Boiler, furnace or fuel fired water heater rooms: For facilities with four or more residents: all boiler, furnace or fuel fired water heater rooms shall be protected from other parts of the building by construction having a fire resistance rating of not less than one hour. Doors to these rooms shall be one and three-quarter inches solid core.

8.370.14.44 HEATING, AIR-CONDITIONING AND VENTILATION:

A. Heating, air- conditioning, piping, boilers and ventilation equipment shall be furnished, installed and maintained to meet all requirements of current state and local mechanical, electrical and construction codes. All facilities shall have documentation that fuel-fire heating systems have been checked, tested and maintained annually by qualified personnel.

B. The heating method used by the facility shall provide a minimum temperature of 70 degrees fahrenheit, measured at three feet above the floor, in all rooms used by the residents.

C. No open-face gas or electric heater nor unprotected single shell gas or electric heating device shall be used for heating the facility. Portable heating units shall not be used for heating the facility. All heating appliances shall be permanently anchored and kept away from flammables such as curtains, bedcovering, trash containers, or clothing. No heating appliance shall be located where the unit or wiring is a tripping hazard or presents danger from electrical shock.

D. Fireplaces and open flame heating shall not be utilized in sleeping rooms.

E. Gas fired water heaters shall not be located in sleeping rooms, bathrooms, or rooms opening into sleeping rooms.

F. The facility shall be adequately ventilated at all times to provide fresh air and the control of unpleasant odors by either mechanical or natural means.

G. All openings to the outside air used for ventilation shall be screened for the control of insects and rodents. Screen doors shall be equipped with self-closing devices.

H. The facility shall have a system for maintaining the residents comfort during periods of hot weather. Fans shall not be located where the unit or wiring is a tripping hazard. Fans shall be provided with protective shields when there is a potential for contact by any individual.

8.370.14.45 WATER:

Pursuant to the current New Mexico drinking water requirements:

A. The water supply system shall be constructed, protected, operated and maintained in conformance with applicable local, state and federal laws, ordinances and regulations.

B. Where a facility is supplied by its own water system, the system shall meet the sampling and construction requirement of a non- community water system as defined by the current New Mexico drinking water requirements.

C. All water that is not piped into the facility directly from a public water supply system shall be from an approved source, disinfected, transported, handled, stored and dispensed in a sanitary manner. Such water shall be prevented from entering potable water systems by appropriate cross connection and backflow prevention devices.

D. Hot and cold running water, under pressure shall be provided in all areas where food is prepared and where equipment and utensils are washed, sinks, lavatories, washrooms and laundries.

E. The hot water temperature that is accessible to residents shall be maintained at a minimum of 95 degrees fahrenheit and a maximum of 110 degrees fahrenheit. Hot water in excess of 110 degrees fahrenheit is permitted in kitchen and laundry areas, provided that residents are supervised in order to prevent injury.

8.370.14.46 SEWAGE AND WASTE DISPOSAL:

A. All sewage and liquid wastes shall be disposed of into a municipal sewage system where such facilities are available.

B. Where a municipal sewage system is not available, the system that is used shall be inspected and approved by the state environmental authority, pursuant to 20.7.3 NMAC, prior to licensure.

C. Where municipal or community garbage collection and disposal service are not available, the method of collection, storage and disposal of garbage used by the facility shall be environmentally safe and sound and not create an objectionable environment and be in accordance with state environmental authority, pursuant to 20.9.2 NMAC.

8.370.14.47 LIGHTING AND LIGHTING FIXTURES:

A. All areas of the facility, including storerooms, stairways, hallways, and interior and exterior entrances shall be lighted to make the area clearly visible.

B. Exits, exit-access ways and other areas used at night by residents and staff shall be illuminated by night lights or other continuous lighting.

C. Lighting fixtures shall be selected and located to accommodate the needs and activities of the residents, with the comfort and convenience of the residents in mind.

D. Lamps and lighting fixtures shall be shaded to prevent glare to the eyes of residents and staff, and protected from accidental breakage or shattering.

E. Facilities with four or more residents shall have emergency lighting to light exit passageways and the exterior area near the exits that activates automatically upon disruption of electrical service.

F. Facilities with three or fewer residents shall have a flashlight that is immediately available for use in lieu of electrically interconnected emergency lighting.

8.370.14.48 ELECTRICAL SYSTEM:

A. All fuse and breaker boxes shall be labeled to indicate the area of the facility to which each fuse or circuit breaker provides service.

B. All staff personnel of the facility shall know the location of the electrical disconnect switch and how to operate it in case of emergency.

C. Electrical cords and appliances shall be U/L approved.

(1) Electrical cords shall be replaced as soon as they show wear.

(2) Extension cords shall not be used. The use of a multi-socket united laboratories approved (U/L APPROVED) surge protector with integrated circuit breaker no greater than six feet in length is permitted for the intended purpose and not as an extension cord.

8.370.14.49 DOORS:

A. No door in any means of egress shall be locked against egress when the building is occupied.

(1) Exit doors may be provided with a night latch, dead bolt, or security chain, provided these devices are operable from the inside, by any occupant, without the use of a key, tool, or any special knowledge and are mounted at a height not to exceed 48 inches above the finished floor.

(2) If locks are not readily operable by all occupants within the building, the locks must:

(a) unlock upon activation of the fire detection or sprinkler system; and

(b) unlock upon loss of power in the facility. Prior to installing such locking devices, the facility shall have written approval from the building, fire and licensing authorities having jurisdiction.

B. All exit doors shall have a minimum width of 36 inches.

(1) Facilities with a capacity of 10 or more residents shall have exit doors leading to the outside of the facility that open outward.

(2) Facilities with a capacity of 50 or more residents must provide panic hardware at the exit doors.

(3) No door or path of travel to a means of egress shall be less than 28 inches wide.

C. All resident sleeping room doors must be at least one and three-quarters inches solid core construction.

D. Bathroom doors may be 24 inches wide. Facilities with four or more residents shall have at least one bathroom for every eight residents with a door clearance of 36 inches for access by persons with disabilities.

E. Locks on doors to toilet rooms and bathrooms shall be capable of release from the outside.

F. All doors shall readily open from the inside.

G. Doors shall be provided for all resident sleeping rooms, all restrooms and all bathrooms.

[8.370.14.49 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.14.50 EXITS:

A. The facility shall have at least two approved exits, that do not involve windows and which are remote from each other.

B. Facilities with 10 or more residents shall have each exit clearly marked with lighted signs having letters at least six inches high and at least three-quarters of an inch wide. Exit signs shall be visible at all times.

C. Facilities with three or fewer residents shall have a flashlight that is immediately available for use in lieu of electrically interconnected emergency lighting.

D. Exits shall be clear of obstructions at all times.

E. Exits, exit paths, or means of egress shall not pass through hazardous areas, garages, storerooms, closets, utility rooms, laundry rooms, bedrooms, or spaces subject to locking.

F. For facilities with four or more residents, sliding doors are not acceptable as a required exit. EXCEPTION: Assisted living facilities with three or fewer residents may have sliding doors as required exits.

G. When the yard gate(s) is part of the exit access and is locked, the gate shall be connected to the fire protection system and release upon activation of the fire/smoke system or shall have the ability to be unlocked at the gate site.

8.370.14.51 SEPARATION OF SLEEPING ROOMS:

A. All sleeping rooms shall be separated from escape route corridors by walls and doors that are smoke resistant. There shall be no passages, louvers, or transfer grills penetrating the wall to other spaces in the building.

B. All sleeping rooms shall be provided latches suitable for keeping the doors closed.

C. Every sleeping room shall have access to a primary means of escape that provides a path to the exterior, without exposure to unprotected vertical openings. Where sleeping rooms are above or below the level of exit discharge, the primary means of escape shall be:

(1) an enclosed interior stair; or

(2) an exterior stair; or

(3) a horizontal exit; or

(4) an existing approved fire escape stair.

D. Every sleeping room shall provide a secondary means of escape which may be any one of the following:

(1) a door leading directly to the outside, at or to grade level;

(2) a door, stairway, passage or hall remote from the primary escape and to the exterior; or

(3) an outside window or door, operable without tools from the inside with a minimum clear opening measured 20 inches wide, measured 24 inches high; the distance of the bottom of the opening from the floor is a maximum of 44 inches; this means of escape is acceptable if the bottom of the window is no more than 20 feet above grade or is accessible by fire department rescue apparatus, approved by the authority having jurisdiction, or it opens onto an exterior balcony; and

(4) bars, grills, grates or similar devices that are installed on emergency escape or rescue windows or doors shall be equipped with release mechanisms which are operable from the inside without the use of a key or special knowledge or effort.

E. Stairways and other vertical openings between floors shall be enclosed with construction to provide a smoke and fire resistance rating of not less than 20 minutes. Open stairways between floors shall not be permitted.

8.370.14.52 CORRIDORS:

A. Corridors in an existing building shall have a minimum width of 36 inches. Corridors in newly constructed facilities shall have a minimum width of 44 inches.

B. Corridors shall have a clear ceiling height of not less than seven feet measured to the lowest projection from the ceiling.

C. Corridors shall be maintained clear and free of obstructions at all times.

D. The floors of corridors and hallways shall be waterproof, greaseproof, smooth, slip- resistant and durable.

8.370.14.53 MINIMUM ROOM DIMENSIONS:

A. All habitable rooms in a facility shall have a ceiling height of not less than seven feet six inches. Kitchens, halls, bathrooms and toilet compartments shall have a ceiling height of not less than seven feet.

B. Any room with sloped ceiling where any portion of the room is less than seven feet in height is subject to review and approval or disapproval by the licensing authority.

8.370.14.54 RESIDENT ROOMS:

A. The facility's bed capacity shall not exceed the capacity approved by the licensing authority.

B. Each resident room shall have an outside room with a window. The area of the outdoor window shall be at least one tenth of the floor area of the room.

C. Resident rooms shall not be less than seven feet wide in any horizontal dimension.

D. There must be no through traffic in resident rooms. Resident rooms must connect directly to other internal common areas of the facility.

E. The window shades, drapes, curtains, or blinds in the resident rooms shall be in good repair and of flame-retardant materials.

F. Resident rooms may be private or semi-private. Semi- private rooms may not house more than two residents.

(1) Private rooms shall have a minimum of 100 square feet of floor area. The closet and locker area shall not be counted as part of the available floor space.

(2) Semi- private rooms shall have a minimum of 80 square feet of floor area for each bed and shall be furnished in such a manner that the room is not crowded and passage out of the room is not obstructed. A separate closet for each resident shall be provided. The closet and locker area shall not be counted as part of the available floor space. The beds shall be spaced at least three feet apart.

G. If a resident chooses not to bring their own furnishings to the facility; each resident room shall be provided with, as a minimum, the following furnishings per resident:

(1) a bed that shall be at least 36 inches wide, of sturdy construction and in good repair;

(2) each bed shall be provided with a clean, comfortable mattress of at least four inches in thickness, which is waterproof, or protected with a waterproof covering and a mattress pad;

(3) each bed shall be provided with a clean, comfortable pillow;

(4) each bed shall be provided with a pillow case, two clean sheets, blankets and a bedspread appropriate for the weather and the climate;

(5) an individual closet or closet area with a clothes rack for hanging clothes and shelves or drawers that are accessible to the resident;

(6) a dresser with drawers;

(7) a bedside table or desk;

(8) a chair;

(9) a reading lamp; and

(10) a mirror.

[8.370.14.54 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.14.55 TOILET AND BATHING FACILITIES:

Toilet and bathing facilities shall be located appropriately to meet the needs of residents.

A. A minimum of one toilet, one sink and one bathing unit shall be provided for every eight residents or fraction thereof.

(1) The facility shall provide at least one tub and one shower or combination unit to allow for residents bathing preference.

(2) Facilities with four or more residents shall provide a handicap accessible bathroom for every 30 residents that allows for a bathing preference.

B. Facilities with four or more residents must comply with accessibility requirements for the disabled.

C. Toilet, sink and bathing facilities shall be readily available to the residents. No passage through a resident room by another resident to reach a toilet, bathing unit or sink facility shall be permitted.

D. The combination type tub and shower shall be permitted.

E. A facility with four or more residents that has live-in staff shall provide a separate toilet, sink and bathing facility for staff.

F. Toilets, tubs and showers shall be provided with grab bars.

G. Tubs and showers shall have a slip resistant surface.

H. The floors of bathrooms and bathing facilities shall have smooth, waterproof and slip- resistant surfaces.

I. Toilet paper and soap shall be provided in each toilet room.

J. The use of a common towel shall be prohibited.

K. Bathrooms and lavatories shall be cleaned as often as necessary to maintain a clean and sanitary condition.

[8.370.14.55 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.14.56 LIVING OR MULTIPURPOSE ROOM:

The facility shall provide a minimum of 40 square feet per resident for common living, dining and social spaces.

A. The facility shall have a living or multipurpose room for the use of the residents. Such rooms shall be provided with reading lamps, tables and chairs or couches. These furnishings shall be well constructed, comfortable and in good repair.

B. The living room or multipurpose rooms shall be provided with supplies to meet the varied interests and needs of the residents.

C. Each activity room shall have a window area of at least one tenth of the floor area with a minimum of at least ten square feet.

8.370.14.57 MEETING ROOM:

The facility shall have adequate meeting rooms and office space for use by staff and the interdisciplinary care team. Other rooms may serve as meeting rooms, provided resident confidentiality is maintained.

[8.370.14.57 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.14.58 DINING AREA:

A. A dining area shall be provided for meals. Each dining area shall be designed and have furnishings to meet the individual needs of the residents.

(1) Facilities with 60 or fewer residents shall have tables and chairs in the dining area to accommodate the total number of residents in one sitting.

(2) Facilities with more than 60 residents shall provide seating for at least 60 residents at one time, but may serve meals in shifts to accommodate the total capacity of the facility.

(a) No more than three shifts are permitted for each meal.

(b) Facilities with more than 60 residents and serving meals in shifts must have other social areas for residents to congregate during the meal service.

(c) All seating arrangements during meals shall allow clear access to the exits.

B. The living or multi-purpose room may be used as a dining area if the dining area portion does not exceed fifty percent of the available floor space and still allows a comfortable arrangement of the necessary furnishings for a living area.

D. Smoking shall not be permitted where oxygen is in use, is present or is stored.

8.370.14.68 HOSPICE:

An assisted living facility that provides or coordinates hospice care and services shall meet the requirements in this section, in addition to the rules applicable to all assisted living facilities, 8.370.14 NMAC.

A. Definitions: in addition to the requirements for all assisted living facilities pursuant to "definitions," 8.370.14.7 NMAC, the following definitions shall also apply.

(1) "Hospice agency" means an organization, company, for-profit or non-profit corporation or any other entity which provides a coordinated program of palliative and supportive services for physical, psychological, social and the option of spiritual care of terminally ill people and their families. The services are provided by a medically directed interdisciplinary team in the person's home and the agency is required to be licensed pursuant to 8.370.19 NMAC.

(2) "Hospice care" means a focus on palliative, rather than curative care. The goal of the plan of care is to help the patient live as comfortably as possible, with emphasis on eliminating or decreasing pain and other uncomfortable symptoms.

(3) "Licensed assisted living provider" means a facility that provides 24 hour assisted living and is licensed by the health care authority.

(4) "Hospice services" means a program of palliative and supportive services which provides physical, psychological, social and spiritual care for terminally ill patients and their family members.

(5) "Care coordination requirements" means a written document that outlines the care and services to be provided by the hospice agency for assisted living residents that require hospice services.

(6) "Palliative care" means a form of medical care or treatment that is intended to reduce the severity of disease symptoms, rather than to reverse progression of the disease itself or provide a cure.

(7) "Terminally ill" means a diagnosis by a physician for a patient with a prognosis of six months or less to live.

(8) "Visit notes" means the documentation of the services provided for hospice residents and includes ongoing care coordination.

B. Employee training and support: A facility that provides hospice services shall provide the following education and training for employees who assist with providing these services:

(1) provide a minimum of six hours per year of palliative/hospice care training, which includes one hour specific to the hospice resident's ISP, in addition to the basic staff education requirements pursuant to 8.370.14.17 NMAC; and

(2) offer an ongoing employee psychological support program for end of life care issues.

C. Individual service plan (ISP) requirements:

(1) Each resident who receives hospice services shall be provided the necessary palliative care to meet the individual resident's needs as outlined in the ISP and shall include one hour of training specific to the resident for all direct care staff.

(2) The assisted living facility, in coordination with the hospice provider, shall create an ISP that identifies how the resident's needs are met and includes the following:

(a) the requirements set forth in the "individual service plan," 8.370.14.26 NMAC, and "Exceptions to admission, readmission and retention," Subsection C of 8.370.14.20 NMAC;

(b) what services are to be provided;

(c) who will provide the services;

(d) how the services will be provided;

(e) a delineation of the role(s) of the hospice provider and the assisted living facility in the ISP process;

(f) documentation (visit notes) of the care and services that are provided with the signature of the person who provided the care and services; and

(g) a list of the current medications or biologicals that the resident receives and who is authorized to administer them.

(3) Medications shall be self- administered, self-administered with assistance by an individual that has completed a state approved program in medication assistance or administered by the following individuals:

(a) a physician;

(b) a physician extender (PA or NP);

(c) a licensed nurse (RN or LPN);

(d) the resident if their PCP has approved it;

(e) family or family designee; and

(f) any other individual in accordance with applicable state and local laws.

D. Care coordination.

(1) The assisted living facility shall be knowledgeable with regard to the hospice requirements pursuant to 8.370.19 NMAC and ensure that the hospice agency is well informed with regard to the assisted living provisions pursuant to Subsection C of 8.370.14.20 NMAC.

(2) The assisted living facility shall hold a team meeting prior to accepting or retaining a hospice resident in accordance with"exceptions to admission, readmission and retention," Subsection C of 8.370.14.20 NMAC.

(3) Upon admission of a resident into hospice care, the assisted living facility shall designate a section of the resident's record for hospice documentation.

(a) The facility shall provide individual records for each resident.

(b) The hospice agency shall leave documentation at the facility in the designated section of the resident's record.

(4) The assisted living facility shall provide the resident and family or surrogate decision maker with information on palliative care and shall support the resident's freedom of choice with regard to decisions.

(5) Hospice services shall be available 24 hours a day, seven days a week for hospice residents, families and facility staff and may include continuous nursing care for hospice residents as needed. These services shall be delivered in accordance with the resident's individual service plan (ISP) and pursuant to 8.370.14 26 NMAC.

(6) The assisted living facility shall ensure the coordination of services with the hospice agency.

(a) The resident's individual service plan (ISP) shall be updated with significant changes in the resident's condition and care needs.

(b) The assisted living facility shall receive information and communication from the hospice staff at each visit.

(i) The information shall include the resident status and any changes in the ISP (i.e., medication changes, etc.).

(ii) The information shall be in the form of a verbal report to the assisted living facility staff and also in the form of written documentation.

(c) The assisted living facility or the family/resident shall reserve the right to schedule care conferences as the needs of the resident and family dictate. The care conferences shall include all care team members.

(d) Concerns that arise with regard to the delivery of services from either the assisted living facility or the hospice agency shall first be addressed with the facility administrator and the hospice agency administrator.

(i) The process may be informal or formal depending on the nature of the issue.

(ii) If an issue cannot be resolved or if there is an immediate danger to the resident the appropriate authority shall be notified.

E. Additional provisions: An assisted living facility that provides or coordinates hospice care and services shall make additional provisions for the following requirements:

(1) individual services and care: each resident receiving hospice services shall be provided the necessary palliative procedures to meet individual needs as defined in the ISP;

(2) private visiting space:

(a) physical space for private family visits;

(b) accommodations for family members to remain with the patient throughout the night; and

(c) accommodations for family privacy after a resident's death.

F. Medicare and Medicaid restrictions: Assisted living facilities shall not accept a resident considered "hospice general inpatient" which would be billable to medicare or medicaid because the facility will not qualify for payment by medicare or medicaid.

8.370.14.69 MEMORY CARE UNITS:

An assisted living facility that provides a memory care unit to serve residents with dementia shall comply with the provisions of subsection A-J below in addition to the rules applicable to all assisted living facilities, 8.370.14 NMAC.

A. Additional definitions: The following definitions, in addition to those in 8.370.14.7 NMAC, shall apply.

(1) "Alzheimer's" means a brain disorder that destroys brain cells, causing problems with memory, thinking and behavior that are severe enough to affect work, lifelong hobbies or social life. Alzheimer's gets progressively worse and is fatal.

(2) "Care coordination agreement requirement" means a written document that outlines the care and services that are provided by other outside agencies for assisted living residents that require additional care and services.

(3) "Dementia" means loss of memory and other mental abilities severe enough to interfere with daily life. It is caused by changes in the brain.

(4) "Memory care unit" means an assisted living facility or part of or an assisted living facility that provides added security, enhanced programming and staffing appropriate for residents with a diagnosis of dementia, Alzheimer's disease or other related disorders causing memory impairments and for residents whose functional needs require a specialized program.

(5) "Secured environment" means locked (secured/monitored) doors/fences that restrict access to the public way for residents who require a secure unit.

B. Care coordination requirement. An assisted living facility that accepts residents with memory issues shall determine which additional services and care requirements are relevant to the resident and disease process.

(1) The medical diagnosis and ISP shall be utilized in the determination of the need for additional services.

(2) The assisted living facility shall ensure the coordination of services and shall have evidence of an agreement of care coordination for all services provided in the facility by an outside health care provider.

C. Employee training: In addition to the training requirements for all assisted living facilities, pursuant to 8.370.14.17 NMAC, all employees assisting in providing care for memory unit residents shall have a minimum of 12 hours of training per year related to dementia, Alzheimer's disease, or other pertinent information.

D. Individual service plan (ISP): An assisted living facility that admits memory care unit residents shall create an ISP in coordination with the resident's primary care practitioner, in compliance with the requirements outlined in "individual service plan," 8.370.14.26 NMAC, pursuant to a team meeting as described in "exceptions to admission, readmission and retention," Subsection C of 8.370.14.20 NMAC, and which ensures the following criteria:

(1) identification of the resident's needs specific to the memory care unit and the services that are provided; each memory unit resident shall receive the services necessary to meet the individual resident's needs;

(2) medications shall be self- administered, self-administered with assistance by an individual that has completed a state approved program in medication assistance or administered by the following individuals:

(a) a physician;

(b) a physician extender (PA or NP);

(c) a licensed nurse (RN or LPN);

(d) the resident if their PCP has approved it;

(e) family or family designee; and

(f) any other individual in accordance with applicable state and local laws.

E. Assessments and reevaluations:

(1) An assessment shall be completed by a registered nurse or a physician extender within 15 days prior to admission. When emergency placement is warranted the 15 day assessment shall be waived and the assessment shall be completed within five days after admission.

(a) The resident shall have a medical evaluation and documentation by a physician, physician's assistant or a nurse practitioner within six months of admission.

(b) The pre-admission assessment shall include written findings, an evaluation of less restrictive alternatives and the basis for the admission to the secured environment. The written documentation shall include a diagnosis from the resident's PCP of Alzheimer's disease or other dementia and the need for the resident to reside in a memory care unit.

(c) Only those residents who require a secured environment placement or whose needs can be met by the facility, as determined by the assessment prior to admission or on review of the individual service plan (ISP), shall be admitted.

(2) A re-evaluation must be completed every six months and when there is a significant change in the medical or physical condition of the resident that warrants intervention or different care needs, or when the resident becomes a danger to self or others, to determine whether the resident's stay in the assisted living facility memory care unit is still appropriate.

F. Documentation in the resident's record: In addition to the required documentation pursuant to 8.370.14.21 NMAC, the following information shall be documented in the resident's record:

(1) the physician's diagnosis for admission to a secure environment or a memory care unit;

(2) the pre- admission assessment; and

(3) the re-evaluation(s).

G. Secured environment:

(1) Memory care unit residents may require a secure environment for their safety. A secured environment is any locked (secured/monitored) area in which doors and fences restrict access to the public way. These include but are not limited to:

(a) double alarm systems;

(b) gates connected to the fire alarm; and

(c) tab alarms for residents at risk for elopement.

(2) In addition to the interior common areas required by this rule, the facility shall provide a safe and secure outdoor area for the year round use by the residents.

(a) Fencing or other enclosures shall prevent elopement and protect the safety and security of the residents.

(b) Residents shall be able to independently access the outdoor areas.

(3) Locked areas shall have an access code or key which facility employees shall have available on their person or on the locking unit itself at all times.

H. Resident rights: In addition to the requirements pursuant to 8.370.14.32 NMAC, the following shall apply:

(1) the resident's rights may be limited as required by their condition and as identified in the ISP;

(2) the resident who believes that he or she has been inappropriately admitted to the secured environment may request the facility in contact the resident's legal guardian, or an advocate such as the ombudsman or the primary care practitioner; upon request, the facility shall assist the resident in making such contact.

I. Disclosure to residents: A facility that operates a secured environment shall disclose to the resident and the resident's legal representative, if applicable and prior to the resident's admission to the facility, that the facility operates a secured environment.

(1) The disclosure shall include information about the types of resident diagnosis or behaviors that the facility provides services for and for which the staff are trained to provide care for.

(2) The disclosure shall include information about the care, services and the type of secured environment that the facility and trained staff provide.

J. Staffing: The facility shall provide the sufficient number of trained staff members to meet the additional needs of the residents in the secured environment. There must be at least one trained staff member awake and in attendance in the secured environment at all times.

PART 15: GENERAL REQUIREMENTS FOR BOARDING HOMES

8.370.15.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority.

[8.370.15.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.15.2 SCOPE:

These requirements apply to public or private boarding homes which come within the statutory definition of "health facilities" as set out in Subsection F of Section 24-1-2 NMSA 1978 Public Health Act and that are required to be licensed by the state licensing authority. This rule applies to all boarding homes facilities which receive lodging for compensation and are operated to provide assistance with one or more instrumental activities of daily living or with the coordination of community services to residents who do not need the level of services and supervision provided in a skilled nursing facility, intermediate care facility, assisted living facility, nor a general or special hospital or other institution. This rule does not apply to boarding homes under the control of an institution of higher learning, any facility which is otherwise licensed and regulated by the authority, any hotel, other landlord- tenant relationship or homeless shelter.

8.370.15.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

The requirements set forth herein are promulgated under Subsection E of Section 9-8-6, NMSA 1978, as amended and the authority granted under Subsections F and J of Sections 24-1-2 and 24-1-3 respectively and 24-1-5, NMSA 1978, of the Public Health Act as amended. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority (authority) as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.370.15.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.15.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.370.15.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.15.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a later date is specified at the end of a section.

8.370.15.6 OBJECTIVE:

A. Establish standards for licensing boarding home facilities for adults in order to ensure the health, safety, and welfare of individuals in need of such services.

B. Encourage the establishment and maintenance of boarding home facilities for adults that provide a humane, safe and homelike environment for elderly, disabled, or other persons who need personal care services and supervision, but who do not need institutional residential care or assistance with activities of daily living.

C. Establish standards for the construction, maintenance and operation of boarding home facilities.

D. Regulate such facilities in providing the appropriate level of care for residents and using supportive services in the surrounding community to meet the needs of residents.

E. Provide for boarding home compliance with these requirements through surveys to identify any areas that could be dangerous or harmful to the health, safety, or welfare of the residents and staff.

[8.370.15.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.15.7 DEFINITIONS:

A. "Abuse" means:

(1) knowingly, intentionally and without justifiable cause inflicting physical pain, injury or mental anguish, and includes sexual abuse and verbal abuse; or

(2) the intentional deprivation by a caretaker or other person of services necessary to maintain the mental and physical health of a person, or injury, sexual abuse, or neglect resulting in harm of an individual resident.

B. "Amended license" means an amended license issued due to a change of manager name, location, capacity, or classification of any units.

[8.370.15.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.15.9 SCOPE OF SERVICES:

A. General scope of services: These regulations apply to non-medical boarding homes that are required to be licensed under the public health act by the authority to provide residential placement to individuals seeking assistance with instrumental activities of daily living or assistance with accessing or the coordination of community services who may have been discharged from any mental or behavioral health care institution. Individuals who need assistance with one or more activities of daily living or who need a higher level of services and supervision provided in a skilled nursing facility, intermediate care facility, assisted living facility, a general or special hospital or other institution, shall not be placed in a boarding home.

B. Licensure is required:

(1) No boarding home as defined in Subsection H of 8.370.15.7 NMAC may operate in New Mexico unless it is licensed in accordance with the requirements of the authority.

(2) Any boarding home providing services described in these regulations that is in operation on the effective date of these regulations must apply for licensure within 30 days of the effective date.

(3) If an unlicensed boarding home is found to be providing services for which a license is required under these regulations or other health facility regulations, the secretary may issue a cease-and-desist order, to protect human health or safety or welfare.

C. Exemption from licensure:

(1) The boarding home regulations contained in this rule shall not apply to any of the following:

(a) Any other licensed health facility, as defined by the public health act Subsection F of Section 24-1-2, NMSA 1978 licensed by the authority.

(b) Any clinic, as defined by the public health act Subsection F of Section 24-1-2 NMSA 1978 licensed by the authority.

(c) Any home operated by a home and community-based medicaid waiver service provider, under contract with the authority to provide waiver services.

(d) Any house, institution, hotel, homeless shelter, or other similar place that supplies board and room only, or room only, or board only, which provides no element of care and supervision.

(e) Any school dormitory or similar facility where all of the following conditions exist:

(i) The school is a public school as defined by Subsection L of Section 22-1-2 NMSA 1978 or a nonpublic school accredited by a generally accepted accreditation agency.

(ii) The school and the school dormitory are on the same grounds.

(iii) The program operates only during normal school terms unless the academic program runs year-around.

(iv) The school's function is educational only.

(v) The school program is not designated as providing rehabilitative or treatment services.

(f) Any care and supervision of persons by a relative, guardian or conservator.

(g) Any care and supervision of persons from only one family by a close friend of the family, guardian or conservator, provided that such arrangement is not for financial profit and does not exceed 10 hours per week. The provision of longer hours of care shall not be precluded when provided for a brief period of time for reasons, including but not limited to family emergencies, vacation, and military leave.

(h) Any arrangement for the care and supervision of an adult or adults from only one close friend, who is not a licensee or current employee of a residential care facility for the elderly or of an adult residential facility, and whose friendship pre-existed a provider/recipient relationship, and all of the following are met:

(i) The care and supervision are provided in a home or residence chosen by the recipient, regardless of who owns the home or residence.

(ii) The arrangement is not of a business nature, in that the provider does not represent himself or herself as being in the business of provision of care, and any compensation that may be paid to the provider is only for the value of the services rendered.

(iii) The arrangement occurs and continues only with the one resident.

(i) Any housing project for elderly or disabled individuals that meets other federal requirements.

D. Other operations not affected: Boarding homes that also rent rooms solely on an owner- resident basis, to individuals who do not require assistance with one or more instrumental activities of daily living or assistance with the coordination of community services, are not required to comply with this rule in respect to those individuals only.

8.370.15.11 ACTION BY THE AUTHORITY:

A. After receiving a complete application, the authority shall investigate the applicant to determine the applicant's ability to comply with these regulations.

B. Within 60 days after receiving a complete application for a license, the authority shall either approve the application and issue a license or deny the application. If the application for a license is denied, the authority shall give the applicant reasons, in writing, for the denial.

C. The licensing authority shall not issue a new license if the applicant has had a health facility license revoked or denied renewal or has surrendered a license under threat of revocation or denial of renewal, or has lost certification as a medicaid provider as a result of violations of applicable medicaid requirements. The licensing authority may refuse to issue a new license if the applicant has been cited repeatedly for violations of applicable regulations found to be class "A" or class "B" deficiencies as defined in health facility sanctions and civil monetary penalties, 8.370.4 NMAC, or has been noncompliant with plans of correction.

8.370.15.12 TYPES OF LICENSE:

A. Annual license: An annual license is issued for a one-year period to a boarding home which has met all requirements of these regulations. If a temporary license is issued, once the authority has issued a written determination of full compliance with these regulations, an annual license will be issued with the renewal date of the annual license based upon the initial date of the first temporary license.

B. Temporary license: The licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, issue a temporary license prior to the initial survey, or when the licensing authority finds partial compliance with these regulations.

(1) A temporary license shall cover a period of time, not to exceed 120 days.

(2) In accordance with Subsection D of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, no more than two consecutive temporary licenses shall be issued.

(3) a temporary license prior to the initial survey, or when the licensing authority finds partial compliance with these regulations and the following:

(a) submitted a license application, with required supporting documents;

(b) has met all of the applicable life safety code requirements; and

(c) its program description has been reviewed for compliance with these regulations;

(d) a statement from the applicant that they are qualified, in full compliance with these regulations and has requested an initial health survey from the licensing authority.

(4) a temporary license is not guaranteed under these regulations and shall be limited and restricted to:

(a) a finding that the applicant is qualified and in full compliance with these requirements;

(b) the boarding home being allowed to accept residents and provide care services, subject to any requirements and restrictions attached to the temporary license.

C. Amended license: A licensee must apply to the licensing authority for an amended license when there is a change of manager or when there is a change of name for the boarding home, but an amended license shall only be issued if the manager is not an owner. If the manager is also the owner, a new license application must be submitted as provided in this regulation. The amended license application must:

(1) be on a form, or filed electronically if available, as required by the licensing authority;

(2) be accompanied by the required fee for the amended license; and

(3) be submitted within 10 working days of the change.

[8.370.15.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.15.13 SCOPE OF LICENSE:

A. The license is issued only for the premises and the persons named in the license application and may not be transferred or assigned by the licensee.

B. The license shall state any applicable restrictions, including maximum bed capacity and the level of care that may be provided, and any other limitations that the authority considers appropriate and necessary taking all facts and circumstances into account.

C. A licensee shall fully comply with all requirements and restrictions of the license.

8.370.15.14 SEPARATE LICENSES:

Separate licenses shall be required for boarding homes which are maintained on separate premises even though they are under the same management. Separate licenses shall not be required for separate buildings on the same legal lot of record, multiple buildings on contiguous legal lots of record, or contiguous campus or condominium units within the same ownership.

8.370.15.15 LICENSE RENEWAL:

A. A licensee must submit a renewal application, electronically, if available, or on forms authorized by the licensing authority, along with the required license fee at least 30 days prior to expiration of the current license. The applicant shall certify that the boarding home complies with all applicable state and federal regulations in force at the time of renewal. The authority reserves the right to require that a renewal applicant provide all additional documents, including any necessary proof of current compliance by licensee with these regulations and all applicable state and federal statutes and regulations, as part of its license renewal application for the authority to determine whether the applicant and the boarding home are in full compliance with these regulations.

B. Upon receipt of the renewal application and the required fee, the licensing authority will issue a new license effective the day following the date of expiration of the current license, if the boarding home is in substantial compliance with these regulations and all other applicable state and federal regulations.

C. If the existing license expires and the licensee has failed to submit a renewal application, the authority may charge the applicant a civil monetary penalty of $200, in accordance with Section 24-1-5.2 NMSA 1978, as amended, providing that during such time the boarding home remains in full compliance with these regulations. If the boarding home does not renew its license and continues to operate without paying civil monetary penalties and without being in full compliance with these regulations, the boarding home shall cease operations until it obtains a new license through the initial licensure procedures and shall still be required to pay civil monetary penalties. Under Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, as amended, no boarding home shall be operated without a license and any such failure may subject the operators to various sanctions and legal remedies, including at a minimum the imposition of civil monetary penalties.

D. It shall be the sole responsibility and liability of the licensee to be aware of the status, term and renewal date of its license. The licensing authority shall not be responsible to notify the boarding home of the renewal date or the expiration date of the boarding home's license.

E. After issuance of the initial license, if the boarding home is in substantial compliance with these regulations and provides an application and fee the boarding home may be issued a license renewal.

8.370.15.16 POSTING:

The license or a certified copy thereof shall be conspicuously posted in a location accessible to public view within the boarding home.

[8.370.15.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.15.17 REPORT OF CHANGES:

A. The licensee shall notify the authority in writing of any changes in the information provided, within 10 days of such changes. This notification shall include information and documentation regarding such changes.

B. When a change of manager occurs, the authority shall be notified within 10 days in writing by the licensee. Such writing shall include the name and license number of the new manager.

C. Each licensee shall notify the authority within 10 days in writing of any change of the mailing address of the licensee. Such writing shall include the new mailing address of the licensee.

D. When a change in the principal officer of a corporate license (chairman, president, general manager) occurs the authority shall be notified within 10 days in writing by the licensee. Such writing shall include the name and business address of such officer.

E. Any decrease or increase in licensed bed capacity of the boarding home shall require notification by letter to the authority and shall result in the issuance of a corrected license.

8.370.15.18 NON- TRANSFERABLE RESTRICTION ON LICENSE:

A. A license granted under these regulations is not transferable to any other owner, whether an individual or legal entity, or to another location. The authority shall not guarantee or be liable for or responsible for guaranteeing the transfer of the license to any other owner or other location. The existing license shall be void and must be returned to the licensing authority when any one of the following situations occurs:

(1) any ownership interest of the boarding home changes;

(2) the boarding home changes location;

(3) the licensee of the boarding home changes;

(4) the boarding home discontinues operation; or.

B. A boarding home wishing to continue operation as a boarding home under the conditions described in Paragraphs (1) through (4) above must submit an application for initial licensure in accordance with Paragraph (2) of Subsection B of 8.370.15.9 NMAC of these regulations, at least 30 days prior to the anticipated change.

[8.370.15.18 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.15.19 CHANGE OF OWNERSHIP:

An individual or entity wishing to purchase and continue operation of an already licensed boarding home shall:

A. Submit a new application for an initial license in accordance with these regulations at least 60 days prior to the anticipated change. The authority has the sole discretion to determine if it will issue a license under the same terms and conditions of the existing license.

B. The current owners will submit a letter citing the intended termination of current ownership, a closure plan and a request for a change of ownership to the licensing authority no later than 60 days prior to the date of sale.

C. The new owners shall complete and submit a new license application and transition plan. The license application and transition plan must be submitted to the licensing authority no later than 60 days prior to the date of sale. The new owners must provide a letter agreeing to assume all liabilities to the state and provide the following as described in the initial licensure procedures section of these regulations:

(1) letter of intent;

(2) license application and fee;

(3) program description;

(4) transition plan; and

(5) policies and procedures or a statement that the new owners are utilizing previously approved policies and procedures.

(6) Transition plan with timelines, that must include the following:

(a) process for the reassessment of residents;

(b) process for hiring boarding home staff and staffing plan identifying staff that will cover all duties upon transition; and

(c) execution of transfer agreements between the buyer and seller.

(7) Failure by any individual or entity to apply for and obtain a new license while continuing to operate under these regulations, shall be considered in violation of these regulations and the secretary may issue a cease-and- desist order, to protect human health or safety or welfare. The unlicensed boarding home may request a hearing that shall be held in the manner provided under these regulations and all other applicable regulations.

8.370.15.20 AUTOMATIC EXPIRATION OF LICENSE:

An existing license will automatically expire at midnight on the day indicated on the license as the expiration date, unless it is renewed sooner, or it has been suspended or revoked.

A. If a boarding home discontinues operation, is sold, leased or otherwise changes any ownership interest or changes location, the existing license shall automatically expire at midnight on the date of such action.

B. Failure by any owner or new owner to apply for a renewal or new license, while continuing to operate under these regulations, shall be considered a violation and subject to the imposition of civil monetary penalties, sanctions or other actions for operating without a license, allowed under these regulations and all other applicable statutes and regulations.

8.370.15.21 PROGRAM FLEXIBILITY:

A. All facilities shall maintain compliance with the licensee requirements. If the use of alternate concepts, methods, procedures, techniques, equipment, personnel qualifications or the conducting of pilot projects conflicts with requirements, then prior written approval from the authority shall be obtained in order to ensure provisions for safe and adequate care. Such approval shall provide for the terms and conditions under which the exception is granted. A written request and substantiating evidence supporting the request shall be submitted by the applicant or licensee to the authority.

B. Any approval of the authority granted under this section, or a certified copy thereof shall be posted immediately adjacent to the boarding home's license.

8.370.15.22 WAIVERS AND VARIANCES:

A. Variances and waivers: At the licensing authority's sole discretion, an applicant or licensee may be granted variances and waivers of these regulations, provided the granting of such variance or waiver shall not jeopardize the health, safety or welfare of the boarding home's residents and staff and is not in violation of other applicable state and federal statutes and regulations. Variances and waivers are non- transferrable. Waivers and variances may be revoked at the discretion of the licensing authority due to changes in state or federal regulations, or change of circumstances that may jeopardy the health, safety or welfare of residents.

(1) All variances shall be in writing, attached to the license. A variance is made at the discretion of the licensing authority to allow a boarding home to deviate from a portion(s) or to modify a provision of this rule for an unspecified period of time, unless otherwise limited, and provided that the health, safety, or welfare of the residents and staff are not in danger. All variances shall expire upon remodel of the facility or change of ownership.

(2) All waivers shall be in writing, attached to the license, is made at the discretion of the licensing authority to allow a boarding home to deviate from a portion(s) or to modify a provision of this rule for a limited and specified period of time, and shall be limited to the term of the license. Upon renewal of a license, waivers shall only be extended or continued at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

B. Waiver/variance applications:

(1) All applications for waiver or variance from the requirements of these regulations shall be made in writing to the authority, specifying the following:

(a) the rule from which the waiver or variance is requested;

(b) the time period for which the waiver or variance is requested;

(c) if the request is for a variance, the specific alternative action which the boarding home proposes;

(d) the reasons for the request; and

(e) justification that the goal or purpose of the rule or regulations would be satisfied.

(2) Requests for a waiver or variance may be made at any time.

(3) The authority may require additional information from the boarding home prior to acting on the request.

C. Grants and denials:

(1) The authority at its discretion shall grant or deny each request for waiver or variance in writing. A notice of denial shall contain the reasons for denial.

(2) The terms of a requested variance may be modified upon agreement between the authority and a boarding home.

(3) The authority may impose such conditions on the granting of a waiver or variance which it deems necessary.

(4) The authority may limit the duration of any waiver or variance.

(5) The authority's action on a request for a waiver is not subject to administrative appeal.

D. Revocation: The authority may revoke a waiver or variance if:

(1) it is determined that the waiver or variance is adversely affecting the health, safety or welfare of the resident's; or

(2) the boarding home has failed to comply with the variance as granted; or

(3) the licensee notifies the authority in writing that it wishes to relinquish the waiver or variance and be subject to the rule previously waived or varied;

(4) required by a change in law.

8.370.15.23 UNLICENSED FACILITIES:

Any person or entity that opens or maintains a non-medical boarding home without a license is subject to the imposition of civil monetary penalties by the licensing authority. Failure to comply with the licensure requirements of this rule within 10 days of notice by the licensing authority may result in the following actions pursuant to health facility sanctions and civil monetary penalties, 8.370.4 NMAC:

A. A civil monetary penalty not to exceed $5,000 per day.

B. A base civil monetary penalty, plus a per-day civil monetary penalty, plus the doubling of penalties as applicable, that continues until the facility is in compliance with the licensing requirements in this rule.

C. A cease and desist order to discontinue operation of a boarding home that is operating without a license.

D. Criminal penalties that may apply and shall be imposed as necessary.

E. If it is determined that the boarding home is operating outside the scope of this license it will be deemed operating as an unlicensed boarding home and will be required to obtain the required applicable boarding home licensure.

8.370.15.24 SURVEY OR MONITORING VISITS:

A. Application for licensure, whether initial or renewal, shall constitute permission for unrestricted entry into and survey of a boarding home by authorized licensing authority representatives during the pendency of the license application, and if licensed, during the licensure period.

B. The licensing authority shall perform on-site survey or monitoring visits at all boarding homes to determine compliance with this rule.

C. The boarding home shall provide the licensing authority full access to all boarding home operations, buildings and information related to the operation of the boarding home. Surveys may be announced or unannounced at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

D. The most recent survey inspection reports and related correspondence shall be posted in a conspicuous public place in the boarding home.

E. Failure by the boarding home to provide the licensing authority access to the premises or information, including resident records, may result in the imposition of sanctions including but not limited to civil monetary penalties, license revocation or an order to cease and desist, as deemed appropriate by the licensing authority.

8.370.15.25 CORRECTIVE ACTION:

If violations of this rule are cited, the boarding home will be provided with an official statement of deficiencies within 10 business days following the survey.

A. Plan of correction (POC). Upon receipt of a report of deficiency from the licensing authority, and after receipt of a revised statement of deficiencies, when the findings are changed pursuant to an IDR, the licensee or their representative shall be required to submit a plan of correction to the licensing authority within 10 working days stating how the boarding home intends to correct each violation noted and the expected date of completion. All plans of correction for deficiencies, if any, shall be disclosed in compliance with applicable statutes and regulations. A plan of correction is not confidential once it has been approved and is admissible for all purposes in any adjudicatory hearing and all subsequent appeals relating to a boarding home license, including to prove licensee compliance violations. The plan of correction must contain the following:

(1) what measures will be put into place or what systematic changes will be made to ensure the deficient practice does not recur;

(2) the anticipated implementation date (a reasonable time-frame is allowed);

(3) how the corrective action will be monitored to ensure compliance;

(4) what quality assurance indicators will be put into place;

(5) who will be responsible to oversee their monitoring; and

(6) the date and signature of the manager or authorized representative.

B. The licensing authority may at its sole discretion accept the plan of correction as written or require modifications of the plan by the licensee.

(1) If the first plan of correction (POC) is rejected by the licensing authority, the boarding home will be sent a second copy of the statement of deficiencies. The boarding home shall complete and return the second copy of the statement of deficiencies with an acceptable plan of correction within three business days. The authority may at its option repeat the process until an acceptable plan of correction is received by the authority.

(2) Failure to provide an acceptable plan of correction (POC) within a reasonable period of time, may lead to civil monetary penalties or other sanctions.

(3) All cited violations shall be corrected within 30 calendar days from the date of the survey; unless the licensing authority approves an extended date.

(4) Failure to submit an acceptable plan of correction may result in sanctions, including but not limited to civil monetary penalties, suspension or non-renewal of the boarding home license.

(5) The licensing authority may accept, reject, or direct the plan of correction.

C. Informal dispute review (IDR). 8.370.15.66 FIRE SAFETY SYSTEMS AND COMPLIANCE:

All Boarding homes shall comply with the current applicable requirements of the state fire marshal, or local fire authority having jurisdiction, for fire prevention, safety, and fire safety systems. All equipment shall be properly maintained and inspected as recommended by the manufacturer, state fire marshal, or the local fire authority.

A. Fire clearance and inspections: Each boarding home must request from the state fire marshal, or local fire authority having jurisdiction, an annual fire inspection. Records of inspection shall be kept on file in the boarding home.

(1) Copies of the fire inspection records must be kept on file at the boarding home for the following:

(a) fire extinguishers;

(b) smoke and fire alarm systems;

(c) automatic detection equipment, including carbon monoxide detectors;

(d) kitchen hoods with fire suppression;

(e) automatic fire suppression systems, and

(f) other fire safety equipment.

(2) If the policy of the fire authority having jurisdiction does not provide for annual inspection of the boarding home, the boarding home must document the date the request was made and to whom. If the fire authorities conduct annual inspections, a copy of the latest inspection must be kept on file in the boarding home.

B. Staff fire and safety training: All staff of the boarding home must know the location of, and be instructed in proper use of fire extinguishers, fire safety systems, and other procedures to be observed in case of fire or other emergencies.

(1) Boarding home staff must be instructed as part of their duties to constantly strive to detect and eliminate potential safety hazards, such as loose handrails, frayed electrical cords, faulty equipment, blocked exits or exit ways, and any other condition which could cause burns, falls, or other personal injury to the residents or staff.

(2) The boarding home should request the fire authority having jurisdiction to give periodic instruction in fire prevention and techniques of evacuation.

C. Evacuation plan: Each boarding home must have a fire evacuation plan conspicuously posted in each separate area of the building for residents in case of fire or other emergencies, showing routes of evacuation and designated areas to meet. Staff shall be trained to direct and assist residents during an emergency evacuation.

D. Fire drills: All facilities shall conduct monthly fire drills which are to be documented. A record of the monthly fire drills shall be maintained on file in the boarding home and readily available. There shall be at least one documented fire drill per month. There shall be one documented fire drill for each daily work shift (i.e.: day, night or graveyard) per quarter, that employs the use of the fire alarm system or the detector system in the boarding home. Fire drill records shall show:

(1) the date and time of the drill;

(2) the number of staff participating in the drill;

(3) any problem noted during the drill;

(4) the evacuation time in total minutes, and

(5) if applicable, the local fire department may be requested to supervise and participate in fire drills.

E. Fire alarms, smoke detectors and other equipment: The system shall comply with the current applicable requirements of the state fire marshal, or local fire authority having jurisdiction.

(1) Facilities shall have an automatic fire alarm system, if required by the authority having jurisdiction. The fire alarm system(s) shall be inspected and approved in writing by the fire authority with jurisdiction.

(2) Approved smoke detectors that when activated provides an alarm which is audible in all sleeping areas shall be installed on each floor. Areas of assembly, such as the dining, living or activity room(s) must also be provided with smoke detectors.

(3) Approved carbon monoxide detectors that when activated provides an alarm which is audible in all sleeping areas shall be installed on each floor.

F. Fire extinguishers: Fire extinguisher(s) shall be installed in the boarding home, as approved by the state fire marshal or the local fire prevention authority with jurisdiction.

(1) Facilities must as a minimum have two 2A10BC fire extinguishers:

(a) One extinguisher located in the kitchen or food preparation area.

(b) One extinguisher centrally located in the boarding home.

(c) The maximum distance between fire extinguishers shall be 50 feet.

(d) All fire extinguishers shall be inspected yearly, recharged as needed and tagged noting the date of the inspection.

(2) Fire extinguishers, alarm systems, automatic detection equipment and other firefighting equipment shall be properly maintained and inspected as recommended by the manufacturer, state fire marshal, or the local fire authority.

G. Automatic fire protection (fire sprinkler) system: Facilities shall have an automatic fire protection (sprinkler) system. The system shall be in accordance with the New Mexico commercial building code, international building code (IBC), current edition as adopted by the New Mexico construction industries division and local building codes as applied by the state fire marshal, or local fire authority having jurisdiction.

(1) Exception: Boarding homes designated as"R-3" in the New Mexico commercial building codes, with 10 transient residents or less, are not required to have a fire sprinkler system, when they are housed in a one- or two- family dwellings units that are not more than three stories above grade plane in height and that have separate means of egress (as referenced in section 310.5 Residential Group R-3).

(2) Exception: Boarding homes designated as"R-3" in the New Mexico commercial building code, with 16 nontransient residents or less, are not required to have a fire sprinkler system, when they are housed in a one- or two-family dwellings units that are not more than three stories above grade plane in height and that have separate means of egress (as referenced in section 310.5 Residential Group R-3).

(2) "Resident" means a person cared for or treated in any facility on a 24-hour basis irrespective of how the person has been admitted to the facility.

S. Definitions beginning with "S":

(1) "Skilled nursing facility" means a nursing home which is licensed by the authority to provide skilled nursing services.

(2) "Skilled nursing care" means those services furnished pursuant to a physician's orders which:

(a) require the skills of professional personnel such as registered or licensed practical nurses; and

(b) are provided either directly by or under the supervision of these personnel;

(c) in determining whether a service is skilled nursing care, the following criteria shall be used:

(i) the service would constitute a skilled service where the inherent complexity of a service prescribed for a resident is such that it can be safely and effectively performed only by or under the supervision of professional personnel;

(ii) the restoration potential of a resident is not the deciding factor in determining whether a service is to be considered skilled or unskilled. Even where full recovery or medical improvement is not possible, skilled care may be needed to prevent, to the extent possible, deterioration of the condition or to sustain current capacities; and

(iii) a service that is generally unskilled would be considered skilled where, because of special medical complications, its performance or supervision or the observation of the resident necessitates the use of skilled nursing personnel.

(3) "Specialized consultation" means the provision of professional or technical advice, such as systems analysis, crisis resolution or in-service training, to assist the facility in maximizing service outcomes.

(4) "Supervision" means at least intermittent face-to-face contact between supervisor and assistant, with the supervisor instructing and overseeing the assistant, but does not require the continuous presence of the supervisor in the same building as the assistant.

T. Definitions beginning with "T": "Tour of duty" means a portion of the day during which a shift of resident care personnel are on duty.

U. Definitions beginning with "U": "Unit dose drug delivery system" means a system for the distribution of medications in which single doses of medications are individually packaged and sealed for distribution to residents.

V. Definitions beginning with "V": "Variance" means an act on the part of the licensing authority to refrain from pressing or enforcing compliance with a portion or portions of these regulations for an unspecified period of time where the granting of a variance will not create a danger to the health, safety, or welfare of residents or staff of a long term care facility, and is at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

W. Definitions beginning with "W": "Waive/waivers" means to refrain from pressing or enforcing compliance with a portion or portions of these regulations for a limited period of time provided the health, safety, or welfare of residents and staff are not in danger. Waivers are issued at the sole discretion of the licensing.

8.370.16.8 LICENSURE:

A. Application/ requirements for licensure:

(1) All initial applications shall be made on forms provided by the licensing authority.

(a) all information requested on the application must be provided;

(b) The application must be dated and signed by the person who shall be the licensee;

(c) the application must be notarized.

(2) In every application, the applicant shall provide the following information:

(a) the identities of all persons or business entities having the authority, directly or indirectly, to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of the facility;

(b) the identities of all persons or business entities having five percent ownership interest whatsoever in the facility, whether direct or indirect, and whether the interest is in the profits, land or building, including owners of any business entity which owns any part of the land or building, and

(c) the identities of all creditors holding a security interest in the premises, whether land or building; and

(d) in the case of a change of ownership, disclosure of any relationship or connection between the old licensee and the new licensee, and between any owner or operator of the new licensee, whether direct or indirect.

(3) The applicant shall provide to the authority, information including, but not limited to, information regarding felony convictions, civil actions involving fraud, embezzlement or misappropriation of property, any state or federal adverse action resulting in suspension or revocation of license or permit.

(4) The new licensee shall submit evidence to establish that he or she has sufficient resources to permit operation of the facility for a period of six months.

(5) No license may be issued unless and until the applicant has supplied all information requested by the authority.

(6) Fees: All applications for initial licensure must be accompanied by the required fee.

(a) Current fee schedules may be requested from the licensing authority.

(b) Fees must be in the form of a certified check, money order, personal or business check made payable to the state of New Mexico.

(c) Fees are non-refundable.

B. Action by the authority:

(1) After receiving complete application, the authority shall investigate the applicant to determine the applicant's ability to comply with these regulations.

(2) Within 60 days after receiving a complete application for a license, the authority shall either approve the application and issue a license or deny the application. If the application for a license is denied, the authority shall give the applicant reasons, in writing, for the denial.

(3) The licensing authority shall not issue a new license if the applicant has had a health facility license revoked or denied renewal, or has surrendered a license under threat of revocation or denial of renewal, or has lost certification as a Medicaid provider as a result of violations of applicable medicaid requirements. The licensing authority may refuse to issue a new license if the applicant has been cited repeatedly for violations of applicable regulations found to be Class A or Class B deficiencies as defined in health facility sanctions and civil monetary penalties, 8.370.4 NMAC, or has been noncompliant with plans of correction.

[8.370.16.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.9 TYPES OF LICENSE:

A. Annual license: An annual license is issued for a one year period to a long term care facility which has met all requirements of these regulations.

B. Temporary license: The licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, issue a temporary license prior to the initial survey, or when the licensing authority finds partial compliance with these regulations.

(1) A temporary license shall cover a period of time, not to exceed 120 days, during which the facility must correct all specified deficiencies.

(2) In accordance with Subsection D of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, no more than two consecutive temporary licenses shall be issued.

C. Amended license: A license must apply to the licensing authority for an amended license when there is a change of administrator/director, when there is a change of name for the facility, when a change in capacity is sought, a change in bed classification is sought, or an addition or deletion of any special or operation unit(s) as listed in these regulations is sought.

(1) Application must be on a form provided by the licensing authority.

(2) Application must be accompanied by the required fee for amended license.

(3) Application must be submitted within 10 working days of the change.

[8.370.16.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.10 SCOPE OF LICENSE:

A. The licensed is issued only for the premises and the persons named in the license application and may not be transferred or assigned by the licensee.

B. The license shall state any applicable restrictions, including maximum bed capacity and the level of care that may be provided, and any other limitations that the authority considers appropriate and necessary taking all facts and circumstances into account.

C. A licensee shall fully comply with all requirements and restrictions of the license.

8.370.16.11 SEPARATE LICENSES:

Separate licenses shall be required for facilities which are maintained on separate premises even though they are under the same management. Separate licenses shall not be required for separate buildings on the same ground or adjacent ground.

[8.370.16.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.12 LICENSE RENEWAL:

A. Licensee must submit a renewal application on forms provided by the licensing authority, along with the required fee at least 30 days prior to expiration of the current license.

B. Upon receipt of renewal application and required fee prior to expiration of current license, the licensing authority will issue a new license effective the day following the date of expiration of the current license if the facility is in substantial compliance with these regulations.

C. If a licensee fails to submit a renewal application with the required fee and the current license expires, the long term care facility shall cease operation until it obtains a new license through the initial licensure procedures. Subsection A of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, as amended, provides that no health facility shall be operated without a license.

8.370.16.13 POSTING:

The license or a certified copy thereof shall be conspicuously posted in a location or accessible to public view within the facility.

[8.370.16.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.14 REPORT OF CHANGES:

A. The licensee shall notify the authority in writing of any changes in the information provided, within 10 days of such changes. This notification shall include information and documentation regarding such changes.

B. When a change of administrator occurs, the authority shall be notified within 10 days in writing by the licensee. Such writing shall include the name and license number of the new administrator.

C. Each licensee shall notify the authority within 10 days in writing of any change of the mailing address of the licensee. Such writing shall include the new mailing address of the licensee.

D. When a change in the principal officer of a corporate license (chairman, president, general manager) occurs the authority shall be notified within 30 days in writing by the licensee. Such writing shall include the name and business address of such officer.

E. Any decrease or increase in licensed bed capacity of the facility shall require notification by letter to the authority and shall result in the issuance of a corrected license.

8.370.16.15 NON- TRANSFERABLE RESTRICTION ON LICENSE:

A license shall not be transferred by assignment or otherwise to other persons or locations. The license shall be void and must be returned to the licensing authority when any one of the following situations occur:

A. Ownership of the facility changes.

B. The facility changes location.

C. Licensee of the facility changes.

D. The facility discontinues operation.

E. A facility wishing to continue operation as a licensed long term care facility under circumstances listed in 8.370.16.15 NMAC must submit an application for initial licensure in accordance with 8.370.16.8 NMAC of these regulations, at least 30 days prior to the anticipated change.

[8.370.16.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.16 AUTOMATIC EXPIRATION OF LICENSE:

A license will automatically expire at midnight on the day indicated on the license as the expiration date, unless sooner renewed, suspended, or revoked, or:

A. On the day a facility discontinues operation.

B. On the day a facility is sold, leased, or otherwise changes ownership or licensee.

C. On the day a facility changes location.

[8.370.16.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.17 SUSPENSION OF LICENSE WITHOUT PRIOR HEARING:

In accordance with Subsection H of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, if immediate action is required to protect human health and safety, the licensing authority may suspend a license pending a hearing, provided such hearing is held within five working days of the suspension, unless waived by the licensee.

[8.370.16.17 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.18 GROUNDS FOR REVOCATION OR SUSPENSION OF LICENSE, DENIAL OF INITIAL OR RENEWAL APPLICATION FOR LICENSE, OR IMPOSITION OF INTERMEDIATE SANCTIONS OR CIVIL MONETARY PENALTIES:

A license may be revoked or suspended, an initial or renewal application for license may be denied, or intermediate sanctions or civil monetary penalties may be imposed after notice and opportunity for a hearing, for any of the following reasons:

A. Failure to comply with any provision of these regulations.

B. Failure to allow survey by authorized representatives of the licensing authority.

C. Any person active in the operation of a facility licensed pursuant to these regulations shall not be under the influence of alcohol or narcotics or convicted of a felony.

D. Misrepresentation of falsification of any information or application forms or other documents provided to the licensing authority.

E. Discovery of repeat violations of these regulations during surveys.

F. Failure to provide the required care and services as outlined by these regulations for the patients receiving care at the long term care facility.

G. Abuse, neglect or exploitation of any patient/client/ resident by facility operator, staff, or relatives or operator/staff.

8.370.16.19 HEARING PROCEDURES:

A. Hearing procedures for an administrative appeal of an adverse action taken by the licensing authority against the long term care facility as outlined in 8.370.16.17 NMAC and 8.370.16.18 NMAC will be held in accordance with adjudicatory hearings, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

B. A copy of the adjudicatory hearing procedures will be furnished to the long term care facility or agency at the time an adverse action is taken against its license by the licensing authority. A copy may be requested at any time by contacting the licensing authority.

8.370.16.20 PROGRAM FLEXIBILITY:

A. All facilities shall maintain compliance with the licensee requirements. If the use of alternate concepts, methods, procedures, techniques, equipment, personnel qualifications or the conducting of pilot projects conflicts with requirements, then prior written approval from the authority shall be obtained in order to ensure provisions for safe and adequate care. Such approval shall provide for the terms and conditions under which the exception is granted. A written request and substantiating evidence supporting the request shall be submitted by the applicant or licensee to the authority.

B. Any approval of the authority granted under this section, or a certified copy thereof shall be posted immediately adjacent to the facility's license.

8.370.16.21 WAIVERS AND VARIANCES:

A. Definitions: As used in this section:

(1) waiver: means the grant of an exemption from a requirement of these regulations;

(2) variance: means the granting of an alternate requirement in place of a requirement of these regulations.

B. Requirements for waivers and variances: A waiver or variance may be granted if the authority finds that the waiver or variance will not adversely affect the health, safety, or welfare of any resident and that:

(1) strict enforcement of a requirement would result in unreasonable hardship on the facility or on a resident;

(2) an alternative to a rule, including new concepts, methods, procedures, techniques, equipment, personnel qualifications, or the conducting of pilot projects, is in the interest of better care or management.

C. Applications:

(1) All applications for waiver or variance from the requirements of these regulations shall be made in writing to the authority, specifying the following:

(a) the rule from which the waiver or variance is requested;

(b) the time period for which the waiver or variance is requested;

(c) if the request is for a variance, the specific alternative action which the facility proposes;

(d) the reasons for the request; and

(e) justification that the goal or purpose of the rule or regulations would be satisfied.

(2) Requests for a waiver or variance may be made at any time.

(3) The authority may require additional information from the facility prior to acting on the request.

D. Grants and denials:

(1) The authority at its discretion shall grant or deny each request for waiver or variance in writing. A notice of denials shall contain the reasons for denial.

(2) The terms of a requested variance may be modified upon agreement between the authority and a facility.

(3) The authority may impose such conditions on the granting of a waiver or variance which it deems necessary.

(4) The authority may limit the duration of any waiver or variance.

(5) The authority's action on a request for a waiver is not subject to administrative appeal.

E. Revocation: The authority may revoke a waiver or variance if:

(1) it is determined that the waiver or variance is adversely affecting the health, safety or welfare of the resident's; or

(2) the facility has failed to comply with the variance as granted; or

(3) the licensee notifies the authority in writing that it wishes to relinquish the waiver or variance and be subject to the rule previously waived or varied;

(4) required by a change in law.

8.370.16.22 RIGHTS OF RESIDENTS:

Every resident shall have the right to:

A. Communications: Have private and unrestricted communications with the resident's family, physician, attorney and any other person, unless medically contraindicated as documented by the resident's physician in the resident's medical record, except that communications with public officials or with the resident's attorney shall not be restricted in any event. The right to private and unrestricted communications shall include, but is not limited to, the right to:

(1) Receive, send, and mail sealed, unopened correspondence. No resident's incoming or outgoing correspondence may be opened, delayed, held, or censored, except that a resident or guardian may direct in writing that specified incoming correspondence be opened, delayed, or held.

(2) Use a telephone for private communications during reasonable hours.

(3) Have private visiting pursuant to a reasonable written visitation policy.

B. Access: Immediate access by representatives of health care authority, health and environment department, ombudsman, personal physician and, subject to resident's consent, immediate family or other relatives or visitors following notification of staff person in charge and presentation of valid identification. Reasonable access by providers of health, social, legal or other services must be assured.

C. Grievances: Present grievances on one's own behalf or through others to the facility's staff or administrator, to public officials or to any other person without justifiable fear of reprisal, and join with other residents or individuals within or outside of the facility to work for improvements in resident care.

D. Finances: Manage one's own financial affairs, including any personal allowances under federal or state programs. No resident funds may be held or spent except in accordance with the following requirements:

(1) A facility may not hold or spend a resident's funds unless the resident or another person legally responsible for the resident's funds authorize this action in writing. The facility shall obtain separate authorization for holding a resident's funds and for spending a resident's funds. The authorization for spending a resident's funds may include a spending limit. Expenditures that exceed the designated spending limit require a separate authorization for each individual occurrence.

(2) Any resident funds held or controlled by the facility, and any earnings from them, shall be credited to the resident and may not be comingled with other funds or property except that of other residents.

(3) The facility shall furnish a resident, the resident's guardian, or a representative designated by the resident with at least a quarterly statement of all funds held by the facility for the resident and all expenditures made from the resident's account, and a similar statement at the time of the resident's permanent discharge.

(4) The facility shall maintain a record of all expenditures, disbursements and deposits made on behalf of the resident.

E. Admission information: Be fully informed in writing prior to or at the time of admission, of all services and the charges for these services, and be informed in writing, during the resident's stay, of any changes in services available or in charges for services, as follows:

(1) No person may be admitted to a facility without that person or that person's guardian or designated representative signing an acknowledgement of having received a statement of information before or on the day of admission which contains at least the following information or, in the case of a person to be admitted for short-term care, the information required under these regulations.

(a) an accurate description of the basic services provided by the facility, the rate charged for those services, and the method of payment for them;

(b) information about all additional services regularly offered but not included in the basic services. The facility shall provide information on where a statement of the fees charged for each of these services can be obtained. These additional services include pharmacy, x-ray, beautician and all other additional services regularly offered to residents or arranged for residents by the facility;

(c) the method for notifying residents of a change in rates or fees;

(d) terms for refunding advance payments in case of transfer, death or voluntary or involuntary discharge.

(e) terms of holding and charging for a bed during a resident's temporary absence.

(f) conditions for involuntary discharge or transfer, including transfers within the facility;

(g) information about the availability of storage space for personal effects; and

(h) a summary of residents' rights recognized and protected by this section and all facility policies and regulations governing resident conduct and responsibilities.

(2) No statement of admission information may be in conflict with any part of these regulations.

F. Treatment: Be treated with courtesy, respect, and full recognition of one's dignity and individuality by all employees of the facility and by all licensed, certified, and registered providers under contract with the facility.

G. Privacy: Have physical and emotional privacy in treatment, living arrangements, and in caring for personal needs, including, but not limited to:

(1) Privacy for visits by spouse. If both spouses are residents of the same facility, they shall be permitted to share a room unless medically contra-indicated as documented by the resident's physician in the resident's medical record.

(2) Privacy concerning health care. Case discussion, consultation, examination, and treatment are confidential and shall be conducted discreetly. Persons not directly involved in the resident's care shall require the resident's permission to authorize their presence.

(3) Confidentiality of health and personnel records, and the right to approve or refuse their release to any individual outside the facility, except in the case of the resident's transfer to another facility or as required by law or third-party payment contracts.

H. Work: Not be required to perform work for the facility, but may work for the facility if:

(1) the work is included by the physician for therapeutic purposes in the resident's plan of care; and

(2) the work is ordered by the resident's physician and does not threaten the health, safety, or welfare of the resident or others.

(3) the resident volunteers for work and such activities is not contra-indicated by physician.

I. Outside activities: Meet with and participate in activities of social, religious, and community groups at the resident's discretion, unless medically contra-indicated as documented by the resident's physician in the resident's medical record.

J. Personal possessions: Retain and use personal clothing and effects and to retain, as space permits, other personal possessions in a reasonably, secure manner.

K. Transfer, discharge and bedhold: Involuntary transfer shall be conducted only for resident's welfare, health and safety of others, or failure to pay. Reasons other than failure to pay must be documented by a physician in resident's record. Prior to transfer the facility must notify resident and next of kin or responsible party of right to appeal and name and address of ombudsman.

L. Abuse and restraints: Be free from mental and physical abuse, and be free from chemical and physical restraints except as authorized in writing by a physician for a specified and limited period of time and documented in the resident's medical record. Physical restraints may be used in an emergency when necessary to protect the resident from injury to himself or herself or others or to property. However, authorization for continuing use of the physical restraints shall be secured from a physician within 12 hours. Any use of physical. restraints shall be noted in the resident's medical records.

"Physical restraint" includes, but is not limited to, any article, device, or garment which interferes with the free movement of the resident and which the resident is unable to remove easily.

M. Care: Receive adequate and appropriate care within the capacity of the facility.

N. Choice of provider: Use the licensed, certified or registered provider of health care and pharmacist of the resident's choice. The pharmacist of choice must be able to supply drugs and biologicals in such a manner as is consistent with the facility's medication delivery system.

O. Care planning: Be fully informed of one's treatment and care and participate in the planning of that treatment and care, unless contra- indicated by physician order.

P. Religious activity: Participate in religious activities and services, of resident's choice and meet privately with clergy.

Q. Non-discriminatory treatment: Be free from discrimination based on the source from which the facility's charges for the resident's care are paid, as follows:

(1) No facility may assign a resident to a particular wing or other distinct area of the facility, whether for sleeping, dining or any other purpose, on the basis of the source or amount of payment. A facility only part of which is certified for medicare or medicaid reimbursement under Title XVIII/XIX of the Social Security Act is not prohibited from assigning a resident to the certified part of the facility because of the source of payment for the resident's care is medicare or medicaid.

(2) Facilities shall offer and provide an identical package of basic services meeting the requirements of these regulations to all individuals regardless of the sources of a resident's payment or amount of payment. Facilities may offer enhancements of basic services, provided that these enhanced services are made available at an identical cost to all residents regardless of the source of a resident's payment. A facility which elects to offer enhancements to basic services to its residents must provide all residents with a detailed explanation of enhanced services and the additional charges for these services.

(3) If a facility offers at extra charge additional services which are not covered by the facility's provider agreement under which it provides medicaid and medicare services, it shall provide them to any resident willing and able to pay for them, regardless of the source from which the resident pays the facility's charges.

(4) No facility may require, offer or provide an identification tag for a resident that publicly identifies the source from which the facility's charges for that resident's care are paid.

R. Incompetence: If a resident is found incompetent by a court under New Mexico's Probate Code, (Sections 45-5-101 through 45-5-432 NMSA 1978), and not restored to legal capacity, the rights and responsibilities established under this section which the resident is not competent to exercise shall devolve upon the resident's guardian or conservator.

S. Corrections clients: Rights established under this section do not, except as determined by the authority, apply to residents in a facility who are in the legal custody of the authority for correctional purposes.

T. Notification:

(1) Serving notice: Copies of the resident rights provided under this section and the facility's policies and regulations governing resident conduct and responsibilities shall be made available to each prospective resident and his or her guardian, if any, and to each member of the facility's staff. Facility staff shall verbally explain to each new resident and to that person's guardian, if any, prior to or at the time of the person's admission to the facility, these rights and the facility's policies and regulations governing resident conduct and responsibilities.

(2) Amendments: All amendments to the rights provided under this section and all amendments to the facility regulations and policies governing resident conduct and responsibilities require notification of each resident and guardian, if any, at the time the amendment is put into effect. The facility shall provide the resident, guardian, if any, and each member of the facility's staff with a copy of all amendments.

(3) Posting: Copies of the resident's rights provided under these regulations and the facility's policies and regulations governing resident conduct and responsibilities shall be posted in a prominent place in the facility.

U. Encouragement and assistance: Each facility shall encourage and assist residents to exercise their rights as residents and citizens and shall provide appropriate training for staff awareness so that staff are encouraged to respect the rights of residents established under this section.

8.370.16.23 COMPLAINTS:

A. Filing complaints: Any person may file a complaint with a licensee or the authority regarding the operation of a facility. Complaints may be made orally or in writing.

B. Reviewing complaints: Each facility shall establish a system of reviewing complaints and allegations of violations of resident's rights established under this section. The facility shall designate a specific individual who, for the purpose of effectuating this section, shall report to the administrator.

C. Reporting complaints: Allegations that residents' rights have been violated by persons licensed, certified or registered by any professional licensing board or designated authority shall be promptly reported by the facility to the appropriate licensing or examining board or authority and to the person against whom the allegation has been made. Any employee of the facility and any person licensed, certified, or registered by any professional licensing board or authority, may also report such allegations to the board.

8.370.16.24 COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION ACCESS:

A. In this section, "access" means the right to:

(1) enter any facility;

(2) seek a resident's agreement to communicate privately and without restriction with the resident;

(3) communicate privately and without restriction with any resident who does not object to communication.

B. Any employee, agent, or designated representative of a community legal services program or community service organization shall be permitted access to any facility whenever visitors are permitted by the written visitation policy referred to in these regulations, but not before 8:00 am., nor after 5:00 p.m. The facility visitation policy shall include provisions for scheduling visits after 5:00 p.m.

C. Conditions:

(1) The employee, agent, or designated representative shall, upon request of the facility's administrator or administrator's designee, present valid and current identification signed by the principal officer of the agency, program or organization represented.

(2) Access shall be granted for visits which are consistent with an express purpose of an organization the purpose of which is to:

(a) Visit, talk with, or offer personal, social, and legal services to any resident, or obtain information from the resident about the facility and its operations.

(b) Inform residents of their rights and entitlements and their corresponding obligations under federal and state law, by means of educational materials and discussions in groups or with individual residents.

(c) Assist any residents in asserting legal rights regarding claims for public assistance, medical assistance and social security benefits, and in all other matters in which a resident may be aggrieved.

(d) Engage in any other method of advising and representing residents so as to assure them full enjoyment of their rights.

8.370.16.25 HOUSING RESIDENTS IN LOCKED UNITS:

Definitions as used in this section:

A. Locked unit: means a ward, wing or room which is designated as a protected environment and is secured in a manner that prevents a resident from leaving the unit at will. A physical restraint applied to the body is not a locked unit. A facility locked for purposes of security is not a locked unit, provided that residents may exit at will. An alarmed unit does not constitute a locked unit.

B. Consent: means a written, signed request given without duress by a resident capable of understanding the nature of the locked unit, the circumstances of one's condition, and the meaning of the consent to be given.

(1) A resident or responsible party may give consent to reside in a locked unit.

(2) The consent shall be effective only for 90 days from the date of the consent, unless revoked. Consent may be renewed for 90 day periods pursuant to this subsection.

(3) The consent may be revoked by the resident if competent or by legal guardian at any time. The resident shall be transferred to an unlocked unit promptly following revocation.

C. Emergencies: In an emergency, a resident may be confined in a locked unit if necessary to protect the resident or others from injury or to protect property, providing the facility immediately attempts to notify the physician for instructions. A physician's orders for the confinement must be obtained within 12 hours. No resident may be confined for more than an additional hours under order of the physician.

8.370.16.26 ADMINISTRATOR/ STATUTORY REFERENCE:

A nursing home shall be supervised by an administrator licensed under the Nursing Home Administrators Act, Sections 61-13-16 through 61-13-16 NMSA 1978. Supervision shall include, but not be limited to, taking all reasonable steps to provide qualified personnel to assure the health, safety, and right's of the residents.

A. Full-time administrator: Every nursing home shall be supervised full-time by an administrator licensed under the Nursing Home Administrators Act, except multiple facilities. If more than one nursing home or other licensed health care facility is located on the same or contiguous property, one full-time administrator may serve all the facilities.

B. Absence of administrator: A person present in and competent to supervise the facility shall be designated to be in charge whenever there is not an administrator in the facility, and shall be identified to all staff.

C. Change of administrator:

(1) Replacement of administrator: If it is necessary immediately to terminate an administrator, or if the licensee loses an administrator for other reasons, a replacement shall be employed or designated as soon as possible within days of vacancy.

(2) Temporary replacement: During any vacancy in the position of administrator, the licensee shall employ or designate a person competent to fulfill the functions of an administrator immediately.

(3) Notice of change of administrator: When the licensee loses an administrator, the licensee shall notify the authority within two authority working days of such loss and provide written notification to the authority of the name and qualifications of the person in charge of the facility during the vacancy; and the name and qualifications of the replacement administrator, when known.

8.370.16.27 EMPLOYEES:

In this section, "employee" means anyone directly employed by the facility on other than a consulting or contractual basis.

A. Qualifications and restrictions: No person under 16 years of age shall be employed to provide direct care to residents.

B. Physical health certifications: Every new employee shall be certified in writing by a physician as having been screened for tuberculosis infection and provide a statement of medical evidence that they are currently free from communicable disease prior to beginning work.

C. Disease surveillance and control: Facilities shall develop and implement written policies for control of communicable diseases which ensure that employees and volunteers with systems or signs of communicable disease or infected skin lesions are not permitted to work unless authorized to do so by a physician or physician extender.

D. Volunteers: Facilities may use volunteers provided that the volunteers receive the orientation, training, and supervision necessary to assure resident health, safety and welfare.

E. Abuse of residents:

(1) Orientation for all employees: Except in an emergency, before performing any duties, each new employee, including temporary help, shall receive appropriate orientation to the facility and its policies, including, but not limited to, policies relating to fire prevention, accident prevention, and emergency procedures. All employees shall be oriented to resident's rights and to their position and duties by the time they have worked 30 days.

(2) Training: Except for nurses, all employees who provide direct care to residents shall be trained through a program approved by the authority.

(3) Assignments: Employees shall be assigned only to resident care duties consistent with their training.

(4) Reporting: All employees will be instructed in the reporting requirements of Section 27-7-14 NMSA 1978, the Adult Protective Services Act, of abuse, neglect or exploitation of any resident.

F. Continuing education:

(1) Nursing in-service: The facility shall require employees who provide direct care to residents to attend educational programs desired to develop and improve the skill and knowledge of the employees with respect to the needs of the facility's residents, including rehabilitative therapy, oral health care, wheelchair safety and transportation and special programming for developmentally disabled residents if the facility admits developmentally disabled person. These programs shall be conducted quarterly to enable staff to acquire the skills and techniques necessary to implement the individual program plans for each resident under their care.

A. Definitions: As used in this subsection, the following definitions apply:

(1) Physical restraint: means any article, device, or garment which is used primarily to modify, resident behavior by interfering with the free movement of the resident, and which the resident is unable to remove easily, or confinement in a locked room. Mechanical supports shall not be considered physical restraints.

(2) Mechanical support: means any article, device, or garment which is used only to achieve the proper position or balance of the resident, which may include but is not limited to a geriatric chair, posey belt, or jacket, waist belt, pillows, or wedges. Necessity for mechanical support use must be documented in the resident's record and such use must be outlined in the resident's care plan.

(3) Chemical restraint: means a medication used primarily to modify behavior by interfering with the resident's freedom of movement or mental alertness.

B. Orders required: Physical or chemical restraints shall be applied or administered only on the written order of a physician which shall indicate the resident's name, the type of restraint(s), the reason for restraint, the type of restraint authorized, and the period during which the restraint(s) is (are) to be applied.

C. Emergencies: A physical restraint may be applied temporarily without an order if necessary to protect the resident or another person from injury or to prevent physical harm to the resident or another person resulting from the destruction of property, provided that the physician is notified immediately and authorization for continued use is obtained from the physician within 12 hours.

D. Restriction: If the mobility of a resident is required to be restrained and can be appropriately restrained either by a physical or chemical restraint or by a locked unit, the provisions of this section shall apply.

E. Type of restraints: Physical restraints shall be of a type which can be removed promptly in an emergency, and shall be the least restrictive type appropriate to the resident.

F. Periodic care: Nursing personnel shall check a physically restrained resident as necessary, but at least every 30 minutes to see that the resident's personal needs are met and to change the resident's position if necessary. The restrained resident shall have restraints released and shall have opportunity for toileting, hydration, and exercise at least every two hours. Cheeks and releases will be documented.

G. Records: Any use of restraints shall be noted, dated, and documented in the resident's clinical record on each tour of duty during which the restraints are in use.

8.370.16.46 USE OF OXYGEN:

A. Orders of oxygen: Except in an emergency, oxygen shall be administered only on order of a physician.

B. Person administering: Oxygen shall be administered to residents only by a capable person trained in its administration and use.

C. Signs: "No smoking" signs shall be posted at the entrance of the room in which oxygen is in use.

D. Flammable goods: Prior to administering oxygen, all matches and other smoking material shall be removed from the room.

8.370.16.47 RESIDENT CARE PLANNING:

A. Developmental and content of care plans: Except In the case of a person admitted for short-term care, within two weeks following admission a written care plan shall be developed, based on the resident's history and assessments from all appropriate disciplines and the physician's evaluations and orders, which shall include:

(1) Measurable goals with specific time limits for attainment.

(2) The specific approaches for delivery needed care, and indication of which professional disciplines are responsible for delivering the care.

B. Evaluations and updates: The care of each resident shall be reviewed by each of the services involved in the resident's care and the care plan evaluated and updated no less than quarterly or more often as needed.

C. Implementation: The care plans shall be substantially followed.

[8.370.16.47 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.48 MEDICAL DIRECTION IN SKILLED CARE FACILITIES:

A. Medical director: Every skilled care facility shall retain, pursuant to a written agreement, a physician to serve as medical director on a part-time or full-time basis as is appropriate for the needs of the residents and the facility. If the facility has an organized medical staff, the medical director shall be designated by the medical staff with approval of the licensee.

B. Coordination of medical care: Medical direction and coordination of medical care in the facility shall be provided by the medical director. The medical director shall be responsible for development of written rules and regulations which shall be approved by the licensee and include delineation of the responsibilities of attending physicians. If there is an organized medical staff, by-laws also shall be developed by the medical director and approved by the licensee. Coordination of medical care shall include liaison with attending physician to provide that physicians' orders are written promptly upon admission of a resident, that periodic evaluations of the adequacy and appropriateness of health professional and supportive staff and services are conducted, and that the medical needs of the residents are met.

C. Responsibilities to the facility: The medical director shall monitor the health status of the facility's employees. Incidents and accidents that occur on the premises shall be reviewed by the medical director to identify hazards to health and safety.

8.370.16.49 PHYSICIAN SERVICES IN ALL FACILITIES:

The facility shall assure that the following services are provided:

A. Attending physicians: Each resident shall be under the supervision of a physician of the resident's or guardian's choice who evaluates and monitors the resident's immediate and long- term needs and prescribes measures necessary for the health, safety and welfare of the resident. Each attending physician shall make arrangements for the medical care of the physician's residents in the physician's absence.

B. Physician's visit:

(1) Each resident who requires skilled nursing care shall be seen by a physician at least every 30 days and an intermediate care resident at least every 60 days unless the physician specifies and justifies in writing an alternate schedule of visits.

(2) The physician shall review the plan of care required at the time of each visit.

(3) The physician shall review the resident's medications and other orders at least at the time of each visit.

(4) The physician shall review the resident's medications and orders at least at the time of each visit.

C. Availability of physicians for emergency patient care: The facility shall have written procedures, available at each nurse's station, for procuring a physician to furnish necessary medical care in emergencies and for providing care pending arrival of a physician. The names and telephone numbers of the physicians or medical service personnel available for emergency care shall be posted at each nursing station.

8.370.16.50 NURSING SERVICES:

A. Definitions:

(1) Nursing personnel: means nurses, nurse aides, nursing assistants, and orderlies.

(2) Ward clerk: means an employee who performs clerical duties of the nursing personnel.

B. Director of nursing services in skilled care and intermediate care facilities:

(1) Staffing requirement: Every skilled care facility and every intermediate care facility shall employ a full-time director of nursing services who may also serve as a charge nurse. The director of nursing services shall work only on the day shift except as in an emergency or required for the proper supervision of nursing personnel.

(2) Qualifications: The director of nursing services shall:

(a) be a registered or licensed practical nurse; and

(b) be trained or experienced in areas such as nursing service administration, restorative nursing, psychiatric nursing, or geriatric nursing.

(3) Duties: The director of nursing services shall be responsible for:

(a) supervising the functions, activities and training of the nursing personnel;

(b) developing and maintaining standard nursing practice, nursing policy and procedure manuals, and written job descriptions for each level of nursing personnel;

(c) coordinating nursing services with other resident services;

(d) designating the charge nurses provided for by this section;

(e) ensuring that the duties of nursing personnel shall be clearly defined and assigned to staff members consistent with the level of education, preparation, experience, and licensing of each.

C. Charge nurses in skilled care facilities and intermediate care facilities:

(1) Staffing requirement:

(a) A skilled nursing facility shall have at least one charge nurse on duty at all times.

(b) An intermediate care facility shall have a charge nurse during every tour of duty.

(2) Qualifications: Unless otherwise required under this paragraph, the charge nurses shall be registered nurses or licensed practical nurses, and shall have had training, or be acquiring training, or have had experience in areas such as nursing service administration, restorative nursing, psychiatric nursing, or geriatric nursing.

(3) Duties:

(a) The charge nurse, if a registered nurse, shall supervise the nursing care of all assigned residents, and delegate the duty to provide for the direct care of specific residents, including administration of medications by nursing personnel based upon individual resident needs, the facility's physical arrangement, and the staff capability.

(b) The charge nurse, if a licensed practical nurse, shall manage and direct the nursing and other activities of other licensed practical nurse and less skilled assistants and shall arrange for the provision of direct care to specific residents, including administration of medications, by nursing personnel based upon individual resident needs, the facility's physical arrangement, and the staff capability.

[8.370.16.50 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.51 NURSING STAFF:

In addition to the requirements of 8.370.16.50 NMAC, the following conditions shall be met:

A. Assignments: There shall be sufficient nursing service personnel assigned to care for the specific needs of each resident on each tour of duty. Those personnel shall be briefed on the condition and appropriate care of each resident prior to beginning hands-on care of residents.

B. Relief personnel: Facilities shall obtain qualified relief personnel.

C. Records, weekly schedules: Weekly time schedules shall be planned at least one week in advance, shall be posted and dated, shall indicate the names and classifications of nursing personnel and relief personnel assigned on each nursing unit for each tour of duty, and shall be updated as changes occur.

D. Staff meetings: Meetings shall be held at least quarterly for the nursing personnel to brief them on new developments, raise issues relevant to the service, and for such other purposes as are pertinent.

E. Twenty-four (24) hour coverage: All facilities shall have at least one nursing staff person on duty at all times.

F. Staffing patterns: The assignment of the nursing personnel required by this subsection to each tour of duty shall be sufficient to meet each resident's needs and implement each resident's comprehensive care plan.

(1) Nursing department personnel means, the director of nursing, the assistant director of nursing, nursing department directors, licensed nursing personnel, certified nursing assistants, nursing assistants who have completed 16 hours or more of orientation and demonstrated competency and restorative nursing assistants.

(2) The director of nursing, the assistant director of nursing, and nursing department directors may be counted towards the minimum staffing requirements only for the time spent on the shift providing direct resident care services.

(a) A skilled nursing facility or facility that offers intermediate and skilled nursing shall maintain a nursing department minimum staffing level of two and a half hours per patient day calculated on a seven day average.

(b) An intermediate care facility shall maintain a nursing department minimum staffing level of two and three-tenths (2.3) hours per patient day calculated on a seven day average.

(c) Within one hour of shift change, facilities shall post the number of nursing personnel on duty in a conspicuous and consistent location for public review. Shifts are informally defined as the day shift, evening shift, and night shift. Employees working variations of these shifts shall be included within the shift count where a majority of the hours fall. Example: For a facility with 100 patients, two and three-tenths (2.3) hours per patient day averages one nursing department employee on duty for approximately every 10 to 11 patients. For a facility with 100 patients, two and five tenths (2.5) hours per patient day averages one nursing department employee for every nine to 10 patients. These are daily averages that will vary from shift to shift so that actual staffing might approximate:

	2.3 Hours per patient day	2.5 Hours per patient day
Day Shift	One staff for eight patients	One staff for seven patients
Evening Shift	One staff for 10 patients	One staff for 10 patients
Night Shift	One staff for 13 patients	One staff for 12 patients

A. Definitions: As used in this section:

(1) Medication: has the same meaning as the term "drug".

(2) Prescription medication: has the same meaning as the term "prescription drug".

B. Services: Each facility shall provide for obtaining medications for the residents from licensed pharmacies.

C. Supervision:

(1) Medication consultant: Each facility shall retain a registered pharmacist who shall visit the facility at least monthly to review the drug regimen of each resident and medication practices.

(2) The pharmacist shall submit a written report of findings at least monthly to the facility's administrator.

D. Emergency medication kit:

(1) A facility may have one or more emergency medication kits available to each charge nurse. All emergency kits shall be under the control of a pharmacist.

(2) The emergency kit shall be sealed and stored in a locked area. The facility shall have a policy and procedures for access by staff to the emergency kit in case of need.

E. Requirements for all medication systems:

(1) Obtaining new medications: When medications are needed which are not stocked, a licensed nurse shall telephone an order to the pharmacist who shall fill the order.

(2) Storing and labeling medications: All medications shall be handled in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) The storage and labeling of medications shall be based on currently acceptable professional practices.

(b) The consulting pharmacist shall be responsible to develop policies and procedures governing all aspects of storage and labeling of medications.

(c) The consulting pharmacist shall be responsible for assuring the facility meets all requirements for storage and labeling as required by New Mexico board of pharmacy.

(3) Destruction of medications:

(a) Time limit: Unless otherwise ordered by a physician, a resident's medication not returned to the pharmacy for credit shall be removed to a locked storage area when discontinued by a physician's order. Such discontinued medications will be destroyed within 30 days of the physician's discontinuance of use.

(b) Procedure: Records shall be kept of all medication returned for credit or disposal.

(c) Remaining controlled substances:

(c) Remaining controlled substances: Any controlled substances remaining after the discontinuance of physician's orders or the discharge or death of the resident shall be inventoried on the appropriate U.S. drug enforcement agency form and one copy shall be kept on file in the facility.

(4) Control of medication:

(a) Receipt of medications: The administrator or a physician, nurse, or pharmacist, may be an agent of the resident for the receipt of medications.

(b) Signatures: When the medication is received by the facility, the person completing the control record shall sign the record indicating the amount received.

(c) Discontinuance of medications: The consulting pharmacist shall assist the facility to develop policies for the automatic discontinuance of medications.

(5) Proof-of-use record:

(a) For schedule II drugs, a proof-of-use record shall be maintained which lists, on separate proof-of-use sheets for each type and strength of schedule II drug, the date and time administered, resident's name, physician's name, dose, signature of the person administering dose, and balance.

(b) Proof-of-use records shall be audited daily by the registered nurse or licensed practical nurse.

(6) Resident control and use of medications:

(a) Residents may have medications in their possession or stored at their bedside on the order of a physician.

(b) Medications which, if ingested or brought into contact with the nasal or eye mucosa, would produce toxic or irritant effects shall be stored and used only in accordance with the health, safety, and welfare of all residents.

8.370.16.58 DIAGNOSTIC SERVICES:

A. Requirement of services: The facility shall provide for promptly obtaining required laboratory, x-ray, and other diagnostic services.

B. Facility-provided services: Any laboratory and x-ray services provided by the facility shall meet the applicable requirements for hospitals.

C. Outside services: If the facility does not provide these services, arrangements shall be made for obtaining the services from a physician's office, hospital, nursing facility, portable x-ray supplier, or independent laboratory.

D. Physician's order: No services under the subsection may be provided without an order of a physician.

E. Notice of findings: The attending physician shall be notified promptly of the findings of all tests provided under this subsection.

F. Transportation: The facility shall assist the resident, if necessary, in arranging for transportation to and from the provider of service.

(1) Any employee or agent of a regulated facility or agency who is responsible for assisting a resident in boarding or alighting from a motor vehicle must complete a state-approved training program in passenger transportation assistance before assisting any resident.

(a) the passenger transportation assistance program shall be comprised of but not limited to the following elements:

(i) resident assessment;

(ii) emergency procedures;

(iii) supervised practice in the safe operation of equipment;

(iv) familiarity with state regulations governing the transportation of persons with disabilities;

(v) and a method for determining and documenting successful completion of the course.

(b) the course requirements above are examples and may be modified as needed.

(2) Any employee or agent of a regulated facility or agency who drives a motor vehicle provided by the facility or agency for use in the transportation of clients must complete:

(a) a state approved training program in passenger assistance; and

(b) a state approved training program in the operation of a motor vehicle to transport clients of a regulated facility or agency.

(c) the motor vehicle transportation assistance program shall be comprised of but not limited to the following elements:

(i) resident assessment, emergency procedures, supervised practice in the safe operation of motor vehicles, familiarity with state regulations governing the transportation of persons with disabilities, maintenance and safety record keeping, training on hazardous driving conditions and a method for determining and documenting successful completion of the course;

(ii) the course requirements above are examples and may be modified as needed.

(d) a valid New Mexico drivers license for the type of vehicle being operated consistent with state of New Mexico requirements.

(3) Each regulated facility and agency shall establish and enforce written polices (including training) and procedures for employees who provide assistance to clients with boarding or alighting from motor vehicles.

(4) Each regulated facility and agency shall establish and enforce written polices (including training and procedures for employees who operate motor vehicles to transport clients.

8.370.16.59 BLOOD AND BLOOD PRODUCTS:

Any blood- handling and storage facilities shall be safe, adequate, and properly supervised. If the facility provides for maintaining and transferring blood and blood products, it shall meet the appropriate requirements for licensed hospitals. If the facility only provides transfusion services, it shall meet the requirements of applicable regulations.

[8.370.16.59 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.60 DENTAL SERVICES:

A. Advisory dentist: The facility shall retain an advisory dentist to participate in the staff development program for nursing and other appropriate personnel to recommend oral hygiene policies and practices for the care of residents.

B. Attending dentists:

(1) Arrangements for dental care: The facility shall make arrangements for dental care for residents who do not have a private dentist.

(2) Transportation: The facility shall assist the resident, if necessary, in arranging for transportation to and from the dentist's office.

C. Dental examination of residents: Dental health care shall be provided or arranged for the resident as needed.

D. Emergency dental care: The facility shall arrange for emergency dental care when a resident's attending dentist is unavailable.

[8.370.16.60 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.61 SOCIAL SERVICES:

A. Provision of services: Each facility shall provide for social services in conformance with this section.

B. Staff:

(1) Social worker: Each facility shall employ or retain a person full-time or part-time to coordinate the social services, to review the social needs of residents, and to make referrals.

(2) Qualifications: The person shall:

(a) have a bachelor's degree in social work, sociology, or psychology; and have one year of social work experience in a health care setting; or

(b) have a master's degree in social work from a graduate school of social work accredited by the council on social work education; or

(c) if the designated person is not a qualified social worker, the facility shall receive at least monthly consultation from a social worker who meets the required standards.

C. Admission:

(1) Interviews: Before or at a time of admission, each resident and guardian, if any, and any other person designated by the resident or guardian, shall be interviewed by the social service designee to assist the patient in adjusting to the social and emotional aspects of illness, treatment, and stay in the facility.

(2) Admission history: A social history of each resident shall be prepared.

D. Care planning:

(1) Within two weeks after admission, an evaluation of social needs and potential for discharge shall be completed for each resident.

(2) A social component of the plan of care, including preparation for discharge, if appropriate, shall be developed and included in the plan of care; required by these regulations.

(3) Social services care and plan shall be evaluated every 90 days.

E. Services: Social services staff shall provide the following:

(1) Referrals: If necessary, referrals for legal services, or to appropriate agencies in cases of legal, financial, psychiatric, rehabilitative or social problems which the facility cannot serve.

(2) Adjustment assistance: Assistance with adjustment to the facility, and continuing assistance to and communication with the resident, guardian, family, or other responsible persons.

(3) Discharge planning: Assistance to other facility staff and the resident in discharge planning at the time of admission and prior to removal under this chapter.

(4) Training: Participation in in-service training for direct care staff on the emotional and social problems and needs of the aged and ill and on methods for fulfilling these needs.

8.370.16.62 ACTIVITIES:

A. Program:

(1) Every facility shall provide an activities program which meets the requirements of this section. The program may consist of any combination of activities provided by the facility and those provided by other community resources.

(2) The activities program shall be planned for group and individual activities, and shall be designed to meet the needs and interests of each resident and to be consistent with each resident's plan of care.

B. Staff:

(1) Definition: "Qualified activities coordinator" means, in a skilled nursing facility, a person who:

(a) has a bachelor's degree in recreation therapy and is eligible for registration as a therapeutic recreation specialist with the National therapeutic recreation society; or

(b) is an occupational therapist or occupational therapy assistant who meets the requirements for certification by the American occupational therapy association; or

(c) has two years of experience in a social or recreational program within the last five years, one year of which was full- time in a patient activities program in a health care setting; or

(d) has completed a state approved program.

(e) in an intermediate care facility, a staff member who is qualified by experience or training in directing group activity.

(2) Supervision: The activity program shall be supervised by:

(a) a qualified activities coordinator; or

(b) an employee who receives at least monthly consultation from a qualified activities coordinator.

8.370.16.63 EQUIPMENT AND SUPPLIES:

A. Beds:

(1) Each resident shall be provided a bed which is at least 36 inches wide, is equipped with a headboard of sturdy construction and is in good repair. Roll-away beds, day beds, cots, or double or folding beds shall not be used.

(2) Each bed shall be in good repair and provided with a clean, firm mattress of appropriate size for the bed.

(3) Side rails shall be installed for both sides of the bed when required by the resident's condition.

B. Bedding:

(1) Each resident shall be provided at least one clean, comfortable pillow. Additional pillows shall be provided if requested by the resident or required by the resident's condition.

(2) Each bed shall have a mattress pad unless contraindicated by special use equipment.

(3) If mattress is not moisture-proof, a moisture- proof mattress cover shall be provided. A moisture-proof pillow cover shall be provided to keep each mattress and pillow clean and dry.

(a) A supply of sheets and pillow cases sufficient to keep beds clean, dry and odor-free shall be stocked. At least two sheets and two pillow cases shall be furnished to each resident each week.

(b) Beds occupied by bedfast or incontinent residents shall be provided drawsheets or appropriate pads.

(4) A sufficient number of blankets shall be provided to keep each resident warm. Blankets shall be changed and laundered as often as necessary to maintain cleanliness and freedom from odors.

(5) Each bed shall have a clean, washable bedspread.

C. Other furnishings:

(1) Each resident who is confined to bed shall be provided with a bedside storage unit containing at least one drawer for personal items and a drawer or compartment for necessary nursing equipment. All other residents shall be provided with a storage unit in the resident's room, containing at least one drawer for personal items and a drawer or compartment for necessary nursing equipment.

(2) At least one arm chair shall be available for each room for each bed. A folding chair shall not be used.

(3) A properly shaded reading light in working condition shall be installed over or at each bed.

(4) Adequate compartment or drawer space shall be provided in each room for each resident to store personal clothing and effects and to store, as space permits, other personal possessions in a reasonably secure manner.

(5) A sturdy and stable table that can be placed over the bed or armchair shall be provided to every resident who does not eat in the dining room.

D. Towels, washcloths, and soap:

(1) Clean towels and washcloths shall be provided to each resident as needed. Towels shall not be used by more than one resident between launderings.

(2) An individual towel rack shall be installed at each resident's bedside or at the lavatory.

(3) Single service towels and soap shall be provided at each lavatory for use by staff.

E. Window coverings: Every window in patient care area shall be supplied with flame retardant shades, draw drapes or other covering material or devices which, when properly used and maintained, shall afford privacy and light control for the resident.

8.370.16.64 RESIDENT CARE EQUIPMENT:

A. Personal need items: When a resident because of their conditions needs a mouthwash cup, a wash basin, a soap dish, a bedpan, an emesis basin, or a standard urinal and cover, that item shall be provided to the resident. This equipment may not be interchanged between residents until it is effectively washed and sanitized.

B. Thermometers: If reusable oral and rectal thermometers are used, they shall be cleaned and disinfected between use.

C. First aid supplies: Each nursing unit shall be supplied with first aid supplies, including bandages, sterile gauze dressings, bandage scissors, tape, and a sling tourniquet.

D. Other equipment: Other equipment, such as wheelchairs with brakes, footstools, commodes, foot cradles, footboards, under-the-mattress bedboards, walkers, trapeze frames, transfer boards, parallel bars, reciprocal pulleys, suction machines, patient lifts and stryker or froster frames, shall be used as needed for the care of the residents.

8.370.16.65 MAINTENANCE:

All facility furnishings and equipment shall be maintained in a usable, safe and sanitary condition.

[8.370.16.65 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.66 STERILIZATION OF SUPPLIES AND EQUIPMENT:

Each facility shall provide sterilized supplies and equipment by one or more of the following methods:

A. use of an autoclave;

B. use of disposable, individually wrapped, sterile supplies such as dressings, syringes, needles, catheters, and gloves;

C. sterilization services under a written agreement with another facility; or

D. other sterilization procedures when approved in writing by the authority.

[8.370.16.66 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.67 SANITIZATIONOF UTENSILS:

Utensils such as individual bedpans, urinals and wash basins which are in use shall be sanitized in accordance with acceptable sanitization procedures on a routine schedule. These procedures shall be done in an appropriate area.

[8.370.16.67 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.68 DISINFECTION OF RESIDENT GROOMING UTENSILS:

Hair care tools such as combs, brushes, metal instruments, and shaving equipment which are used for more than one resident shall be disinfected before each use.

[8.370.16.68 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.69 OXYGEN:

A. No oil or grease shall be used on oxygen equipment.

B. When placed at the resident's bedside, oxygen tanks shall be securely fastened to a tip-proof carrier or base.

C. Oxygen regulators shall not be stored with solution left in the attached humidifier bottle.

D. When in use at the resident's bedside, cannulas, hoses, and humidifier bottles shall be changed at least every 30 days.

E. Disposable inhalation equipment shall be pre- sterilized and kept in contamination- proof containers until used, and shall be replaced at least every 30 days when in use.

F. With other inhalation equipment such as intermittent positive pressure breathing equipment, the entire resident breathing circuit, including nebulizers and humidifiers, shall be changed at least every seven days.

[8.370.16.69 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.16.70 HOUSEKEEPING SERVICES:

A. Requirement: Facilities shall develop and implement written policies that ensure a safe and sanitary environment for personnel and residents at all times.

B. Cleaning:

(1) General: The facility shall be kept clean and free from offensive odors, accumulations of dirt, rubbish, dust, and safety hazards.

(2) Floors: Floors and carpeting shall be kept clean. Polishes on floors shall provide a non-slip finish. Carpeting or any other material covering the floors that is worn, damaged, contaminated or badly soiled shall be replaced, repaired or cleaned.

(3) Other surfaces: Ceiling and walls shall be kept clean and in good repair at all times. The interior and exterior of the buildings shall be painted or stained as needed to protect the surfaces. Loose, cracked, or peeling wallpaper or paint shall be replaced or repaired.

(4) Furnishings: All furniture and other furnishings shall be kept clean and in good repair at all times.

(5) Combustibles in storage areas: Attics, cellars and other storage areas shall be kept safe and free from dangerous accumulations of combustible materials. Combustibles such as cleaning rags and compounds shall be kept in closed metal containers.

(6) Grounds: The grounds shall be kept free from refuse, litter, and wastewater. Areas around buildings, sidewalks, gardens, and patios shall be kept clear of dense undergrowth.

C. Poisons: All poisonous compounds shall be clearly labeled as poisonous and, when not in use, shall be stored in a locked area separate from food, kitchenware, and medications.

D. Garbage:

(1) Storage containers: All garbage and rubbish shall be stored in leak-proof, non- absorbent containers with close-fitting covers, and in areas separate from those used for the preparation and storage of food. Containers shall be cleaned regularly. Paperboard containers shall not be used.

(2) Disposal: Garbage and rubbish shall be disposed of promptly in a safe and sanitary manner.

E. Linen and towels: Linens shall be handled, stored, processed, and transported in such a manner as to prevent the spread of infection. Soiled linen shall not be sorted, rinsed, or stored in bathrooms, residents' rooms, kitchens, food storage areas, nursing units, common hallways.

F. Pest control:

(1) Requirement: The facility shall be maintained reasonably free from insects and rodents, with harborage and entrances of insects and rodents eliminated.

(2) Provision of service: Pest control shall be provided when required for the control of insects and rodents.

(3) Screening of windows and doors: All windows and doors used for ventilation purposes shall be provided with wire screening of not less than number 16 mesh or its equivalent, and shall be properly installed and maintained to prevent entry of insects. Hinged screen days when in use.

(4) With other inhalation equipment such as intermittent positive pressure breathing equipment, the entire resident breathing circuit, including nebulizers and humidifiers, shall be changed at least every seven days.

8.370.16.71 PHYSICAL ENVIRONMENT:

A. General: The buildings of the nursing facility shall be constructed and maintained so that they are functional for diagnosis and treatment and for the delivery services appropriate to the needs of the community and with due for protecting the health and safety of the patients. The provisions of this section apply to all new, remodeled and existing construction unless otherwise noted. Existing waivers at the time these regulations are enacted would continue to be accepted unless it is determined that the facility is unable to protect the health and safety of the resident.

B. Definitions: The definitions in the applicable Life Safety Code required under these regulations apply to this subchapter. In addition, in this subchapter:

(1) Existing construction: means a building which is in place or is being constructed with plans approved by the authority prior to the effective date of this chapter.

(2) Life Safety Code: means the National Fire Protection Association's standard 101.

(3) 1981 Code: means facilities with construction plans first approved by the authority on or after November 26, 1982, shall be free from dangerous accumulations of combustible materials. Combustibles such as cleaning rags and compounds shall be kept in closed metal containers.

(4) Fire safety evaluation system: means a proposed or existing facility not meeting all requirements of the applicable Life Safety Code shall be considered in compliance if it achieves a passing score on the Fire Safety Evaluation System (FSES), developed by the United State department of commerce, National bureau of standards, to establish safety equivalencies under the Life Safety Code.

(5) New construction: means construction for the first time of any building or addition to an existing building, the plans for which are approved after the effective date of this chapter.

(6) Remodeling: means to make over or rebuild any portion of a building or structure and thereby modify its structural strength, fire hazard character, exists, heating and ventilating system, electrical system or internal circulation, as previously approved by the authority. Where exterior walls are in place but interior walls are not in place at the time of the effective date of this chapter, construction of interior walls shall be considered remodeling. "Remodeling" does not include repairs necessary for the maintenance of a building structure.

C. Approvals: The facility shall keep documentation of approvals on file in the facility following all inspections by state and local authorities.

D. Fire protection:

(1) Basic responsibility: The facility shall provide fire protection adequate to ensure the safety of patients, staff and others on the premises. Necessary safeguards such as extinguishers, sprinkling and detection devices, fire and smoke barriers, and ventilation control barriers shall be installed to ensure rapid and effective fire and smoke control.

(2) New construction: Any new construction or remodeling shall meet the applicable provisions of the 1981 edition of the Life Safety Code.

(3) Existing facilities: Any existing facility shall be considered to have met the requirements of this subsection if, prior to the promulgation of this chapter, the facility complied with and continues to comply with the applicable provisions of the 1967, 1973, or 1981 edition of the Life Safety Code, with or without waivers.

(4) Equivalent compliance: An existing facility that does not meet all requirements of the applicable Life Safety Code may be considered in compliance with it if it achieves a passing score on the fire safety evaluation system (FSES) developed by the U.S. department of commerce National bureau of standard, to establish safety equivalencies under the Life Safety Code.

(5) Note: See Appendix C of the 1981 Life Safety Code.

E. General construction: All capital investment plans subject to these regulations, shall be submitted to the authority for review and approval.

(1) One copy of preliminary or schematic plans shall be submitted to the authority for review and approval.

(2) One copy of final plans and specifications which are used for bidding purposes shall be submitted to the authority for review and approval before construction is started. Plans must be prepared and stamped by an architect registered in the state of New Mexico.

(3) If on-site construction above the foundation is not started within 12 months of the date of approval of the final plans and specifications, the approval under these regulations shall be void and the plans and specifications shall be resubmitted for reconsideration of approval.

(4) Any changes in the approved final plans affecting the application of the requirements of this subchapter shall be shown on the approved final plans and shall be submitted to the authority for approval before construction is undertaken. The authority shall notify the facility in writing of any conflict with this subchapter found in its review of modified plans and specifications.

(5) General: Projects involving alterations of and additions to existing buildings shall be programmed and phased so that on-site construction will minimize disruptions of existing functions. Access, exit ways, and fire protection shall be so maintained that the safety of the occupants will not jeopardized during construction.

(6) Minimum requirements: All requirements listed in new construction, relating to new construction projects, are applicable to renovation projects involving additions or alterations, except that when existing conditions make changes impractical to accomplish, minor deviations from functional requirements may be permitted if the intent of the requirements is met and if the care and safety of patients will not be jeopardized.

(7) Non- conforming conditions: When doing renovation work, if it is found to be unfeasible to correct all of the nonconforming conditions in the existing facility in accordance with these standards, acceptable compliance status may be recognized by the licensing agency if the operation of the facility, necessary access by the handicapped, and safety of the patients, are not jeopardized by the remaining non-conforming conditions.

(8) Note #1: Plan approval by construction industries division, labor and human relations under these regulations is also required for any new construction or remodeling.

(9) Note #2: Copies of the 1967, 1973, and 1981 Life Safety Codes and related codes can be obtained from the National Fire Protection Association, Battery March Park, Quincy, PA 02269.

F. Constructions and inspections:

(1) General: Construction, of other than minor alterations, shall not be commenced until plan-review deficiencies have been satisfactorily resolved.

(a) The completed construction shall be in compliance with the approved drawings and specifications, including all addenda or modifications approved for the project.

(b) A final inspection of the facility will be scheduled for the purpose of verifying compliance with the approved drawings and specifications including all addenda or modifications approved for the project.

(2) In addition to compliance with these standards, all other applicable building codes, ordinances, and regulations under city, county, or other state agency jurisdiction shall be observed. Compliance with local codes shall be prerequisite for licensing. In areas not subject to local building codes, the state building codes, as adopted, shall apply insofar as such codes are not in conflict with these standards.

(a) New construction is governed by the current editions of the following Codes Standards:

(b) Uniform Building Code (UBC), Uniform Plumbing Code (UPC), Uniform Mechanical Code (UMC), National Electrical Code (NEC), National fire protection association standards (NFPA), American National standard institute (ANSI), American society of heating, refrigerating, and air conditioning engineers (ASHRAE), department of health and human services (DHHS) guidelines for construction and equipment of hospital and medical facilities.

G. Resident safety and disaster plan:

(1) Disaster plan:

(a) Each facility shall have a written procedure which shall be followed in case of fire or other disasters, and which shall specify persons to be notified, locations of alarm signals and fire extinguishers, evacuation routes, procedures for evacuating helpless residents, frequency of fire drills and assignment of specific tasks and responsibilities to the personnel of each shift and each discipline.

(b) The plan developed by the facility shall be submitted to qualified fire and safety experts, including the local fire authority, for review and approval. The facility shall maintain documentation of approval by the reviewing authority.

(c) All employees shall be oriented to this plan and trained to perform assigned tasks.

(d) The plan shall be available at each nursing station.

(e) The plans shall include a diagram of the immediate floor area showing the exits, fire alarm stations, evacuation routes and location of fire extinguishers. The diagram shall be posted in conspicuous locations in the corridor throughout the facility.

(2) Drills: Fire drills shall be held at irregular intervals at least four times a year on each shift and the plan shall be reviewed and modified as necessary. Records of drills and dates of drills shall be maintained.

(3) Fire inspections: The administrator of the facility shall arrange for fire protection as follows:

(a) At least annual inspection of the facility shall be made by the local fire inspection authorities. Signed certificates of such inspections shall be kept on file in the facility.

(b) Certification by the local fire authority as to the fire safety of the facility and to the adequacy of a written fire plan for orderly evacuation of residents shall be obtained and kept on file in the facility.

(c) Where the facility is located in a city, village, or township that does not have an official established fire department, the licensee shall obtain and maintain a continuing contract for fire protection service with the nearest municipality providing such service. A certification of the existence of such contract shall be kept on file in the facility.

(4) Fire equipment: All fire protection equipment shall be maintained in readily usable condition and inspected annually. In addition to any other equipment, a fire extinguisher suitable for grease fires shall be provided in or adjacent to the kitchen. Each extinguisher shall be provided with a tag for the date of inspection.

(5) Fire Report: All incidents of fire in a facility shall be reported to the authority within 72 hours.

(6) Smoking: Smoking by residents shall be permitted only in designated areas supervised in accordance with the conditions, needs, and safety of residents.

(7) Prevention of ignition: Heating devices and piping shall be designed or enclosed to prevent the ignition of clothing or furniture.

(8) Floor coverings: Scatter rugs and highly polished, slippery floors are prohibited, except for non-slip entrance mats. All floor coverings and edging shall be securely fastened to the floor or so constructed that they are free of hazards such as curled and broken edges.

(9) Roads and sidewalks: The ambulatory and vehicular access to the facility shall be kept passable and open at all times of the year. Sidewalks, drives, fire escapes, and entrances shall be kept free of ice, snow, and other obstructions.

H. Safety and systems:

(1) Maintenance: The building shall be maintained in good repair and kept free of hazards such as those created by any damaged or defective building equipment.

(2) Corridors:

(a) Handrails: Corridors used by residents shall be equipped with handrails firmly secured on each side of the corridor.

(b) Size: All corridors in resident use areas shall be at least eight feet wide.

(3) Doors:

(a) Size: Doors to residents' rooms shall not be less than three feet eight inches wide and six feet eight inches in height, and shall be at least one and three-quarter inches solid core wood or equivalent construction.

(b) Latches: Each designated fire exit door shall have such latches or hardware that the door can be opened from the inside by pushing against a single bar or plate or by turning a single knob or handle.

(c) Locks on exit doors from the building and from nursing areas and wards may not be hooked or locked to prevent exit from the inside, shall be installed on the door of the resident's room, unless the lock is operable from inside the room with a simple one- hand, one-motion operation without the use of a key unless the resident is confined; a master-key is available to emergency personnel such as the fire department.

(4) Toilet room doors: Resident toilet room doors shall be not less than three feet zero inches by six feet eight inches, and shall not swing into the toilet room unless they are provided with two way hardware.

(5) Thresholds: Raised thresholds which cannot be traversed easily by a bed on wheels, a wheelchair, a drug cart, or other equipment on wheels shall not be used.

I. Emergency power: Emergency electrical service with an independent power source which covers lighting as nursing stations, telephone switchboards, exit and corridor lights, boiler room, and fire alarm systems, shall be provided. The service may be battery operated if effective for at least four hours.

J. Fire protection:

(1) Carpeting: Carpeting shall not be installed in rooms used primarily for the following purposes: food preparation and storage, dish and utensil washing, soiled utility workroom, janitor closet, laundry processing, hydro-therapy, toilet and bathing, resident isolation, and resident examination.

(2) Carpet fireproofing: Carpeting, including underlying padding, if any, shall have a flamespread rating of 75 or less when tested in accordance with standard 255 of the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), or a critical radiant flux of more than 0.45 watts per square centimeter when tested in accordance with NFPA standard 253, 1978 edition. Certified proof by the manufacturer of the aforementioned test for the specific product shall be available in the facility. Certification by the installer that the material installed is the product referred to in the test shall be obtained by the facility. Carpeting shall not be applied to walls in any case except where the flamespread rating can be shown to 25 or less.

(3) Acoustical tile: Acoustical tile shall be non- combustible.

(4) Wastebaskets: Wastebaskets shall be of non-combustible materials.

(5) Vertical exit stairways: At least one interior exit stairway shall be provided to that an enclosed protected path of at least one-hour fire resistive construction is available for occupants to proceed with safety to the exterior of the facility.

8.370.17.8 STANDARD OF COMPLIANCE:

The degree of compliance required throughout these regulations is designated by the use of the words "shall" or "must" or "may". "Shall" or "must" means mandatory compliance. "May" means permissive compliance. The words "adequate", "proper", and other similar words mean the degree of compliance that is generally accepted throughout the professional field by those who provide birthing services to the public in facilities governed by these regulations. However, if any other applicable statute or regulation requires mandatory or stricter compliance for birth center services than these regulations, the licensee and facility must comply with the more strict compliance requirements.

[8.370.17.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.9 FREESTANDING BIRTH CENTER SCOPE OF SERVICES:

A. General scope of services. Freestanding birth centers endorse the wellness care model by providing supportive care and using interventions only when medically necessary. Birth centers may provide women's health services including annual exams, contraception counseling, pre-conception counseling, sexually transmitted infection testing and treatment, prenatal care, birth services, and postpartum and newborn care following a normal, low risk pregnancy. The facility may offer other health services by licensed professionals working within the scope of their license providing the physical space used by the other services is clearly delineated and separate from the birth center services, the other services do not interfere with any birth center requirements, the facility complies with any applicable licensing regulations for the other services, and the authority is capable of determining the physical boundaries between the birth center facilities licensed under these regulations and other facilities, if licensed under other regulations.

B. Limitations on scope of services. Except in the event of an emergency, surgical procedures shall be limited to those normally performed during birth, but may include episiotomy and repair, other procedures for newborns, and well women's care but only if such procedures are performed by a licensed practitioner acting within the scope of the practitioner's license. Trials of labor after cesarean section (TOLAC) and vaginal birth after cesarean (VBAC) services shall only be performed at a freestanding birth center by a practitioner whose license authorizes this scope of practice.

C. Services not allowed and not to be performed at freestanding birth center. The following services shall not be performed in a freestanding birth center:

(1) general, regional or epidural anesthesia services;

(2) medications for cervical ripening, induction or augmentation of labor;

(3) operative vaginal forceps or vacuum or abdominal births; and

(4) abortions.

D. Geographic requirements:

(1) Freestanding birth centers shall be located within a maximum of 30 minutes normal driving time from a referral hospital. Reliable evidence of normal driving time must be provided.

(2) The authority may, at its sole discretion, approve a variance for a freestanding birth center that is located more than 30 minutes normal driving time from a referring hospital, if the authority finds that the health and safety of the birth center clients will not be adversely affected.

E. Additional requirements applicable to facilities with four or more birthing rooms. Any and all facilities with four or more birthing rooms shall comply with all of these regulations and also with all applicable requirements in the current edition of the facility guidelines institute's guidelines for design and construction, specific requirements for freestanding birth centers.

8.370.17.10 LICENSE REQUIRED:

A freestanding birth center facility shall not be operated without a license issued by the authority. Any freestanding birth center or facility operating after the effective date of these regulations, must be licensed under these regulations. Any facility providing the services described in these regulations after the effective date of these regulations, shall apply for a freestanding birth center license within 180 days. Any unlicensed freestanding birth center that has not applied for a license, may only continue to operate without a license for 180 days from the effective date of these regulations. A freestanding birth center licensed under these regulations shall not assert, represent, offer, provide or imply that the facility is or may render care or services other than the services it is permitted to render under these regulations and within the scope of all applicable professional license(s). If an unlicensed freestanding birth center is found to be providing services for which a license is required under these regulations, the secretary may issue a cease-and-desist order, to protect human health or safety or welfare. The licensed facility may request a hearing that shall be held in the manner provided under these regulations and all other applicable regulations.

[8.370.17.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.11 INITIAL LICENSURE PROCEDURES:

These regulations should be thoroughly understood and used by the applicant, when applying for the initial freestanding birth center license. The applicant for an initial facility license under these regulations must follow these procedures when applying for a license.

A. Notification and letter of intent: The owner shall advise the licensing authority of its intent to open a freestanding birth center pursuant to these regulations by submitting a letter of intent. The letter of intent must be on the applicant's letterhead and signed by a person with authority to make legal decisions for the owner and the facility and at a minimum, include the following:

(1) the name of facility;

(2) the name of the legal owner and licensee and the type of legal entity under which the facility shall be owned;

(3) the name of the management company, if any;

(4) the type of facility license requested;

(5) the anticipated number of clients to be served;

(6) the number of birthing rooms in the proposed facility;

(7) the physical address of facility including building name or suite number;

(8) the mailing address, if different from physical address;

(9) the contact name(s), address, e-mail address, and telephone number(s);

(10) the anticipated payers and sources of reimbursement; and

(11) a list of all services, medical and non-medical, to be provided at the facility location which is requesting the license.

B. License application and fees: After review by the authority of the letter of intent for general compliance with these regulations and verification that an application is appropriate under these regulations, the owner shall be required to complete a license application on a form provided by the authority. Prior to any construction, renovation or addition to an existing building and after review and approval of the letter of intent by the authority, the applicant must submit to the licensing authority an application form provided by the authority, fully completed, printed or typed, dated, signed, and notarized accompanied by the required fee. If electronic filing of license applications is available at the time of application, the applicant will be required to follow all electronic filing requirements, and may forgo any notary requirements, if specifically allowed under the applicable electronic filing statutes, regulations and requirements. Current fee schedules will be provided by the licensing authority. The authority reserves the right to require additional documentation to verify the identity of the applicant in order to verify whether any federal or state exclusions may apply to the applicant. Fees must be paid in the form of a certified check, money order, personal, or business check, or electronic transfer (if available), made payable to the state of New Mexico, and are non-refundable.

C. Existing facility and building plans: As part of the initial license application, the applicant must also attach to the application and submit to the authority, a set of building plans which includes all of the information required by these rules, accompanied by proof of zoning approvals by the applicable building authority. The existing facility building plans must be of professional quality, on substantial paper measuring at least 24" x 36", and drawn to an accurate scale of one- eighth inch to one foot. The plans for existing construction must include sufficient information for the authority to make a compliance determination and at a minimum:

(1) floor plans showing proposed use of each room, (e.g., waiting room, examination room, office, etc.);

(2) interior dimensions of all rooms;

(3) one building or wall section showing an exterior and interior wall construction section including the material composition of the floor, wall, and ceiling/roof, and the finishes, (e.g., carpet, tile, gypsum board with paint, or wood paneling);

(4) door locations and types (swing) and sizes of all doors, including width, height and thickness;

(5) location of all sinks, tubs and showers;

(6) location and operation of windows including size and type;

(7) location and dimension of all level changes within and outside the building, (e.g., steps or ramps);

(8) location of fire extinguishers, heat and smoke detectors, and operational elements of alarm systems;

(9) location of heating units, furnaces, hot water heaters, and fuel type and source;

(10) all heating, ventilating and air conditioning/ cooling systems;

(11) location of the building on a site/plot plan to determine surrounding conditions, include all steps, ramps, parking areas, handicapped spaces, walks and any permanent structures, including construction materials; and

(12) all existing construction, new construction, remodeled portions, and proposed additions, must be delineated on the plans, clearly indicating where existing construction ends and proposed remodeling and new construction begins.

D. Remodeling, new and proposed construction: If the proposed facility includes any remodeling, renovations or additions to an existing building or new construction of any type, building plans and specifications covering all portions of the proposed work delineating all existing construction and all new and proposed construction shall be attached to the application and submitted to the authority for review and approval as part of the application. Building plans will be reviewed by the authority for compliance with current licensing regulations, building and fire safety codes. If the facility's building plans are approved by the authority and local building officials have issued a construction permit, construction may begin. This provision is an ongoing requirement and applies to, and includes any and all construction at the facility, which occurs before and after issuance of the initial license. This provision does not generally apply to maintenance and repair. However, if the maintenance or repair impacts or alters any of the facility requirements under these regulations, the applicant or licensee must notify the authority and verify ongoing compliance with these regulations. The authority shall not be liable for any costs or damages incurred by the applicant relating to construction in the event the applicant incurs costs or damages in order to comply with these regulations or to obtain a license under these regulations. For all new and proposed construction, the applicant or licensee must submit for approval by the authority before construction begins, the following:

(1) one copy of building plans and specifications, including a site plan, that are of professional quality, on substantial paper measuring at least 24" x 36" and drawn to an accurate scale of one- eighth inch to one foot;

(2) the building plans must be drawn to scale and show the general arrangement of the buildings, and include a room schedule, show fixed equipment for each room, and list room numbers, together with all other pertinent explanatory information addressing the requirements in applicable regulations;

(3) any changes in the approved building plans affecting compliance with these rules shall be shown on the approved plans and shall be submitted to the authority for approval before construction is undertaken;

(4) any and all completed new construction shall comply with the plans and specifications approved by the authority prior to construction, these rules, and any and all other applicable rules and codes; and

(5) any of the authority's approval(s) shall not waive any other rules or other applicable building and code requirements enforceable by other authorities.

E. Initial survey phase: Upon receipt of a properly completed application with all necessary supporting documentation, an initial life safety survey of the proposed facility will be scheduled by the licensing authority. Upon completion of the initial life safety survey and determination that the facility is in compliance with all life safety and building requirements, the licensing authority may issue a temporary license pending completion of its initial health survey or an annual license if allowed or applicable under these regulations.

8.370.17.12 ADDITIONAL DOCUMENTS REQUIRED WITH LICENSE APPLICATION:

The authority reserves the right to require an applicant to provide any and all additional documents, as part of its license application, in order for the authority to determine whether the applicant and the facility are in full compliance with these regulations, as well as any and all other applicable statutes and regulations. At a minimum, additional documents required to be attached to the initial license application, include, but are not limited to:

A. Building approvals: The applicant must submit all building approvals required for the facility to operate in the jurisdiction in which it is located, including, but not limited to:

(1) written building approvals and certificates of occupancy from the appropriate authority (state, city, county, or municipality) for business occupancy; and

(2) written fire safety approvals from the fire safety authority having jurisdiction.

B. Environment approvals: If applicable or required, the applicant must provide written approval from the New Mexico environment department for the following:

(1) private water supply;

(2) private waste or sewage disposal; and

(3) ultrasound equipment.

C. Board of pharmacy approvals: A copy of facility's drug permit issued by the state board of pharmacy must be provided.

D. Program outline: The applicant must submit with its license application a program outline consistent with these regulations which includes at a minimum, the following information:

(1) a list of all services and the scope of those services to be provided by the proposed facility;

(2) projected number of clients to be served monthly;

(3) a list of staffing and personnel requirements and duties to be performed;

(4) a list of all services that will be contracted or arranged with any other health providers including ambulance services, admitting hospitals, consultation with medical practitioners, laboratory work and equipment providers;

(5) the number of examination rooms, birth rooms, family rooms and other rooms for diagnostic or other use including, but not limited to,, ultrasound, laboratory, clean linen storage and waste disposal;

(6) an organizational structure diagram or chart including the administrator, advisory body or board of directors, if any, staff, clinical director, internal quality committee and external quality committee; and

(7) quality improvement systems and quality assurance processes.

E. Policies and procedures: The applicant must submit with its license application a copy of the facility's policies and procedures which must comply with these regulations.

8.370.17.13 LICENSE TYPES, VARIANCES & WAIVERS:

A. Temporary license: The licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, issue a temporary license to a new freestanding birth center before clients are admitted or for facilities that existed prior to enactment of these regulations, provided that the freestanding birth center has submitted a license application, supporting documents, has met all of the applicable life safety code requirements, and its program, policies, and procedures have been reviewed for compliance with these regulations. A temporary license is not guaranteed under these regulations and shall be limited and restricted to:

(1) a period of time, not to exceed 120 days, during which the facility must correct all specified deficiencies;

(2) no more than two consecutive temporary licenses shall be issued in accordance with applicable statutes and regulations;

(3) the facility being allowed to accept clients and provide care services, subject to any requirements and restrictions attached to the temporary license;

(4) a finding that the applicant is qualified and in full compliance with applicable life safety code requirements; and

(5) any determination of compliance or noncompliance for a temporary license or initial license shall be made at the licensing authority's sole discretion based upon the health, safety, or welfare of the facility's clients, patients and staff and proof by the applicant that it is not in violation of other applicable state and federal statutes and regulations.

B. Annual license: An annual license is issued for a one-year period to a freestanding birth center facility which has met all requirements of these regulations. If a temporary license is issued, once the authority has issued a written determination of full compliance with these regulations, an annual license will be issued with the renewal date of the annual license based upon the initial date of the first temporary license.

C. Amended license: A licensee must apply to the licensing authority for an amended license when there is a change of administrator or when there is a change of name for the facility, but an amended license shall only be issued if the administrator is not an owner. If the administrator is also the owner, a new license application must be submitted as provided in this regulation. The amended license application must:

(1) be on a form, or filed electronically if available, as required by the licensing authority;

(2) be accompanied by the required fee for the amended license; and

(3) be submitted within 10 working days of the change.

D. Variances and waivers: At the licensing authority's sole discretion, an applicant or licensee may be granted variances and waivers of these regulations, provided the granting of such variance or waiver shall not jeopardize the health, safety or welfare of the facility's clients, patients and staff and is not in violation of other applicable state and federal statutes and regulations. All variances and waivers shall be in writing attached to the license and shall be limited to the term of the license. Upon renewal of a license, any variances and waivers shall only be extended or continued at the sole discretion of the licensing authority providing such variance or waiver shall not jeopardize the health, safety or welfare of the facility's clients, patients and staff and is not in violation of other applicable state and federal statutes and regulations at the time of renewal. Variances and waivers are non-transferrable and shall not be granted indefinitely.

8.370.17.14 LICENSE RENEWAL:

A. Licensee must submit a renewal application, electronically, if available, or on forms authorized by the licensing authority, along with the required license fee at least 30 days prior to expiration of the current license. The applicant shall certify that the facility complies with all applicable state and federal regulations in force at the time of renewal and that there has been no new construction or remodeling or additions which differ from the plans provided and reviewed with the prior license application. If there has been any construction or remodeling or additions to the facility since issuance of the last license, and the construction has not been previously approved, the license renewal applicant shall be required to comply with all construction documentation requirements under these regulations when applying for the license renewal. The authority reserves the right to require that a renewal applicant provide any and all additional documents, including any necessary proof of current compliance, as part of its license renewal application in order for the authority to determine whether the applicant and the facility are in full compliance with these regulations.

B. Upon receipt of the renewal application and the required fee, the licensing authority will issue a new license effective the day following the date of expiration of the current license, if the facility is in substantial compliance with these regulations and any and all other applicable state and federal regulations.

C. If the existing license expires and the licensee has failed to submit a renewal application, the authority may charge the applicant a late fee of $100 for each month or portion of a month that the facility continues to operate without a license providing that during such time the facility remains in full compliance with these regulations. If the facility does not renew its license and continues to operate without paying late fees and without being in full compliance with these regulations, the facility shall cease operations until it obtains a new license through the initial licensure procedures, and shall still be required to pay late fees. Under Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, as amended, no freestanding birth center shall be operated without a license and any such failure may subject the operators to various sanctions and legal remedies, including at a minimum the imposition of civil monetary penalties.

D. It shall be the sole responsibility and liability of the licensee to be aware of the status, term and renewal date of its license. The licensing authority shall not be responsible to notify the facility of the renewal date or the expiration date of the facility's license.

E. After issuance of the initial license, if there has been no construction or remodeling or additions to the facility and the facility is in substantially the same condition as the plans on file with the authority, the facility may be issued a license renewal based upon its accreditation status if it has been fully accredited by an approved national accrediting organization such as, the commission for the accreditation of birth centers or its successor, and the facility maintains its accreditation status throughout the course of the license term. The licensee shall be responsible for providing verifiable evidence of accreditation status with its license renewal application and any time during the term of its license upon request. The authority, at its sole discretion, reserves the right to require additional documentation of compliance with these regulations and all applicable state and federal statutes and regulations by the licensee at the time of license renewal, even if the facility is accredited by an approved national accrediting organization.

8.370.17.15 POSTING OF LICENSE:

The facility's license must be posted in a conspicuous place on the licensed premises in an area visible to the public.

[8.370.17.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.16 NON-TRANSFERABLE RESTRICTION ON LICENSE:

A. A license granted under these regulations is not transferable to any other owner, whether an individual or legal entity, or to another location. The authority shall not guarantee or be liable for or responsible for guaranteeing the transfer of the license to any other owner or other location. The existing license shall be void and must be returned to the licensing authority when any one of the following situations occurs:

(1) any ownership interest in the facility changes;

(2) the facility changes location;

(3) the licensee of the facility changes; or

(4) the facility discontinues operation.

B. Any owner or applicant wishing to continue operation of an already licensed facility must submit a new application for an initial license in accordance with these regulations at least 30 days prior to the anticipated change and shall not be guaranteed issuance of a license under the same terms and conditions of an existing license. Failure by any owner or new owner to apply for a new license under these conditions, while continuing to operate under these regulations, shall be considered a violation of these regulations and consent to the imposition of late fees, sanctions or other actions for operating without a license, allowed under these regulations and all other applicable statutes and regulations.

[8.370.17.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.17 AUTOMATIC EXPIRATION OR TERMINATION OF LICENSE:

An existing license shall automatically expire at midnight on the day indicated on the license, unless it is renewed sooner or it has been suspended or revoked. If a facility discontinues operation, is sold, leased or otherwise changes any ownership interest or changes location, the existing license shall automatically expire at midnight on the date of such action. Failure by any owner or new owner to apply for a renewal or new license, while continuing to operate under these regulations, shall be considered a violation and consent to the imposition of late fees, sanctions or other actions for operating without a license, allowed under these regulations and all other applicable statutes and regulations.

8.370.17.18 SUSPENSION OF LICENSE WITHOUT PRIOR HEARING:

If immediate action is required to protect human health and safety, the licensing authority may act in accordance with Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, as amended, and suspend a license pending a hearing, provided such hearing is held within five working days of the suspension, unless waived by the licensee.

[8.370.17.18 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.19 GROUNDS FOR DENIAL OF INITIAL OR RENEWAL LICENSE APPLICATION, SUSPENSION OR REVOCATION OF LICENSE, OR IMPOSITION OF INTERMEDIATE SANCTIONS OR CIVIL MONETARY PENALTIES:

An initial license application or a renewal license application may be denied, or an existing license may be revoked or suspended, or intermediate sanctions or civil monetary penalties may be imposed, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, for any of the following:

A. failure to comply with any provision of these regulations;

B. failure to allow access to the facility and survey(s) by authorized representatives of the licensing authority;

C. allowing any person to work at the facility while impaired physically or mentally or under the influence of alcohol or drugs in a manner which harms the health, safety or welfare of the clients, newborns, staff or visitors;

D. allowing any person, subject to all applicable statutes and regulations, to work at the facility if that person is listed on the employee abuse registry or considered an unemployable caregiver under the Caregivers Criminal History Screen Act, as amended, and related regulations, as amended or has a felony conviction for:

(1) homicide;

(2) trafficking controlled substances;

(3) kidnapping, false imprisonment, aggravated assault or aggravated battery;

(4) rape, criminal sexual penetration, criminal sexual contact, incest, indecent exposure or other related sexual offenses;

(5) crimes involving adult abuse, neglect or financial exploitation;

(6) crimes involving child abuse or neglect;

(7) robbery, larceny, burglary, fraud, extortion, forgery, embezzlement, credit card fraud or receiving stolen property; or

(8) an attempt, solicitation or conspiracy involving any of the felonies in this subsection.

E. misrepresentation or falsification of any information on application forms or on other documents provided to the licensing authority or used by the licensing authority in granting or renewing a license;

F. repeat violations of these regulations or discovery of repeat violations during survey(s); or

G. failure to provide the required care and services specified in these regulations or providing care and services beyond the scope of the facility's license at the facility;

H. the list above shall not limit the authority from imposing sanctions and civil monetary penalties under all applicable statutes, regulations and codes.

8.370.17.20 HEARING PROCEDURES:

Hearing procedures for an administrative appeal of an adverse action taken by the authority against a facility's license will be held in accordance with applicable rules relating to adjudicatory hearings, including, but not limited to, 8.370.2 NMAC. A copy of the above regulations will be furnished at the time an adverse action is taken against a facility's license by the licensing authority, if the regulations cannot be obtained from a public website.

[8.370.17.20 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.21 FACILITY SURVEYS:

A. Application for licensure, whether initial or renewal, shall constitute permission for unrestricted entry into and survey of a facility by authorized licensing authority representatives at times of operation during the pendency of the license application, and if licensed, during the licensure period.

B. Surveys may be announced or unannounced at the sole discretion of the licensing authority. If, at the time of a facility survey, a client is in labor, birthing, or immediately postpartum, the survey may be rescheduled at the sole discretion of the licensing authority without penalty to the facility.

C. Upon receipt of a notice of deficiency from the licensing authority, the licensee or their representative shall be required to submit a plan of correction to the licensing authority within 10 working days stating how the facility intends to correct each violation noted and the expected date of completion. All plans of correction for state or federal deficiencies, if any, shall be disclosed in compliance with applicable state or federal statutes and regulations. A state plan of correction is not confidential once it has been approved and is admissible for all purposes in any adjudicatory hearing and all subsequent appeals relating to a facility license, including to prove licensee compliance violations.

D. The licensing authority may at its sole discretion accept the plan of correction as written or require modifications of the plan by the licensee.

8.370.17.22 REPORTING OF INCIDENTS:

All facilities licensed under these regulations must comply with all incident intake, processing, training and reporting requirements under these regulations, as well as with any and all other applicable statutes and regulations. All facilities shall report to the licensing authority any serious incidents or unusual occurrences which have threatened, or could have threatened the health, safety and welfare of the clients, including, but not limited to:

A. fire, flood or other man-made or natural disasters including any damage to the facility caused by such disasters and any incident which poses or creates any life safety or health hazards;

B. any outbreak of contagious diseases and diseases dangerous to the public health;

C. any human errors by staff and employees which may or has resulted in the death, serious illness, or physical impairment of a client or newborn or staff; and

D. abuse, neglect, exploitation, injuries of unknown origin and other reportable incidents in accordance with 8.370.9 NMAC, as may be amended from time to time.

[8.370.17.22 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.23 QUALITY ASSURANCE, QUALITY IMPROVEMENT SYSTEM, INTERNAL QUALITY COMMITTEE, EXTERNAL QUALITY COMMITTEE AND POLICIES AND PROCEDURES:

Each facility shall establish and maintain policies and procedures for quality assurance and quality improvement systems, as well as an internal quality committee and an external quality committee.

A. Policies and procedures: The administrator shall establish written policies and procedures which govern the facility's complete operation. The facility shall ensure that these policies are adopted, administered and enforced to provide quality health services in a safe environment. At a minimum, the facility's written policies and procedures shall include how the facility intends to comply with all requirements of these regulations and address:

(1) the facility organization including the legal entity or organization which owns the facility, any management companies or managers which manage the facility, the identity and credentials of the administrator responsible for establishing lines of responsibility and accountability for both licensed and non-licensed staff, and the administrator's responsibility to direct employees or contractually retain qualified individuals providing fiscal management and all operations in the facility, as well as maintaining records of disclosure of conflicts of interest and all ownership interests and controlling parties;

(2) the facility administration including designation of an administrator with authority, responsibility, and accountability for overall administration and operation, including plans for the administrator's absence;

(3) the maintenance of the facility, equipment and supplies including sterilization and disinfection of supplies, equipment and instruments; cleaning of birthing room after each use; inspection and maintenance of emergency equipment; maintenance of emergency supplies; maintenance, upkeep and cleaning of the building(s) and equipment; fire and emergency evacuation procedures; and proper disposal of waste liquids used for cleaning contaminated areas;

(4) quality of care and services including appropriate and inappropriate admission criteria; client rights; client risk assessment; administration and preparation of drugs; quality assurance and performance improvement programs; referral of clients for additional services including, but not limited to,, laboratory and sonography; transfer of clients to a hospital; ambulance transfer services; emergency procedures and resuscitative techniques; aseptic techniques; infectious waste and biohazard disposal in accordance with all applicable statutes and regulations; and safe handling of the placenta for families requesting to keep the placenta;

(5) staffing and personnel including written job descriptions for all staff with necessary qualifications consistent with these rules; minimum staffing and staff qualifications; and staff development and evaluation;

(6) maintenance of the client health record including protection of client confidentiality and privacy as required by law; secure release of medical information and records; and safe handling and storage of client records including appropriate document destruction procedures; and

(7) research procedures for any research being conducted at the facility in compliance with these regulations.

B. Internal quality committee: The internal quality committee is comprised at a minimum of the administrator and clinical director. If the administrator and the clinical director are the same person, another staff person with clinical experience shall be made a member of this committee. This committee shall establish and implement quality assurance and quality improvement systems monitoring and promoting quality care to clients through reviews that include chart review, data collection, client satisfaction surveys, and other program monitoring processes; data analyses; identification of areas for improvement; intervention plans, including action steps, responsible parties, and response time; and, evaluation of the effectiveness of interventions. The internal quality committee shall at a minimum, implement a thorough chart review process, as defined in these regulations, which considers and reviews outcome data analysis, targeted concern and improvement areas, client satisfaction surveys, and evidence based research to identify necessary quality improvement areas and processes. When areas of concern or potential problems are identified by the committee, the facility shall act as soon as possible to avoid and prevent risks to clients. The internal quality committee shall take and maintain meeting minutes. The internal quality committee shall, at a minimum, meet or convene:

(1) within 72 hours of every emergent or sentinel event to conduct an initial review and follow-up; if the internal quality committee consists of less than three people, the external quality committee shall convene to review emergent and sentinel events;

(2) monthly to document any significant events and any necessary quality care improvement steps to be applied to future events;

(3) quarterly for a detailed chart review, as provided in these regulations, of a minimum of five charts consisting of a minimum of one chart for each midwife and physician practicing at the facility; charts of all labor, postpartum, and newborn transfers; Apgar scores less than seven at five minutes; hemorrhage greater than 1000 ml; and any other significant problems encountered within the quarter;

(4) annually for review of policies and procedures, including, but not limited to:

(a) environment of care;

(b) testing and maintenance of equipment according to manufacturer's recommendations;

(c) housekeeping procedures;

(d) infection control procedures;

(e) privacy and security processes;

(f) compliance with policies and procedures for all emergency drills, including, but not limited to, fire, maternal/newborn emergencies, power failures, and natural disasters;

(g) evaluation of maintenance policies and procedures for heat, ventilation, emergency lighting, waste disposal, water supply, laundry, and nourishment station;

(h) annual employee performance evaluations;

(i) clinical practice guidelines; and

(5) submission of an annual quality report to the external quality committee.

C. External quality committee: The facility shall establish an external quality committee which includes the members of the internal quality committee, an external peer reviewer or a clinical consultant and other healthcare partners, if available. The external quality committee shall meet at least quarterly and perform an in- depth peer review case study on a minimum of five charts which include at a minimum one case for each midwife and physician practicing at the facility. The external quality committee shall also review the care of individual clients, targeted types of clients, and appropriateness of the clinical practitioner's judgment and management of the case under the facility's standards of care and policies, and make recommendations for care improvements. The external quality committee shall also discuss relevant evidence based research and make recommendations relating to clinical practice guidelines to improve quality of care.

8.370.17.24 RISK ASSESSMENT, CLIENT ACCEPTANCE AND LABOR ADMISSION CRITERIA:

All licensed facilities shall follow and maintain written clinical practice guidelines which address, at a minimum, eligibility for care, on- going eligibility, medical consultation, and transfer criteria in accordance with the scope of practice authorized under each practitioner's individual license(s) to be reviewed and updated by the internal quality committee at least annually.

A. Risk assessment: A licensed practitioner shall make risk assessments of all clients that at a minimum include:

(1) an initial assessment which documents the general health and eligibility of a potential client and which includes a detailed medical, social and family history, a physical examination, and routine prenatal labs; the assessment may also include ultrasounds to determine whether the client meets the criteria for the facility's scope of care;

(2) completing, maintaining, and documenting an initial risk assessment and an on-going risk assessment in the client record which include compliance with admission criteria prior to client acceptance and throughout the pregnancy with the clinical director making the final determination of each client's risk;

(3) if a client before 32 weeks gestation has failed to register for freestanding birth center care and has not received prenatal care, the client shall not be accepted for care at the facility unless the client obtains a medical consultation outside of the facility, meets all other eligibility criteria, and a written, signed exception is made by the clinical director on a case-by-case basis;

(4) clear documentation of referrals, consultations and transfers to other providers for ineligible clients or medical transfers;

(5) assessing each client's risk status on admission in labor and throughout labor for continuation of services;

(6) whether the facility will have adequate space and sufficient staff to support the client newborn during labor, birth and postpartum;

(7) written criteria for antepartum, intrapartum, postpartum and newborn acceptance and transfer to a hospital which delineates the transfer process from the facility to an accepting hospital; and

(8) limitations on the number of active labor clients at the facility to the number of birth rooms available at the facility.

B. Ineligibility for admission: If any of the following conditions exist, birth at the facility shall be considered inappropriate or improper:

(1) breech or non-vertex presentation at labor and delivery;

(2) gestation less than 37 weeks or greater than 42 weeks;

(3) multiple gestation;

(4) medication controlled gestational diabetes mellitus; or

(5) vaginal birth after cesarean (VBAC) candidates with more than one previous cesarean section, previous incision that is not low transverse, placenta location, anterior and low-lying over the old scar.

8.370.17.26 CLIENT HEALTH RECORD:

The facility shall maintain client health records in a legible, uniform, complete and accurate format that provides continuity and documentation of maternal and newborn information which is readily accessible to health care practitioners, while protecting confidentiality, using a system that allows for reliable and safe storage, retrieval and loss prevention. The facility must use a record form appropriate for use by the practitioners in the facility which contains the required information necessary for transfer to an acute care maternal and newborn hospital.

A. Record contents: Each licensed facility must maintain a medical record for each client which may be in a paper or electronic format but which can be easily accessible, copied, provided, reviewed and transported in the event of any emergency or transfer. Every record must be accurate, legible and promptly completed. At a minimum, facility health records for each client must include written documentation of the following:

(1) client demographics;

(2) client consent forms;

(3) pertinent medical, social, family, reproductive and nutritional history;

(4) a list of medications that are currently prescribed for the client, including any self-administered over-the- counter medication or neutraceuticals, including dose of medication, route of administration, and frequency of use;

(5) allergy list;

(6) initial physical exam;

(7) initial and on-going risk assessment and status;

(8) laboratory, radiology and other diagnostic reports;

(9) assessment of the health status and health care needs of the client;

(10) evidence of continuous prenatal care including progress notes;

(11) evidence of prenatal educational resources;

(12) labor and birth summary;

(13) postpartum care with evidence of follow-up within 48 hours of birth;

(14) newborn care and follow-up;

(15) appropriate referral of ineligible clients and documentation of transfer of care;

(16) documentation of any consultations, special examinations and procedures;

(17) discharge summary and applicable instructions to the client;

(18) list of staff present during labor, birth and postpartum;

(19) evidence that client rights have been provided to each client; and

(20) consent form for participation in research signed by the client, if applicable.

B. Client records maintenance:

(1) current client records shall be maintained on-site and stored in an organized, accessible and permanent manner, with copies easily accessible for review, transfers or in an emergency;

(2) the facility shall have in place policies and procedures in compliance with applicable law, for maintaining and ensuring the confidentiality of client records, which include the authorized release of information from the client records; and the retention and transfer of client records at closure or ownership changes;

(3) non- current client records shall be maintained by the facility against loss, destruction and unauthorized use for a period of not less than five years from the date of discharge and be readily available within 24 hours of request; if, any other applicable statutes or regulations require a longer term of record retention than five years, the longer term shall apply to the facility.

C. Chart review: At a minimum, a chart review performed by the internal quality committee shall consider written documentation of:

(1) appropriateness of admissions and continuation of services;

(2) complete client demographic information;

(3) signed informed consent(s);

(4) appropriate referral of ineligible clients;

(5) continuous prenatal visits, beginning no later than 32 weeks;

(6) continuous risk assessment throughout prenatal care and for admission in labor;

(7) appropriate maternal and newborn follow-up after birth;

(8) appropriateness of diagnostic and screening procedures;

(9) complete initial history;

(10) complete initial physical exam;

(11) complete prenatal labs and screenings;

(12) appropriateness of medications prescribed, dispensed or administered;

(13) documentation of medical consultation, if indicated;

(14) appropriate identification and management of complications;

(15) appropriate transfer of care for maternal/fetal/ newborn indications;

(16) compliance with these rules;

(17) compliance with policies, procedures and clinical practice guidelines for maternal and fetal assessment during labor and postpartum;

(18) compliance with evidence based standards of practice;

(19) effectiveness of staff utilization and training;

(20) completeness of client records;

(21) review of the management of care of individual clients or targeted types of clients or cases for the appropriateness of the clinical judgment of the practitioner(s) in obtaining consultation and managing the case relative to standards of care and policies; and make recommendations for any improvements of care; and

(22) review and analyze outcome data and trends, and client satisfaction survey results.

[8.370.17.26 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.27 MINIMUM STAFFING REQUIREMENTS:

Qualified and properly licensed professional and clinical staff shall provide quality family centered maternal and newborn care consistent with the scope of practice authorized under each individual practitioner's license(s). Direct care staff shall have access to consulting clinical specialists and support by administrative and ancillary personnel consistent with the volume of clients enrolled for care and the scope of services offered. The facility shall maintain adequate numbers of professional and support staff on duty, present on premises, and on- call to meet routine service demands, as well as high service demands and emergencies in order to assure client safety, satisfaction, and that no mother in active labor is unattended. The facility shall have on staff at a minimum:

A. a midwife or physician on duty whenever there is a client in the facility in active labor or immediately postpartum;

B. a midwife or physician on immediate call whenever clients are in the facility receiving clinical services;

C. personnel trained in the use of emergency equipment and in BLS and NRP must be on duty whenever a client is within the freestanding birth center receiving clinical services; this includes nighttime hours when clients are within the freestanding birth center in labor or postpartum;

D. an on-site administrator managing the daily operations and implementing the policies and procedures;

E. a clinical director responsible for implementing facility clinical policies;

F. an internal quality committee that ensures the effectiveness of the quality assurance and performance improvement process at the facility; and

8.370.17.39 MINIMUM ENVIRONMENTAL REQUIREMENTS:

Each facility shall comply with the following minimum environmental requirements:

A. Floors and walls: All finishes shall be kept clean and shall be of the type that is appropriate for the cleaning methods and solutions used to maintain a clean and safe environment.

(1) Floor material shall be readily cleanable and wear resistant.

(2) In all areas subject to wet cleaning, floor materials shall not be physically affected by liquid germicidal or cleaning solution.

(3) Floors subject to traffic while wet including showers and bath areas shall have a slip resistant surface.

(4) Wall finishes shall be washable and in the proximity of plumbing fixtures, shall be smooth and moisture resistant.

(5) In areas subject to wet cleaning, the intersection of the floor and wall shall be sealed with a coved base or a wood bases tightly sealed connection without voids.

(6) Floor and wall areas penetrated by pipes, ducts and conduits shall be tightly sealed to minimize entry of rodents and insects. Joints of structural elements shall be similarly sealed.

(7) Threshold and expansion joint covers shall be flush with the floor surface to facilitate use of wheelchairs and carts.

B. Water: The facility shall provide water in sufficient quantity to support all services provided and shall:

(1) insure that if the water is obtained from a private water system and not a publicly approved system, the water supply is inspected, tested and approved by the New Mexico environment department or appropriate authority prior to licensure; the facility shall be responsible for insuring that subsequent periodic testing and inspection of any private water systems is made at intervals prescribed by the New Mexico environment department or the legally responsible authority which oversees or inspects, tests, and approves the specific system;

(2) provide hot water at each hot water outlet at all times with hot water for hand washing facilities, tubs and showers not exceeding 120 degrees Fahrenheit at the delivery point.

C. Water heaters:

(1) Must be able to supply hot water to all hot water taps within the facility at full pressure during peak demand periods and maintain a maximum temperature of 120 degrees Fahrenheit.

(2) Must be enclosed and separated from other parts of the building premises by construction as required by applicable state and local building codes, if using fired fuel.

(3) Must be equipped with an operable pressure relief valve (pop-off-valve) which is tested on a schedule recommended by the manufacturer.

D. Sewage and waste disposal: The facility shall provide for proper sewage and waste disposal at all times including:

(1) If the facility sewage and liquid waste system is not part of an approved public system, the private sewage system must be inspected, tested and approved by the New Mexico environment department prior to licensure. The facility shall be responsible to insure that periodic testing or inspection of its private sewage disposal systems is made as required by the New Mexico environment department or the legally responsible authority which oversee or inspects the specific system.

(2) If municipal or community garbage collection and disposal services are not available, the method of collection and disposal of the facility's solid waste must be inspected and approved by the New Mexico environment department or the legally responsible authority which oversee or inspects the specific system.

(3) All external garbage and refuse receptacles must be kept clean, durable, have tight fitting lids, must be insect, rodent and animal proof, washable, leak proof, and constructed of materials which will not absorb liquids.

E. Environmental services: The facility shall provide:

(1) A separate lockable storage area or closet for environmental cleaning supplies.

(2) Proper disposal of all liquids and waste resulting from cleaning contaminated areas.

(3) Proper procedures shall be maintained, and techniques used, consistent with the facility's policies and procedures and applicable regulations for disposal of bio-waste and sanitary disposal of all other wastes.

F. Cleaning:

(1) The facility must be kept clean and free from offensive odors and accumulations of dirt, rubbish, dust, and safety hazards.

(2) Deodorizers must not be used to mask odors caused by unsanitary conditions or poor housekeeping practices.

(3) Safe and effective procedures for cleaning and sanitizing all facility areas and equipment shall be followed consistently to safeguard the health of the clients, staff, and visitors.

[8.370.17.39 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.40 MINIMUM LIGHTING AND ELECTRICAL STANDARDS:

A. Electrical standards: The facility shall provide that:

(1) all facility electrical sources, supplies, and equipment comply with all applicable national, state and local electrical codes;

(2) all circuit breakers or fused switches provide electrical disconnection and over current protection and are:

(a) readily accessible for use and maintenance;

(b) set apart from traffic lanes; and

(c) located in a dry, ventilated space.

(3) all panel boards servicing lighting and appliance circuits shall be on the same floor and in the same facility area as the circuits they serve; and

(4) each panel board shall be marked showing the service area of each circuit breaker or fused switch.

B. Lighting: The facility shall insure that:

(1) all spaces occupied by people, machinery or equipment within buildings, at outside building approaches and at parking areas have adequate lighting to prevent injury;

(2) lighting shall be sufficient to make all parts of an area clearly visible;

(3) lighting fixtures shall be shielded as required by code;

(4) lighting fixtures shall be selected and located for the comfort and convenience of the clients, staff and public; and

(5) a fixed or portable examination light shall be provided for all examination and birth rooms.

C. Electrical cords and electrical receptacles: Power strips may not be used as a substitute for adequate electrical outlets in a facility. Power strips may be used for a computer, monitor and printer. Power strips shall not be used with medical devices. The facility shall take precautions if power strips are used, including: installing internal ground fault and over-current protection devices, preventing cords from becoming tripping hazards, and using power strips that are adequate for the number and types of devices used. The facility shall take all necessary precautions to insure power overloads and excessive power demands on any circuit do not cause overheating or fire. Ground fault circuit interrupter (GFCI) shall be installed in locations near water sources to prevent electrocution of persons.

(1) All electrical cords and extension cords must be:

(a) U/L approved;

(b) replaced as soon as they show wear;

(c) not used under any circumstances as a general wiring method;

(d) plugged into an electrical receptacle within the room where used and not be connected in one room and extended to anything outside the room; and

(e) not be used in series.

(2) Electrical receptacles must be:

(a) installed as required by applicable codes;

(b) appropriately rated for each use and function; and

(c) any use of wall mounted outlets to expand the receptacle capacity or to be used as a surge protector and connected to any medical equipment is prohibited.

[8.370.17.40 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.41 MINIMUM HEATING, VENTILATION AND AIR CONDITIONING STANDARDS:

The facility shall provide and maintain heating, ventilating and air conditioning or air cooling systems sufficient to keep all facility occupants comfortable which include but are not limited to:

A. Heating, air- conditioning or air cooling, piping, boilers and ventilation equipment furnished, installed and maintained to meet all requirements of applicable state and local mechanical, electrical and construction codes.

B. Use of a heating method that consistently provides a minimum indoor winter design capacity of 75 degrees fahrenheit with accessible temperature adjustment controls appropriate for all occupants' comfort.

C. A prohibition against the use of unvented heaters, open flame heaters or portable heaters.

D. An ample supply of outside air shall be provided in all spaces where fuel fired boilers, furnaces or heaters are located to assure proper combustion.

E. All fuel fired boilers, furnaces or heaters shall be connected to an approved venting system which takes all combustion products directly to the outside air.

F. Adequate ventilation at all times to provide fresh air and the control of unpleasant odors inside the facility.

G. A one hundred percent automatic cutoff control valve in event of pilot failure for all gas- fired heating equipment.

H. A system for maintaining all occupants' comfort during periods of hot weather.

I. Protection of all boiler, furnace or heater rooms from other parts of the building by construction having a fire resistance rating of not less than one hour with doors that open to the interior being self-closing with a three-quarter hour fire resistance rating.

J. Filters having efficiencies as required by state codes for all central ventilation and air conditioning systems.

[8.370.17.41 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.42 FIRE SAFETY:

All current applicable requirements of state and local codes for fire prevention and safety must be met by the facility including, but not limited to:

A. Fire clearance and inspections: Each facility must request from the fire authority having jurisdiction an annual fire inspection. If the policy of the fire authority having jurisdiction does not provide for annual inspection of the freestanding birth center, the facility must document the date the request was made and to whom. If the fire authorities make annual inspections, a copy of the latest inspection must be kept on file in the facility.

B. Staff fire safety training:

(1) All facility staff must know the location of and be instructed in proper use of fire extinguishers and other procedures to be observed in case of fire or other emergencies. The facility shall request the fire authority having jurisdiction to give periodic instruction in fire prevention and techniques of evacuation.

(2) Facility staff must be instructed as part of their duties to constantly strive to detect and eliminate potential safety hazards, such as loose handrails, frayed electrical cords, faulty equipment, blocked exits or exit ways and any other condition which could cause burns, fall, or other personal injury.

(3) Fire and evacuation drills: The facility must conduct at a minimum on a quarterly basis at least one fire drill and evacuation drill. A log must be maintained by the facility showing the date, time, number of staff participating and outlining any problems noted in the conduct of the drill.

C. Evacuation plan and preparedness plans: Each facility must have a fire and disaster evacuation plan conspicuously posted in each separate area of the building showing routes of evacuation in case of fire or disaster or other emergency, as well as a disaster preparedness plan in the event of man-made or natural disaster.

D. Provisions for emergency calls: An easily accessible hard wired telephone for summoning help, in case of emergency, must be available in the facility and a list of emergency numbers, including, but not limited to, fire department, police department, ambulance services and poison control center must be prominently posted by the telephone(s).

E. Fire extinguishers:

(1) fire extinguishers as approved by the state fire marshal or fire prevention authority having jurisdiction must be located in the freestanding birth center;

(2) fire extinguishers must be properly maintained as recommended by the manufacturer, state fire marshal or fire authority having jurisdiction; and

(3) all fire extinguishers must be inspected yearly and recharged as specified by the manufacturer, state fire marshal or fire authority having jurisdiction; all fire extinguishers must be tagged, noting the date of inspection.

F. Alarm system: A manually operated, electrically supervised fire alarm system shall be installed in each facility as required by applicable national fire protection association (life safety code) 101 (NFPA 101). Facilities located in multi-story buildings must have a fire alarm system as required by NFPA 101.

G. Fire detection system: The facility must be equipped with smoke detectors as required by the NFPA 101 (life safety code) and approved as to number, type and placement in writing by the fire authority having jurisdiction.

8.370.17.43 INCORPORATED AND RELATED STATUTES, RULES AND CODES:

The facilities that are subject to this rule are also subject to other statutes, rules, codes and standards that may, from time to time, be amended, including all authorizing statutes under which any applicable regulations have been promulgated. Applicable regulations include, but are not limited to the following:

A. Health facility licensure fees and procedures, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.3 NMAC.

B. Health facility sanctions and civil monetary penalties, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.4 NMAC.

C. Adjudicatory hearings for licensed facilities, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

D. Caregiver's criminal history screening requirements, 8.370.5 NMAC.

E. Employee abuse registry, 8.370.8 NMAC.

F. Incident reporting, intake processing and training requirements, 8.370.9 NMAC.

[8.370.17.43 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.17.44 SEVERABILITY:

If any section or provision or application of these regulations is held to be invalid, the remainder and its application to other situations or persons shall not be affected or interfere with the remaining requirements provided by these regulations.

The use of the words "adequate", "proper", and other similar words means the degree of compliance that is generally accepted throughout the professional field by those who provide out-patient services to the public in facilities governed by these regulations.

[8.370.18.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.9 TYPES OF FACILITIES AND SCOPE OF SERVICES:

A. Ambulatory surgical center: means any distinct entity that operates exclusively for the purpose of providing surgical services without anticipation of overnight stay of patients. This type of facility may be integrated with the surgical department of an existing hospital and its outpatient department utilizing many of their services and resources. Those facilities which are freestanding may provide some services such as specialized diagnostic and laboratory by agreement or contract with another health care provider.

B. Diagnostic and treatment center: means a facility which provides a service to the public on an outpatient basis for the diagnosis and treatment of medical conditions not requiring hospitalization. Services provided are those diagnostic and therapeutic services commonly furnished in a physician's office or at the entry point into the health care delivery system. These include medical history, physical examination, assessment of health status and treatment for a variety of medical conditions.

C. Limited diagnostic and treatment center: means a facility which provides on an outpatient basis a limited scope of services. This type of facility provides services usually in only one or two areas of preventive health, such as family planning, hypertension, child health, prenatal, dental health etc; their services rely heavily on consultation, referral and counseling. Because of their limited scope of services and amounts of medical supplies and equipment less stringent standards in building and fire codes are permitted.

D. Rural health clinic: means a facility which provides services to the public in a rural area where there is a limited population and a shortage of physicians and other health care providers. Services are the same as those of a diagnostic and treatment center which are normally provided by a physician, but in a rural health clinic may be provided by a nurse practitioner or a physician's assistant. Facilities licensed as a rural health clinic must be located in a geographic area in which it has been determined by the New Mexico health care authority or federal government, through the use of indices and other standards set by them, that a shortage of physicians and health care personnel exist to provide primary health care to the citizens of that area.

E. Infirmary: is a short term emergency medical and nursing care facility of an educational institution which in conjunction with providing diagnostic and treatment services to the members, has on a continuing 24-hour basis, inpatient facilities and resources for short-term emergency medical and nursing care.

F. New or innovative clinic: When a professional organization has shown a need for a new or innovative type of outpatient service which does not fit into one of the categories of Subsections A through E of 8.370.18.9 NMAC of these regulations, it may be licensed at the sole discretion of the licensing authority, if all requirements outlined in 8.370.18.10 NMAC below have been met.

[8.370.18.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.10 INITIAL LICENSURE PROCEDURES:

To obtain an initial license for a facility pursuant to these regulations the following procedures must be followed by the applicant.

A. Initial Phase: These regulations should be thoroughly understood by the applicant and used as a reference for design of a new building or renovation or addition to an existing building for licensure as a facility pursuant to these regulations. Prior to starting construction, renovations or additions to an existing building the applicant of the proposed facility shall:

(1) advise the licensing authority of intention to open a facility pursuant to these regulations and depending on the type of facility submit the following:

(a) ambulatory surgical centers, diagnostic and treatment centers, rural health clinics and infirmaries will submit a complete set of construction documents (blueprints) for the total building;

(b) limited diagnostic and treatment centers will submit a set of floor plans for the building which must be of professional quality, be on substantial paper of at least 18" x 24", and be drawn to an accurate scale of 1/4" to 1'; these plans must include:

(i) proposed use of each room e.g., waiting room, examination room, office, etc.;

(ii) interior dimensions of all rooms;

(iii) one building or wall section showing exterior and interior wall construction; section must include floor, wall, ceiling, and the finishes, e.g., carpet, tile, gyp board with paint, wood paneling;

(iv) door types, swing, and sizes of all doors, e.g. solid core, hollow core, 3'0" x 6'8", 1 3/4" thick;

(v) if building is air conditioned;

(vi) indicate all sinks, tubs, showers;

(vii) indicate furnaces, and hot water heaters and if fuel fired, or electric;

(viii) indicate windows to include size and type;

(ix) indicate any level changes within the building e.g. steps or ramps;

(x) indicate fire extinguishers, heat and smoke detectors and alarm systems;

(xi) locate the building on a site/plot plan to determine surrounding conditions, include all steps, ramps, parking areas, walks, and any permanent structures;

(xii) indicate on plans if building is new construction, remodeled or alteration, or an addition; if remodeled or an addition indicate existing and new construction on the plans;

(2) the proposed facility must also submit to the licensing authority a functional program outline that provides the following information:

(a) scope of services to be provided by the proposed facility;

(b) projected number of patients to be served daily;

(c) number of staff and duties to be performed;

(d) services that will be contracted or arranged with another health provider i.e.; x-ray, laboratory, etc.;

(e) number of examination rooms, operating rooms, treatment rooms, and other rooms for diagnostic use such as x-ray, laboratory, etc.;

(3) new or innovative outpatient services will also submit a proposal to the licensing authority for review and approval; the proposal must include at least the following:

(a) information supporting the need for a special type of outpatient service;

(b) explanation of the special problems and needs of the patients who will be receiving services;

(c) specify portions of these regulations with which the new or innovative outpatient services would be in conflict;

(d) information on how the proposed facility would resolve these conflicts with alternative measures which would meet the intent of these regulations, e.g., increased staffing or fire and safety precautions;

(4) if at its sole discretion the licensing authority approves the proposal for the new or innovative outpatient services, a license may be granted with variances for those portions of the regulations with which the program would be in conflict;

(5) blueprints or floor plans will be reviewed by the licensing authority for compliance with current licensing regulations building and fire codes;

(6) if blueprints or plans are approved the licensing authority will advise the applicant that construction may begin.

B. Construction phase: During the construction of a new building or renovations or additions to an existing building the applicant must coordinate with the licensing authority and submit any changes to the blueprints or plans for approval before making such changes.

C. Licensing phase: Prior to completion of construction, renovation or addition to an existing building the applicant will submit to the licensing authority the following:

(1) Application form:

(a) will be provided by the licensing authority;

(b) all information requested on the application must be provided;

(c) will be printed or typed;

(d) will be dated and signed;

(e) will be notarized.

(2) Fees: all applications for licensure must be accompanied by the required fee.

(a) Current fee schedules will be provided by the licensing authority.

(b) Fees must be in the form of a certified check, money order, personal, or business check made payable to the state of New Mexico.

(c) Fees are non refundable.

(3) Zoning and building approval:

(a) All initial applications must be accompanied with written zoning approval from the appropriate authority (city, county or municipality).

(b) All initial applications must be accompanied with written building approval (certificate of occupancy) from the appropriate authority (city, county, or municipality).

(4) Fire authority approval: all initial applications must be accompanied with written approval of the fire authority having jurisdiction.

(5) New Mexico environment department approval: all initial applications must be accompanied by written approval of the New Mexico environment department for the following:

(a) private water supply, if applicable;

(b) private waste or sewage disposal, if applicable;

(c) kitchen approval for infirmaries if meals are prepared on site;

(d) x-ray installation, if applicable.

(6) Copy of appropriate drug permit issued by the state board of pharmacy.

D. Initial survey: Upon receipt of a properly completed application with all supporting documentation as outlined above an initial survey of the proposed facility will be scheduled by the licensing authority.

E. Issuance of license: Upon completion of the initial survey and determination that the facility is in compliance with these regulations the licensing authority will issue a license.

[8.370.18.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.11 LICENSES:

A. Annual license: An annual license is issued for a one year period to a facility which has met all requirements of these regulations.

B. Temporary license: The licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, issue a temporary license prior to the initial survey, or when it finds partial compliance with these regulations.

(1) A temporary license shall cover a period of time, not to exceed 120 days, during which the facility must correct all specified deficiencies.

(2) In accordance with Subsection D of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, no more than two consecutive temporary licenses shall be issued.

C. Amended license: A licensee must apply to the licensing authority for an amended license when there is a change of administrator/director or when there is a change of name for the facility.

(1) Application must be on a form provided by the licensing authority.

(2) Application must be accompanied by the required fee for amended license.

(3) Application must be submitted within 10 working days of the change.

[8.370.18.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.12 LICENSE RENEWAL:

A. Licensee must submit a renewal application on forms provided by the licensing authority, along with the required fee at least 30 days prior to expiration of the current license.

B. Upon receipt of renewal application and required fee prior to expiration of their current license, the licensing authority will issue a new license effective the day following the date of expiration of the current license if the facility is in substantial compliance with these regulations.

C. If a licensee fails to submit a renewal application with the required fee and the current license expires, the facility shall cease operations until it obtains a new license through the initial licensure procedures. Subsection A of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, as amended, provides that no health facility shall be operated without a license.

[8.370.18.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.13 POSTING OF LICENSE:

The facility's license must be posted in a conspicuous place on the licensed premises in an area visible to the public.

[8.370.18.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.14 NONTRANSFERABLE RESTRICTION ON LICENSE:

A. A license shall not be transferred by assignment or otherwise to other persons or locations. The license shall be void and must be returned to the licensing authority when any one of the following situations occurs:

(1) ownership of the facility changes;

(2) the facility changes location;

(3) licensee of the facility changes;

(4) the facility discontinues operation.

B. A facility wishing to continue operation as a licensed facility under circumstances Paragraphs (1) - (4) of Subsection A of 8.370.18.14 NMAC above must submit an application for initial licensure in accordance with 8.370.18.10 NMAC of these regulations at least 30 days prior to the anticipated change.

[8.370.18.14 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.15 AUTOMATIC EXPIRATION OF LICENSE:

A license will automatically expire at midnight on the day indicated on the license as the expiration date, unless sooner renewed, suspended, or revoked: or

A. on the day a facility discontinues operation; or

B. on the day a facility is sold, leased, or otherwise changes ownership or license; or

C. on the day a facility changes location.

[8.370.18.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.16 SUSPENSION OF LICENSE WITHOUT PRIOR HEARING:

In accordance with Subsection H of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, if immediate action is required to protect human health and safety, the licensing authority may suspend a license pending a hearing, provided such hearing is held within five working days of the suspension, unless waived by the licensee.

[8.370.18.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.17 GROUNDS FOR REVOCATION OR SUSPENSION OF LICENSE, DENIAL OF INITIAL OR RENEWAL APPLICATION FOR LICENSE, OR IMPOSITION OF INTERMEDIATE SANCTIONS OR CIVIL MONETARY PENALTIES:

A license may be revoked or suspended, an initial or renewal application for license may be denied, or intermediate sanctions or civil monetary penalties may be imposed after notice and opportunity for a hearing, for any of the following:

A. failure to comply with any provision of these regulations;

B. failure to allow survey by authorized representatives of the licensing authority;

C. any person active in the operation of a facility licensed pursuant to these regulations shall not be under the influence of alcohol or narcotics or convicted of a felony;

D. misrepresentation or falsification of any information on application forms or other documents provided to the licensing authority;

E. discovery of repeat violations of these regulations during surveys; or

F. failure to provide the required care and services as outlined by these regulations for the patients receiving care at the facility.

[8.370.18.17 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.18 HEARING PROCEDURES:

A. Hearing procedures for an administrative appeal of an adverse action taken by the licensing authority against a facility's license as outlined in 8.370.18.16 and 8.370.18.17 NMAC above will be held in accordance with adjudicatory hearings, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

B. A copy of the above regulations will be furnished to a facility at the time an adverse action is taken against its license by the licensing authority. A copy may be requested at any time by contacting the licensing authority.

8.370.18.19 CURRENTLY LICENSED FACILITIES:

Any facility currently licensed on the date these regulations are promulgated and which provides the services prescribed under these regulations, but which fails to meet all building requirements, may continue to be licensed under the appropriate type of outpatient facility.

A. Variance may be granted for those building requirements the facility cannot meet provided the variances granted will not create a hazard to the health, safety and welfare of the patients and staff; and

B. the building requirements for which variances are granted cannot be corrected without an unreasonable expense to the facility; and

C. variances granted will be recorded and made a permanent part of the facility file.

[8.370.18.19 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.20 NEW FACILITY:

A. A new facility may be opened in an existing building or a newly constructed building. If opened in an existing building a variance may be granted for those building requirements the facility cannot meet under the same criteria outlined in Subsections A, B and C of 8.370.18.19 NMAC of these regulations, if not in conflict with existing building and fire codes. This is at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

B. A new facility opened in a newly constructed building must meet all requirements of these regulations.

8.370.18.21 FACILITY SURVEYS:

A. Application for licensure, whether initial or renewal, shall constitute permission for entry into and survey of a facility by authorized licensing authority representatives at reasonable times during the pendency of the application and, if licensed, during the licensure period.

B. Surveys may be announced or unannounced at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

C. Upon receipt of a notice of deficiency from the licensing authority the licensee or their representative will be required to submit a plan of correction to the licensing authority within 10 working days stating how the facility intends to correct each violation noted and the expected date of completion.

D. The licensing authority may at its sole discretion accept the plan of correction as written or require modifications of the plan by the licensee.

8.370.18.22 REPORTING OF INCIDENTS:

All facilities licensed pursuant to these regulations must report to the licensing authority any serious incident or unusual occurrence which has, or could threaten the health, safety, and welfare of the patients or staff, such as but not limited to:

A. fire, flood, or other natural disaster which creates structural damages to the facility or poses health hazards;

B. any serious outbreak of contagious diseases dangerous to the public health;

C. any serious human errors by staff members of the facility which has resulted in the death, serious illness, or physical impairment of a patient; or

D. in accordance with Section 8A of the "Resident, Abuse, and Neglect Act".

[8.370.18.22 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.23 QUALITY ASSURANCE:

All facilities licensed pursuant to these regulations must have an ongoing, comprehensive self- assessment of the services provided by the facility. The assessment must include the total operation of the facility.

A. To be considered comprehensive the assessment for quality assurance must include, but is not limited to the following:

(1) condition of patients and services rendered;

(2) completeness of patient records;

(3) organization of the facility;

(4) administration;

(5) staff utilization and training; and

(6) policies and procedures.

B. Where problems (or potential problems) are identified, the facility must act as soon as possible to avoid any risks to patients such as, but not limited to the following:

(1) changes in policies and procedures;

(2) staffing and assignment changes;

(3) additional education and training for the staff;

(4) changes in equipment or physical plant; or

(5) deletion or addition of services.

C. The governing body of the facility shall ensure that the effectiveness of the quality assurance program is evaluated by medical and administrative staff at least once a year. If the evaluation is not done all at once, no more than a year must lapse between evaluations of the same parts.

D. Documentation of the quality assurance program must be maintained by the facility.

8.370.18.24 PATIENT RECORDS:

Each facility licensed pursuant to these regulations must maintain a medical record for each patient. Every record must be accurate, legible and promptly completed. Medical records must include at least the following:

A. Ambulatory surgical centers:

(1) patient identification;

(2) significant medical history and results of physical examination;

(3) pre- operative diagnostic studies (entered before surgery), if performed;

(4) findings and techniques of the operation, including a pathologist's report on all tissues removed during surgery, except those exempted by the governing body;

(5) any allergies and abnormal drug reactions;

(6) entries related to anesthesia administration;

(7) documentation of properly executed informed patient consent; and

(8) discharge diagnosis;

B. Diagnostic and treatment centers, rural health clinics, limited diagnostic and treatment centers:

(1) patient identification;

(2) patient consent forms (if applicable);

(3) pertinent medical history;

(4) assessment of the health status and health care needs of the patient;

(5) brief summary of the episode for which the patient is requiring care;

(6) disposition, and instructions to the patient;

(7) reports of physical examinations, diagnostic and laboratory test results, and consultative findings; and

(8) all physician's orders, reports of treatments and medication and other pertinent information necessary to monitor the patient's progress;

C. Infirmaries:

(1) same as Paragraphs (1) through (8) of Subsection B of 8.370.18.24 NMAC above;

(2) nursing notes (for those patients requiring overnight care or observation); and

(3) medication chart (if applicable);

D. New or innovative outpatient service:

(1) same as Paragraphs (1) through (8) of Subsection B of 8.370.18.24 NMAC above;

(2) any other information deemed necessary by the licensing authority after review and approval of the new or innovative service.

[8.370.18.24 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.25 REPORTS AND RECORDS REQUIRED TO BE ON FILE IN THE FACILITY:

Each facility licensed pursuant to these regulations must keep the following reports and records on file and make them available for review upon request of the licensing authority.

A. A copy of the latest fire inspection report by the fire authority having jurisdiction.

B. A copy of the last survey conducted by the licensing authority and any variances granted.

C. Record of fire and emergency evacuation drills conducted by the facility.

D. Licensing regulations: A copy of these regulations: Requirements For Facilities Providing Outpatient Medical Services and Infirmaries, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.18 NMAC.

E. Health certificates of staff.

F. A copy of the current license, registration or certificate, of each staff member for which a license, registration, or certification is required by the state of New Mexico.

G. Latest inspection by New Mexico environment department of radiological equipment, if applicable.

H. Valid drug permit as required by the state board of pharmacy.

I. Agreements or contracts with other health care providers to provide services not available in the facility, if applicable.

J. Latest inspection of drug room by state board of pharmacy.

K. New Mexico environment department approval of private water system, if applicable.

L. New Mexico environment department approval of private waste or sewage disposal, if applicable.

8.370.18.26 PATIENT RIGHTS:

A. All facilities licensed pursuant to these regulations shall support, protect and enhance the rights of patients as shown below:

(1) the right to efficient and equal service, regardless of their race, sex, religion, ethnic background, education, social class, physical or mental handicap, or economic status;

(2) the right of considerate, courteous and respectful care from all staff of the facility;

(3) the right of complete information in terms the average patient can reasonably be expected to understand;

(4) the right to informed consent and full discussion of risks and benefits prior to any invasive procedure, except in an emergency; alternatives to the proposed procedure must be discussed with the patient;

(5) the right to obtain assistance in interpretation for non-English speaking patients;

(6) the right to know the names, titles, and professions of the facility staff to whom the patient's speaks and from whom services or information are received;

(7) the right to refuse examination, discussion and procedures to the extent permitted by law and to be informed of the health and legal consequences of this refusal;

(8) the right of access to patient's personal health records;

(9) the right of respect for the patient's privacy;

(10) the right of confidentiality of the patient's personal health records as provided by law;

(11) the right to expect reasonable continuity of care within the scope of services and staffing of the facility;

(12) the right to respect for the patient's civil rights and religious opinions;

(13) the right to present complaints to the management of the facility without fear of reprisal;

(14) the right to examine and receive a full explanation of any charges made by the facility regardless of source of payment.

B. Facility staff shall be informed of and demonstrate their understanding of the policies on patient rights and responsibilities through orientation and in-service training activities.

C. Patient rights will be posted in the facility both in English and Spanish where they may be readily seen by the public.

D. The method by which a patient may register a complaint will be posted in the facility where it may be readily seen by the public.

[8.370.18.26 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.27 STAFF RECORDS:

Each facility licensed pursuant to these regulations must maintain a complete record on file for each staff member or volunteer working more than half-time. Staff records will be made available for review upon request of the licensing authority.

A. Staff records will contain at least the following:

(1) name;

(2) address and telephone number;

(3) position for which employed;

(4) date of employment;

(5) health certificate stating that the employee is free from tuberculosis in a transmissible form as required by New Mexico health care authority regulations, control of communicable disease in health facility personnel, 7.4.4 NMAC.

B. A daily attendance record of all staff must be kept in the facility.

C. The facility must keep weekly or monthly schedules of all staff. These schedules must be kept on file for at least six months.

[8.370.18.27 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.28 POLICIES AND PROCEDURES:

A. All facilities licensed pursuant to these regulations must have written policies and procedures for the following:

(1) quality assurance program;

(2) maintenance of building and equipment;

(3) fire and evacuation;

(4) staff development and evaluation;

(5) administration and preparation of drugs;

(6) referral of patients.

B. Ambulatory surgical center: In addition to those policies and procedures listed in Subsection A of 8.370.18.28 NMAC of these regulations, ambulatory surgical centers must have the following policies and procedures:

(1) transfer of patients to hospital for patients requiring emergency care;

(2) for ambulance services if applicable;

(3) transfer of medical information;

(4) resuscitative techniques;

(5) aseptic techniques and scrub procedures;

(6) care of surgical specimens;

(7) protocols of surgical procedures;

(8) cleaning of operating room after each use;

(9) sterilization and disinfection;

(10) operating room attire;

(11) care of anesthesia equipment;

(12) special provision for infected or contaminated patients; and

(13) inspection and maintenance of emergency equipment in operating room.

C. Infirmaries: In addition to those policies and procedures listed in Subsection A of 8.370.18.28 NMAC of these regulations, infirmaries must have the following policies and procedures:

(1) inpatient care;

(2) transfer of patients to hospital.

D. New or innovative outpatient services: In addition to those policies and procedures listed in Subsection A of 8.370.18.28 NMAC of these regulations, may have others required by the licensing authority after review of program and approval of the new or innovative service.

[8.370.18.28 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.29 GENERAL BUILDING REQUIREMENTS:

A. New construction, additions and alterations: When construction of new buildings, additions, or alterations to existing buildings are contemplated, plans and specifications covering all portions of the work must be submitted to the licensing authority for plan review and approval prior to beginning actual construction. When an addition or alteration is contemplated, plans for the entire facility must be submitted.

B. Access to the handicapped: All outpatient facilities licensed pursuant to these regulations must be accessible to and useable by handicapped employees, staff, visitors, and patients.

C. Extent of a facility: All buildings of the premises providing patient care and services will be considered part of the facility and must meet all requirements of these regulations. Where a part of the facility services are contained in another facility, separation and access shall be maintained as described in current building and fire codes.

D. Additional requirements: A facility applying for licensure pursuant to these regulations may have additional requirements not contained herein. The complexity of building and fire codes and requirements of city, county, or municipal governments may require these additional requirements. Any additional requirements will be outlined by the appropriate building and fire authorities, and by the licensing authority through plan review, consultation and on-site surveys during the licensing process.

[8.370.18.29 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.30 MAINTENANCE OF BUILDING AND GROUNDS:

Facilities must maintain the building(s) in good repair at all times. Such maintenance shall include, but is not limited to, the following.

A. All electrical, signaling, mechanical, water supply, heating, fire protection, and sewage disposal systems must be maintained in a safe and functioning condition, including regular inspections of these systems.

B. All equipment used for patient care shall be maintained clean and in good repair.

C. All furniture and furnishings must be kept clean and in good repair.

D. The grounds of the facility must be maintained in a safe and sanitary condition at all times.

[8.370.18.30 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.31 HOUSEKEEPING:

A. The facility must be kept free from offensive odors and accumulations of dirt, rubbish, dust, and safety hazards.

B. Examination rooms, operating rooms, patient rooms, waiting areas and other areas of daily usage must be cleaned daily.

C. Floors and walls must be constructed of a finish that can be easily cleaned. Floor polishes shall provide a slip resistant finish.

D. Bathrooms, lavatories, and drinking fountains must be cleaned as often as necessary to maintain a clean and sanitary condition.

E. Deodorizers must not be used to mask odors caused by unsanitary conditions or poor housekeeping practices.

F. Storage areas must be kept free from accumulation of refuse, discarded equipment, furniture, paper, and the like.

[8.370.18.31 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.32 WATER:

A. A facility licensed pursuant to these regulations must be provided with an adequate supply of water which is of a safe and sanitary quality suitable for domestic use.

B. If the water supply is not obtained from an approved public system, the private water system must be inspected, tested, and approved by the New Mexico environment department prior to licensure. It is the facility's responsibility to insure that subsequent periodic testing or inspection of such private water systems be made at intervals prescribed by the New Mexico environment department or recognized authority.

C. Hot and cold running water under pressure must be distributed at sufficient pressure to operate all fixtures and equipment during maximum demand periods.

D. Backflow preventors (vacuum breakers) must be installed on hose bibs, laboratory sinks, janitor's sinks, and on all other water fixtures to which hoses or tubing can be attached.

E. Water distribution systems are arranged to provide hot water at each hot water outlet at all times. Hot water to hand washing facilities must not exceed 120 degrees farenheit.

[8.370.18.32 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.33 SEWAGE AND WASTE DISPOSAL:

A. All sewage and liquid wastes must be disposed of into a municipal sewage system where such facilities are available.

B. Where a municipal sewage system is not available, the system used must be inspected and approved by the New Mexico environment department or recognized local authority.

C. Where municipal or community garbage collection and disposal service are not available, the method of collection and disposal of solid wastes generated by the facility must be inspected and approved by the New Mexico environment department or recognized local authority.

D. Infectious waste: Facilities licensed pursuant to these regulations which generate infectious waste must insure that the method of disposal of such wastes meets the requirements of the New Mexico environment department or recognized local authority.

E. All garbage and refuse receptacles must be durable, have tight fitting lids, must be insect and rodent proof, washable, leak proof and constructed of materials which will not absorb liquids. Receptacles must be kept clean.

[8.370.18.33 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.34 FIRE SAFETY COMPLIANCE:

All current applicable requirements of state and local codes for fire prevention and safety must be met by the facility.

[8.370.18.34 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.35 FIRE CLEARANCE AND INSPECTIONS:

Each facility must request from the fire authority having jurisdiction an annual fire inspection. If the policy of the fire authority having jurisdiction does not provide for annual inspection of the facility, the facility must document the date the request was made and to whom. If the fire authorities do make annual inspections, a copy of the latest inspection must be kept on file in the facility.

[8.370.18.35 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.36 STAFF FIRE AND SAFETY TRAINING:

A. All staff of the facility must know the location of and instructed in proper use of fire extinguishers and other procedures to be observed in case of fire or other emergencies. The facility should request the fire authority having jurisdiction to give periodic instruction in fire prevention and techniques of evacuation.

B. Facility staff must be instructed as part of their duties to constantly strive to detect and eliminate potential safety hazards, such as loose handrails, frayed electrical cords, faulty equipment, blocked exits or exit ways, and any other condition which could cause burns, falls, or other personal injury to the patients or staff.

C. Fire and evacuation drills: The facility must conduct at least one fire and evacuation drill each month. A log must be maintained by the facility showing the date, time, number of staff participating and outlining any problems noted in the conduct of the drill.

8.370.18.37 EVACUATION PLAN:

Each facility must have a fire evacuation plan conspicuously posted in each separate area of the building showing routes of evacuation in case of fire or other emergency.

[8.370.18.37 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.38 PROVISIONS FOR EMERGENCY CALLS:

A. An easily accessible telephone for summoning help, in case of emergency, must be available in the facility.

B. A list of emergency numbers, including, but not limited to, fire department, police department, ambulance services, and poison control center must be prominently posted by the telephone(s).

[8.370.18.38 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.39 FIRE EXTINGUISHERS:

A. Fire extinguishers as approved by the state fire marshal or fire prevention authority having jurisdiction must be located in the facility.

B. Fire extinguishers must be properly maintained as recommended by the manufacturer, state fire marshal or fire authority having jurisdiction.

C. All fire extinguishers must be inspected yearly and recharged as specified by the manufacturer, state fire marshal, or fire authority having jurisdiction. All fire extinguishers must be tagged, noting the date of inspection.

8.370.18.40 ALARM SYSTEM:

A manually operated, electrically supervised fire alarm system shall be installed in each facility as required by national fire protection association 101 (life safety code). Infirmaries, ambulatory surgical centers, and multiple story facilities require manual alarm systems.

[8.370.18.40 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.41 FIRE DETECTION SYSTEM:

The facility must be equipped with smoke detectors as required by the NFPA 101 (life safety code) and approved in writing by the fire authority having jurisdiction as to number type and placement.

[8.370.18.41 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.42 JANITORS CLOSET(S):

A. Each facility shall have at least one janitor's closet. If a facility is more than one story there must be a janitor's closet on each floor.

B. Each janitor's closet shall contain:

(1) a service sink;

(2) storage for housekeeping supplies and equipment.

C. Each janitor's closet must be vented.

D. Janitor's closet is a hazardous area and must be provided with one-hour fire separation and 1 3/4" solid core door.

[8.370.18.42 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.43 EMERGENCY LIGHTING:

A. A facility must be provided with emergency lighting which will activate automatically upon disruption of electrical service.

B. The emergency lighting must be sufficient to illuminate paths of egress and exits of the facility.

C. Facilities utilizing general anesthesia or life support equipment shall be provided essential electrical services in accordance with national fire protection association 99. Standard for health care facilities.

[8.370.18.43 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.44 ELECTRICAL STANDARDS:

A. All electrical installation and equipment must comply with all current state and local codes.

B. Circuit breakers or fused switches that provide electrical disconnection and over current protection shall be:

(1) enclosed or guarded to provide a dead front assembly;

(2) readily accessible for use and maintenance;

(3) set apart from traffic lanes;

(4) located in a dry, ventilated space, free of corrosive fumes or gases;

(5) able to operate properly in all temperature conditions;

(6) panel boards servicing lighting and appliance circuits shall be on the same floor and in the same facility area as the circuits they serve;

(7) each panel board will be marked showing the area each circuit breaker or fused switch services;

(8) the use of jumpers or devices to bypass circuit breakers or fused switches is prohibited.

[8.370.18.44 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.45 LIGHTING:

The facility must meet the following requirements for lighting:

A. all spaces occupied by people, machinery, or equipment within buildings, approaches to buildings, and parking lots shall have lighting;

B. lighting will be sufficient to make all parts of the area clearly visible;

C. all lighting fixtures must be shielded;

D. lighting fixtures must be selected and located with the comfort and convenience of the staff and patients in mind;

E. a fixed or portable examination light must be provided for all examination and treatment rooms.

[8.370.18.45 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.46 ELECTRICAL CORDS AND ELECTRICAL RECEPTACLES:

A. Electrical cords and extension cords:

(1) Electrical cords and extension cords must be U/L approved.

(2) Electrical cords and extension cords must be replaced as soon as they show wear.

(3) Under no circumstances shall extension cords be used as a general wiring method.

(4) Extension cords must be plugged into an electrical receptacle within the room where used and must not be connected in one room and extended to some other room.

(5) Extension cords must not be used in series.

B. Electrical receptacles:

(1) Duplex grounded type electrical receptacles (convenience outlets) must be installed in all areas in sufficient quantities for tasks to be performed as needed. Each examination or work table must have access to a minimum of two duplex receptacles. Exception: Limited diagnostic and treatment centers are only required to have access to one duplex receptacle for examination or work tables.

(2) The use of multiple sockets (gang plugs) in electrical receptacles is strictly prohibited.

[8.370.18.46 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.47 HEATING, VENTILATION AND AIR CONDITIONING:

A. Heating, air- conditioning, piping, boilers, and ventilation equipment must be furnished, installed and maintained to meet all requirements of current state and local mechanical, electrical, and construction codes.

B. The heating method used by the facility must have a minimum indoor-winter-design- capacity of 75 degrees Fahrenheit with controls provided for adjusting temperature as appropriate for patient and staff comfort.

C. The use of unvented heaters, open flame heaters or portable heaters is prohibited.

D. An ample supply of outside air must be provided in all spaces where fuel fired boilers, furnaces, or heaters are located to assure proper combustion.

E. All fuel fired boilers, furnaces, or heaters must be connected to an approved venting system to take the products of combustion directly to the outside air.

F. A facility must be adequately ventilated at all times to provide fresh air and the control of unpleasant odors.

G. All gas-fired heating equipment must be provided with a one-hundred percent automatic cutoff control valve in event of pilot failure.

H. The facility must be provided with a system for maintaining patients and staff's comfort during periods of hot weather.

I. All boiler, furnace or heater rooms shall be protected from other parts of the building by construction having a fire resistance rating of not less than one hour. Door must be self-closing with 3/4 hour fire resistance.

J. Operating room supply air shall be provided from ceiling outlets near the center of the work area. Return air from floor level with at least two return inlets located as remote as possible shall be provided.

K. All central ventilation and air condition systems shall be provided filters having efficiencies greater than twenty-five percent. Operating rooms shall have ninety percent filter efficiencies.

[8.370.18.47 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.48 WATER HEATERS:

A. Must be able to supply hot water to all hot water taps within the facility at full pressure during peak demand periods and maintain a maximum temperature of 120 degrees farenheit.

B. Fuel fired hot water heaters must be enclosed and separated from other parts of the building by construction as required by current state and local building codes.

C. All water heaters must be equipped with a pressure relief valve (pop-off-valve).

[8.370.18.48 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.49 RADIOLOGY:

A. All facilities licensed pursuant to these regulations which provide radiological services to include portable and dental units must meet the requirements of the New Mexico environment department for installation and use of the radiological equipment.

B. For those facilities providing radiological services the following is required:

(1) radiographic room meeting the requirements as stated in Subsection A of 8.370.18.49 NMAC above;

(2) film processing facilities;

(3) storage facilities for exposed film;

(4) toilet room with hand washing facilities accessible to fluoroscopy room(s), if fluoroscopic procedures are part of the services; and

(5) dressing rooms or booths, as required by services provided with convenient toilet access.

[8.370.18.49 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.50 TOILETS, LAVATORIES AND BATHING FACILITIES:

A. All fixtures and plumbing must be installed in accordance with current state and local plumbing codes.

B. All toilets must be enclosed and vented.

C. All toilet rooms must be provided with a lavatory for hand washing.

D. All toilets must be kept supplied with toilet paper.

E. All lavatories for hand washing, except those for scrub purposes in ambulatory surgical centers, must be kept supplied with disposable towels for hand drying or provided with mechanical blower.

F. Hand washing lavatories for staff in patient care areas shall be trimmed with valves that can be operated without hands (single-level devices may be used if they meet this requirement).

G. Where blade handles are used, they shall not exceed four and a half inches, except that handles on clinical sinks shall not be less than six inches.

H. The number of and location of toilets, lavatories and bathing facilities will be mandated by requirements for each type facility. Such factors as extent of services provided and size of facility will also dictate requirements.

[8.370.18.50 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.51 EXITS:

A. Each facility and each floor of a facility shall have exits as required/permitted by national fire protection association 101 (life safety code).

B. Each exit must be marked by illuminated signs having letters at least six inches high whose principle strokes are at least three- fourths of an inch wide. Exception: Limited diagnostic and treatment centers may in some cases not be required to have the illuminated exit signs but may use non-illuminated signs meeting the requirements as shown above.

C. Illuminated exit signs must be maintained in operable condition at all times.

D. Exit ways must be kept free from obstructions at all times.

E. Exit doors:

(1) Exit doors to all exit or exit access doors must be at least 36" wide.

(2) Ambulatory surgical centers that use general anesthesia or have patients on life support equipment must have exit doors 44" in width.

[8.370.18.51 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.52 CORRIDORS:

A. Ambulatory surgical centers:

(1) Minimum corridor width shall be six feet.

(2) In operating room and surgical suites where patients are transported on stretchers or beds, corridors will have a width of eight feet.

B. All other facilities: minimum corridor width shall be five feet except work corridors less than six feet in length may be four feet in width.

C. Facilities will often be contained within existing commercial or residential buildings and less stringent corridor widths may be allowed other than those contained in Subsection B of 8.370.18.52 NMAC above if not in conflict with building or fire codes and approved by the licensing authority prior to occupying the facility.

[8.370.18.52 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.18.53 DOORS:

A. The minimum door width for patient's use shall be 34" in width.

B. Patient room doors in infirmaries shall be 44" in width 1 3/4" solid core.

C. Operating rooms and recovery rooms shall have a minimum door width of 44".

D. Examination and treatment rooms shall have a minimum door width of 36".

[8.370.19.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.10 INITIAL LICENSURE PROCEDURES:

No license shall be issued without the following:

A. Receipt of the application with all attachments listed in Section 9 of these regulations.

B. Survey conducted by the licensing authority.

8.370.19.11 INITIAL SURVEY:

Upon receipt of a properly completed application and all required documentation an initial survey of the proposed hospice facility or agency will be scheduled by the licensing authority.

[8.370.19.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.12 ISSUANCE OF LICENSE:

Upon completion of the initial survey and determination that the hospice facility or agency is in compliance with these regulations the licensing authority will issue a license.

[8.370.19.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.13 LICENSES:

A. Annual license: An annual license is issued for a one year period to a hospice facility which has met all requirements of these regulations.

B. Temporary license: The licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, issue a temporary license prior to the initial survey, or when the licensing authority finds partial compliance with these regulations.

(1) A temporary license shall cover a period of time, not to exceed 120 days, during which the facility must correct all specified deficiencies.

(2) In accordance with Subsection D of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, no more than two consecutive temporary licenses shall be issued.

C. Amended license: A licensee must apply to the licensing authority for an amended license when there is a change of administrator/director, or when there is a change of name for the facility.

(1) Application must be on a form provided by the licensing authority.

(2) Application must be accompanied by the required fee for amended license.

(3) Application must be submitted within 10 working days of the change.

[8.370.19.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.14 LICENSE RENEWAL:

A. Licensee must submit a renewal application on forms provided by the licensing authority, along with the required fee at least 30 days prior to expiration of the current license.

B. Upon receipt of renewal application and required fee prior to expiration of current license, the licensing authority will issue a new license effective the day following the date of expiration of the current license if the facility is in substantial compliance with these regulations.

C. If a licensee fails to submit a renewal application with the required fee and the current license expires, the hospice facility shall cease operations until it obtains a new license through the initial licensure procedures. Subsection A of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, as amended, provides that no health facility shall be operated without a license.

8.370.19.15 NON-TRANSFERABLE RESTRICTION ON LICENSE:

A license shall not be transferred by assignment or otherwise to other persons or locations. The license shall be void and must be returned to the licensing authority when any one of the following situations occur:

A. ownership of the facility changes;

B. the facility changes location;

C. licensee of the facility changes;

D. the facility discontinues operation;

E. a facility wishing to continue operation as a licensed hospice facility under circumstances found in Subsections A through D of 8.370.19.15 NMAC above must submit an application for initial licensure in accordance with 8.370.19.10 NMAC of these regulations, at least 30 days prior to the anticipated change.

[8.370.19.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.16 AUTOMATIC EXPIRATION OF LICENSE:

A license will automatically expire at midnight on the day indicated on the license as the expiration date, unless sooner renewed, suspended, or revoked, or:

A. on the day a facility discontinues operation;

B. on the day a facility is sold, leased, or otherwise changes ownership or licensee;

C. on the day a facility changes location.

[8.370.19.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.17 SUSPENSION OF LICENSE WITHOUT PRIOR HEARING:

In accordance with Subsection H of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, if immediate action is required to protect human health and safety, the licensing authority may suspend a license pending a hearing, provided such hearing is held within five working days of the suspension, unless waived by the licensee.

[8.370.19.17 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.18 GROUNDS FOR REVOCATION OR SUSPENSION OF LICENSE, DENIAL OF INITIAL OR RENEWAL APPLICATION FOR LICENSE, OR IMPOSITION OF INTERMEDIATE SANCTIONS OR CIVIL MONETARY PENALTIES:

A license may be revoked or suspended, an initial or renewal application for license may be denied, or intermediate sanctions or civil monetary penalties may be imposed after notice and opportunity for a hearing, for any of the following reasons:

A. failure to comply with any provision of these regulations;

B. failure to allow survey by authorized representatives of the licensing authority;

C. any person active in the operation of a facility licensed pursuant to these regulations shall not be under the influence of alcohol or narcotics or convicted of a felony;

D. misrepresentation or falsification of any information on application forms or other documents provided to the licensing authority;

E. discovery of repeat violations of these regulations during surveys;

F. failure to provide the required care and services as outlined by these regulations for the patients receiving care at the hospice facility or from the hospice agency.

[8.370.19.18 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.19 HEARING PROCEDURES:

A. Hearing procedures for an administrative appeal of an adverse action taken by the licensing authority against a hospice facility as outlined in Section 17 and 18 above will be held in accordance with adjudicatory hearings, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

B. A copy of the adjudicatory hearing procedures will be furnished to a hospice facility or agency at the time an adverse action is taken against its license by the licensing authority. A copy may be requested at any time by contacting the licensing authority.

8.370.19.20 GOVERNING BODY:

A hospice must have a governing body or individual who assumes full legal responsibility for determining, implementing and monitoring policies governing the hospice's total operations. The governing body must also ensure that all services provided are consistent with accepted standards of practice. The governing body shall appoint an administrator to implement its policies and procedures.

[8.370.19.20 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.21 INTERDISCIPLINARY TEAM:

The hospice shall establish an interdisciplinary team to provide or supervise the care and services offered by the hospice.

A. The hospice must have an interdisciplinary team that includes at least the following disciplines:

(1) a doctor of medicine or osteopathy;

(2) a registered nurse;

(3) a social worker;

(4) a pastoral or other counselor.

B. The interdisciplinary team is responsible for:

(1) establishment of the plan of care;

(2) provision or supervision of hospice care and services;

(3) review and revision, at least every two weeks (see 29.2) [now Subsection B of 8.370.19.29 NMAC], of the plan of care for each individual receiving hospice care;

(4) establishment of written policies governing the day-to-day provision of hospice care and services.

C. The hospice must designate a registered nurse to coordinate the overall plan of care for each patient.

[8.370.19.21 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.22 CARE SERVICES:

A hospice must ensure that all services described below are provided directly by hospice staff, or under arrangements made by the hospice as specified in Section 23 of these regulations:

A. Nursing care provided by or under the supervision of a registered nurse. Nursing care must be available on call 24 hours a day, seven days each week;

B. Medical social services provided by a social worker;

C. Physician's services performed by a doctor of medicine or osteopathy;

D. Counseling services provided to the terminally ill individual and the family members or other persons caring for the individual. Bereavement counseling must be available for a 12 month period following the death of the patient.

E. Short term inpatient care provided to patients of a hospice agency in a facility licensed as a hospital or long term care facility. Services provided in an inpatient setting must conform to the written plan of care.

F. Volunteer services. The hospice facility or agency must have an ongoing program to recruit, train, utilize, and retain volunteer staff.

(1) Volunteers may be used in administration or direct patient care roles.

(2) Volunteers must work under the supervision of a designated hospice facility or agency employee.

[8.370.19.22 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.23 ARRANGEMENTS FOR SERVICES:

A hospice may arrange for another individual or entity to furnish services to the hospice's patients. Services provided under arrangement must meet the following standards:

A. The hospice shall have a written agreement for the provision of such services.

B. The hospice ensures that inpatient care is furnished only in a facility licensed as a hospital, skilled nursing facility (nursing home), or intermediate care facility. For inpatient care furnished under arrangements, the hospice must have an arrangement under which:

(1) The hospice furnished to the inpatient provider, a copy of the individual's plan of care that specified the care that has been furnished.

(2) The regimen described in the established plan of care is continued while the individual receives care from the inpatient provider.

(3) All inpatient services and events (e.g. treatments, tests, consultations, evaluations, etc.) furnished by the inpatient provider are entered in the hospice's medical record.

(4) The interdisciplinary team reviews the medical record to ensure conformance with the established plan of care.

(5) A copy of the inpatient medical record and discharge summary is retained as part of the hospice medical record.

8.370.19.24 ANNUAL REVIEW:

A hospice must conduct an annual comprehensive self-assessment of the quality and appropriateness of care provided, including inpatient care. The findings are to be used by the hospice to correct identified problems and to revise hospice policies, if necessary. A mechanism must be established in writing for the collection of pertinent data to assist in the evaluation process. The data to be considered shall include, but are not limited to:

A. the number of patients receiving each service offered;

B. the number of patient visits;

C. reasons for discharge;

D. a breakdown by diagnoses;

E. any sources of referral;

F. the number of patients not accepted and the reasons therefor;

G. the total staff days, hours, or visits for each service offered.

[8.370.19.24 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.19.25 MEDICAL RECORDS:

In accordance with accepted principles of practice, the hospice must establish and maintain a clinical record for every individual receiving care and services. The record must be complete, promptly and accurately documented, readily accessible to staff, and systematically organized to facilitate retrieval.

A. Each clinical record is a comprehensive and chronological compilation of information. Entries are made for all services provided. Entries are made and signed by the staff providing the services. The record includes all services whether furnished directly or under arrangements made by the hospice. Each individual's record shall contain:

(1) the initial and subsequent assessments;

(2) the plan of care;

(3) identification data;

(4) consent, authorization and election forms;

(5) pertinent medical history;

(6) complete documentation of all services and events (including evaluations, treatments, progress notes, etc.).

B. The hospice must safeguard the clinical record against loss, destruction, and unauthorized use.

C. Clinical records shall be retained on each patient for at least 10 years after hospice services have ceased. Clinical records shall be maintained for the requisite period even if the hospice discontinues operations. If the patient is transferred to another health facility, a copy of the record must be made available to the receiving facility. Consultation shall be provided to the receiving facility prior to transfer.

8.370.19.26 STAFF TRAINING:

A hospice must provide an ongoing program of employee psychological support, and continuing education of its staff in hospice care. At least 12 clock hours of training per year in hospice care shall be provided.

A. ownership of the facility changes;

B. the facility changes location;

C. licensee of the facility changes;

D. the facility discontinues operations;

E. a facility wishing to continue operation as a licensed facility under circumstances Subsections A through D of 8.370.20.14 NMAC above shall submit an application for initial licensure in accordance with Section 8 of these regulations at least 30 days prior to the anticipated change.

[8.370.20.14 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.15 AUTOMATIC EXPIRATION OF LICENSE:

A license shall automatically expire at midnight on the day indicated on the license as the expiration date, unless sooner renewed, suspended or revoked, or:

A. on the day a facility discontinues operation.

B. on the day a facility is sold, leased, or otherwise changes ownership or licensee.

C. on the day a facility changes location.

[8.370.20.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.16 SUSPENSION OF LICENSE WITHOUT PRIOR HEARING:

In accordance with 24- 1-5 NMSA 1978, if immediate action is required to protect human health and safety, the licensing authority may suspend a license pending a hearing, provided such hearing is held within five working days of the suspension, unless waived by the licensee.

[8.370.20.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.17 GROUNDS FOR REVOCATION OR SUSPENSION OF LICENSE, DENIAL OF INITIAL OR RENEWAL APPLICATION FOR LICENSE, OR IMPOSITION OF INTERMEDIATE SANCTIONS OR CIVIL MONETARY PENALTIES:

A license may be revoked or suspended, an initial or renewal application may be denied, or intermediate sanctions or civil monetary penalties may be imposed after notice and opportunity for a hearing, for any of the following reasons:

A. failure to comply with any provision of these regulations.

B. failure to allow survey by authorized representatives of the licensing authority.

C. any person active in the operation of a facility licensed pursuant to these regulations, to include all adults and teenaged children living in an adult day care home shall not be under the influence of alcohol or narcotics or convicted of a felony.

D. misrepresentation or falsification of any information on application forms or other documents provided by the licensing authority.

E. discovery of repeat violations of these regulations during surveys.

F. hiring of or continuing to employ any person whose health or conduct impairs their ability to properly protect the health, safety, and welfare of the participants.

G. exceeding licensed capacity.

[8.370.20.17 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.18 HEARING PROCEDURES:

A. Hearing procedures for adverse action initiated by the licensing authority against a facility license as outlined in Sections 16 and 17 above will be held in accordance with adjudicatory hearings, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

B. A copy of the above regulations will be furnished to a facility at the time an adverse action is initiated against its license by the licensing authority, or a copy may be requested at any time by contacting the licensing authority.

[8.370.20.18 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.19 NEW FACILITY:

A new facility may be located in an existing building or a newly constructed building:

A. If opened in an existing building, a variance may be granted for those building requirements the facility cannot meet under the same criteria outlined in these regulations, if not in conflict with existing building and fire codes. This is at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

B. A new facility opened in a newly constructed building shall meet all of the requirements of these regulations.

8.370.20.20 FACILITY SURVEYS:

A. Surveys are meant to be constructive and informative to the licensee and staff of a facility, to insure that the facility meets the requirements of these regulations, and to identify any area which could be dangerous or harmful to the health, safety, and welfare of the participants and staff.

B. A survey will be conducted at least once annually in each facility licensed pursuant to these regulations by personnel of the licensing authority using these regulations as criteria. Additional surveys or visits may be made to assist the facility with technical advice, to check on progress in correction of violations found on previous survey, or to investigate complaints.

C. At the completion of a survey, the findings shall be discussed with the licensee or representative and a plan of correction will be requested. If a plan of correction is not given at the time of survey the licensee, director or operator must submit within 10 working days after receiving the official written report of survey, a plan of correction to the licensing authority for violations found during the survey. The plan of correction must give specifics as to how the violation will be corrected and the expected date of completion.

D. The licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, accept the plan of correction as written or require modifications of the plan by the licensee.

E. Application for licensure, whether initial or renewal, shall constitute permission for entry into and survey of a facility by authorized licensing authority representative during the pendency of the application and, if licensed, during the licensure period.

F. Surveyors have the right to enter upon and into the premises of any facility which is licensed or required to be licensed, whether or not an application for licensure has been made, at any reasonable time for the purpose of determining the state of compliance with these regulations.

G. The licensing authority shall perform, as it deems necessary, unannounced on-site surveys to determine compliance with these regulations, to investigate complaints, or to investigate the appropriateness of licensure for any alleged unlicensed facility.

H. At all times, there must be a person present in the facility who can represent the licensee or director for survey purposes. This person must be able to provide access to all records and keys to any locked area.

J. These policies and procedures may be adopted from other sources.

[8.370.20.28 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.29 GENERAL BUILDING(S), GROUNDS, AND SAFETY REQUIREMENTS:

A. New construction, additions and alternation: When construction of building, additions, or alterations to existing building are contemplated, plans and specifications covering all portions of the work must be submitted to the licensing authority for plan review and approval prior to beginning actual construction. When an addition or alteration is contemplated, plans for the entire facility must be submitted.

B. Number of stories: All building requirements contained in these regulations are based on building of one story in which care for adults is not being provided above or below ground level. Facilities housed in multi-storied buildings and wishing to provide services to adults above or below ground level will have additional requirements due to the complexities of the building and fire codes. These additional requirements will be outlined by the appropriate building and fire authorities and by the licensing authority through plan review and on site surveys during the licensing process.

C. Energy conservation: New buildings for a facility must be constructed to provide energy conservation as required by applicable building codes.

D. Access to the handicapped: All facilities must provide access to the handicapped as required in current building codes and other state and federal regulations. Exception: Adult day care homes are not required to comply with Subsections A through D of 8.370.20.29 NMAC above.

E. Prohibition on mobile homes: Trailers and mobile homes shall not be used for adult day care.

F. Extent of a facility: All buildings on the premises used for the care of adults will be considered part of the facility and must meet all requirements of these regulations. Adults being cared for in any building on the premises will be counted in the capacity of the facility.

[8.370.20.29 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.30 SPACE REQUIREMENTS:

Facilities licensed pursuant to these regulations must meet the following space requirements for capacity and service:

A. Adult day care centers and adult day care homes are required to have 40 square feet of activity area for each adult for which the facility is licensed to provide care.

B. Indoor activity area is computed by measuring the activity areas used for the participants, excluding kitchens, corridors, bathrooms, storage areas and closets. Measurements are taken from wall to wall in each room, deducting offsets and built in fixtures.

C. An outside activity area must be provided.

[8.370.20.30 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.31 MAINTENANCE OF BUILDING(S) AND GROUNDS:

A. All electrical, signaling, mechanical, water supply, heating, fire protection and sewage systems must be maintained in a safe and functioning condition, including regular inspections of these systems.

B. All furniture and furnishing must be kept clean and in good repair. Furnishings or decorations of an explosive or highly flammable character shall not be used.

C. The buildings and grounds of the facility must be maintained in a safe, sanitary, and presentable condition at all times.

[8.370.20.31 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.32 HOUSEKEEPING:

A. The facility must be kept free from offensive odors and accumulations of dirt, rubbish, dust and safety hazards.

B. Activity areas for participants must be cleaned and tidied daily.

C. Floors and walls must be constructed of a finish that can be easily cleaned. Floor polishes shall provide a non-slip finish.

D. Bathrooms and lavatories shall be cleaned as often as necessary to maintain a clean and sanitary condition.

E. Deodorizers must not be used to mask odors caused by unsanitary conditions or poor housekeeping practices.

F. Storage areas must be kept free from accumulations of refuse, discarded furniture, old newspapers, and the like.

G. Combustibles, such as cleaning rags and compounds, must be kept in closed metal containers in areas providing adequate ventilation and away from participant activity and sleeping areas.

H. Poisonous or flammable substances must not be stored in participant's activity areas, or food storage areas.

[8.370.20.32 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.33 HEATING, VENTILATION, AND AIR- CONDITIONING:

A. Heating, air- conditioning, piping, boilers, and ventilation equipment must be furnished, installed and maintained to meet all requirements of current state and local mechanical, electrical and construction codes.

B. The heating method used by the facility must provide a minimum temperature of 68 degrees farenheit in all rooms used by the participants.

C. The use of unvented heaters, open flame heaters or portable heaters, is prohibited.

D. An ample supply of outside air must be provided in all spaces where fuel fired boilers or heaters are located to assure proper combustion.

E. All gas-fired heating equipment must be provided with a one hundred percent automatic cutoff control valve in event of pilot failure.

F. Each building where gas is used must have the outside gas shutoff valve conspicuously painted red. The facility must have a tool readily available which will operate the shut-off valve. The tool will also be painted red. All staff of the facility must be instructed as to location of the gas shut-off valve and must know how to shut off the gas supply in case of fire or gas leakage. Exception: Adult day care homes are not required to comply with Subsection F of 8.370.20.33 NMAC above.

G. All boiler, furnace or heater rooms shall be protected from other parts of the building by construction having a fire resistance rating of not less than one hour. Doors to these rooms shall be at least one and three-quarters inches solid core. Exception: Adult day care homes are permitted to have the normal residential type heating system.

H. A facility must be adequately ventilated at all times by either mechanical or natural means to provide fresh air and the control of unpleasant odors.

I. All gas burning heating and cooking equipment must be connected to an approved venting system to take the products of combustion directly to the outside air. Exception: Adult day care homes are not required to vent cooking stoves.

J. All openings to the outer air used for ventilation must be screened with screening material of not less than sixteen (16) meshes per lineal inch.

K. The facility must be provided with a system for maintaining participant's comfort during periods of hot weather.

[8.370.20.33 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.34 WATER:

A. A facility must be provided with an adequate supply of water which is of a safe and sanitary quality suitable for domestic use.

B. If the water supply is not obtained from an approved public system, the private water system must be inspected, tested and approved by the New Mexico environment department prior to licensure. It is the facility's responsibility to ensure that subsequent periodic testing or inspection of such private water systems be made at intervals prescribed by the New Mexico environment department.

C. Hot and cold running water, under pressure, must be distributed to all food preparation areas, lavatories, washrooms, laundries and bathrooms.

8.370.20.35 WATER HEATERS:

A. All fuel-fired water heaters must be separated from other parts of the facility by partitions having a fire-resistive rating of one hour. Doors to the enclosure must be 1 3/4" solid core. Exception: Adult day care homes.

B. All water heaters must be equipped with a pressure relief valve (pop-off-valve) complete with relief drain line to the outside of the facility.

C. Water heaters must not be located in participant areas used for activity or sleeping.

D. Temperature of hot water for lavatories must not be above 110 degrees farenheit.

8.370.20.36 SEWAGE AND WASTE DISPOSAL:

A. All sewage and liquid wastes must be disposed of into a municipal sewage system where such facilities are available.

B. Where a municipal sewage system is not available, the systems used must be inspected and approved by the New Mexico environment department, and the construction industries division. Exception: Adult day care homes.

C. Where municipal or community garbage collection and disposal service are not available, the method of collection and disposal of garbage used by the facility must be inspected and approved by the New Mexico environment department. Exception: Adult day care homes.

D. All garbage and refuse receptacles must be durable, have tight fitting lids, must be insect and rodent proof, washable, leak proof, and constructed of materials which will not absorb liquids. Receptacles must be kept clean.

[8.370.20.36 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.37 LIGHTING AND LIGHTING FIXTURES:

A. All areas of the facility, including storerooms, stairways, hallways, and entrances must be lighted sufficiently to make all parts of the area clearly visible.

B. All lighting fixtures must be shielded in participant activity areas and food preparation areas.

C. Adult day care centers must be provided with emergency lighting which will activate automatically upon disruption of electrical service.

D. Adult day care homes must have at least a flashlight readily available and in operable condition for use as emergency lighting.

[8.370.20.37 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.38 ELEMENTS OF FACILITY ELECTRICAL SYSTEM:

A. Electrical installations and electrical equipment must comply with all current state and local codes.

B. All fuse and breaker boxes must be labeled to indicate the area of the facility to which each fuse or circuit breaker provides services.

C. The main electrical service line must have a readily available disconnect switch. All staff and caregivers must know the location of the electrical disconnect switch and how to operate it in case of emergency.

D. The use of jumpers or devices to bypass circuit breakers or fuses is prohibited.

[8.370.20.38 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.39 ELECTRICAL CORDS, APPLIANCES, AND OUTLETS:

A. Electrical cords and appliances must be U/L approved.

(1) Electrical cords shall be replaced as soon as they show wear.

(2) Under no circumstances shall extension cords be used as a general wiring method.

(3) Extension cords must be plugged into an electrical outlet within the room where used and must not be connected in one room and extended to another room.

B. The use of multiple sockets (gang plugs) in electrical outlets is strictly prohibited.

[8.370.20.39 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.40 WINDOWS:

All activity areas for participants must have a least one (1) window or skylight area of at least 1/20 of the floor area.

[8.370.20.40 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.41 EXITS:

A. There must be at least two exits remote from each other from each floor of the facility.

B. Exit ways must be kept free from obstructions at all times.

C. All exits must be marked by signs having letters at least six inches high whose principal strokes are at least three-fourths of an inch wide.

D. Exit signs, when applicable, must be visible at all times. Exception: Adult day care homes are not required to have exit signs.

[8.370.20.41 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.42 DOORS:

A. Required exit doors must be openable from the inside at all times the facility is in operation.

B. All required exit doors must have a minimum width of 36 inches. Exception: Adult day care homes.

C. Required exit doors in facilities having a capacity of 50 or more must open outward.

D. Locks and latches on closets and bathrooms must be of the type that the lock can be released from the outside.

[8.370.20.42 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.43 OUTDOOR AREAS:

A. Outdoor area must be located on the premises of the facility.

B. If required by the agency, the outdoor area must be fenced and have at least one latched gate available for emergency exit.

C. Outdoor areas must be kept free of sharp objects, trash, weeds, or other hazardous items.

D. Outdoor areas must be designed to permit direct supervision of the participants at all times.

[8.370.20.43 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.44 TOILET AND BATHING FACILITIES:

A. Bathrooms must be completely enclosed. A window or mechanical system for ventilation must be provided.

B. Toilets and lavatories (hand washing sinks) must be provided for each sex in the following ratios in adult day care centers:

(1) One toilet for one to 15 participants.

(2) One toilet for each additional 15 participants or fraction thereof.

(3) Lavatories must be provided within each toilet room at a ratio of one to 40 participants.

(4) Toilet paper, soap, and disposable towels must be provided in all toilet rooms.

(5) The use of a common towel or wash cloth is prohibited.

(6) Bathrooms and lavatories must be cleaned as often as necessary to maintain a clean and sanitary condition.

C. Adult day care homes are required to have at least one toilet and one lavatory.

D. Facilities accepting participants with special bathing needs, or provide bathing as a service, will provide approved bathing facilities.

[8.370.20.44 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.45 FIRE SAFETY COMPLIANCE:

All current applicable requirements of state and local codes for fire prevention and safety must be met by the facility.

[8.370.20.45 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.20.46 FIRE CLEARANCE AND INSPECTIONS:

A. Written documentation from the state fire marshal's office or fire authority having jurisdiction evidencing a facility's compliance with applicable fire prevention codes must be submitted to the licensing authority prior to issuance of an initial license. Exception: Adult day care homes are not required to have fire authority inspections.

B. Each facility shall request from the fire authority having jurisdiction an annual fire inspection. If the policy of the fire authority having jurisdiction does not provide for annual inspection of the facility, the facility must document the date the request was made and to whom. If the fire authority having jurisdiction does make annual inspections, a copy of the latest inspection must be kept on file in the facility. Exception: Adult day care homes are not required to have annual fire inspections.

8.370.20.47 FIRE ALARMS, SMOKE DETECTORS AND OTHER EQUIPMENT:

A. The facility must be equipped with an approved, manually operated alarm system or other continuously sounding alarm approved in writing by the fire authority having jurisdiction. Exception: Adult day care homes are not required to have manually operated alarm systems.

B. The facility must be equipped with smoke detectors approved in writing by the fire authority having jurisdiction as to number, type, and placement. Exception: Adult day care homes are only required to have one smoke detector in the participants activity rooms which may be battery operated.

C. Fire extinguishers as approved by the state fire marshal or fire authority having jurisdiction must be located in the facility. Facilities must as a minimum have two 2A10BC fire extinguishers, one centrally located in the facility activity areas. Exception: Adult day care homes are only required to have one 2A10BC fire extinguisher located in the kitchen or food preparation area.

D. Fire extinguishers, alarm systems, automatic detection equipment, and other fire fighting equipment must be properly maintained and inspected at least yearly, and more often if recommended by the manufacturer, state fire marshal, or fire authority having jurisdiction. Fire extinguishers must be tagged noting the date of inspection.

E. All fire extinguishers must be inspected yearly and recharged as specified by the manufacturer, state fire marshal or local fire prevention authorities. All fire extinguishers must be tagged noting the date of inspection.

8.370.20.48 STAFF FIRE AND SAFETY TRAINING:

A. All staff of a facility must know the location of and be instructed in proper use of fire extinguishers and other procedures to be observed in case of fire or other emergencies. The facility should request the local fire prevention authority to give periodic instruction in fire prevention and techniques of evacuation.

B. The staff of a facility must be instructed as part of their duties to constantly strive to detect and eliminate potential safety hazards, such as loose handrails, frayed electrical cords, blocked exits or exit ways, and any other condition which could cause burns, falls, or other personal injury to the participants or staff.

C. Fire drills: The facility must conduct at least one fire drill each month.

(1) Fire drills must be held at different times of the day.

(2) The fire alarm system or detector system in the facility shall be used in the conduct of fire drills.

(3) In the conduct of fire drills, emphasis must be placed upon orderly evacuation under proper discipline rather than upon speed.

(4) A record of fire drills held must be maintained on file in the facility. Such record must show date and time of the drill, number of personnel participating in the drill, and any problem noted during the drill.

(5) The local fire department should be requested to supervise and participate in fire drills.

D. Each facility must have a fire evacuation plan conspicuously posted in the facility, and all staff must be familiar with the evacuation plan. Exception: Adult day care homes are not required to have evacuation.

[8.370.20.48 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

D. Home health agency excludes:

(1) independent or sole practitioners providing in-home services under their respective professional practice acts;

(2) medical suppliers who do not provide services listed above;

(3) family, friends, volunteers and paid individuals not under the direct control of a home health agency.

E. Branch office: Means a licensed location from which a home health agency provides services to patient/clients. A home health agency may not apply for a license to open a branch office unless the parent agency has been in operation for at least one year, had an annual survey conducted by the licensing authority, and is found to be in substantial compliance with these regulations.

(1) A branch office must be located within 100 miles distance from the licensed location of the parent home health agency.

(2) A branch office must have a qualified on-site administrator who receives direction and supervision from the parent home health agency's administrator/director.

(3) A branch office must be able to provide the same services as the parent home health agency.

(4) Original patient/client records, if stored at the parent home health agency, shall be made available upon request of the licensing authority within two hours.

F. Service area: A home health agency may only provide services to patient/clients who reside within one hundred (100) miles distance from the licensed location of the agency.

(1) The licensing authority may grant a temporary exception to the 100 mile distance limitation when the following conditions exist:

(a) no other home health agency service for the patient/client is available;

(b) no home health agency in the area within the 100 miles distance limitation is able or willing to provide services to the patient/client.

(2) Home health agencies not previously required to be licensed by the licensing authority shall have twelve months from the date these regulations are adopted to comply.

G. Auxiliary work station: A non-licensed, non-staffed convenience work station away from the licensed location of the home health agency's office for the limited purposes of storage of supplies and a work area for documentation by staff where a telephone and fax may be available for communication. The auxiliary work station shall not function as a branch office and the following requirements are intended to insure that the work station does not become a branch office:

(1) must not be utilized to increase the geographical service area of a home health agency or as a substitute for a branch operation of the agency;

(2) the name of the agency must not be identified by signage at the work station;

(3) the telephone number for the work station shall not be advertised or otherwise made available to persons or individuals other than staff of the agency;

(4) patient/ clients shall only be admitted by and through the licensed location of the agency;

(5) no orders for patient/client care from physicians shall be accepted by agency staff at its auxiliary work station;

(6) no original patient/client records, copies of patient/client records or personnel records shall be maintained by the agency at the auxiliary work station.

(j) any other appropriate items.

(2) If a physician refers a patient/client under a plan of care which cannot be completed until after an evaluation visit, the physician must be consulted to approve additions or modifications to the original plan.

(3) The plan of care must be reviewed by the attending physician and home health agency personnel at least annually or as often as the condition of the patient/client requires.

(4) Agency professional staff must promptly alert the physician to any changes that suggest a need to alter the plan of care.

(5) Conformance with physician's orders:

(a) Drugs and treatments shall be administered by agency staff only as ordered by the physician.

(b) Licensed professionals must immediately record and sign oral orders and obtain the physician's countersignature.

(c) For a patient/client receiving nursing services, all medications a patient/client may be taking must be checked to identify possible ineffective drug therapy, adverse reactions, significant side effects, drug allergies and contraindicated medications. Medication problems must be promptly reported to the physician.

B. Non-medically directed care: An agency must follow a written plan of care, which includes goals and objectives appropriate to the patient/client being served, and which is established and reviewed at least annually by agency staff.

8.370.22.34 PATIENT/CLIENT RECORDS:

Each agency licensed pursuant to these regulations must maintain the original record for each patient/client receiving services. Patient/client records shall be made available for review upon request of the licensing authority. Every record must be accurate, legible, promptly completed and consistently organized. A patient/client record must meet the following criteria:

A. Content of patient/ client record:

(1) Medically directed patient/client record must include:

(a) past and current medical findings in accordance with accepted professional standard;

(b) plan of care;

(c) identifying information;

(d) name of physician;

(c) signed and dated notes on the day service(s) provided;

(d) evidence of patient/client being informed of rights;

(e) evidence of coordination of care of all personnel providing patient/client services;

(f) evidence of discharge.

B. If the patient/client is discharged or transferred to another provider of health care, upon receipt of a signed request from the patient/ client, a copy of the original record or an abstract of the same must be made available to the receiving facility, within 24 hours.

C. Protection of patient/client records:

(1) The agency must ensure that the original patient/client records and information is safeguarded against loss or unauthorized use.

(2) The agency must have written policies and procedures governing the use and removal of patient/client records and conditions for release of information.

(3) Patient/ client's written consent is required for release of information not authorized by law.

D. Retention of patient/ client records:

(1) Original patient/client records shall be retained for at least 10 years after the patient/ client is discharged.

(2) Original patient/client records shall be maintained for the requisite period even if the agency has discontinued operations.

(3) The licensing authority must be notified, in writing, prior to discontinuing operation of the storage location of patient/client records.

[8.370.22.34 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.22.35 REPORTS AND RECORDS REQUIRED TO BE ON FILE IN THE AGENCY:

A. a copy of the last survey conducted by the licensing authority;

B. licensing regulations: A copy of these regulations, 8.370.22 NMAC;

J. complaints and grievances, including timely resolution.

[8.370.22.38 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.22.39 QUALITY IMPROVEMENT:

Each agency must establish an on-going quality improvement program to ensure an adequate and effective operation. To be considered on-going, the quality improvement program must document quarterly activity that addresses, but is not limited to:

A. Clinical care: Assessment of patient/client goals and outcome, such as, diagnosis(es), plan of care, services provided, and standards of patient/client care.

B. Operational activities: Assessment of the total operation of the agency, such as, policies and procedures, statistical data (i.e., admissions, discharges, total visits by discipline, etc.), summary of quality improvement activities, summary of patient/client complaints and resolutions, and staff utilization.

C. Quality improvement action plan: Written responses to address existing or potential problems which have been identified.

D. Documentation of activities: The results of the quality improvement activities shall be compiled annually in report format and formally reviewed and approved by the governing body and advisory group of the home health agency. No more than one year may lapse between evaluations of the same part.

E. The licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, request quarterly activity summaries of an agency's on-going quality improvement activities or may direct the agency to conduct specific quality improvement studies.

8.370.22.40 COMPLAINTS:

The home health agency must investigate complaints made by a patient/client, caregiver, or guardian regarding treatment or care, or regarding the lack of respect for the patient/client's property and must document both the existence of the complaint and the resolution of the complaint. The agency's investigation of a complaint(s) must be initiated within three working days.

[8.370.22.40 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.22.41 INCIDENTS:

A. Reporting: All home health agencies licensed pursuant to these regulations must report to the licensing authority any of the following which has, or could threaten the health, safety and welfare of the patient/clients or staff:

(1) any serious incident or unusual occurrence;

(2) injuries of unknown origin or known, suspected or alleged incidents of patient/client abuse, neglect, exploitation, or mistreatment by staff or person(s) contracted by the home health agency.

B. Documentation: The agency is responsible for documenting all incidents, within five days of the incident, and having on file the following:

(1) a narrative description of the incident;

(2) evidence contact was made to the licensing authority;

(3) results of the facility's investigation;

(4) the facility action, if any.

[8.370.22.41 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.22.42 RELATED REGULATIONS AND CODES:

Facilities subject to these regulations are also subject to other regulations, codes and standards as the same may from time to time be amended as follows:

A. Health facility licensure fees and procedures, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.3 NMAC.

B. Health facility sanctions and civil monetary penalties, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.4 NMAC.

C. Adjudicatory hearings, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

PART 24: REQUIREMENTS FOR END STAGE RENAL DISEASE FACILITIES

8.370.24.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority.

[8.370.24.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.2 SCOPE:

These regulations apply to:

A. public, profit or nonprofit facilities or entities providing dialysis services as outlined by these regulations;

B. any facility providing services as outlined by these regulations which by federal regulation must be licensed by the state of New Mexico to obtain or maintain full or partial, permanent or temporary federal funding.

[8.370.24.2 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

The regulations set forth herein are promulgated pursuant to the general authority granted under Subsection E of Section 9-7-6 NMSA 1978; and the authority granted under Subsection D of Section 24-1-2, Subsection I of Section 24-1-3, and Section 24-1-5 of the Public Health Act, NMSA 1978, as amended. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.370.24.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.370.24.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a different date is cited at the end of a section.

[8.370.24.5 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.6 OBJECTIVE:

A. Establish minimum standards for end stage renal disease facilities in the state of New Mexico.

B. Monitor end stage renal disease facilities with these regulations through surveys to identify any areas which could be dangerous or harmful to the patients or staff.

C. Encourage the maintenance of end stage renal disease facilities that will provide quality services which maintain or improve the health and quality of life for the patients.

[8.370.24.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.7 DEFINITIONS:

For purposes of these regulations the following shall apply:

A. "Applicant" means the individual who, or organization which, applies for a license. If the applicant is an organization, then the individual signing the application on behalf of the organization must have authority from the organization. The applicant must be the owner.

B. "Deficiency" means a violation of or failure to comply with a provision(s) of these regulations.

C. "License" means the document issued by the licensing authority pursuant to these regulations granting the legal right to operate for a specified period of time, not to exceed one year.

D. "Licensee" means the person(s) who, or organization which, has an ownership, leasehold or similar interest in the end stage renal disease facility and in whose name a license has been issued and who is legally responsible for compliance with these regulations.

E. "Licensing authority" means the New Mexico health care authority.

F. "NMSA" means the New Mexico Statutes Annotated, 1978 compilation, and all the revisions and compilations thereof.

G. "Plan of correction" means the plan submitted by the licensee or representative of the licensee addressing how and when deficiencies identified at time of a survey will be corrected.

H. "Policy" means a statement of principal that guides and determines present and future decisions and actions.

I. "Procedure" means the action(s) that must be taken in order to implement a policy.

J. "Variance" means an act on the part of the licensing authority to refrain from pressing or enforcing compliance with a portion or portions of these regulations for an unspecified period of time where the granting of a variance will not create a danger to the health, safety, or welfare of patients or staff of a facility, and is at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

K. "Waive/waiver" means to refrain from pressing or enforcing compliance with a portion or portions of these regulations for a limited period of time provided the health, safety or welfare of the patients and staff are not in danger. Waivers are issued at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

[8.370.24.7 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.8 STANDARD OF COMPLIANCE:

The degree of compliance required throughout these regulations is designated by the use of the words "shall" or "must" or "may." "Shall" or "must" means mandatory. "May" means permissive. The use of the words "adequate", "proper", and other similar words means the degree of compliance that is generally accepted throughout the professional field by those who provide dialysis services as outlined in these regulations.

[5/7/1991; Recompiled 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.9 TYPES OF END STAGE RENAL DISEASE (ESRD) FACILITIES AND SCOPE OF SERVICES:

A. Renal transplantation center: A hospital unit which is approved to furnish directly, transplantation and other medical and surgical specialty services required for the care of the ESRD transplant patients, including inpatient dialysis furnished directly or under arrangement. A renal transplantation center may also be a renal dialysis center.

B. Renal dialysis center: A hospital unit which is approved and licensed to furnish the full spectrum of diagnostic, therapeutic, and rehabilitative services required for the care of ESRD dialysis patients (including inpatient dialysis furnished directly or under arrangement). A hospital need not provide renal transplantation to qualify as a renal dialysis center.

C. Renal dialysis facility: A unit which is located in a building other than a hospital which is approved and licensed to furnish dialysis services directly to ESRD patients.

D. Self dialysis unit: A unit that is within a licensed renal transplantation center, renal dialysis center, or a renal dialysis facility, which provides self-dialysis service.

E. Special purpose renal dialysis facility: A renal dialysis facility which is approved and licensed pursuant to these regulations to provide dialysis at special locations on a short term basis (not to exceed eight months) to a group of dialysis patients otherwise unable to obtain treatment in the geographical area. The special locations must be either special rehabilitative (including vacation) locations serving ESRD patients temporarily residing there, or locations in need of ESRD facilities under emergency circumstances.

F. End stage renal disease (ESRD) services: The types of care or services furnished to an ESRD patient are:

(1) transplantation service which is a process by which:

(a) a kidney is excised from a live or cadaveric donor;

(b) that kidney is implanted in an ESRD patient;

(c) supportive care is furnished to the living donor and to the recipient following implantation;

(d) this service is only provided at an approved and licensed transplantation center.

(2) inpatient dialysis which because of medical necessity, is furnished to an ESRD patient on a temporary inpatient basis in a hospital. This service may only be provided by a transplantation center or renal dialysis center.

(3) outpatient dialysis is dialysis furnished on an outpatient basis at a licensed transplantation center, renal dialysis center, or renal dialysis facility and includes:

(a) staff assisted dialysis which is dialysis performed by the staff of the center or facility;

(b) self dialysis which is performed with little or no professional assistance, by an ESRD patient who has completed an appropriate course of training;

(c) home dialysis performed by an appropriately trained patient at home.

(4) self dialysis and home dialysis training in which the licensed ESRD transplantation center, renal dialysis center, or renal dialysis facility provides a program that trains ESRD patients to perform self-dialysis or home dialysis with little or no professional assistance, and trains other individuals to assist patients in performing self-dialysis or home dialysis.

[8.370.24.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.10 INITIAL LICENSURE PROCEDURES:

To obtain an initial license for a end stage renal disease facility pursuant to these regulations the following procedures must be followed by the applicant:

A. Initial phase: These regulations should be thoroughly understood by the applicant and used as a reference for design of a new building or renovation or addition to an existing building for licensure as a ESRD facility pursuant to these regulations. Prior to starting construction, renovations or additions to an existing building the applicant of the proposed ESRD facility shall advise the licensing authority of intention to open an ESRD facility pursuant to these regulations and submit the following:

(1) Plans: Submit a complete set of construction documents (blueprints) for the total building. Plans should indicate if new construction, remodeled or alteration, or an addition. If remodeled or an addition the plans must indicate existing and new construction.

(2) Functional program outline: The proposed end stage renal disease facility must also submit to the licensing authority a functional program outline that provides the following information:

(a) scope of services to be provided by the proposed ESRD facility;

(b) projected number of patients to be served daily;

(c) number of staff and duties to be performed;

(d) services that will be provided under agreement or arrangement with another facility;

(e) number of dialysis stations, treatment rooms and other rooms for diagnostic use such as X-ray, laboratory, etc.

B. Construction phase: During the construction of a new building or renovations or additions to an existing building the applicant must coordinate with the licensing authority and submit any changes to the blueprints or plans for approval before making such changes.

C. Licensing phase: Prior to completion of construction, renovation or addition to an existing building the applicant will submit to the licensing authority the following:

(1) Application form:

(a) will be provided by the licensing authority;

(b) all information requested on the application must be provided;

(c) will be printed or typed;

(d) will be dated and signed;

(e) will be notarized.

(2) Fees: All applications for licensure must be accompanied by the required fee.

(a) Current fee schedules will be provided by the licensing authority.

(b) Fees must be in the form of a certified check, money order, personal, or business check made payable to the state of New Mexico.

(c) Fees are non-refundable.

(3) Zoning and building approval:

(a) All initial applications must be accompanied with written zoning approval from the appropriate authority (city, county or municipality).

(b) All initial applications must be accompanied with written building approval (certificate of occupancy) from the appropriate authority (city, county, or municipality).

(4) Fire authority approval: All initial applications must be accompanied with written approval of the fire authority having jurisdiction.

(5) New Mexico environment department approval: All initial applications must be accompanied by written approval of the environmental department for the following:

(a) private water supply, if applicable;

(b) private waste or sewage disposal, if applicable;

(c) X-ray equipment, if applicable.

(6) Copy of appropriate drug permit issued by the state board of pharmacy, if applicable.

(7) Initial survey: Upon receipt of a properly completed application with all supporting documentation as outlined above an initial survey of the proposed end stage renal disease facility will be scheduled by the licensing authority.

(8) Issuance of license: Upon completion of the initial survey and determination that the end stage renal disease facility is in compliance with these regulations the licensing authority will issue a license.

[8.370.24.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.11 LICENSES:

A. Annual license: An annual license is issued for a one year period to an end stage renal disease facility which has met all requirements of these regulations.

B. Temporary license: The licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, issue a temporary license prior to the initial survey, or when the licensing authority finds partial compliance with these regulations.

(1) A temporary license shall cover a period of time, not to exceed 120 days, during which the facility must correct all specified deficiencies.

(2) In accordance with Subsection D of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, no more than two consecutive temporary licenses shall be issued.

C. Amended license: A licensee must apply to the licensing authority for an amended license when there is a change of administrator/director, or when there is a change of name for the facility.

(1) Application must be on a form provided by the licensing authority.

(2) Application must be accompanied by the required fee for an amended license.

(3) Application must be submitted within 10 working days of the change.

[8.370.24.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.12 LICENSE RENEWAL:

A. Licensee must submit a renewal application on forms provided by the licensing authority, along with the required fee at least 30 days prior to expiration of the current license.

B. Upon receipt of renewal application and required fee, the licensing authority will issue a new license effective the day following the date of expiration of the current license, if the facility is in substantial compliance with these regulations.

C. If a licensee fails to submit a renewal application with the required fee and the current license expires, the ESRD facility shall cease operations until it obtains a new license through the initial licensure procedures. Subsection A of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, as amended, provides that no health facility shall be operated without a license.

[8.370.24.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.13 POSTING OF LICENSE:

The ESRD facility's license must be posted in a conspicuous place in an area visible to the public.

[8.370.24.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.14 NON- TRANSFERABLE RESTRICTION ON LICENSE:

A license shall not be transferred by assignment or otherwise to other persons or locations. The license shall be void and must be returned to the licensing authority when any one of the following situations occur:

A. ownership of the facility changes;

B. the facility changes location;

C. licensee of the facility changes;

D. the facility discontinues operation;

E. a facility wishing to continue operation as a licensed end stage renal disease facility under circumstances listed above must submit an application for initial licensure in accordance with Section 10 of these regulations, at least 30 days prior to the anticipated change.

[8.370.24.14 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.15 AUTOMATIC EXPIRATION OF LICENSE:

A license will automatically expire at midnight on the day indicated on the license as the expiration date, unless sooner renewed, suspended or revoked, or:

A. on the day a facility discontinues operation;

B. on the day a facility is sold, leased, or otherwise changes ownership or licensee;

C. on the day a facility changes location.

[8.370.24.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.16 SUSPENSION OF LICENSE WITHOUT PRIOR HEARING:

In accordance with Subsection H of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, if immediate action is required to protect human health and safety, the licensing authority may suspend a license pending a hearing, provided such hearing is held within five working days of the suspension, unless waived by the licensee.

[8.370.24.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.17 GROUNDS FOR REVOCATION OR SUSPENSION OF LICENSE, DENIAL OF INITIAL OR RENEWAL APPLICATION FOR LICENSE, OR IMPOSITION OF INTERMEDIATE SANCTIONS OR CIVIL MONETARY PENALTIES:

A license may be revoked or suspended, an initial or renewal application for license may be denied, or intermediate sanctions or civil monetary penalties may be imposed after notice and opportunity for a hearing, for any of the following reasons:

A. Failure to comply with any provision of these regulations.

B. Failure to allow survey by authorized representatives of the licensing authority.

C. Any person active in the operation of a facility licensed pursuant to these regulations shall not be under the influence of alcohol or narcotics or convicted of a felony.

D. Misrepresentation or falsification of any information on application forms or other documents provided to the licensing authority.

E. Discovery of repeat violations of these regulations during surveys.

F. Failure to provide the required care and services as outlined by these regulations for the patients receiving care at the facility.

[8.370.24.17 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.18 HEARING PROCEDURES:

A. Hearing procedures for an administrative appeal of an adverse action taken by the licensing authority against an ESRD facility license as outlined in Section 16 and 17 above will be held in accordance with adjudicatory hearings, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

B. A copy of the adjudicatory hearing procedures will be furnished to an ESRD facility at the time an adverse action is taken against its license by the licensing authority. A copy may be requested at any time by contacting the licensing authority.

8.370.24.19 CURRENTLY LICENSED FACILITIES:

Any ESRD facility currently licensed on the date these regulations are promulgated and which provides the services prescribed under these regulations, but which fails to meet all building requirements, may continue to be licensed if:

A. variance may be granted for those building requirements the ESRD facility cannot meet provided the variances granted will not create a hazard to the health, safety and welfare of the patients and staff, and are not in violation of current fire and building codes;

B. the building requirements for which variances are granted cannot be corrected without an unreasonable expense to the ESRD facility; and

C. variances granted will be recorded and made a permanent part of the end stage renal disease facility file.

[8.370.24.19 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.20 NEW FACILITY:

A new ESRD facility may be opened in an existing building or a newly constructed building.

A. If opened in an existing building a variance may be granted for those building requirements the ESRD facility cannot meet under the same criteria outlined in 8.370.24.19 NMAC, if not in conflict with existing building and fire codes. This is at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

B. A new ESRD facility opened in a newly constructed building must meet all requirements of these regulations.

8.370.24.21 FACILITY SURVEYS:

A. Application for licensure, whether initial or renewal shall constitute permission for entry into and survey of a ESRD facility by authorized licensing authority representatives at reasonable times during the pendency of the application and, if licensed, during the licensure period.

B. The licensing authority shall perform, as it deems necessary, unannounced on-site surveys to determine compliance with these regulations, to investigate complaints, or to investigate the appropriateness of licensure for any alleged unlicensed facility.

C. Upon receipt of a notice of deficiency from the licensing authority the licensee or their representative will be required to submit a plan of correction to the licensing authority within 10 working days, stating how the facility intends to correct each violation noted and the expected date of completion.

D. The licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, accept the plan of correction as written or require modifications of the plan by the licensee.

8.370.24.22 ADOPTION OF FEDERAL STANDARDS:

The licensing authority hereby adopts the federal standards for certification of end stage renal disease (ESRD) services, as set out in 42 C.F.R. Sections 405.2100 through 405.2171, as amended from time to time, as the standards for licensure of end stage renal disease services in the state of New Mexico.

[8.370.24.22 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.24.23 RELATED REGULATIONS AND CODES:

End stage renal disease facilities subject to these regulations are also subject to other regulations, codes and standards as the same may, from time to time, be amended as follows:

A. Health facility licensure fees and procedures, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.3 NMAC.

B. Health facility sanctions and civil monetary penalties, New Mexico health care authority 8.370.4 NMAC.

C. Adjudicatory hearings, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

[8.370.24.23 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

PART 25: HEARING REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTIFIED NURSE AIDES

8.370.25.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority.

[8.370.25.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.2 SCOPE:

These regulations apply to nurse aides on the nurse aide registry who may perform nurse aide duties at medicare or medicaid facilities.

[8.370.25.2 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

The regulations set forth herein have been promulgated by authority of Subsection E of Sections 9-8-6, Subsection O of Section 24-1-3, and Subsection B of Section 24-2-5 NMSA 1978. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority (authority) as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.370.25.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.370.25.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a different date is cited at the end of a section.

[8.370.25.5 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.6 OBJECTIVE:

The purpose of these regulations is to:

A. provide for notification to the nurse aide of allegations of abuse, neglect, or exploitation;

B. provide the opportunity for a hearing to the nurse aide against whom an allegation of abuse, neglect, or exploitation has been made;

C. provide for notification to the nurse aide and the nurse aide registry if the allegations are substantiated and upheld following any appeal requested pursuant to these regulations.

[8.370.25.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.7 DEFINITIONS:

For purposes of these regulations the following shall apply.

J. "Survey agency" means the health facility licensing and certification bureau of the New Mexico health care authority.

[8.370.25.7 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.8 INVESTIGATION:

Following review by the survey agency, all allegations for which there is reason to believe, either through oral or written evidence, that the resident has been abused, neglected or exploited will be investigated.

[8.370.25.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.9 SOURCE OF COMPLAINTS:

All complaints received by the survey agency for which there is reason to believe that the resident has been abused, neglected or exploited will be investigated regardless of their source.

[8.370.25.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.10 NOTIFICATION:

If the survey agency determines, based on oral or written evidence, that resident abuse, neglect or exploitation occurred, it shall notify by mail the nurse aide implicated in the investigation and the administrator of the facility that employs the nurse aide of the:

A. nature of the allegation(s);

B. date of the occurrence;

C. right to a hearing;

D. survey agency's intent to report the substantiated findings, once the nurse aide has had the opportunity for a hearing, to the nurse aide registry and other appropriate licensure authorities;

E. fact that the nurse aide's failure to request a hearing in writing within 30 days from the date of the notice will result in the survey agency reporting the substantiated findings to the administrator of the facility that employs the nurse aide to the nurse aide registry.

[8.370.25.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.11 REQUEST FOR HEARING:

A nurse aide determined by the survey agency to have committed abuse, neglect, or exploitation may request an administrative hearing. The request for a hearing shall be in writing and mailed or delivered to the New Mexico health care authority as directed in the notification sent pursuant to 8.370.25.10 NMAC.

[8.370.25.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.12 IMPARTIAL HEARING OFFICER:

Upon receipt of a timely request for a hearing, the secretary of the health care authority or their designee shall appoint an impartial hearing officer to conduct the hearing and issue a report and recommended decision. The hearing officer need not be an attorney. The hearing officer must not have been involved in any way in the action which is challenged in the hearing.

[8.370.25.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.13 PARTIES:

The parties to a hearing conducted under these regulations shall be the survey agency and the nurse aide.

[8.370.25.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.14 PRE-HEARING DISCOVERY:

A. Upon written request, the nurse aide who has requested a hearing shall be entitled to review and copy documents in the survey agency's file that are relevant to the challenged action. Documents protected by confidentiality or privilege, however, shall not be inspected or copied.

B. The parties shall disclose to each other verbally, or in writing, and to the hearing officer, the names of witnesses to be called and the general subject matter of their testimony no later than two days prior to the hearing. No formal depositions shall be allowed, although if the witnesses do not object, they may be informally interviewed prior to their testimony.

8.370.25.15 SCHEDULING THE HEARING:

A. The hearing shall take place within 30 days after the survey agency's receipt of the request for a hearing.

B. The survey agency or, if so delegated, the hearing officer shall schedule the hearing at a place and time reasonably convenient for the nurse aide and shall provide reasonable notice to the parties and to the administrator of the facility that employs the nurse aide of the place and time of the hearing.

[8.370.25.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.16 CONDUCT OF HEARING:

A. The hearing officer shall conduct the hearing in public except when a closed hearing is requested in order to protect confidential information.

B. The survey agency has the burden of proving, by a preponderance of the evidence, the existence of the conduct relied upon to take the challenged action.

C. Testimony shall be under oath and witnesses are subject to cross examination.

D. The rules of evidence do not apply, however, evidence shall be admitted if it is the type that a reasonable person would rely on in the conduct of their affairs.

E. If a nurse aide demonstrates that resident neglect was caused by factors beyond their control, such showing shall constitute a defense to the charge of neglect.

F. A record made by audio recording device shall be maintained with the hearing officer's file.

8.370.25.17 REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS OF HEARING OFFICER:

The hearing officer shall render and mail a written report and recommended decision within five working days of the conclusion of the hearing to the secretary of the health care authority or their designee. The report shall state the basis of such decision and recommend final action to the secretary or the designee. The decision need not contain formal findings of fact or conclusions of law.

8.370.25.18 FINAL DECISION:

The secretary, or the designee, shall render a final determination within 10 days of the submission of the hearing officer's report. Parties may be notified personally, by telephone or by mail of the final order. A copy of the final decision shall be mailed to each party or attorney of record.

[8.370.25.18 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.19 REPORT OF FINDINGS:

If the secretary, or the designee, finds that the nurse aide has abused, neglected, or exploited a resident the survey agency shall report these findings to:

A. the nurse aide;

B. the administrator of the facility that employs the nurse aide; and

C. the nurse aide registry.

[8.370.25.19 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.20 REPORT OF FINDINGS TO THE NURSE AIDE REGISTRY:

Within 10 working days of the secretary's, or their designee's, findings, the survey agency shall report the following information to the nurse aide registry:

A. the finding made by the secretary, or the designee, as a result of the hearing;

B. any statement by the nurse aide disputing the finding;

C. that the nurse aide waived the right to a hearing, if applicable;

D. any failure by the nurse aide to respond to the allegation.

[8.370.25.20 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.21 REQUIRED CONTENT OF REGISTRY RECORDS:

The survey agency shall retain in accordance with state of New Mexico recordkeeping requirements:

A. records of occurrence;

B. investigative reports;

C. hearing findings;

D. waiver of hearing rights.

[8.370.25.21 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.22 APPEAL OF FINAL ACTION:

A party may appeal the secretary's, or their designee's, final action to the first judicial district court in Santa Fe pursuant to Rule 1-075 NMRA, within 30 days from the date of the final action. An appeal does not stay the final action.

[8.370.25.22 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.370.25.23 RIGHT TO PETITION THE REMOVAL OF NAME FROM THE NURSE AIDE REGISTRY IN CASES OF NEGLECT:

A nurse aide may petition the health care authority for the removal of their name from the nurse aide registry in cases where there was a finding of neglect. Petitions for removal will not be accepted when the finding was for abuse, physical or verbal. Such petitions shall be made in writing and mailed or hand delivered to the health care authority, division of health improvement, HFL&C bureau chief. The following procedures apply to nurse aides who petition for the removal of their name from the nurse aide registry.

A. The nurse aide may petition the authority after one year from the date that they were placed on the nurse aide registry. In their petition the nurse aide must show that through their employment and personal history their performance as a nurse aide does not reflect a pattern of abusive behavior or neglect; and that neglect involved in the original finding was a singular occurrence.

B. Within 30 days of receipt of a petition the authority shall set the date for a hearing. Failure to petition within 30 days from the conclusion of the one year period shall result in forfeiture of the person's right to a hearing. Such a request shall be made in writing and mailed, or hand delivered, and shall be accompanied by a payment of $40.00 or a sworn statement of indigence on a form provided by the authority. The hearing shall be held in Santa Fe, New Mexico at the health care authority.

C. In the event that the authority denies the petition, the authority will notify the nurse aide within 30 days of the reasons for denying the petition and the nurse aide will continue to be placed on the nurse aide registry.

D. If the secretary of the health care authority, or their designee, determines that the nurse aide does not show a pattern of abusive behavior or neglect, and the neglect involved was a singular occurrence, the nurse aide shall be placed in probationary status on the nurse aide registry. The period of probation will be determined by the secretary, or their designee, and shall not exceed one year. During the probationary period the nurse aide must complete necessary training involving resident's rights, or other training approved by the health facility licensing and certification bureau. Upon successful completion of the probationary period the nurse aide's certification will be reinstated, and they will be removed from the nurse aide registry.

The ICF/ MR provides active treatment in the least restrictive setting and includes all needed services for mentally retarded individuals or persons with related conditions whose mental or physical condition require services on a regular basis that are above the level of a residential or room and board setting and can only be provided in a facility which is equipped and staffed to provide the appropriate services.

[8.371.2.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.10 [RESERVED]

8.371.2.11 INITIAL LICENSURE PROCEDURES:

The following procedures must be followed by the applicant for initial licensure of an ICF/MR facility.

A. Initial phase: These regulations should be thoroughly understood by the applicant and used as a reference for design of a new building or renovation or addition to an existing building for licensure as an ICF/MR facility pursuant to these regulations. Prior to starting construction, renovations, or additions to an existing building the applicant of the proposed facility shall:

(1) advise the licensing authority of intention to open a ICF/MR facility pursuant to these regulations;

(2) submit a complete set of construction documents (blueprints) for the total building;

(3) blueprints will be reviewed by the licensing authority for compliance with current licensing regulations, building and fire codes;

(4) if blue prints or plans are approved the licensing authority will advise the applicant that construction may begin.

B. Construction phase: During the construction of a new building or renovations or additions to an existing building, the applicant must coordinate with the licensing authority and submit any changes to the blueprints or plans for approval before making such changes.

C. Licensing phase: Prior to completion of construction, renovation or addition to an existing building the applicant will submit to the licensing authority the following:

(1) Application form:

(a) will be provided by the licensing authority;

(b) all information requested on the application must be provided;

(c) will be printed or typed;

(d) will be dated and signed;

(e) will be notarized.

(2) Fees: All applications for licensure must be accompanied by the required fee.

(a) Fees must be in the form of a certified check, money order, personal or business check made payable to the state of New Mexico.

(b) Fees are non-refundable.

(3) Zoning and building approval:

(a) All initial applications must be accompanied with written zoning approval from the appropriate authority (city, county, or municipality).

(b) All initial applications must be accompanied with written building approval (certificate of occupancy) from the appropriate authority (city, county, or municipality).

(4) Fire authority approval: All initial applications must be accompanied with written approval of the fire authority having jurisdiction.

(5) New Mexico environment department approval: All initial applications must be accompanied by written approval of the environmental improvement division for the following:

(a) private water supply, if applicable;

(b) private waste or sewage disposal, if applicable;

(c) kitchen approval.

(d) Exception: Facilities utilizing the kitchen as a training site for clients to develop personal skills in meal planning and preparation may be exempt from this requirement if the New Mexico environment department waives the requirement and a letter of exemption is on file in the facility.

(6) Copy of appropriate drug permit issued by the state board of pharmacy.

(7) Initial survey: Upon receipt of a properly completed application with all supporting documentation as outlined above an initial survey of the proposed facility shall be scheduled by the licensing authority.

(8) Issuance of license: Upon completion of the initial survey and determination that the facility is in compliance with these regulations the licensing authority shall issue a license.

[8.371.2.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.12 LICENSES:

A. Annual license: An annual license is issued for a one year period to an ICF/MR facility which has met all requirements of these regulations.

B. Temporary license: The licensing authority may, at its sole discretion, issue a temporary license prior to the initial survey or when the licensing authority finds partial compliance with these regulations.

(1) A temporary license shall cover a period of time, not to exceed 120 days, during which the facility must correct all specified deficiencies.

(2) In accordance with Subsection D of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, no more than two consecutive temporary licenses shall be issued.

C. Amended license: A licensee must apply to the licensing authority for an amended license when there is a change of administrator/director, or when there is a change of name for the facility

(1) Application must be on a form provided by the licensing authority.

(2) Application must be accompanied by the required fee for amended license.

(3) Application must be submitted within 10 working days of the change.

[8.371.2.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.13 LICENSE RENEWAL:

A. Licensee must submit a renewal application on forms provided by the licensing authority, along with the required fee at least 30 days prior to expiration of the current license.

B. Upon receipt of renewal application and required fee prior to expiration of current license the licensing authority will issue a new license effective the day following the date of expiration of the current license if the facility is in substantial compliance with these regulations.

C. If a licensee fails to submit a renewal application with the required fee and the current license expires the facility shall cease operations until it obtains a new license through the initial licensure procedures. Subsection A of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978 as amended, provides that no health facility shall be operated without a license.

[8.371.2.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.14 POSTING OF LICENSE:

The facility's license must be posted in a conspicuous place on the licensed premises in an area visible to the public.

[8.371.2.14 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.15 NON- TRANSFERABLE RESTRICTION ON LICENSE:

A license shall not be transferred by assignment or otherwise to other persons or locations. The license shall be void and must be returned to the licensing authority when any one of the following situations occur:

A. ownership of the facility changes;

B. the facility changes location;

C. licensee of the facility changes;

D. The facility discontinues operation.

E. A facility wishing to continue operation as a licensed ICF/MR facility under circumstances found in Subsections A through D above must submit an application for initial licensure in accordance with Section 11 of these regulations at least 30 days prior to the anticipated change.

[8.371.2.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.16 AUTOMATIC EXPIRATION OF LICENSE:

A license will automatically expire at midnight on the day indicated on the license as the expiration date, unless sooner renewed suspended or revoked or:

A. on the day a facility discontinues operation;

B. on the day a facility is sold, leased, or otherwise changes ownership or licensee;

C. on the day a facility changes location.

[8.371.2.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.17 SUSPENSION OF LICENSE WITHOUT PRIOR HEARING:

In accordance with Subsection H of Section 24-1-5 NMSA 1978, if immediate action is required to protect human health and safety, the licensing authority may suspend a license pending a hearing, provided such hearing is held within five working days of the suspension, unless waived by the licensee.

[8.371.2.17 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.18 GROUNDS FOR REVOCATION OR SUSPENSION OF LICENSE, DENIAL OF INITIAL OR RENEWAL APPLICATION FOR LICENSE, OR IMPOSITION OF INTERMEDIATE SANCTIONS OR CIVIL MONETARY PENALTIES:

A license may be revoked or suspended, an initial or renewal application may be denied, or intermediate sanctions or civil monetary penalties may be imposed after notice and opportunity for a hearing, for any of the following reasons:

A. failure to comply with any material provision of these regulations;

B. failure to allow survey by authorized representatives of the licensing authority;

C. any person active in the operation of a facility licensed pursuant to these regulations shall not be under the influence of alcohol or narcotics or convicted of a felony;

D. misrepresentation or falsification of any information on application forms or other documents provided to the licensing authority;

E. discovery of repeat violations of these regulations during surveys;

F. failure to provide the required care and services as outlined by these regulations for the clients receiving care at the facility.

[8.371.2.18 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.19 HEARING PROCEDURES:

A. Hearing procedures for adverse action taken by the licensing authority against a facility license as outlined in Section 17 and 18 above will be held in accordance with adjudicatory hearings, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.2 NMAC.

B. A copy of the above regulations may be requested at any time by contacting the licensing authority.

[8.371.2.19 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.20 CURRENTLY LICENSED FACILITIES:

Any facility currently licensed on the date these regulations are promulgated and which provides the services prescribed under these regulations, but which fails to meet all building requirements may continue to be licensed as an ICF/MR.

A. Variance may be granted for those building requirements the facility cannot meet provided the variances granted will not create a hazard to the health, safety and welfare of the clients and staff, and;

B. The building requirements for which variances are granted cannot be corrected without an unreasonable expense to the facility, and

C. Variances granted will be recorded and made a permanent part of the facility file.

D. Facilities currently licensed for more than four clients may not increase their capacity.

[8.371.2.20 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.21 NEW FACILITY:

A new facility may be opened in an existing building or a newly constructed building.

A. If opened in an existing building a variance may be granted for those building requirements the facility cannot meet under the same criteria outlined in Subsections A, B and C of 8.371.2.20 NMAC, if not in conflict with existing building and fire codes. This is at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

B. A new facility opened in a newly constructed building must meet all requirements of these regulations.

C. A new facility may not be licensed for more than four clients. Exception: ICF/MR facilities may be licensed for a maximum capacity of six clients based upon a written plan that must be submitted to the licensing authority prior to the facility's licensure.

Approval of the plan is in the discretion of the licensing authority. The plan must demonstrate the following:

(1) The anticipated facility service benefits to the client population.

(2) How the facility's services will promote, independence, active treatment and community supports.

(3) How the facility's services will address the needs and protections of the proposed clients.

[8.371.2.21 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.22 FACILITY SURVEYS:

A. Application for licensure, whether initial or renewal shall constitute permission for entry into and survey of a facility by authorized licensing authority representatives at reasonable times during the pendency of the application and, if licensed, during the licensure period.

B. Surveys may be announced or unannounced at the sole discretion of the licensing authority.

C. Upon receipt of a notice of deficiency from the licensing authority the licensee or their representative will be required to submit a plan of correction to the licensing authority within 10 working days stating how the facility intends to correct each violation noted and the expected date of completion.

D. The licensing authority may at its sole discretion accept the plan of correction as written or require modifications of the plan by the licensee.

E. The licensing authority may impose intermediate supervisory and management requirements, including the administrative costs therefore, and civil monetary penalties pursuant to Section 24-1-5.2 NMSA 1978.

[8.371.2.22 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.23 REPORTING OF INCIDENTS:

G. the facility must insure that individuals allowed to visit the facility under Subsection C of 8.371.2.35 NMAC above do not infringe on the privacy and rights of other clients.

[8.371.2.35 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.36 RESEARCH STATEMENT:

If the facility conducts research, it must establish protocols based on standards of conduct currently endorsed by professional and federal standards.

[8.371.2.36 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.37 BUILDING(S), GROUNDS, AND SAFETY REQUIREMENTS:

A. Those programs which are located in a building which is licensed as a long term care facility or hospital must meet all the building requirements for that type facility as outlined in the following regulations:

(1) Requirements for General and Special Hospitals, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.12 NMAC.

(2) Requirements for Long Term Care Facilities, New Mexico health care authority, 8.370.16 NMAC.

(3) Copies of these regulations may be requested from the licensing authority.

B. Capacity of building(s): All building requirements contained in these regulations are based on a maximum capacity of 15 clients. All facilities requesting licensure for more than 15 clients will have additional requirements according to the applicable building and fire codes. Due to the complexities of the building and fire codes these additional requirements will be outlined by the appropriate building and fire authorities, and by the licensing authority through plan review and on site surveys during the licensing process. Maximum capacity for any facility licensed after the effective date of revisions to these regulations is four clients. Exception: ICF/MR facilities may be licensed for a maximum capacity of six clients based upon a written plan that must be approved by the licensing authority prior to the facility's licensure. The plan must demonstrate the following:

(1) the anticipated facility service benefits to the client population;

(2) how the facility's services will promote, independence, active treatment and community supports;

(3) how the facility's services will address the needs and protections of the proposed clients.

C. Number of stories: All building requirements contained in these regulations are based on buildings of one story, which do not house clients above or below ground level. Buildings which are multi-storied or house clients below ground level shall have additional requirements which vary due to the complexities of the building and fire codes. These additional requirements will be outlined by the appropriate building and fire authorities and by the licensing authority through plan review and on-site surveys during the licensing process.

D. Additional requirements: A facility applying for licensure pursuant to these regulations may have additional requirements not contained herein. The complexity of building and fire codes and requirements of city, county, or municipal governments may require these additional requirements. Any additional requirement will be outlined by the appropriate building and fire authorities, and by the licensing authority through plan review, consultation and on-site surveys during the licensing process.

E. Access to the handicapped: All facilities licensed pursuant to these regulations must be accessible to and usable by handicapped employees, visitors and clients.

F. Prohibition on mobile homes: Trailers and mobile homes must not be used as any part of a facility in which services and care are given to clients.

G. Extent of a facility: All buildings on the premises providing client care and services shall be considered part of the facility and must meet all requirements of these regulations.

H. Individual living units may not be located within 150 feet of each other.

[8.371.2.37 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.40 HEATING, VENTILATION AND AIR CONDITIONING:

A. Heating, air- conditioning, piping, boilers, and ventilation equipment must be furnished, installed and maintained to meet all requirements of current state and local mechanical, electrical, and construction codes. All facilities must have documentation that fuel-fire heating systems have been checked, tested and maintained annually by qualified personnel.

B. The heating method used by the facility must provide a minimum temperature of 70 degrees farenheit in all rooms used by the clients.

C. An ample supply of outside air for proper combustion must be provided in all spaces where fueled fired boilers or heaters are located.

D. All gas fired heating equipment must be provided with a one hundred percent automatic cutoff control valve in event of pilot failure.

E. Each building where gas is used must have an outside gas shutoff valve. The facility must have a tool readily available which will operate the shut-off valve. All personnel employed by the facility must be instructed as to location of the shut-off valve and tool and must know how to shut off the gas supply in case of fire or gas leakage.

F. No open-face gas or electric heater nor unprotected single shell gas or electric heating device shall be used for heating the facility. Portable heating units shall not be used for heating the facility.

G. All boiler, furnace or heater rooms shall be protected from other parts of the building by construction having a fire resistance rating of not less than one-hour. Doors to these rooms shall be 1-3/4" solid core.

H. A facility must be adequately ventilated at all times to provide fresh air and the control of unpleasant odors by either mechanical or natural means.

I. All gas burning heating and cooking equipment must be connected to an approved venting system to take the products of combustion directly to the outside air.

J. All openings to the outer air used for ventilation must be screened with screening material of not less than 16 meshes per lineal inch.

K. Screen doors must be equipped with self-closing devices.

L. A facility must be provided with a system for maintaining residents comfort during periods of hot weather.

[8.371.2.40 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.41 WATER HEATERS:

A. All fuel fired water heaters shall be separated from other parts of the facility by partitions having a fire resistive rating of one hour. Doors to enclosure must be one and three quarter inches solid core.

B. All water heaters must be equipped with a pressure relief valve (pop-off valve).

C. Water heaters must not be located in sleeping rooms or rooms opening into sleeping rooms.

[8.371.2.41 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.42 WATER:

A. A facility must be provided with an adequate supply of water which is of a safe and sanitary quality suitable for domestic use.

B. If the water supply is not obtained from an approved public system, the private water system must be inspected, tested, and approved by the New Mexico environment department prior to licensure. It is the facility's responsibility to insure that subsequent periodic testing or inspection of such private water systems be made at intervals prescribed by the New Mexico environment department.

C. Hot and cold running water under pressure must be distributed to all food preparation areas, lavatories, washrooms, and laundries. The hot water temperature in all rooms accessible to clients must be maintained at a maximum of 110 degrees farenheit.

[8.371.2.42 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.43 SEWAGE AND WASTE DISPOSAL:

A. All sewage and liquid wastes must be disposed of into a municipal sewage system where such facilities are available.

B. Where a municipal sewage system is not available, the system used must be inspected and approved by the environmental health authority.

C. Where municipal or community garbage collection and disposal service are not available the method of collection and disposal of garbage used by the facility must be inspected and approved by the New Mexico environment department.

D. All garbage and refuse receptacles must be durable, have tight fitting lids, must be insect and rodent proof, washable, leak proof, and constructed of material which will not absorb liquids. Receptacles must be kept clean.

[8.371.2.43 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.44 LIGHTING AND LIGHTING FIXTURES:

A. All areas of the facility including storerooms, stairways, hallways, and entrances must be lighted sufficiently to make all parts of the area clearly visible.

B. Exits, exit-access ways, and other areas used at night by clients and staff must be illuminated.

C. Lighting fixtures must be selected and located with the comfort and convenience of the clients in minds.

D. Lamps and lighting fixtures must be shaded to prevent glare to the eyes of clients and staff, and shielded from accidental breakage or shattering.

E. A facility must be provided with emergency lighting which will activate automatically upon disruption of electrical services.

[8.371.2.44 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.2.45 ELEMENTS OF FACILITY ELECTRICAL SYSTEM:

A. Electrical installations and electrical equipment must comply with all current state and local codes.

B. All fuse and breaker boxes must be labeled to indicate the area of the facility to which each fuse or circuit breaker provides services.

C. The main electrical service line must have a readily available disconnect switch. All staff personnel of the facility must know the location of the electrical disconnect switch in each building to which such staff are regularly assigned.

D. The use of jumpers or devices to bypass circuit breakers or fuses is prohibited.

E. Electrical cords and appliances must be U/L approved.

(1) Electrical cords shall be replaced as soon as they show wear.

PART 3: RIGHTS OF INDIVIDUALS WITH DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES LIVING IN THE COMMUNITY

8.371.3.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority, Developmental Disabilities Division.

[8.371.3.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.2 SCOPE:

A. This regulation applies only to clients and service providers as defined below.

B. This regulation is not available to resolve disputes concerning the content of or the substantial failure to implement a community individual service plan. Any dispute concerning the content of a plan or any claim alleging substantial failure to implement a plan must be raised in the dispute resolution process, if available. This regulation is not available to review any action by a service provider or the authority to suspend, terminate or reduce medicaid covered services if a fair hearing procedure is available pursuant to federal law.

C. Nothing in this regulation alters or modifies the duty of any person having reason to believe that a person is being abused, neglected, or exploited to report that information as required by the Adult Protective Services Act, Section 27-7- 30 NMSA 1978 (1992 Repl.) and the Abuse and Neglect Act, Section 32A- 4-3 NMSA 1978 (1993 Repl.).

[8.371.3.2 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

Subsection E of Section 9-8-6 NMSA 1978. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority (authority) as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.371.3.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.371.3.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a later date is cited at the end of a section.

[8.371.3.5 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.6 OBJECTIVE:

A. These regulations set out rights that the authority expects all providers of services to individuals with developmental disabilities to respect. These regulations are intended to complement the authority's client complaint procedures 8.371.4 NMAC.

B. These regulations are promulgated, in part, to satisfy requirements arising from the implementation of the decision in the Jackson v. Fort Stanton, N.M. Dist. Ct. No. Civ. 87-839, including agreements reached by the parties. These regulations are promulgated to further the goals of the Developmental Disabilities Act, Sections 28-16A-1 through 28-16A- 18 NMSA 1978.

C. The purpose of this regulation is to promote the health, safety and welfare of individuals who are receiving supports and services for persons with developmental disabilities from service providers certified by, or funded in whole or in part with state funds administered by the authority through contracts or agreements. This regulation defines rights of persons with developmental disabilities so that these rights can be readily identified, exercised and protected and provides that the authority will enforce remedies for substantiated complaints of violation of the client's right as provided in the client complaint procedure.

[8.371.3.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.7 DEFINITIONS:

A. "Aversive procedures" means those prohibited procedures, including, but not limited to, taste and odor aversives, excessive deprivation or stimulation of basic sensory experiences, any device or intervention intended to cause pain or unpleasant sensations, electric shock, isolation, mechanical restraint, forced exercise, withholding of food, water or sleep, inappropriate clothing, humiliation and water mist, as defined in the division's behavioral support policy.

B. "Client" means a person with developmental disabilities who is receiving supports and services for individuals with developmental disabilities by a service provider certified by, or funded in whole or in part with state funds administered by the authority through contracts or agreements.

C. "Complainant" means a client or their legal guardian who files a complaint pursuant to this regulation.

D. "Chemical restraint" means the use of medication, including psychoactive medication, as punishment, as a substitute for a habilitation or in quantities that interfere with services or habilitation, for the convenience of staff, or for unreasonable restricting a client's freedom of movement, other than in an emergency where there is a substantial and imminent risk of serious physical harm to the client or others.

E. "Days" means calendar days.

F. "Developmental disabilities" means a severe chronic disability of a person that:

(1) is attributable to a mental or physical impairment, including the result from trauma to the brain, or a combination of mental and physical impairments;

(2) is manifest before the person reaches the age twenty-two years;

(3) is expected to continue indefinitely;

(4) results in substantial functional limitations in three or more of the following areas of major life activity:

(a) self-care;

(b) receptive and expressive language;

(c) learning;

(d) mobility;

(e) self-direction;

(f) capacity for independent living; and

(g) economic self-sufficiency; and

(5) reflects the person's need for a combination and sequence of special, interdisciplinary or generic care, treatment or other services that are of life-long or extended duration and are individually planned and coordinated.

G. "Director" means the director, developmental disabilities division or the director's designate.

H. "Division" means the developmental disabilities division of the authority.

I. "Emergency" means a circumstance in which the health or safety of the client or another person is in imminent risk of harm and immediate action is necessary to prevent the harm.

J. "Emotional or psychological abuse" means use of verbal or other communication to threaten a client with physical harm or to ridicule, curse, humiliate, degrade or antagonize a client, or any similar action

K. "Exploitation of a client's personal property" means intentionally, knowingly or recklessly using a client's person or property for another person's profit, advantage, or benefit without legal right or authority. Exploitation includes failure to compensate a client for services or work for which he or she is entitled to compensation.

L. "Facilities" means institutions operated by the authority.

M. "Guardian" means the parent of an individual with developmental disabilities if the client is a minor or a legal guardian appointed or recognized pursuant to the Uniform Probate Code, Section 45-5-11, et seq. NMSA 1978 (1993 Repl.).

N. "Mechanical restraint" means any apparatus that restricts a client's movement excluding mechanical supports designed by a physical therapist and approved by a physician or designed by an occupational therapist that is used to achieve proper body position and excluding protective devices.

O. "Medical restraint" means any apparatus prescribed by a physician, dentist or medical practitioner acting within the scope of their license, as health- related protection that restricts a client's movement during the conduct of a specific medical or surgical procedure.

P. "Neglect" means, subject to the client's right to refuse treatment and subject to medical personnel's right to exercise sound medical discretion:

(1) the failure to provide any treatment, services, care, medication or item that is necessary to maintain the health and safety of a client;

(2) the failure to take reasonable precaution that is necessary to prevent damage to the health and safety of a client; or

(3) the failure to carry out a duty to supervise properly or control the provision of any treatment, care, goods, services, or medication necessary to maintain the health or safety of a client.

Q. "Office" means the office of quality assurance or a regional office within the developmental disabilities division.

R. "Plan" means the individual service plan for services, treatment or habilitation developed by the interdisciplinary team.

Physical abuse includes, but is not limited to, physically striking or assaulting a client, hitting, slapping, pinching, kicking, pushing, dragging, shaking, squeezing, choking and shoving. Physical contact which endangers the safety of a client as well as handling the client with more force than is necessary also constitute physical abuse.

T. "Physical restraint" means the use of manual methods to restrict the movement or normal functioning of a portion of an individual's body other than physical guidance and prompting techniques of brief duration.

U. "Protective devices" means helmets, safety goggles or glasses, guards, mitts, gloves, pads and other common safety devices that are normally used or recommended for use by persons without disabilities while engaged in a sport, occupation, or during transportation.

V. "Service provider" means a private entity that has entered into a contract or provider agreement with the authority or that is certified by the authority for the purpose of providing supports and services to individuals with developmental disabilities. When the context requires, the service provider means the executive director or administrator having authority to bind the service provider. Service provider does not include facilities operated by the authority.

W. "Sexual abuse" means sexual activity between a client and staff, nonconsensual sexual activity or contact with others without regard to injury, and sexual exploitation. Sexual activity includes, but is not limited to kissing, hugging, stroking or fondling with sexual intent; oral sex or sexual intercourse; and request or suggestion or encouragement by staff for performance of sex with the employee or another. Sexual intent is to be determined by an examination of all the circumstances related to the incident. Sexual exploitation includes sexual exploitation as defined in the Abuse and Neglect Act, Subsection F of Section 32A-4-2 NMSA 1978 and allowing, permitting or encouraging obscene or pornographic filming or photographing of an adult client without their consent for commercial or noncommercial purposes.

[8.371.3.7 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.8 REGULATION DOES NOT CREATE AN ENTITLEMENT TO SERVICES:

Nothing in this regulation shall provide an entitlement to programs, supports, services or benefits that does not otherwise exist pursuant to other law or regulation.

[8.371.3.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.9 REGULATION DOES NOT CREATE A CAUSE OF ACTION:

Any rights or remedies provided pursuant to this regulation that do not otherwise exist pursuant to other law or regulation are enforceable only through the client complaint procedure and are not enforceable in court. Nothing in this regulation shall create a right of judicial review of the administrative decision of the director or the secretary or the secretary's designee made pursuant to the client complaint procedure.

[8.371.3.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.10 CLIENT RIGHTS:

Unless expressly modified by court order or specifically granted to a guardian or conservator, all clients have:

A. the same legal rights guaranteed to all other individuals under the United States Constitution, New Mexico State Constitution, and federal and state laws;

B. the right to be free from unlawful discrimination on the basis of race, age, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, sex, sexual preference, physical or mental handicap or medical condition;

C. the right to be free from emotional or psychological abuse, physical abuse, sexual abuse, neglect and exploitation of their personal property;

D. the right to practice the religion of their choice or to abstain from the practice of religion;

E. the right to safe working conditions, hours of labor and wages for labor consistent with the Fair Labor Standards Act and other applicable federal and state laws, and worker's compensation, except that clients receiving residential services may be required to do normal housekeeping and home maintenance chores; clients shall not be required to perform labor involving the essential operation of the service provider, including the care and treatment of other clients; clients may volunteer to do labor, consistent with federal and state labor laws; if a client volunteers to do work for which the program would otherwise be required to pay non-clients, the client shall be paid a commensurate wage;

F. the right to consent to or refuse medical treatment, medical services, and other forms of habilitation services or supports, consistent with the ISP regulations and the duties of a parent, guardian or treatment guardian pursuant to the requirements of the Children's Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities Act, Section 32A-6-14 NMSA 1978 (1993 Repl.) or the Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities Act, Section 43-1-15 NMSA 1978 (1993 Repl.);

G. the right to have privacy, including both periods of privacy and places of privacy;

H. the right to communicate freely with persons of their choice in any reasonable manner and at any reasonable time they choose;

I. the right to own, use and control real property and personal possessions;

J. the right to engage in social interaction with members of either sex;

X. the right to be free from the use of mechanical restraint; and

Y. the right to be free from the use of aversive procedures.

[8.371.3.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.11 RESTRICTIONS OR LIMITATION OF CLIENT'S RIGHTS:

A. A service provider shall not restrict or limit a client's rights except:

(1) where the restriction or limitation is allowed in an emergency and is necessary to prevent imminent risk of physical harm to the client or another person; or

(2) where the interdisciplinary team has determined that the client's limited capacity to exercise the right threatens their physical safety; or

(3) as provided for in Subsection N of 8.371.3.10 NMAC.

B. Any emergency intervention to prevent physical harm shall be reasonable to prevent harm, shall be the least restrictive intervention necessary to meet the emergency, shall be allowed no longer than necessary and shall be subject to interdisciplinary team (IDT) review. The IDT upon completion of its review may refer its findings to the office of quality assurance. The emergency intervention may be subject to review by the service provider's behavioral support committee or human rights committee in accordance with the behavioral support policies or other authority regulation or policy.

C. The service provider may adopt reasonable program policies of general applicability to clients served by that service provider that do not violate client rights.

[8.371.3.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.12 RETALIATION FOR INITIATION OF COMPLAINT PROCEDURE PROHIBITED:

A client has the right to present or make known a complaint without restraint, interference or coercion. A service provider shall not retaliate or discriminate against a client, staff person or other person who complains to the service provider or initiates a complaint procedure.

[8.371.3.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.3.13 CLIENT COMPLAINT PROCEDURE AVAILABLE:

A complainant may initiate a complaint as provided in the client complaint procedure to resolve complaints alleging that a service provider has violated a client's rights as described in Section 10. The authority will enforce remedies for substantiated complaints of violation of a client's rights as provided in client complaint procedure.

8.371.4.11 RETALIATION FOR INITIATION OF COMPLAINT PROCEDURE PROHIBITED:

A client has the right to present or make known a complaint without restraint, interference, or coercion. A service provider shall not retaliate or discriminate against a client who complains to the service provider or initiates a complaint procedure.

[8.371.4.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.4.12 COMPLAINT PROCEDURE AVAILABLE:

A. The complaint process (Section 13 of this regulation) is available to resolve complaints alleging that a service provider, its employee, or a person acting under contract with the service provider has violated rights of the client set forth in the federal or state constitutions, statutes or applicable authority regulations or policies and such violation adversely affects the client. The administrative appeal process (Section 14 of this regulation) is available, however, only as to alleged violations of rights set forth in the federal and state constitutions, statutes and authority regulations and policies designated "client's rights."

B. The complaint procedure shall be available to clients or their legal guardians. The client or the legal guardian has the right to a legal representative or advocate of their choice at no expense to the authority.

C. If a complaint alleges a violation of statute, regulation or ordinance that another state agency or public entity has authority to investigate and enforce, the division may refer the complaint to that entity unless the client objects to the referral, except that the division shall report the violation when there is a statutory requirement to report. The division may decline to investigate the complaint.

D. The complaint procedure is not available to the service provider to review the final decision of the authority. The service provider may seek redress for any adverse action if provided by the terms of the service provider's contract or provider agreement.

E. The client may withdraw their complaint at any time. If the complainant is not the client, the division shall not continue the complaint procedure under this regulation if the client objects. The division may pursue its own investigation and take corrective action as appropriate.

F. The complainant and the service provider may settle a complaint by mutual agreement unless the client objects. However, the complainant and the service provider may not modify a finding substantiating the complaint.

[8.371.4.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.4.13 COMPLAINT PROCESS:

A. Step one: Service provider review:

(1) Each service provider shall have a complaint or grievance procedure that is reviewed and approved by the division. Except as provided in Paragraph (7) below, a client or a legal guardian must initiate a complaint with the service provider within 180 days of the event or occurrence that is the subject of the complaint and in the manner set forth in the service provider's complaint or grievance procedure.

(2) The service provider's complaint or grievance procedure shall provide, at a minimum, that:

(a) the client is notified of the service provider's complaint or grievance procedure;

(b) a complaint may be made orally or in writing;

(c) the service provider shall meet with the complainant if a complaint is made; if the complainant is not the client, the client shall be notified of the meeting and allowed to attend;

(d) the complainant and the client may have a representative(s) of their choice present at the meeting;

(e) the complaint will be decided by an impartial person who is not involved in the incident complained of but who may be an employee of the service provider;

(f) the complainant and their representative, if any, will receive a written response within 15 days of the complaint;

(g) the complainant has a right to file a complaint with the authority if the complainant is not satisfied with the service provider's response; and

(h) the service provider will assist the client in filing a complaint with the division upon request.

(3) The employees or staff of the service provider shall have the responsibility to initiate a complaint on behalf of the client whenever they have reason to believe that a violation of the client's rights may have occurred.

(4) The service provider shall issue a brief written response to the client and the guardian stating the nature of the complaint and the result(s) requested by the complainant, the disputed facts, if any, the undisputed facts, if any, the resolution of the complaint of the attempts made to resolve the complaint.

(5) The service provider shall respond to the complaint in writing within 15 days of the initial complaint. The time line may be extended by mutual agreement of the complainant and the service provider. The service provider shall maintain a copy of each written response in the client's record and in a central file that is available to the authority. If the complaint alleges abuse or neglect, the service provider shall, in addition to any other requirements, provide a copy of the response to child protective services or adult protective services. If the complainant alleges abuse or neglect or if the complaint involves a dangerous condition or a risk to the client's health or safety, the service provider shall provide a copy of the written response to the office.

(6) The failure of the service provider to issue a response to a client's complaint in writing shall be a separate and independent ground for filing a complaint with the division.

(7) If a complainant alleges abuse or neglect, or if the complaint involves a dangerous condition, or a risk to the client's health or safety, the complaint may be make with the division's office pursuant to step two without initiating a complaint with the service provider.

B. Step two. Quality assurance review: Expedited investigation: In addition to the investigation and review procedures and described herein, if the office has reason to believe that the health or safety of the client is in jeopardy, the division shall, in cooperation with other agencies as necessary, take steps to ensure that the client is safe while the complaint is under investigation and shall expedite the investigation and issue preliminary findings within 10 days of receipt of the complaint. If the complainant alleges abuse or neglect or the office has reason to believe that abuse or neglect has occurred or is occurring, the office shall make an immediate referral to child protective services of adult protective services for investigation.

(1) If the complaint is not resolved, a complaint may be filed with the division's designated office. The complaint must be made orally or in writing within 20 days from the date of the written response of the service provider, unless the service provider has failed to respond in writing or the complainant is filing the initial complaint with the office as provided in Paragraph (7) of Subsection A of 8.371.4.13 NMAC.

(2) The complaint shall be a brief statement of the act(s) that is the basis of the alleged violation. The complaint may be made orally or in writing. The complainant may provide the office a copy of the service provider's written response.

(3) If the office has reason to believe that abuse or neglect has occurred or is occurring, the Office shall make an immediate referral to child protective services (CPS) or adult protective services (APS) so that they may investigate the complaint immediately. The division shall coordinate with and assist CPS and APS as necessary.

(4) The office shall examine each complaint and determine whether the complainant alleges that a service provider, its employee, or a person under contract with the provider has violated rights of the client set forth in federal or state constitutions, statutes, or applicable authority regulations or policies. If the complainant does not allege such violation of the rights of the client, or if the allegation is not against a service provider or its employee or contractor, the office shall refer the complaint to any federal, state or local governmental body or private entity with authority over the issue or subject matter unless the client objects the referral.

(5) The office shall notify the service provider of the complaint within five days of receipt of the complaint. If the complainant initiated the complaint with the service provider, the service provider shall provide the office a copy of its written response to the unresolved complaint upon request.

(6) The office shall review the complaint and determine whether an expedited investigation is necessary. If an expedited investigation is not necessary, the office will determine whether a full investigation is necessary to resolve the complaint. If the office determines that a full investigation is not necessary because the facts are not in dispute or the facts can be determined without a full investigation, the office shall issue a report within 15 days of receipt of the complaint.

(7) If the office initiates a full investigation of the complaint, the office shall contact and interview the client and their representative, if any. The office shall interview the client in person unless:

(a) the client has the capacity to be interviewed by telephone and

(b) the complaint does not involve a dangerous condition, a risk to the client's health or safety, a significant rights violation, or other serious circumstance. The complainant, the service provider, and any other persons having relevant information shall be given the opportunity to present facts and documents relevant to the complaint.

(8) The office shall prepare a written report of the results of the investigation within 45 days of receipt of the complaint. The written report shall include a statement of the complaint, a summary of the findings of fact, a determination whether the allegation(s) is substantiated, and the reasons for the determination. If the alleged violation is substantiated, the written report shall include a recommendation of proposed action.

(9) The director shall review the office's written report. The director shall issue a written decision within 10 days of receipt of the written report, unless the director extends the time as provided below.

(a) The director shall either adopt the findings of fact or return the matter to the office with specific instructions for additional investigation and findings if he or she determines that there is insufficient information on which to base a decision. If the director returns the complaint to the office for additional investigation and findings, the director shall state the deadline for completion of the investigation and additional findings, which shall be no more that 14 days unless the director determines that circumstances require additional time.

(b) Director shall determine whether there is reason to support the complainant's allegations and determine what action, if any, should be taken. If the director reflects the findings of fact or modifies the recommendation of proposed action, the director shall state the reasons for their decision.

(10) The written decision of the division director is final unless the complainant requests an administrative hearing as provided in section of this regulation.

[8.371.4.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.4.14 ADMINISTRATIVE APPEAL PROCESS:

The administrative appeal process is available only to review the decision of the division director as to alleged violations by the service provider, its employees, or persons under contract with the service provider of rights set forth in the federal or state constitutions, statutes, or authority regulations or policies designated "client's rights." The administrative hearing is intended to be accomplished without the involvement of legal counsel, but the complainant and the service provider may be represented by legal counsel of their choosing at their own expense.

A. Step one: Administrative hearing:

(1) Request for hearing:

(a) If the complainant is not satisfied with the decision of the director, the complainant may request an evidentiary hearing before and impartial hearing officer. The request must be in writing, must be filed with the director, and must be mailed within 20 days from receipt of the director's decision.

(b) The appeal shall be a brief statement of the acts that are the basis of the alleged violation of rights.

(2) Assignment of hearing officer:

(a) The director shall assign a hearing officer within 10 days of receipt of the request for hearing.

(b) If any person who may appear at the hearing, as described in Paragraph (3) of Subsection B of 8.371.4.14 NMAC, has reason to believe that the hearing officer cannot render an impartial decision, the person shall notify the director in writing stating the objection and the reason(s) therefor within five days of the date of the notice of the assignment. If the director determines that there is a good cause, the director shall assign another hearing officer within 10 days of receipt of the objection.

(3) Notice of hearing:

(a) The hearing officer shall conduct the hearing within 15 days of assignment as hearing officer. The hearing officer may grant a continuance not to exceed 15 days for good cause shown.

(b) The hearing officer shall notify the complainant and the service provider(s) of the date, time and place of the hearing at least five days prior to the hearing. If feasible, the hearing shall be held in the city or town where the client resides or at a location convenient to the client.

(c) The service provider may decline to appear at the hearing and the hearing shall proceed. The complainant and the service provider may settle the complaint by mutual agreement at any time prior to the hearing unless the client objects. The complainant shall notify the hearing officer of the settlement by withdrawing the complaint in writing prior to the hearing. The hearing officer shall notify the division director that the complainant has withdrawn the complaint.

(4) Conduct of hearing:

(a) The complainant has the burden to show by a preponderance of the evidence that:

(i) the act (s) complained occurred;

(ii) the act (s) constitutes a violation by the service provider, employee or a person under contract with the service provider, of rights of the client set forth in the federal or state constitution, statutes, or authority regulations or policies designated "client's rights"; and

(iii) the client is adversely affected.

(b) The complainant and the service provider (s) have the right to call witnesses on their behalf, question witnesses called by others, and present other evidence relevant to the complaint.

(c) The hearing officer shall admit all relevant evidence that is reasonably likely to assist him or her in making a fully informed, fair decision. The hearing officer may exclude irrelevant or repetitious evidence. Conformity to rules of evidence is not required. The hearing officer's rulings on evidence are final.

(5) Recommended decision of the hearing officer:

(a) The hearing officer shall render a recommended decision to the secretary of the authority or the secretary's designee in writing within 10 days of the hearing.

(b) The recommended decision shall include:

(i) a statement of uncontested facts and finding of fact on contested issues; and

(ii) a recommendation dismissing the complaint as not supported by a preponderance of the evidence; or

(iii) a finding substantiating the complaint and a recommendation either adopting the authority's relief or remedy or proposing individual relief or remedy.

B. Step two: Decision:

(1) The secretary or the secretary's designee may adopt the recommendation of the hearing officer or may reverse or modify the recommendation of the hearing officer. If the secretary or the designee modifies or reverses the recommendation of the hearing officer, they shall state the reasons for the decision.

(2) The secretary or their designee shall notify the persons described in Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of 8.371.4.14 NMAC of the decision in writing within 15 days of receipt of the recommendations of the hearing officer.

(3) The decision of the secretary or the secretary's designee is final and is not subject to judicial review.

[8.371.4.14 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.4.15 SANCTIONS, CORRECTIVE ACTION OR RELIEF:

A. Sanction, corrective action or other relief for substantiation of a complaint may include a directive prohibiting any future violation, a corrective action plan that shall be implemented as a condition for the continuation of the service provider's contract or provider agreement and enforceable under terms of the contract or provider agreement, reimbursement or repayment by the service provider of a client's funds, recoupment by the authority of a client's funds on behalf of the client, a requirement that the service provider take corrective or disciplinary action against an employee, or any other affirmative relief that is fair and just. Sanctions imposed under this regulation shall not include revocation or suspension of a license, denial of a license application, a monetary penalty, fine, compensatory damages (except reimbursement of client funds), or consequential or punitive damages except as may be specifically provided in the agreement between the service provider and the authority.

B. In imposing sanctions, corrective action or other relief, the office, director or the secretary may consider prior substantiated complaints involving the service provider, if any, data from child protective services or adult protective services abuse or neglect reports, performance audit reviews, and the responsiveness of the service provider to prior remedial action imposed by the division or other authority.

C. If the complainant's allegation is substantiated and sanction or corrective action is imposed or other relief granted, the division may require that the service provider prepare and submit documents to the division or allow access to records necessary to demonstrate the service provider is in compliance with the provisions of the sanction, corrective action or other relief.

D. If the complaint is substantiated, the notice of final action shall state that the division may impose additional sanctions for failure of the service providers to comply with the decision and may impose sanctions, corrective action or other relief as provided in Subsection A of 8.371.4.15 NMAC in addition to the individual remedy or relief granted.

[8.371.4.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.4.16 ACTION OF THE DIVISION NOT EXCLUSIVE OF OTHER ACTION:

The division shall cooperate with the health care authority licensing and certification bureau, the long term care ombudsman, the children, youth and families department, the department of labor, and medicaid fraud unit, as appropriate, regarding any investigation, allegation or substantiated complaint. Any remedy imposed by the division for violation of authority policy or regulation does not preclude other sanction or corrective action by other divisions of the authority or preclude another agency or authority with jurisdiction over the subject matter from taking action arising from the same conduct, actions or omissions.

[8.371.4.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.4.17 PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF FINAL ACTIONS:

A. The office of quality assurance will conduct its investigations in a manner that protects the clients' privacy.

B. Complaints and documents, materials, or records not otherwise exempt from public inspection shall be subject to public inspection. Requested public records containing information that is exempt and nonexempt form disclosure shall be separated or redacted by the custodian prior to inspection, and the nonexempt information shall be made available for inspection. The complaints and related documents shall not be available for public inspection until the investigation is concluded, action of the authority is final, and any time period allowed for review or administrative hearing has expired.

C. Client identifying confidential information, records pertaining to physical or mental illness or medical treatment, and records protected form disclosure by statute or court-recognized rule are exempt from public inspection.

D. Those portions of the division's investigation file containing confidential sources, methods, and related investigation materials may be exempt from public inspection on public policy grounds if the harm to the public interest from allowing inspection outweighs the public's right to know.

E. The authority may charge reasonable fees for copying public records.

F. The division will track complaints to ensure that the complaint process operates satisfactorily, meets time lines, and achieves any program changes required of service providers. Non- confidential data from the complaint tracking process will be available to the public. If the division produces periodic statistical reports containing aggregate information about substantiated and unsubstantiated complaints, including nonpersonally identifiable information about the complaints received, type or nature of the allegations, frequency of complaints by type and by service provider, resolution of substantiated complaints, tracking of corrective action and follow-up, other investigation results, and any other data the authority deems appropriate, the statistical reports shall be subject to public inspection.

[8.371.4.17 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.4.18 THIS COMPLAINT PROCEDURE IS NOT AVAILABLE FOR APPLICANTS:

This complaint procedure is not available to review financial eligibility determinations or denial of applications for services. Applicants for services may seek other review that may be available under law or regulations.

[8.371.4.18 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

PART 5: SERVICE PLANS FOR INDIVIDUALS WITH DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES LIVING IN THE COMMUNITY

8.371.5.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority, Developmental Disabilities Supports Division.

[8.371.5.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.2 SCOPE:

A. For each individual with developmental disabilities receiving services in the community, either through state general funds or federal funding through the developmental disabilities medicaid waiver, there shall exist a single, unified individual service plan, or ISP. This ISP shall be developed by a single interdisciplinary team, or IDT, consisting of the individual, the guardian, parents, family, and representatives from all key community service provider agencies servicing to the individual, regardless of their source of funding, as well as advocates and others invited to participate by the individual.

B. These regulations shall apply to all individuals with developmental disabilities living in the community, regardless of whether their services are funded through the developmental disabilities medicaid waiver or through state general fund contracts with community providers. The following groups are excluded from these regulations, as their services and service delivery are addressed in other regulations:

(1) children, aged birth to three, who are recipients of services covered by the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Part C as administered under the New Mexico family, infant and toddler program;

(2) early periodic screening, diagnosis and treatment (EPSDT) case management recipients, unless allocated to the DD waiver;

(3) medically fragile waiver recipients;

(4) state general funded recipients of only ancillary services (non-residential and non-day program services), such as respite and the various therapies;

(5) community ICF/MR group home residents, covered by federal ICF regulations, except Jackson class members.

[8.371.5.2 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

Subsection E Section 9-7-6 NMSA 1978. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority (authority) as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care facility licensure and health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.371.5.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.371.5.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a later date is cited at the end of a section.

[8.371.5.5 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.6 OBJECTIVE:

A. These regulations contain a process for development of an individual service plan for persons with a developmental disability. The requirements set out in these regulations apply, with some exceptions, to providers of services to persons with developmental disabilities living in the community.

B. These regulations are promulgated, in part, to satisfy requirements arising from the implementation of the decision in Jackson, et al. v. Fort Stanton, et al., N.M. Dist. Ct. No. Civ. No. 87-839. These regulations incorporate certain agreements reached by the parties, including the authority, to the Jackson lawsuit.

C. The purpose of this regulation is to establish a framework for planning, designing, implementing and modifying the individual service plan for an individual with developmental disabilities living in the community.

[8.371.5.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.7 DEFINITIONS:

A. The Interdisciplinary Team (IDT):

(1) The "interdisciplinary team (IDT)" is responsible for the development of the individual service plan (ISP) and for identifying the agencies and individuals responsible for providing the services and supports identified in the ISP.

(2) The IDT shall consist of the following core members:

(a) "individual": the person with a developmental disability for whom the ISP is written;

(b) "case manager": the independently- funded professional responsible for service coordination to individuals with developmental disabilities on the developmental disabilities medicaid waiver; the case manager must be external to, and independent from, the community service provider agency;

(c) "guardian": the court appointed guardian of an adult individual or the custodial parent(s) if the individual is a minor;

(d) "helper": the individual may choose a helper to assist with communication; in instances where the individual is unable to make this choice, the guardian may choose a helper, if desired; the helper may be a friend, housemate, family member, teacher, co-worker, current or former employee of an agency or facility with which the individual has had contact, foster grandparent, or any other person from the individual's circle of relatives, friends and acquaintances;

(e) "key community service provider staff": "key" community service providers are providers of residential employment, day program and behavioral services specifically designed for persons with developmental disabilities; "key" provider staff participating in the IDT shall include, at a minimum:

(i) "direct service staff": the provider staff member(s) directly responsible for the provision of specified services to the individual with developmental disabilities;

(ii) "service coordinator": the community provider staff member, sometimes called the program manager or the internal case manager, who supervises, implements and monitors the service plan within the community service provider agency;

(f) "ancillary service providers": the service provider agencies and staff providing non-residential and non-day services, either specifically designed for individuals with developmental disabilities or generic in nature, regardless of funding source; examples of ancillary services include nutritional services, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, respite, nursing, etc.; as well as services provided by the individual's physician and other medical personnel;

(g) "designated healthcare coordinator" the team member designated to coordinate medical supports and services which the individual requires to manage any chronic health conditions and to access preventative healthcare services;

(h) "others": unless the individual objects, other participants may include family members not already mentioned, if invited by the individual or guardian; advocates or other chosen representatives who participate in the ISP development process on the individual's behalf; representatives of generic services, who may participate in the IDT with the individual's or guardian's consent; representatives of the public school system, if the individual is of school age and attends public school; and, any others that the individual wishes to have attend the IDT meeting.

B. Content of individual service plans:

(1) "Demographic information": The individual's name, age, date of birth, important identification numbers (i.e., medicaid, medicare, social security numbers, level of care), address, phone number, guardian information (if applicable), physician name and address, primary care giver or service provider(s), date of the ISP meeting (either annual, or revision), scheduled month of next annual ISP meeting, and team members in attendance.

(2) "Long- term vision": A written statement of the individual's personal vision for the future.

(3) "Outcomes": Desired outcomes generated by the individual, guardian and the team. An outcome is a realistic change that can occur in the individual's life, that the individual can achieve and that leads towards the attainment of the individual's long-term vision. For example, an outcome may state that the individual obtain preferred employment or that the individual learn to drive.

(4) "Individual preference": The individual's preferences, capabilities, strengths and needs in each life area determined to be relevant to the identified ISP outcomes shall be reflected in the ISP. The long term vision, age, circumstances and interests of the individual, shall determine the life area relevance, if any, to the individual's ISP.

(5) "Action plans":

(a) specific action plans designed to assist the individual in achieving each identified desired outcome listed in the ISP, by the team, which include criteria for measuring progress, timelines and responsible parties on each action step.

(b) service providers shall develop specific tasks and strategies (methods and procedures) for implementing each specified action step within timelines established by the IDT.

(6) "Assistive technology": Necessary support mechanisms, devices, and environmental modifications including the rationale for the use of assistive technology or adaptive equipment when a need has been identified, shall be documented in the ISP. The rationale shall include the environments and situations in which assistive technology is used. Selection of assistive technology shall support the individual's independence and functional capabilities in as nonintrusive a fashion as possible.

(7) "Availability of supports and services": Identification of potential supports and services for individuals by the IDT should be undertaken without regard to the cost of the supports and services or whether they are actually available at that time in the community.

(8) "Signature form": A signature form, containing the name, phone number and role on the IDT of all team members shall be included in the ISP. All individuals attending the annual IDT meeting shall sign the signature form to indicate their participation in the planning process. For all team members not in attendance the alternative method of their participation shall be stated on the signature line. (e.g. telephone, written report, premeeting consultation or designated representative).

(9) "Budget page": For individuals receiving services through the developmental disabilities medicaid waiver a proposed budget page developed by the case manager in consultation with the various service providers shall be included in the ISP.

[8.371.5.7 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.8 INTRODUCTION:

A. For all recipients of the developmental disabilities medicaid waiver services, this interdisciplinary team shall be chaired by the individual, if they so desire, or by the independent case manager. Services called for in the ISP shall be coordinated by the independent case manager according to the procedures described herein.

B. For all state general fund recipients, this interdisciplinary team shall be chaired by the individual, if he or she desires, or by the designated service coordinator of a community service provider agency. Services called for in the ISP shall be coordinated by the service coordinator staff of the key community service provider agency according to the procedures described herein.

C. The IDT shall review and discuss information and recommendations with the individual, with the goal of supporting the individual in attaining desired outcomes. The IDT develops an ISP based upon the individual's personal vision statement, strengths, needs, interests and preferences. The ISP is a dynamic document, revised periodically, as needed, and amended to reflect progress towards personal goals and achievements consistent with the individual's future vision. This regulation is consistent with standards established for individual plan development as set forth by accreditation entities approved and adopted by the developmental disabilities supports division and the health care authority. It is the policy of the developmental disabilities support division (DDSD) that to the extent permitted by funding, each individual receive supports and services that will assist and develop independence and productivity in the community and take affirmative action to prevent regression or loss of current capabilities. Services and supports include specialized and generic services, training, education or treatment as determined by the IDT and documented in the ISP.

D. The intent is to provide choice and obtain opportunities for individuals to live, work and play with full participation in their communities.

[8.371.5.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.9 GUIDING PRINCIPLES:

The following principles shall provide direction and purpose in planning with individuals with developmental disabilities.

A. Principle No. 1: The individual with developmental disabilities has choices in, and ownership of, the planning process. If the individual is unable to independently communicate, the team shall use observed preferences and consultation with close friends, family members, guardians, helpers, direct service staff and advocates to guide decisions.

B. Principle No. 2: A person-centered planning process shall be used to maintain the self-esteem of the person with developmental disabilities.

C. Principle No. 3: The individual's long-term vision statement shall guide assessments, planning, plan implementation and service evaluation. The plan shall describe reasonable accommodations and supports to assist the individual in the realization of the individual's vision.

D. Principle No. 4: Planning shall focus on outcomes or results which the individual wishes to achieve.

E. Principle No. 5: The plan shall address individual strengths and capabilities in developing action plans and strategies for reaching desired outcomes.

F. Principle No. 6: Visions shall usually reflect results which can be reached within one (1) year. Action plans will delineate which activities will be completed within one year and those which will be detailed in future plans or plan modifications.

G. Principle No. 7: The team developing the action plan shall recognize and understand that behavior is a form of communication.

H. Principle No. 8: Natural supports and services normally utilized by the community at large shall be preferred over specialized services in assisting individuals to reach desired outcomes; when specialized services are necessary they shall take place in natural settings whenever possible.

I. Principle No. 9: The planning process shall be tailored to each individual's culture, communication style, physical requirements, learning style and personal preferences.

[8.371.5.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.10 AVAILABILITY OF SUPPORTS, SERVICES AND FUNDS AND DDSD APPROVALS:

A. The case manager assures that identification of potential supports and services for the individual by the IDT is undertaken without regard to the cost of the supports and services or whether they are actually available at that time in the community. If needed supports and services are not available this shall be reported to the DDSD regional office by the case manager.

B. For individuals who are not Jackson class members, in specifying the supports and services in the ISP required to be provided, the IDT, exercising professional judgment, may take into account the availability of supports and services. If supports or services are identified in the ISP, but not required to be provided in the exercise of professional judgment taking into account the availability of services, the IDT shall promptly submit a list of these unavailable supports and services to the DDSD. The DDSD shall use these lists to identify appropriate community resource needs and develop strategies to add community supports and services for persons with developmental disabilities, subject to appropriations for this purpose.

C. For Jackson class members, the ISP shall include the supports and services identified by the IDT.

D. The ISP for individuals who are on the developmental disabilities medicaid waiver, including Jackson class members, must be reviewed and approved by the DDSD, as to the cost of the individual's ISP, and aggregate costs of ISPs, and as to compliance with medicaid regulations and DDSD standards. If the DDSD does not approve the ISP because of cost or non-compliance with DDSD standards, the ISP will be returned to the IDT with appropriate instructions to develop an ISP that meets requirements and is within the DDSD's budget parameters. The ISP for these individuals will not be implemented unless and until it is approved by the DDSD.

E. Because cost limitations are established upfront in the contracting process for persons funded solely by state general funds, the above ISP review and approval process (per Subsection D of 8.371.5.10 NMAC above) is not required. The DDSD reserves the right to conduct on-site reviews for compliance with applicable policy and regulation.

[8.371.5.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.11 THE INTERDISCIPLINARY TEAM:

A. The interdisciplinary team (IDT) is responsible for the development of the individual service plan (ISP) and for identifying the agencies and individuals responsible for providing the services and supports identified in the ISP.

B. The IDT shall consist of the following core members:

(1) individual: the individual shall be actively encouraged to participate in all IDT meetings and the ISP development process; this participation shall include, but not be limited to, expressing a personal vision statement for the future, indicating desired outcomes that help to realize that vision, identifying action plans that will achieve those outcomes, and personally chairing the IDT meeting, if desired and when able to do so;

(2) case manager: the duties of the case manager in relation to the individual with developmental disabilities and the IDT shall include:

(a) coordinating the development, modification and implementation of the ISP in consultation with the IDT and the individual;

(b) monitoring the integration and coordination of the individual's services;

(c) serving as the IDT chairperson, or assisting the individual in chairing the IDT meeting if he or she is capable of doing so and wishes to do so;

(d) scheduling IDT meetings annually, or more often as needed, to review or modify the ISP, and encouraging optimum participation by all IDT members;

(e) monitoring supports and services being delivered as specified in the ISP as determined by the IDT;

(f) reviewing progress on chosen outcomes, and action plans and through consultation with the IDT, amending the ISP, if needed;

(g) through timely consultation with the IDT, modifying unsuccessful service programs and developing service programs for previously unaddressed but significant individual needs that may arise prior to the next scheduled ISP meeting;

(h) advocating on behalf of the individual by making recommendations and requests on behalf of the individual;

(i) ensuring objective, quantifiable data has been systematically recorded, analyzed and used to determine effectiveness of service provided in order to justify needed changes in services;

(j) coordinating and monitoring any follow-up needed as a result of reviews;

(k) serving as liaison between the IDT and the public school system, the special education division, or any other community service teams relevant to the individual served; and

(l) assisting the community service providers in community placement or other services as needed and as specified by the IDT;

(3) the case manager ensures that the IDT identified services and supports for the individual without regard to their current availability; at the conclusion of the IDT meeting the case manager shall document unavailable services on the appropriate page of the ISP form, which is provided for this purpose, and submits this list to the DDSD, regional office;

(4) guardian: the guardian shall convey to the IDT information about the individual, historical or otherwise, which shall be useful in the development of the ISP;

(5) helper: the helper is someone who knows the individual's capabilities, interests, likes, and dislikes and who can assist the individual in communicating these with the IDT; in turn, the helper may assist the individual in understanding the ISP development process and the individual service plan that is developed;

(6) "key" community service provider staff: "key" community service providers are providers of residential, employment day program and behavioral services specifically designed for persons with developmental disabilities; "key" provider staff participating in the IDT shall include, at a minimum:

(a) direct service staff: the participation of direct service staff in the development of the individual service plan is crucial, as they are the persons who work directly with the individual within their respective domains; at least one provider staff member from each of the "key" service areas (residential, day/work-related and behavioral), who is directly involved in the provision of services to the individual in those areas, must be in attendance at all IDT meetings;

(b) service coordinator: the service coordinators of the community provider agencies shall assure that appropriate staff develop strategies specific to their responsibilities in the ISP; the service coordinators shall assure the action plans and strategies are implemented consistent with the provisions of the ISP, and shall report to the case manager on ISP implementation and the individual's progress on action plans within their agencies; for persons funded solely by state general funds, the service coordinator shall assume all the duties of the independent case manager described within these regulations; if there are two or more "key" community service provider agencies with two or more service coordinator staff, the IDT shall designate which service coordinator shall assume the duties of the case manager; the criteria to guide the IDTs selection are set forth as follows:

(i) the designated service coordinator shall have the skills necessary to carry out the duties and responsibilities of the case manager as defined in these regulations;

(ii) the designated service coordinator shall have the time and interest to fulfill the functions of the case manager as defined in these regulations;

(iii) the designated service coordinator shall be familiar with and understand community service delivery and supports;

(iv) the designated service coordinator shall know the individual or be willing to become familiar and develop a relationship with the individual being served;

(7) ancillary service providers: ancillary service providers shall participate in the IDT meeting and the ISP development process through written assessments, evaluations or reports to the IDT, or in person; the case manager, in consultation with the individual and the IDT, shall determine the need for personal participation at IDT meetings on the part of any ancillary service provider;

(8) designated healthcare coordinator: the team member designated to coordinate medical supports and services which the individual requires to manage any chronic health conditions and to access preventative healthcare services;

(9) others: unless the individual objects, other participants may include family members not already mentioned, if invited by the individual or the ISP development process on the individual's behalf; representatives of general services, who may participate in the IDT with the individual's or guardians' consent; representatives of the public school system, if the individual is of school age and attends public school; and, any others that the individual wishes to have attend the IDT meeting.

[8.371.5.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.12 DEVELOPMENT OF THE INDIVIDUAL SERVICE PLAN (ISP) - PARTICIPATION IN AND SCHEDULING OF INTERDISCIPLINARY TEAM MEETINGS:

A. Prior to the initial IDT meeting the case manager shall provide the individual and guardian, if any, with an orientation to the person- centered planning process, purpose of the ISP and roles and responsibilities of IDT members. After completion of the ISP, the individual and guardian shall be offered the opportunity to meet with the case manager and ask questions regarding the completed ISP within 30 days of the meeting, if desired.

B. The IDT shall be convened at least annually and may be convened as frequently as conditions or circumstances warrant to review and modify the ISP. If an ISP includes programs or services which restrict an individual or a behavioral program subject to the DDSD behavior support policy, the IDT shall review the relevant program or service at least quarterly. In situations where an individual is at risk of significant harm, the team shall convene within one working day, in person or by teleconference. If necessary, the ISP shall be modified accordingly within 72 hours.

C. The IDT meeting shall be scheduled and conducted by the case manager who will solicit and facilitate the full participation of all team members. The individual shall be present unless he/she chooses not to attend. If any member is unable to attend IDT meetings, arrangements for their involvement shall be made through teleconference, designated representatives, or in the case of ancillary services, written reports provided to the case manager prior to the meeting.

D. The case manager shall provide written notice of the annual IDT meeting at least 21 days prior to the meeting. Notice shall be provided to the individual, their representative, guardian, providers and other invited participants. The case manager shall consult IDT members prior to scheduling the meeting in order to determine the best dates and times. The case manager shall attempt to accommodate team member's scheduling needs shall be accommodated as long as the timing does not jeopardize continued eligibility for the DD Waiver. A request for a change of meeting date made by the individual and guardian. Written documentation of notice and scheduling activities will be maintained by the case manager in the individual's records.

E. For state general funded services, the initial IDT meeting shall be held within 60 days of the start of services, and then annually thereafter. For all other developmental disabilities medicaid waiver recipients, the IDT meeting shall be held annually based upon the previous or initial ISP approval date.

F. In the event the individual or guardian requests that others be invited to attend the IDT meeting, the case manager shall also provide them with notification of the meeting.

G. The case manager will convene the IDT on an "as needed" basis to modify (revise or amend) the ISP once it has been developed. Participants may attend through teleconference.

H. The IDT shall be convened to discuss and modify the ISP, as needed, to address:

(1) a significant life change, including a change in medical condition or medication that affects the individual's behavior or emotional state;

(2) situations where an individual is at risk of significant harm. In this case the team shall convene within one working day, in person or by teleconference; if necessary, the ISP shall be modified accordingly within 72 hours;

(3) changes in any desired outcomes, (e.g. desired outcome is not met, a change in vocational goals or the loss of a job);

(4) the loss or death of a significant person to the individual;

(5) a serious accident, illness, injury or hospitalization that disrupts implementation of the ISP;

(6) individual, guardian or provider requests for a program change or relocation, or when a termination of a service is proposed; the DDSD's policy no. 150

requires the IDT to meet and develop a transition plan whenever an individual is at risk of discharge by the provider agency or anticipates a change of provider agency to identify strategies and resources needed; if the individual or guardian is requesting a discharge or a change of provider agency, or there is an impending change in housemates the team must meet to develop a transition plan;

(7) situations where it has been determined the individual is a victim of abuse, neglect or exploitation;

(8) criminal justice involvement on the part of the individual (e.g., arrest, incarceration, release, probation, parole);

(9) any member of the IDT may also request that the team be convened by contacting the case manager; the case manager shall convene the team within 10 days of receipt of any reasonable request to convene the team, either in person or through teleconference;

(10) for any other reason that is in the best interest of the individual, or any other reason deemed appropriate, including development, integration or provision of services that are inconsistent or in conflict with the desired outcomes of the ISP and the long term vision of the individual;

(11) whenever the DDSD decides not to approve implementation of an ISP because of cost or because the DDSD believes the ISP fails to satisfy constitutional, regulatory or statutory requirements.

[8.371.5.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.13 DEVELOPMENT OF THE INDIVIDUAL SERVICE PLAN (ISP) ASSESSMENTS:

A. Assessment information, as described in Subsection C of 8.371.5.13 NMAC, shall be utilized to develop and revise the ISP. The individual, helper, family members and friends shall be provided an opportunity to present their perceptions regarding the individual's progress and current status. The observations and perceptions of people who know the individual well shall be considered when decisions regarding the ISP are made.

B. All IDT members shall review clinical and other assessments and evaluations completed on behalf of the individual. These assessments must be prepared with enough time for adequate review prior to the annual IDT meeting. Service providers preparing written assessment reports shall be responsible for submitting these documents to the IDT members at least two weeks prior to the scheduled annual IDT meeting. The case manager shall review written assessment reports with the individual and guardian prior to the IDT meeting.

C. Relevant IDT members, including ancillary service providers, shall prepare reports at least two weeks in advance of the IDT meeting, based on their assessments of the individual's progress and current status in the domain for which they are responsible. Reports shall include, at a minimum, a client individual assessment (CIA) and a long term care abstract (LOC) completed by the case manager at least annually in consultation with the IDT; adaptive behavior scales completed by relevant IDT members; assessments from the various disciplines providing services to the individual (such as vocational evaluations, physical therapy evaluations, history and physical, etc.); objective data to corroborate evaluation information; reports by progress residential and day program providers; information, historical or otherwise, provided by guardians or family members; direct observations, especially during transitional periods. IDT members shall report other relevant information depending on the individual's service needs. Assessments shall be performed in settings normally utilized whenever possible.

D. When the IDT determines further independent assessment is needed, the team shall develop action plans within the ISP that addresses the need for such an assessment, including responsibility and timelines. Implementation of any action plan related to independent assessment shall be monitored by the case manager.

E. At the IDT meeting, team members shall:

(1) elicit and develop the individual's long term vision statement;

(2) review and discuss clinical and other assessments and evaluation reports in relation to the individual's abilities, interests, preferences and desired outcomes;

(3) review objectives, quantifiable data information from the previous ISP to determine the effectiveness of services and interventions and use this information when determining new or revised outcomes, action plans and strategies for the ISP under development;

(4) use the comprehensive compilation of client assessment information and the long term vision statement to perform a functional assessment; this functional assessment identifies the supports and services needed in assisting the individual in the attainment of the long term vision; for example, the functional assessment may evaluate the use of an interpreter as a support or assistive communication devices, environmental modifications, etc.; and

(5) the functional assessment shall reflect the experience, choices, cultural background, skills, needs and abilities of the individual; this functional assessment precedes the development of the action plan at the IDT meeting; functional assessments shall reflect the individual's current skills and abilities in relation to the individual's environment and community; functional assessments shall include the interpretation of clinical assessments and evaluations in assisting the individual in meeting the long term vision.

[8.371.5.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.14 DEVELOPMENT OF THE INDIVIDUAL SERVICE PLAN (ISP) - CONTENT OF INDIVIDUAL SERVICE PLANS:

Each ISP shall contain.

A. Demographic information: The individual's name, age, date of birth, important identification numbers (i.e., medicaid, medicare, social security numbers), level of care address, phone number, guardian information (if applicable), physician name and address, primary care giver or service provider(s), date of the ISP meeting (either annual, or revision), scheduled month of next annual ISP meeting, and team members in attendance.

B. Long term vision: The vision statement shall be recorded in the individual's actual words, whenever possible. For example, in a long term vision statement, the individual may describe him or herself living and working independently in the community.

C. Outcomes:

(1) The IDT has the explicit responsibility of identifying reasonable services and supports needed to assist the individual in achieving the desired outcome and long term vision. The IDT determines the intensity, frequency, duration, location and method of delivery of needed services and supports. All IDT members may generate suggestions and assist the individual in communicating and developing outcomes. Outcome statements shall also be written in the individual's own words, whenever possible. Outcomes shall be prioritized in the ISP.

(2) Outcomes planning shall be implemented in one or more of the four"life areas" (work or leisure activities, health or development of relationships) and address as appropriate home environment, vocational, educational, communication, self-care, leisure/ social, community resource use, safety, psychological/behavioral and medical/health outcomes. The IDT shall assure that the outcomes in the ISP relate to the individual's long term vision statement. Outcomes are required for any life area for which the individual receives services funded by the developmental disabilities meadicaid waiver.

D. Individual preference: The individual's preferences, capabilities, strengths and needs in each life area determined to be relevant to the identified ISP outcomes shall be reflected in the ISP. The long term vision, age, circumstances, and interests of the individual, shall determine the life area relevance, if any to the individual's ISP.

E. Action plans:

(1) Specific ISP action plans that will assist the individual in achieving each identified, desired outcome shall be developed by the IDT and stated in the ISP. The IDT establishes the action plan of the ISP, as well as the criteria for measuring progress on each action step.

(2) Service providers shall develop specific action plans and strategies (methods and procedures) for implementing each ISP desired outcome. Timelines for meeting each action step are established by the IDT. Responsible parties to oversee appropriate implementation of each action step are determined by the IDT.

(3) The action plans, strategies, timelines and criteria for measuring progress, shall be relevant to each desired outcome established by the IDT. The individual's definition of success shall be the primary criterion used in developing objective, quantifiable indicators for measuring progress.

(4) Provider agencies shall use formats to complete strategies relating to the ISP action plans during or after the IDT meeting. Separate provider agencies working to coordinate specific strategies to achieve the same action plans shall develop their strategies jointly. Service provider agencies shall develop strategies that are clearly integrated and associated with the individual's long term vision, outcomes, action plans and therapy recommendations identified by the IDT. Therapists shall provide input into the development of strategies either directly or through review and revision prior to submission to the case manager. Provider agencies shall submit strategies for inclusion into the ISP to the case manager within two weeks following the ISP meeting. The case manager shall review the strategies for consistency.

(5) Supports and services, including services available to the general public, determined by the IDT and indicated in the ISP, shall be relevant to the individual's long term vision, desired outcomes and action plans. Supports and services shall be the least restrictive, not unduly intrusive and not excessive in light of the individual's needs.

F. Assistive technology: Necessary support mechanisms devices, and environmental modifications including the rationale for the use of assistive technology or adaptive equipment when a need has been identified, shall be documented in the ISP. The rationale shall include the environments and situations in which assistive technology is used. Selection of assistive technology shall support the individual's independence and functional capabilities in as nonintrusive a fashion as possible.

G. Availability of supports and services:

(1) Identification of potential supports and services for individuals by the IDT should be undertaken without regard to the cost of the supports and services or whether they are actually available at the time in the community.

(2) For individuals who receive services through state general fund or developmental disabilities medicaid waiver but who are NOT Jackson class members, the IDT, exercising professional judgment, may take into account the availability of supports and services in specifying in the ISP the supports and services required to be provided. If supports or services are identified in the ISP, but not required to be provided in the exercise of professional judgment taking into account the availability of services, the IDT shall promptly submit a list of these unavailable supports and services to the DDSD.

(3) For Jackson class members, the ISP shall include the supports and services identified by the IDT.

(4) The DDSD shall use these lists to identify appropriate community resource needs and develop strategies to add community supports and services, generally, for persons with developmental disabilities, subject to appropriations for this purpose.

H. Signature form:

(1) A signature form, containing the name, phone number and role on the IDT of all team members shall be included in the ISP. All individuals participating in the annual IDT meeting shall sign the signature form to indicate their participation in the planning process.

(2) Signing this form does not affect the individual's or guardian's right, if any, to dispute all or part of the ISP or to initiate a complaint or grievance procedure. The case manager shall explain the right to dispute or to file a grievance to the individual and guardian at the IDT meeting. The case manager shall inform the individual and guardian of the DDSD, office of quality assurance, its role and function in monitoring services in the community, as well as the role and function of any other relevant monitoring agencies, such as the licensing and certification bureau of the division of health improvement and adult protective services program of the aging and long term services department. The case manager shall give the individual and guardian their business address and phone number, as well as the 800 number of the DDSD's office of quality assurance and other relevant numbers.

I. Budget page: For individuals receiving services through the developmental disabilities medicaid waiver, a proposed budget page developed by the case manager in consultation with the various service providers shall be included in the ISP.

[8.371.5.14 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.15 DEVELOPMENT OF THE INDIVIDUAL SERVICE PLAN (ISP) - APPROVAL OF THE ISP BY THE DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES SUPPORTS DIVISION:

A. The ISP for recipients of the Medicaid developmental disabilities waiver services (including Jackson class members) must be reviewed by the DDSD as to the cost of the individual's ISP and aggregate costs of ISPs and as to compliance with DDSD standards and medicaid regulations. If the DDSD does not approve an ISP because of cost or non-compliance, the ISP will be returned to the IDT with appropriate instructions to develop an ISP that meets requirements and is within the DDSD's budget parameters. The ISP for developmentally disabled medicaid waiver recipients (including Jackson class members) shall not be implemented until approval by the DDSD.

B. Because cost limitations are established upfront in the contracting process for persons funded solely by state general funds, the above ISP review and approval process (per Subsection A of 8.371.5.15 NMAC above) is not required. The DDSD reserves the right to conduct on-site review for compliance with these regulations.

[8.371.5.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.16 DEVELOPMENT OF THE INDIVIDUAL SERVICE PLAN (ISP) - IMPLEMENTATION OF THE ISP:

The ISP shall be implemented according to the timelines determined by the IDT and as specified in the ISP for each stated desired outcome and action plan.

[8.371.5.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.17 DEVELOPMENT OF THE INDIVIDUAL SERVICE PLAN (ISP) - DISSEMINATION OF THE ISP, DOCUMENTATION AND COMPLIANCE:

A. The case manager shall provide copies of the completed ISP, with all relevant service provider strategies attached, within 14 days of ISP approval to:

(1) the individual;

(2) the guardian (if applicable);

(3) all relevant staff of the service provider agencies in which the ISP will be implemented, as well as other key support persons;

(4) all other IDT members in attendance at the meeting to develop the ISP;

(5) the individual's attorney, if applicable;

(6) others the IDT identifies, if they are entitled to the information, or those the individual or guardian identifies;

(7) for all developmental disabilities mediciad waiver recipients, including Jackson class members, a copy of the completed ISP containing all the information specified in 8.371.5.14 NMAC, including strategies, shall be submitted to the local regional office of the DDSD;

(8) for Jackson class members only, a copy of the completed ISP, with all relevant service provider strategies attached, shall be sent to the Jackson lawsuit office of the DDSD.

B. Current copies of the ISP shall be available at all times in the individual's records located at the case management agency. The case manager shall assure that all revisions or amendments to the ISP are distributed to all IDT members, not only those affected by the revisions.

C. Objective quantifiable data reporting progress or lack of progress towards stated outcomes, and action plans shall be maintained in the individual's records at each provider agency implementing the ISP. Provider agencies shall use this data to evaluate the effectiveness of services provided. Provider agencies shall submit to the case manager data reports and individual progress summaries quarterly, or more frequently, as decided by the IDT. These reports shall be included in the individual's case management record, and used by the team to determine the ongoing effectiveness of the supports and services being provided. Determination of effectiveness shall result in timely modification of supports and services as needed.

D. The ISP shall be consistent with all relevant health care authority and DDSD rules, policies, procedures operational guidelines, including, but not limited to, the HCA operational procedures; standards and applicable accreditation standards approved by the authority and DDSD; the behavioral support policy, the Jackson management manual (appendices A and B); the medicaid waiver operations manual; the program standards for DD community agencies; the case manager standards and client rights regulations. Confidentiality and individual rights shall be protected at all times.

E. For Jackson class members, the request to initiate a dispute under appendix B of the Jackson management manual shall automatically delay implementation of the disputed portions of the ISP until the dispute is resolved unless the health or safety of the individual would be adversely affected. Any dispute raised under appendix B shall be decided under the hearing officer guidelines for decisions contained in the appendix.

F. Nothing in this regulation shall provide an entitlement to programs, supports, services or benefits or create any legal rights that do not otherwise exist under other law or regulation.

G. The health care authority's decision regarding the allocation of resources to any ISP is final, (within the HCA) in the authority's sole discretion, and is not reviewable in the dispute resolution process or other agency administrative review process.

H. Community service provider agencies and case management agencies shall modify or amend their internal policies and procedures regarding ISP development to reflect the provisions stated within the ISP regulations. All ISPs and all modifications to ISPs shall be developed in compliance with these regulations.

[8.371.5.17 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.5.18 SANCTIONS:

The authority or other governmental agency having regulatory enforcement authority for community based services provider agencies who have entered into contracts or medicaid provider agreements with the health care authority, developmental disabilities supports division, may sanction in accordance with applicable law if the service provider fails to provide services as set forth by this rule. Such sanctions may include revocation or suspension of license, directed plan of correction, intermediate sanctions or civil monetary penalty up to $5000 per instance, or termination or non- renewal of any contract with the authority or other governmental agency.

[8.371.5.18 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

PART 6: REQUIREMENTS FOR DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

8.371.6.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority, Developmental Disabilities Division.

[8.371.6.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.2 SCOPE:

These regulations apply to all community agencies who have entered into contracts or medicaid provider agreements with the health care authority, developmental disabilities division, to provide services to persons with developmental disabilities.

[8.371.6.2 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

Sections 28-16-7 and 28-16-8, NMSA 1978, (the Developmental Disabilities Community Services Act) and Subsection E of Section 9-8-6 NMSA 1978. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority (authority) as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.371.6.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.371.6.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a later date is cited at the end of a section.

[8.371.6.5 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.6 OBJECTIVE:

A. These regulations are being promulgated to promote and assure the provision of quality services to persons with developmental disabilities residing in community agencies.

B. These regulations are being promulgated as part of a quality assurance initiative requiring all community agencies providing services to persons with developmental disabilities and contracting with the developmental disabilities division to be accredited by the commission on accreditation of rehabilitation facilities (CARF).

[8.371.6.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.7 DEFINITIONS:

A. "Adult" means an individual who has attained the age of 18 years.

B. "Community agency" means any nonprofit or for profit corporation, tribal organization, unit of local government, or other organization which has entered into a contract with the authority for the purpose of providing developmental disabilities services.

C. "Community living setting" refers, for the purpose of these regulations, to a community living situation supervised by a community agency, which:

(1) provides living arrangements for persons with a developmental disability; and

(2) is located in the community. Such facilities may include licensed group homes, foster homes, family living situations, supported living situations, companion homes, semi-independent living and assisted living residences or similar residences or innovative residential settings. When personal care and respite services are the sole services provided to the individual, these services are not included under the definition for "community living setting" as long as they are provided in the individual's or family's personal home which is not under the direct auspices or control of the community agency.

D. "Consent screening instrument" means the instruments or procedures for determining an adult's ability to give informed consent to a residential placement as the authority will designate.

E. "Court" means a New Mexico state district court.

F. "Developmental disability" means a severe chronic disability of a person which is attributable to a mental or physical impairment, including the result of trauma to the brain, or combination of mental and physical impairments; is manifested before the person attains age 22; is likely to continue indefinitely; results in substantial functional limitations in three or more of the following areas of major life activity:

(1) self-care;

(2) receptive or expressive language;

(3) learning;

(4) mobility;

(5) self-direction;

(6) capacity for independent living;

(7) economic self-sufficiency; and

(8) reflects the person's need for a combination and sequence of special interdisciplinary or generic care treatment or other services that are of life-long or extended duration and which are individually planned and coordinated.

G. "Developmental delay" is defined as a discrepancy between chronological age, after correction for prematurity, and developmental age in one or more of the following areas of development: cognitive, communication, physical/ motor (including vision and hearing), social/emotional, or adaptive.

(1) Eligibility: To be eligible for services, a child must demonstrate twenty-five percent or more discrepancy between chronological age, after correction for prematurity, and developmental age. The extent of the child's delay must be documented. A determination of developmental delay shall not be based upon behavior related to cultural or language differences.

(2) Determination of developmental status: The determination of developmental status of the child in each of the developmental areas must be established through an interdisciplinary evaluation process which meets the criteria defined in Section 31 of "Policies, Procedures and Guidelines for the Family, Infant, Toddler Program (FIT)". The procedures may include informed clinical opinion, norm-referenced/ standardized measures, criterion- referenced/curriculum-based instruments, behavior checklists and adaptive behavior measures.

H. "Established condition" is defined as a diagnosed physical, mental or neurobiological condition which has a high probability of resulting in developmental delay. A delay in development may or may not be exhibited at the time of the diagnosis. Examples of an "established condition" include, but are not limited to: down's syndrome, and other chromosomal abnormalities associated with delays in development; congenital and postnatal conditions associated with delays in developmental, such as sensory impairments (including vision and hearing), inborn errors of metabolism, myelomeningocele, cerebral palsy, fetal alcohol syndrome, non-febrile seizures, malignancy of the brain or spinal cord, acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS), hydrocephaly, and infections such as cytomegalovirus (CMV), herpes or encephalitis; neurobiological conditions such as autism or other pervasive developmental disorders.

(1) Eligibility: The determination of the presence of an established condition is identified by a physician or other primary health care provider. The diagnosis of the condition(s) establishes eligibility.

(2) Determination of developmental status: The determination of developmental status of the child in each of the developmental areas must be established through an interdisciplinary evaluation process which meets the criteria defined in Section 31 of "policies, procedures and guidelines for the family, infant, toddler program (FIT)".

I. A "Biological or medical risk for developmental delay" is the presence of early medical conditions which are known to produce developmental delays in some children. Examples of "biological or medical risk" include, but are not limited to, the following medical conditions: pre- term birth of less than 32 weeks gestation; very low birth weight (less than 1500 grams or three pounds, four ounces); periventricular intraventricular hemorrhage (PIVH); periventricular leukomalacia (PVL); hypoxic ischemic encephalopathy (birth asphyxia); chronic lung disease (CLD) of prematurity or bronchopulmonary dysplasia (BPD); prenatal exposure to drugs or medications or other teratogens known to be associated with developmental delays; failure to thrive; chronic otitis media.

(1) Eligibility: The determination of the presence of biological/medical risk condition(s) is identified by a physician or other primary health care provider (PHCP). The diagnosis of the condition(s) establishes eligibility.

(2) Determination of developmental status: The determination of developmental status of the child in each of the developmental areas must be established through an interdisciplinary evaluation process which meets the criteria defined in Section 31 of "policies, procedures and guidelines for the family, infant, toddler program (FIT)".

J. An "Environmental risk for developmental delay" is the presence of physical, social or economic factors in the environment which pose a substantial threat to development. Examples of "environmental risk" are usually a combination of more than one factor which may include, but are not limited to: Parental developmental disabilities or psychiatric disorders; parental substance abuse; child abuse or neglect; homelessness; exposure to domestic or other episodes of violence.

(1) Eligibility: The determination of the presence of eligible environmental risk factors must be established by a multi-agency team.

(2) Determination of developmental status: The determination of developmental status of the child in each of the developmental areas must be established through an interdisciplinary evaluation process which meets the criteria defined in Section 31 of "policies, procedures and guidelines for the family, infant, toddler program (FIT)".

K. "Guardian" means for purposes of these regulations a guardian, limited guardian or guardian ad litem as defined in Section 45-1-21 NMSA 1978 or as may be subsequently amended.

L. "Person" or "person served" means individuals with "developmental disabilities", "developmental delay", "established condition" or "at risk for developmental delay (biological/ medical risk or environmental risk)" as defined within these regulations, currently receiving or waiting to receive services.

[8.371.6.7 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.8 ELIGIBILITY FOR SERVICES:

A. Community agencies shall establish clearly written criteria for eligibility which correspond with the definitions of "developmental disability", "developmental delay" and "at risk for developmental delay" as defined within these regulations:

B. Community agencies shall have written procedures for notifying the person(s) served of their eligibility status.

[8.371.6.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.9 CONSENT SCREENING FOR PERSONS ENTERING COMMUNITY LIVING FACILITIES:

A. Prior to admission into a community living setting, community agencies shall convene an interdisciplinary team (IDT) to determine if the person served has the ability to consent to a residential placement or is likely to need consent screening. This determination and its justification is to be documented in writing. If the IDT determines:

(1) that the person served does not need consent screening, then the person served should at this point be given the option to accept or reject the community agency's services.

(2) that the person served needs consent screening, the ability to consent should then be determined using the consent screening instrument.

B. The community living setting will have a written review process that provides an expedient means to re-evaluate the person's ability to give consent. The process shall describe steps in the procedure and timelines governing the procedure.

C. If the person served is found able to give consent then they should have the option to accept or reject the community agency's services.

D. At any time the person served or guardian believes the person served has the ability to give consent, they can have their consent status reviewed and request a new consent screening.

E. The need for consent screening should be reviewed by the IDT at least once a year.

(1) If the person served did not pass the consent screening at the time of the initial admission, then the consent screening must be administered within one year and annually thereafter.

(2) If the person served was able to give consent, the IDT will be required to review the need to administer the consent screening instrument when it has reasonable grounds for believing that the client may no longer be capable of providing consent.

[8.371.6.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.10 ADMISSION TO COMMUNITY LIVING SETTINGS:

A. If the person served is found able to consent and agrees to be admitted to the community living-setting they shall record their signature or make other appropriate designation of approval on the admissions document.

B. If the person served is found able to consent and the IDT indicates that the person served would benefit from placement in a community-living setting, but the person served refuses such placement attempt, then the person served may be admitted only upon involuntary commitment under Sections 43-1-13 NMSA 1978, or 43-1-11 NMSA 1978 and 43-1-12 NMSA 1978 of the New Mexico Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities Code.

C. If the person served is found not able to give consent and the IDT indicates that the person served would benefit from placement in a community-living setting, then the program may not admit the person without the consent of a guardian legally authorized to provide or withhold such consent. The exception would be in the case of an emergency admission for a period not to exceed 90 days, pursuant to 8.371.6.12 NMAC.

[8.371.6.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.11 WAITING LIST:

The authority shall maintain an up-to-date waiting list consisting of all persons who need placement in a community living-setting, but are not yet placed in a community living setting. Any program with an opening in a community living-setting may select any person from the waiting list of persons from the developmental disabilities bureau of the authority who has been evaluated for admission to the community living-setting. A person should not be admitted to a community living setting unless the community agency agrees to serve that person.

[8.371.6.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.12 EMERGENCY SERVICES:

A. Services in a community living setting may be provided on an emergency basis to any person believed to be developmentally disabled when a community agency determines that there is imminent danger that the physical health or safety of the person will be seriously impaired if the services are not provided, and that the normal admissions procedure, including consent screening and evaluation, cannot be accomplished in time to avoid danger.

B. When emergency services are provided, the community agency should document the nature of the emergency resulting in services being provided.

C. When the person served is receiving emergency services, the community agency should evaluate the person in a timely manner to determine if the person served will continue to receive services from their community agency.

D. Emergency services should not be provided for more than seven days unless an evaluation has begun, or, for more than 21 days in total, unless a court or the authority orders otherwise.

[8.371.6.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.13 NOTICE OF THE DEATH OF A PERSON SERVED:

A. The agency shall have policies and procedures regarding the death of a person under supervision of the agency. These policies and procedures shall include:

(1) staff responsibilities and protocols for handling the immediate situation;

(2) person(s) to be notified and procedure for notification;

(3) provisions for disposal of estate and person's funds, when person has no relevant person(s) to perform these duties.

B. If termination of services is the result of a person's death, the following information shall be prepared for the person's file and sent to the authority:

(1) time and date of person's death;

(2) cause of death;

(3) circumstances surrounding death;

(4) medical/autopsy report;

(5) summary of any follow-up findings relating to the death.

[8.371.6.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.6.14 CARF STANDARDS MANUAL FOR ORGANIZATIONS SERVING PEOPLE WITH DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES:

Community agencies governed by these regulations are required to meet applicable provisions of the most current edition of the "CARF standards manual for organizations serving people with disabilities". Sections of the CARF standards may be waived by the authority when deemed not applicable to the services provided by the community agency.

[8.371.6.14 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

PART 7: (APPENDIX A) - INDIVIDUAL TRANSITION PLANNING PROCESS

8.371.7.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority, Developmental Disabilities Division.

[8.371.7.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.2 SCOPE:

A. The regulations provide a systematic process for the individualized planning and implementation of a developmentally disabled resident's transition from the two large, state-operated institutional facilities into a community setting.

B. The ITP process described in this document is intended to develop a proposed community placement for an individual based upon the individual's preferences and upon community service provider selections made generally by the individual's parent/guardian in consultation with the individual. As specified in Activity 19, below, the placement proposal developed by this process is subject to the health care authority review of the cost of the individual's plan or aggregate costs.

[8.371.7.2 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

Section 9-7-6 NMSA 1978. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority (authority) as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care facility licensure and health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.371.7.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.371.7.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a later date is cited at the end of a section.

[8.371.7.5 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.6 OBJECTIVE:

These regulations are promulgated, in part, to satisfy requirements arising from the implementation of the decision in Jackson, et al, v. Fort Stanton, et al., N.M. Dist. Ct. No. Civ. No. 87-839. The transition process appearing in these regulations has evolved over time, initially appearing as Appendix A to the Jackson Management Manual. This transition planning process history accounts for the continuing reference in the regulation title to Appendix A. The regulations embody certain agreements and arrangements reached by the parties to the Jackson lawsuit. And they reflect the developmental disabilities division's cumulative experience in planning and administering the transition process.

[8.371.7.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.7 DEFINITIONS:

The transition interdisciplinary team:

A. The individual: The individual with a developmental disability must participate to the greatest extent possible. There must be a serious effort to ensure that the individual is present and that they, even when lacking verbal skills, are given the opportunity to express their interests, choices and strengths. However, no individual shall be compelled to participate in the planning process. The individual's normal daily routine and schedule should be followed as much as possible on days when meetings occur; special accommodations for the individual should be identified prior to each meeting and appropriate adjustments and modifications in the meeting should be planned to enable them to participate as fully as possible. An individual may choose someone to represent them consistent with their wishes in the TIDT meetings. If such a representative is chosen, that person shall receive all notices and other documents sent to TIDT participants.

B. The parent/guardian: As used in these procedures, the phrase "parent/guardian" shall mean the individual's legal guardian or, if the individual is a minor, the individual's parent(s). The division shall attempt to inform and involve the parent/guardian in the transition planning process, including making reasonable scheduling accommodations and providing interpreters as necessary.

C. The helper: The helper is someone who knows the individual's capabilities, interests, likes and dislikes and who communicates with the individual. The helper may be a friend, roommate, family member, teacher, co-worker, current or former employee of the institutional facility, foster grandparent, or any other person from the individual's circle of relatives, friends, or acquaintances.

D. The social worker: The social worker should be the social worker at the facility, i.e., either Los Lunas or Fort Stanton, who has worked with the individual or, if unavailable, the social worker who has been assigned.

E. Facility interdisciplinary team (IDT) members: Facility interdisciplinary team members, designated pursuant to division Jackson office policy memoranda, who have been trained to participate in the transition process and who have knowledge of the individual shall assist with ITP planning, implementation and follow- up, as required.

F. Jackson transition representative (JTR): The Jackson transition representative (JTR) is the division's representative at transition meetings and activities.

G. Key community service providers: Key community service providers are selected prior to the TIDT meeting pursuant to Activity 7. The term key community service providers means the community residential provider and other providers of significant services for the individual, including but not limited to the competitive and supportive employment provider, medical professional(s) if the individual's medical condition so requires, and other support service providers identified by the expanded IDT as key community service providers. When the individual is of school age, a representative of the local education agency is a key community service provider.

[8.371.7.7 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.8 INTRODUCTION:

A. There are two planning components that must be accomplished concurrently:

(1) planning and effecting the move for each individual who will be moving; and

(2) planning and preparing the system of community supports.

B. This document provides the process by which each individual transition plan (ITP) shall be developed. The Jackson systemic plan and Jackson management manual address the preparation of the system of community placements and supports. These documents have been developed so that the systemic components are consistent with and support the proposed means of individualized planning and placement.

C. The developmental disabilities division, hereinafter "division", is committed to preparing and implementing ITPs expeditiously, consistent with professional judgement. The ITP process reflects the fact that New Mexico is currently seeking to create a system of supports and services for individuals who are moving from institutional facilities to community living. The division anticipates that as its service system for individuals with developmental disabilities expands, the time associated with several activities may be shortened. Therefore, prior to October 1, 1994, the division shall review its experience in implementing these procedures to determine whether any of the provisions may be modified and particularly whether any of the time periods should be shortened. These procedures shall remain in effect unless modified by the division after consultation with the parties in Jackson et al. v. Fort Stanton et al., Civ. No. 87-839 JP. The health care authority, hereinafter, "the authority", intends that the procedures described herein shall be consistent with federal regulations and requirements. If there is a conflict between these procedures and the federal regulations and requirements, the federal regulations and requirements shall govern.

[8.371.7.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.9 BASIC CONCEPTS AND ITP DEVELOPMENT GUIDELINES:

A. Individual transition planning is founded on the following basic concepts:

(1) Individual transition planning strives for the goal that the individual can live in and be a part of a community in the same manner and to the same extent as would any other person of like age and interests.

(2) There are no starting assumptions based on models of service. Planning is not performed in order to fit an individual into existing models of service, but rather to tailor necessary supports to the individual who is moving, through uniquely individualized planning.

(3) Supports and services are provided to the extent there is a demonstrated individual need, and no more.

(4) All persons have strengths and interests and are capable of growth and development, at differing paces.

(5) Successful human planning starts from and builds on individual strengths and interests, not deficits.

(6) Human planning must be flexible and responsive to changing individual circumstances and environments.

B. The TIDT shall develop the ITP in accordance with the following guidelines:

(1) The contents of the ITP are reasonable and appropriate to meet the individual's needs and promote identified strengths and capacities.

(2) The ITP reflects the individual's preferences, to the extent appropriate, unless the individual communicates no preference or is incapable of communicating any preference.

(3) The ITP is designed to utilize services that allow the individual to be more, rather than less, integrated in the community and rely on available generic services to the extent feasible and consistent with the individual's needs.

(4) The ITP provides services which are least restrictive, not unduly intrusive and not excessive in light of the individual's needs.

(5) The ITP can be practicably implemented.

[8.371.7.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.10 THE INTERDISCIPLINARY TEAM:

Each individual residing at Los Lunas or Fort Stanton hospital and training school has an interdisciplinary team (IDT), which is responsible for developing the individual program plan (IPP) as long as the individual resides in the facility. It is the individual's IDT that, among its other activities, has the responsibility for recommending the individual for community placement. Once that recommendation is made, transition planning is begun. To successfully accomplish the development of an ITP, each individual's IDT shall expand to include community membership and become the transition interdisciplinary team (TIDT).

[8.371.7.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.11 THE TRANSITION INTERDISCIPLINARY TEAM (TIDT):

A. In order to develop a transition plan that is tailored to the individual, and in order to help achieve successful placement of the individual in the community, the IDT shall expand to include a number of non-professionals, managers and prospective community service providers, as well as the IDT's professionals. There is no universal combination of persons necessary for the TIDT meeting. The individual's participation at the TIDT meeting is necessary unless the individual objects. The participation of the parent/guardian at the meeting is usually required unless the absence is by choice or by necessity. The persons who comprise the TIDT shall normally be present at the TIDT meeting, but in the absence of any person, the team members may proceed with the individual planning process if those present determine it to be appropriate under the circumstances.

B. The TIDT shall usually include the following persons:

(1) The Individual: The individual with a developmental disability must participate to the greatest extent possible. There must be a serious effort to ensure that the individual is present and that he or she, even when lacking verbal skills, is given the opportunity to express their interests, choices and strengths. However, no individual shall be compelled to participate in the planning process. The individual's normal daily routine and schedule should be followed as much as possible on days when meetings occur; special accommodations for the individual should be identified prior to each meeting and appropriate adjustments and modifications in the meeting should be planned to enable them to participate as fully as possible. An individual may choose someone to represent them consistent with their wishes in the TIDT meetings. If such a representative is chosen, that person shall receive all notices and other documents sent to TIDT participants.

(2) The parent/guardian:

(a) The division shall attempt to inform and involve the parent/guardian in the transition planning process, including making reasonable scheduling accommodations and providing interpreters as necessary.

(b) If by 30 days prior to the transition interdisciplinary team (TIDT) meeting described in Activity 11 a parent/ guardian has advised the division that the guardian is unwilling or unable to be an active participant during the transition planning process, the division shall seek prompt modification of the guardianship and, if needed, appointment of a co- guardian or a successor guardian to ensure that the individual's guardian, if any, is an informed and active participant in the planning process. A parent/guardian may choose someone to represent him/her consistent with his/her wishes in TIDT meetings. If such a representative is chosen, that person shall receive all notices and other documents sent to TIDT participants.

(3) The helper:

(a) The role of the helper is to assist the individual in participating in the transition planning process by helping the individual to communicate his or her interests, likes and dislikes to other TIDT members. The same helper should be available throughout the transition process. Whenever the helper is a facility employee, accommodation should be made to facilitate his/her availability for all meetings.

(b) The individual can select their helper. For those individuals who do not select a helper, but do not object to the assistance of a helper, the facility's director of social work shall identify a qualified helper. If necessary, the division shall reimburse the helper for reasonable travel expenses incurred solely to visit the individual at least once before the TIDT meeting and to attend TIDT meeting(s) described in Activity 11.

(4) The social worker:

(a) The social worker should be the social worker at the facility i.e., either Los Lunas or Fort Stanton, who has worked with the individual or, if unavailable, the social worker who has been assigned.

(b) The social worker shall work with the case manager on behalf of the facility to assist with the proposed transition and any follow-up support as required.

(5) The case manager:

(a) The case manager should be the individual selected or assigned pursuant to activity 2.

(b) The case manager shall have a good working knowledge of the available generic and specialized services in the geographic area to which the individual will be moving. The case manager, in addition to the duties described herein and in the Jackson management manual, shall review the bi-weekly reports of the Jackson office on the status of pre- placement activities and monitor ITP implementation at the facility and in the community and shall review the ITP and the community programs identified for the individual immediately prior to the move to ensure the necessary supports and services are in place.

(6) Facility interdisciplinary team (IDT) members: Facility interdisciplinary team members, designated pursuant to division Jackson office policy memoranda, who have been trained to participate in the transition process and who have knowledge of the individual shall assist with ITP planning, implementation and follow- up, as required.

(7) Jackson transition representative (JTR): The Jackson transition representative (JTR) is the division's representative at transition meetings and activities. This individual's primary purpose shall be to assist in identifying community service providers and facilitating and documenting the transition planning process.

(8) Key community service providers: Key community service providers are selected prior to the TIDT meeting pursuant to Activity 7. The term key community service providers means the community residential provider and other providers of significant services for the individual, including but not limited to, the competitive and supportive employment provider, medical professional(s) if the individual's medical condition so requires, and other support service providers identified by the expanded IDT as key community service providers. When the individual is of school age, a representative of the local education agency is a key community service provider, and should be present at transition planning meetings.

C. The individual and or the parent/guardian may invite other individuals to attend TIDT meetings. Parents or family members who are not guardians of an adult individual may be invited, unless the adult individual objects. Voting privileges are limited to TIDT core group members, pursuant to DDD Jackson office policy memoranda. Scheduling of the TIDT meeting(s) shall not be delayed for the convenience of these "other individuals" who have been invited to attend, nor rescheduled if such "other individuals" fail to attend.

[8.371.7.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.12 PREPARATION FOR PARTICIPATION IN TRANSITION PLANNING:

In order to prepare team members for participation in the team process, the following activities, as provided in the Jackson systemic plan and management manual should occur:

A. Team members who are staff of the health care authority or of the case management agencies providing services on behalf of the state shall be trained in the TIDT process.

B. The case manager and the helper shall meet with and provide assistance to the individual so that the individual understands and is prepared to participate in the TIDT process to the extent possible.

C. The case manager shall meet with the parent/guardian and provide information on the TIDT process.

D. The information developed for the individual and parent/guardian pursuant to the Jackson Management Manual shall be provided to the individual and parent/ guardian.

E. The authority shall provide for an interpreter, if necessary, and for transportation for the parent/guardian to attend team meetings as needed.

[8.371.7.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.13 THE PROCESS FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE INDIVIDUAL TRANSITION PLAN (ITP) - TIME LINES:

A. The individual transition plan (ITP) process provides timelines by which specific actions are scheduled to occur. Although the health care authority intends to accomplish the specified activities within the time lines provided, the quality of individual program planning and the involvement of the individual will not be compromised in order to achieve a specific time line.

B. The health care authority shall provide to the plaintiffs and plaintiff-intervenors a "planning initiation schedule" on a quarterly basis that will identify the date by which Activity 11, the TIDT meeting, shall be initiated for each individual on the schedule. The initial transition interdisciplinary team (TIDT) meeting is scheduled by the Jackson office of the developmental disabilities division (DDD) upon the recommendation of the facility IDT for community placement. Except as provided herein, effective August 1, 1994, and thereafter, the initial transition interdisciplinary team (TIDT) meeting will be scheduled within sixty days of a community placement recommendation of the facility interdisciplinary team (FIDT). If, as of July 31, 1994, new Los Lunas center for persons with developmental disabilities FIDT community placement recommendations exceed one, but do not exceed two per month, the requirement to schedule the TIDT meeting within 60 days is effective September 1, 1994. If, as of July 31, 1994, new Los Lunas hospital and training school FIDT community placement recommendations exceed two per month, the requirement to schedule the TIDT meeting within 60 days is effective October 1, 1994. TIDT dates are fixed and subject to change only on condition of extraordinary circumstances, absence of key team members or due process initiation.

C. The time lines shall be extended only so long as necessary to accommodate:

(1) additional TIDT meetings, as determined by the TIDT under Activity 11 or the case manager under activity 17;

(2) a pending dispute pursuant to the dispute resolution process (DRP) for individual transition plans (see Activity 18 and 8.371.8 NMAC) dispute resolution process (Appendix B); or

(3) extraordinary circumstances as determined by:

(a) the case manager under Activities 16 and 17, for example; or

(b) the Jackson coordinator as a result of significant changes in an individual's condition or circumstances.

(4) A delay for extraordinary circumstances is subject to review by the TIDT upon the request of the individual, the parent/ guardian or their representative.

D. Absent such events, the division shall schedule and accomplish the activities identified below within the following time lines:

(1) TIDT meeting (Activity 11): No more than 228 days prior to placement, and as set by Jackson transition office calendar (absent extraordinary circumstances or judicial stay order); updated calendars submitted to the court;

(2) additional TIDTs (Activity 11): within 21 days of initial TIDT meeting;

(3) cost proposals (Activity 13 - 14): submitted 30 days after distribution of the ITP; reviewed within 30 days;

(4) ITPQA review meeting (Activity 17): scheduled at the final TIDT meeting; to occur 30 - 45 days prior to placement date.

E. Case manager activities (activities 2 - 9) may begin as early as 120 days, but no later than 90 days prior to the established initial TIDT meeting date.

F. Interim target time lines are more fully set forth below in the specific paragraph describing the activity. Activities 1 - 10 may begin for each individual at the division's discretion sufficiently in advance of the planning initiation schedule identified by the division. In no event shall activity 10 be completed later that 14 days before each individual's planning initiation date. Unless otherwise specified, days means calendar days.

[8.371.7.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.14 THE PROCESS FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE INDIVIDUAL TRANSITION PLAN (ITP) - TRANSITION PLANNING ACTIVITIES:

A. Prior to the start of the formal transition process, the facility interdisciplinary team (FIDT) shall convene to conduct the annual IPP meeting. At this facility IDT meeting, the following transition activities shall be conducted:

(1) Review individual for community placement; if appropriate, make formal recommendation for community transition to begin and identify probable geographic area of community move. The individual and parent/guardian(s) shall, in consultation with the FIDT, choose the probable area of relocation.

(a) If a recommendation for community placement is made, the presumption is that the individual shall, if a child, move home with necessary supports, or, if an adult, move to the family's home town or nearby. This presumption may be altered by factors such as individual interest and choice, work interest and opportunities, friendships, families with competing interests, and the potential availability and costs of medical resources and other support services or service providers. The social worker shall notify the Jackson office of the facility of the individual's community placement recommendation and probable area of relocation within five days.

(b) After notification regarding an individual's probable area of relocation, the Jackson office shall add the individual to the transition planning calendar. The Jackson transition representative (JTR) shall inform the individual and the individual's parent/guardian of the identity of potential community service providers and the types of services the community service provider offers. The facility social worker and case manager, if already chosen, shall assist the individual and parent/guardian in making the community service provider selection (see Activity 7, below).

(2) Establish goals and objectives in the IPP that will facilitate the individual's transition, if community placement is recommended.

(3) Identify strengths and supports within the ten"life areas" (profile of supports form). Make support descriptions useful.

(4) Access regional office staff for community resource information and liaison. Identify generic resources in the area of relocation that could be utilized by the individual.

B. Transition planning for individuals recommended for community placement shall proceed after the facility IDT meeting with the following activities. Unless the context requires otherwise, activities may occur concurrently.

[8.371.7.14 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.15 ACTIVITY 1: SELECTION OF HELPER:

At least 90 days before the TIDT meeting identified in Activity 11, the social worker shall contact the individual and, using appropriate communication assistance or aids, explain to the individual their right to identify a helper or representative to assist in the upcoming TIDT meetings and the right to invite any other person as provided in Section 11. The individual may refuse to have the assistance of a helper.

[8.371.7.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.16 ACTIVITY 2: CASE MANAGER ASSIGNED:

A. For the individual moving to the community the social worker shall, after identification of the probable area of relocation, provide the individual and mail to the parent/guardian a listing of eligible case management agencies that serve the individual's probable area of relocation. The Jackson transition representative (JTR) shall also provide the individual and the parent/guardian with the information necessary for them to make an informed selection. The parent/ guardian, in consultation with the individual, shall, within 21 days of the date the list was mailed, select a case management agency.

B. The social worker shall confirm, in writing, the selection of the agency with the individual, the agency, the parent/guardian and the case management unit of the community programs bureau of the DDD. The social worker shall identify the date by which a case manager must be assigned. The agency shall assign a case manager by the date contained in the written confirmation, which shall be no later than 90 days prior to the initial TIDT meeting described in Activity 11. The assigned case manager must be located in or close to the probable area of relocation but in no instance more than 150 miles from the probable area of relocation.

C. This activity is to be accomplished concurrently with Activity 7, selection of community service provider(s), whenever possible.

D. If, within 85 days of the established initial TIDT meeting described in Activity 11, the parent/ guardian has not consulted with the individual and selected a case management agency, the authority shall consult with the individual and make the selection.

[8.371.7.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.17 ACTIVITY 3: MEETING WITH INDIVIDUAL:

A. The case manager shall meet with and, using appropriate communication assistance or aids and observation, get to know the individual. The case manager and the helper shall meet with and provide assistance to the individual so the individual understands and is prepared to participate in the TIDT process to the extent possible.

B. The case manager shall also explain to the individual and helper the process by which the individual's placement shall be designed and implemented, including the TIDT process for developing a proposed placement, the state's implementation decision described in Activity 19, and the process for resolving disputes. As appropriate, the case manager shall provide a copy of the ITP process, the DRP, and the case manager's phone number and address to the individual prior to or at the first meeting.

C. In addition, the case manager shall explain the selection of community service providers, Activities 6 and 7, and make all effort to encourage and expedite this selection, if it has not already occurred, prior to convening any transition meetings. The case manager shall encourage the individual's preference for living arrangements and housemates.

D. If the individual is not familiar with other persons who are identified as probable housemates, the individual will be offered an opportunity to meet with such persons. The individual shall be given an opportunity to approve or object to any identified housemates. The case manager shall communicate with the individual as frequently as necessary before placement to keep the individual informed and involved in the team process. The case manager shall inform the individual and helper that the individual may invite others to attend the TIDT meetings, and arrange co-scheduling of TIDTs where housemates are agreed to.

[8.371.7.17 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.18 ACTIVITY 4: RECORD REVIEW:

Specified staff at the facility where the individual resides shall prepare a summary of the individual's record as set forth in the Jackson management manual, with particular attention to those historic events, medical or otherwise, that may affect community living design. The record summary shall be prepared pursuant to division Jackson office policy memoranda. This summary of pertinent historic factors shall be provided to the case manager, social worker and key community service providers.

[8.371.7.18 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.19 ACTIVITY 5: MEETING WITH INDIVIDUAL'S PARENT/GUARDIAN:

A. The case manager shall meet with the individual's parent/guardian to explain the case manager's role and the process by which the individual's placement will be designed and implemented, including the TIDT activities for developing a placement plan, the state's implementation decision described in Activity 19, and the process for resolving disputes. In addition, the case manager shall explain the selection of community service providers, Activities 6 and 7, and make all effort to encourage and expedite this selection, if it has not already occurred, prior to convening any transition meetings.

B. The case manager shall solicit any concerns the parent/ guardian might have with any aspect of the transition process of eventual placement in the community. The case manager shall carefully consider and attempt to address those concerns and shall endeavor to reassure the parent/guardian of the authority's commitment to a successful and appropriate placement.

C. The case manager shall provide a copy of the ITP process, 8.371.7 NMAC, individual transition planning process (Appendix A), the dispute resolution process, 8.371.8 NMAC, dispute resolution process (Appendix B) and the case manager's phone number and address to the parent/guardian prior to or at the first meeting with the parent/ guardian. The case manager shall encourage the parent/guardian's full participation in the placement process and arrange for interpreter services by coordinating with the Jackson transition representative (JTR) and arrange transportation as needed; which shall be paid for by the division, if needed.

D. The case manager shall communicate with the parent/guardian before placement as frequently as necessary (through meetings whenever practical) to keep the parent/guardian informed and involved in the team process. The information developed for the individual and parent/guardian pursuant to the Jackson management manual shall be provided to the individual and parent/guardian.

[8.371.7.19 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.20 ACTIVITY 6: DISTRIBUTION OF LIST OF ELIGIBLE COMMUNITY SERVICE PROVIDERS:

A. At the first meeting between the case manager and the individual, and the case manager and the parent/guardian(s), the case manager shall explain the basic community service models, including alternatives to traditional service providers; explain the selection of community service provider(s); and provide the individual and the parent/ guardian(s) with a listing of eligible community service provider agencies serving the individual's probable area of relocation. The case manager will encourage a timely selection of community service provider(s).

B. Community service providers could be selected as early as the facility IDT meeting (see above), if the individual and parent/guardian(s) are familiar with community service provider agencies in the area of relocation. Community service providers must be selected no later than 30 days after the parent/ guardian(s) initial meeting with the case manager (Activity 5, above). The Jackson transition representative (JTR) may supplement the list of eligible community service providers at any time. The Jackson transition representative (JTR) shall assist the individual and the parent/guardian with the information necessary for them to make an informed selection. The case manager shall review with the parent/guardian and the individual all possible community service providers in the chosen area of re- location during Activities 3 and 5.

[8.371.7.20 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.21 ACTIVITY 7: SELECTION OF COMMUNITY SERVICE PROVIDER(S):

A. The parent/guardian, in consultation with the individual, shall select community service provider(s) to be included in the TIDT and shall notify the case manager of the community service provider selection(s). Community service providers could be selected as early as the facility IDT meeting (see above), if the individual and parent/guardian(s) are familiar with community service provider agencies in the area of relocation. Community service providers must be selected no later than 30 days after the parent/ guardian(s) initial meeting with the case manager (Activity 5, above). If the individual's choice of community service provider differs from that of the parent/guardian, the case manager shall arrange for both community service providers to be present at the TIDT meeting if possible. If there is more than one eligible community service provider for a particular service, the parent/guardian may indicate alternate community service provider(s) in order of preference in the event the parent's or guardian's first choice is unavailable to provide the applicable service.

B. The Jackson transition representative (JTR) shall confirm community service provider selection within 10 days by contacting the community service provider(s) by telephone and in writing. If the parent/guardian has indicated alternate community service provider(s) in order of preference, the Jackson transition representative (JTR) shall document the reason for the unavailability of the higher ranked community service provider before contacting the next ranked provider. If key community service provider(s) are not selected by the parent/guardian and individual, within 49 days of the initial TIDT meeting, the Jackson transition representative (JTR) and case manager shall make the selection(s). The Jackson transition representative (JTR) shall notify the parent/guardian(s) of the selection, as well as the community service provider(s). Notice of the TIDT meeting as provided in Activity 10 shall be mailed. The TIDT shall review these selection(s) and shall select the non-key provider(s) at its first meeting, if the individual or parent/guardian(s) does not do so.

C. The individual and the parent/guardian should give priority to selecting the community residential provider and other key community service providers within the timelines specified above. The key community service provider(s) shall, either before or at the TIDT meeting, acknowledge that it is able to provide the residential placement or other type of services for which the key service provider(s) shall be brought into the planning process as expeditiously as possible, preferably prior to the TIDT, and shall receive all previous planning and client information.

8.371.7.22 ACTIVITY 8: WRITTEN INDIVIDUAL PREFERENCE ASSESSMENT:

After completing the activities specified above, but at least 26 days before the TIDT meeting described in Activity 11, the case manager shall complete, with the individual and helper, a written assessment of the individual's strengths, interests, likes and dislikes. This assessment shall detail what the individual would like their life to be like in the community, including maintaining existing friendships and building new ones, community involvement, employment for the individual who is an adult, hobbies, leisure activities, and housemates. This assessment and review shall be individualized and rely as much as possible on available community generic resources rather than specialized service models. The case manager will collaborate with the Jackson transition representative (JTR) and the facility Q.M.R.P. or social worker to facilitate any co-scheduling of the TIDTs where other class member housemates are identified as a preference.

[8.371.7.22 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.23 ACTIVITY 9: WRITTEN COMMUNITY ASSESSMENT:

After completing the activities specified above, but at least 26 days before the TIDT meeting described in Activity 11, the case manager shall prepare a written assessment of the resources and services available in the community or relocation. At the TIDT, this assessment shall be reviewed, in light of the individual's preferences, as assessed under Activity 8, and the identification of the individual's strengths and needs during their daily activities, as identified at the facility annual IPP meeting.

[8.371.7.23 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.24 ACTIVITY 10: TIDT MEETING SCHEDULE, NOTICE, AND AGENDA:

The Jackson transition representative (JTR), shall schedule the full TIDT meeting, which shall be held as promptly as possible after completion of the activities required by Activities 6 and 7. Notice of the date, time and place of the TIDT meeting shall be sent to all participants at least 10 days prior to the meeting. The notice shall also state that participants are to be prepared to address all issues for the individual to ensure a successful transition into a community setting. If any activities required by Activities 6 and 7 occur in less than the maximum time allotted for them by the activity, the Jackson transition representative (JTR) shall, whenever possible, proceed to schedule the next required activity (for example, the TIDT meeting required by Activity 11 will be scheduled as promptly as possible after community service providers are selected under Activity 7).

[8.371.7.24 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.25 ACTIVITY 11: FULL TIDT MEETING TO DEVELOP THE ITP:

A. The purpose of the TIDT meeting is to develop the individual transition plan (ITP). The ITP is the document developed by TIDT participants identifying the proposed steps to be taken before and after placement and until implementation of a new annual community individual service plan (CISP).

B. The team should attempt to identify or develop services that use the same resources that the general population uses. For instance, the team should make attempts to use or adapt for use local adult education resources instead of looking for a way to set up a special adult education program for individuals who are transitioning.

C. Upon failing to find a generic solution or one that might be adapted, the team should match the preferred specialized solution to the individual's needs and not provide additional services if the need cannot be demonstrated. For instance, if an individual needs staff support only to assist in preparing the evening meal, the team should find ways to deliver that service and no more, rather than developing a residential placement that provides 24 hour staff support because that service is available at the facility.

D. In addition, the TIDT should specify the training and other necessary supports for direct care staff persons who would work directly with the individual in the community setting. Therapeutic and behavioral supports should be delivered primarily through direct care staff persons since they are the most consistently present, interact the most with the individual, and thus know the individual best. Therapists and psychologists should design the individual interventions, train staff to carry them out through the course of the normal daily routine, monitor the program implementation and be available to coach staff and solve problems.

E. The team shall identify each activity in objective form with specific assignment of responsibility and timelines for the accomplishment of each transition activity. For example, a home living provider would be responsible for the accomplishment of home living related tasks, a work/education provider for work/education tasks, and the case manager for monitoring service provision and assuring the presence and preparation of community life and professional services tasks.

F. All team members are encouraged to participate in all areas of the team process, not just in their area or expertise, skill or involvement. Decisions should be made by consensus. Where there is disagreement, the team should continue to work towards a solution that all participants can accept. If consensus is not reached, the team shall make decisions by majority rule. A record shall be maintained of team decisions. The result of the team's effort is the ITP proposed to the division for implementation.

G. The TIDT should attempt to complete the preparation of the ITP in one meeting. Additional TIDT meetings should be scheduled only if the first meeting does not resolve significant issues, such as the identity of the community residential provider or the competitive or supported employment provider, major medical resources or safety issues. For some individuals, planning for the move will be complex and lengthy and may require more than one meeting. For others, addressing the basic requirements of home, work/education, community life and necessary supports will be straightforward and less complex. The case manager, with the concurrence of the TIDT, shall specify in writing the issue(s) necessitating the additional meeting, the identity of the person or entity responsible for addressing and resolving the issue prior to the next meeting, and any other relevant information.

H. Each additional TIDT meeting shall be held within 21 days of the preceding TIDT meeting. The case manager shall mail a copy of the written reasons for the additional meeting to the Jackson transition representative (JTR) and shall notify TIDT members of specific tasks and the date of the next TIDT meeting. Absent extraordinary circumstances agreed upon by the TIDT, there shall be no more than two additional TIDT meetings.

I. The TIDT meeting shall be chaired by the case manager. The team shall begin by reviewing the previous assessments made pursuant to Activities 8 and 9 and the community service provider selections made pursuant to Activity 7. Issues identified and solutions suggested throughout the meeting shall be compared with the assessments to ensure consistency with the individual's preferences where possible.

J. The TIDT shall review and revise the assessments developed in Activities 8 and 9; describe what life should be like for that individual in that community, starting with a discussion of what life is like for other persons of the individual's age and interests and taking into consideration the assessment developed as a result of Activity 9 above; describe those supports that will be needed by the individual; identify the area's generic resources that will be used to provide those supports, or, if generic resources are not readily available, a consideration of those actions that could be taken to enhance existing generic supports for the individual; describe and justify the use of any specialized community service providers. Specialized providers are to be used only when either no generic supports exist or existing generic supports cannot reasonably be enhanced to meet the needs of the individual.

K. TIDT meeting guidelines and agenda: The TIDT shall develop the ITP in accordance with the following guidelines:

(1) The contents of the ITP are reasonable and appropriate to meet the individual's needs and promote identified strengths and capacities.

(2) The ITP reflects the individual's preferences, to the extent appropriate, unless the individual communicates no preference or is incapable or communicating any preference.

(3) The ITP is designed to utilize services that allow the individual to be more, rather than less, integrated in the community and rely on available generic services to the extent feasible consistent with the individual's needs.

(4) The ITP provides services which are least restrictive, not unduly intrusive and not excessive in light of the individual's needs. The ITP can be practically implemented.

L. Life area planning:

(1) The primary task of the TIDT shall be to discuss all issues to be considered for the individual's transition to succeed. This discussion shall include a review of specific items within each of the following "life areas": home environment, vocational, educational, self-care, communication, leisure/ social, community resource use, safety, psychological/behavioral/emotional, and medical/health; as well as other pre-placement planning.

(2) The TIDT should review the existing facility IPP objectives related to each of the above "life areas", and identify which objectives are to be continued during the transition period into the community. The TIDT may develop transition objectives to begin at the facility.

M. Supports needed: For each of the life areas discussed, the following general supports should be identified for each relevant transition objective:

(1) human resources needed (volunteers, family, friends/neighbors, paid staff);

(2) assistive technology and adaptive equipment needs listed;

(3) environmental modifications needed /environmental supports described;

(4) transfer and mobility issues identified;

(5) transportation and community access needs identified;

(6) additional support needs identified.

N. Life area discussion items: Life area discussions items include the following (other transition objectives may need to be developed in specific life areas in order to assure a successful transition):

(1) Home environment:

(a) safety and hazard awareness training required in home (use of stoves, heaters; emergency use of telephone; poisons, wiring, fire prevention);

(b) safety and hazard awareness training required in community (street safety, dealing with strangers);

(c) alert devices required in home/ community;

(d) identification card or medical alert bracelet/ necklace;

(e) updated medical summary.

(9) Psychological/behavioral/emotional:

(a) development of self-advocacy and decision making skills;

(b) reinforcers and coping mechanisms identified;

(c) psychoactive meds used for emotional or psychiatric purposes;

(d) community psychologist/ psychiatrist identified;

(e) transition or ongoing counseling needs;

(f) behavioral responses to new home;

(g) crisis intervention needs anticipated;

(h) emergency response anticipated;

(i) behavior management plan reviewed.

(9) Psychological/behavioral/emotional:

(a) development of self-advocacy and decision making skills;

(b) reinforcers and coping mechanisms identified;

(c) psychoactive meds used for emotional or psychiatric purposes;

(d) community psychologist/ psychiatrist identified;

(e) transition or ongoing counseling needs;

(f) behavioral responses to new home;

(g) crisis intervention needs anticipated;

(h) emergency response anticipated;

(i) behavior management plan reviewed.

(10) Medical/health:

(a) physical condition identified and medical services or appointments needed;

(b) how the individual communicates illness identified;

(c) physician identified and medical records transferred;

(d) physical and occupational therapies;

(e) dental appointments made;

(f) pharmacy identified and prescriptions transferred;

(g) ophthalmologist;

(h) nursing services required;

(i) medication/self-administration;

(j) emergency medical needs anticipated;

(k) hospitalization issues discussed;

(l) nutritionist needed, special diet;

(m) training needs for community medical personnel.

(11) Other pre- placement activities/community IDT planning:

(a) pre-placement visit(s);

(b) cross training activities and community service provider skills development;

(c) specific strategies to provide stability to children not moving to a family home;

(d) guardianship status reviewed;

(e) establish a placement date: The placement date established by the TIDT shall be no later than 228 days after the date of the established initial TIDT meeting.

[8.371.7.25 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.26 ACTIVITY 12: DISTRIBUTION OF THE ITP:

A. Within 14 days of the conclusion of the TIDT meeting, the Jackson transition representative (JTR) shall produce and distribute the ITP to the case manager, the parent/ guardian, the facility Jackson office (for distribution to the facility TIDT members), the community service provider(s), advocate (if appropriate), the division Jackson office, other agencies mentioned in the ITP, counsel for plaintiffs, counsel for intervenors (when appropriate).

B. The case manager, after receipt of the ITP, shall meet with the individual, the QMRP and the helper, and review the completed ITP and what it means from the individual's perspective. The case manager shall assist the parent/ guardian by providing information and answering questions concerning the completed ITP and the DRP process.

[8.371.7.26 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.27 ACTIVITY 13: COMMUNITY SERVICE PROVIDER CONTRACTS:

No later than 30 days after the distribution of the ITP, each community service provider identified in the ITP shall submit, in writing, to the health care authority its cost proposal, including the following information:

A. start up funds required;

B. staff training that will be provided as specified in the ITP, to whom and by when;

C. facility modifications that may be required;

D. provision for administration of medication;

E. any other information as specified by the ITP to be provided in this submission;

F. any other information as specified by the authority.

[8.371.7.27 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.28 ACTIVITY 14: PROPOSAL REVIEW:

The health care authority shall review the community service provider's proposal and may discuss or clarify any aspect of the proposal with the community service provider. The cost proposals shall be negotiated and approved, according to agreed upon costs, by the division's community programs bureau. The authority shall submit to the community service provider a written notice of the state's intent to fund services for an individual within 30 days of receipt of the community service provider's written proposal. The written notice of intent is not a contract. Unusual costs or specialized services may require an additional two weeks to negotiate and approve. It is incumbent upon the community service providers to submit cost proposals no later than 30 days after the distribution of the ITP.

[8.371.7.28 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.29 ACTIVITY 15: COMMUNITY SERVICE PROVIDER / STATE AGREEMENT:

Unless delayed because of extraordinary circumstances or an administrative (DRP) or judicial stay order, within 30 days of the community service provider's submittal described in Activity 13 above, providers of service and the health care authority shall negotiate and execute agreements for the delivery of services as specified in the ITP. The medicaid waiver plan of care (POC) shall be approved and submitted to the case manager for signatures. The case manager shall obtain signatures on the completed plan of care, based upon the approved authority cost proposals, at the ITP quality assurance review meeting (Activity 17, below).

[8.371.7.29 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.30 ACTIVITY 16: ALTERNATE COMMUNITY SERVICE PROVIDER SELECTION:

A. An ITP quality assurance review meeting shall be held within 30 - 45 days prior to the placement date specified in the ITP. The purpose of this meeting is to assure that the ITP is being successfully implemented, assigned responsibilities have been or are being met and that activities are appropriately accomplished in preparation for the community placement. Participants at the ITPQA review meeting are the same TIDT members, including designated representatives, who were responsible for the development of the ITP. The Jackson transition representative (JTR) is responsible for documenting activities at this meeting. Activities occurring at this meeting include:

(1) review of ITP objectives that occur prior to placement and their implementation status;

(2) confirm accomplishment or initiation of tasks by TIDT members;

(3) amendments to the ITP, if required, due to failure to implement objectives or a change in the individual's circumstances;

(4) confirm identity of housemates, staff and others;

(5) confirm cross-over training agenda, participants and schedule with the facility;

(6) describe and plan activities of the actual transition day, including responsible parties and times;

(7) recommend a change in placement date, if required, to assure a successful transition;

(8) finalization of the waiver plan of care: The case manager shall obtain signatures on the completed approved plan of care, based upon the approved cost proposals.

B. The TIDT may review the placement date and recommend a change or extension beyond the 228 day placement requirement; however, changing the originally established placement date requires authorization of the Jackson coordinator. Such authorization shall only be given upon evidence of extraordinary circumstances, a judicial stay order or other due process activity.

C. Within two working days following the ITPQA review meeting, the case manager shall submit the completed plan of care with original signatures to the community programs bureau (CPB).

D. In addition to the regularly scheduled ITPQA review meeting, described above, the case manager may, in extraordinary circumstances, reconvene the TIDT, in person or by teleconference if planning activity time lines fall behind schedule, the implementation of the ITP is in jeopardy, or the ITP requires significant modification, such as substitution of a key community service provider. In the case of such reconvened TIDT meetings, the assigned Jackson transition representative (JTR) will not attend the meeting, and the case manager shall be responsible for documenting the amendments to the ITP that are developed. Amendments should be distributed, in a hand-written form, to all TIDT members and designated representatives at the conclusion of the meeting, if xerox capabilities are available.

[8.371.7.30 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.31 ACTIVITY 18: DISPUTES:

See: Appendix B, Dispute Resolution Process (DRP) for Individual Transition Plans.

[8.371.7.31 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.32 ACTIVITY 19: IMPLEMENTATION DECISION BY HEALTH CARE AUTHORITY:

A. Within seven days of the completion of the DRP, if any, the health care authority shall inform the parties to the DRP in writing whether, on the basis of the cost of the individual's ITP or the aggregate costs of individual ITPs, or because the health care authority believes the ITP fails to satisfy constitutional or statutory requirement, it is unable to implement the ITP. If the decision was based on cost, the authority shall not implement the ITP until and unless they have sufficient funds to do so. The authority has the sole discretion to determine whether there are sufficient funds available to implement an ITP. The decision of the authority as to the allocation of funds to ITPs is final and not reviewable. The authority shall engage in good faith efforts to seek the necessary funds through the supplemental and regular budgetary process for the developmental disabilities division of the health care authority and the medicaid DD waiver program and through federal funding which might be available to these programs. Upon appropriation of funding determined by the authority to be sufficient, the TIDT or the community IDT, as appropriate, shall convene to review the final ITP in light of the individual's current circumstances and determine whether any changes should be made.

B. In the event the ITP is not implemented because of cost or because the authority believes the ITP fails to satisfy constitutional or statutory requirements, within 14 days of the completion of the DRP, the authority (with the assistance of its qualified professionals) shall prepare and mail to everyone specified in Activity 12, an interim plan which can be implemented immediately within available resources and which meets constitutional and statutory requirements; or the authority shall immediately request the reconvening of the TIDT and direct the team to develop an interim plan which can be implemented immediately. The interim plan shall be distributed within 14 days of its completion by the reconvened TIDT. Any party eligible to initiate a DRP of the original ITP may initiate a DRP of the interim plan pursuant to Section IV(E) of the DRP. However, the authority's decision regarding the allocation of resources to any ITP or interim plan is within the authority's sole discretion and is not reviewable in the DRP process.

C. If within 20 days of mailing the interim plan no party challenges the plan in a DRP, and the authority approves, the interim plan shall be implemented forthwith.

[8.371.7.32 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.33 ACTIVITIES 20 - 23:

Activities 20 - 23 shall take place in the time frame specified unless delayed because of the DRP, or extraordinary circumstances.

[8.371.7.33 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.34 ACTIVITY 20: IMPLEMENTING THE ITP:

TIDT members shall carry out their assigned pre-placement responsibilities. The TIDT is responsible for assuring the completion of placement activities and the readiness of the placement unless delayed pursuant to the policies of Appendix B, Section IV.F., dispute resolution process.

[8.371.7.34 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.35 ACTIVITY 21: MONITORING IMPLEMENTATION OF THE ITP:

The assigned Jackson office representative shall check and document progress twice per month beginning 60 days prior to the placement date on fulfillment of responsibilities assigned in the ITP. If the representative learns of serious implementation problems the Jackson office shall direct the case manager to reconvene the TIDT, either in person or through teleconference, to correct the problem.

[8.371.7.35 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.36 ACTIVITY 22: REPORTING ON IMPLEMENTATION OF THE ITP:

Every other week the division's Jackson office representative shall send to TIDT members a report on the status of pre-placement activity. The Jackson coordinator shall report specifically on the status of all agreements and community service provider plans of care. Any delay in execution of agreements that may affect other time lines or pre-placement activities shall be identified and strategies for specific action developed and implemented.

[8.371.7.36 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.37 ACTIVITY 23: COMMUNITY PLACEMENT:

Pre-placement visits with staff and to the new home and work site shall take place as provided in the ITP. Placement shall be accomplished on the date established by the TIDT consistent with the timelines established in Section 13 above.

[8.371.7.37 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.7.38 TRANSITION ACTIVITIES AFTER PLACEMENT:

A. Absent extraordinary circumstances or an administrative (DRP) or judicial stay order, placement shall occur when planned pre-placement ITP activities have been completed. Moving is a stressful experience for anyone. Change in an individual's environment may result in changes in behavior or the need to make adjustments in program design. Thus, intensive interaction and monitoring shall be necessary immediately following placement. During the two months following placement the following activities shall take place:

(1) Habilitation, treatment and services shall be implemented as provided in the ITP.

(2) During the first week following placement, the case manager shall visit the individual on three of seven calendar days at both the individual's residence and day program with one of the visits occurring in the evening and one occurring on the weekend. The case manager shall observe the implementation of planned services. The case manager, in consultation with the appropriate TIDT member(s) and with the prior approval of the health care authority, may make adjustments in the plan that do not alter the extent of the plan or the frequency, duration or scope of services. Any significant adjustments to the ITP shall be made by the community IDT convened by the case manager as provided in Paragraph (7) below. The case manager shall record the time of the visit, their observations regarding program implementation, and adjustments made to the plan, if any.

(3) During the first month following placement, the community service provider(s) specified in the ITP shall perform assessments as identified and scheduled in the ITP. The direct care staff may collect base line data for the assessments.

(4) During the second through the fourth week following placement, the case manager shall visit the individual at least two times per week.

(5) During the second month following placement the case manager shall visit the individual at least weekly, or more often if required, by the team or the circumstances in order to ensure program implementation in the new environment.

(6) Case managers shall comply with all developmental disabilities division reporting requirements relevant to post-placement activities and reporting.

(7) The case manager should convene and chair the first meeting of the individual's new community IDT (CIDT) within 14 days of placement. The CIDT shall normally consist of the individual (and their chosen representative, if any), the parent/guardian (and their chosen representative, if any), the helper, the case manager, and professional and direct care provider(s). In the absence of any member, the CIDT may proceed with the meeting if appropriate under the circumstances. The team shall meet to:

(a) review program implementation;

(b) provide for any necessary program adjustments;

(c) identify and resolve any problems or potential problems in successful implementation;

(d) determine if assessments are occurring as scheduled pursuant to the ITP; and

(e) schedule the next IDT meeting to develop the community IPP, which shall be developed within 60 days of placement.

(8) The case manager shall convene and chair the second meeting and subsequent meetings of the CIDT to prepare and complete the individual's community individual service plan (ISP). If the current placement plan is an interim plan developed pursuant to Activity 19, in the course of developing the individual's ISP the CIDT shall review the original ITP that was not implemented by the health care authority (see Activity 19) to determine whether any of the components of the original ITP should be incorporated into the ISP. By agreement of the individual, parent/ guardian and health care authority or as a result of a decision through a DRP, the ISP shall supersede all previous plans.

(9) Subject to the community DRP and to the principles set forth in Activity19, the ISP shall be implemented within 60 days following placement. Adjustments to the plan of care or community service provider contracts shall be completed pursuant to the ISP.

B. The goal of the community IDT is to ensure the implementation of the community individual service plan (ISP). In order to do this, the case manager or the case manager's local representative should visit the individual as specified in the ISP or as often as necessary, but no less than two times per month, to assure that the plan is being fully implemented and to assist the individual in becoming a part of their community.

[8.371.7.38 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

PART 8: (APPENDIX B) - DISPUTE RESOLUTION PROCESS

8.371.8.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority, Developmental Disabilities Division.

[8.371.8.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.2 SCOPE:

A. This dispute resolution process (DRP) provides for the resolution of disputes concerning the content of or the substantial failure to implement individual program, transition or community plans for class members in Jackson et al. v. Fort Stanton, et al., Civ. No. 87- 839 JP.

B. This DRP provides a two-step administrative mechanism for resolving disputes:

(1) a conciliation or mediation stage; and

(2) a review by an independent hearing officer.

C. This process does not allow review by the courts of the decisions of the hearing officers. Any court challenge to any facility, community or other plan or the implementation thereof must be by separate de novo action or by a de novo motion in the Jackson case as set forth in Paragraph (9) of Subsection D of 8.371.8.12 NMAC of this DRP.

D. Substantial failure to implement plans shall not include the initial decision by the authority not to implement or approve implementation of the plans because of cost or because of failure to satisfy constitutional or statutory requirements.

[8.371.8.2 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

Subsection E of Section 9-8-6 NMSA 1978. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority (authority) as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.371.8.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.371.8.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a later date is cited at the end of a section.

[8.371.8.5 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.6 OBJECTIVE:

A. These regulations amend the authority's previously adopted provisions for resolution of disputes arising from the community transition plans of individuals residing at Fort Stanton hospital and training school and Los Lunas hospital and training school. They provide a process for informal resolutions and administrative hearings as well as for suspending the implementation of challenged provisions of an individual's transition or program plan during the time period necessary to allow the dispute to be heard and decided. These amendments reflect the authority's cumulative experience in resolving disputes arising from the transition process.

B. These regulations are promulgated, in part, to satisfy requirements arising from the implementation of the decision in Jackson, et al. v. Fort Stanton, et al., N.M. Dist. Ct. No. Civ. No. 87-839. The transition process appearing in these regulations has evolved over time, initially appearing as Appendix B to the Jackson management manual and later as authority regulations under the title Jackson Dispute Resolution (DRP) process for individual transition plans, Appendix B, HCA 93-1 (DDD). These regulations incorporate certain agreements reached by the parties, including the authority, to the Jackson lawsuit.

[8.371.8.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.7 DEFINITIONS:

A. "Coordinator": The Jackson coordinator or the dispute resolution process coordinator or their designees.

B. "Days": Calendar days, except where otherwise specified.

C. "Defendants": The defendants in Jackson et al. v. Fort Stanton, et al., Civ. No. 87-839 JP who are represented by the attorney general. If notice is to be provided to the defendants, it shall be provided to the attorney general.

D. "Division": The developmental disabilities division of the health care authority. If notice is to be provided to the division it shall be provided to the Jackson coordinator.

E. "Dispute resolution process coordinator": The developmental disabilities division employee who, under the supervision of the Jackson coordinator, is responsible for the coordination and implementation of the dispute resolution process.

F. "Facility": Fort Stanton hospital and training school or Los Lunas center for persons with developmental disabilities.

G. "Helper": Someone who knows the individual's capabilities, interests, likes and dislikes, who communicates with the individual and assists the individual with communication. The helper, if any, is to be chosen by the individual or, if none is chosen by the individual and the individual does not object, by the facility's director of social work or the individual's case manager.

H. "Individual": A person currently residing in Fort Stanton hospital and training school or Los Lunas center for persons with developmental disabilities or a class member who has moved to the community in New Mexico through the ITP process.

I. "Intervenors": The members of the plaintiff-Intervenor- class in Jackson v. Fort Stanton, as they may be defined by the court and who are represented by attorneys Kent Winchester and Vernon Salvador.

J. "Jackson coordinator": The developmental disabilities division employee who is responsible for various aspects of the division's implementation of the court's orders in Jackson v. Fort Stanton.

K. "Parent/guardian": The court-appointed guardian of an adult individual or the custodial parent(s) if the individual is a minor.

L. "Parties": The individuals and entities identified in Section 9 who may initiate the DRP. As this term is used in subsequent sections of this DRP, it also includes:

(1) The intervenors in their capacity as representative of each parent/guardian of each individual residing in Fort Stanton and Los Lunas who is a member of the plaintiff-intervenor- class, unless the parent/guardian has chosen a representative other than intervenors;

(2) The plaintiffs in their capacity as representative of each individual residing in Fort Stanton and Los Lunas who is a member of the plaintiff-class, unless the individual has chosen a representative other than plaintiffs;

(3) Any other representative chosen in place of intervenors or plaintiffs; and

(4) The office of the attorney general in its capacity as representative of the authority or the authority's office of general counsel.

(5) If a dispute involves a facility IPP or community ISP, the term "parties" does not include the intervenors or the plaintiffs. Intervenors and plaintiffs may participate in a facility IPP or community ISP dispute only as the representative of an individual or parent/guardian who chooses them to be their representative.

M. "Plaintiffs": The members of the plaintiff-class in Jackson v. Fort Stanton, as they may be defined by the court in that case, who are represented by protection and advocacy system of New Mexico.

N. "Plan": The individualized programs developed by the interdisciplinary team (IDT) including, the facility individual program plan (IPP), the individual transition plan (ITP), the interim plan developed when the authority does not approve the ITP, and the community individual service plan (ISP).

O. "Team": The facility interdisciplinary team (FIDT), the transition interdisciplinary team (TIDT) or the community interdisciplinary team (CIDT).

[8.371.8.7 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.8 APPLICABILITY:

A. Facility IPP: This DRP may be used for the resolution of disputes concerning the content of or the substantial failure to implement individual program plans for residents of Fort Stanton and Los Lunas hospitals and training schools.

B. Transition planning:

(1) If the dispute involves an individual transition plan (ITP) the DRP may not be invoked until Activity 18 of the "individual transition planning process" (8.371.7 NMAC, hereinafter "ITP Process").

(2) Interim plans: This DRP may be used for the resolution of disputes concerning interim plans developed per Activity 19 of the "individual transition planning process" (8.371.7 NMAC) by the same parties eligible to initiate a dispute concerning the original ITP.

C. Community ISP: This DRP may be used to resolve disputes concerning the content of or the substantial failure to implement Jackson class members' ISPs following their placements in the community.

[8.371.8.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.9 PARTICIPANTS:

This DRP may be utilized by: the individual; the individual's parent/ guardian; or the authority. The participants may be represented by legal counsel or other representatives.

[8.371.8.9. NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.10 LIMITATIONS:

The state retains the discretion to provide, within current and future resources, individualized plans which may exceed what is required by law. To this end, the DRP provides guidelines for hearing officer decisions in Paragraphs (7) and (8) of Subsection D of 8.371.8.12 NMAC that go beyond the requirements of the law. Neither the fact that such guidelines are part of the DRP nor the fact that the state agrees in some cases to provide ITPs or other plans that may exceed the state's legal obligations shall be construed as a waiver of any of the state's legal defenses in any legal proceeding concerning such plans or as an agreement to provide in other cases, plans that exceed what is required by law.

[8.371.8.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.11 PRELIMINARY MATTERS:

A. Prior to or at the facility IPP or community ISP meeting, the social worker or case manager shall explain the DRP to the individual, the parent/guardian and helper, if any. Prior to or at the initial meeting of the transition interdisciplinary team (TIDT), the case manager shall explain the DRP to the individual, the parent/guardian and helper, if any.

B. Team meetings are intended to be the primary and most effective means of addressing and resolving planning issues. Therefore, all team members are encouraged to participate actively in meetings and in the development of proposed plans.

C. Completed plans shall be distributed as follows:

(1) The completed proposed IPP shall be mailed or delivered, within 30 days of completion, to all team members and to the individual's or the parent's/ guardian's chosen representative, if any.

(2) The completed proposed ITP shall be mailed or delivered, within 14 days of completion of the proposed ITP, to all TIDT members, to plaintiffs and to intervenors if the parent/guardian of the individual is an intervenor.

(3) The completed ISP shall be mailed or delivered to all team members and to the individual's or the parent's/ guardian's chosen representative within 30 days of the meeting.

D. Although the DRP contains time lines requiring rapid response, such time lines are not intended to reduce the potential for resolving disputes or limiting the involvement of the individual. Thus, for good cause, any person who is responsible for accomplishing a task within a specified time described in 8.371.8.12 NMAC may request a reasonable extension of time from the Jackson coordinator or dispute resolution process coordinator, as appropriate. No extensions of time may be granted to accomplish the informal resolution activities described in Subsection B of 8.371.8.12 NMAC. Absent extraordinary circumstances, extensions of time for the activities described in Subsection C of 8.371.8.12 NMAC shall not exceed 20 days. Grant or denial of a request for an extension of time shall be in writing.

E. Any party initiating the DRP may terminate the process at any time as to the matters raised by that party by withdrawing all pending objections.

F. The DRP is ordinarily intended to be accomplished without the involvement of legal counsel, but the parties may be represented by legal counsel of their choosing at their own expense.

G. Implementation of the plan shall proceed even though there is a DRP in progress except as provided below in Subsection F of 8.371.8.12 NMAC.

H. If the individual has a helper who has participated in a meeting on the individual's behalf, such helper may initiate a facilitated conference or administrative hearing and assist the individual in the DRP only on behalf of the individual and consistent with the wishes of the individual.

I. The plaintiffs, intervenors or other chosen representative of an individual or parent/guardian may initiate a facilitated conference or administrative hearing on behalf of the individual or parent/guardian only if doing so is consistent with the wishes of the individual or the parent/ guardian.

J. Notice required to be given to the individual shall also include notice to the individual's helper and representative, if any. Notice required to be given to the parent/guardian shall also include notice to the parent's/guardian's representative, if any. If notice is to be provided to the intervenors, it shall be provided to intervenor's counsel. If notice is to be provided to plaintiffs, it shall be provided to the protection and advocacy system.

K. Any party claiming substantial failure to implement a plan shall request the QMRP or the case manager, as appropriate, to convene a special meeting of the relevant team members prior to initiating the DRP. The meeting shall be held within 10 days.

(1) The team may adopt additional strategies to fully implement the existing plan.

(2) Any actions or additional strategies adopted by the team shall not affect the party's right to initiate a DRP challenging the failure to substantially implement the plan. The time for filing a DRP shall run from the date of the special meeting.

[8.371.8.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.8.12 THE PROCESS:

A. Request for facilitated conference: The DRP is initiated by a request for a facilitated conference by any of the parties identified in Section 7 in the capacities specified in that section. The request must be directed to the Jackson coordinator or dispute resolution process coordinator and must be received by the coordinator no later than 30 days after the mailing of the completed plan. The request may be made by telephone, in person, or in writing and shall identify any disputed portions of the plan.

The coordinator shall record the date of receipt of the request and shall notify the members of the team and the parties of the substance of the dispute. If the request involves an allegation of substantial failure to implement the plan, the request shall be received by the coordinator no later than 30 days after the special team meeting held to address that implementation issue, as provided in Subsection K of 8.371.8.11 NMAC, above. In the event the case manager does not convene the team meeting as requested, or within the time allotted, the DRP must be initiated within 30 days of the request to reconvene the team.

B. Informal resolution: The coordinator shall promptly communicate with the parties and with appropriate team members to determine whether there is a genuine dispute and whether the dispute can be resolved informally without a facilitated conference. If it appears that the dispute can be resolved informally, the coordinator shall attempt to do so. If the dispute is resolved, the coordinator shall notify the members of the team and the parties in writing.

C. Facilitated conference: If the dispute is not resolved informally, the coordinator shall schedule a facilitated conference. The conference shall occur and the resolution or determination shall be distributed within 45 days of receipt of the request for the facilitated conference. The parties shall be notified of the time and location of the conference at least 10 days prior to the conference. The coordinator may request the attendance of team members, professionals, authority personnel or other persons whose presence the coordinator believes could assist in resolving the disputed portions of the plan.

(1) The purpose of the facilitated conference is to resolve the dispute to the extent possible and to agree on any material facts. If the conference participants are unable to resolve the dispute issues to the satisfaction of the party who requested the facilitated conference, the coordinator shall make determinations regarding the disputed issues as follows:

(a) determine that the objection(s) to portion(s) of the plan has merit and either:

(i) amend the plan, accordingly; or

(ii) remand the plan to the team for revision consistent with the coordinator's determination; or

(b) determine that the objection(s) to portions of the plan lacks merit and deny the objection(s); or

(c) determine that implementation of the plan is in substantial compliance with the plan and direct that implementation continue; or

(d) determine that implementation of the plan is not in substantial compliance with the plan and direct that the plan be implemented appropriately.

(2) The coordinator shall reduce the determination to writing and mail or deliver it to all conference participants and non-participating team members. The written determination shall include the reasons for the determination and recite any amendments to the plan and any agreements as to material facts.

D. Administrative hearing:

(1) Request for hearing: If the party who requested a facilitated conference is dissatisfied with the coordinator's determination, that party may request an administrative hearing to review the determination. If the original dispute issue involved an allegation of a substantial failure to implement and the party making the original request believes that there continues to be a substantial failure to implement, that party may request an administrative hearing. Other parties may request an administrative hearing to review the coordinator's determination only if they participated in the facilitated conference and the coordinator's determination resulted in a change in the contents or implementation schedule of the plan. The request must be made to the developmental disabilities division, Attention: Jackson coordinator within 15 days of the date of the coordinator's written determination.

(2) Grounds for hearing: In order for a request to be heard, the party making the request must allege in its request for a hearing that a plan fails to meet at least one of the guidelines set forth in Paragraphs (7) and (8) of Subsection D of 8.371.8.12 NMAC, as appropriate. The grounds for requesting an administrative hearing are set forth in Paragraphs (7) and (8) of Subsection D of 8.371.8.12 NMAC, below.

(3) Notice of hearing: The division shall provide written notice of the hearing, the issues raised in the request for hearing and the name of the hearing officer to the parties at least 20 days before the hearing date.

(4) Recusal of hearing officer: If any of the parties has reason to believe that the hearing officer assigned to hear a dispute cannot render a fair and impartial decision, that party shall notify the developmental disabilities division, attention Jackson coordinator, of its challenge and the reasons therefore, no later than 10 days from the date of the notice of hearing. If the coordinator determines that there is good cause to recuse the assigned hearing officer, the coordinator shall select another hearing officer within seven days of the date the division received the challenge.

(5) Conduct of hearing:

(a) The authority shall make any team members who are the authority's employees available to testify at a hearing.

(b) The Jackson transition representative or another team member will introduce the plan and the coordinator's determination into evidence.

(c) If the contents of a plan are in dispute and the authority is not the objecting party, the authority will go forward to present evidence in support of the plan. If the authority is objecting to the contents of a plan, the party or parties who support the plan will go forward to present evidence in support of the plan.

(d) The party objecting to the contents of the plan will have the burden to prove that the objection has merit and that the plan should be amended in accordance with the objecting party's request.

(e) If a party is alleging that a plan includes a service(s) that is not being provided, that party has the burden to prove that:

(i) The service(s) is not being provided; and

(ii) Such lack of service(s) is a substantial failure to implement the plan.

(6) Evidence:

(a) The hearing officer shall admit all relevant and material evidence, including agreements as to material facts as determined by the Coordinator, that is reasonably likely to assist in the making of a fully informed, fair decision in the dispute. The hearing officer's rulings on evidence are not reviewable. Conformity to legal rules of evidence shall not be necessary.

(b) In all cases the burden of proof shall be established by a preponderance of the evidence.

(7) Guidelines for decisions regarding ITPs and community ISPs: In arriving at a decision, the hearing officer shall utilize the following guidelines in resolving disputed portions of the ITP and community ISP:

(a) The contents of the plan are reasonable and appropriate to meet the individual's needs and promote identified strengths and capacities.

(b) The ITP/ISP reflects the individual's preferences, to the extent appropriate, unless the individual communicates no preference or is incapable of communicating any preference.

(c) The ITP/ISP is designed to utilize services that allow the individual to be more, rather than less, integrated in the community and rely on available generic services to the extent feasible and consistent with the individual's needs.

(d) The ITP/ISP provides services which are least restrictive, not unduly intrusive and not excessive in light of the individual's needs.

(e) The ITP/ISP can be practicably implemented. Except as provided in Subsection E of 8.371.8.12 NMAC, below, practicality or impracticality is to be determined without regard to cost.

(f) The plan includes a service or support that is not being provided and the failure to provide such service is a substantial failure to implement the plan.

(8) Guidelines for decisions regarding facility IPPs:

(a) The contents of the IPP are based on professional judgment and are reasonable and appropriate to meet the individual's needs and promote identified strengths and capacities.

(b) The IPP reflects the individual's preferences, to the extent appropriate, unless the individual communicates no preference or is incapable of communicating any preference.

(c) The IDT considered residential placement, supports, programs, services and activities that would give the individual the opportunity to be more, rather than less, integrated in the community. The IDT's decision to recommend or not to recommend discharge was based upon a consideration of the individual's needs and is consistent with appropriate professional judgment.

(d) The IPP provides services which are least restrictive, not unduly intrusive and not excessive in light of the individual's needs.

(e) The IPP can be practicably implemented. Except as provided in Subsection E of 8.371.8.12 NMAC, below, practicality or impracticality is to be determined without regard to cost.

(f) The plan includes a service or support that is not being provided and the failure to provide such service is a substantial failure to implement the plan.

(9) Decision:

(a) The hearing shall be conducted, and the hearing officer shall render a decision, within 30 days of the Jackson coordinator's receipt of the hearing request, or within 30 days of the selection of a new hearing officer if the recusal provisions of Paragraph (4) of Subsection D of 8.371.8.12 NMAC have been invoked. All hearing officer decisions shall contain the following:

(i) The decision on the merits of the dispute; and

(ii) The reasons for the decision, including reference to any guidelines listed in Paragraphs (7) and (8) of Subsection D of 8.371.8.12 NMAC, as appropriate.

(b) The decision of the hearing officer shall be final as to the plan's compliance with the guidelines set forth in Paragraphs (7) and (8) of Subsection D of 8.371.8.12 NMAC, as appropriate, of this DRP.

(c) Any challenge in court to any individual plans or the implementation thereof must be by separate de novo action or by a de novo motion in the Jackson case, where appropriate. In any such challenge the DRP and guidelines set forth in Paragraphs (7) and (8) of Subsection D of 8.371.8.12 NMAC, and in Activity 11 of the individual transition planning process (8.371.7 NMAC) shall not be enforced by the court.

(i) The sole basis for any court challenge to any individualized plan or the implementation thereof shall be that the plan on its face or as implemented does not comply with the individual's rights under constitutional or statutory law. Nothing herein shall be deemed a waiver of any of the state's defenses in the event of such action.

(ii) Statements and evidence presented to the coordinator, the decision of the coordinator, the decision of the hearing officer and the record of any hearing shall not be offered as evidence nor be admissible in any proceeding in court.

(10) Notice of decision: The Jackson coordinator shall mail the hearing officer's decision to the parties within three working days of receipt of the decision.

E. Review of interim plans:

(1) If the authority does not implement an ITP because of cost or because the plan fails to satisfy constitutional or statutory requirements and develops an interim plan instead, any party eligible to initiate a DRP of the original plan may initiate a DRP of the interim plan. However, the authority's decision regarding the allocation of resources to any plan or interim plan is final, within the authority's sole discretion and not reviewable in the DRP. DRP hearing officers have no authority to order the authority to expend resources beyond those the authority allocates to any plan or interim plan.

(2) All DRP procedures and limitations, including but not limited to those set forth in Subparagraphs (b) and (c) of Paragraph (9) of Subsection D of 8.371.8.12 NMAC, will apply except that if the matter goes to a hearing:

(a) The hearing officer cannot be the person who held the hearing on the original plan, and

(b) The grounds for review and the hearing guidelines are modified and limited to whether the interim plan satisfies the guidelines set forth in Paragraph (8) of Subsection D of 8.371.8.12 NMAC, above, as appropriate, to the extent possible within the resources allocated by the authority to the individual to implement the interim plan.

F. Delays in implementing plans:

(1) Delay of transition process:

(a) During any stage of the DRP, a party may request that some or all ITP implementation activities be delayed pending resolution of the dispute. A request to delay prior to the administrative hearing must be directed to the Jackson coordinator. A party may also request a delay in implementation from the hearing officer at the administrative hearing.

(b) The Jackson coordinator or the hearing officer shall order that some or all ITP implementation activities be delayed pending resolution of the dispute if the coordinator or hearing officer determines that:

(i) there are extraordinary circumstances which necessitate delay; or

(ii) the immediate implementation of the ITP would adversely affect the health or safety of the individual.

(c) Delays in implementation pending resolution of a dispute shall be terminated automatically when a dispute is resolved by withdrawal of the dispute, agreement of the parties, failure to request an administrative hearing, or upon the determination by the hearing officer.

(2) Delay of facility or community plans:

(a) The request to initiate a DRP regarding any portion of an IPP or ISP shall automatically delay implementation of the disputed portions unless the health or safety of the individual would be adversely affected.

(b) Delays in implementation pending resolution of a dispute shall be terminated automatically when a dispute is resolved by withdrawal of the dispute, agreement of the parties, failure to request an administrative hearing, or upon the determination.

PART 9: ADMISSION, DISCHARGE AND TRANSFER OF ELIGIBLE RECIPIENTS FOR SERVICES IN ICF/MR FACILITIES

8.371.9.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority.

[8.371.9.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.9.2 SCOPE:

A. These regulations provide a systematic process for admission of persons requesting services from an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded (ICF/MR); the transfer between ICF/ MR facilities of persons previously determined eligible; and the discharge of persons residing in an ICF/MR.

B. These regulations apply to persons who request admission to an ICF/MR and who reside in the community; in a nursing facility; in a hospital; or, in an ICF/ MR. In addition, these regulations apply to any ICF/MR in the state of New Mexico that is licensed under health care authority regulations governing long term care facilities.

C. These regulations are limited to the admission, transfer and discharge of persons receiving support and services funded in whole or in part by state funds or for whom services can reasonably be expected to be funded in whole or in part with state funds within six months of admission into an ICF/MR.

[8.371.9.2 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.9.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

Subsection E of Section 9-8-6 NMSA 1978 and Section 28-16A-15 NMSA 1978. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority (HCA) as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.371.9.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.9.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.371.9.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.9.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a later date is cited at the end of a section.

[8.371.9.5 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.9.6 OBJECTIVE:

The purpose of these regulations is to:

A. establish the process for the admission of any and all persons requesting admission to an ICF/MR, to be transferred between ICF/MR facilities, or to be discharged from an ICF/MR;

B. establish admission, transfer and discharge procedures for ICF/MR facilities licensed and located in the state of New Mexico consistent with the Developmental Disabilities Act, Section 28-16A-15 NMSA 1978;

[8.371.9.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.9.7 DEFINITIONS:

A. "Discharge" means the termination of services for a person previously admitted into an ICF/MR and the discharging facility ceases to be legally responsible for the care of the person.

B. "Eligible central registry person" means a person who has requested admission to an ICF/MR, or discharge from an ICF/MR and transfer to a community-based HCA funded program, and who is determined by the HCA to meet pre- admission screening criteria for ICF/ MR and home/community-based developmental disabilities services.

C. "ICF/MR" means an intermediate care facility that provides food, shelter, health or rehabilitative and active treatment for persons with mental retardation or related conditions, and that has a current license issued by the HCA.

D. "New admission" means a person requesting an ICF/ MR admission for the first time and does not otherwise qualify as a re-admission. New admissions are subject to pre-admission screening.

E. "NMSA" means the New Mexico Statutes Annotated 1978 compilation and all the revisions and compilations thereof.

F. "Pre-admission screening" means the evaluation process of the health care authority to determine a person's choice between ICF/MR and community based services, and whether the person has a developmental disability as described in the American association on mental retardation's manual on classification in mental retardation (1996), or a related condition as defined by 42 CFR 435.1009.

G. "Readmission" means a person re-admitted to an ICF/MR from another type of institution to which they were transferred for the purpose of receiving acute, psychiatric care or rehabilitation following a temporary, acute care episode. A readmission is not subject to pre-admission screening.

H. "Transfer" means movement of an individual from one ICF/MR to another ICF/MR, with or without an intervening hospital stay. A transfer is not subject to pre-admission screening.

I. "State medicaid agency" means the health care authority.

J. "Central registry" means a registry of persons who are requesting or receiving services established by the HCA in accordance with Section 28-16A-15 NMSA 1978.

[8.371.9.7 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.9.8 ADMISSION:

A. No person shall be admitted into an ICF/MR unless the person has been pre-screened and referred to an ICF/MR by the health care authority central registry.

B. Consistent with the provisions of 42 CFR 431.51 any person who requests to be placed on the HCA's central registry will be provided the opportunity to indicate a choice between ICF/MR and home/ community-based waiver services at the time of application to the central registry. The purpose of this information request is for system service planning to identify persons who may be potentially eligible for ICF/MR services.

C. All applicants to the central registry may choose to be placed on the central registry for both ICF/MR and home/community-based waiver services.

D. All persons referred for admission into an ICF/MR from the central registry may choose to remain on the central registry for home/community-based waiver services. All persons referred for admission into home/community- based waiver services may choose to remain on the central registry for ICF/MR services.

E. All persons applying to the central registry will be pre-screened by the HCA before placement on the central registry to determine each person's choice between ICF/MR and home/ community-based waiver services, and whether the person has a developmental disability or related condition. Pre-screening does not include determination of financial eligibility and level of care, which are functions performed by the state medicaid agency.

F. The HCA will implement application procedures for the central registry that identifies applicant's freedom to choose between ICF/MR and home and community based services.

G. Upon notification from a ICF/MR to the HCA that a vacancy exist in their facility, the HCA will identify three persons from the central registry, in the order of date of application to the central registry, who have indicated a choice for ICF/MR services, and who:

(1) have never been admitted into an ICF/MR; or

(2) were discharged from an ICF/MR for at least 30 days; or

(3) did not qualify as a readmission;

(4) the group of three individuals will be classified as"new admission" for the purposes of these regulations.

H. The HCA will notify the three persons about the availability of a vacancy and request each person to reaffirm in writing their choice between ICF/MR, developmental disabilities home and community waiver services, or other services.

I. The HCA will furnish to an ICF/MR the names and contact information of any persons on the central registry who indicate a choice for ICF/MR services in the long term services division region in which the ICF/MR is located.

J. The ICF/MR will contact and review each person's request for admission in accordance with federal licensing and certification requirements.

K. The ICF/MR will refer any person referred by the central registry, and whom the ICF/MR determined appropriate for admission based on its admission decision, to the state medicaid agency for level of care and financial eligibility determination.

L. The ICF/MR will notify the HCA and the eligible central registry person of the results of its admission decision for all three persons referred by the HCA with an explanation for its decision on each person referred. The ICF/MR will notify any person not admitted of their right to a review of the admission decision.

M. The ICF/MR may admit any person who meets the definition of "readmission" without referral through the HCA's central registry. A readmission will not be subject to pre-screening by the HCA.

N. The health care authority central registry may refer an individual to an ICF/MR vacancy based on the HCA's determination that the referral is an emergency. The HCA may exempt an emergency referral from the central registry to be made based on the person's date of application to the central registry.

[8.371.9.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.9.9 TRANSFER:

A. A person may be transferred to another ICF/MR operated by the same entity, or an ICF/MR that operates independent of the ICF/MR where the person currently resides without referral through the central registry, provided:

(1) the person's interdisciplinary team recommends the transfer;

(2) the person's transfer is based on the person's freedom of choice of providers; and

(3) the receiving ICF/MR has identified a vacancy.

B. An ICF/MR may transfer a person temporarily to a psychiatric acute care hospital, or temporarily to a nursing facility for care following a hospital stay. Persons returning to the ICF/MR under these conditions will be classified a "readmission" and will not be subject to pre-screening by the HCA.

C. Persons receiving services from an ICF/MR may be transferred to a home and community- based waiver program provided the person has been allocated to the program by the HCA in accordance with central registry policies and procedures.

D. The ICF/MR shall provide a complete copy of the person's medical and service records, including assessments required for individual program planning to the ICF/MR or community to which the person is transferred.

[8.371.9.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.9.10 DISCHARGE:

A. A person may be discharged from an ICF/MR when the individual/guardian requests to be discharged; when the person's interdisciplinary team recommends the facility cannot meet the individual's needs; the individual no longer requires an active treatment program in an ICF/MR setting; the discharge would be more beneficial to the person; or for any other good cause. Any decision to discharge a person from an ICF/MR based on good cause must be adequately justified in writing by the ICF/MR and reviewed by the HCA prior to discharge.

B. The ICF/MR will ensure the person's family/guardian and the person's advocate is involved in the interdisciplinary team process, involving a discussion and proposed decision regarding discharge.

C. The ICF/MR will ensure a transition plan is developed 30 working days prior to discharge in accordance with HCA policies on discharge and transition of persons in services.

D. The ICF/MR will ensure the person and their guardian are fully informed of their right to a fair hearing in accordance with 42 CFR 431.200-431.250.

E. The ICF/MR will ensure any discharge decision is carried out in accordance with provisions of 42 CFR 456.380.

[8.371.9.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.371.9.11 NOTIFICATION OF THE HCA:

A. The ICF/MR will notify the HCA of any vacancy or anticipated vacancy in their facility.

B. The ICF/MR will notify the HCA of any person requesting ICF/MR services and for whom state funding may be necessary.

C. The HCA will notify an ICF/MR of any person on the central registry indicating a choice of ICF/MR services in the long term services division region in which the ICF/MR is located.

D. Notice by either party shall be based on timelines adopted by the HCA.

CHAPTER 372: INTERAGENCY BEHAVIORAL HEALTH PURCHASING COLLABORATIVE

PART 1: GENERAL PROVISIONS

8.372.1.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority.

[8.372.1.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.1.2 SCOPE:

This rule applies to the general public.

[8.372.1.2 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.1.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

Subsection F of Section 9-7-6.4 NMSA 1978 requires the interagency behavioral health purchasing collaborative (the collaborative) to adopt rules through the health care authority (HCA). The collaborative is created by statute and comprised of the secretaries of aging and long-term services; Indian affairs; health care authority; health; corrections; children, youth and families; finance and administration; workforce solutions; public education; and transportation; the directors of the administrative office of the courts; the New Mexico mortgage finance authority; the governor's commission on disability; the developmental disabilities planning council; the vocational rehabilitation division of the public education department; the New Mexico health policy commission; and the governor's health policy coordinator, or their designees. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care facility licensure and health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.372.1.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.1.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.372.1.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.1.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a later date is cited at the end of a section.

[8.372.1.5 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.1.6 OBJECTIVE:

The objective of this rule is to provide policies for the standard of delivery for behavioral health services through contracted behavioral health entities and for approval of contracts by the collaborative.

[8.372.1.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.1.7 DEFINITIONS:

This section contains the glossary for the New Mexico behavioral health system. The following definitions apply to terms used in this chapter and shall guide any rules promulgated by collaborative members regarding behavioral health.

A. Definitions beginning with letter "A":

(1) Abuse, individual: Any intentional, knowing or reckless act or failure to act that produces or is likely to produce physical or great mental or emotional harm, unreasonable confinement, sexual abuse or sexual assault consistent with 30-47-1 NMSA 1978.

(2) Abuse, provider: Provider practices that are inconsistent with sound fiscal, business, medical or service related practices and result in an unnecessary cost to the program, or in reimbursement for services that are not medically, clinically, or psychosocially necessary or in services that fail to meet professionally recognized standards for behavioral health care.

(3) Adult behavioral health procedures manual: The procedures manual that includes the psychiatric rehabilitation program requirements and comprehensive community support services requirements.

(4) Advance directive: Written instructions such as a mental healthcare advance directive, psychiatric advance directive, living will, durable health care power of attorney, durable mental health care power of attorney, or advance health directive, relating to the provision of health care when an adult is incapacitated. (See generally, Sections 27-7A-1 - 27-7A-18 NMSA, 1978, and Section 24-7B-1 - 24-7B- 16 NMSA 1978.)

(5) Adverse determination: A determination by the BHE that the behavioral health services furnished, or proposed to be furnished to a consumer, are not medically, clinically or psychosocially necessary or not appropriate.

(6) American society of addiction medicine (ASAM): An organization of professionals in addiction services that developed, in the early 1990s, a set of criteria and tools to identify the level of care best suited to an individual in need of addiction services.

B. Definitions beginning with letter "B":

(1) Behavioral health (BH): The umbrella term for mental health and substance abuse. It includes both mental health (MH), including psychiatric illnesses and emotional disorders, and substance abuse (SA), including addictive and chemical dependency disorders, and includes co-occurring MH and SA disorders and the prevention of those disorders.

(2) Behavioral health entity (BHE): One or more managed care organizations selected by HSD and the collaborative to provide all defined behavioral health service responsibilities, including medicaid behavioral health.

(3) Behavioral health planning council (BHPC): The body created to meet federal and state advisory council requirements and to provide consistent, coordinated input to the behavioral health service delivery system in New Mexico, and with which the BHE will be expected to interact with as an advisory council. (See Section 24-1-28 NMSA, 1978)

C. Definitions beginning with letter "C":

(1) Chair or co-chairs: The secretary of the health care authority shall serve as the chair of the collaborative. The secretary of health and the secretary of children youth and families shall alternate each state fiscal year as the co-chair of the collaborative.

(2) Clinical necessity: The determination made by a behavioral health professional exercising prudent clinical judgment as to whether a behavioral health service would promote growth and development, prevent, diagnose, detect, treat, ameliorate, or palliate the effects of a behavioral health condition, injury, or disability for the consumer.

(3) Collaborative: The interagency behavioral health purchasing collaborative, responsible for planning, designing and directing a statewide behavioral health system. The collaborative, established under Section 9-7-6.4 NMSA 1978, by its statutory member agencies collectively, operates under by-laws adopted by the collaborative.

(4) Collaborative members or member agencies: The statutory and ex officio agency representatives who sit on the collaborative or their agency designees.

(5) Comprehensive community support services (CCSS): CCSS is a recovery and resiliency oriented service which is provided in the community, primarily face-to-face, using natural supports to the maximum extent possible to build on client and family strengths. These services are goal-directed mental health rehabilitation services and supports for children, adolescents, and adults necessary to assist individuals in achieving recovery and resiliency goals. These services assist in the development and coordination of a consumer or member's service plan and include therapeutic interventions which address barriers that impede the development of skills necessary for independent functioning in the community. (See, 8.315.6 NMAC, 8.305.1 NMAC and collaborative adult behavioral health procedural manual.)

(6) Consumer: For purposes of these rules, a person with a mental health or substance use disorder receiving or eligible to receive behavioral health services through collaborative or collaborative member contracts, or a past recipient of such services.

(7) Consumer empowerment: Activities that address the following areas:

(a) consumer choice

(b) consumer voice

(c) self-management

(d) community integration

(8) Continuous quality improvement (CQI): CQI is a process for improving quality that assumes opportunities for improvement are unlimited; is customer- oriented, data driven, and results in implementation of improvements; and requires continual measurement of implemented improvements and modification of improvements, as indicated.

(9) Core service agencies (CSAs): Multi- service agencies that help to bridge treatment gaps in the child and adult treatment systems, promote the appropriate level of service intensity for consumers with complex behavioral health service needs, ensure that community support services are integrated into treatment, and develop the capacity for consumers to have a single point of accountability for identifying and coordinating their behavioral health, health and other social services.

(10) Credentialing: A systematic process whereby the BHE or provider verifies and warrants that an employed, contracted or affiliated behavioral health professional or agency meets specified practice standards including education, experience, licensure and certification.

(11) Cultural competence: A set of congruent behaviors, attitudes, and policies that come together in a system, agency, or among professionals that enables them to work effectively in cross-cultural situations, including situations of diverse culture, race, ethnicity, national origin or disability. Cultural competency involves the integration and transformation of knowledge, information and data about individuals and groups of people into specific clinical standards, service approaches, techniques and marketing programs that match an individual's culture to increase the quality and appropriateness of behavioral health care and outcomes. See, 8.305.1.7 NMAC.

D. Definitions beginning with letter "D":

(1) Delegation: A formal process by which a BHE gives another entity the authority to perform certain functions on its behalf but for which the BHE retains full accountability for the delegated functions.

(2) Designated representative: A person designated under a valid mental health care treatment advance directive as an individual's authorized agent according to the provisions of the Mental Health Care Treatment Decisions Act (Subsection B of Section 24-7 NMSA 1978) and who has personal knowledge of the respondent and the facts as required in Subsection B of the act.

E. Definitions beginning with letter "E":

(1) EPSDT: Early and periodic screening, diagnostic and treatment.

(2) Ex-officio members: Non-voting members of the collaborative, who otherwise serve as full members (e.g. the secretary of higher education department, secretary of veteran's services department, New Mexico public defender, and the children's cabinet coordinator).

(3) Executive committee: A committee of the collaborative comprised of the secretaries of the health care authority, health, and children youth and families. The executive committee is authorized to negotiate, approve and execute contracts and amendments on behalf of the collaborative.

F. Definitions beginning with letter "F":

(1) Family- centered care: When a child is the consumer, the system of care reflects the importance of the family or legal guardian in the way services are planned and delivered. Family- centered care facilitates collaboration between family members and behavioral health professionals, builds on individual and family strengths and respects diversity of families.

(2) Family specialist: An approved provider who is certified as a family specialist through an approved state certification program. (See Subsection U of 7.20.11.7 NMAC)

G. Definitions beginning with letter "G":

(1) Grievance (consumer): Oral or written statement by a member expressing dissatisfaction with any aspect of the BHE or its operations that is not a BHE action.

(2) Grievance (provider): Oral or written statement by a provider to the BHE expressing dissatisfaction with any aspect of the BHE or its operations that is not a BHE action.

H. Definitions beginning with letter "H": HIPAA: Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996.

I. Definitions beginning with letter "I": Indicated prevention: Interventions that identify individuals who are experiencing early signs of substance abuse, mental illness and other related problem behavior and target them with special programs.

J. Definitions beginning with letter "J": [RESERVED]

K. Definitions beginning with letter "K": [RESERVED]

L. Definitions beginning with letter "L":

(1) Letter of direction (LD): Written instructions, detailed action steps, and guidelines to clarify the implementation of programs funded by new funding sources or changes to programs funded by funding sources identified in the BHE contract.

(2) Local collaborative (LC): An advisory body, delineated by either judicial district or tribal grouping and recognized by the collaborative, that provides input on local and regional behavioral health issues to the collaborative, the BHPC and the BHE.

(3) Logic model, prevention services: A logical conceptual framework used to connect the prevention effort with its intended results and the goal of reducing substance abuse. The framework is based upon existing knowledge that is refined or revised with new research. The logic model specifically describes the changes expected within the target population(s), why it is likely that these changes would result from the proposed prevention services and activities, and how this logically relates to the needs assessment.

M. Definitions beginning with letter "M":

(1) Managed care organization (MCO): An organization that contracts with the state of New Mexico to provide a variety of health care services to individuals who are enrolled.

(2) Management letter: A document signed by the co-chairs of the collaborative and a representative of the BHE authorized to bind the BHE that describes a certain task or activity to be pursued or conducted by the BHE, the specific approach to that task or activity, the expected result and the schedule to be followed to implement the task or activity. Such letters are not intended to be amendments to the BHE contract, but more specific directions for completing contract requirements.

(3) Medicaid: The medical assistance program authorized under Title XIX and Title XXI of the Social Security Act or its successors, furnished to New Mexico residents who meet specific eligibility requirements.

(4) Medically necessary services: Clinical and rehabilitative physical, mental or behavioral health services that:

(a) are essential to prevent, diagnose or treat medical or behavioral health conditions or are essential to enable the consumer to attain, maintain or regain the consumer's optimal functional capacity;

(b) are delivered in the amount, duration, scope and setting that is both sufficient and effective to reasonably achieve their purposes and clinically appropriate to the specific physical, mental and behavioral health care needs of the consumer;

(c) are provided within professionally accepted standards of practice and national guidelines; and

(d) are required to meet the physical, mental and behavioral health needs of the consumer and are not primarily for the convenience of the consumer, the provider or the BHE. (Subparagraphs (a) and (b) of Paragraph (7) of Subsection M of 8.305.1.7 NMAC)

N. Definitions beginning with letter "N":

(1) Network provider: An individual provider, clinic, group, association or facility employed by or contracted with a BHE to furnish covered behavioral health services to consumers under the provisions of the BHE contract.

(2) Non- network provider: An individual provider, clinic, group, association or facility that provides covered services and does not have a contract with the BHE.

O. Definitions beginning with letter "O": [RESERVED]

P. Definitions beginning with letter "P":

(1) Peer specialist: An approved provider who is certified as a peer specialist through a state approved certification program. (Paragraph (4) of Subsection A of 8.315.6.10 NMAC)

(2) Performance measures: A system of operational and tracking indicators specified by state or federal requirements or the collaborative, including but not limited to the federal national outcome measures (NOMS).

(3) Prevention services: Services that follow current national standards for prevention including both physical and behavioral health.

(4) Prevention provider: A provider under contract for the exclusive or primary purpose of providing services designed to prevent or reduce the prevalence of substance abuse, mental illness, or other specified behavioral health disorders.

(5) Psychosocial necessity: Services or products provided to a consumer with the goal of helping that individual develop to their fullest capacities through learning and environmental supports and reduce the risk of the consumer developing a behavioral health disorder or an increase in the severity of behavioral health symptoms. The consumer need not have a behavioral health diagnosis but rather have a need to improve psychosocial functioning.

Q. Definitions beginning with letter "Q": [RESERVED]

R. Definitions beginning with letter "R":

(1) Recovery: Behavioral health recovery is an individual's personal journey of healing and transformation enabling a person with a behavioral health problem to live a meaningful life in a community of their choice while striving to achieve their full potential.

(2) Re- credentialing: A systematic process whereby the BHE verifies and warrants that an employed or affiliated behavioral health professional who is currently credentialed, continues to meet specified practice standards, including education, experience, licensure and certification.

(3) Resiliency: A global term describing a dynamic process, whereby people overcome adversity and go on with their lives in a productive and self- satisfying manner.

(4) Responsible offeror: An offeror who submits a response proposal and who has furnished, when required, information and data to prove that the offeror's financial resources, production or service facilities, personnel, service reputation and experience are adequate to make satisfactory delivery of the services or items of tangible personal property described in the proposal.

S. Definitions beginning with letter "S":

(1) Selective prevention: Prevention interventions targeted at a subgroup of the general population that is determined to be at risk for sexual assault, substance abuse or mental illness.

(2) State: The state of New Mexico, including any entity or agency of the state and including but not limited to the collaborative and member agencies.

(3) Subcontract: A written agreement between the BHE and a third party, or between a subcontractor and another subcontractor, to provide services, and where appropriate approved by the collaborative.

(4) Subcontractor: A third party who contracts with the BHE or a BHE subcontractor for the provision of services.

(5) Supported employment: Integrated work for not less than the federal minimum wage in a setting with ongoing support services for individuals with severe disabilities for whom competitive employment:

(a) has not traditionally occurred;

(b) has been interrupted or intermittent as a result of severe disability, and who,

(c) because of the nature and severity of their disabilities need intensive physical, educational, social or psychological support to perform work.

(6) Supportive housing: Permanent housing that is affordable to individuals with low or no incomes, is chosen by the individual, which a person retains even if their service needs change, and which is an essential ingredient to foster and support a person's journey towards recovery and resiliency.

T. Definitions beginning with letter "T": [RESERVED]

U. Definitions beginning with letter "U": Universal prevention: Prevention interventions intended to reach the entire population or a large share of it, without regard to individual risk factors.

8.372.2.7 DEFINITIONS:

[RESERVED]

[8.372.2.7 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.8 MISSION STATEMENT:

The mission of the interagency behavioral health collaborative (the collaborative) is to ensure quality behavioral health services are provided to medicaid and non-medicaid consumers; providers are reimbursed timely and accurately; data is collected, and services promote prevention, recovery, resilience, and efficient use of available resources. This mission serves the collaborative vision to establish a behavioral health service delivery system in which consumers and family members are assisted in participating fully in the life of their communities; support of recovery and development of resiliency are expected; behavioral health is promoted; and the adverse effects of substance abuse and mental illness are prevented or reduced.

[8.372.2.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.9 QUALITY MANAGEMENT:

The collaborative recognizes that strong programs of quality improvement and assurance help ensure that better care is delivered in a cost-effective manner with better outcomes for consumers and families. Under the terms of the interagency behavioral health collaborative contracts, quality assurance and management programs are incorporated into behavioral health care delivery and administrative systems.

[8.372.2.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.10 BROAD STANDARDS:

A. Commitment to persons served: The behavioral health entity (BHE) and provider shall provide or ensure that:

(1) service delivery is individually centered and family-centered, and furthers an individual's capacity for recovery and resiliency;

(2) all services are designed to enhance, promote and expand the recovery, resiliency, independence, self-sufficiency, self- esteem and quality of life of the persons served;

(3) individuals served are involved in the individual planning, decision-making, implementation and evaluation of services provided;

(4) agents under an advance directive, family members, guardians or treatment guardians, caregivers, or other persons critical to the consumer's life and well-being are involved in the individual planning, decision-making, implementation and evaluation of services provided, subject to requirements or principles of confidentiality and individual choice;

(5) the system offers a full range of appropriate behavioral health services for multi-diagnosed clients, including facilitating access to and coordinating care with appropriate medical care providers;

(6) services are based on evidence of effectiveness;

(7) services consider the individual consumer's and family's preferences;

(8) services and providers comply with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (regarding education programs and activities); the Age Discrimination Act of 1975; the Rehabilitation Act of 1973; and the Americans with Disabilities Act.

B. Collaboration and system of care requirements: The BHE shall be responsible for developing a system of care that offers acceptable access and appropriate, effective care to all individuals and families served. The BHE shall coordinate and collaborate with the collaborative in the implementation of the requirements of this or other rules and the requirements of any contracts between the BHE and the collaborative. The BHE shall work with the BHPC and, upon request, with LCs to seek advice and comment during the planning, implementation, and evaluation of services. The BHE shall consult with the BHPC to identify service gaps and needs, including provider training, coaching and supervision needs and opportunities.

C. Reporting requirements: The BHE shall provide to the collaborative such reports as may be required by the BHE contract. The BHE shall verify the accuracy and completeness of data and other information in reports submitted.

D. Behavioral health data: For reporting purposes, behavioral health data shall be collected and reported as required by contract for any consumer or family member receiving any behavioral health service provided by a behavioral health practitioner, regardless of setting or location as required by the collaborative, including behavioral health licensed professionals, practicing within the BHE. The BHE shall monitor and ensure the integrity of data. Findings shall be reported to the collaborative as required by the BHE contract.

E. Emergency response requirements: The BHE shall participate in disaster behavioral health planning and emergency response with the collaborative and in a manner consistent with the protocol of described in the New Mexico department of health emergency operations plan, psychosocial annex. The BHE shall ensure that its network providers are likewise prepared to be responsive and appropriate to the specific needs of an event calling for emergency response and psychosocial support services.

F. Sexual assault: The BHE shall ensure that its providers have the capacity to provide comprehensive, confidential and sensitive services to victims of sexual assault as mandate by the Sexual Crimes and Prosecution and Treatment Act, Sections 29-11-1 through 29-11-7, NMSA 1978.

G. Advance directives: The BHE shall have and implement policies and procedures for advance directives. The BHE shall require its providers to honor advance directives within its utilization management protocols.

H. Forensic evaluations: The BHE shall ensure that network and non-network providers providing forensic evaluations shall assure that such evaluations shall be performed pursuant to court authority and either the Rules of Criminal Procedure for the District Courts, 5-602.B, NMSA 1978, or other legal authority. Each evaluation file shall have a copy of the court order from the state district court.

I. Special coordination requirements: The BHE shall ensure effective coordination with other service systems and providers. Such coordination shall include at least the following:

(1) physical and behavioral health services;

(2) emergency services;

(3) pharmacy services;

(4) transportation;

(5) supportive housing;

(6) SCI MCOs;

(7) CYFD, including children in CYFD custody;

(8) New Mexico corrections department;

(9) court- ordered or parole board-ordered treatment;

(10) children in tribal custody or under tribal supervision;

(11) adolescents transitioning into the adult system;

(12) children with IEPs;

(13) medicaid eligibility outreach and assistance;

(14) medicaid waiver and non-medicaid disability programs;

(15) aging and long-term services department programs;

(16) HIV/AIDS treatment providers;

(17) individuals with special health care needs;

(18) supported employment.

J. The BHE shall ensure that consumers with both a developmental disability and a mental illness, including consumers with autism spectrum disorders, receive covered services in a manner that meets their unique needs and in accordance with the specific requirements of the BHE contract.

K. The BHE shall comply with all applicable standards, procedure manuals, practice guidance, clinical protocols, orders or regulations issued by the collaborative or by collaborative member agencies or departments.

L. The BHE shall hold subcontractors to all standards, procedure manuals, practice guidance, clinical protocols, orders or regulations issued by the collaborative or by collaborative member agencies or departments and shall monitor and assure compliance. Subcontracts of the BHE shall allow the BHE to observe or review administrative or clinical practices for contract compliance, quality management and outcomes.

[8.372.2.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.11 STANDARDS FOR QUALITY MANAGEMENT AND IMPROVEMENT:

A. Program structure and operations: Quality management is an integrated approach that links knowledge, structure and processes together throughout a BHE's system to assess and improve quality. The BHE's quality management (QM) and improvement (QI) structures and processes shall be planned, systematic, clearly defined, and in full compliance with the BHE contract. The BHE shall comply with the provisions of 8.305.8.12 NMAC, regardless of the funding source of services. The BHE shall ensure that the QM/QI program is applied to the entire range of covered services and all major demographic population groups in accordance with the BHE contract. The BHE shall have an annual QM/QI work plan, prior approved by the collaborative, and as specified in its BHE contact with the collaborative.

B. Continuous quality improvement/total quality management: The BHE shall base its administrative operations and service delivery on principles of continuous quality improvement/total quality management (QM/QI). Such an approach shall include at least the following:

(1) recognize that opportunities for improvement are unlimited;

(2) ensure that the QM/QI process shall be data driven;

(3) require the continual measurement of clinical and non-clinical effectiveness and programmatic improvements of clinical and non-clinical processes driven by such measurements;

(4) require the re-measurement of effectiveness and continuing development and implementation of improvements as appropriate; and

(5) rely on consumer and stakeholder input.

C. Prevention and coordination of care: The BHE shall institute QM/QI policies and procedures that emphasize and promote prevention and coordination across multiple providers and systems.

D. Consumer/family satisfaction: The BHE shall work with the collaborative in conducting the annual adult and child/family consumer satisfaction survey based on the national mental health statistics improvement project or successor projects. If the BHE conducts any other or separate satisfaction survey, such survey, including the survey instrument and methodology, shall be prior approved by the collaborative. The BHE shall comply with requirements of 8.305.8.11 NMAC and such other requirements as the BHE contract may require.

E. Clinical practice guidelines: The BHE shall disseminate recommended practice guidelines, practice parameters, consensus statements and specific criteria for the provision of services for acute and chronic behavioral health care conditions.

(1) The BHE shall select the clinical issues to be addressed with clinical guidelines based on the needs of consumers.

(2) The clinical practice guidelines shall be evidence-based.

(3) The BHE shall comply with the provisions of 8.305.8.12 NMAC regardless of the funding source for services. The BHE shall fully comply with all specifications of the BHE contract regarding clinical practice guidelines and evidence-based practices.

[8.372.2.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.12 PERFORMANCE MEASURES:

A. BHE shall be accountable as specified in its contract for the achievement of any performance measure targets identified by the collaborative. The BHE shall measure and track performance measures, report on such measures at intervals defined by the collaborative, and incorporate performance measures as part of its QM/QI program. Performance measures include those required by the federal government or specified by the collaborative.

B. Effectiveness of the QI program: The BHE shall evaluate the overall effectiveness of its QI program and demonstrate improvements in the quality of clinical care and non-clinical service to consumers. The BHE shall conduct data-driven evaluations of clinical practices to improve quality of care. The BHE shall demonstrate how it has influenced or changed provider practice patterns.

[8.372.2.12 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.13 STANDARDS FOR UTILIZATION MANAGEMENT:

The collaborative requires appropriate utilization management (UM) standards to be implemented as well as activities to be performed so that excellent services are provided in a coordinated fashion with neither over nor under- utilization. The BHE shall manage the use of resources, maximize the effectiveness of care by evaluating clinical appropriateness, and authorize the type and volume of services through fair, consistent and culturally competent decision-making processes while ensuring equitable access to care and a successful link between care and outcomes. The consumer's service plan or treatment plan priorities, advance directives, and prolonged service authorizations for individuals with chronic conditions shall be considered in the decision- making process.

A. Necessity requirement: The BHE shall comply with 8.305.8.13 NMAC regarding standards for utilization management. References to "medical necessity" in 8.305.8.13 NMAC shall be read as "clinical and psychosocial necessity" as defined in these rules. References to "member" in 8.305.8.13 NMAC shall be read as "consumer" and shall include the consumer's family, legal guardian, and designated representative as appropriate. All requirements in 8.305.8.13 NMAC regarding providing notice to providers shall include notice to the consumer and consumer's family, legal guardian, and designated representative as appropriate.

B. Use of qualified professionals: The BHE shall ensure the involvement of representative practicing providers, consumers and family members in the development of its UM procedures. The BHE shall evaluate network provider satisfaction with the UM process as part of its annual provider satisfaction survey.

C. Decisions: The BHE shall make available UM decision criteria to providers, consumers, their families, and the public. The BHE shall ensure that consumers have an optimal choice of providers consistent with their treatment needs and available providers.

D. Records: The BHE shall maintain records (both hard and electronic) that verify its utilization management activities and compliance with UM requirements specified in this rule and the specific contractual requirements of the BHE contract.

[8.372.2.13 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.14 STANDARDS FOR CREDENTIALING AND RECREDENTIALING:

The BHE shall have and implement policies and procedures that comply with 8.305.8.14 NMAC, as well as any other applicable credentialing or recredentialing requirements from collaborative member departments and agencies, including but not limited to any federal block grant or other collaborative practice protocols, rules or other requirements.

A. Practitioner participation: The BHE shall have a process for receiving input from participating providers regarding credentialing and recredentialing of providers.

B. Credentialing application: The BHE shall use a collaborative-approved application for network participation.

C. Evaluation of practitioner site: The BHE shall perform an initial visit to the offices of potential high volume behavioral health care providers, as determined by the BHE with approval of the collaborative.

D. Assessment of organizational providers: For organizational providers, the BHE shall confirm that the provider is in good standing with state and federal regulatory bodies and has been certified by the appropriate state certification agency, when applicable.

E. Performance evaluation: The BHE shall ensure that all providers maintain the certification and training necessary to provide the services they offer. The BHE shall utilize QM/QI data in conducting provider recredentialing, recontracting or performance evaluations.

F. Practices and programs: The BHE shall ensure that credentialing and recredentialing requirements shall recognize and promote approaches to services such as consumer- and family-run programs, Native American healing practices and programs, traditional curanderismo, and other legally acceptable programs.

[8.372.2.14 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.15 RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

The BHE and the provider shall have a written policy, approved by the collaborative as required, that states their commitment to treating clients in a manner that respects their rights, respecting and recognizing the consumer's dignity and need for privacy. This policy shall also address the BHE and the provider's expectations with regard to clients' responsibilities. The BHE shall comply with 8.305.12 NMAC and 8.349.2 NMAC regarding grievances and appeals, regardless of funding source. The BHE shall be required to comply with NMAC 8.305.8.15 NMAC, member (consumer) bill of rights, any other collaborative member department or agency's rights' statements, and all consumer rights and responsibilities provisions of the BHE contract with the collaborative.

A. Consumer handbook: The BHE shall maintain a consumer handbook, prior approved by the collaborative, that includes but is not limited to information about consumer rights and responsibilities. The written information provided to consumers or clients of the BHE or provider shall be comprehensible, readable, easily understood and culturally sensitive.

B. Complaints or grievances:

(1) Consumers, their families or legal guardians, and designated representatives have a right and shall have the means to voice complaints or file grievances and appeals about the care provided by the BHE or provider in its network.

(2) The BHE shall establish and maintain written policies and procedures for the filing of provider grievances and appeals.

(3) The BHE and the provider shall have written policies and procedures for the timely resolution of client or provider complaints or grievances.

(4) The BHE shall provide information specified in 42 CFR Section 438.10(g)(1) about its grievance system to all providers and subcontractors at the time they enter a contract.

(5) The BHE shall provide the collaborative regular reporting of all consumer and provider grievances, appeals, and fair hearings, and such other related data and information as specified in the BHE contract.

[8.372.2.15 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.16 STANDARDS FOR CLINICAL RECORDS:

A. Standards and policies: The BHE shall require clinical records to be maintained in a format and manner that is timely, legible, current, and organized, and that permits effective and confidential consumer care and quality review. The BHE shall fully comply with all medical records, data, and confidentiality requirements of the BHE contract and any relevant state and federal law.

B. Confidentiality: The BHE shall have and implement clinical record confidentiality policies and procedures that implement the requirements of state and federal law and policy, this rule, and the BHE contract. These policies and procedures shall be consistent with confidentiality requirements in 45 CFR parts 160 and 164 for all medical records and any other health and enrollment information that identifies a particular consumer. Medical record contents shall be consistent with the utilization control required in 42 CFR Part 456, 42 CFR 431.305(b) and 45 CFR 164.530(c).

C. Evaluation and treatment or service records:

(1) To promote effective service delivery and quality review, treatment or service records shall be maintained in a manner that is current, comprehensive, detailed, organized, and legible.

(2) The BHE and the provider shall ensure that consumers and family members participate in treatment or service planning, development, and implementation and maximize consumer and family recovery and resiliency. The BHE shall ensure that consumers and family members, where appropriate, are presented with opportunities to proactively engage and participate in the behavioral health service delivery system, with a focus on the family as a potential change agent where consistent with the consumer's preferences and wishes.

[8.372.2.16 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.17 STANDARDS FOR ACCESS:

A. Ensure access: The BHE shall ensure the accessibility and availability of behavioral health providers for each medically, clinically or psychosocially necessary service. The BHE shall comply with 8.305.8.18 NMAC, regardless of the funding source and shall comply with such geo-access standards as the collaborative may require. The BHE shall maintain and update its service access plan, which shall describe the BHE's system for consumer access to services.

B. Array of services: The BHE shall ensure that in each region of the state there is an array of covered services that allow consumers to be served within the least restrictive setting and in close proximity to their places of residence, with preference given to in-state providers.

C. Appointment standards: The BHE shall ensure that appointment standards detailed in the BHE contract are met by the provider and shall report to the collaborative on the compliance of providers in meeting appointment standards.

D. Access to transportation services: The BHE shall assist consumers in accessing existing transportation benefits and resources to provide transportation to covered services, including transportation to address a behavioral health issue during non-business hours and transportation related to an emergency. The BHE shall coordinate behavioral health transportation services with the consumer's respective MCO, where applicable.

E. Cultural competency: The BHE and provider shall provide effective services to people of all cultures, races, ethnic backgrounds, religions in a manner that respects the worth of the individual and protects the dignity of each individual regardless of the circumstances under which services are sought.

(1) The BHE shall develop, implement, evaluate, and update a cultural competency plan for itself and for all network providers to ensure that consumers and their families, including individuals with disabilities, receive covered services that are culturally and linguistically appropriate to meet their needs.

(2) The BHE shall ensure that providers have access to specific clinical standards, service approaches, techniques and marketing programs that match an individual's culture to increase the quality and appropriateness of behavioral health care and outcomes. The BHE shall ensure compliance with 8.305.1.7 NMAC, regardless of funding source.

[8.372.2.17 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.2.18 DELEGATION:

Delegation is a process whereby the BHE gives another entity the authority to perform certain functions on its behalf. The BHE shall be fully accountable for the quality of clinical care and services provided to consumers through its delivery system. The BHE may not delegate the accountability for the quality of services provided. The BHE will be responsible for the QM/ QI program and not delegate this responsibility to subcontractors. The BHE shall not assign, transfer or delegate key management functions such as utilization review/utilization management or care coordination without the explicit written approval of the collaborative. The BHE shall ensure its full compliance with all delegation requirements of the BHE contract.

PART 3: BEHAVIORAL HEALTH ENTITY CONTRACTING

8.372.3.1 ISSUING AGENCY:

New Mexico Health Care Authority.

[8.372.3.1 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.2 SCOPE:

This rule applies to collaborative member agencies.

[8.372.3.2 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.3 STATUTORY AUTHORITY:

Subsection F of Section 9-7-6.4 NMSA 1978 requires the interagency behavioral health purchasing collaborative (the collaborative) to adopt rules through the health care authority (HCA). The collaborative is created by statute and comprised of the secretaries of aging and long-term services; Indian affairs; health care authority; health; corrections; children, youth and families; finance and administration; workforce solutions; public education; and transportation; the directors of the administrative office of the courts; the New Mexico mortgage finance authority; the governor's commission on disability; the developmental disabilities planning council; the vocational rehabilitation division of the public education department; the New Mexico health policy commission; and the governor's health policy coordinator, or their designees. Section 9-8-1 et seq. NMSA 1978 establishes the health care authority as a single, unified department to administer laws and exercise functions relating to health care facility licensure and health care purchasing and regulation.

[8.372.3.3 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.4 DURATION:

Permanent.

[8.372.3.4 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.5 EFFECTIVE DATE:

July 1, 2024, unless a later date is cited at the end of a section.

[8.372.3.5 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.6 OBJECTIVE:

The objective of this rule is to provide policies for the standard of delivery for behavioral health services through contracted behavioral health entities and for approval of contracts by the collaborative.

[8.372.3.6 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.7 DEFINITIONS:

[RESERVED]

[8.372.3.7 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.8 MISSION STATEMENT:

The mission of the collaborative is to ensure that quality behavioral health services are provided to medicaid and non- medicaid consumers; that providers are reimbursed timely and accurately; that services promote prevention, recovery, resilience in consumers, and that available resources are used in the most efficient and effective manner. This mission serves the collaborative's vision of establishing a behavioral health service delivery system in which consumers and family members are assisted in participating fully in the life of their communities; support of recovery and development of resiliency are expected; behavioral health is promoted; and the adverse effects of substance abuse and mental illness are prevented or reduced.

[8.372.3.8 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.9 ELIGIBLE BEHAVIORAL HEALTH ENTITY (BHE):

The collaborative shall award a contract to one or more behavioral health entities which meets applicable requirements and standards delineated under state and federal law including Title IV of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (regarding education programs and activities), the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act. The BHE contract shall, at a minimum, manage delivery of all covered behavioral health services (both medicaid and non-medicaid services), including network development and management, tracking funding and expenditures from various funding sources, conducting utilization management, ensuring coordination of services, ensuring quality management and improvement, and conducting various administrative functions.

A. BHE contract procurement: The collaborative may, in conjunction with the HCA, jointly procure contractors to provide both BH and other medicaid services.

B. BHE contract issuance: Prior to execution of a contract with a BHE, the collaborative must meet and give approval as to the substance and form of the proposed contract. The executive committee is authorized to negotiate, sign and execute the contract with a BHE without further approval from the other members.

C. BHE contract amendments: The BHE contract shall not be altered, changed or amended other than by an instrument in writing executed by the contractor and the co-chairs of the collaborative. The executive committee is authorized to adopt and execute an amendment to a BHE contract on behalf of the collaborative without obtaining prior approval of the other members.

D. Other contracts: The chair and co-chairs are authorized to negotiate any additional contracts, memoranda of understanding or other agreements, and any amendments or modifications thereto, on behalf of the collaborative without obtaining the prior approval of the members.

[8.372.3.9 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.10 [RESERVED]:

[8.372.3.10 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.11 READINESS REVIEW:

Following full execution and prior to the effective date of the BHE contract, the contractor shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the collaborative that it is able to meet the requirements of the RFP. The readiness review may include, but is not limited to, desk and on-site reviews, system demonstrations, interviews with the contractor's staff and such other review of any and all requirements of the RFP as determined by the collaborative.

[8.372.3.11 NMAC - N, 7/1/2024]

8.372.3.12 CONTRACT MANAGEMENT:

The collaborative or its designee shall provide collective and coordinated oversight and administrative functions to ensure BHE compliance with the terms of its contract, assuring each member agency with fiduciary responsibility for funds within the contract is involved and is able to meet its obligations to oversee state and federal funds for which it is responsible. Further, the provisions of 8.305.3.10 NMAC apply to all BHE contracts.
