8.150.520.13 UNEARNED INCOME:

A. Definition: Unearned income is income received in the form of entitlement, disability, retirement, unemployment benefits or payments, including but not limited to the following:

(1) child support;

(2) alimony;

(3) temporary assistance to needy families (TANF) benefits;

(4) general assistance (GA) payments;

(5) royalties;

(6) dividends and interest; or

(7) tribal benefits.

B. Gross unearned income: The gross amount of the benefit or payment must be counted. In the case of OASDI benefits, the gross amount of the benefit includes the amount deducted for the medicare premium, if applicable.

C. Real estate contracts: Monthly payments resulting from the sale of property and contributions from family or friends are also countable unearned income.

D. Exclusions: The following are not counted as income:

(1) in-kind benefits (i.e. goods or services realized, provided or exchanged for non-monetary compensation);

(2) vendor payments (i.e. payments made on behalf of a household to a third party);

(3) lump sum payments: as defined in food stamp regulations at 8.139.520.9 NMAC;

(4) loans;

(5) charitable contributions from nonprofit agencies to meet household expenses;

(6) earned income tax credits;

(7) value of food stamps;

8.150.520.14 TOTAL GROSS INCOME:

The household's total gross income is determined by adding countable earned and unearned income. Income received from self-employment and by ineligible non-citizens is not counted in full. The income of migrant households may be annualized and averaged. The household’s total gross income must be equal to or less than income standards published annually in the LIHEAP state plan.

[8.150.520.14 NMAC - Rp 8.150.520.14 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.150.520.15 INCOME STANDARD:

Income guidelines for eligibility will be updated at the beginning of each federal fiscal year as required by federal statute. The guidelines will be effective for the entire federal fiscal year beginning October 1 and ending September 30. The income guidelines will be determined by the secretary of the HCA before the beginning of the new federal fiscal year and published annually in the LIHEAP state plan.

[8.150.520.15 NMAC - Rp 8.150.520.15 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.150.520.16 CRISIS INTERVENTION STANDARDS:

Households who are over the income standards but meet the crisis intervention requirements may be eligible for a crisis LIHEAP benefit. If a household is over the income standards, HCA staff should explore the household’s financial circumstances and take into account any financial crisis in the household that may have resulted in the household's inability to meet its utility or fuel expenses in the past 30 days. In these cases, the household's net income, rather than gross income, may be considered to determine income eligibility for LIHEAP benefits.

8.150.520.17 NET INCOME:

A. Definition: Net income, except for net business income, for the purposes of LIHEAP policy, is not gross income minus deductions. Rather, it is gross income minus household emergency expenses incurred and paid in 30 days prior to the application date or the initial payment, during that period, of a bill resulting from a recent household emergency.

B. Calculation: To determine the net income for a household, subtract any allowable household emergency expenses from the household's gross income.

C. No emergency expenses: If the household did not incur and pay household emergency expenses or an initial payment for a recent household emergency in the 30 days prior to the application date for LIHEAP benefits, gross income is to be used to make the determination of eligibility.

8.150.520.18 HOUSEHOLD EMERGENCY EXPENSES:

A. Definition: Household emergency expenses are defined as expenses incurred and paid in full or in part by the household in the 30 days prior to the application date.

B. Examples of emergency expenses include:

(1) hospital, ambulance, doctor and dental bills;

(2) laboratory and other testing bills;

(3) prescriptions and non-prescription items ordered by a licensed health care professional; and

(4) services provided or ordered by a licensed health care professional; or

(5) non- elective medical expenses;

(6) emergency medical expenses, such as:

(7) hospital bills; and

(8) ambulance bills;

(9) expenses resulting from the death of a household member or other major household crisis; or

(10) repair or replacement of the household's primary vehicle.

C. Licensure exemption: Native American practitioners (medicine men), though not licensed by the state, are specifically recognized by HCA as health care providers under this policy.

8.150.520.19 VERIFICATION:

To be considered, the household must provide proof of the incurred expense(s) and proof of payment.

8.150.620.8 POINT SYSTEM:

[8.150.620.8 NMAC - Rp 8.150.620.8 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.150.620.9 CALCULATING THE BENEFIT/ASSIGNMENT OF POINTS:

To determine the amount of the benefit for households with an energy cost, HCA assigns points for each following factors.

A. Energy costs points: Points are assigned based on the energy burden at the household’s current residence for households that have a direct cost for heating or cooling expenses.

(1) Energy burden: Energy burden is "the expenditures of the household for home energy divided by the income of the household." Points are assigned to the household by determining the households' percentage of energy burden. The point allocation for energy burden is:

(a) Zero points for zero to five percent energy burden;

(b) One point for six to ten percent energy burden;

(c) Two points for eleven to fifteen percent energy burden; or

(d) Three points for sixteen percent or more energy burden.

(2) Additional energy burden: If the household's energy burden is for the use of propane, an additional two points will be allocated.

(3) Receipt of energy burden points: Certain households do not receive energy burden points:

(a) households whose utilities are included in the rent; or

(b) households that use wood to heat their home and do not purchase wood.

(4) Energy standard allowance (ESA): Each year an ESA will be determined. The standard amount will be based on the fuel and electricity standards calculated for the standard utility allowance (SUA) used in the New Mexico supplemental nutrition assistance program (SNAP). The ESA may be used when the monthly utility costs provided by the applicant are: a) less than the standard; or b) the applicant has new service and costs are not available.

B. Income points: HCA assigns income points using the household's monthly total countable gross income and the household size. The number of points is determined by identifying what percentage the household's income is of the federal poverty guidelines (FPG) for the LIHEAP FFY. For example, if the total monthly income is sixty percent of the FPG, the household will receive three income points. (See below.)

(1) Three points - income is zero to one hundred percent of the FPG

(2) Two points - income is one hundred to one hundred fifty percent of the FPG

C. Vulnerable population points: HCA assigns additional points for any household members in the following vulnerable groups.

(1) Age 60 and over: Two points are assigned to eligible households based on the inclusion of one or more household members age 60 or over as determined by birthdate data.

(2) Age five and under: Two points are assigned to eligible households based on the inclusion of one or more household members age five and under as determined by birthdate data.

(3) Disability: Two points are assigned to eligible households having one or more members with a disability. Disability is defined as physical or mental impairment resulting in substantial reduction in the ability of an individual to care for themselves or carry out normal activities. When one or more members receive disability based income, the household is entitled to the points. A doctor's statement of current disability will be required for assignment of the point for this factor if the disabled member does not receive disability-based income.

[8.150.620.9 NMAC - Rp 8.150.620.9 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.150.620.10 CALCULATION OF BENEFIT AMOUNT:

A. Prior to the start of the application period projections will be made to determine point value. Anticipated grant of award, potential applicants and the current economy of the state of New Mexico will be used to determine the point value. Households eligible for a LIHEAP benefit will have their point total multiplied times the point value. The product is the amount of payment that is issued to the utility vendor for credit on the household's account or is sent to the household.

B. Based on the availability of funds, benefits are issued for eligible applications received through September 30.

C. At the direction of the HCA secretary, the point value for energy cost points, income points, vulnerable population points, additional energy burden points, or any of their parts, may be adjusted as necessary taking into consideration the factors described in Subsection A of 8.150.620.10 NMAC.

8.200.400.9 GENERAL MEDICAID ELIGIBILITY:

Medicaid services are jointly financed by the federal government and the state of New Mexico and are administered by medical assistance division (MAD).

A. Within broad federal regulations, New Mexico determines categories of eligible recipients, eligibility requirements, types and range of services, levels of provider reimbursement and managed care capitation, and administrative and operating procedures.

B. New Mexico administers medical assistance programs using waivers of the Social Security Act for comparability of services, rules for income and resources and freedom of choice of provider.

C. Payments for medical and behavioral health services, durable equipment and supplies are made directly to service providers, not to the medicaid eligible recipient.

D. This chapter describes the New Mexico categories of medicaid and medical assistance programs eligibility. Each medicaid and medical assistance program includes detailed eligibility requirements which are organized into the following three chapter types:

(1) recipient requirements (.400);

(2) income and resources standards (.500); and

(3) benefit description (.600).

[8.200.400.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.200.400.9 NMAC, 1/1/2019]

8.200.400.10 BASIS FOR DEFINING GROUP - MEDICAID CATEGORIES:

A. Except where noted, the HCA income support division (ISD) determines eligibility in the categories listed below:

(1) other adult (Category 100);

(2) parent caretaker (Category 200);

(3) pregnant women (Category 300);

(4) pregnancy-related services (Category 301);

(5) loss of parent caretaker due to earnings from employment or due to spousal support (Categories 027 and 028);

(9) family planning (Category 029).

B. Medicare savings program (MSP): MSP assists an eligible recipient with the cost of medicare.

(1) Medicare is the federal government program that provides health care coverage for individuals 65 or older; or under 65 who have a disability. Individuals under 65 who have a disability are subject to a waiting period of 24 months from the approval date of social security disability insurance (SSDI) benefits before they receive medicare coverage. Coverage under medicare is provided in four parts.

(a) Part A hospital coverage is usually free to beneficiaries when medicare taxes are paid while working.

(b) Part B medical coverage requires monthly premiums, co-insurance and deductibles to be paid by the beneficiary.

(c) Part C advantage plan allows a beneficiary to choose to receive all medicare health care services through a managed care organization.

(d) Part D provides prescription drug coverage.

(2) The following MSP programs can assist an eligible recipient with the cost of medicare.

(a) Qualified medicare beneficiaries (QMB) - Categories 041 and 044: QMB covers low income medicare beneficiaries who have or are conditionally eligible for medicare Part A. QMB benefits are limited to the following:

(i) cost for the monthly medicare Part B premium;

(ii) cost of medicare deductibles and coinsurance; and

(iii) cost for the monthly medicare Part A premium (for those enrolling conditionally).

An eligible recipient receiving medicaid through QMB, SLMB or QI1 is automatically deemed eligible for LIS and need not apply. Other low-income medicare beneficiaries must meet an income and resource test and submit an application to determine if they qualify for LIS.

C. Supplemental security income (SSI) related medicaid:

(1) SSI - Categories 001, 003 and 004: Medicaid for individuals who are eligible for SSI. Eligibility for SSI is determined by the social security administration (SSA). This program provides cash assistance and medicaid for an eligible recipient who is:

(b) blind (Category 003); or

(c) disabled (Category 004).

(2) SSI medicaid extension - Categories 001, 003 and 004: MAD provides coverage for certain groups of applicants or eligible recipients who have received supplemental security income (SSI) benefits and who have lost the SSI benefits for specified reasons listed below and pursuant to 8.201.400 NMAC:

(3) Working disabled individuals (WDI) and medicare wait period - Category 074: There are two eligibility types:

(a) a disabled individual who is employed; or

(b) a disabled individual who has lost SSI medicaid due to receipt of SSDI and the individual does not yet qualify for medicare.

D. Long term care medicaid:

(1) Medicaid for individuals who meet a nursing facility (NF) level of care (LOC), intermediate care facilities for the intellectually disabled (ICF-ID) LOC, or acute care in a hospital. SSI income methodology is used to determine eligibility. An eligible recipient must meet the SSA definition of aged (Category 081); blind (Category 083); or disabled (Category 084).

(2) Institutional care (IC) medicaid - Categories 081, 083 and 084: IC covers certain inpatient, comprehensive and institutional and nursing facility benefits.

(3) Program of all-inclusive care for the elderly (PACE) - Categories 081, 083 and 084:

programs serve a variety of targeted populations, such as people with mental illnesses, intellectual disabilities, or physical disabilities. Eligibility may be subject to a wait list.

(a) There are two HCBS delivery models:

(i) traditional agency delivery where HCBS are delivered and managed by a MAD enrolled agency; or

(ii) mi via self-directed where an eligible recipient, or their representative, has decision-making authority over certain services and takes direct responsibility to manage the eligible mi via recipient's services with the assistance of a system of available supports; self-direction of services allows an eligible mi via recipient to have the responsibility for managing all aspects of service delivery in a person-centered planning process.

(b) HCBS waiver programs include:

(i) elderly (Category 091), blind (Category 093) and disabled (Category 094);

An RMA eligible refugee recipient has access to a benefit package that parallels the full coverage medicaid benefit package. RMA is funded through a grant under Title IV of the Immigration and Nationality Act (INA). An RMA applicant who exceeds the RMA income standards may "spend-down" below the RMA income standards for Category 059 by subtracting incurred medical expenses after arrival into the U.S.

G. Breast and cervical cancer (BCC) - Category 052: BCC medicaid provides coverage to an eligible uninsured woman, under the age of 65 who has been screened and diagnosed by the department of health (DOH) as having breast or cervical cancer to include pre-cancerous conditions. The screening criteria are set forth in the centers for disease control and prevention's national breast and cervical cancer early detection program (NBCCEDP). Eligibility is determined using DOH notification and without a separate medicaid application or determination of eligibility.

E. For continued medicaid eligibility beyond the PE period, a completed and signed application for medicaid must be submitted to HCA/ISD. An eligible PE provider must submit the application to ISD within 10 calendar days from the receipt of the application.

E. As a condition of serving as an authorized representative, a provider, staff member or volunteer of an organization must sign an agreement that they will adhere to the regulations relating to confidentiality (relating to the prohibition against reassignment of provider claims as appropriate for a health facility or an organization acting on the facility's behalf), as well as other relevant state and federal laws concerning conflicts of interest and confidentiality of information (42 CFR 435.923).

SSI recipients enrolled in part B only: Effective upon the centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS) and HCA systems' capacity, the HCA shall automatically deem individuals enrolled in SSI medicaid eligible for the QMB eligibility group the first month they are both enrolled in part B and eligible for a medicare enrollment period, bypassing the need for actual or conditional part A enrolment at the social security administration.

8.200.410.10 USE OF SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER (42 CFR 435.910):

Federal law requires, as a condition of eligibility, that each individual (including children) seeking medicaid furnish each of his or her social security numbers (SSN).

A. HSD will advise the applicant of:

(1) the statute or other authority under which the agency is requesting the applicant's SSN; and

B. If an applicant cannot recall his or her SSN or SSNs or has not been issued a SSN HSD will:

(1) assist the applicant in completing an application for an SSN;

(2) obtain evidence required under the social security administration (SSA) regulations to establish the age, the citizenship or non-citizen status, and the true identity of the applicant; and

(3) either send the application to SSA or, if there is evidence that the applicant has previously been issued a SSN, request SSA to furnish the number.

C. HSD cannot deny or delay services to an otherwise eligible individual pending issuance or verification of the individual's SSN by SSA or if the individual meets one of the exceptions in Paragraph (5) of Subsection A of 8.200.410.10 NMAC.

D. HSD will verify the SSN furnished by an applicant or beneficiary with SSA to ensure the SSN was issued to that individual, and to determine whether any other SSNs were issued to that individual.

E. Exception:

(1) The requirement of Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of 8.200.410.10 NMAC does not apply and HSD may give a medicaid identification number to an individual who:

(a) is not eligible to receive an SSN;

(b) does not have an SSN and may only be issued an SSN for a valid non-work reason in accordance with 20 CFR 422.104; or

(c) refuses to obtain an SSN because of well-established religious objections.

(2) The identification number may be either an SSN obtained by HSD on the applicant's behalf or another unique identifier.

(3) The term well established religious objections means that the applicant;

(a) is a member of a recognized religious sect or division of the sect; and

(b) adheres to the tenets or teachings of the sect or division of the sect and for that reason is conscientiously opposed to applying for or using a national identification number.

(4) HSD may use the medicaid identification number established by HSD to the same extent as an SSN is used for purposes described in Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of 8.200.410.NMAC.

(4) A non-qualified non-citizen who was permanently residing in the United States under color of law (PRUCOL) on or before August 22, 1996, does not lose medicaid eligibility provided all other factors of eligibility continue to be met. 8.200.430.9 RECIPIENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

A. An individual has the right to apply for medicaid and other health care programs HCA administers regardless of whether it appears they may be eligible.

(1) Income support division (ISD) determines eligibility for the medical assistance division's medical assistance programs (MAP), unless otherwise determined by another entity as stated in 8.200.400 NMAC. A decision shall be made promptly on applications in accordance with the timeliness standards set forth in 8.100.130 NMAC.

(2) Individuals who might be eligible for supplemental security income (SSI) are referred to the social security administration (SSA) office to apply.

B. Application: A paper or electronic application is required from the applicant, an authorized representative, or, if the applicant is incompetent or incapacitated, someone acting responsibly for the applicant. The applicant may complete a joint MAP, cash assistance, supplemental nutrition assistance program (SNAP) and low income home energy assistance (LIHEAP) application or a MAP-only application.

(1) The following do not require an application unless a re-determination is due in that month or the following month, as applicable:

(a) Switching from one of the medical assistance for women, children (MAWC) and families MAP categories to another;

(b) Switching between medicaid and refugee medical assistance; and

(c) Switching to or from one of the long term care medicaid categories.

(2) Medicare savings programs (MSP):

(a) A MAP eligible recipient receiving full benefits is automatically deemed eligible for MSP when they receive free medicare Part-A hospital insurance; the eligible recipient does not have to apply for medicare MSP;

(b) When an individual is not eligible for free medicare Part A hospital insurance, a separate application for the MAP qualified medicare beneficiary (QMB) eligibility category 040 is required. Individuals must apply for medicare Part A with the SSA. This is called, "conditional Part A" because they will receive medicare Part A on the condition that the MAP QMB category of eligibility is approved. When QMB is approved, the cost of the premium for Part A will be covered by MAD.

C. Responsibility in the application or recertification process: The applicant or the re-determining eligible recipient is responsible for providing verification of eligibility. Refer to 8.100.130 NMAC.

(1) An applicant or an eligible recipient's failure to provide necessary verification results in MAP ineligibility.

(2) An applicant or a re-determining eligible recipient must give HCA permission to contact other individuals, agencies, or sources of information which are necessary to establish eligibility.

8.200.430.10 FREEDOM OF CHOICE:

Except when specifically waived from MAD, an eligible recipient has the freedom to obtain physical and behavioral health services from a MAD provider of their choice.

8.200.430.11 RELEASE OF INFORMATION:

By signing the MAP application, an applicant or a re-determining eligible recipient gives HCA explicit consent to release information to applicable state or federal agencies, physical or behavioral health providers, or an HCA designee when the information is needed to provide, monitor, or approve MAD services. Physical and behavioral health information is confidential and is subject to the standards for confidentiality per 8.300.11 NMAC.

8.200.430.12 RIGHT TO HEARING:

An applicant or an eligible recipient is entitled to adequate notice of a HCA adverse action regarding their termination or re-categorization of their MAP category of eligibility. The applicant or re-determining eligible recipient has specific rights and responsibilities when requesting a HCA administrative hearing. A HCA administrative hearing affords the applicant or re-determining eligible recipient the opportunity to have an impartial review of these decisions. See 8.352.2, 8.100.180 and 8.100.970 NMAC for a detailed description of these rights, responsibilities and the HCA administrative hearing process. 8.352.2 NMAC further details the rights, responsibilities and the HCA administrative hearing process for other adverse actions MAD, its utilization review contractor or a HCA contracted managed care organization (MCO) may initiate (42 CFR Section 431.220(a)(1)(2)).

[8.200.430.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.200.430.12 NMAC, 1/1/2014; A, 10/15/2014; A, 11/1/2024]

8.200.430.13 ASSIGNMENT OF SUPPORT:

As a condition of MAP eligibility, HCA requires an applicant or a re-determining eligible recipient to assign their medical care support rights to HCA for medical support and any third party payments. The assignment authorizes HCA to pursue and make recoveries from liable third parties (42 CFR 433.146; Subsection G of 27-2-28 NMSA 1978.

A. Assigning medical support rights: The assignment to HCA of an eligible recipient's rights to medical support and payments occurs automatically under New Mexico law when the applicant or the re-determining eligible recipient signs the application.

B. Third party liability (TPL): This section describes HCA's responsibility to identify and collect from primarily responsible third parties and the eligible recipient's responsibility to cooperate with HCA to uncover such payments. MAD is the payer of last resort. If other third party resources are available, these health care resources must be used before MAD makes a reimbursement. As a condition of MAP eligibility, an applicant assigns their rights to physical and behavioral health support and payments to HCA and promises to cooperate in identifying, pursuing, and collecting payments from these resources. Third party resources include the gross recovery by eligible recipient, including personal injury protection benefits, before any reduction in attorney's fees or costs, obtained through settlement or verdict, for personal injury negligence or intentional tort claims or actions, up to the full amount of MAD payments for treatment of injuries causally related to the occurrence that is the subject of the claim or action.

(1) Required TPL information: During the initial determination or re-determination of eligibility for MAP enrollment, ISD must obtain information about TPL from either the applicant or the re-determining eligible recipient.

(a) HCA is required to take all reasonable measures to determine the legal liability of third parties, including health insurers in paying for the physical and behavioral health services furnished to an eligible recipient (42 CFR 433.138(a)).

(b) HCA uses the information collected at the time of determination in order for MAD to pursue claims against third parties.

(2) Availability of health insurance: If an applicant or an eligible recipient has health insurance, the applicant or the eligible recipient shall notify ISD. ISD must collect all relevant information, including name and address of the insurance company; individuals covered by the policy, effective dates, covered services, and appropriate policy numbers.

(a) An applicant or an eligible recipient with health insurance coverage or coverage by a health maintenance organization (HMO) or other managed care plan (plan) must be given a copy of the TPL recipient information letter.

(b) If there is an absent parent, ISD may request the absent parent's name and social security number (SSN).

(c) ISD must determine if an absent parent, relative, applicant or any member of the household is employed and has health insurance coverage.

(3) Eligible recipients with health insurance coverage: An applicant or an eligible recipient must inform their MAD providers of their TPL. An applicant or an eligible recipient must report changes to or terminations of insurance coverage to ISD. If an applicant or an eligible recipient has health coverage through an HMO or plan, payment from MAD is limited to applicable copayments required under the HMO or plan and to MAD covered services documented in writing as exclusions by the HMO or plan.

(a) If the HMO or plan uses a drug formulary, the medical director of the HMO or plan must sign and attach a written certification for each drug claim to document that a pharmaceutical product is not covered by the HMO or plan. The signature is a certification that the HMO or plan drug formulary does not contain a therapeutic equivalent that adequately treats the physical or behavioral health condition of the HMO or plan subscriber.

(b) Physical and behavioral health services not included in the HMO or plan are covered by MAD only after review of the documentation and on approval by MAD.

(c) An applicant or an eligible recipient covered by an HMO or plan is responsible for payment of medical services obtained outside the HMO or plan and for medical services obtained without complying with the rules or policies of the HMO or plan.

(d) An applicant or an eligible recipient living outside an HMO or plan coverage area may request a waiver of the requirement to use HMO or plan providers and services. The applicant or the eligible recipient for whom a coverage waiver is approved by MAD may receive reimbursement for expenses which allow them to travel to an HMO or plan participating provider, even when the provider is not located near the applicant or the eligible recipient's residence.

(4) Potential health care resources: ISD must evaluate the presence of a TPL source if certain factors are identified during the MAD eligibility interview.

(a) When the age of the applicant or the eligible recipient is over 65 years old medicare must be explored. A student, especially a college student, may have health or accident insurance through their school.

(b) An application on behalf of deceased individual must be examined for "last illness" coverage through a life insurance policy.

(c) Certain specific income sources are indicators of possible TPL which include:

(i) railroad retirement benefits and social security retirement or disability benefits indicating eligibility for Title XVIII (medicare) benefits;

(ii) workers' compensation (WC) benefits paid to employees who suffer an injury or accident caused by conditions arising from employment; these benefits may compensate employees for physical and behavioral health expenses and lost income; payments for physical and behavioral health expenses may be made as physical and behavioral health bills are incurred or as a lump sum award;

(iii) black lung benefits payable under the coal mine workers' compensation program, administered by the federal department of labor (DOL), can produce benefits similar to railroad retirement benefits if the treatment for illness is related to the diagnosis of pneumoconiosis; beneficiaries are reimbursed only if services are rendered by specific providers, authorized by the DOL; black lung payments are made monthly and physical and behavioral health expenses are paid as they are incurred; and

(iv) Title IV-D support payments or financial support payments from an absent parent may indicate the potential for physical and behavioral health support; if a custodial party does not have health insurance that meets a minimum standard, the court in a divorce, separation or custody and support proceeding may order the parent(s) with the obligation of support to purchase insurance for the eligible recipient child (45 CFR 303.31(b)(1); Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of Section 40-4C-4 NMSA 1978; insurance can be obtained through the parent's employer or union (Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of Section 40-4C-4 NMSA 1978; parents may be ordered to pay all or a portion of the physical and behavioral health expenses; for purposes of physical l and behavioral health support, the minimum standards of acceptable coverage, deductibles, coinsurance, lifetime benefits, out-of-pocket expenses, co-payments, and plan requirements are the minimum standards of health insurance policies and managed care plans established for small businesses in New Mexico; see New Mexico insurance code.

(d) An applicant or an eligible recipient has earned income: Earned income may indicate physical, behavioral health and health insurance made available by an employer.

(e) Work history or military services: Work history may indicate eligibility for other cash and physical and behavioral benefits. Previous military service suggests the potential for veterans administration (VA) or department of defense (DOD) health care, including the civilian health and the medical program of the United States (CHAMPUS), for individuals who reside within a 40-mile radius of a military health care facility. An applicant or an eligible recipient who is eligible for DOD health care must obtain certification of non-availability of medical services from the base health benefits advisor in order to be eligible for CHAMPUS.

(f) An applicant or an eligible recipient's expenses show insurance premium payments: Monthly expense information may show that the applicant or the eligible recipient pays private insurance premiums or is enrolled in an HMO or plan.

(g) The applicant or the eligible recipient has a disability: Disability information contained in applications or brought up during interviews may indicate casualties or accidents involving legally responsible third parties.

(h) The applicant or the eligible recipient has a chronic disease: Individuals with chronic renal disease are probably entitled to medicare. Applications for social security disability may be indicative of medicare coverage.

(5) Communicating TPL information: Information concerning health insurance or health plans is collected and transmitted to MAD by ISD, child support enforcement division (CSED), SSA, and the children, youth and families department (CYFD).

8.200.430.14 ELIGIBLE RECIPIENT RESPONSIBILITY TO COOPERATE WITH ASSIGNMENT OF SUPPORT RIGHTS:

A. Cooperation: As a condition of MAP eligibility, an applicant or an eligible recipient must cooperate with HCA to:

(1) obtain physical and behavioral health support and payments for them and other individuals for whom they can legally assign rights;

(2) pursue liable third parties by identifying individuals and providing information to HCA;

(3) cooperate with CSED to establish paternity and medical support as appropriate, see 8.50.105.12 NMAC;

(4) appear at a state or local office designated by HCA to give information or evidence relevant to the case, appear as a witness at a court or other proceeding or give information or attest to lack of information, under penalty of perjury;

(5) refund HCA any money received for physical or behavioral health care that has already been paid; this includes payments received from insurance companies, personal injury settlements, and any other liable third party; and

(6) respond to the trauma inquiry letter that is mailed to an eligible recipient (42 CFR 433.138(4); the letter asks an eligible recipient to provide more information about possible accidents, causes of accidents, and whether legal counsel has been obtained (42 CFR 433.147; 45 CFR 232.42, 232.43; Paragraph (3) of Subsection G of Section 27-2-28 NMSA 1978.

B. Good cause waiver of cooperation: The requirements for cooperation may be waived by HCA if it decides that the applicant or the eligible recipient has good cause for refusing to cooperate. Waivers can be obtained for cooperating with CSED. The applicant or the eligible recipient should request a good cause waiver from CSED per 8.50.105.14 NMAC.

C. Penalties for failure to cooperate:

(1) when the parent, the specified relative or legal guardian fails or refuses to cooperate, the parent or specified relative will not be eligible for MAD services. The eligible recipient child maintains MAP eligibility provided all other eligibility criteria are met;

(2) when the parent or the specified relative fails or refuses to refund payments received from insurance or other settlement sources, such as personal injury case awards, they are not eligible for MAD services for one year and until full restitution has been made to HCA. The eligible recipient child maintains MAP eligibility provided all other eligibility criteria are met.

[8.200.430.14 NMAC - Rp, 8.200.430.14 NMAC, 1/1/2014; A, 10/15/2014; A, 11/1/2024]

8.200.430.15 ELIGIBLE RECIPIENT RESPONSIBILITY TO GIVE PROVIDER PROPER IDENTIFICATION AND NOTICE OF ELIGIBILITY CHANGES:

A. An eligible recipient is responsible for presenting a current MAP eligibility card and evidence of any other health insurance to a MAD provider each time service is requested.

(1) An eligible recipient is responsible for any financial liability incurred if they fail to furnish current MAP eligibility identification before the receipt of a service and as a result the provider fails to adhere to MAD rules, such as a failure to request prior approval. If this omission occurs, the settlement of claims for services is between the eligible recipient and the provider. An individual is financially responsible for services received if they were not eligible for MAD services on the date services are furnished.

(2) When a provider bills MAD and the claim is denied, the provider cannot bill the eligible recipient. Exceptions exist for denials caused by MAP ineligibility or by an eligible recipient's failure to furnish MAP identification in a timely manner.

(3) If an eligible recipient fails to notify the provider that they have received services that are limited by time or amount, the eligible recipient is responsible for payment of the service prior to rendering the service if the provider made reasonable efforts to verify whether the eligible recipient has already received services.

B. Notification of providers following retroactive eligibility determinations: If an eligibility determination is made, the eligible recipient is responsible for notifying MAD providers of this eligibility determination. When an individual receives retro MAP eligibility, the now-eligible recipient must notify all of their MAD providers of their change of eligibility. If the eligible recipient fails to notify the provider and the provider can no longer file a claim for reimbursement, the eligible recipient becomes the responsible payer for those services.

C. Notification if an eligible recipient has private insurance: If an eligible recipient is covered under a private health insurance policy or health plan, they are required to inform their MAD providers of the private health coverage, including applicable policy numbers and special claim forms.

8.200.430.16 ELIGIBLE RECIPIENT FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITIES:

A. A MAD provider agrees to accept the amount paid as payment in full. A provider cannot bill an eligible recipient for any unpaid portion of the bill (balance billing) or for a claim that is not paid because of a provider administrative error or failure of multiple providers to communicate eligibility information.

(1) An eligible recipient is responsible for any financial liability incurred if they fail to furnish current MAP eligibility identification before the receipt of a MAP service and as a result the provider fails to adhere to MAD reimbursement rules, such as a failure to request prior approval. If this omission occurs, the settlement of claims for services is between the eligible recipient and the MAP provider. An individual is financially responsible for services received if they were not eligible for MAD services on the date services are furnished.

(2) When a provider bills MAD and the claim is denied, the provider cannot bill the eligible recipient. Exceptions exist for denials caused by MAP ineligibility or by an eligible recipient's failure to furnish MAP identification at the time of service.

(3) If an eligible recipient fails to notify a provider that they have received services that are limited by time or amount, the eligible recipient is responsible to pay for services if, before furnishing the services, the provider makes reasonable efforts to verify whether the eligible recipient has already received services.

B. Failure of an eligible recipient to follow their privately held health insurance carrier's requirements: An eligible recipient must be aware of the physician, pharmacy, hospital, and other providers who participate in their HMO or other managed care plan. An eligible recipient is responsible for payment for services if they use a provider who is not a participant in their plan or if they receive any services without complying with the rules, policies, and procedures of their plan.

C. Other eligible recipient payment responsibilities: If all the following conditions are met before a MAD service is furnished, the eligible recipient can be billed directly by a MAD provider for services and is liable for payment:

(1) the eligible recipient is advised by a provider that the particular service is not covered by MAD or is advised by a provider that they are not a MAD provider;

(2) the eligible recipient is informed by a provider of the necessity, options, and charges for the services and the option of going to another provider who is a MAD provider; and

(3) the eligible recipient agrees in writing to have the service provided with full knowledge that they are financially responsible for the payment.

8.200.430.17 RESTITUTION:

A. A MAP eligible recipient must return overpayments or medical payments received from liable third parties to the applicable medical service provider or to MAD. If payments are not returned or received, recoupment proceedings against the eligible recipient will be initiated.

B. The restitution bureau of HCA is responsible for the tracking and collection of overpayments made to MAP eligible recipients, vendors, and MAD providers. See Section OIG-940, RESTITUTIONS. The MAD third party liability unit is responsible for monitoring and collecting payments received from liable third parties. See 8.302.3 NMAC.

8.200.430.18 REPORTING REQUIREMENTS:

A medicaid eligible recipient is required to report certain changes which might affect their eligibility to ISD within 10 calendar days from the date the change occurred. A timely change that is reported within 10 calendar days that may result in a more beneficial medicaid eligibility category shall be evaluated in the month the change occurred. An untimely change that is reported after 10 calendar days that may result in a more beneficial medicaid eligibility category shall be evaluated in the month the change was reported. A reported change that does not result in the same or a more beneficial medicaid category is considered an adverse action and is applied prospectively in accordance with 8.100.180.10 NMAC. See 8.100.110.9 NMAC for the various ways applicants and recipients can submit changes to the HCA. The following changes must be reported to ISD:

A. Living arrangements or change of address: Any change in where an eligible recipient lives or gets their mail must be reported.

B. Household size: Any change in the household size must be reported. This includes the death of an individual included in the either or both the assistance unit and budget group.

C. Enumeration: Any new social security number must be reported.

D. Income: Except for continuous eligibility in 8.200.400 NMAC any increase or decrease in the amount of income or change in the source of income must be reported.

E. Resource: Resources only apply to non-modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) medicaid categories. Any change in what an eligible recipient owns must be reported. This includes any property the eligible recipient owns or has interest in, cash on hand, money in banks or credit unions, stocks, bonds, life insurance policies or any other item of value.

8.200.430.19 MAD ESTATE RECOVERY:

HCA is mandated to seek recovery from the estates of certain individuals up to the amount of medical assistance payments made by the HCA on behalf of the individual. See Social Security Act Section 1917 (42 USC 1396p(b) and Section 27-2A-1 et seq., NMSA 1978 "Medicaid Estate Recovery Act").

A. Definitions used in MAD estate recovery:

(1) Authorized representative: The individual designated to represent and act on the eligible recipient's behalf. The eligible recipient or authorized representative must provide formal documentation authorizing the named individual or individuals to access the identified case information for a specified purpose and time frame. An authorized representative may be an attorney representing a person or household, a person acting under the authority of a valid power of attorney, a guardian, or any other individual or individuals designated in writing by the member.

(2) Estate: Real and personal property and other assets of an individual subject to probate or administration pursuant to the New Mexico Uniform Probate Code.

(3) Medical assistance: Amounts paid by HCA for long term care services including related hospital and prescription drug services.

B. Basis for defining the group: A MAP eligible recipient who was 55 years of age or older when medical assistance payments were made on their behalf for nursing facilities services, home and community based services, and related hospital and prescription drug services are subject to estate recovery.

C. The following exemptions apply to estate recovery:

(1) Qualified medicare beneficiaries, specified low-income beneficiaries, qualifying individuals, and qualified disabled and working individuals, are exempt from estate recovery for the receipt of hospital and prescription drug services unless they are concurrently in a MAP nursing facility category of eligibility or on a home and community based services waiver; this provision applies to medicare cost-sharing benefits (i.e., Part A and Part B premiums, deductibles, coinsurance, and co-payments) paid under the medicare savings programs.

(2) Certain income, resources, and property are exempted from MAD estate recovery for native Americans:

(a) interest in and income derived from tribal land and other resources held in trust status and judgment funds from the Indian claims commission and the United States claims court;

(b) ownership interest in trust or non-trust property, including real property and improvements;

(i) located on a reservation or near a reservation as designated and approved by the bureau of Indian affairs of the U.S, department of interior; or

(ii) for any federally-recognized tribe located within the most recent boundaries of a prior federal reservation; and

(iii) protection of non-trust property described in Subparagraphs (a) and (b) is limited to circumstances when it passes from a native American to one or more relatives, including native Americans not enrolled as members of a tribe and non-native Americans such as a spouse and step-children, that their culture would nevertheless protect as family members; to a tribe or tribal organization; or to one or more native Americans;

(c) income left as a remainder in an estate derived from property protected in Paragraph (2) above, that was either collected by a native American, or by a tribe or tribal organization and distributed to native Americans that the individual can clearly trace the income as coming from the protected property;

(d) ownership interests left as a remainder in an estate in rents, leases, royalties, or usage rights related to natural resources resulting from the exercise of federally-protected rights, and income either collected by a native American, or by a tribe or tribal organization and distributed to native Americans derived from these sources as long as the individual can clearly trace the ownership interest as coming from protected sources; and

(e) ownership interest in or usage of rights to items, not covered by Subparagraphs (a) through (d) above, that have unique religious, spiritual, traditional, or cultural significance or rights that support subsistence or a traditional lifestyle according to applicable tribal law or custom.

(3) Effective July 1, 2024, the HCA does not seek payment from an achieving a better life experience (ABLE) account or its proceeds for medicaid benefits provided to the beneficiary of the account.

D. Recovery process: Recovery from an eligible recipient's estate will be made only after the death of the eligible recipient's surviving spouse, if any, and only at a time that the eligible recipient does not have surviving child who is less than 21 years of age, blind, or who meet the SSA definition of disability.

(1) Estate recovery is limited to payments for applicable services received on or after October 1, 1993; except that recovery also is permitted for pre-October 1993 payments for nursing facility services received by a MAP recipient who was 65 years of age or older when such nursing facility services were received.

(2) A recovery notice will be mailed to the authorized representative or next of kin upon the eligible recipient's death informing them about the amount of claim against the estate and provide information on hardship waivers and hearing rights.

(3) It is the family or authorized representative's responsibility to report the eligible recipient's date of death to the ISD office within 10 calendar days after the date of death.

E. Eligible recipient rights and responsibilities:

(1) At the time of application or re-certification, the authorized representative must be identified or confirmed by the applicant or eligible recipient or their designee.

(2) Information explaining estate recovery will be furnished to the applicant or eligible recipient, their personal representative, or designee during the application or re-certification process. Upon the death of the MAP eligible recipient, a notice of intent to collect (recovery) letter will be mailed to the eligible recipient's personal representative with the total amount of claims paid by MAD on behalf of the eligible recipient. The authorized representative must acknowledge receipt of this letter in the manner prescribed in the letter within 30 calendar days of the date on the letter.

(3) During the application or re-certification process for MAP eligibility, the local county ISD office will identify the assets of an applicant or the eligible recipient. This includes all real and personal property which belongs in whole or in part to the applicant or eligible recipient and the current fair market value of each asset. Any known encumbrances on the asset should be identified at this time by the applicant or the eligible recipient or their authorized representative.

(4) MAD, or its designee, will send notice of recovery to the probate court, when applicable, and to the eligible recipient's authorized representative or successor in interest. The notice will contain the following information:

(a) statement describing the action MAD, or its designee, intends to take;

(b) reasons for the intended action;

(c) statutory authority for the action;

(d) amount to be recovered;

(e) opportunity to apply for the undue hardship waiver;

(f) procedures for applying for a hardship waiver and the relevant timeframes involved;

(g) explanation of the eligible recipient's personal representative's right to request a HCA administrative hearing; and

(h) the method by which an affected person may obtain a HCA administrative hearing and the applicable timeframes involved.

(5) Once notified by MAD, or its designee, of the decision to seek recovery, it is the responsibility of the eligible recipient's authorized representative or successor in interest to notify other individuals who would be affected by the proposed recovery.

(6) The authorized representative will:

(a) remit the amount of medical assistance payments to HCA or its designee;

(b) apply for an undue hardship waiver; (see Paragraph (2) of Subsection F below); or

(c) request an administrative hearing.

F. Waivers:

(1) For a general waiver, HCA may compromise, settle, or waive recovery pursuant to the Medicaid Estate Recovery Act if it deems that such action is in the best interest of the state or federal government.

(2) Hardship provision: HCA, or its designee, may waive recovery because recovery would work an undue hardship on the heirs. The following are deemed to be causes for hardship:

(a) the deceased recipient's heir would become eligible for a needs-based assistance program such as medicaid or temporary assistance to needy families (TANF) or be put at risk of serious deprivation without the receipt of the proceeds of the estate;

(b) the deceased eligible recipient's heir would be able to discontinue reliance on a needs-based program (such as medicaid or TANF) if they received the inheritance from the estate;

(c) the deceased recipient's assets which are subject to recovery are the sole income source for the heir;

Medicaid extension (categories 001, 003 and 004) provides coverage for certain groups of individuals who have lost eligibility for supplemental security income (SSI) for specified reasons.

8.201.400.10 BASIS FOR DEFINING THE GROUP:

Medicaid provides coverage for the following groups of applicants/recipients who have received supplemental security income (SSI) benefits and who have lost their SSI benefits for specified reasons.

A. Pickle and 503 lead cases:

(1) Individuals who were entitled to SSI benefits and who subsequently lose eligibility for SSI solely due to the cost-of-living increase (COLA) in Title II benefits are automatically extended medicaid effective the month after the termination of SSI. These cases are referred to as 503 leads. See Public Law 94-566, Section 503 (also known as the "Pickle Amendment").

(2) Individuals who lose SSI eligibility for any reason other than the COLA increases (Pickle cases) may be entitled to medicaid if the following conditions exist:

(a) the reason for loss of SSI no longer exists; and

(b) the adjusted income after applying the applicable income disregards is below the current SSI income ceiling federal benefit rate (FBR).

(3) Individuals who received both Title II and SSI benefits after April 1977 and who lost SSI eligibility, but would still be eligible for SSI if the Title II COLAs were deducted from countable income are eligible for medicaid extension. See Lynch V. Rank, 747 F.2d. 528 (9th Cir. 1984). These individuals must meet the requirements for SSI eligibility after the Title II COLAs are deducted.

(a) To determine the countable Title II income, deduct the Title II COLAs received after the last SSI eligibility period using the FBR table compared with the current SSI income ceiling. See 8.200.520 NMAC, Income Standards.

(b) The social security administration (SSA) office identifies applicants/recipients as "Pickle" or "503 lead" cases and the human services department (HSD) disseminates this information to the appropriate income support division (ISD) office. The income support division (ISD) worker approves the case effective the month after the SSI termination.

(c) After identification as a 503 lead or a Pickle case, the SSA office generates a notice to individuals advising them of their right to apply for medicaid.

B. Early widow(er)s:

(1) Widow(er)s between 60 and 64 years of age, who meet the following requirements are eligible for medicaid extension, (Public Law 100-203, which amended Section 1634D of the Social Security Act):

(a) current Title II recipients who were entitled to and received SSI benefits;

(b) subsequently lost eligibility for SSI due to initial receipt of, or increase in, early widow's or widower's benefits; and

(c) are not entitled to medicare part A, hospital insurance.

(2) Medicaid coverage is extended until an applicant/recipient either becomes eligible for the hospital insurance under medicare part A or reaches 65 years of age, whichever is earlier.

(3) The ISD worker disregards a Title II widow(er)'s benefit for the purpose of determining eligibility.

C. Child insurance benefits:

(1) Individuals who lose SSI eligibility after July 1, 1987 as a result of entitlement to or receipt of an increase in Title II benefits for disabled adult children (DACs) are eligible for medicaid extension. [Public Law 99-643, Section 6].

(2) The SSA office identifies DACs systematically and HSD alerts the appropriate ISD office to approve the case effective the month after the SSI termination.

(a) Title II DAC benefit is disregarded in determining eligibility.

(b) Title II benefits are awarded from the account(s) of the individual's parent(s) and, in most instances, can be identified by a claim suffix of "C" following the claim number;

D. Disabled widow(er)s and disabled surviving divorced spouses:

(1) Disabled widow(er)s and disabled surviving divorced spouses who lost SSI on or after January 1, 1991 due to receipt of Title II benefits resulting from the liberalization of the definition of disability. See Section 503 of OBRA 1990. To qualify for medicaid, these applicant/recipients must meet all of the following conditions:

(a) received SSI for the month prior to the month in which they began receiving the Title II benefits;

(b) would continue to be eligible for SSI if the amount of the Title II benefit were not counted as income; and

(c) are not entitled to medicare part A.

(2) These applicants/recipients lose eligibility for medicaid extension when they become entitled to medicare part A.

E. Nonpayment SSI status (E01): Non-institutionalized SSI recipients who lose SSI eligibility due to initial receipt of Title II benefits in an amount exactly equal to the current income ceiling of the SSI program are eligible for medicaid extension ("E01" pay status); medicaid can cover non-institutionalized individuals with a nonpayment SSI status. The ISD worker must verify that the following standards are met:

(1) individual does not reside in an institution. Individuals who appear on the computer system (SDX) in payment status "E01" with living arrangement (LA) code "D" are not eligible for medicaid extension. These individuals lost SSI eligibility because they became institutionalized and their remaining income exceeds the $30 SSI FBR for institutionalized individuals. The ISD worker must evaluate eligibility under institutional care medicaid categories 081, 083 or 084;

(2) individual appears on the system with payment status code "E01" status;

(3) individual has unearned income equal to the current SSI income ceiling; and

(4) individual’s income comes from Title II benefits (source code "A" on the SDX).

F. Revolving SSI payment status "ping-pongs": Individuals whose payment status "ping-pongs" back and forth between E01 and C01 status are eligible for medicaid extension.

(1) Revolving SSI eligibility due to payment of medicare Part B premiums by medicaid: The SSI recipient starts to receive Title II benefits and is entitled to medicare. The recipient is then entitled to medicaid payment of the part B medicare premium. This results in a recalculation of the Title II benefits. The recalculated Title II benefit equals the exact amount of the SSI income ceiling (SSI FBR). SSI payment status changes to E01 and medicaid stops paying the Part B premium. Without medicaid payment of the Part B premium, the Title II and (SSI) benefits are recomputed and the individual is eligible for SSI payments (C01). The scenario repeats, resulting in the ping-pong effect. Individuals initially eligible for medicaid extension under E01 status lose eligibility when their income exceeds the SSI income ceiling.

(2) Avoidance of revolving eligibility status: To avoid this situation, at the applicant/recipient's request, he or she can be eligible for medicaid as a medicaid extension case though eligibility can ping-pong back and forth between SSI payment status (C01) and SSI nonpayment status (E01).

(3) Referral process: The SSA refers these individuals to HSD using the "E01-C01 medicaid extension referral form." The ISD worker enters these applicants/recipients on the eligibility computer system as medicaid extension eligibles. SSA has already established that these individuals meet all SSI criteria except that their Title II benefit equals the exact amount of the SSI income ceiling.

G. Recipients ineligible for SSI cash benefits:

(1) Certain recipients of SSI who become ineligible for cash benefits are automatically extended medicaid benefits for an additional two months following the month in which the SSI case was closed. If the state is paying the recipient's medicare premiums (buy-in), this benefit is also continued during the period of extended benefits.

(2) Applicants/recipients automatically eligible for two months extended medicaid and buy-in as former SSI recipients are limited to those who lost SSI cash benefit for the following reasons:

(a) E01-Eligible for benefits, but no payment is due based on the payment computation;

(b) N01-Non-pay recipient's countable income exceeds Title XVI limitations;

(c) N04-Non-pay non-excludable resources exceed Title XVI limitations;

(d) N05-Non-pay recipient's gross income from self-employment exceeds Title XVI limitations;

(e) N07-Non-pay recipient's disability ceased;

(f) N08-Non-pay recipient's blindness ceased;

(g) N12-Non-pay recipient voluntarily withdrew from the program;

(h) N14-Non-pay aged claim denied for age;

(i) N16-Non-pay disability claim denied. Applicant not disabled;

(j) N19-Non-pay recipient has voluntarily terminated participation in the SSI program;

(k) N27-Non-pay disability terminated due to substantial gainful activity (SGA);

(l) N30-Non-pay slight impairment-medical consideration alone, no visual impairment;

(m) N31-Non-pay capacity for SGA-customary past work, no visual impairment;

(n) N32-Non-pay capacity for SGA-other work, no visual impairment;

(o) N33-Non-pay engaging in SGA despite impairment, no visual impairment;

(p) N34-Non-pay impairment is no longer severe at time of adjudication and did not last 12 months, no visual impairment;

(q) N35-Non-pay impairment is severe at time of adjudication but not expected to last 12 months, no visual impairment;

(r) N41-Non-pay slight impairment-medical condition alone, visual impairment;

(s) N42-Non-pay capacity for SGA-customary work visual impairment;

(t) N43-Non-pay capacity for SGA-other work, visual impairment, or impairment disabling for a period of less than 12 months;

(u) N44-Non-pay engaging in SGA despite impairment, visual impairment.

(v) N45-Non-pay impairment no longer severe at the time of adjudication and did not last 12 months, visual impairment;

(w)N46-Non-pay impairment is severe at the time of adjudication but not expected to last 12 months, visual impairment;

(x) N51-Non-pay impairment does not meet or equal listing (disabled child under 18 only);

(y) S07-Suspended-returned check for other than death, address, payee change, or death of representative payee;

(z) S08-Suspended-representative payee development pending;

(aa) S10-Suspended-adjudicative suspense (system generated);

(bb) S21-Suspended-the recipient is presumptively disabled or blind and has received three months payments;

(cc) T30-Terminated-received payments, but must be re-established to correct SSR;

(dd) T31-Terminated-system generated termination (payment previously made). Recipient met denial or non-pay terminated criteria;

(ee) T33-Terminated-manual termination (previous payment made).

(3) Ex-Parte Review: Individuals who lose SSI eligibility, who are automatically extended for two months, per one of the reasons in Subsection G of 8.201.400.10 NMAC, are automatically evaluated for another medicaid category of eligibility before their extension period expires. If determined eligible the new medicaid category begins the month following the two month extension period.

A. An applicant/recipient's countable income, after exclusion of the Title II COLAs received following SSI termination, must be less than the current SSI federal benefit rate (FBR).

B. To determine the total amount of the applicant/recipient's Title II COLAs received since the applicant/recipient lost SSI, the following calculation must be completed:

(1) divide the current Title II amount by the percentage amount of the previous year's COLA;

(2) repeat this calculation for each Title II COLA benefit received after the applicant lost SSI; computations are based on the previous year's COLA and previous benefit; see 8.200.520.12 NMAC, COLA disregard computation, of 503 leads and pickle cases;

(3) when the last computation is completed, the result is the Title II benefit amount the applicant/ recipient was receiving when they lost SSI;

(4) subtract this amount from the current Title II benefit amount; the result is the aggregate Title II COLAs the applicant/recipient received after losing SSI; and

(5) subtract the aggregate COLAs from the applicant/recipient's countable income to determine if the income is below the current SSI FBR.

C. If the resulting income is below the current SSI FBR, and the applicant/recipient meets all other requirements for SSI, they are eligible for medicaid extension.

8.215.500.9 NEED DETERMINATION:

must be taken within 30 days of the date the human services department (HSD) furnishes notice of the potential entitlement.

A. Failure to apply for and take steps to determine eligibility for other benefits: Failure or refusal to apply for and take all necessary steps to determine eligibility for other benefits after notice is received results in an applicant/recipient becoming ineligible for medicaid.

B. Exceptions to general requirement: Applicants/recipients who have elected a lower VA payment do not need to reapply for veterans administration improved pension (VAIP) benefits. Crime victims are not required to accept victims compensation payments from a state-administered fund as a condition of medicaid eligibility.

8.215.500.10 APPLICATION PROCESS:

[RESERVED]

8.215.500.11 RESOURCE STANDARDS:

A "resource" is defined as cash or liquid assets and real or personal property which is owned and can be used either directly, or by sale or conversion, for the applicant/recipient's support and maintenance. Resources may be liquid or non-liquid and may be excluded from the eligibility determination process under certain conditions. A liquid resource is an asset which can readily be converted to cash. A non-liquid resource is an asset or property which cannot readily be converted to cash.

A. Resource determination: The resource determination is made as of the first moment of the first day of the month of application. An applicant/recipient is ineligible for any month in which his/her countable resources exceed the allowable resource standard as of the first moment of the first day of the month. Changes in the amount of countable resources during a month do not affect eligibility or ineligibility for that month.

B. Distinguishing between resources and income: Resources must be distinguished from income to avoid counting a single asset twice. As a general rule, ownership of a resource precedes the current month while income is received in the current month. Income held by an applicant/recipient until the following month becomes a resource.

8.215.500.12 APPLICABLE RESOURCE STANDARDS:

The resource standard for medicaid extension as well as retroactive SSI medicaid eligibility determinations is $2,000.

A. Liquid resources: The face value of liquid resources such as cash, savings or checking accounts is considered in determining medicaid eligibility. The countable value of resources such as securities, bonds, real estate contracts and promissory notes is based on their current fair market value.

(1) An applicant/recipient must provide verification of the value of all liquid resources. The resource value of a bank account is customarily verified by a statement from the bank showing the account balance as of the first moment of the first day of the month in question. If an applicant/recipient cannot provide this verification, the ISD worker sends a bank or postal savings clearance to the appropriate institution(s).

(2) If the applicant/recipient can demonstrate that a check was written and delivered to a payee but not cashed by the payee prior to the first moment of the first day of the month, the amount of that check is subtracted from the applicant/recipient's checking account balance to arrive at the amount to be considered a countable resource.

B. Non-liquid resources: The value of non-liquid resources is computed at current fair market value. See below for discussion of equity value.

(1) Real property: If an applicant/recipient is the sole owner of real property other than a home and has the right to dispose of it, the entire equity value is included as a countable resource. If an applicant/recipient owns property with one or more individuals and the applicant/recipient has the right, authority or power to liquidate the property or his/her share of the property, it is considered a resource. If a property right cannot be liquidated, the property will not be considered a resource to the individual. The applicant/recipient must provide a copy of the legal document which indicates his/her interest in the property.

(2) Vehicles: One automobile is totally excluded regardless of value if it is used for transportation for the individual or a member of the individual’s household. Any other automobiles are considered to be Non-liquid resources. Equity in the other automobiles is counted as a resource. Recreational vehicles and boats are considered household goods and personal effects rather than vehicles.

(3) Household goods and personal effects: Household goods and personal effects are considered countable resources if the items were acquired or are held for their value or are held as an investment. Such items can include but are not limited to: gems, jewelry that is not worn or held for family significance, or collectibles.

[8.215.500.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.215.500.12 NMAC, 3/1/2018; A, 1/1/2021]

8.215.500.13 COUNTABLE RESOURCES:

Before a resource can be considered countable, the three criteria listed below must be met.

A. Ownership interest: An applicant/recipient must have an ownership interest in a resource for it to be countable. The fact that an applicant/recipient has access to a resource, or has a legal right to use it, does not make it countable unless the applicant/recipient also has an ownership interest in it.

B. Legal right to convert resource to cash: An applicant/recipient must have the legal ability to spend the funds or to convert non-cash resources into cash.

(1) Physical possession of resource: The fact that an applicant/recipient does not have physical possession of a resource does not mean it is not his/her resource. If he/she has the legal ability to spend the funds or convert the resource to cash, the resource is considered countable. Physical possession of savings bonds is a legal requirement for cashing them.

(2) Unrestricted use of resource: An applicant/recipient is considered to have free access to the unrestricted use of a resource even if he/she can take those actions only through an agent, such as a representative payee or guardian.

(3) If there is a legal bar to the sale of a resource, the resource is not countable. If the co-owner of real property can bring an action to partition and sell the property, his/her interest in the property is a countable resource.

C. Legal ability to use a resource: If a legal restriction exists which prevents the use of a resource for the applicant/recipient's own support and maintenance, the resource is not countable.

D. Joint ownership of resources: If an applicant/recipient owns either liquid or non-liquid resources jointly with others, he/she has 30 days from the date requested by the ISD worker to submit all documentation required to prove his/her claims regarding ownership of, access to, and legal ability to use the resource for personal support and maintenance. Failure to do so results in the presumption that the resource is countable and belongs to the applicant/recipient.

(1) Jointly held property: If jointly held property is identified during review of an active case, the ISD worker must:

(a) determine whether the property is a countable resource;

(b) determine whether the value of the jointly held property plus the value of other countable resources exceeds the allowable resource maximum;

(c) if the value of countable resources exceeds the allowable maximum, advance notice is furnished to the applicant/recipient of the intent to close the case and his/her right to verify claims regarding ownership of, access to and legal ability to use the property for personal support and maintenance;

(d) if the applicant/recipient fails to provide required information or respond within the advance notice period, the case is closed; and

(e) if, after expiration of the advance notice period but prior to the end of the month in which the advance notice expires, the applicant/recipient provides the required evidence to show the property is not a countable resource, or is countable in an amount which, when added to the value of other countable resources, does not exceed the maximum allowable limit, and eligibility continues to exist on all other factors, the case is reinstated for the next month.

(2) Joint bank accounts: If liquid resources are in a joint bank account of any type, the applicant/recipient's ownership interest, while the parties to the account are alive, is presumed to be proportionate to the applicant/recipient's contributions to the total resources on deposit.

(a) The applicant/recipient is presumed to own a proportionate share of the funds on deposit unless he/she presents clear and convincing evidence that the parties to the account intended the applicant/recipient to have a different ownership interest.

(b) To establish the applicant/recipient's ownership interest in a joint account, the following are required:

(i) statement by the applicant/recipient regarding contributions to the account; reasons for establishing the account; who owns the funds in the account; and any supporting documentation; plus

(ii) corroborating statements from the other account holder(s); if either the applicant/recipient or the other account holder is not capable of making a statement, the applicant/recipient or representative must obtain a statement from a third party who has knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the establishment of the joint account.

(c) Failure to provide required documentation within 30 days of the date requested by the ISD worker results in a determination that the entire account amount belongs to the applicant/recipient.

(d) If the existence of a jointly held bank account is identified during the review of an active case, the ISD worker requests evidence of ownership and accessibility. If the evidence is not furnished within 30 days of the request, the case is closed.

E. Other countable resources: Other liquid or non-liquid resources must be considered in the calculation of total countable resources. Under certain circumstances, the following non-liquid resources may be included in the calculation of countable resources:

(1) burial funds;

(2) burial spaces;

(3) life estates;

(4) life insurance and other insurance products;

(5) income-producing property; and

(6) other financial investment products.

F. The home as a countable resource: If the applicant/recipient or his/her representative states the applicant/recipient does not intend to return to the home and it is not the residence of the applicant/recipient's spouse or dependent relative, the home is considered a countable resource. If the applicant/recipient or his/her representative puts the home up for sale and it is not the primary residence of the applicant/recipient's spouse or a dependent relative, the home is considered a countable resource.

G. Value of property: The applicant/recipient must supply the ISD worker with written documentation regarding the fair market value of the property from a real estate agent, title company or mortgage insurance company in and familiar with the area in which the property is located in addition to any encumbrances against the property. The ISD worker determines the equity value of the property by subtracting the amount of the encumbrances from the fair market value of the property.

H. ABLE ACT: as Public Law 113-295, The Stephen Beck, Jr., Achieving a Better Life Experience Act (ABLE Act) - enacted December 19, 2014. The ABLE Act shall establish state-run tax advantaged accounts for eligible individuals to use for disability related expenses. Tax-advantaged accounts allow an eligible individual to save and use the funds for disability-related expenses. An ABLE program has been established and maintained by the state. An eligible individual can open an ABLE account through the ABLE program in any state.

(1) Under the ABLE act, individual eligibility is determined if the person is:

(a) Entitled to benefits based on blindness or disability under Title II or Title XVI of the Social Security Act; or

(b) Has a disability certification filed with the U.S. secretary of the treasury and a disability that began before age 26.

(2) ABLE account balances and distributions are considered in determining eligibility for SSI.

(a) Amounts over $100,000 count toward the $2,000 SSI resource limit.

(b) If an ABLE account balance exceeds $100,000 by an amount that causes the recipient to exceed the SSI resource limit the recipient is ineligible for SSI.

(c) The social security administration (SSA) will place such an ineligible individual into a special ABLE suspension period where:

(i) The recipient's SSI benefits are suspended without time limit (as long as he or she remains otherwise eligible).

(ii) The recipient will still be considered to be SSI eligible for the SSI medical assistance program (MAP).

(iii) After 12 months of suspension, eligibility is terminated and the person must reapply for benefits.

(iv) If a person who does not meet other SSI eligibility criteria during a suspension period is ineligible for SSI during a suspension period he or she is also ineligible for the SSI MAP.

(3) Section 529A(d)(4) of the act requires that the state electronically submit on a monthly basis to the Commissioner of Social Security statements on relevant distributions and account balances from all ABLE accounts.

(4) Resource exclusions related to the ABLE ACT can be found at Subsection N of Section 8.215.500.14 NMAC resource exclusions.

(5) For how the ABLE ACT contributions treatment in regards to income please see Section 8.215.500.18 NMAC income.

(6) For how the ABLE ACT distributions please see Subsection D of Section 8.215.500.20 NMAC. unearned income exclusions.

8.215.500.14 RESOURCE EXCLUSIONS:

Some types of resources can be excluded from the calculation of countable resources if they meet the specific criteria listed below.

A. Burial fund exclusion: Up to one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) can be excluded from the countable liquid resources of an applicant/recipient if designated as burial funds. An additional amount of up to one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) can be excluded from countable liquid resources if designated as burial funds for the spouse of the applicant/recipient. The burial fund exclusion is separate from the burial space exclusion.

(1) Retroactive designation of burial funds: An applicant/recipient can retroactively designate funds for burial back to the first day of the month in which the applicant/recipient intended the funds to be set aside for burial. The applicant/recipient must sign a statement indicating the month the funds were set aside for burial.

(2) Limit on exclusion: An applicant/recipient can designate as much of his/her liquid resources as he/she wishes for burial purposes. However, only one burial fund allowance of up to one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) each for the applicant/recipient and his/her spouse can be excluded from countable resources. A burial fund does not continue from one period of eligibility to another (i.e., across a period of ineligibility). For each new period of eligibility, any exclusion of burial funds must be developed as for an initial application.

(3) Removal of designation: An applicant/recipient cannot "undesignate" burial funds unless one of the following occurs:

(a) eligibility terminates;

(b) part, or all, of the funds can no longer be excluded because the applicant/recipient purchased excluded life insurance or an irrevocable burial contract which partially or totally offsets the available burial fund exclusion; or

(c) the applicant/recipient uses the funds for another purpose.

(4) Reduction of burial fund exclusion: The one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) burial fund exclusion is reduced by the following:

(a) the face value of excluded life insurance policies;

(b) assets held in irrevocable burial trusts; irrevocable means the value paid cannot be returned to the applicant/recipient;

(c) assets that are not burial space items held in irrevocable burial contracts;

(d) assets held in other irrevocable burial arrangements.

(5) Interest from burial fund: Interest derived from a burial fund is not considered a countable resource or income if all of the following conditions exist:

(a) the original amount is excluded;

(b) the excluded burial fund is not commingled with non-excluded burial funds; and

(c) the interest earned remains with the excluded burial funds.

(6) Commingling of burial funds: Burial funds cannot be commingled with non-burial funds. If only part of the funds in an account is designated for burial, the burial fund exclusion cannot be applied until the funds designated for burial expenses are separated from the non-burial funds. Countable and excluded burial funds can be commingled.

(7) Life insurance policy designated as burial fund: An applicant/recipient can designate a life insurance policy as a burial fund at the time of application. The ISD worker must first analyze the rule according to Subsection H of Section 8.215.500.14.NMAC, life insurance exclusion, and following subsections.

(8) Burial contracts: If an applicant/recipient has a prepaid burial contract, the ISD worker determines whether it is revocable or irrevocable and whether it is paid for. Until all payments are made on a burial contract, the amounts paid are considered burial funds and no burial space exclusions apply. An applicant/recipient may have a burial contract which is funded by a life insurance policy. The life insurance may be either revocably or irrevocably assigned to a funeral director or mortuary. A revocable contract exists if the value can be returned to the applicant/recipient. An irrevocable contract exists when the value cannot be returned.

(a) If the contract or insurance policy assignment is revocable, the following apply.

(i) If the burial contract is funded by a life insurance policy, the policy is the resource which must be evaluated. The burial contract itself has no value. It exists only to explain the applicant/recipient's burial arrangements.

(ii) No exclusions can be made for burial space items because the applicant/recipient does not have a right to them if the contract is not paid for or the policy is not paid up.

(b) If the assignment is irrevocable, the life insurance or burial contract is not a countable resource because the applicant/recipient does not own it.

(i) The burial space exclusions can apply if the applicant/recipient has the right to the burial space items.

(ii) The value of the irrevocable burial arrangement is applied against the one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500) burial fund exclusion only if the applicant/recipient has other liquid resources to designate for burial.

B. Burial space exclusion: A burial space or an agreement which represents the purchase of a burial space held for the burial of an applicant/recipient, his/her spouse, or any other member of his/her immediate family, is an excluded resource regardless of value. Interest and accruals on the value of a burial space are excluded from consideration as countable income or resources. When calculating the value of resources to be deemed to an applicant/recipient from his/her parent(s) or spouse, the value of spaces held by the parent(s)/spouse which are to be used for the burial of the applicant/recipient or any other member of the applicant/recipient's immediate family, including the deemer parent/spouse, must be excluded. The burial space exclusion is separate from, and in addition to, the burial fund exclusion.

(1) Burial space definitions: "Burial space" is defined as a(n) burial plot, gravesite, crypt, mausoleum, casket, urn, niche, or other repository customarily used for the deceased's bodily remains. A burial space also includes necessary and reasonable improvements or additions, such as vaults, headstones, markers, plaques, burial containers (e.g., caskets), arrangements for the opening and closing of a gravesite, and contracts for care and maintenance of the gravesite, sometimes referred to as endowment or perpetual care. Items that serve the same purpose are excluded once per individual, such as excluding a cemetery lot and a casket, but not a casket and an urn.

(2) Burial space contract: An agreement which represents the purchase of a burial space is defined as a contract with a burial provider for a burial space held for the eligible applicant/recipient or a member of his/her immediate family. Until all payments are made on the contract, the amounts paid are considered burial funds and no burial space exclusions apply. An eligible applicant/recipient's immediate family includes:

(a) the spouse;

(b) natural or adoptive parents;

(c) minor or adult children, including adoptive and stepchildren;

(d) siblings, including adoptive and stepsiblings; and

(e) spouse of any of the above relatives;

(f) if a relative's relationship to an applicant/recipient is by marriage only, the relationship ceases to exist upon the dissolution of the marriage.

(3) Burial space "held" for an applicant/recipient: A burial space is considered held for an applicant/recipient if:

(a) someone has title to or possesses a burial space intended for the use of the applicant/recipient or a member of his/her immediate family; or

(b) someone has a contract with a funeral service company for a specified burial space for the applicant/recipient or a member of his/her immediate family, such as an agreement which represents the individual's current right to the use of the items at the amount shown.

(c) until the purchase price is paid in full, a burial space is not considered "held for" an individual under an installment sales contract or similar device if:

(i) the individual does not currently own the space;

(ii) the individual does not currently have the right to use the space; and

(iii) the seller is not currently obligated to provide the space.

C. Life estate exclusion: A life estate gives an applicant/recipient certain rights to real property. These rights determine how the resource is treated in determining eligibility for medicaid.

(1) Possession: An applicant/recipient has the right to live on the real property for the rest of his/her life. If it is his/her principal place of residence (home), the life estate is evaluated in accordance with Subsection E of Section 8.215.500.14.NMAC, exclusions for real property and home, and following subsections.

(2) Use and profit: An applicant/recipient has the right to use and obtain profit from the real property. If it is income producing property, such as a rental or farm, the life estate is evaluated as income producing property. See Subsection F of Section 8.215.500.14 NMAC, income-producing property exclusion, and following subsections.

(3) Sale of the life estate interest: An applicant/recipient has the right to sell his/her life estate interest. The value of this interest is less than the fair market value of the property and is similar to a lease because of the time frame involved. The value of the life estate is based on the age and life-expectancy of the applicant/recipient.

(4) Valuation of life estates: The "unisex life estate and remainder interest tables" are used to determine the value of a life estate. See Section 8.200.520.14 NMAC, resource exclusions. The value is computed by multiplying the current market value by the percentage reduction on the unisex table under the column for the applicant/recipient's age. If an applicant/recipient feels the value calculated based on this method is overstated, he/she can obtain a valuation of the life estate in the area for use as documentation of lesser value.

(5) Legal documentation establishing life estate: The legal document establishing a life estate may affect one or more of the rights discussed above. Joint ownership of a life estate may require the co-owner's approval for sale. See Section 8.215.500.13 NMAC, countable resources, and following subsections for criteria to use in evaluating the count ability of the resource.

D. Settlement exclusions:

(1) Agent orange settlement payments made to veterans or their survivors are excluded from consideration as resources.

(2) Payments made under the Radiation Exposure Compensation Act are excluded from consideration as resources.

(3) Payments by the remembrance, responsibility and the future foundation to individual survivors forced into slave labor by the Nazis are excluded as resources.

(4) Payments received from a state-administered fund established to aid victims of crime are excluded for nine months, beginning the month after the month of receipt.

E. Exclusions for real property and home: A home is any shelter used by an applicant/recipient or his/her spouse as the principal place of residence. The home includes any buildings and contiguous land used in the operation of the home. A home is not considered a countable resource while in use by the applicant/recipient as his/her principal place of residence. The home continues to be excluded during periods when the applicant/recipient resides in an acute care or long term care medical facility if the applicant/recipient, or his/her representative, states that the applicant/recipient intends to return to the home. If the applicant/recipient or his/her representative states the applicant/recipient does not intend to return to the home but the home is the residence of the applicant/recipient's spouse or dependent relative, the home is an excluded resource. If the applicant/recipient or his/her representative puts the home up for sale and it is not the primary residence of the applicant/recipient's spouse or a dependent relative, the home is considered a countable resource.

F. Income-producing property exclusion: To be excluded from consideration as a countable resource, income-producing property that does not qualify as a bona fide business (e.g., rental property or mineral rights) must have an equity value of no more than six thousand dollars ($6,000) and an annual rate of return of at least six percent of the equity value. See Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (1) of Subsection F of Section 8.215.500.14 NMAC, determination of rate of return, below if the equity value exceeds six thousand dollars ($6,000) but the rate of return is at least six percent annually. The six thousand dollars ($6,000) and six percent limitation does not apply to property used in a trade or bona fide business, or to property used by an applicant/recipient as an employee which is essential to the applicant/recipient's self-support (e.g., tools used in employment as a mechanic, property owned or being purchased in conjunction with operating a business). Existence of a bona fide business can be established by documentation such as business tax returns.

(1) Determination of rate of return: To calculate the annual rate of return for income producing property when the six thousand dollars ($6,000) and six percent limits apply, the previous year's income tax statement, or at least three months earnings is used to project the rate of return for the year.

(a) If the income is sporadic or has decreased from that needed to maintain a six percent rate of return for the coming year, the property is reevaluated at appropriate intervals.

(b) If the annual rate of return is at least six percent of the equity value but the equity exceeds six thousand dollars ($6,000), only the excess equity is a countable resource.

(c) If the annual rate of return is less than six percent but the usual rate of return is more, the property is excluded as a countable resource if all of the following conditions are met:

(i) unforeseeable circumstances, such as a fire, cause a temporary reduction in the rate of return;

(ii) the previous year's rate of return, as documented by the income tax statement or several months receipts, is at least six percent; and

(iii) the property is expected to produce a rate of return of at least six percent six percent within 18 months of the end of the year in which the adverse circumstances occurred; the ISD worker records in the case narrative the plan of action which is expected to increase the rate of return.

(d) The ISD worker notifies the applicant/recipient in writing that the property is excluded based on its expected increase in return and that it will be reevaluated at the end of the 18 month grace period. When this period ends, the property must be producing an annual rate of at least six percent to continue to be excluded as a countable resource.

(2) Types of income-producing property: Income- producing property includes:

(a) a business, such as a farm or store, including necessary capital and operating assets such as land and buildings, inventory, or livestock; the property must be in current use or have been used with a reasonable expectation of resumed use within a year of its most recent use; the ISD worker must account for the cash actually required to operate the business; liquid business assets of any amount are excluded;

(b) non-business property includes rental property, leased property, land leased for its mineral rights and property producing items for home consumption; property which produces items solely for home use is assumed to be producing an annual rate of return of at least six percent;

(c) employment-related property, such as tools or equipment; the applicant/recipient must provide a statement from his/her employer to establish that tools or equipment are required for continued employment; if the applicant/recipient is self-employed, only those tools normally required to perform the job adequately are excluded; the applicant/recipient must obtain a statement from someone in the same line of self-employment to establish what is excludable.

G. Vehicle exclusion: The term "vehicle" includes any mode of transportation, such as a passenger car, truck or special vehicle. Included in this definition are vehicles which are unregistered, inoperable, or in need of repair. Vehicles used solely for purposes other than transportation, such as disassembly to resell parts, racing, or as an antique are not included in this definition. Recreational vehicles and boats are classified as personal effects and are evaluated under the household goods and personal effects exclusion. One vehicle is totally excluded regardless of value if it is used for transportation for the individual or a member of the individual's household. Any other automobiles are considered to be Non-liquid resources. Equity in the other automobiles is counted as a resource.

H. Life insurance exclusion: The value of life insurance policies is not considered a countable resource if the total cumulative face value of all policies owned by the applicant/recipient does not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500). A policy is considered to be "owned" by the applicant/recipient if the applicant/recipient is the only one who can surrender the policy for cash.

(1) Consideration of burial insurance and term insurance: Burial insurance and term insurance are not considered when computing the cumulative face value because this insurance is redeemable only upon death.

(2) Calculation when value exceeds limit: If the total cumulative face value of all countable life insurance policies owned by the applicant/recipient exceeds one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500), the ISD worker:

(a) verifies the total cash surrender value of all policies and considers the total amount a countable resource; and

(b) informs the applicant/recipient that the insurance policies can be converted to term insurance or ordinary life insurance of lower face value at his/her option, if the cash surrender value, alone or in combination with other countable resources, exceeds the resource standard.

I. Produce for home consumption exclusion: The value of produce for home consumption is totally excluded.

J. Exclusion of settlement payments from the department of housing and urban development: Payments from the department of housing and urban development (HUD) as defined in Underwood v. Harris are excluded as income and resources. These one-time payments were made in the spring of 1980 to certain eligible tenants of subsidized housing (Section 236 of the National Housing Act).

(1) Segregation of payment: To be excluded as a resource, payments retained by an applicant/recipient must be kept separate. These payments must not be combined with any other countable resources.

(2) Income from segregated funds: Interest or dividend income received from segregated payment funds is not excluded from income, or, if retained, is not an excluded resource. This interest or dividend income must be kept separate from excludable payment funds.

K. Lump sum payments exclusion: SSI and social security lump sum payments for retroactive periods are excluded as countable resources for nine months after the month in which they are received. See Paragraph (4) of Subsection A of Section 8.215.500.16 NMAC, treatment of SSI or social security lump sum payments, for policy regarding SSI and social security lump sums which are placed into the ownership of a medicaid qualifying trust. Social security lump sum payments are considered infrequent income.

L. Home replacement exclusion: The value of a promissory note or similar installment sales contract which constitutes proceeds from the sale of an excluded home is excluded from countable resources if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) the note results from the sale of the applicant/recipient's home as described in Subsection E of Section 8.215.500.14 NMAC, exclusion for real property and home, and following subsections;

(2) within three months of receipt (execution) of the note, the applicant/recipient purchases a replacement home which meets the definition of a home in Subsection E of Section 8.215.500.14 NMAC, exclusion for real property and home, and following subsections; and

(3) all note-generated proceeds are reinvested in the replacement home within three months of receipt.

(4) Additional exclusions: In addition to excluding the value of the note itself, the down payment received from the sale of the former home, as well as that portion of any installment amount constituting payment on the principal are also excluded from countable resources.

(5) Failure to purchase another excluded home timely: If the applicant/recipient does not purchase another home which can be excluded under the provisions of Subsection E of Section 8.215.500.14 NMAC, exclusions for real property and home, and following subsections within three months, the value of the promissory note or similar installment sales contract received from the sale of an excluded home becomes a countable resource as of the first moment of the first day of the month following the month the note is executed. If the applicant/recipient purchases a replacement home after the expiration of the three month period, the value of the promissory note or similar installment sales contract becomes an excluded resource effective the month following the month of purchase of the replacement home provided that all other proceeds are fully and timely reinvested.

(6) Failure to reinvest proceeds timely: If the proceeds from the sale of an excluded home under a promissory note or similar installment sales contract are not reinvested fully within three months of receipt in a replacement home, the following resources become countable as of the first moment of the first day of the month following receipt of the payment:

(a) the fair market value of the note;

(b) the portion of the proceeds, retained by the individual, which was not timely reinvested; and

(c) the fair market value of the note remains a countable resource until the first moment of the first day of the month following the receipt of proceeds that are fully and timely reinvested in the replacement home; failure to reinvest proceeds for a period of time does not permanently preclude exclusion of the promissory note or installment sales contract; however, previously received proceeds that were not timely reinvested remain countable resources to the extent they are retained.

(7) Interest payments: If interest is received as part of an installment payment resulting from the sale of an excluded home under a promissory note or similar installment sales contract, the interest payments are considered countable unearned income in accordance with Paragraph (3) of Subsection C of Section 8.215.500.20 NMAC, interest on promissory note or sales contract.

(8) When the home replacement exclusion does not apply: If the home replacement exclusion does not apply, the market value of a promissory note or sales contract as well as the portion of the payment received on the principal are considered countable resources.

M. Household goods and personal effects exclusion: Household goods and personal effects are excluded if they meet one of the following four criteria. They are:

(1) items of personal property, found in or near the home, which are used on a regular basis; items may include but are not limited to: furniture, appliances, recreational vehicles (i.e. boats and RVs), electronic equipment (i.e. computers and television sets), and carpeting;

(2) items needed by the householder for maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises as a home; items may include but are not limited to: cooking and eating utensils, dishes, appliances, tools, and furniture.

(3) items of personal property ordinarily worn or carried by the individual; items may include but are not limited to: clothing, shoes, bags, luggage, personal jewelry including wedding and engagement rings, and personal care items;

(4) items otherwise having an intimate relation to the individual; items may include but are not limited to: prosthetic devices, educational or recreational items such as books or musical instruments, items of cultural or religious significance to an individual; or items required because of an individual's impairment.

N. ABLE act exclusions:

(1) For most federal means-tested programs:

(a) ABLE account balances are excluded.

(b) Limitation is the maximum amount that can be contributed under a state plan.

(2) For the SSI program:

(a) ABLE account balances are excluded up to one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000).

(b) Amounts over one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) count toward the two thousand dollars ($2,000) SSI resource limit.

(c) If an ABLE account balance exceeds one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) by an amount that causes the recipient to exceed the SSI resource limit the recipient is ineligible for SSI.

O. Indian per capita: Public Law 97-458 (section 4) Amended Public Law 93-134, the Judgement Award Authorization Act, to require the exclusion of per capita payments under the Indian Judgement Fund Act of two thousand dollars ($2,000) or less. Initial purchases made with exempt payments distributed between January 1, 1982 and January 12, 1983, are excluded from resources to the extent that excluded funds were used.

8.215.500.15 ASSET TRANSFERS:

A. Transfers of assets for less than fair market value by SSI applicants/recipients are considered only if/when an applicant/recipient becomes institutionalized. For medicaid categories using SSI resource determination methodology, transfers by non-institutionalized applicants/recipients are not considered a factor of eligibility.

B. Transfer of resources by an SSI recipient: An institutionalized SSI applicant/recipient who transfers resources without fair return may become ineligible for medicaid coverage of nursing home care for a specified period of time. See Section 8.281.500.14 NMAC and following subsections for information on resource transfer policies and penalties applicable to institutionalized applicants/recipients.

8.215.500.16 TRUSTS:

In some instances, an applicant/recipient with a trust can be eligible for SSI cash benefits but not be automatically eligible for medicaid. If the social security administration (SSA) determines that an SSI recipient has a trust, SSI notifies the human services department (HSD) of the existence of the trust. The recipient is then notified that the trust document must be submitted to and reviewed by HSD before medicaid eligibility is determined.

A. Medicaid qualifying trusts: A "medicaid-qualifying trust" (MQT) is a trust or similar legal device established prior to August 11, 1993, other than by will, by an applicant/recipient or spouse, under which the applicant/recipient may be the beneficiary of all or part of the payments from the trust. The distribution of trust payments is determined by one or more trustees who are permitted to exercise discretion with respect to the distribution of payments to the applicant/recipient. When the use of an attorney is solicited to establish a trust, the beneficiary of that trust is not exempt from the requirements of MQT provisions. Legal instruments such as trusts are almost always drafted by an attorney. It is the grantor him/herself who actually establishes of creates the trust when he/she signs or executes it.

(1) Amount deemed available from an MQT: The amount from an MQT that is deemed available to an applicant/recipient is the maximum amount that could be distributed to the applicant/ recipient, or for the care of the applicant/ recipient, regardless of restrictions imposed by the trust on the allowable use of the funds. If, for example, the trustee can make payments to a health care provider for medical services, the applicant/recipient beneficiary is considered to be receiving benefits from the trust even though these benefits are not paid directly to the beneficiary. This provision applies regardless of whether the MQT was set up for the purpose of qualifying for medicaid or whether the trust is irrevocable.

(2) Revocable trusts: Revocable trusts that limit access to the assets held in trust must be dissolved and the assets spent down before eligibility can be established.

(3) Beneficiary of trust lives in an ICF-MR: If the beneficiary of a trust is an applicant/recipient who is mentally retarded and resides in an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded (ICF-MR), that applicant/recipient's trust is not considered an MQT if the trust or trust decree was established prior to April 7, 1986, and is solely for the benefit of that applicant/recipient.

(4) Treatment of SSI or social security lump sum payments: SSI or social security lump sum payments for retroactive periods which are placed into an MQT do not qualify for the nine month exclusion from countable resources.

8.215.500.17 DEEMING RESOURCES:

A. Deeming resources when an applicant/recipient lives with an ineligible spouse: If an eligible noninstitutionalized applicant/recipient lives in the same household with an ineligible spouse, the resources of the ineligible spouse are considered to belong to the applicant/recipient. The resource standard for a couple applies.

B. Deeming resources for minor applicant living with ineligible parent(s): If an applicant/recipient is a minor under 18 years of age, the resources of the parent(s) are deemed to the applicant/recipient if the parent(s) live in the same household.

(1) Computing deemed resources: To determine the amount of resources deemed to an applicant/recipient who is a minor, the following computation is made:

(a) determine the parent(s) resources;

(b) allow the parent(s) all the resource exclusions that an applicant/recipient receives; and

(c) remaining resources in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000) for one parent or three thousand dollars ($2,000) for two parents are deemed to the eligible minor.

(2) Computing countable resources: The deemed resources are added to the applicant/recipient's own countable resources. The minor applicant/recipient is eligible if countable resources do not exceed resource standards.

8.215.500.18 INCOME:

A. An applicant/recipient's gross countable monthly income must be less than the maximum allowable monthly standard for the applicable medicaid category. Income may be in the form of cash, checks, money orders, or in-kind, including personal property or food. If income is not received in the form of cash, the cash value of the item is determined and counted as income. Income is counted in the month received. Income is considered available throughout the month, regardless of when in the month it is received. The ISD worker verifies and documents all income.

B. Types of income: Countable income is the sum of unearned income or earned income, less disregards or exclusions, plus deemed income.

(1) Earned income: Earned income consists of the total gross income received by an individual for services performed as an employee or as a result of self-employment.

(a) Royalties earned in connection with the publication of the applicant/recipient's work and any honorarium/fees received for services rendered are considered earned income.

(b) The self-employed applicant/recipient must provide an estimate of his/her current income based on the tax return filed for the previous year or current records maintained in the regular course of business. The estimate of net earnings for the entire previous taxable year is prorated equally among all months of the current year, even if the business is seasonal.

(i) Consideration is given to the applicant/recipient's explanation as to why he/she believes the estimated net earnings for the current year vary substantially from the information shown on his/her tax return for past years.

(ii) A satisfactory explanation is that the business suffered heavy loss or damage from fire, flood, burglary, serious illness or disability of the owner, or other such catastrophic events. Documentation must include copies of newspaper accounts or medical reports and must be filed in the case record to substantiate the need for a reduced estimate of current self-employment income.

(2) Unearned income: Unearned income consists of all other income (minus exclusions and disregards) that is not earned in the course of employment or self-employment.

(3) Deemed income: Deemed income is income which must be considered available to the assistance unit and counted in determining eligibility whether or not the income is actually made available. For household member(s) who are not members of the assistance unit but who have a support obligation to the assistance unit, income can only be deemed from a parent to his/her minor child(ren) who live in the same household and from one spouse to the other when both live in the same household.

C. Contributions to the able account:

(1) Contributions from any source to an ABLE account are not considered income to an SSI recipient.

(2) However:

(a) An SSI recipient's earnings contributed to an ABLE account are still considered wages and counted (even if payroll deduction).

(b) Gifts to an SSI recipient to be deposited into an ABLE account are considered as income.

(c) Gifts made directly into an ABLE account are not income.

[8.215.500.18 NMAC - Rp, 8.215.500.18 NMAC, 3/1/2018]

8.215.500.19 INCOME STANDARDS:

See 8.200.520 NMAC and following subsections for income standards applicable to the SSI-related medicaid categories.

A. Income exclusions: Income exclusions are applied before income disregards. Exclusions are applied in determining eligibility whether the income belongs to the applicant/recipient or to an individual from whom income is deemed.

B. Infrequent or irregular income: Exclude the first thirty dollars ($30) per calendar quarter of earned income; and the first sixty dollars ($60) per calendar quarter of unearned income. The following definitions apply.

(1) "Irregular income" is income received on an unscheduled or unpredictable basis.

(2) "Infrequent income" is income received only once during a calendar quarter from a single source and includes:

(a) proceeds of life insurance policies;

(b) prizes and awards;

(c) gifts;

(d) support and alimony;

(e) inheritances;

(f) interest per account, and royalties;

(g) one-time lump sum payments, such as social security or retroactive SSI.

(3) "Frequency" is evaluated for the calendar quarter (i.e., January - March, April - June, July - September, October - December) but the dollar amount is considered in the month received.

C. Foster care: Foster care payments are totally excluded if:

(1) the foster child is not eligible for SSI; and

(2) the child was placed in the applicant/recipient's home by a public or private nonprofit child placement or child care agency.

D. Domestic volunteer services exclusions: Payments to volunteers under domestic volunteer services (ACTION) programs are excluded from consideration as income in the eligibility determination process. These programs include the following:

(1) volunteers in service to America (VISTA);

(2) university year for action (UYA);

(3) special demonstration and volunteer programs;

(4) retired senior volunteer program (RSVP);

(5) foster grandparent program;

(6) senior companion program.

E. Census bureau employment: Wages paid by the census bureau for temporary employment related to the census are excluded from consideration as income in the eligibility determination process.

8.215.500.20 UNEARNED INCOME:

A. Unearned income includes all income not earned in the course of employment or self-employment.

B. Income paid to one spouse is considered the income of that spouse. One-half the total income paid to a couple is considered available to each member of the couple.

(1) If payment is made in the name of either or both spouses and another party, only the applicant/recipient's proportionate share is considered available to him/her.

(2) If income is derived from property for which ownership is not established, such as unprobated property, one-half of the income is considered available to each member of a married couple.

C. Standards for unearned income: Unearned income is computed on a monthly basis. If there are no expenses incurred with the receipt of unearned income, such as annuities, pensions, retirement payments or disability benefits, the gross amount is considered countable unearned income.

(1) Social security overpayments: If the social security administration withholds an amount because of an overpayment, the gross social security payment amount is used to determine eligibility.

(2) Rental income: If an applicant/recipient has rental property, the ISD worker allows the cost of real estate taxes, maintenance and repairs, advertising, mortgage insurance and interest payments on the mortgage as deductions from the amount received as rent.

(3) Interest on promissory note or sales contract: The portion of the payment representing interest received from a promissory note or sales contract is considered unearned income. The market value of promissory notes or sales contracts and the portion of the payment representing payment of the principal are considered resources. See also Subsection L of Section 8.215.500.14 NMAC, home replacement exclusion.

D. Unearned income exclusions:

(1) Interest from an excluded burial fund: Interest from an excluded burial fund is not considered unearned income if the interest is applied toward the fund balance. If the interest is paid to the applicant/recipient, it is considered unearned income.

(2) Tax refunds and earned income tax credit: Tax refunds from any public agency for property taxes or taxes on food purchases are totally excluded. Any portion of a federal income tax return which constitutes an earned income tax credit is excluded.

(3) Grants, scholarships and fellowships: All grants, scholarships and fellowships used to pay tuition and fees at an educational institution, including vocational and technical schools, are totally excluded. Any portion of a grant, scholarship or fellowship used to pay any other expense, such as food, clothing or shelter, is not excluded.

(4) Veterans payments: Veterans aid and attendance (A&A) payments are excluded from unearned income for determination of eligibility.

(a) If an applicant/recipient receives an augmented VA payment as a veteran or veteran's widow or widower, the payment amount may include an increment for a dependent. If so, the VA must be contacted to provide documentation of the portion of the payment which represents the dependent's increment. When verified, this amount of the VA payment is considered the dependent's income.

(b) The portion of a veterans administration improved pension (VAIP) benefit intended for unreimbursed medical expenses is excluded for purposes of eligibility determination.

(5) Payments by a third party: Third party payments are excluded as income if made directly to the applicant/recipient's creditor.

(a) Third party payments may include mortgage payments by credit life or credit disability insurance and installment payments by a family member on a burial plot or prepaid burial contract.

(b) Interest from a burial contract that is automatically applied to the outstanding balance is excluded from unearned income. If the payment or interest is sent to the individual, it is counted as unearned income regardless of the sender's (third party's) intentions. This applies even if the sender specifies the purpose of the payment on the check.

(c) This provision does not apply if the signature of the creditor and the individual must both be present in order to negotiate the check (two-party check).

(6) Indian tribe per capita payments: Certain per capita payments are excluded from income and resources.

(a) Up to two thousand dollars two thousand dollars ($2,000) of per capita distributions of judgment funds to members of the confederated tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation are excluded except for funds held by Alaska native regional and village corporations (ANRVC) that are not held in trust by the secretary of the interior. ANRVC dividend distributions are not excluded from countable income under this exclusion (per Public Law 97-436 section 4, 98-64, and 100-580).

(b) All distributions to heirs of certain deceased Indians under the Old Age Assistance Claims Settlement Act except for per capita shares in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000) (per Public Law 98-500 section 8).

(c) Up to two thousand dollars ($2,000) per year received by Indians that is derived from individual interests in trust or restricted lands (per Public Law 103-66 section 13736, 92-203, and 100-241).

(d) Up to two thousand dollars ($2,000) per year received by Indians that is derived from individual interests in trust or restricted lands (per Public Law 111-291).

(e) Amounts received by an individual as a lump sum or a periodic payment via the Cobell settlement cannot be counted as income in the month received or as a resource for a one year period beginning with the date of receipt (per Public Law 111-291 section 101).

(7) Plans for achieving self-support: Income derived from, or necessary to, an approved plan for achieving self-support for a blind or disabled applicant/recipient under 65 years of age is excluded.

(a) For an applicant/recipient who is blind or disabled and over 65 years of age, this exclusion applies only if he/she received medicaid for the month preceding his/her 65th birthday.

(b) The self-support plan must be in writing and contain the following:

(i) designated occupational objective;

(ii) specification of any savings (resource) or earnings needed to complete the plan, such as amounts needed for purchase of equipment or for financial independence;

(iii) identification and segregation of any income saved to meet the occupational goal; and

(iv) designation of a time period for completing the plan and achieving the occupational goal.

(c) Plans for achieving self-support are developed by vocational rehabilitation counselors. If a self-support plan is not in place, the ISD worker makes a referral to the division of vocational rehabilitation (DVR).

(d) The ISD worker forwards the written plan and documentation to the MAD eligibility unit. The plan must be approved by that unit.

(e) An approved plan is valid for the following specified time periods:

(i) initial period of no more than 18 months;

(ii) extension period of no more than 18 months;

(iii) final period of no more than 12 months; and

(iv) total period of no more than 48 months.

(8) Agent orange settlement payments: Agent orange settlement payments made to veterans or their survivors are excluded from consideration as income in determining eligibility.

(9) Radiation Exposure Compensation Act payments: Payments made under the Radiation Exposure Compensation Act are excluded from consideration as income in determining eligibility.

(10) Remembrance, responsibility and the future foundation: Payments to individual survivors forced into slave labor by the Nazis are excluded.

(11) Victims compensation payments: Payments made by a state-administered fund established to aid victims of crime are excluded from consideration as income in determining eligibility.

(12) SSI lump sums for retroactive periods: Supplemental security income (SSI) lump sum payments for retroactive periods are excluded from consideration as countable income in the month received.

(13) Life insurance and other burial benefits: Life insurance and other burial benefits are unearned income to the beneficiary (not the owner). The ISD worker must subtract the amount spent on the insured individual's last illness or burial up to one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500). Any excess is counted as unearned income.

(14) One hundred percent state-funded assistance payment: Any one hundred percent state-funded assistance payment based on need, such as general assistance (GA), is excluded. Any interim payments made by a state or municipality from all state or local funds while an SSI application is pending are excluded.

(15) ABLE ACT distributions: Distributions from an ABLE account are excluded as income of the designated beneficiary. Qualified disability expenses (QDEs) are expenses related to the blindness or disability of the designated beneficiary and for the benefit of the designated beneficiary. The following (QDEs) are excluded:

(a) Housing related QDEs: mortgages (including house insurance), real property taxes, rent, heating fuel, gas, electricity, water, sewer, and garbage removal.

(b) Non-housing related QDEs: education, transportation, employment training and support, assistive technology and related services, health, prevention and wellness, financial management and administrative services, legal fees, expenses for ABLE account oversight and monitoring, funeral and burial, and basic living expenses.

(c) Non-qualified expenses.

(d) QDEs for non-housing: Distributions for other non-housing expenses are excluded if retained beyond the month received in their current ABLE account if the distribution is identifiable and is intended to eventually be expended for non-housing costs.

(e) Non-qualified expenses: Not excluded under the ABLE Act are housing-related or other QDEs if retained by the beneficiary for two months.

8.215.500.21 DEEMED INCOME:

A. Availability: Deemed income is income which must be considered available to members of an assistance unit regardless of whether the income is actually made available.

B. Situations in which deeming occurs: For household member(s) who are not members of the assistance unit but who have a support obligation to the assistance unit member(s), income can only be deemed from a parent(s) to his/her minor child(ren) who live in the same household and from one spouse to the other when both live in the same household.

C. Parent or spouse receiving benefits based on economic need: In a deeming situation where one parent or the spouse is receiving a needs benefit, the benefit plus all of the income of the spouse/parent who receives the benefit is excluded from the deeming process. This exclusion applies only to the income of the individual who receives the benefit.

(1) Needs benefit defined: "Needs benefit" is any benefit or assistance which is paid by a governmental agency on the basis of economic need.

(2) Consideration of household membership: Even if the income of one parent is excluded from the deeming process, the parent is considered a member of the household for purposes of determining the parental allocation. This does not apply to benefits received under the temporary assistance to needy families (TANF) program. No income is allocated to a parent or child if that parent or child is receiving TANF assistance.

D. Applicant living with ineligible spouse:

(1) If an applicant/recipient is living in the same household with an ineligible spouse, income may be deemed from the ineligible spouse to the applicant/recipient.

(2) The methodology described below does not apply to the qualified medicare beneficiaries (QMB) program. See Paragraph (1) of Subsection B of Section 8.240.500.15 NMAC for methodology applicable to the QMB program only.

(a) Evaluation of applicant's income: Determine the amount of income available to the applicant using only the applicant's own income and allow the twenty dollars ($20) disregard. If the applicant/recipient has earned income, the first sixty five dollars ($65) plus one-half of the remainder is also disregarded.

(i) If an applicant/recipient's own income exceeds the income standard for an individual, the applicant/recipient is ineligible. No further calculation needs to be done.

(ii) If an applicant/recipient's countable income is less than the standard for an individual, determine the ineligible spouse's gross income.

(b) Evaluation of ineligible spouse's gross income: Determine the ineligible spouse's gross income (both earned and unearned). Subtract the twenty dollars ($20) general disregard plus the first sixty five dollars ($65) and one-half of the remainder from any earned income. If there are no children in the household, compare the ineligible spouse's countable income to one-half of the SSI federal benefit rate (FBR) for an individual not living in the household of others. If the ineligible spouse's countable income is less than one-half of the SSI FBR, no income is deemed from the ineligible spouse to the applicant/recipient. If the ineligible spouse's countable income equals or exceeds one-half of the SSI FBR, income is deemed from the ineligible spouse to the applicant.

E. Applicant living with ineligible spouse and children:

(1) A "child" is under 18 years of age or under 21 years of age if a full-time student at an accredited institution of learning.

(2) If there are children in the household, subtract a living allowance for each ineligible child from the ineligible spouse's countable income. The living allowance is one-half of the monthly SSI FBR for an individual not living in a household with others less any income attributable to the child. If the remaining amount is less than one-half of the SSI FBR, no income is deemed from the ineligible spouse to the applicant/recipient. If the remaining amount equals or exceeds one-half of the SSI FBR, income is deemed from the ineligible spouse to the applicant/recipient.

(3) Determination of countable income: Add the total gross unearned income of the ineligible spouse to the total gross unearned income of the applicant/recipient. The twenty dollars ($20) disregard is deducted from the combined total of the couple's unearned income. If the total unearned income is less than twenty dollars ($20), the remainder is deducted from the combined total of the couple's earned income. The first sixty five dollars ($65) and half (1/2) of the remainder is subtracted from the combined total of the couple's earned income. After all applicable disregards have been subtracted, the remaining earned and unearned income amounts are combined to arrive at the total countable income. If the total countable income is less than the income standard for a couple, the applicant/recipient is eligible.

F. Applicant child living with ineligible parents: A "child" applicant/recipient is under 18 years of age. The ISD worker determines the total gross monthly amount of parental income, both unearned and earned. The ISD worker applies appropriate income disregards to calculate the countable deemed income. See Section 8.200.520.18 NMAC, deemed income worksheet. If the deemed income plus the child's separate income exceeds the income standard for an applicant/recipient, the child is not eligible for that month.

G. Applicant/recipient parent and applicant/recipient child(ren): If a household is composed of an applicant/recipient parent and an applicant/recipient child(ren), the income is deemed from the ineligible spouse to the applicant/recipient spouse if appropriate. See Subsection B of Section 8.215.500.21 NMAC, deemed income.

(1) If there is enough total income to make the applicant/recipient parent ineligible, the remainder of the income is carried over to be deemed to the child(ren). Deemed income is divided equally among the applicant/recipient children.

(2) If the total countable income of the child, including the deemed income, is more than the applicable income standard, the child is ineligible.

8.215.500.22 DISREGARDS:

Income disregards are allowed as described below when applicable.

A. Child support payments: One-third of the amount of child support payments made to a child applicant/recipient is disregarded. The remainder is considered unearned income, subject to the appropriate disregards.

B. Twenty dollar disregard: The first twenty dollars ($20) of unearned or earned income received in a month is disregarded. This disregard is applied first to unearned income, then to earned income if the unearned income is less than twenty dollars ($20). If there is no unearned income, the entire twenty dollars ($20) is applied to the gross earned income. This disregard is not applicable to payments made to an applicant/recipient through a state or other government assistance program, or by a private charitable organization, where such payments are based on the applicant/recipient's need.

C. Additional earned income disregard: After disregarding the first twenty dollars ($20) as specified in Subsection B of Section 8.215.500.22 NMAC above, if appropriate, earned income of sixty-five ($65) per month plus one-half of the remainder is disregarded.

D. Work-related expenses of the blind or disabled: Work-related expenses of an employed applicant/recipient or couple who is/are legally blind or disabled are disregarded. This disregard is for earned income only. The dollar amount of expenses which may be disregarded must be items or services directly related to enabling a person to work and which are necessarily incurred by that individual because of a physical or mental disability or blindness. Such costs incurred must be reasonable. Expenses are disregarded when paid and must be verified.

(1) This disregard does not apply to an applicant/recipient who is blind and is 65 years of age or older, unless he/she was receiving SSI payments due to blindness or disability in the month before turning 65 or received payments under a state aid to the blind or disabled program.

(2) Types of work-related expenses which may be disregarded include:

(a) federal, state, and local income taxes;

(b) social security contributions;

(c) union dues;

(d) transportation costs, including actual cost of bus/taxi cab fare, or 15 cents per mile for private automobile;

(e) lunches;

(f) child care costs, if not otherwise provided;

(g) uniforms, tools, and other necessary equipment;

(h) special vehicle modifications to enable transportation to and from work, but not the cost of the vehicle itself;

(i) attendants who may be hired for the purpose of taking applicant/recipient to and from work, and getting ready for work;

(j) durable medical equipment that is medically related and generally not useful in absence of the blindness or disability yet are necessary to attend and perform tasks in the work place;

(k) expenses for work related equipment which is impairment related and necessary for the individual to perform his/her tasks;

(l) prostheses necessary to perform work related tasks;

(m) design modifications related to blindness or disability that enable the applicant/recipient to leave home in order to attend work, or design modifications made to the work area of the home in the case where the applicant/recipient engages in a home based business; and

(n) special expenses necessary to enable an applicant/recipient who is blind or disabled to engage in employment, such as a seeing-eye dog, braille instructions, or instructions on using special equipment.

(3) If items or services above are purchased through an installment contract, the payments are disregarded. Should the item or service be a one time purchase, the purchase may be pro-rated over a 12 month period, or over the life of the contract.

(4) For items which are leased, the monthly payment would be disregarded.

E. Student earned income:

(1) This disregard applies only to a student's own earned income and includes all payments made as compensation for services, such as wages from employment or self-employment, or payments from programs such as neighborhood youth corps or work-study.

(2) This disregard is available in addition to any exclusions applied to grants, scholarships or fellowships and in addition to any other allowable disregards.

(3) Up to one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) per quarter, or a maximum of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars ($1,620) per calendar year, of the earned income of certain students may be disregarded. To qualify for this disregard, the applicant/recipient must meet all of the following requirements:

(a) under 22 years of age;

(b) unmarried;

(c) not the head of a household; and

(d) in regular attendance at a college or university for at least 12 semester hours or a school or vocational or technical training course for at least 20 hours per week.

8.231.400.9 NEWBORN - CATEGORY 031:

The New Mexico medicaid program covers infants for 13 months born to mothers who are eligible for and receiving New Mexico medicaid at the time of the child's birth including during a period of retroactive eligibility. Mothers eligible to receive emergency medical services for non-citizens (EMSNC) at the time of labor and delivery are considered to meet the standard of medicaid eligibility for the mother.

[8.231.400.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.231.400.9 NMAC, 10/1/2017; A, 1/1/2022]

8.231.400.10 BASIS FOR DEFINING THE GROUP (42 CFR 435.177):

A. Eligibility: HSD provides medicaid to children from birth through the month of the child's first birthday without application if, for the date of the child's birth, the child's mother was eligible for and received covered services under:

(1) the medicaid state plan (including during a period of retroactive eligibility under 42 CFR 435.915) regardless of whether payment for services for the mother is limited to services necessary to treat an emergency medical condition, as defined in section 1903(v)(3) of the Act and 8.285.400.10 NMAC under the emergency medical services for non-citizens (EMSNC) program.

(2) the child is deemed to have applied and been determined eligible under the medicaid state plan effective as of the date of birth, and remains eligible regardless of changes in circumstances through the month of the child's first birthday, unless the child dies or ceases to be a resident of the state or the child's representative requests a voluntary termination of eligibility.

B. Medicaid identification number: The medicaid identification number of the mother serves as the child's identification number, and all claims for covered services provided to the child may be submitted and paid under such number, unless and until the state issues the child a separate identification number. HSD will issue a separate medicaid identification number for the child prior to the effective date of any termination of the mother's eligibility or prior to the date of the child's first birthday, whichever is sooner, except that HSD will issue a separate medicaid identification number in the case of a child born to a mother:

(1) whose coverage is limited to services necessary for the treatment of an emergency medical condition, consistent with 42 CFR 435.139 or 435.350 and 8.285.400.10 NMAC under the EMSNC program; or

8.234.600.10 BENEFIT DETERMINATION:

A. Income support division (ISD) determines initial and ongoing eligibility.

B. Up to three months of retroactive medicaid coverage is provided to an applicant who has received a medicaid covered service during the retroactive period and who would have met applicable eligibility criteria had they applied earlier. Eligibility for each retroactive month is determined separately. An application for retroactive medicaid enrollment must be made within 180 calendar days from the date of the medicaid application.

[8.234.600.10 NMAC - Rp, 8.234.600.10 NMAC, 1-1-14]

8.234.600.11 INITIAL BENEFITS:

A. Move during eligibility determination: If an applicant moves to another county while the eligibility determination is pending, the county ISD office in which the application was originally registered shall transfer the case to the new responsible office.

B. Delays in eligibility determination: If an eligibility determination is not made within the time limit, the applicant is notified in writing of the reason for the delay. This notice also informs the applicant or re-determining recipient of the right to request an administrative hearing.

8.234.600.12 PERIODIC REDETERMINATIONS OF ELIGIBILITY:

A. A re-determination of eligibility is made every 12 months.

B. All changes that may affect eligibility must be reported within 10 calendar days from the date of the change as detailed in 8.200.430 NMAC.

[8.234.600.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.234.600.12 NMAC, 1-1-14]

8.234.600.13 SSI RETROACTIVE BENEFIT COVERAGE:

Up to three months of retroactive medicaid coverage can be furnished to applicants who have received medicaid covered services during the retroactive period and would have met applicable eligibility criteria had they applied during the three months prior to the month of application [42 CFR 435.914].

A. Application for retroactive benefit coverage: Application for retroactive medicaid can be made by checking "yes" in the "application for retroactive medicaid payments" box on the application or re-determination of eligibility for medical assistance (MAD 381) form or by checking "yes" to the question "does anyone in your household have unpaid medical expenses in the last three months?" on the application for assistance (ISD 100 S) form. Applications for retroactive supplemental security income (SSI) medicaid benefits for recipients of SSI must be made by 180 days from the date of approval for SSI. Medicaid covered services which were furnished more than two years prior to approval are not covered.

B. Approval requirements: To establish retroactive eligibility, the income support specialist (ISS) must verify that all conditions of eligibility were met for each of the three retroactive months and that the applicant received medicaid covered services. Eligibility for each month is approved or denied on its own merits.

(1) Applicable benefit rate: The federal benefit rate (FBR) in effect during the retroactive months based on the applicant's living arrangements is applicable for retroactive medicaid eligibility determinations. See 8.200.520.10 NMAC. If the applicant's countable income in a given month exceed the applicable FBR, the applicant is not eligible for retroactive medicaid for that month. If the countable income is less that the FBR, the applicant is eligible on the factor of income for that month. A separate determination must be made for each of the three months in the retroactive period.

(2) Disability determination required: If a determination is needed of the date of onset of blindness or disability, the ISS must send a referral to disability determination services (ISD 305) to the disability determination unit.

C. Notice:

(1) Notice to applicant: The applicant must be informed if any of the retroactive months are denied.

(2) Recipient responsibility to notify provider: After the retroactive eligibility has been established, the ISS must notify the recipient that he or she is responsible for informing all providers with outstanding bills of the retroactive eligibility determination. If the recipient does not inform all providers and furnish verification of eligibility which can be used for billing and the provider consequently does not submit the billing within 120 days from the date of approval of retroactive coverage, the recipient is responsible for payment of the bill.

8.240.500.6 OBJECTIVE:

8.240.500.8 [RESERVED]

8.240.500.9 GENERAL NEED DETERMINATION:

Applicants for, or recipients of, the qualified medicare beneficiaries (QMB) program must apply for and take all necessary steps to obtain any income or resources to which they may be entitled. Recipients of supplemental security income (SSI) or aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) who apply for QMB are excluded from this requirement. A victim of crime is not required to accept victim compensation payments from a state-administered fund established to aid crime victims as a condition of eligibility.

[8.240.500.9 NMAC -Rp 8.240.500.9 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.240.500.10 RESOURCE STANDARDS:

The value of an applicant/recipient's individual countable resources must not exceed the amount set forth in Section 8.200.510.14 NMAC, resource amounts for supplemental security income (SSI) related medicare savings programs (QMB and SLIMB/QI). The resource limit for an applicant couple is the amount set forth in Section 8.200.510.14 NMAC. An applicant/recipient with an ineligible spouse is eligible if the couple's countable resources do not exceed the amount set forth in Section 8.200.510.14 NMAC, when resources are deemed. The resource determination is always made as of the first moment of the first day of the month. The applicant/recipient is ineligible for any month in which the countable resources exceed the current resource standard as of the first moment of the first day of the month. Changes in the amount of resources during a month do not affect eligibility for that month. See Section 8.215.500.13 NMAC, countable resources, and Section 8.215.500.14 NMAC, resource exclusions, for specific information on exclusions, disregards, and calculation of countable resources.

[8.240.500.10 NMAC -Rp 8.240.500.10 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.240.500.11 RESOURCE TRANSFERS:

The social security administration excluded transfer of resources as a factor of eligibility for non-institutionalized SSI recipients. Transfer of resources is not a factor for consideration in categories that use SSI methodology in the eligibility determination.

[8.240.500.11 NMAC -Rp 8.240.500.11 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.240.500.12 TRUSTS:

See Section 8.281.510 NMAC and following subsections.

[8.240.500.12 NMAC -Rp 8.240.500.12 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.240.500.13 INCOME STANDARDS:

The income ceiling for QMB eligibility is one hundred percent of the federal income poverty guidelines. These guidelines are updated annually effective April 1st. See Section 8.200.520 NMAC, Income Standards. If the applicant is a minor child, income must be deemed from the parent(s). Income must be verified and documented in the case record. See Section 8.215.500.13 NMAC, countable resources, and Section 8.215.500.14 NMAC, resource exclusions, for specific information on exclusions, disregards, and calculation of countable income.

8.240.500.14 UNEARNED INCOME:

A. Unearned income exclusions: All social security and railroad retirement beneficiaries receive cost of living adjustments (COLAs) in January of each year. The ISD caseworker must disregard the COLA from January through March when (re)determining QMB eligibility. For redeterminations made in January, February and March and for new QMB applications registered in January, February or March, the ISD caseworker uses the December social security and railroad retirement benefit amounts. For QMB applications registered from April through December, total gross income including the new COLA figures are used to determine income and compared to the new April federal poverty levels. This exclusion does not apply to other types of income.

B. Evaluation of applicant/recipient's income: The ISD caseworker determines the amount of income available to the applicant/recipient using only the applicant/recipient's own income. A standard $20 disregard is allowed in accordance with Section 8.215.500.22 NMAC. The federal poverty level standard disregard is only given if the applicant/recipient lives with an ineligible spouse. See Section 8.240.500.15 NMAC for deemed income.

8.240.500.15 DEEMED INCOME:

A. Minor applicant/ recipient living with parent(s): If the applicant/recipient is a minor who lives with a parent(s), deemed income from the parent(s) must be considered in accordance with Section 8.215.500.21 NMAC, deemed income, and applicable subsections.

B. Applicant/recipient living with an ineligible spouse: If an applicant/recipient is living in the same household with an ineligible spouse, the income of the applicant/ recipient and the income of the ineligible spouse must be considered in accordance with the following paragraphs.

(1) Evaluation of applicant/recipient's income: The ISD caseworker determines the amount of income available to the applicant/recipient using only the applicant/recipient's own income. Allow the standard $20 disregard in accordance with instructions in Subsection B of Section 8.215.500.22 NMAC of the medical assistance division policy manual. If the applicant/recipient has earned income, allow the earned income disregard as specified in Subsection C of Section 8.215.500.22 NMAC. From the combined total of the applicant/ recipient's remaining earned and unearned income, subtract up to the difference between one hundred percent of the federal income poverty level for two persons and one hundred percent of the federal income poverty level for one person. This is referred to as the FPL disregard. Compare the remaining countable income of the applicant/recipient to the individual income standard for the QMB program. If the applicant/recipient's remaining countable income is greater than the individual standard, they are ineligible for the QMB program. If the applicant/recipient's remaining countable income is less than the individual income standard, proceed to the following section.

(2) Evaluation of the ineligible spouse's gross income: The ISD caseworker determines the total gross earned and unearned income of the ineligible spouse. From this combined amount, subtract a living allowance for any ineligible minor dependent child(ren) of either member of the couple who live(s) in the home. The deductible amount of the ineligible child(ren)'s living allowance cannot exceed the ineligible spouse's total gross income. The amount of the living allowance for an ineligible child is determined by subtracting the child's gross income from the figure which represents the difference between one hundred percent of the federal income poverty level for two persons and one hundred percent of the federal income poverty level for one person. A "child" must be under 18 years of age or under 21 years of age if a full-time student at an institution of learning.

(3) Determination of countable income for eligibility purposes: The ISD caseworker adds the gross unearned income of the applicant/recipient (without applying any disregards) to the gross unearned income of the ineligible spouse. The ISD caseworker then adds the total gross earned income of the applicant/ recipient to the total gross earned income of the ineligible spouse. From the combined total gross earnings of the couple, the ISD caseworker subtracts one earned income disregard (the first $65 of the total earnings plus one half of the remainder). The resulting figure is the total combined countable earnings of the couple. Add the couple's total combined countable earned income to their total gross unearned income. From this figure subtract the standard $20 disregard determined in accordance with Subsection B of Section 8.215.500.22 NMAC. Next, subtract the amount of the FPL disregard which the applicant/recipient was allowed. Finally, subtract the amount of the ineligible child(ren)'s living allowance which was calculated in Paragraph (2) of Subsection B of Section 8.240.500.14 NMAC. The resulting figure is the countable income of the couple. Compare it to the couple standard for QMB. If the countable income of the couple exceeds the couple standard, the applicant/recipient is ineligible for the QMB program. If the countable income of the couple is less than the couple standard, the applicant/ recipient is eligible for the QMB program of the factor of income.

Most individuals 65 or older receive free medicare part A. Those who do not receive free part A can voluntarily enroll for hospital insurance coverage and pay the monthly premium. Medicaid does not pay the medicare part A monthly premium for this category of recipients. Voluntary enrollees for premium/conditional medicare part A must enroll for supplementary medical insurance, medicare part B, and pay that premium also. After an application for SLIMB benefits is approved, medicaid begins to pay the medicare part B premium. Applicants/recipients eligible for medicaid coverage under another medicaid category may also be eligible for SLIMB. SLIMB eligibility allows the state to receive federal matching funding for the purchase of medicare part B. Since payment of the medicare part B premium is the only benefit, no medicaid card is issued and there is no interaction with the medicaid claims processing contractor.

8.248.500.10 APPLICATION PROCESS:

The income support division (ISD) office is responsible for taking LIS applications from those individuals who do not want to submit their application to the social security administration either directly or through the ISD office.

A. Who does not have to apply: Certain groups of medicare beneficiaries who are also receiving medicaid do not have to apply for the LIS. These individuals are called "deemed eligible" and will automatically be put on the LIS:

(1) full-benefit dual eligibles, who are persons eligible for both medicare and have full medicaid benefits (including drug benefits);

(2) SSI recipients;

(3) medicare beneficiaries, who are participants in the medicare saving programs, which are: QMB, SLIMB, and QI-1;

(4) working disabled individuals (WDI) who are receiving medicare;

(5) HCBW recipients who are receiving medicare; and

(6) individuals screened for QMB, SLIMB, or QI-1 and determined eligible before the application for LIS is processed.

B. Who can apply: medicare beneficiaries who are not deemed eligible (See Paragraphs (1) through (6) above) and who insist on filing their application with the state rather than with social security administration (SSA).

8.248.500.11 RESOURCE STANDARDS:

A "resource" is defined as cash and other assets that can be converted to cash within 20 days.

A. Resource determination: The resource determination is made as of the first moment of the first day of the month. An applicant/recipient is ineligible for any month in which their countable resources exceed the allowable resource standard as of the first moment of the first day of the month. Changes in the amount of countable resources during a month do not affect eligibility or ineligibility for that month.

B. Distinguishing between resources and income: Resources must be distinguished from income to avoid counting a single asset twice. As a general rule, ownership of a resource precedes the current month while income is received in the current month. Income held by an applicant/recipient until the following month becomes a resource.

8.248.500.12 APPLICABLE RESOURCE STANDARDS:

The resource standard for the LIS is $10,000 for an individual and $20,000 for a couple. Resources belonging to other dependent family members are not considered.

A. Cash resources: The face value of cash, savings or checking accounts is considered in determining LIS eligibility.

(1) An applicant/recipient must provide verification of the value of all cash resources. The resource value of a bank account is customarily verified by a statement from the bank showing the account balance as of the first moment of the first day of the month in question. If an applicant/recipient cannot provide this verification, the ISD worker sends a bank or postal savings clearance to the appropriate institution(s).

(2) If the applicant/recipient can demonstrate that a check was written and delivered to a payee but not cashed by the payee prior to the first moment of the first day of the month, the amount of that check is subtracted from the applicant/recipient's checking account balance to arrive at the amount to be considered a countable resource.

B. Other resources: The value of other resources is evaluated according to the applicant/ spouse's equity in the resource(s). The equity value of an item is defined as the price for which that item, minus any encumbrances, can reasonably be expected to sell on the open market in the particular geographic area. Other resources which can be converted to cash within 20 days include, but are not limited to: stocks, bonds, mutual fund shares, promissory notes, mortgages, whole life insurance policies, financial institution accounts (savings, checking, CDs, IRAs, 401(K) accounts, and annuities), and real property not contiguous with home property.

8.248.500.13 COUNTABLE RESOURCES:

Before a resource can be considered countable, the three criteria listed below must be met.

A. Ownership interest: An applicant/recipient must have an ownership interest in a resource for it to be countable. The fact that an applicant/recipient has access to a resource, or has a legal right to use it, does not make it countable unless the applicant/recipient also has an ownership interest in it.

B. Legal right to convert resource to cash: An applicant/recipient must have the legal ability to spend the funds or to convert non-cash resources into cash.

(1) Physical possession of resource: The fact that an applicant/recipient does not have physical possession of a resource does not mean it is not their resource. If they have the legal ability to spend the funds or convert the resource to cash, the resource is considered countable. Physical possession of savings bonds is a legal requirement for cashing them.

(2) Unrestricted use of resource: An applicant/recipient is considered to have free access to the unrestricted use of a resource even if he can take those actions only through an agent, such as a representative payee or guardian.

(3) If there is a legal bar to the sale of a resource, such as a co-owner legally blocking the sale of jointly owned property, the resource is not countable. The applicant/recipient is not required to undertake litigation in order to accomplish the sale.

C. Legal ability to use a resource: If a legal restriction exists which prevents the use of a resource for the applicant/recipient's own support and maintenance, the resource is not countable.

D. Jointly-held account: If the applicant/spouse is the only subsidy claimant or subsidy recipient who is an account holder on a jointly held account, the state will presume that all of the funds in the account belong to the applicant/spouse. If more than one subsidy claimant or subsidy recipient are account holders, the state will presume that the funds in the account belong to those individuals in equal shares. If the applicant/spouse disagrees with the ownership presumption described in this subsection, they may rebut the presumption. Rebuttal is a procedure that permits an individual to furnish evidence and establish that some or all of the funds in the jointly-held account do not belong to them.

To transform lives. Working with our partners, we design and deliver innovative, high quality health and human services that improve the security and promote independence for New Mexicans in their communities.

[8.249.500.8 NMAC - N, 1/1/2014; A, 1/1/2022]

8.249.500.9 NEED DETERMINATION:

A. Financial need: The budget group's eligibility is based on financial need. See Section 1931 of the Social Security Act, the rules in this chapter and in 8.200.520 NMAC.

B. Financial eligibility: Pursuant to Section 1931 of the Social Security Act, enacted by Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act (PRWORA), a new medicaid financial eligibility standard was created. Refugee medical assistance (RMA) uses this same standard.

(1) Income eligibility criteria: The income eligibility criteria for Category 049 are based on New Mexico's aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) program as of July 16, 1996. This is defined as the standard of need (SON) used in AFDC as of July 16, 1996. A refugee can be eligible for Category 059 if income would be below AFDC after deducting medical expenses incurred and paid in that month. Eligibility for Category 059 is determined on a month-to-month basis.

(2) Less restrictive income and resource methodology: Pursuant to Section 1931 of the Social Security Act, as a state option, New Mexico may use income and resource eligibility methodologies that are less restrictive than the AFDC methodologies used as of July 16, 1996. This chapter defines less restrictive methodologies to be used by New Mexico for resources, countable and excluded earned or unearned income, available or unavailable income and income deductions or disregards.

C. Gross and net income tests: Determining financial need is a two-step process. When the countable gross or net income is exactly equal to the income eligibility standards, eligibility does not exist.

(1) Gross income test: The first step is determining the countable gross income of the budget group. Gross income includes all countable income before taking into account taxes or deductions. Only self employment deductions are allowed in the gross income test. The calculated gross income must be less than one hundred and eighty-five percent of the SON. If the budget group's income is more than one hundred and eighty-five percent of the SON, the assistance unit is not eligible.

(2) Net income test: The second step is determining the countable net income of the budget group. From the countable gross income in step one, deduct all allowable work related expenses (WRE) and unearned income deductions/disregards. The countable net income must be less than the SON appropriate to the budget group size. If the budget group's income is more than the SON, the assistance unit is not eligible.

[8.249.500.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.249.500.9 NMAC, 1/1/2014; A, 1/1/2022]

8.249.500.10 RESOURCE STANDARDS:

Resources are not an eligibility factor.

[8.249.500.10 NMAC - Rp, 8.249.500.10 NMAC, 1-1-14]

8.249.500.11 INCOME STANDARDS:

Refer to 8.249.500.9 NMAC.

[8.249.500.11 NMAC - Rp, 8.249.500.11 NMAC, 1-1-14]

8.249.500.12 INCOME ELIGIBILITY:

Income consists of money received by a person whose income is considered available to the budget group as described in this chapter.

A. Income from a 30 day-period is used to determine eligibility. The 30-day period may be any consecutive 30-day period that is prior to the date of the application through the date of timely disposition. The applicant and the caseworker must agree on the 30-day period. Income from a terminated source is not counted.

B. Income received less frequently than monthly: If an amount of gross income is received less frequently than monthly, that amount is converted to a monthly amount to determine financial eligibility. The conversion is obtained by dividing the total income by the number of months the income is intended to cover. For the purposes of this calculation, a partial month is considered to be one full month. This includes, but is not limited to, income from sharecropping, farming, and self-employment. It includes contract income as well as income for a tenured teacher who may not have a contract.

C. Use of conversion factors: Whenever a full month's income is received on a weekly or biweekly basis, the income is converted to a monthly amount. Income is rounded down to the nearest whole dollar prior to application of the conversion factor. Weekly income is multiplied by four and biweekly income is multiplied by two.

[8.249.500.12 NMAC - N, 1-1-14]

8.249.500.13 AVAILABLE INCOME:

A. Determination of eligibility for the assistance unit is made by considering income that is available to the assistance unit and budget group. The amount of countable income is determined using allowable income exemptions, deductions and disregards. The income of a budget group member who is not included in the assistance unit is deemed available to the assistance unit.

B. Available income includes:

(1) income received by the budget group;

(2) income received by someone not included in the budget group for someone included in the budget group and which is available to the budget group;

(3) income that is withheld as a result of a garnishment or wage withholding; and

(4) income withheld by a source at the request of a budget group member.

[8.249.500.13 NMAC - N, 1-1-14]

8.249.500.14 UNAVAILABLE INCOME:

A. Individuals included in the budget group may have a legal right to income but not access to it; such income is not counted as available income:

(1) old age, survivors, and disability insurance (OASDI);

(2) railroad retirement benefits (RRB);

(3) veterans administration (VA) benefits:

(a) income available to veterans and their dependents from the VA as compensation for service-connected disability;

(b) pension for non-service connected disability;

(c) dependency and indemnity compensation; and

(d) death benefits paid from a government issue (GI) life insurance;

(4) unemployment compensation benefits (UCB);

(5) military allotments;

(6) worker's compensation;

(7) pension, annuity, and retirement benefits;

(8) union benefits;

(9) lodge or fraternal benefits;

(10) real property income that is not earned income;

(11) shared shelter and utility payments when the budget group shares shelter with others:

(a) payments which exceed the budget group's cost are considered income;

(b) payments which are less than the budget group's cost are not considered; these are the others' share of the shelter cost and are treated as pass-through payments;

(12) income from the sale of goods or property which are obtained in finished condition;

(13) child support payments received directly by the budget group and retained for its use;

(14) settlement payments which are received from worker's compensation settlements, insurance claims, damage claims, litigation, trust distributions which are made on a recurring basis;

(15) individual Indian monies (IIM) payments received and distributed by the bureau of Indian affairs (BIA) as a trustee for an individual member of a tribe;

(16) bureau of Indian affairs (BIA) or tribal general assistance (GA) payments; and

(17) income that is not listed as available in this chapter where the budget group cannot gain access to the income; this includes wages withheld by an employer that refuses to pay.

B. Individuals may receive payment of funds "passed through" the individual for the benefit of someone other than themselves. Such pass through payments are not considered available.

C. A recipient of supplemental security income (SSI) is not part of the budget group. His other income is not considered available to the budget group.

D. Non-citizen sponsor deeming is not applicable pursuant to 8.200.410 NMAC.

[8.249.500.14 NMAC - N, 1/1/2014; A, 1/1/2022]

8.249.500.15 EARNED INCOME:

Includes all wages, salaries, tips, and other employee pay from employment and net earnings from self-employment.

[8.249.500.15 NMAC - N, 1-1-14]

8.249.500.16 EARNED INCOME DEDUCTIONS/DISREGARDS:

A. Self employment: Certain self-employment deductions allowed by the federal internal revenue service (IRS) are allowed in the net and gross income test.

(1) Self-employment income will be annualized for income projection purposes. If the IRS Form 1040 has been filed, the previous year's tax return is used to anticipate future income, if no significant changes in circumstances have occurred. An alternative method of income anticipation should be used when the amount of self employment income reported on tax returns would no longer be a good indicator of expected income, i.e., loss of cattle or crops due to disease.

(2) If tax returns are used for annualized projected income, self-employment expenses listed on the return are allowable except:

(a) the mileage allowance is the New Mexico department of finance and administration (DFA) rate as detailed in 2.42.2 NMAC unless proof that the actual expense is greater; and

(b) no deduction is allowed for rent or purchase of the place of business if the individual operates the business out of his or her residence, unless the individual can demonstrate that the expense has been allowed under federal income tax guidelines.

(3) The following deductions are not allowed:

(a) depreciation;

(b) personal business and entertainment expenses;

(c) personal transportation to and from work;

(d) purchase of capital equipment; and

(e) payments on the principal of loans for capital assets or durable goods.

B. WRE income disregards: The WRE disregard of $120 and one third of the remaining balance is disregarded from earned income during the net income test.

C. Child care expenses:

(1) To be eligible for a child care deduction, the child receiving the care must be:

(a) a dependent of the employed person;

(b) younger than 13; and

(c) included in the budget group.

(2) Standards: Actual costs of child care, not to exceed the applicable limits set forth below are deducted from earnings. The amount to be deducted depends upon whether the person is employed full or part-time and the age of the child. Full-time employment is considered to be 30 hours or more of employment per week; part time is any employment of less than 30 hours per week.

(a) up to $200 per month per child if the person is employed full-time and the child is under age two;

(b) up to $100 per month per child if the person is employed part-time and the child is under age two;

(c) up to $175 per month per child if the person is employed full-time and the child's age is two through12; and

(d) up to $87.50 per month per child if the person is employed part-time and the child's age is two through 12.

(3) Third party child care payments: Child care costs paid by third parties directly to the child care provider cannot be used as child care deductions. Such payments are classified as vendor payments and are not counted as income. If such payments do not meet the full cost of child care, the difference between the deduction and the vendor payment is the amount allowed, up to the stated child care deductions in Paragraph (2) of Subsection C of 8.249.500.16 NMAC. If the third party child care payments are made to the budget group, the payments would be treated as pass through payments and not counted.

(2) railroad retirement benefits (RRB);

(3) veterans administration (VA) benefits:

(a) income available to veterans and their dependents from the VA as compensation for service-connected disability;

(b) pension for non-service connected disability;

(7) pension, annuity, and retirement benefits;

(8) union benefits;

(9) lodge or fraternal benefits;

8.250.400.9 QUALIFIED INDIVIDUALS 1 (QI1s) - CATEGORY 042:

Medical assistance division (MAD) pays the monthly medicare Part B insurance premium for eligible recipients with income between one hundred and twenty percent and one hundred and thirty-five percent of the federal poverty level (FPL) who are not otherwise eligible for another medical assistance program category of eligibility (QI1s). A QI1 recipient must be covered by medicare Part A. The Part A insurance is a free entitlement to social security beneficiaries who are 65 years of age or older or who have received social security disability payments for 24 months. Fully or currently insured workers, or their dependents, with end-stage renal disease are also covered under medicare. Eligible recipients will be served on a first come, first served basis, contingent upon availability of federal funds. Eligibility will be offered to individuals on a yearly basis. After 1998, eligible recipients currently enrolled in the program will get the first opportunity to continue to receive benefits under this program.

8.250.400.10 BASIS FOR DEFINING THE GROUP:

QI1s are individuals who would be qualified medicare beneficiaries (QMB) but for the fact that their income exceeds the income levels established for QMB and specified low income medicare beneficiaries (SLIMB). Income eligibility for the QI1s is at least one hundred and twenty percent of the FPL, but less than one hundred thirty-five percent. The state of New Mexico (the state) will permit all individuals to apply for assistance during a calendar year beginning 1998. However, because of the capped allotments, the state shall limit the number of participants in QI1s selected in a calendar year so that the aggregate amount of benefits provided to such individuals in the calendar year is estimated not to exceed the state's allocation for the fiscal year ending in that calendar year. The state shall select QI1s on a first-come, first-served basis (in the order in which they apply). For calendar years after 1998, the state shall give preference to individuals who were QI1s, QMBs, SLIMBs, or qualified disabled working individuals (QDWI) in the last month of the previous year and who continue to be or become QI1s.

Most individuals 65 or older receive free medicare part A. Those who do not receive free part A can voluntarily enroll for hospital insurance coverage and pay the monthly premium. Medicaid does not pay the medicare part A monthly premium for this category of recipients. Voluntary enrollees for premium/conditional medicare part A must enroll for supplementary medical insurance, medicare part B, and pay that premium also. After an application for QI benefits is approved, medicaid begins to pay the medicare part B premium. Applicants/recipients eligible for QI1 coverage under another medicaid category may not be eligible for QI1. QI1 eligibility is funded by limited block grant funding beginning in 1998 and ending when the congressional extension period expires. Since payment of the medicare part B premium is the only benefit, no medicaid card is issued.

The DOH is responsible for verifying that women referred for treatment have met screening requirements that include an income test of two hundred and fifty percent of the federal poverty guidelines, and diagnostic testing by a contracted CDC provider resulting in a diagnosis of breast or cervical cancer including pre-cancerous conditions. Women who have met CDC screening criteria and identified as needing treatment for a diagnosis of breast or cervical cancer, including pre-cancerous conditions will be referred for treatment that includes the completion of a medicaid application for the BCC program. PACE recipients can concurrently receive the qualified medicare

(2) To be considered disabled, an applicant/recipient must be unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity, because of any medically determinable physical, developmental, or mental impairment which has lasted, or is expected to last, for a continuous period of at least 12 months.

(3) If a determination of blindness or disability has not been made, the income support division worker will submit medical reports to the disability determination unit.

B. Level of care requirements must be met in addition to all other requirements. An applicant or recipient must be eligible for institutional nursing facility level of care as determined by the medical assistance division (MAD) utilization review contractor. Institutions are defined as acute care hospitals, nursing facilities (either high NF or low NF as defined by medicaid regulations) and intermediate care facilities for individuals with intellectual disabilities (ICF/IID). Level of care determinations are performed by the MAD utilization review contractor. Level of care for approved recipients will be determined on an annual basis.

C. An interview is not required in accordance with 8.281.400.11 NMAC.

D. Upon enrollment, applicants must be able to live in a community setting without jeopardizing their individual health and safety. The ability to live safely in the home and community is determined by the PACE organization's interdisciplinary team.

Such steps must be taken within 30 days of the date the HCA (HCA) furnishes notice of the potential entitlement. A. Applicants/recipients who have elected a lower veterans affairs (VA) payment do not need to reapply for veteran’s administration improved pension (VAIP) benefits.

B. Crime victims are not required to accept victim’s compensation payments from a state-administered fund as a condition of medicaid eligibility.

The effective date for PACE enrollment is the first day of the calendar month following the signing of the enrollment agreement (if all financial, non-financial, and medical eligibility criteria are met and an approved level of care (LOC) is in place). Applicants determined to be ineligible for PACE are notified of the reason for the denial and provided with an explanation of appeal rights. 8.280.600.12 ONGOING BENEFITS:

A. A complete redetermination of eligibility must be performed annually by the income support division worker for each open case.

B. Level of care reviews are required to be completed at least annually. Level of care determinations for PACE are made by the utilization review contractor.

[8.280.600.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.280.600.12 NMAC, 1/1/2019]

8.280.600.13 RETROACTIVE BENEFITS:

Retroactive coverage is not available in the PACE program.

[8.280.600.13 NMAC - Rp, 8.280.600.13 NMAC, 1/1/2019]

8.280.600.14 CHANGES IN ELIGIBILITY:

If the recipient ceases to meet any of the eligibility criteria, the case is closed following provision of advance notice as appropriate. See 8.200.430 NMAC for information about notices and hearing rights.

A. Non-provision of PACE services: To be eligible for PACE, an applicant/recipient must receive PACE services. If PACE services are no longer being provided and are not expected to be provided for at least a full calendar month, the recipient is ineligible for the program and the case must be closed after appropriate notice is provided, unless an exception has been prior authorized by MAD.

B. Admission to an acute care or nursing facility: If a PACE recipient enters an acute care or nursing facility, he still remains eligible. A PACE recipient may be disenrolled from the program either voluntarily or involuntarily. If disenrollment occurs, a new application for institutional care medicaid is not required in the following circumstances: the former PACE recipient is in an acute care or nursing facility; he continues to meet all eligibility criteria for institutional care medicaid; or the periodic review on the PACE case is not due in either the month of disenrollment or the following month.

C. Reporting changes in circumstances: The primary responsibility for reporting changes in the recipient's circumstances rests with the recipient or representative. At the initial eligibility determination and all on-going eligibility redeterminations, the income support division (ISD) must explain the reporting responsibilities requirement to the applicant/recipient or representative and document that such explanation was given. In the event that PACE services should cease, the PACE provider must immediately notify the income support division office by telephone of that fact. The telephone call is to be followed by a written notice to the ISD.

D. Disenrollment: A PACE recipient loses medicaid eligibility under this program when he is either voluntarily or involuntarily disenrolled. The PACE provider must inform the ISD office when disenrollment occurs. A one time only reinstatement will be allowed if the individual continues to meet all financial, non-financial and medical eligibility criteria. Reinstatement is subject to availability of positions and redetermination of medicaid eligibility. A PACE recipient may voluntarily disenroll at any time. Involuntary disenrollment occurs when any of the following situations exist:

(1) recipient moves out of PACE service area;

(2) recipient is a person with decision-making capacity who consistently does not comply with the individual plan of care and poses a significant risk to self or others;

(3) recipient experiences a breakdown in the physician or team relationship such that the PACE provider ability to furnish services to either the recipients or other recipients is seriously impaired;

(4) recipient refuses services or is unwilling to meet conditions of participation as they appear in the enrollment agreement;

(5) recipient refuses to provide accurate financial information, provides false information or illegally transfers assets;

(6) recipient is out of the PACE service area for more than one calendar month (unless other arrangements have been made);

(7) recipient is enrolled in PACE that loses its contract or licenses which enables it to cover health care services;

(8) recipient fails to meet the financial or non-financial criteria; or

(9) recipient ceases to meet the level of care at any time.

8.281.400.17 BLIND:

To be considered blind, an applicant or recipient must have central visual acuity of 20/200 or less with corrective lenses.

A. Documentation of blindness: An applicant or recipient must meet the SSA's definition of blindness. B. Status of SSA determination: If it has not been determined whether an applicant or recipient meets SSA's definition of blindness or if only a temporary determination was made, the ISD worker must request a determination from the disability determination unit (DDU). Eligibility based on blindness cannot be considered to exist without a DDS determination.

C. Redetermination of blindness: A redetermination of blindness by the DDU is not required on a re-application following an applicant or recipient's termination from SSI/SSA or medicaid, if a permanent condition of blindness was previously established or the termination was based on a condition unrelated to blindness and there was no indication of possible improvement in an applicant or recipient's vision.

D. Remedial treatment: If the DDU recommends remedial medical treatment that carries no more than the usual risk or a reasonable plan for vocational training, an applicant or recipient must comply with the recommendation unless good cause for not doing so exists.

A. Documentation of disability: An applicant or recipient must meet the social security administration (SSA)'s definition of disability. If the applicant or recipient is receiving social security or supplemental security income (SSI) benefits based on the condition of disability, verification of this factor can be accomplished through documents, such as award letters or benefit checks.

B. Status of SSA determination: If it has not been determined whether an applicant or recipient meets the SSA's definition of disability or if only a temporary determination was made, the ISS must request a determination from the DDU. Eligibility based on disability cannot be considered to exist without a DDS determination.

C. Redetermination of disability: A redetermination of disability by the DDU is not required on a re-application following an applicant or recipient's termination from SSI/SSA or medicaid, if a permanent condition of disability was previously established or the termination was based on a condition unrelated to disability and there was no indication of possible improvement in an applicant/recipient's physical condition.

D. Remedial treatment: If the DDU recommends remedial medical treatment that carries no more than the usual risk or a reasonable plan for vocational training, an applicant or recipient must comply with the recommendation unless good cause for not doing so exists.

8.281.400.19 SSI STATUS:

The ISD worker determines whether an applicant or recipient's SSI eligibility will continue while they are institutionalized.

A. Applicant/recipient currently eligible for SSI: If an applicant or recipient will not continue to be eligible for SSI while institutionalized, the ISD worker processes the application regardless of the fact that SSA will not terminate SSI benefits until the month following the month the applicant or recipient enters an institution.

B. Applicant not currently receiving SSI: If an applicant or recipient is not receiving SSI or has not applied for SSI before applying for medicaid and their gross income is less than $50, the ISD worker processes the application and refers the applicant to the SSA for determination of eligibility for SSI benefits. If an applicant's gross monthly income is $50 or more but not in excess of the maximum allowable income standard, the ISD worker determines eligibility for institutional care medicaid based on remaining financial and nonfinancial criteria.

An applicant or recipient is responsible for establishing their eligibility for medicaid. As part of this responsibility, the applicant or recipient must provide required information and documents or take the actions necessary to establish eligibility. Failure to do so must result in a decision that eligibility does not exist. An applicant or recipient must also grant the HSD permission to contact other persons, agencies or sources of information, which are necessary to establish eligibility.

To transform lives. Working with our partners, we design and deliver innovative, high quality health and human services that improve the security and promote independence for New Mexicans in their communities.

8.281.500.9 NEED DETERMINATION:

Applicants for and recipients of institutional care must apply for and take all necessary steps to obtain any income or resources to which they may be entitled. When an applicant or recipient is given notification by HSD to apply for and obtain specific income and resources they must take steps to do so within 30 calendar days.

A. Failure to apply for and take steps to determine eligibility for other benefits: Failure or refusal to apply for and take all necessary steps to determine eligibility for other benefits after notice is received results in an applicant or recipient becoming ineligible for a MAP category of eligibility for institutional care.

B. Exceptions to general requirement: Applicants or recipients who have elected a lower veterans administration (VA) payment do not need to reapply for veterans administration improved pension (VAIP) benefits. Crime victims are not required to accept victims compensation payments from a state-administered fund as a condition of MAP eligibility.

[8.281.500.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.281.500.9 NMAC, 8/15/2015]

8.281.500.10 RESOURCE STANDARDS:

A "resource" is defined as cash or liquid assets and real or personal property which is owned and can be used either directly, or by sale or conversion, for the applicant's or recipient's support and maintenance. Resources may be liquid or non-liquid and may be excluded from the eligibility determination process under certain conditions. A liquid resource is an asset which can readily be converted to cash. A non-liquid resource is an asset or property which cannot readily be converted to cash.

A. Resource determination: The resource determination for a MAP category of eligibility for institutional care is made as of the first moment of the first day of the month. An applicant or recipient is ineligible for any month in which their countable resources exceed the allowable resource standard as of the first moment of the first day of the month. Changes in the amount of countable resources during a month do not affect eligibility or ineligibility for that month.

B. Distinguishing between resources and income: Resources must be distinguished from income to avoid counting a single asset twice. As a general rule, ownership of a resource precedes the current month while income is received in the current month. Income held by an applicant or recipient until the following month becomes a resource.

[8.281.500.10 NMAC - Rp, 8.281.500.10 NMAC, 8/15/2015; A, 12/1/2022]

8.281.500.11 APPLICABLE RESOURCE STANDARDS:

The resource criteria and eligibility standards of this section apply to all applicants for and recipients of a MAP category of eligibility for institutional care. An applicant or recipient is eligible for a MAP category of eligibility for institutional care on the factor of resources if countable resources do not exceed $2,000. Some of an applicant’s or recipient’s resources are counted in the eligibility determination and some resources are excluded. Any resource which is not specifically excluded in Section 8.281.500.13 NMAC is considered a countable resource for the purpose of determining a MAP category of eligibility for institutional care.

A. Liquid resources: A liquid resource is cash or something that can easily be converted to cash within 20 business days. The face or surrender value of liquid resources such as cash, savings or checking accounts, and other financial instruments are considered in determining a MAP category of eligibility. The countable value of liquid resources is based on their current fair market value.

(1) An applicant or recipient must provide verification of the value of all liquid resources. The resource value of a bank account is customarily verified by a statement from the bank showing the account balance as of the first moment of the first day of the month in question. If an applicant or recipient cannot provide this verification, the ISD worker provides the applicant or recipient with a detailed request of all documents needed to determine a MAP category of eligibility.

(2) If the applicant or recipient can demonstrate that a check was written and delivered to a payee but not cashed by the payee prior to the first moment of the first day of the month, the amount of that check is subtracted from the applicant or recipient checking account balance to arrive at the amount to be considered a countable resource.

B. Non-liquid resources: A non-liquid resource is something such as real property that cannot easily be converted to cash within 20 business days. The value of non-liquid resources is computed at current market value minus encumbrances or financial penalties for early withdrawal.

[8.281.500.11 NMAC - Rp, 8.281.500.11 NMAC, 8/15/2015]

8.281.500.12 COUNTABLE RESOURCES:

Before a resource can be considered countable, the three criteria listed below must be met.

A. Ownership interest: An applicant or recipient must have an ownership interest in a resource for it to be countable. The fact that an applicant or recipient has access to a resource, or has a legal right to use it, does not make it countable unless the applicant or recipient also has an ownership interest in it.

B. Legal right to convert resource to cash: An applicant or recipient must have the legal ability to spend the funds or to convert non-cash resources into cash.

(1) Physical possession of resource: The fact that an applicant or recipient does not have physical possession of a resource does not mean it is not their resource. If they have the legal ability to spend the funds or convert the resource to cash, the resource is considered countable. Physical possession of savings bonds is a legal requirement for cashing them.

(2) Unrestricted use of resource: An applicant or recipient is considered to have free access to the unrestricted use of a resource even if they can take those actions only through an agent, such as a representative payee, guardian, conservator, trustee, or another authorized representative. If there is a legal bar to the sale of a resource, the resource is not countable. However, if a co-owner of real property can bring an action to partition and sell the property, their interest in the property is a countable resource.

C. Legal ability to use a resource: If a legal restriction exists which prevents the use of a resource for the applicant's or recipient's own support and maintenance, the resource is not countable.

D. Joint ownership of resources: If an applicant or recipient owns either liquid or non-liquid resources jointly with others, they have 30 calendar days from the date requested by the ISD worker to submit all documentation required to verify their claims regarding ownership of, access to, and legal ability to use the resource for personal support and maintenance. Failure to do so results in the presumption that the resource is countable and belongs to the applicant or recipient.

(1) Jointly held property: If jointly held property is identified during review of an active case, the ISD worker must:

(a) determine whether the property is a countable resource;

(b) determine whether the value of the jointly held property plus the value of other countable resources exceeds the allowable resource maximum; and

(c) if the value of countable resources exceeds the allowable maximum, advance notice is furnished to the applicant or recipient of the intent to close their case and their right to verify claims regarding ownership of, access to, and legal ability to use the property for personal support and maintenance.

(i) If the applicant or recipient fails to provide required information or respond within the advance notice period, their case is closed.

(ii) If, after expiration of the advance notice period but prior to the end of the month in which the advance notice expires, the applicant or recipient provides the required evidence to show the property is not a countable resource, or is countable in an amount which, when added to the value of other countable resources, does not exceed the maximum allowable limit, and eligibility continues to exist on all other factors, the case is reinstated for the next month.

(2) Joint bank accounts: If liquid resources are in a joint bank account of any type, the applicant's or recipient's ownership interest, while the parties to the account are alive, is presumed to be proportionate to the applicant's or recipient's contributions to the total resources on deposit.

(a) The applicant or recipient is presumed to own a proportionate share of the funds on deposit unless they present clear and convincing evidence that the parties to the account intended the applicant or recipient to have a different ownership interest.

(b) To establish the applicant's or recipient's ownership interest in a joint account, the following are required:

(i) statement by the applicant or recipient regarding contributions to the account; reasons for establishing the account; who owns the funds in the account; and any supporting documentation; plus

(ii) corroborating statements from the other account holder(s);

(iii) if either the applicant or recipient or the other account holder is not capable of making a statement, the applicant or recipient or an authorized representative must obtain a statement from a third party who has knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the establishment of the joint account.

(c) Failure to provide required documentation within 30 calendar days of the date requested by the ISD worker results in a determination that the entire account amount belongs to the applicant or recipient.

(d) If the existence of a jointly held bank account is identified during the review of an active case, the ISD worker requests evidence of ownership and accessibility. If the evidence is not furnished within 30 calendar days of the request, their case is closed.

(3) Life estate: A life estate interest in the applicant's or recipient's own home will count as a resource if the applicant or recipient has not resided on the property continuously for at least 12 months from the date of the life estate purchase. For a purchase of a life estate in the home of another, see Subsection D of 8.281.500.14 NMAC.

(a) The "unisex life estate and remainder interest tables" are used to determine the value of a life estate. See 8.200.520 NMAC. The value is computed by multiplying the current fair market value by the percentage reduction on the unisex table under the column for the applicant's or recipient's age.

(b) If an applicant or recipient feels the value calculated based on this method is overstated, they can obtain a valuation of the life estate in the area for use as documentation of lesser value.

E. The home as a countable resource: If the applicant or recipient or their authorized representative states the applicant or recipient does not intend to return to the home and it is not the residence of applicant's or recipient's spouse or dependent relative, the home is considered a countable resource. If the applicant or recipient or their authorized representative puts the home up for sale and it is not the primary residence of the applicant's or recipient's spouse or a dependent relative, the home is considered a countable resource. A dependent relative is a minor child or adult disabled child of the applicant, recipient, or community spouse.

F. Value of property: The applicant or recipient must supply HSD with written documentation regarding the fair market value of the property from a real estate agent, title company or mortgage insurance company familiar with the area in which the property is located in addition to any encumbrances against the property. The ISD worker determines the equity value of the property by subtracting the amount of the encumbrances from the fair market value of the property.

G. Hardship: Applicants or recipients who are on restricted coverage due to excess equity in their homes may request an undue hardship waiver based on the criteria specified in 8.281.500.24 NMAC.

H. Real property:

(1) If an applicant or recipient is the sole owner of real property, other than the applicant's or recipient's or their primary residence and has the right to dispose of it, the entire equity value is included as a countable resource.

(2) If an applicant or recipient owns property with one or more individuals and the applicant or recipient has the right, authority or power to liquidate the property or their pro-rata share of the property, it is considered a resource. If a property right cannot be liquidated, the property will not be considered a resource to applicant or recipient. The applicant or recipient must provide a copy of the legal document which indicates their interest in the property.

I. Vehicles: One automobile is totally excluded regardless of value if it is used for transportation for the applicant or recipient or a member of applicant's or recipient's household. Any other automobiles are considered to be non-liquid resources. Recreational vehicles and boats are considered household goods and personal effects rather than vehicles.

J. Household goods and personal effects: Household goods and personal effects are considered countable resources if the items were acquired or are held for their value or are held as an investment. Such items can include but are not limited to gems and jewelry that is not worn or held for family significance, or collectibles.

K. Promissory notes: If an applicant or recipient holds or owns a promissory note and the note is negotiable, it is a countable resource. The value is the outstanding principal balance due at the time of the applicant's or recipient's MAP application, unless the applicant or recipient proves that it has a lower value.

(1) A promissory note held by the applicant or recipient must be a bona fide loan. This means that it must be legally valid and made in good faith. The ISD worker must evaluate the note and determine whether or not it is a bona fide loan. In order to determine if the note is a bona fide loan, the ISD worker should obtain documentation of the applicant's or recipient's receipt of payments on the note at the time of application and at re-certification. If the applicant or recipient sells or transfers the promissory note, then they may be subject to a penalty for a transfer of assets for less than fair market value.

(2) If the promissory note is non-negotiable, and the applicant or recipient receives payments on the note that could be used for food or shelter, then the amount of the payment retained in the month following receipt is a resource to the applicant or recipient.

(3) If an applicant or recipient purchases a promissory note, loan or mortgage, the repayment terms must be actuarially sound, provide for equal payment amounts with no deferral or balloon payments, and it must contain a provision that prohibits cancellation of the balance upon the death of the lender. A promissory note not meeting these requirements shall be treated as a transfer of assets for less than fair market value. If a promissory note does not meet these requirements, the value of the note, loan or mortgage is the outstanding balance due on the date of the applicant's or recipient's MAP application.

L. Pension funds: A pension fund, if accessible to the applicant or recipient, is a countable resource. Any fees for withdrawal of the funds are subtracted from the balance and the remainder is a countable resource.

M. Individual retirement accounts (IRA): An IRA is a tax-deductible savings account that sets aside money for retirement. Funds in an IRA are counted as an asset in their entirety less the amount of penalty for early withdrawal.

N. Keogh plan: A Keogh plan is a retirement plan established by a self-employed applicant or recipient alone or for the self-employed applicant or recipient and their employees. If the Keogh plan was established for the self-employed applicant or recipient alone, the funds in the plan are counted as an asset in their entirety less the amount of penalty for early withdrawal. If the Keogh plan was established for employees other than the spouse of the applicant or recipient, the funds do not count as an asset.

O. Loans: In some circumstances a loan may be a countable resource.

(1) Negotiable loan. If an applicant or recipient owns a loan agreement or is a lender and the agreement is a negotiable, bona fide loan:

(a) the outstanding principal balance is a resource of the applicant or recipient;

(b) the cash provided to the borrower is no longer the applicant or recipient lender's resource because they cannot access it for their own use; the loan agreement replaces the cash as the applicant or recipient lender's resource;

(c) payments that the applicant or recipient lender receives from the borrower against the loan principal are conversions of a resource, not income; if retained, the payments are counted as the applicant or recipient lender's resource starting in the month following the month of receipt; and

(d) interest income received by the applicant or recipient lender is unearned income.

(2) Non-negotiable loan. If the applicant or recipient owns a loan agreement or is a lender and the loan agreement is not a bona fide loan or is not negotiable:

(a) the agreement is not a resource of the applicant or recipient lender;

(b) payments against the principal are income to the applicant or recipient lender, not conversion of a resource;

(c) the cash specified in the agreement may be a resource if the applicant or recipient lender can access it for their own use; and

(d) interest income received by the applicant or recipient lender is unearned income.

(3) Bona fide loan. If the applicant or recipient is the borrower and the agreement is a bona fide loan:

(a) the loan agreement itself is not a resource for the applicant or recipient; and

(b) the cash provided by the applicant or recipient lender is not income, but is the borrower's resource if retained in the month following the month of receipt.

(4) Not a bona fide loan. If the applicant or recipient is the borrower and the agreement is not a bona fide loan:

(a) the loan agreement itself is not a resource of the applicant or recipient; and

(b) the cash provided by the applicant or recipient lender is income in the month received and is a resource if retained in the month following the month it was received.

(5) Informal loan. If the agreement is an agreement between applicants or recipients who are not in the business of lending money or providing credit, it is an informal loan. An informal loan is bona fide if it meets all of the following criteria:

(a) the agreement is enforceable under state law;

(b) the agreement is in effect at the time that the cash is provided to the borrower; money given to an applicant or recipient with no obligation to repay cannot become a loan at a later date;

(c) the obligation to repay the loan must be acknowledged by both the applicant or recipient lender and the borrower; when money or property is given and accepted based on any understanding other than it is to be repaid by the receiver, there is no loan;

(d) the agreement must include a plan or schedule for repayment, and the borrower's express intent to repay by pledging real or personal property or anticipated future income (such as social security insurance (SSI) benefits);

(e) the repayment plan or schedule must be feasible; in determining the plan's feasibility, consider the amount of the loan, the applicant's or recipient's resources and income and the applicant's or recipient's living expenses;

(f) if the applicant or recipient is the borrower, the loan proceeds are a resource if they are retained in the month following the month of receipt; the resource value is the amount of the proceeds that the applicant or recipient still holds in the month following the month of receipt;

(g) if the applicant or recipient is the lender, the agreement is a countable resource starting in the month after the month that the applicant or recipient lender provides the proceeds to the borrower; and

(h) the agreement's resource value is the outstanding principal balance unless the applicant or recipient lender provides evidence that the loan has a lower value.

P. Other financial instruments: Other financial instruments will be evaluated by HSD to determine if they are a countable resource.

Q. Continuing care retirement community, assisted living, life care community or like living arrangement: The portion of initial fees paid upon signing a contract for housing and care that has a potential to be refunded to the applicant or recipient is countable.

R. Other countable resources: Other liquid or non-liquid resources must be considered in the calculation of total countable resources. The following non-liquid resources may be included in the calculation of countable resources if they cannot be excluded pursuant to 8.281.500.13 NMAC:

(1) burial funds;

(2) burial spaces;

(3) life insurance and other insurance products such as annuities;

(4) income-producing property; and

(5) other financial investment products.

8.281.500.13 RESOURCE EXCLUSIONS:

Some types of resources can be excluded from the calculation of countable resources if they meet the specific criteria listed below.

A. Burial fund exclusion: Up to $1,500 can be excluded from the countable liquid resources of an applicant or recipient if designated as their burial fund. An additional amount of up to $1,500 can be excluded from countable liquid resources if designated as burial funds for the spouse of the applicant or recipient. The burial fund exclusion is separate from the burial space exclusion.

(1) Retroactive designation of burial funds: An applicant or recipient can retroactively designate funds for burial back to the first day of the month in which the applicant or recipient intended the funds to be set aside for burial. The applicant or recipient must sign a statement indicating the month the funds were set aside for burial.

(2) Limit on exclusion: An applicant or recipient can designate as much of their liquid resources as they wish for burial purposes. However, only one burial fund allowance of up to $1,500 each for the applicant or recipient and their spouse can be excluded from countable resources. A burial fund exclusion does not continue from one period of eligibility to another (i.e., across a period of ineligibility). For each new period of eligibility, any exclusion of burial funds must be developed as for an initial application.

(3) Removal of designation: An applicant or recipient cannot "un-designate" burial funds, unless one of the following occurs:

(a) eligibility terminates;

(b) part, or all, of the funds can no longer be excluded because the applicant or recipient purchased excluded life insurance or an irrevocable burial contract which partially or totally offsets the available burial fund exclusion; or

(c) the applicant or recipient uses the funds or any portion of the funds for another purpose; this action makes the funds countable; any designated burial funds used for another purpose will be counted as income in the month withdrawn and as a resource thereafter.

(4) Reduction of burial fund exclusion: The $1,500 burial fund exclusion is reduced by the following:

(a) the face value of excluded life insurance policies;

(b) assets held in irrevocable burial trusts; irrevocable means the value paid cannot be returned to the applicant or recipient;

(c) assets that are not burial space items held in irrevocable burial contracts;

(d) assets held in other irrevocable burial arrangements; and

(e) assets held in an irrevocable trust available to meet burial expenses.

(5) Interest from burial fund: Interest derived from a burial fund is not considered a countable resource or income if all the following conditions exist:

(a) the original amount is excluded;

(b) the excluded burial fund is not commingled with non-excluded burial funds;

(c) the interest earned remains with the excluded burial funds.

(6) Commingling of burial funds: Burial funds cannot be commingled with non-burial funds. If only part of the funds in an account are designated for burial, the burial fund exclusion cannot be applied until the funds designated for burial expenses are separated from the non-burial funds. Countable and excluded burial funds can be commingled.

(7) Life insurance policy designated as burial fund: An applicant or recipient can designate a life insurance policy as a burial fund at the time of application. The ISD caseworker must first analyze Subsection H of 8.281.500.13 NMAC.

(8) Burial contracts: If an applicant or recipient has a prepaid burial contract, the ISD caseworker determines whether it is revocable or irrevocable and whether it is paid for. Until all payments are made on a burial contract, the amounts paid are considered burial funds and no burial space exclusions apply.

(a) An applicant or recipient may have a burial contract which is funded by a life insurance policy. The life insurance may be either revocably or irrevocably assigned to a funeral director or mortuary.

(b) A revocable contract exists if the value can be returned to the applicant or recipient. An irrevocable contract exists when the value cannot be returned. If the contract or insurance policy assignment is revocable, the following apply.

(i) If the burial contract is funded by a life insurance policy, the policy is the resource which must be evaluated. The burial contract itself has no value. It exists only to explain the applicant's or recipient's burial arrangements.

(ii) No exclusions can be made for burial space items because the applicant or recipient does not have a right to them if the contract is not paid for or the policy is not paid up.

(c) If the assignment is irrevocable, the life insurance or burial contract is not a countable resource, because the applicant or recipient does not own it.

(i) The burial space exclusions can apply if the applicant or recipient has the right to the burial space items.

(ii) The value of the irrevocable burial arrangement is applied against the $1,500 burial fund exclusion only if the applicant or recipient has other liquid resources to designate for burial.

B. Burial space exclusion: A burial space or an agreement which represents the purchase of a burial space held for the burial of an applicant or recipient, their spouse, or any other member of their immediate family is an excluded resource regardless of value. Interest and accruals on the value of a burial space are excluded from consideration as countable income or resources.

(1) When calculating the value of resources to be deemed to an applicant or recipient from their parent(s) or spouse, the value of spaces held by the parent(s) or spouse which are to be used for the burial of the applicant or recipient, or any member of the applicant's or recipient's immediate family, including the deemer parent or spouse, must be excluded.

(2) The burial space exclusion is separate from, and in addition to, the burial fund exclusion.

(3) Burial space definitions: "Burial space" is defined as a burial plot, gravesite, crypt, mausoleum, casket, urn, niche, or other repository customarily used for the deceased's bodily remains.

(a) A burial space also includes necessary and reasonable improvements or additions, such as vaults, headstones, markers, plaques, burial containers (e.g., caskets), arrangements for the opening and closing of a gravesite, and contracts for care and maintenance of the gravesite, sometimes referred to as endowment or perpetual care.

(b) Items that serve the same purpose are excluded once per applicant or recipient, such as excluding a cemetery lot and a casket, but not a casket and an urn.

(4) Burial space contract: An agreement which represents the purchase of a burial space is defined as a contract with a burial provider for a burial space held for the eligible applicant or recipient or a member of their immediate family.

(a) Until all payments are made on the contract, the amounts paid are considered burial funds and no burial space exclusions apply.

(b) An applicant's or recipient's immediate family includes:

(i) spouse;

(ii) natural or adoptive parents;

(iii) minor or adult children, including adoptive and stepchildren;

(iv) siblings, including adoptive and stepsiblings; and

(v) spouse of any of the above relatives.

(c) If a relative's relationship to an applicant or recipient is by marriage only, the relationship ceases to exist upon the dissolution of the marriage.

(5) Burial space "held" for an applicant or recipient: A burial space is considered held for an applicant or recipient if:

(a) someone has title to or possesses a burial space intended for the use of the applicant or recipient or a member of their immediate family; or

(b) someone has a contract with a funeral service company for a specified burial space for the applicant or recipient or a member of their immediate family, such as an agreement which represents the applicant's or recipient's current right to the use of the items at the amount shown.

(6) Until the purchase price is paid in full, a burial space is not considered "held for" an applicant or recipient under an installment sales contract or similar device if:

(a) the applicant or recipient does not currently own the space;

(b) the applicant or recipient does not currently have the right to use the space; and

(c) the seller is not currently obligated to provide the space.

C. Life estate exclusion: The value of a life estate interest in the applicant's or recipient's own home or in the home of another is excluded if the applicant or recipient has continuously resided in the home for a period of 12 months or more from the date of the life estate purchase. The value of the remainderman's interest when a life estate is retained in one's own home is considered a transfer of resources to be evaluated in accordance with 8.281.500.14 NMAC.

D. Settlement exclusions: Agent orange settlement payments made to applicant or recipient veterans or their survivors are excluded from consideration as resources.

(1) Payments made under the Radiation Exposure Compensation Act are excluded from consideration as resources.

(2) Payments received from a state-administered fund established to aid victims of crime are excluded for nine months beginning the month after the month of receipt.

(3) Payments under the foundation called 'remembrance, responsibility and the future', excluded from consideration as resources.

E. Exclusions for real property and home: A home is any shelter used by an applicant or recipient, or their spouse, as the principal place of residence. The home is not considered a countable resource while in use by the applicant, recipient, or their spouse as a principal place of residence. If an applicant's or recipient's home equity value exceeds the amount allowed under 8.200.510 NMAC, then the entire valued amount of their home is a countable resource. An applicant or recipient with home equity of more than the amount specified shall be placed on restricted coverage for as long as they own the home. The home includes any buildings and contiguous land used in the operation of the home. If the amount is equal to or less than allowed under 8.200.510 NMAC, then their home is excluded during the periods when they reside in an acute care or long-term care medical facility when the applicant or recipient, or their authorized representative, states that the applicant or recipient intends to return to their home.

F. Exclusion of home: If the applicant or recipient or their authorized representative states the applicant or recipient does not intend to return to the home, but the home is the residence of the applicant's or recipient's spouse or dependent minor child or adult disabled child, the home is an excluded resource.

G. Income-producing property exclusion: To be excluded from consideration as a countable resource, income-producing property that does not qualify as a bona fide business (e.g., rental property or mineral rights) must have an equity value of no more than $6,000 and an annual rate of return of at least six percent of the equity value. See Subsection F of 8.281.500.13 NMAC if the equity value exceeds $6,000 but the rate of return is at least six percent annually. The $6,000 and six percent limitation does not apply to property used in a trade or bona fide business, or to property used by an applicant or recipient as an employee which is essential to the applicant's or recipient's self-support (e.g., tools used in employment as a mechanic, property owned or being purchased in conjunction with operating a business). Existence of a bona fide business can be established by documentation such as business tax returns.

(1) Determination of rate of return: To calculate the annual rate of return for income producing property when the $6,000 and six percent limits apply, the previous year's income tax statement, or at least three months earnings is used to project the rate of return for the year.

(a) If the income is sporadic or has decreased from that needed to maintain a six percent rate of return for the coming year, the property is reevaluated at appropriate intervals.

(b) If the annual rate of return is at least six percent of the equity value but the equity value exceeds $6,000, only the excess equity is a countable resource.

(c) If the annual rate of return is less than six percent but the usual rate of return is more, the property is excluded as a countable resource if all the following conditions are met:

(i) unforeseeable circumstances, such as a fire, cause a temporary reduction in the rate of return;

(ii) the previous year's rate of return, as documented by the income tax statement or several months receipts, is at least six percent; and

(iii) the property is expected to produce a rate of return of at least six percent within 18 months of the end of the year in which the adverse circumstances occurred; the ISD caseworker records in the case narrative the plan of action which is expected to increase the rate of return.

(d) The ISD caseworker notifies the applicant or recipient in writing that the property is excluded based on its expected increase in return and that it will be reevaluated at the end of the 18 month grace period. When this period ends, the property must be producing an annual rate of at least six percent to continue to be excluded as a countable resource.

(2) Types of income-producing property: Income-producing property includes:

(a) a business, such as a farm or store, including necessary capital and operating assets such as land and buildings, inventory or livestock; the property must be in current use or have been used with a reasonable expectation of resumed use within a year of its most recent use; the ISD caseworker must account for the cash actually required to operate the business; liquid business assets of any amount are excluded;

(b) non-business property includes rental property, leased property, land leased for its mineral rights, and property producing items for home consumption; property which produces items solely for home use is assumed to be producing an annual rate of return of at least six percent;

(c) employment-related property, such as tools or equipment; the applicant or recipient must provide a statement from their employer to establish that tools or equipment are required for continued employment when the applicant or recipient leaves the institution; if the applicant or recipient is self-employed, only those tools normally required to perform the job adequately are excluded; the applicant or recipient must obtain a statement from someone in the same line of self-employment to establish what is excludable.

H. Vehicle exclusion: The term "vehicle" includes any mode of transportation such as a passenger car, truck or special vehicle. Included in this definition are vehicles which are unregistered, inoperable, or in need of repair. Vehicles used solely for purposes other than transportation, such as disassembly to resell parts, racing or as an antique, are not included in this definition. Recreational vehicles and boats are classified as personal effects and are evaluated under the household goods and personal effects exclusion. One vehicle is totally excluded if regardless of value if it is used for transportation for the applicant or recipient or a member of their household. Any other automobiles are considered to be non-liquid resources. Equity in the other automobiles is counted as a resource.

I. Life insurance exclusion: The value of life insurance policies is not considered a countable resource if the total cumulative face value of all policies owned by the applicant or recipient does not exceed $1,500. A policy is considered to be "owned" by the applicant or recipient if the applicant or recipient is the only one who can surrender the policy for cash.

(1) Consideration of burial insurance and term insurance: Burial insurance and term insurance are not considered when computing the cumulative face value because this insurance is redeemable only upon death.

(2) Calculation when value exceeds limit: If the total cumulative face value of all countable life insurance policies owned by the applicant or recipient exceeds $1,500, the ISD caseworker:

(a) verifies the total cash surrender value of all policies and considers the total amount a countable resource;

(b) informs the applicant or recipient that the insurance policies can be converted to term insurance or ordinary life insurance of lower face value at their option, if the cash surrender value, alone or in combination with other countable resources, exceeds the resource standard.

J. Qualified State Long-term Care Insurance Partnership (QSLTCIP) program: A resource exclusion equal to the amount of the qualified long-term care insurance benefit payments is made to or on the behalf of the applicant or recipient as determined during their eligibility process.

(1) In order to be considered a QSLTCIP policy it must meet the requirements set forth in 1917(a) of the Social Security Act.

(2) The applicant or recipient:

(a) must have been a beneficiary of a QSLTCIP that was purchased on or after August 15, 2015; or

(b) must have a QSLTCIP policy established in another state with a CMS approved state plan for state long-term care insurance partnerships and the beneficiary must have been a resident of such a state on the date the policy was purchased; or

(c) must be a current New Mexico resident and after August 14, 2015 have purchased a long-term care policy that was converted to a QSLTCIP through an endorsement, exchange, or rider.

(3) Long-term care insurance does not qualify as a QSLTCIP.

(4) Resources excluded in the amount of benefits paid out are also excluded in the estate recovery process.

(5) Resources can be designated for protection when a MAP category of eligibility for either institutional care services or home and community based services is established, while receiving MAD benefits provided through institutional care or home and community based waiver programs, or during the estate recovery process after a recipient dies.

(6) An applicant or recipient may protect assets up to the amount of QSLTCIP benefit payments made to or on the behalf of an applicant or recipient; this is the eligible applicant or recipient's protected asset limit (PAL). If the value of protected assets exceeds the PAL, the excess value is counted against the asset limit and is not protected in estate recovery.

(7) The following conditions may apply to assets protected under a QSLTCIP:

(a) an applicant or recipient may keep protected resources;

(b) the value of protected assets is updated each year at the MAP eligibility review; the updated value is the counted towards the PAL;

(c) an applicant or recipient may transfer a protected asset to another person without a transfer penalty; a transferred asset is counted against the PAL based on the value of the asset on the day it was transferred;

(d) an applicant or recipient may use a protected asset to obtain another protected asset, which then becomes the protected asset;

(e) an applicant or recipient can spend or deplete a protected asset; the asset continues to be protected and is counted against the PAL even though the applicant or recipient no longer has it;

(f) once an asset is officially designated for protection, it cannot be undesignated in favor of designating another asset;

(g) changes in the status of protected assets must be reported at the recipient's annual re-determination for MAP eligibility; some examples of changes are transferring, spending, depleting, or replacing an asset; and

(h) new countable assets that are reported in-between MAP eligibility renewals must be evaluated when reported to determine if they can be protected under the QSLTCIP program's PAL;

(i) the following assets cannot be protected under the QSLTCIP program and must be made available after the death of the recipient to reimburse HSD up to the amount of the paid MAD benefits on the deceased recipient behalf;

(i) special and or supplemental needs, pooled charitable trusts, irrevocable trusts with a reversionary state interest, or income diversion trusts; and

(ii) annuity interest where HSD has been named a reminder beneficiary.

(8) Unused asset protection may result because all available asset protection was not used at the time of designation or when an applicant or recipient PAL has increased because the applicant or recipient continues to receive benefits from a QSLTCIP while receiving MAD benefits.

(9) Unused asset protection will automatically apply to protect assets already officially indicated for protection when the value of the asset has increased and there is unused asset protection.

(10) Unused asset protection may also be used to more fully cover an asset that is only partially protected, protect additional assets that have become available during a recipient's lifetime, or to protect assets in a recipient's estate after they die.

K. Produce for home consumption exclusion: The value of produce for home consumption is totally excluded.

L. Exclusion of settlement payments from the federal department of housing and urban development: Payments from the department of housing and urban development (HUD) as defined in Underwood v. Harris are excluded as income and resources. These one-time payments were made in the spring of 1980 to certain eligible tenants of subsidized housing (Section 236 of the National Housing Act).

(1) Segregation of payment: To be excluded as a resource, payments retained by an applicant or recipient must be kept separate; these payments must not be combined with any other countable resources.

(2) Income from segregated funds: Interest or dividend income received from segregated payment funds is not excluded from income, or, if retained, is not an excluded resource; this interest or dividend income must be kept separate from excludable payment funds.

M. Lump sum payments exclusion: SSI and social security lump sum payments for retroactive periods are excluded as countable resources for nine months after the month in which they are received. See Subsection B of 8.281.500.15 NMAC for instructions regarding SSI and social security lump sums which are placed into the ownership of a MAD qualifying trust. Social security lump sum payments are considered infrequent income. See Subsection C of 8.281.500.19 NMAC.

N. Home replacement exclusion: The proceeds from a reverse mortgage from the sale of an excluded home is excluded. Additionally, the value of a promissory note or similar installment sales contract which constitutes proceeds from the sale of an excluded home is excluded from countable resources if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) the note results from the sale of the applicant's or recipient's home as described in Subsection E of 8.281.500.13 NMAC;

(2) within three months of receipt (execution) of the note, the applicant or recipient purchases a replacement home which meets the definition of a home in Subsection E of 8.281.500.13 NMAC;

(3) all note-generated proceeds are reinvested in the replacement home within three months of receipt;

(4) additional exclusions: in addition to excluding the value of the note itself, the down payment received from the sale of the former home, as well as that portion of any installment amount constituting payment on the principal are also excluded from countable resources;

(5) failure to purchase another excluded home timely: if the applicant or recipient does not purchase another home which can be excluded under the provisions of Subsection E of 8.281.500.13 NMAC and the following paragraphs within three months, the value of the promissory note or similar sales contract received from the sale of an excluded home becomes a countable resource as of the first moment of the first day of the month following the month the note is executed; if the applicant or recipient purchases a replacement home after the expiration of the three month period, the value of the promissory note or similar installment sales contract becomes an excluded resource effective the month following the month of purchase of the replacement home provided that all other proceeds are fully and timely reinvested;

(6) failure to reinvest proceeds timely: if the proceeds from the sale of an excluded home under a promissory note or similar installment sales contract are not reinvested fully within three months of receipt in a replacement home, the following resources become countable as of the first moment of the first day of the month following receipt of the payment:

(a) the fair market value of the note;

(b) the portion of the proceeds, retained by the applicant or recipient which was not timely reinvested;

(c) the fair market value of the note remains a countable resource until the first moment of the first day of the month following the receipt of proceeds that are fully and timely reinvested in the replacement home; failure to reinvest proceeds for a period of time does not permanently preclude exclusion of the promissory note or installment sales contract; however, previously received proceeds that were not timely reinvested remain countable resources to the extent they are retained;

(7) interest payments: if interest is received as part of an installment payment resulting from the sale of an excluded home under a promissory note or similar installment sales contract, the interest payments are considered countable unearned income in accordance with Subsection A of 8.281.500.19 NMAC;

(8) when the home replacement exclusion does not apply: if the home replacement exclusion does not apply, the market value of a promissory note or sales contract as well as the portion of the payment received on the principal are considered countable resources.

O. Household goods and personal effects exclusion: Household goods and personal effects are excluded if they meet one of the following four criteria:

(1) items of personal property, found in or near the home, which are used on a regular basis; items may include but are not limited to furniture, appliances, recreational vehicles (i.e. boats and RVs), electronic equipment (i.e. computers and television sets), and carpeting;

(2) items needed by the householder for maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises as a home; items may include but are not limited to cooking and eating utensils, dishes, appliances, tools, and furniture;

(3) items of personal property ordinarily worn or carried by the applicant or recipient; items may include but are not limited to clothing, shoes, bags, luggage, personal jewelry including wedding and engagement rings, and personal care items;

(4) items otherwise having an intimate relation to the applicant or recipient; items may include but are not limited to prosthetic devices, educational or recreational items such as books or musical instruments, items of cultural or religious significance to an applicant or recipient; or items required because of an applicant or recipient impairment.

8.281.500.14 ASSET TRANSFERS:

The ISD caseworker must determine whether an applicant or recipient or their spouse transferred assets within a specified period of time (lookback period) before applying for a MAP category of eligibility for institutional care or at any time after approval of the applicant's or recipient's application. Then the ISD caseworker must determine if the applicant or recipient or their spouse received fair market value for the asset. If the applicant or recipient or their spouse did not receive fair market value for the asset, then the applicant or recipient may be subject to a penalty. In the case of an asset held by the applicant or recipient in common with another individual or individuals in a joint tenancy, tenancy in common, or similar arrangement including life estate or remainderman relation, the asset (or the affected portion of such asset) is considered to be transferred by the applicant or recipient when any action is taken, either by the applicant or recipient or by any other individual, acting on behalf of the applicant or recipient (including but not limited to a spouse, representative payee, trustee, guardian, conservator, or another authorized representative), that reduces or eliminates the applicant's or recipient's ownership or control of such asset. Any asset transferred to a community spouse in excess of the community spouse resource allowance (CSRA) is considered to be totally available to the institutionalized spouse and must be spent down before eligibility can be established.

A. Lookback period: Any transfer of assets made prior to February 8, 2006, is subject to a 36-month lookback period prior to the date of the applicant's or recipient's application or at any time subsequent to the approval of an application for a MAP category of eligible for institutional care. Transfers made on or after February 8, 2006, are subject to a 60-month lookback period.

(1) The lookback period is 60 months if the transfer occurred as the result of payments from a trust or portions of a trust that are treated as assets disposed of by the applicant or recipient.

(2) The lookback period starts on the date the applicant or recipient applies for a MAP category of institutional care and is in an institution.

B. Transfer of assets for less than fair market value: If a transfer of assets occurred within the applicable lookback period, or at any time after approval of the applicant's or recipient's application, the ISD caseworker must determine whether the applicant or recipient or their spouse received fair market value for the transferred asset(s).

(1) Documentation requirement: The applicant or recipient or their spouse must provide documentation of the transfer, the fair market value of the asset(s) transferred, the circumstances surrounding the transfer and the amount, if any, received as compensation for the transferred asset.

(2) If the applicant or recipient fails to provide this information without good cause within 30 calendar days from the date requested by the ISD caseworker, the ISD caseworker denies the application or closes the applicant's or recipient's case, as appropriate.

(a) Good cause is considered to exist if the applicant or recipient or their authorized representative can show that they were effectively precluded from timely reporting because of legal, financial, or other reasons, or because of the existence of a health related problem including death of a family member within the specific degree of relationship during the period of time in which the applicant or recipient, or authorized representative has to report the required information. The health or other problem must have been of such severity and duration as to have effectively precluded the applicant or recipient or their authorized representative from reporting in a timely manner. See 8.291.410 NMAC for a detailed description of degree of relationships.

(b) To document the good cause claim, the applicant or recipient or authorized representative must provide proof of the existence of the health or other problem and must explain the circumstances which precluded provision of the required information.

(c) The ISD caseworker makes the determination of good cause subject to review and approval by the county director or designee.

(3) Restricted coverage: If a transfer of assets occurred within the applicable lookback period, or at any time subsequent to approval for a MAP category of institutional care eligibility, for which the applicant or recipient or their spouse did not receive fair market value, the ISD caseworker determines if a penalty period must be calculated. The penalty for transfers of assets for less than fair market value in a MAP category of eligibility for institutional care is restricted coverage. "Restricted coverage " means that the applicant or recipient is eligible for all MAD services except services furnished in a nursing facility or services considered to be long-term care services.

(a) Determine the current average monthly cost of nursing facilities for private patients. See 8.281.500.13 NMAC.

(b) Divide the total uncompensated value (amount) of the resources transferred for less than fair market value by the current average monthly cost of nursing facilities for private patients.

(c) The result is the number of months and partial months for which the applicant or recipient will be on restricted coverage.

(4) Calculating restricted coverage when the transferred asset is income: If income has been transferred as a lump sum, the period of restricted coverage is calculated based on the lump sum value. For transfers of the right to an income stream, the period of restricted coverage is calculated using the actuarial value of all payments transferred. See 8.200.520 NMAC.

C. Transfer rules based on date of transfer: Two sets of rules govern the calculation of penalty periods if a transfer of assets for less than fair market value has occurred. The date of transfer and approval date for the MAP category of institutional care medicaid applicant or recipient institutional care governs which set of rules is used to calculate the penalty period.

(1) For transfers made on or after August 11, 1993: Periods of restricted coverage are calculated as follows (Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993):

(a) the period of restricted coverage begins the month the resources were transferred; the total uncompensated value of the transferred assets divided by the average cost to a private patient for nursing facility services in the state at the time of the applicant's or recipient's application is the methodology used to calculate a period of restricted coverage;

(b) transfers for less than fair market value made by an institutionalized SSI applicant or recipient, or a community spouse of institutionalized applicant or recipient may subject the institutionalized applicant or recipient to a period of restricted coverage;

(c) penalty periods are now consecutive rather than concurrent; if multiple transfers occur in different months, the periods of restricted coverage begin with the month of the initial transfer and run consecutively; for example, if an applicant or recipient transfers an asset for less than fair market value in February causing four months of restricted coverage (i.e., February through May) and transfers another asset in April causing three months of restricted coverage, the second period of restricted coverage begins in June and lasts through August; and

(d) if an institutionalized applicant or recipient with a community spouse is placed on restricted coverage as the result of a transfer of assets for less than fair market value and the community spouse subsequently becomes eligible for a MAP category of eligibility for institutional care, any remaining months in the restricted coverage period must be divided equally between the spouses.

(2) For transfers made on or after February 8, 2006: Pursuant to the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005, otherwise eligible institutionalized recipients who transfer assets for less than fair market value after this date are penalized as follows:

(a) the period of restricted coverage begins the first day of the month in which the resources were transferred, or the date on which the individual applicant or recipient meets a MAP category of eligibility, and would otherwise be receiving institutional level of care but for the application of the penalty period, whichever is later, and does not occur during any other period of ineligibility as a result of an asset transfer; see Subsection B of 8.281.500.14 NMAC for the methodology used to calculate a period of restricted coverage;

(b) once eligibility has been determined and a penalty period has begun to run, it continues until expiration, whether or not there is a break in the institutionalized recipient's eligibility;

(c) the beginning date of restricted coverage is the first day of the month in which the resources were transferred provided the applicant or recipient is institutionalized and retains their MAP category of eligibility for institutional care; for current recipients who fail to report a transfer, the recipients will continue to receive benefits until the adverse action notice date, but HSD may seek to recover any MAD benefits paid for long-term care services during what should have been a period of restricted coverage; federal law does not provide a basis to impose a transfer penalty based on date of discovery;

(d) for a non-institutionalized applicant or recipient, the date restricted coverage begins is the month in which the applicant or recipient becomes institutionalized;

(e) transfers for less than fair market value made by an institutionalized SSI applicant or recipient, or a community spouse of the institutionalized applicant or recipient may subject the institutionalized applicant or recipient to a period of restricted coverage; and

(f) multiple transfers occurring in different months are added together and calculated as a single period of ineligibility, that begins on the earliest date that would otherwise apply if the transfer had been made in a single lump sum.

D. Non-excludable transfers: Certain financial instruments must be evaluated before they can be considered a transfer of assets.

(1) Annuities: Annuities belonging to the applicant or recipient or to the spouse of the applicant or recipient must be declared. Annuities must be actuarially sound with no deferral and no balloon payments. Annuities purchased or issued after February 8, 2006, must meet the following additional requirements for exclusion as a transfer of assets:

(a) HSD is named as the remainder beneficiary in the first position for at least the total amount of MAD benefits paid on behalf of the institutionalized applicant or recipient; HSD may be named the remainder beneficiary in the second position if there is a community spouse, or a minor, or a disabled child and is named in the first position if the community spouse or an authorized representative of the child disposes of any such remainder for less than fair market value;

(b) when HSD is a beneficiary of an annuity, issuers of annuities are required to notify MAD of any changes in the disbursement of income or principal from the annuity as well as any changes to HSD's position as remainder beneficiary; and

(c) it is non-assignable and irrevocable.

(2) Life estates: If an applicant or recipient purchases a life estate in another individual's home, the applicant or recipient must live in that home for a period of at least 12 months after the date of purchase or the transaction will be treated as a transfer of assets for less than fair market value.

(3) Promissory notes: If an applicant or recipient uses funds to purchase a promissory note, the repayment terms must be actuarially sound, provide for equal payment amounts with no deferral or balloon payments, and it must contain a provision that prohibits cancellation of the balance upon the death of the applicant or recipient lender. A promissory note not meeting these requirements shall be treated as a transfer of assets for less than fair market value.

E. Excludable transfers: If certain conditions are met, an applicant or recipient is not placed on restricted coverage for transferring assets for less than fair market value.

(1) Transferred asset was home: The asset transferred was a home and title to the home was transferred to:

(a) the spouse of the applicant or recipient;

(b) the son or daughter of the applicant or recipient who is under 21 years of age or who meets the social security administration's definition of disability or blindness; if the child is receiving benefits based on disability or blindness from a program other than social security or SSI, or is not receiving benefits based on disability or blindness from any program, the ISD caseworker must request a determination of disability or blindness from disability determination services;

(c) sibling of the applicant or recipient who has an equity interest in the home and who was residing in the home for a period of at least one year immediately before the applicant or recipient was institutionalized; or

(d) son or daughter of the applicant or recipient who was residing in the home for a period of at least two years immediately before the applicant or recipient was institutionalized; for this exclusion to apply, the ISD caseworker must determine that the son or daughter provided care to the applicant or recipient which permitted the applicant or recipient to reside at home rather than in a medical facility or nursing home.

(2) Other asset transfers: Sufficient information must be given to the ISD caseworker to establish that either:

(a) the applicant or recipient intended to dispose of the asset at fair market value; or

(b) at the time of the transfer the applicant or recipient had no expectation of applying for a MAP category of eligibility and the resources were transferred exclusively for a purpose other than to qualify for a MAP category of eligibility as demonstrated by a preponderance of evidence; unless these conditions are met, the transfer is presumed to have been for the purpose of qualifying for a MAP category of eligibility; or

(c) HSD determines that the denial of eligibility would work an undue hardship.

(3) Asset transferred to or for the sole benefit of the community spouse: No transfer penalty is assessed when assets are transferred from one spouse to another (e.g., assets are transferred from an institutionalized spouse to a community spouse). Any asset transferred to a community spouse or to another individual for the sole benefit of the community spouse in excess of the CSRA is considered to be totally available to the institutionalized spouse and must be spent down before eligibility can be established. No transfer penalty is assessed when assets are transferred to another for the sole benefit of the community spouse if all of the conditions listed in Subparagraphs (a) through (c) below are met.

(a) a transfer is considered to be for the sole benefit of the community spouse if it is arranged in such a way that no individual or entity except the community spouse can benefit from the assets transferred in any way, whether at the time of the transfer or at any time in the future;

(b) a transfer, or transfer instrument, that provides for funds or property to pass to a beneficiary who is not the community spouse is not considered to be established for the sole benefit of the community spouse; for a transfer to be considered to be for the sole benefit of the community spouse, the instrument or document must provide for the spending of the funds involved for the benefit of the community spouse on a basis that is actuarially sound based on the life expectancy of the community spouse or when the instrument or document does not so provide, any potential exemption from penalty or consideration for eligibility purposes is void;

(c) to determine whether an asset was transferred for the sole benefit of the community spouse, ensure that the transfer was accomplished via a written instrument of transfer (e.g., a trust document) which legally binds the parties to a specified course of action and which clearly sets out the conditions under which the transfer was made, as well as who can benefit from the transfer; a transfer without such a document cannot be said to have been made for the sole benefit of the community spouse since there is no way to establish, without a document, that only the community spouse will benefit from the transfer.

(4) Asset transfers to or for the sole benefit of a blind or disabled child of the institutionalized individual: No transfer penalty is assessed when assets are transferred to a blind or disabled child of the institutionalized applicant or recipient, or to a trust established solely for the benefit of a blind or disabled child of the institutionalized applicant or recipient. For this exemption to apply, the child must meet the social security administration's definition of blindness or disability. The transfer must either meet the criteria set forth in 8.281.500.11 NMAC or meets all of the conditions listed in this section, Subparagraphs (a) through (c) below to be excluded in the eligibility determination process.

(a) A transfer to such a blind or disabled child is considered to be for the sole benefit of that child if the transfer is arranged in such a way that no individual or entity, except the blind or disabled child, can benefit from the assets transferred in any way, whether at the time of the transfer or at any time in the future.

(b) A transfer, or transfer instrument, that provides for funds or property to pass to a beneficiary who is not the blind or disabled child of the institutionalized applicant or recipient is not considered to be established for the sole benefit of the blind or disabled child. For a transfer or trust to be considered to be for the sole benefit of a blind or disabled child, the instrument or document must provide for the spending of the funds involved for the benefit of the blind or disabled child on a basis that is actuarially sound based on the life expectancy of the child. When the instrument or document does not so provide, any potential exemption from penalty or consideration for eligibility purposes is void.

(c) To determine whether an asset was transferred for the sole benefit of the blind or disabled child of the institutionalized applicant or recipient, ensure that the transfer was accomplished via a written instrument of transfer (e.g., a trust document) which legally binds the parties to a specified course of action and which clearly sets out the conditions under which the transfer was made, as well as who can benefit from the transfer. A transfer without such a document cannot be said to have been made for the sole benefit of the blind or disabled child since there is no way to establish, without a document, that only the blind or disabled child will benefit from the transfer.

(5) Asset transfers to a trust for the sole benefit of a disabled individual under age 65: No transfer penalty is assessed when assets are transferred to a trust established for the sole benefit of an individual under age 65 who meets the social security administration's definition of disability. The transfer must either meet the criteria set forth in 8.281.500.11 NMAC or meet all of the conditions listed in Subparagraphs (a) through (c) below to be excluded in the eligibility determination process.

(a) A transfer is considered to be for the sole benefit of a disabled individual under age 65 as described above if the transfer is arranged in such a way that no individual or entity except the disabled individual can benefit from the assets transferred in any way, whether at the time of the transfer or at any time in the future.

(b) A transfer, transfer instrument, or trust that provides for funds or property to pass to a beneficiary who is not a disabled individual under age 65 as described above, is not considered to be established for the sole benefit of the disabled individual. For a transfer or trust to be considered to be for the sole benefit of the disabled individual, the instrument or document must provide for the spending of the funds involved for the benefit of the disabled individual on a basis that is actuarially sound based on the life expectancy of the disabled individual. When the instrument or document does not so provide, any potential exemption from penalty or consideration for eligibility purposes is void.

(c) To determine whether an asset was transferred for the sole benefit of the disabled individual, ensure that the transfer was accomplished via a written instrument of transfer (e.g., a trust document) which legally binds the parties to a specified course of action and which clearly sets out the conditions under which the transfer was made, as well as who can benefit from the transfer. A transfer without such a document cannot be said to have been made for the sole benefit of the disabled individual since there is no way to establish, without a document, that only the disabled individual will benefit from the transfer.

(6) Assets transfers and qualified state long-term care insurance partnerships (QSLTCIP) protected asset limits (PAL):

(a) No transfer penalty is assessed if at initial determination the applicant or recipient has indicated protection of the transferred asset and there is enough of the PAL to cover the value of the resource at the time of the transfer.

(b) No transfer of assets penalty is assessed if the applicant or recipient has previously indicated an asset for protection and there was enough of the applicant's or recipient's PAL to cover the value of the resource at the time of the transfer.

(c) No transfer penalty is assessed for the portion of a resource which has been partially protected. The unprotected portion of the resource is subject to all assets transfer provisions outlined in 8.281.500.14 NMAC.

F. Re-establishing eligibility: If an asset is transferred for less than fair market value and the applicant or recipient is placed on restricted coverage, they have options to re-establish their past MAP category of eligibility.

(1) Reimbursement by transferee: The individual to whom the asset was transferred can reimburse the applicant or recipient for the asset at fair market value or liquidate or sell the asset and spend an amount equal to the uncompensated fair market value on the applicant's or recipient's care or other exempt assets as listed in 8.281.500.13 NMAC.

(2) Return asset to applicant: The asset can be transferred back to the applicant or recipient, liquated or sold. The applicant or recipient must determine the use of the asset; such use may include spending down the resource limit on the applicant's or recipient's care, classifying the resource as exempt as listed in 8.281.500.13 NMAC, or having the asset become a countable resource.

(3) If the transferred asset is restored to an applicant or recipient, they may become totally ineligible for a MAP category of institutional care eligibility due to excess resources. The ISD caseworker must verify that the applicant's or recipient's countable assets do not exceed the standard for a MAP category of institutional care eligibility. If the transferred asset is restored to an applicant or recipient, they may no longer be eligible for a MAP category of institutional care due to the excess resources. The ISD caseworker must verify that the applicant's or recipient's countable assets meet the requirements to have a MAP category of institutional care eligibility.

8.281.500.15 RESOURCE STANDARDS FOR MARRIED COUPLES:

A. Community property resource determination methodology: Community property resource determination methodology is used in the eligibility determination for a married applicant or recipient who began institutionalization for a continuous period prior to September 30, 1989.

(1) To determine the countable value of resources, the ISD worker must:

(a) add the total value of all resources owned by both spouses;

(b) exclude the separate property of the non- applicant or recipient spouse; and

(c) attribute one-half of the total value of the community property to the applicant or recipient spouse plus the value of their separate property;

(d) the resulting figure must be less than $2,000.

(2) Application of community property rules: Under community property rules, all property held by either spouse is presumed to be community property unless successfully rebutted by the applicant or recipient, or representative. To rebut community property status, the applicant or recipient, or representative must document that the property was:

(a) acquired before marriage or after a divorce or legal separation;

(b) designated as separate property by a judgment or decree of any court;

(c) acquired by either spouse as a gift or inheritance; or

(d) designated as separate property by a written agreement between the spouses, including a deed or other written agreement concerning property held by either or both spouses in which the property is designated as separate property.

(i) If one of the parties to this written agreement is incompetent, legal counsel must execute the agreement on behalf of the incompetent spouse.

(ii) Property designated as separate by written agreement is evaluated according to current rules regarding transfer of resources.

(iii) Income cannot be designated as separate by an agreement between spouses; income is considered separate only if it is derived from a resource that has been determined separate.

B. Spousal impoverishment: Spousal impoverishment provisions apply if one spouse of a married couple is institutionalized for a continuous period of at least 30 consecutive days beginning on or after September 30, 1989. See spousal impoverishment provisions of the Medicare Catastrophic Coverage Act of 1988 (MCCA). No comparable treatment of resources and income is required for non-institutionalized applicants or recipients who do not have a spouse remaining in the community. These provisions cease to apply as of the month following the month an applicant or recipient is no longer institutionalized or no longer has a community spouse. If a community spouse or other dependents apply for a MAP category of eligibility they are subject to the rules governing treatment of income and resources for the individual applicant or recipient.

(1) Resource assessment: A resource assessment must be completed to evaluate a couple's resources as of the first moment of the first day of the month one member of the married couple is institutionalized for a continuous period of at least 30 consecutive days beginning on or after September 30, 1989. This process is used to determine the amount of resources which may be protected for the community spouse. See Subparagraph (f) below for resources which must be included in the resource assessment. The resource assessment and computation of spousal shares occurs only once, at the beginning of the first continuous period of institutionalization beginning on or after September 30, 1989. A new resource assessment may be completed if it is later determined that the original resource assessment was inaccurate. Upon the death of the community spouse, the ISD worker may review the applicant's or recipient's resources.

(a) A MAP application does not need to be submitted at the time the assessment is requested. A reasonable fee may be charged for completing assessments which are not made in conjunction with the applications. Applications for assessments are available at the ISD offices which determine eligibility for a MAP category of institutional care. Either member of the couple or their authorized representative may request an assessment application.

(b) The ISD worker must complete a resource assessment using the following criteria:

(i) one member of a married couple became institutionalized on or after September 30, 1989 in an acute care hospital or nursing facility for a continuous period of at least 30 consecutive days;

(ii) the institutionalized applicant or recipient has a spouse who remains in the community in a non-institutionalized setting; and

(iii) the institutionalized spouse remains, or is likely to remain, institutionalized for a period of at least 30 consecutive days based on a written statement from their physician and supporting medical documentation; the institutionalized applicant or recipient is considered "likely to remain " even if they do not actually remain in an institution for 30 consecutive days if they met this condition at the beginning of the period of institutionalization.

(c) The ISD worker explains exactly what verification is required to complete the assessment. If the ISD worker requires further information, the individual requesting the assessment is notified in writing and given a reasonable time period of at least 10 working days to provide the additional information.

(d) The institutionalized individual or their spouse or an authorized representative is responsible for providing all verification necessary to complete the assessment.

(e) The ISD worker completes the resource assessment within 45 calendar days of the date of receipt of the completed and signed assessment application unless verification is still pending by the 45th day. In that case, the assessment is not completed until all necessary information is provided by the institutionalized individual or their spouse or authorized representative.

(f) Assessments include the total value of the couple's countable resources held jointly or separately as of the first moment of the first day of the month one spouse became institutionalized for a continuous period of at least 30 consecutive days beginning on or after September 30, 1989. The assessment form identifies the spousal shares and the CSRA. The couple is entitled to all resource exclusions allowed in 8.281.500.13 NMAC except that value limits for the exempt vehicle and household goods of the community spouse do not apply. Assets excluded under the QSLTCIP program are counted in the spousal resource assessment. The disregarded assets are included in determining the amount of the CSRA. The disregarded asset is not counted in determining the applicant's or recipient's eligibility.

(g) When the assessment is complete, the ISD worker copies all documentation used to make the determination of countable resources and retains the documents in the case record. The ISD worker also provides complete copies of the assessment forms to the following parties:

(i) institutionalized applicant or recipient;

(ii) community spouse; and

(iii) authorized representative(s) if any.

(h) When the amount of the couple's total countable resources has been determined, the resulting amount is divided by two to determine the spousal shares. The community spouse is entitled to their spousal share or the MAD minimum resource allowance, whichever is greater, up to the applicable federal maximum standard or an amount determined at a HSD administrative hearing or an amount transferred pursuant to a district court order. The CSRA is the amount by which the greatest of the spousal shares or state minimum resource allowance exceeds the amount of resources otherwise available to the community spouse without regard to such an allowance. The CSRA remains in effect until one of the spouses dies. The remainder of the couple's total countable resources in excess of the CSRA is considered available to the institutionalized spouse. If either the institutionalized spouse or the community spouse is dissatisfied with the computation of the spousal share of the resources, the attribution of resources or the determination of the community spouse resource allowance, they can request a HSD administrative hearing pursuant to 8.352.2 NMAC. Refer to 8.352.2 NMAC for a detailed description of the HSD administrative hearing process.

(2) CSRA standards: The state minimum resource allowance and the federal maximum standards vary based on when the applicant or recipient became institutionalized for a continuous period of at least 30 consecutive days. See 8.281.500.10 NMAC for the applicable standards.

(3) CSRA revision: The CSRA can be revised if either of the following occurs:

(a) a different amount is determined by a HSD administrative hearing final decision or district court decision; or

(b) inaccurate information was provided to the ISD worker at the time the spousal share was calculated.

(4) Resource availability after computation of CSRA: Resources of a couple remaining after the computation of the CSRA are considered available to the institutionalized spouse. These remaining resources are compared to the resource limit.

(a) From the time of the initial determination of eligibility until the first regularly scheduled redetermination, the CSRA is not considered available to the institutionalized spouse.

(b) The CSRA may be applied retroactively for the three months prior to the month of application and is not considered available to the institutionalized spouse until the first periodic review following initial approval.

(5) Resource transfer after computation of the CSRA: When eligibility has been approved for an institutionalized spouse, resources equal to the amount of the CSRA may be transferred to the community spouse. This transfer is intended to assist the community spouse in meeting their needs in the community. Couples should transfer resources in the amount of the CSRA to the community spouse as soon as possible after approval for a MAP category of institutional care eligibility. The institutionalized spouse or authorized representative can complete this transfer at any time between the date of the assessment and the first periodic review 12 months after approval.

(6) Resource transfers which exceed the CSRA: Resources transferred to a community spouse at less than fair market value are not subject to transfer penalties. Resources transferred to the community spouse in excess of the computed CSRA are considered available to the institutionalized spouse and must be spent down to below the resource standard before eligibility can be established. Resources transferred to the community spouse may exceed the CSRA if an increased amount is ordered by any court having jurisdiction or by the MAD director as part of a HSD administrative hearing final decision.

(7) Transfer deadlines: If the resource transfer is not completed by the institutionalized spouse by the end of the initial period of eligibility, the resources are considered completely available to the institutionalized spouse beginning with the first periodic review after the initial determination of eligibility.

(8) Newly acquired assets: After a continuous period of institutionalization begins, newly acquired resources or increases in the value of resources owned by the institutionalized spouse are countable. Recalculations of eligibility for the institutionalized spouse based on countable resources are effective at the beginning of the month following the month in which new resources were received or an increase occurred in the value of resources already owned.

(a) The institutionalized spouse may transfer newly acquired resources to the community spouse without a penalty up to the difference between the CSRA and the state minimum resource standard in effect as of the date of institutionalization.

(b) After a continuous period begins, new resources acquired by the community spouse or increases in the value of resources which are part of the CSRA are not considered available to the institutionalized spouse.

[8.281.500.15 NMAC - Rp, 8.281.500.16 NMAC, 8/15/2015; A, 3/1/2018; A, 12/1/2022]

8.281.500.16 DEEMING RESOURCES:

Deeming of resources applies only during periods when an eligible applicant/recipient under 18 years of age lives at home and during the month the eligible applicant or recipient enters an institution. After the initial month of entry into the institution, only those resources directly attributable to or available to the applicant or recipient are counted and compared to the $2,000 resource limit.

A. Deeming of resources for children who are blind or have a disability: If an applicant or recipient under 18 years of age who is blind or disabled enters an institution, the resources of the parent(s) are deemed to the applicant or recipient if the parent(s) live in the same household. If an ineligible parent receives temporary assistance to needy families (TANF), resources are not deemed to the applicant or recipient.

B. To determine the amount of resources deemed to the applicant or recipient, the following computation is made:

(1) determine parent(s) resources;

(2) allow parent(s) all the resource exclusions that an eligible applicant or recipient would receive;

(3) the remaining resources in excess of $2,000 for one parent or $3,000 for two parents are deemed to the applicant or recipient child; if there is more than one applicant or recipient child, the deemed resources are divided equally; and

(4) the deemed resources are added to whatever countable resources the applicant or recipient child has in their own right; the applicant or recipient child is eligible for a MAP category of institutional care eligibility on the factor of resources if countable resources do not exceed $2,000.

[8.281.500.16 NMAC - Rp, 8.281.500.17 NMAC, 8/15/2015; A, 12/1/2022]

8.281.500.17 INCOME:

An applicant's or recipient's gross countable monthly income must be less than the maximum allowable monthly income standard. If an applicant's or recipient's monthly gross countable income is below $50, the application can still be processed; however, the applicant or the recipient must be referred to the social security administration to apply for SSI. Income may be in the form of cash, checks, and money orders, or in-kind, including personal property or food. If income is not received in the form of cash, the cash value of the item is determined and counted as income. The ISD worker verifies all income and obtains appropriate documentation. Income is counted in the month received. Income is considered available throughout the month regardless of the date received.

A. Types of income: Countable income is the sum of unearned income or earned income, less disregards or exclusions, plus deemed income.

B. Earned income: Earned income consists of the total gross income received by an applicant or recipient for services performed as an employee or as a result of self-employment.

(1) Royalties earned in connection with the publication of an applicant's or recipient's work and any honorarium or fee received for services rendered are considered earned income.

(2) The self-employed applicant or recipient must provide an estimate of their current income based on the tax return filed for the previous year or current records maintained in the regular course of business. The estimate of net earnings for the entire previous taxable year is prorated equally among all months of the current year, even if the business is seasonal.

(a) Consideration is given to the applicant's or recipient's explanation as to why they believe the estimated net earnings for the current year vary substantially from the information shown on their tax return for past years.

(b) A satisfactory explanation is that the business suffered heavy loss or damage from fire, flood, burglary, serious illness or disability of the owner, or other such catastrophic events. Documentation must include copies of newspaper accounts or medical reports and must be filed in the case record to substantiate the need for a reduced estimate of current self-employment income.

C. Unearned income: Unearned income consists of all other income (minus exclusions and disregards) that is not earned in the course of employment or self-employment.

D. Deemed income: Deemed income is income considered available to a minor applicant or recipient from their parents.

E. Community property income methodology: If an applicant or recipient is married, community property income methodology shall be used in the eligibility determination, regardless of the living arrangements, if the one spouse has less income than the other spouse or if using the community property methodology would benefit both spouses. Under this methodology, one-half of the community property income is attributed to each spouse. Income is considered separate if it is earned in and is paid from a non-community property state. Proof of separate income is the burden of the applicant or recipient, spouse, or authorized representative.

[8.281.500.17 NMAC - Rp, 8.281.500.18 NMAC, 8/15/2015; A, 12/1/2022]

8.281.500.18 INCOME STANDARDS:

The applicable income standard used in the determination of a MAP category of institutional care eligibility for an applicant or recipient who has not been institutionalized for a period of 30 consecutive days is the SSI federal benefit rate (FBR) for a non-institutionalized individual. Participation in the medicaid home and community based waiver program is considered institutionalization and counts toward the calculation of the 30-day period. All income, whether in cash or in-kind, shall be considered in the eligibility determination, unless such income is specifically excluded or disregarded.

A. Institutionalization period of 30 consecutive days: After the applicant or recipient has been institutionalized for 30 consecutive days, the application can be approved as of the first day of the 30-day period. Once an applicant or recipient has been institutionalized for 30 consecutive days, the higher income maximum as specified in 8.200.520 NMAC is used.

B. Institutionalization period less than 30 consecutive days: If the applicant or recipient leaves the facility before 30 consecutive days, the lower income standard (SSI FBR) is used to establish eligibility.

C. Transfer or death: If an applicant or recipient transfers to another institution or dies prior to completing 30 consecutive days of institutionalization, the higher income maximum is used. See 8.200.520 NMAC.

(1) Income exclusions: Income exclusions are applied before income disregards. Exclusions are applied in determining eligibility whether the income belongs to the applicant or recipient or to an individual from whom income is deemed.

(2) Infrequent or irregular income: Exclude the first $30 per calendar quarter of earned income; and the first $60 per calendar quarter of unearned income. The following definitions apply:

(a) "Irregular income" is income received on an unscheduled or unpredictable basis.

(b) "Infrequent income" is income received only once during a calendar quarter from a single source and includes:

(i) proceeds of life insurance policies;

(ii) prizes and awards;

(iii) gifts;

(iv) support and alimony;

(v) inheritances;

(vi) interest and royalties; and

(vii) one-time lump sum payments, such as social security.

(c) "Frequency" is evaluated for the calendar quarter (i.e. January - March, April - June, July - September, October - December) but the dollar amount is considered in the month received.

(3) Foster care: Foster care payments are totally excluded if:

(a) the foster child is not eligible for SSI; and

(b) the child was placed in the applicant's or recipient's home by a public or private nonprofit child placement or child care agency.

(4) Domestic volunteer services exclusions: Payments to volunteers under domestic volunteer services (ACTION) programs are excluded from consideration as income in the eligibility determination process. These programs include the following:

(a) volunteers in service to America (VISTA);

(b) university year for action (UYA);

(c) special demonstration and volunteer programs;

(d) retired senior volunteer program (RSVP);

(e) foster grandparent program; and

(f) senior companion program.

(5) Census bureau employment: Wages paid by the census bureau for temporary employment related to the census bureau are excluded from consideration as income in the eligibility determination process.

8.281.500.19 UNEARNED INCOME:

Unearned income includes all income not earned in the course of employment or self-employment. If payment is made in the name of either or both spouses and another party, only the applicant's or recipient's proportionate share is considered available to them. If income is derived from property for which ownership is not established, such as unprobated property, one-half of the income is considered available to each member of a married couple.

A. Standards for unearned income: Unearned income is computed on a monthly basis. If there are no expenses incurred with the receipt of unearned income, such as annuities, pensions, retirement payments or disability benefits, the gross amount is considered countable unearned income.

(1) Social security overpayments: If the social security administration withholds an amount because of an overpayment, the gross social security payment amount is used to determine eligibility. See Subsection B of 8.281.500.22 NMAC for instructions regarding calculation of the medical care credit.

(2) Rental income: If an applicant or recipient has rental property, the ISD worker allows the cost of real estate taxes, maintenance and repairs, advertising, mortgage insurance and interest payments on the mortgage as deductions from the amount received as rent.

(3) Interest on promissory note or sales contract: The portion of the payment representing interest received from a promissory note or sales contract is considered unearned income. The market value of promissory notes or sales contracts and the portion of the payment representing payment of the principal are considered resources. See also Subsection L of 8.281.500.13 NMAC.

(4) Income from annuities, pensions and other periodic payments: Payments from annuities, pensions, social security benefits, disability, veterans benefits, worker compensation, railroad retirement annuities and unemployment insurance benefits and other periodic payments are counted as unearned income.

B. Unearned income exclusions:

(1) Interest from an excluded burial fund: Interest from an excluded burial fund is not considered unearned income if the interest is applied toward the fund balance. If the interest is paid to the applicant or recipient, it is considered unearned income.

(2) Tax refunds and earned income tax credit: Tax refunds from any public agency for property taxes or taxes on food purchases are totally excluded. Any portion of a federal income tax return which constitutes an earned income tax credit is excluded.

(3) Grants, scholarships and fellowships: All grants, scholarships and fellowships used to pay tuition and fees at an educational institution, including vocational and technical schools, are totally excluded. Any portion of a grant, scholarship or fellowship used to pay any other expenses, such as food, clothing or shelter, is not excluded.

(4) Veteran's pensions: Allowances for aid and attendance (A&A) and unusual medical expenses (UME) are excluded from unearned income for determination of eligibility. If an applicant or recipient receives an augmented VA pension as a veteran or veteran's widow or widower, the pension amount may include an increment for a dependent. If so, the VA must be contacted to provide documentation of the portion of the pension which represents the dependent's increment. When verified, this amount of the VA pension is considered the dependent's income.

(5) Payments by a third party: Third party payments are excluded as income if made directly to the applicant's or recipient's creditor.

(a) Third party payments may include mortgage payments by credit life or credit disability insurance and installment payments by a family member on a burial plot or prepaid burial contract.

(b) Interest from a burial contract that is automatically applied to the outstanding balance is excluded from unearned income. If the payment or interest is sent to the applicant or recipient, it is counted as unearned income regardless of the sender's (third party's) intentions. This applies even if the sender specifies the purpose of the payment on the check. This provision does not apply if the signature of the creditor and the applicant or recipient must both be present in order to negotiate the check (two-party check).

(6) Indian tribe per capita payments: Funds held in trust by the secretary of the interior for an Indian tribe and distributed on a per capita basis and any interest and investment income from these funds, are excluded as income and resources in the eligibility determination process and the computation of the medical care credit.

(7) Plans for achieving self-support: Income derived from, or necessary to, an approved plan for achieving self-support for a blind or disabled applicant or recipient under 65 years of age is excluded.

(a) For an applicant or recipient who is blind or disabled and over 65 years of age, this exclusion applies only if they received MAD services for the month preceding their 65th birthday.

(b) The self-support plan must be in writing and contain the following:

(i) designated occupational objective;

(ii) specification of any savings (resource) or earnings needed to complete the plan, such as amounts needed for purchase of equipment or for financial independence;

(iii) identification and segregation of any income saved to meet the occupational goal;

(iv) designation of a time period for completing the plan and achieving the occupational goal.

(c) Plans for achieving self-support are developed by vocational rehabilitation counselors. If a self-support plan is not in place, the ISD worker makes a referral to the division of vocational rehabilitation (DVR).

(d) The ISD worker forwards the written plan and documentation to the MAD eligibility unit. The plan must be approved by that unit.

(e) An approved plan is valid for the following specified time periods:

(i) initial period of no more than 18 months;

(ii) extension period of no more than 18 months;

(iii) final period of no more than 12 months; and

(iv) total period of no more than 48 months.

(8) Agent orange settlement payments: Agent orange settlement payments made to applicant or recipient veterans or their survivors are excluded from consideration as income in determining eligibility.

(9) Radiation Exposure Compensation Act payments: Payments made under the Radiation Exposure Compensation Act are excluded from consideration as income in determining eligibility.

(10) Victims compensation payments: Payments made by a state-administered fund established to aid victims of crime are excluded from consideration as income in determining eligibility. These payments are included as countable income when calculating the medical care credit.

(11) Lump sums for retroactive periods: SSI lump sum payments for retroactive periods are excluded from consideration as countable income in the month received.

(12) Life insurance and other burial benefits: Life insurance and other burial benefits are unearned income to the beneficiary (not the owner). The ISD worker must subtract the amount spent on the insured recipient's last illness or burial up to $1,500. Any excess is counted as unearned income.

(13) One hundred percent state funded assistance payment: Any one hundred percent-state-funded assistance payment based on need, such as general assistance (GA) is excluded. Any interim payments made by a state or municipality from all state or local funds while an SSI application is pending are excluded.

(14) National vaccine injury compensation program (NVICP) payment: The NVICP funds are excluded as income or a resource until they are actually disbursed by the issuing agent. However, they are counted as income in the month in which they are received and counted as a resource in the following months, provided that the funds in question are not specifically earmarked for medical expenses. If the payment is designated for both living expenses and medical care, a determination must be made to identify how much of the payment is for living expenses, and how much is for medical care. The only portion actually counted then is that amount which is for living expenses. Therefore, a determination must be made as to how the payment is apportioned before making an eligibility determination.

(15) Remembrance, responsibility and the future payments: Payments by the remembrance, responsibility and the future foundation to individual survivors forced into slave labor by the Nazis are excluded as income in determining eligibility.

8.281.500.20 DEEMED INCOME:

A. Availability: Deemed income is income considered available to a minor applicant or recipient from their parents. Deeming of resources and income applies only during periods when an applicant or recipient under 18 years of age is living with their parents and during the month of entry into an institution.

B. Situations in which deeming occurs: Deeming of income occurs:

(1) from ineligible parent to eligible child; or

(2) if there is both a MAP eligible parent and a MAP eligible child in the home.

C. Computing deemed income: The ISD worker computes the total monthly amount of parental unearned and earned income and then computes the deemed income available to the applicant or recipient child. If the deemed income plus the child's separate income exceeds the applicable maximum, the child will not have a MAP category of institutional care eligibility for that month.

(1) Parents and children receiving aid: If one of the applicant or recipient child's parents is receiving any benefit or assistance paid by a governmental agency on the basis of economic need, that benefit plus all the income of that parent is excluded from the deeming process. This exclusion applies only to the income of the parent who receives the benefit. Even if the income of one parent is excluded, that parent is still considered a member of the household for purposes of determining the parental allocation. Provisions for deeming income do not apply to benefits under temporary assistance to needy families (TANF). No income is deemed to a parent or child(ren) if that parent or child(ren) is (are) receiving TANF assistance.

(2) Applicant or recipient parent and their child(ren): If a household is composed of an applicant or recipient parent and an applicant or recipient child(ren), the parent's income is determined according to the methodology appropriate to the MAP category of eligibility which they receive.

(a) If there is enough income to make the applicant or recipient parent ineligible, the remainder of the income is carried over to be deemed to the child(ren).

(b) If there is more than one potentially eligible child, the deemed income is divided equally among them. If total countable income is less than the applicable maximum, the applicant or recipient has a MAP category of institutional care eligibility on the factor of income.

(c) If an applicant or recipient is determined to meet the MAP category of institutional care eligibility, the ISD worker must recompute available income for the following month based on separate income to establish the correct medical care credit. See 8.281.500.23 NMAC, post-eligibility/medical care credit.

8.281.500.21 DISREGARDS:

Income disregards are determined on an individual basis. Disregards may be applied to any appropriate month of assistance, regardless of which income maximum is used.

A. $20 disregard: The first $20 of unearned or earned income received in a month is disregarded. This disregard is applied first to unearned income and, if any amount remains, to earned income. If there is no unearned income, the entire $20 disregard is applied to earned income. This disregard is not applied to any payment made to the applicant or recipient through government assistance programs or private charitable organizations, where payments are based on need. These payments include financial assistance, TANF, assistance from catholic charities, salvation army, bureau of Indian affairs, and VA pension (not compensation) payments.

B. Additional earned income disregard: After applying the $20 disregard as specified in Subsection A of 8.281.500.21 NMAC if appropriate, the first $65 of monthly earned income plus one-half of the remainder is also disregarded.

C. Work-related expenses of the blind: Work-related expenses of an employed applicant or recipient or couple who are legally blind are disregarded. The dollar amount of expenses which may be disregarded must be reasonable. Expenses are disregarded when paid and must be verified.

(1) This disregard does not apply to an applicant or recipient who is blind and is 65 years or age or older, unless they were receiving SSI payments due to blindness in the month before turning 65 or received payments under a state aid to the blind program.

(2) Types of work-related expenses which may be disregarded include:

(a) federal, state, and local income taxes;

(b) social security contributions;

(c) union dues;

(d) transportation costs, including actual cost of bus/taxi cab fare, or $0.15 per mile for private automobile;

(e) lunches;

(f) child care costs, if not otherwise provided;

(g) uniforms, tools and other necessary equipment; and

(h) special expenses necessary to enable an applicant or recipient who is blind to engage in employment, such as a seeing-eye dog or Braille instructions.

D. Student earned income disregard: Up to $1,200 per quarter or a maximum of $1,620 per calendar year of the earned income of certain students may be disregarded. To qualify for this disregard, the applicant or recipient must meet all of the following requirements:

(1) under 22 years of age;

(2) unmarried;

(3) not head of a household; and

(4) in regular attendance at a college or university, for at least 12 semester hours or vocational or technical training course for at least 20 hours per a calendar week.

(a) This disregard applies only to a student's own earned income and includes all payments made as compensation for services, such as wages from employment or self-employment, or payments from programs such as neighborhood youth corps or work-study.

(b) This disregard is available in addition to any exclusions applied to grants, scholarships or fellowships and in addition to any other allowable disregards.

E. Child support payments: One-third of the amount of child support payments made to a child applying for a MAP category of institutional care eligibility is disregarded. The remainder is considered unearned income, subject to the appropriate disregards outlined below.

[8.281.500.21 NMAC - Rp, 8.281.500.22 NMAC, 8/15/2015; A, 12/1/2022]

8.281.500.22 POST ELIGIBILITY/MEDICAL CARE CREDIT:

Once financial eligibility for a MAP category of institutional care has been established, the ISD worker must determine the following.

A. Medical care credit: The medical care credit is the amount of the applicant's or recipient's income used to reduce the MAD payment to the institution where they reside. An applicant or recipient must make this payment directly to the institution. Applicants or recipients eligible for a MAP category of institutional care due to institutionalization in an acute care hospital or an in-state in-patient rehabilitation center are not charged a medical care credit. The amount of the medical care credit is always determined prospectively. The ISD worker computes a medical care credit starting with the first full month of institutional care. No medical care credit is required for the month the recipient enters the institution if they are admitted after the first moment of the first day of the month.

(1) No medical care credit for the month of discharge or death: An applicant or recipient is not required to pay a medical care credit for the month of discharge from the institution. The medical care credit must be paid if the applicant or recipient is transferred to another institution or makes a short visit outside the institution. No medical care credit is charged for the month in which a recipient who received MAD institutional care services dies. This will prevent a deficit for the institution when a benefit, such as social security, must be returned due to the death of a beneficiary.

(2) Application delay: If there is a delay between application and approval, an applicant or recipient incurs a liability for a medical care credit. The ISD worker notifies the applicant or recipient of this liability during the application process and informs them of the amount of the medical care credit they should pay. The applicant or recipient is encouraged to pay the medical care credit to the institution before approval of the application.

(3) Medical care credit during retroactive months: No medical care credits are applied for any period of retroactive eligibility under this provision.

B. Computing the medical care credit: The current personal needs amount (PNA) of an applicant or recipient monthly income is protected for their personal use in a nursing facility. Each year thereafter, the amount of an applicant's or recipient's monthly income shall be adjusted according to the consumer price index as indicated in 8.200.510

NMAC. The excess over the amount protected, subject to other deductions, is applied toward payment for care in the nursing facility as a medical care credit.

(1) See Paragraph (6) of Subsection B of 8.281.500.22 NMAC for personal needs allowance for veterans or surviving spouses.

(2) An applicant's or recipient's total income, including amounts disregarded in determining eligibility, is used to compute the medical care credit with the following exceptions:

(a) Indian tribe per capita payments (see Subsection B of 8.281.500.19 NMAC);

(b) German reparation payments; and

(c) social security administration overpayments.

(i) When the social security administration withholds an amount due to an overpayment, the social security gross payment amount is used to determine eligibility per Subsection A of 8.281.500.19 NMAC. To determine the amount used in calculating the medical care credit, the ISD worker ascertains whether a social security (Title II) overpayment is being recouped or whether an SSI overpayment is being recouped from a social security benefit check (a cross-program recoupment). Cross-program recoupments are at the recipient's option so the gross benefit amount is used to calculate the medical care credit.

(ii) Recoupment of a social security overpayment from a social security benefit check is mandatory. In such cases, the net social security benefit amount is used to calculate the medical care credit.

(d) payments from the Radiation Exposure Compensation Act.

(e) 'remembrance, responsibility and the future' payments.

(3) Dependent children at home: If an institutionalized applicant or recipient with no spouse has dependent children at home who are ineligible for TANF or assistance from any other program, or are eligible for an amount less than the TANF need standard, an allowance for each child of up to the current TANF standard of need may be deducted from the institutionalized applicant's or recipient's income which is in excess of the applicant's or recipient's personal allowance.

(4) Expenses not subject to third party payment 42 CFR 435.725: Amounts for incurred expenses for medical or remedial care that are not subject to payment by a third party, including:

(a) medicare and other health insurance premiums, deductibles, or coinsurance charges; and

(b) necessary medical or remedial care recognized under state law but not covered under the state medicaid plan, subject to reasonable limits on amounts of these expenses. HSD has the following reasonable limits on amounts for necessary medical or remedial care not covered under medicaid:

(i) For expenses not covered under the state Plan or expenses covered under the state plan, but not paid for by medicaid, the amount of the deduction is the billed amount not to exceed the provider's usual and customary charges except for unpaid nursing facility expenses.

(ii) To be deducted, an expense must be for medically necessary medical or remedial care rendered to the applicant or beneficiary and prescribed by a health care practitioner acting within their scope of practice who meet the qualifications of an eligible medicaid provider as listed in the New Mexico Administrative Code (NMAC) 8.310.3.9 even if such practitioner is not a medicaid provider.

(iii) A deduction for incurred medically necessary non-covered medical or remedial care expenses will be allowed when the bill is incurred during a period which is no more than three months prior to the month of the current application. For each month of unpaid nursing facility services incurred during this period, deductions are allowed at an amount not to exceed the average monthly private rate of nursing facility services, as used to calculate asset transfer penalties and which is updated annually in 8.200.510.13 NMAC or a prorated amount of this figure, for unpaid nursing facility services that are for less than a full month.

(iv) The deduction for medical and remedial care expenses that were incurred as the result of a transfer penalty period is limited to zero.

(v) Expenses for cosmetic/elective procedures (e.g., face lifts or liposuction etc.) are not allowed as deductions except when prescribed by a health care practitioner.

(vi) Expenses from medical or remedial procedures that were denied coverage by an insurer, including medicaid, on the basis of a lack of medical necessity are not allowed.

(5) Court-ordered support: A deduction for the full amount of court-ordered child or spousal support is also allowed for the applicant or recipient.

(6) Personal needs allowance for recipients in an ICF-IID: If an applicant or recipient who is institutionalized in an intermediate care facility for individuals with intellectual disabilities (ICF-IID) has a monthly income from employment in a sheltered workshop or other work activity program, up to the first $100 of this earned income is protected for the applicant's or recipient's personal needs. This amount is in addition to the applicant's or recipient's personal needs allowance protected from income from any source. If the applicant's or recipient's income is from any other source, the personal needs allowance is set at the amount as set forth in 8.281.500.12 NMAC.

(7) Veterans administration (VA) benefits: The ISD worker must contact the VA on each veteran's case to verify how much of the benefit is for pension, aid and attendance (A&A) or unusual medical expenses (UME).

(a) For MAP eligible veterans with no spouse or dependent children, and for surviving spouses of veterans without dependent children who do not reside in a state veteran's home (Fort Bayard or Truth or Consequences):

(i) exclude the A&A and UME in the medical care credit computation;

(ii) allow the personal needs allowance as set forth in 8.281.500.12 NMAC;

(iii) the benefit for applicant or recipient will be reduced to $90 per month effective the latest of the following;

(iv) the last day of the calendar month in which medicaid coverage begins;

(v) the last date of the month following 60 calendar days after issuance of a reduction notice;

(vi) the earliest date on which payment may be reduced without creating an overpayment;

(vii) when the benefit is reduced $90, recomputed the medical care credit to allow $90 for personal needs.

(b) For MAP eligible veterans with no spouse or dependent children, and for surviving spouses of veterans without dependent children who do reside in a state veteran's home (Fort Bayard or Truth or Consequences):

(i) include the A&A and UME in the medical care credit computation;

(ii) allow $90 for their personal needs;

(iii) the benefit for the applicant or recipient is not reduced to $90.

(c) Benefits for the following applicants or recipients are not reduced to $90 a month, regardless of whether or not they reside in a state veteran's home:

(i) veterans who have a spouse or dependent child(ren);

(ii) surviving spouses of veterans who have dependent child(ren).

(d) The ISD worker allows these applicants or recipients the allowance as set forth in 8.281.500.12 NMAC, for personal needs.

C. Computing medical care credits for married institutionalized applicants or recipients: To calculate the medical care credit for a married institutionalized applicant or recipient, the "name-on-the-check" rule applies. The ISD worker uses only the income belonging to the institutionalized applicant or recipient to compute their medical care credit. Total gross income before any deductions is used in this process.

(1) Treatment of VA aid and attendance (A&A) and unusual medical expenses (UME): Allowances for A&A and UME are considered when computing the medical credit in accordance with Subsection B of 8.281.500.22 NMAC.

(2) Court-ordered support: A deduction for the full amount of court-ordered child or spousal support is also allowed for the applicant or recipient.

D. Computing medical care credits for an institutionalized couple: To compute medical care credits for each of an eligible institutionalized couple, the ISD worker totals the couple's gross income and divides by two. The personal needs allowance as set forth in Subsection B of 8.281.500.22 NMAC is subtracted from each amount for each applicant's or recipient's personal needs and added to any allowable amount(s) paid by that applicant or recipient for noncovered medical expenses.

E. Medical care credit deductions: The ISD worker applies the deductions listed below in the following order when determining the medical care credit:

(1) institutionalized spouse's personal needs allowance as set forth in 8.281.500.12 NMAC;

(2) community spouse monthly income allowance (CSMIA); the CSMIA deduction is permitted only to the extent that the income is available and is actually contributed to and accepted by the community spouse or other dependent family members:

(a) the CSMIA is calculated by starting with the minimum monthly maintenance needs allowance (MMMNA) and subtracting the community spouse's total gross income;

(b) both spouses shall be given notice of the amount of the CSMIA;

(c) if either spouse is dissatisfied with the amount of the CSMIA, they can request a HSD administrative hearing pursuant to 8.352.2 NMAC, to establish that the community spouse needs income above the minimum monthly maintenance needs allowance; the spouse must demonstrate that the community spouse needs the additional income above the level otherwise provided by the minimum monthly maintenance needs allowance due to exceptional circumstances resulting in significant financial duress; if the spouse establishes that the community spouse needs additional income due to exceptional circumstances resulting in significant financial duress, there shall be substituted for the CSMIA such amount as is necessary to alleviate the financial duress and for so long as the exceptional circumstances exist; if as a result of a HSD administrative hearing final decision or district court hearing, additional income is granted to the community spouse for a specified period of time, when that time expires, the original CSMIA, as calculated by the ISD worker is reinstated; the exceptional circumstances can include medical, remedial or other support expenses that jeopardize the ability of the community spouse to remain self-sufficient in the community;

(d) if as a result of a district court hearing or a HSD administrative hearing final decision, a request for a revision of the CSMIA is granted, the revised amount shall be substituted for the CSMIA calculated by the ISD worker; and

(e) when the institutionalized applicant's or recipient's income is insufficient to provide the minimum authorized deduction for the community spouse, either spouse can request a HSD administrative hearing pursuant to 8.352.2.NMAC if either spouse establishes that the CSRA (in relation to the amount of income generated by such an allowance) is inadequate to raise the community spouse's income to the MMMNA, there shall be substituted, for the CSRA, an amount adequate to provide the MMMNA;

(3) an excess shelter allowance for allowable expenses of the community spouse which exceed thirty percent of the MMMNA standard up to a specified maximum; the following expenses are allowed for the primary residence of the community spouse:

(a) rent or mortgage payment, including interest or principal;

(b) home taxes and insurance;

(c) maintenance charges for a condominium or cooperative; and

(d) amount equal to the standard utility allowance used by the food stamp program if the community spouse incurs a heating or cooling expense; utility expenses included in the rent or the basic maintenance fee for a condominium or cooperative, are not allowed.

(4) The total CSMIA and excess shelter allowance combined may not exceed the standard amount per month, unless the MAD director or a district court orders the institutionalized spouse to pay an increased amount.

(5) An allowance for each eligible family member equal to one-third of the balance obtained after deducting the family member's gross income from the MMMNA. Family members include the couple's minor child(ren) under the age of 18 years, disabled adult child(ren) of the couple who meet the social security administration's definition of disability and dependent sibling(s) or parent(s) of the couple. These family members must reside with the community spouse. The dependency requirements are met if either member of the couple could claim the family member as a dependent for tax purposes.

(6) The deductions for the community spouse and dependent family members apply only so long as there is a community spouse. Deductions for the community spouse and other family members shall cease in the first full calendar month after the community spouse dies, becomes divorced, or is institutionalized.

(7) Health insurance premiums and non-covered medical expense deduction.

F. Reporting requirements: An applicant or recipient, spouse, or authorized representative is required to report to the ISD worker any change in circumstances which may affect eligibility or the medical care credit amount within 10 working days after the date the change occurs. Changes which cause adjustments in an applicant's or recipient's medical care credit amount are effective the month after the change occurs. Family members receiving allowances must also report all changes of gross income and residence within 10 working days after the date the change occurs. Changes must be reported when the institutionalized spouse stops making all or part of a maintenance allowance available to the community spouse or other family member(s), or when the recipient of a maintenance allowance begins to refuse all or part of the income.

G. Changes in income and recipient medical care credit: Payments received by an applicant or recipient, such as social security, VA, retirement or other benefits, are applied to billing for services for the same month in which the payment is received. If the income increases, the institution must continue to collect the amount indicated on the medical care credit report in the eligible recipient's file and immediately advise the ISD worker of the change. The ISD worker processes the change, notifies the institution and the eligible recipient of the new medical care credit amount and indicates the month in which the higher amount is to be collected. The difference between the medical care credit amounts is deposited in the eligible recipient's personal fund account until the change is effective.

8.281.500.23 UNDUE HARDSHIP:

An applicant or recipient subject to a penalty for transfer of assets for less than fair market value may apply for a waiver of the regulation regarding transfer of assets as constituting an undue hardship. The facility where an institutionalized applicant or recipient resides may file an application for waiver of the requirement on behalf of the applicant or recipient with the applicant's or recipient's or authorized representative's consent.

A. The transfer must have been made to someone other than a family member. "Family member" includes son, daughter, grandson, granddaughter, step-son, step-daughter, in-laws, mother, father, step-mother, step-father, half-brother, half-sister, niece, nephew, grandmother, grandfather, aunt, uncle, sister, brother, step-sister, step-brother.

B. The applicant or recipient must demonstrate that the application of the transfer of assets regulation would deprive the applicant or recipient of:

(1) medical care such that the applicant's or recipient's health or life would be endangered; or

(2) food, clothing, shelter or other necessities of life.

C. The applicant or recipient or the facility where the applicant or recipient resides must submit any documentation to support the claim that application of the transfer of assets requirement would constitute an undue hardship within 30 calendar days of the date of the notice regarding the penalty to the ISD county office.

D. Undue hardship does not exist when the application of a transfer penalty causes an applicant or recipient or their family members inconvenience or restricts their lifestyle.

E. The county director of the ISD office will make a decision regarding an application for waiver of the transfer of assets requirements within 30 calendar days of receipt of the application.

(1) Notice of the decision shall be mailed to the applicant or recipient or their authorized representative.

(2) MAD may make payments to the nursing facility for an applicant or recipient who is a resident of the facility while an application for waiver of the requirement is pending to hold the bed for the applicant or recipient. HSD may make payments for no more than 30 calendar days.

F. If the applicant's or recipient's application for waiver of the transfer of assets requirement is granted, MAD shall pay for long-term care services prospective from the date of the application. MAD shall pay for long-term care services as long as the circumstances constituting the basis for waiver of the application of the requirement exist. If the applicant's or recipient's application for waiver of the transfer of assets requirement is denied, the applicant or recipient can request a HSD administrative hearing pursuant to 8.352.2 NMAC within 90 calendar days of the date of the notice of denial.

G. The applicant or recipient or their authorized representative must notify the ISD worker of any change in circumstances which affects the application of the undue hardship waiver exception within 10 working days of the change in circumstances. MAD will review the change of circumstances and determine the next appropriate action, which may include withdrawal of the waiver.

[8.281.510.5 NMAC - N, 10/1/2012]

8.281.510.6 OBJECTIVE:

The objective of this rule is to provide eligibility criteria and procedures for the medicaid programs.

[8.281.510.6 NMAC - N, 10/1/2012]

8.281.510.7 DEFINITIONS:

A. "Assets" include all income and resources as described in Section 8.281.500 NMAC of an applicant/recipient and his/her spouse. Assets not in a trust are considered under the applicable rule to determine if they are countable or excludable for the purposes of medicaid eligibility.

B. "Beneficiary" is the individual(s) for whose benefit the assets are held by the trustee.

C. "Benefit" is something to the advantage of or profit to the recipient.

D. "Community spouse" is an individual as described in Subsection E of Section 8.281.500.7 NMAC, definitions.

E. "Corporate trustee" means a bank, trust company, or company whose primary business is trust services. A corporate trustee may not have any affiliation with the beneficiary either through relatives working for the corporate trustee or investments by the beneficiary with the company other than for administrative fees.

F. "Corpus" is the body of the trust or the original asset used to establish the trust (to include principal, interest, and subsequent additions), such as a sum of money or real property.

G. "Department" is the New Mexico human services department or successor agency.

H. "Grantor" is the owner of or has legal control over the assets placed into a trust. A grantor may also be referred to as a settlor or trustor.

I. "Institutionalized individual" is an individual as described in Subsection K of Section 8.281.500.7 NMAC.

J. "Irrevocable trust" is created when the grantor does not reserve any right to cancel or revoke any provision of the trust.

(1) Although termed irrevocable, a trust which provides that the trust can only be modified or terminated by a court is a revocable trust because the applicant/recipient (or his/her responsible party) or the trustee can petition the court to amend or terminate the trust.

(2) Although termed irrevocable, a trust that will terminate if a certain circumstance occurs during the lifetime of the applicant/recipient, such as the applicant/recipient leaving the nursing facility and returning home, is a revocable trust.

(3) Although termed irrevocable, a trust that can be revoked or terminated upon the agreement of any or all beneficiaries (including residual beneficiaries) is a revocable trust.

K. "Payment" means any disbursal from the corpus of the trust or from income generated by the trust which benefits the party receiving it. A payment may include actual cash, as well as non-cash or property disbursements, such as the right to use and occupy real property.

L. "Residual beneficiary" is a person or entity that receives the remaining trust principal upon the death of the original trust beneficiary.

M. "Revocable trust" is created when the grantor reserves any right to cancel any provision of the trust.

N. "Sole benefit of" means that no individual or entity, except the person for whom the trust was established, may benefit from the assets in any way whether at the time the trust is created or at any time in the future except after medicaid is reimbursed.

O. "Trust" includes any legal instrument, device or arrangement, that is reduced to writing, signed and executed, which may not be called a trust under state law, or which is similar to a trust. A trust is a legal device in which property (real or personal) or other assets are held by one or more individuals for the benefit of others. A trust is usually created by a transfer of assets from the owner (grantor) to the trustee. Assets are not part of a trust and are considered outside of the trust until the date they are actually transferred into the trust, as demonstrated by verifiable documentation, regardless of the effective date of the trust. The transfer may be made while the grantor is alive or it may be made by will. The transfer of assets into a trust divests the original owner of legal title or restricts access to those assets. Trusts may also include structured settlements meeting the requirements stated above.

P. "Trust records" include, but are not limited to verifiable documentation of all transactions paid by or paid into a trust. Minimal documentation of distributions includes date of transaction, amount of payment (or if not paid by cash or other legal tender, type of asset distributed), person or entity receiving distribution, purpose of distribution, if distribution was made to acquire a non-consumable good, the location of that non-consumable good, and person or entity authorizing the distribution. Minimal documentation of additions to the trust includes the date of the transaction and a description of or amount of the asset transferred into the trust. The department shall not pay any costs or fees for obtaining trust records from the applicant/recipient or the trustee.

Q. "Trustee" is a person or entity who holds and controls the assets in the trust. The trustee usually has legal title to the assets held in the trust and is considered the owner of the trust assets in most dealings with third parties.

8.281.510.8 [RESERVED]

8.281.510.9 MEDICAID QUALIFYING TRUSTS (MQT):

An MQT is a trust created prior to August 11, 1993. An MQT is a trust, or similar legal device, established (other than by will) by an applicant/recipient or an applicant/recipient's spouse, under which the applicant/recipient may be the beneficiary of all or part of the distributions from the trust and such distributions are determined by one or more trustees who are permitted to exercise any discretion with respect to distributions to the applicant/recipient. A trust established by an applicant/recipient or an applicant/recipient's spouse includes trusts created or approved by a representative of the applicant/recipient (parent, guardian or person holding power of attorney) or the court where the property placed in trust is intended to satisfy or settle a claim made by or on behalf of the applicant/recipient or the applicant/recipient's spouse. This includes trust accounts or similar devices established for a minor child. In addition, a trust established jointly by at least one of the applicant/recipients who can establish an MQT and another party or parties (who do not qualify as one of these applicant/recipients) is an MQT as long as it meets the other MQT criteria. The provisions regarding MQTs apply even though an MQT is irrevocable or is established for purposes other than enabling an applicant/recipient to qualify for medicaid; and, whether or not discretion is actually exercised.

A. Similar legal device: MQT rules listed in this subsection also apply to "similar legal devices" or arrangements having all the characteristics of an MQT except that there is no actual trust document. The determination whether a given document or arrangement constitutes a "similar legal device" shall be made by the department.

B. MQT resource treatment: For revocable MQTs, the entire principal is an available resource to the applicant/recipient. For irrevocable MQTs, the countable amount of the principal is the maximum amount the trustee can disburse to (or for the benefit of) the applicant/recipient, using his/her full discretionary powers under the terms of the trust. If the trustee has unrestricted access to the principal and has discretionary power to disburse the entire principal to the applicant/recipient (or to use it for the applicant/recipient's benefit), the entire principal is an available resource to the applicant/recipient. Placement of an asset excluded by Section 8.281.500.13 NMAC, resource exclusions, into a trust does not change the nature of the asset. The asset remains excluded, except for the home of an institutionalized individual. If the home of an institutionalized individual is placed in a trust, it becomes a countable resource. The value of the property is included in the value of the principal. If the MQT permits a specified amount of trust income to be distributed periodically to the applicant/recipient (or to be used for his/her benefit), but those distributions are not made, the applicant/recipient's countable resources increase cumulatively by the undistributed amount.

C. Income treatment: Amounts of MQT income distributed to the applicant/recipient or to third parties for the applicant/recipient's benefit are countable income when distributed.

D. Transfer of resources: If the MQT is irrevocable, a transfer of resources has occurred to the extent that the applicant/ recipient or grantor's access to the principal is restricted (e.g., if the trust states that the trustee cannot access the principal, but must distribute the income produced by that principal to the applicant/recipient, the principal is not an available resource and has, therefore, been transferred). See Section 8.281.500.14 NMAC.

E. Beneficiary of trust lives in an ICF-MR: If the beneficiary of a trust is an applicant/recipient who is mentally retarded and resides in an intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded (ICF-MR), that applicant/recipient's trust is not considered an MQT if the trust or trust decree was established prior to April 7, 1986, and is solely for the benefit of that applicant/recipient.

F. Treatment of SSI or social security lump sum payments: SSI or social security lump sum payments for retroactive periods which are placed in an MQT do not qualify for the 9-month exclusion from countable resources. The trust is evaluated as an MQT for purposes of medicaid eligibility.

G. Trust records shall be open at all reasonable times to inspection by the department and copies shall be provided upon the request of an authorized representative of the department.

[8.281.510.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.281.510.15 NMAC, 10/1/2012]

8.281.510.10 TRUSTS ESTABLISHED ON OR AFTER AUGUST 11, 1993:

Trusts established on or after August 11, 1993 are evaluated using the provisions of OBRA 93. The term "medicaid qualifying trust" or MQT is no longer used after that date. Any trust which meets the basic definition of a trust can be counted in determining eligibility for medicaid. No clause or requirement in a trust, no matter how specifically it applies to medicaid or other federal or state programs (i.e. exculpatory clauses) precludes a trust from being considered under Section 8.281.500 NMAC. Depending on how the trust is structured, the amounts in the trust may count as resources, income, or a transfer of assets. All trusts submitted for review by the department must be in writing, signed, and fully executed. Trusts that are not signed and executed will not be considered as effective trusts until they are signed and executed. Assets are not part of a trust and are considered outside of the trust until the date they are actually transferred into the trust, as demonstrated by verifiable documentation, regardless of the effective date of the trust.

A. The standards set forth in this section shall apply to trusts or similar legal devices without regard to:

(1) the purposes for which the trust is established;

(2) whether the trustee(s) has discretion or exercises such discretion under the trust;

(3) any restrictions on when or whether distributions can be made from the trust; and

(4) or any restrictions on the use of distributions from the trust.

B. Trust establishment: An applicant/recipient is considered to have established a trust and that trust is considered to belong to that applicant/recipient if his/her assets were used to form all or part of the corpus of the trust. Applicants/recipients to whom the trust provisions apply shall include any applicant/recipient who establishes a trust and who is an applicant/recipient for medicaid services. An applicant/recipient shall be considered to have established a trust if any of his/her assets, regardless of the amount, were used to form part or all of the corpus of the trust.

(1) The trust must have been established, other than by will, by any of the following individuals:

(a) applicant/recipient;

(b) applicant/recipient's spouse;

(c) an individual, including a court or administrative body, with legal authority to act in place of, or on behalf of, the applicant/recipient or his/her spouse; or

(d) an individual, including a court or administrative body, acting at the direction of, or upon the request of, the applicant/recipient or his/her spouse.

(2) When the corpus of a trust includes assets of another person or persons not described in Subparagraphs (a) through (d) above, as well as assets of the applicant/recipient, the rules apply only to the portion of the trust attributable to the assets of the applicant/recipient. Thus, in determining countable income and resources in the trust for eligibility and post-eligibility purposes, the ISD caseworker shall prorate any amounts of income and resources, based on the proportion of the applicant/recipient's assets in the trust to those of other persons. (For example: if the applicant/recipient and his two sisters create a trust and each sister contributes a total value of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) and the applicant contributes twenty five thousand dollars ($25,000), the applicant's prorated share is twenty percent of the entire value of the trust.)

C. Treatment of trusts: For purposes of determining medicaid eligibility, the treatment of trusts shall be dependent on the characteristics of the trust.

D. Revocable trusts:

(1) the entire corpus of the trust shall be counted as a resource available to the applicant/recipient; and

(2) any payments from the trust made to or for the benefit of the applicant/recipient shall be counted as income (unless otherwise excludable, see Section 8.281.500.20 NMAC, unearned income, and Section 8.281.500.21 NMAC, deemed income); and

(3) any payments from the trust which are not made to or for the benefit of the applicant/recipient shall be considered as assets transferred for less than fair market value (see Section 8.281.500.14 NMAC, asset transfers).

E. Irrevocable trusts: In an irrevocable trust from which payment can be made under the terms of the trust to or for the benefit of the applicant/recipient from all or a portion of the trust.

(1) The following shall apply to that trust or that portion of the trust:

(a) payments from income or from the corpus made to or for the benefit of the applicant/recipient shall be treated as income to the applicant/recipient unless otherwise excludable (see Section 8.281.500.20 NMAC and Section 8.281.500.21 NMAC);

(b) income on the corpus of the trust which could be paid to or for the benefit of the applicant/recipient shall be counted as a resource available to the applicant/recipient;

(c) the portion of the corpus that could be paid to or for the benefit of the applicant/recipient shall be treated as a resource available to the applicant/recipient; and

(d) payments from income or from the corpus that are made, but not to or for the benefit of the applicant/recipient, shall be treated as a transfer of assets for less than fair market value (see Section 8.281.500.14 NMAC).

(2) In the case of an irrevocable trust from which payments from all or a portion of the trust cannot, under any circumstances, be made to or for the benefit of the applicant/recipient, all of the trust, or any such portion or income thereof, shall be treated as a transfer of assets for less than fair market value (see Section 8.281.500.14 NMAC).

(a) In treating these portions as a transfer of assets, the date of transfer shall be considered to be the date the trust was established, or, if later, the date on which the applicant/recipient no longer had a right of payment.

(b) For transfer of assets purposes, in determining the value of the portion of the trust which cannot be paid to the applicant/recipient, amounts that have been paid, for whatever purpose, shall not be subtracted from the value of the trust on the date the trust was created or, if later, the date that payment could no longer be made. The value of the transferred amount shall be no less than the value on the date the trust is established or, if later, on the date that payment could no longer be made. If additional funds are added to this portion of the trust, those funds shall be treated as a new transfer of assets for less than fair market value, as of the date the additional funds were added to the trust (See Section 8.281.500.14 NMAC).

F. Payments are considered countable to the applicant/recipient when made from a revocable or irrevocable trust to or on behalf of the applicant/recipient including payments of any sort, including an amount from the corpus or income produced by the corpus, paid to another person or entity such that the applicant/recipient derives some benefit from the payment.

G. In determining whether payments can or cannot be made from a trust to or for an applicant/recipient, the department shall take into account any restrictions on payments, such as use restrictions, exculpatory clauses, or limits on trustee discretion that may be included in the trust. Any amount in a trust for which payment can be made, no matter how unlikely the circumstance of payment might be or how distant in the future, shall be considered a payment that can be made under some circumstances. For example, if an irrevocable trust provides that the trustee can disburse only one thousand dollars ($1,000) to or for the applicant/recipient out of a ten thousand dollars ($10,000) trust, only the one thousand dollars ($1,000) is treated as a payment that could be made. The remaining nine thousand dollars ($9,000) is treated as an amount which cannot, under any circumstances, be paid to or for the benefit of the applicant/recipient and may be subject to a transfer penalty. On the other hand, if a trust contains twenty five thousand dollars ($25,000) that the trustee can pay to the applicant/recipient only in the event that the applicant/recipient needs, for example, a heart transplant, this full amount is considered as a payment that could be made under some circumstance, even though the likelihood of payment is remote. Similarly, if a payment cannot be made until some point in the distant future, it is still payment that can be made under some circumstances and the funds are counted as a resource.

H. Institutionalized individuals with a community spouse: A transfer to a trust (or similar instrument) for the sole benefit of a community spouse shall be treated in accordance with the provisions above. If the trust is established by either spouse (using at least some of the couple's assets) the trust shall be reviewed by the department for availability of resources, in accordance with the provisions above. If the payment from such a trust shall be considered an available resource to either spouse, the trust shall be included as a countable resource in determining medicaid eligibility for the institutionalized spouse.

I. Trust records shall be open at all reasonable times to inspection by the department and copies shall be provided upon the request of an authorized representative of the department. The department shall not be charged any fees or costs associated with providing trust records to the department.

[8.281.510.10 NMAC - Rp, 8.281.500.15 NMAC, 10/1/2012]

8.281.510.11 RECOGNIZED MEDICAID TRUSTS:

The trust provisions set forth in Section 8.281.510.9 NMAC and Section 8.281.510.10 NMAC shall not apply to the following trusts so long as the trust document meets all the requirements set forth in this section.

A. The recognized medicaid trusts described in this section (special needs trusts and non-profit trusts for certain disabled individuals) are subject to the following.

(1) Only income and resources distributed directly to the applicant/recipient or to a third party on the applicant/recipient's behalf by the trustee are considered available to the applicant/recipient in determining medicaid eligibility if the applicant/recipient could use the payment for food or shelter for him/herself.

(2) The trusts are reversionary trusts meaning the trust must provide that, upon the death of the applicant/recipient, any funds remaining in the trust revert to the state medicaid agency, up to the amount paid in medicaid benefits on the applicant/recipient's behalf. If the applicant/recipient has resided in more than one state, the trust must provide that the funds remaining in the trust are distributed to each state in which the applicant/recipient received medicaid, based on the state's proportionate share of the total amount of medicaid benefits paid by all of the states on the applicant/recipient's behalf.

(3) All trusts submitted for review to the department must be in writing, signed, and fully executed. Trusts that are not signed and executed will not be considered as effective trusts until they are signed and executed. Trusts must also be funded as demonstrated by verifiable documentation prior to review by the department.

(4) Assets are not part of a trust and are considered outside of the trust until the date they are actually transferred into the trust, as demonstrated by verifiable documentation, regardless of the effective date of the trust. Assets outside of a trust will be evaluated according to the applicable regulations regarding the counting of resources.

(5) Since the department is a reversionary beneficiary for all of the trusts described in the rest of this section, any legal action concerning one of these trusts must name the department as an interested party and the department must be notified by service of process in accordance with the New Mexico Rules of Civil Procedure.

(6) The applicant/recipient may not be the trustee and may not have any ability, access, or authority to manage or control the trust account.

(7) Each trust document must identify the person or organization that drafted the trust document.

(8) If the department approves or previously approved a recognized medicaid trust, the trust and administration of the trust are subject to review by the department, at least annually, and more frequently upon the request of the department, to determine if the trust remains a valid trust for the purposes of meeting the requirements of a recognized medicaid trust.

(9) If the department determines that a trust is invalid under Paragraph (8) above, the department will evaluate the applicant/recipient's medicaid eligibility, applying the provisions of Section 8.281.500 NMAC to the corpus of any existing trust. If the corpus of the trust is not disclosed, or cannot be identified by the department due to a lack of documentation, the department will presume that the corpus of the trust is a countable resource in excess and will be counted toward the allowable resource limit in Section 8.281.500.11 NMAC, applicable resource standards.

(10) The trustee and any alternate trustees shall be specifically identified by name and address.

(11) The department shall not be charged any fees or costs for obtaining trust records or documents.

(12) The trust may not under any circumstances provide a loan to the beneficiary or any other individual or entity.

(13) The trust must be in compliance with all applicable criteria as set forth in Section 8.281.510.11 NMAC.

(14) All trusts under Subsection B below must terminate upon the death of the beneficiary and provision made to immediately disburse the remaining corpus in accordance with the terms of the trust.

B. Special needs trusts: A special needs trust is a trust containing the assets of a disabled applicant/recipient established and funded prior to the time the disabled applicant/recipient reaches the age of 65 and which is established for the sole benefit of the disabled applicant/recipient by a parent, grandparent, legal guardian of the disabled applicant/recipient, or a court. A trust established on or after December 13, 2016, by an individual (i.e. the trust beneficiary) with a disability under age 65 for his or her own benefit can qualify as a special needs trust, conferring the same benefits as a special needs trust set up by a parent, grandparent, legal guardian, or court. To qualify as a special needs trust, the trust shall contain the following provisions.

(1) The trust shall be identified as an OBRA '93 trust established pursuant to 42 U.S.C. Section 1396p(d)(4)(A).

(2) The trust shall not contain any provisions to automatically alter the form of the trust from an individual trust to a "pooled trust" under 42 U.S.C. Section 1396p(d)(4)(C). The special needs trust should be properly dissolved and a pooled trust should be created in accordance with federal and state laws.

(3) The trust shall specifically state that the trust is for the sole benefit of the trust beneficiary. Only trusts which are intended for the sole benefit of the disabled applicant/recipient are special needs trusts. Any trust which provides benefits to other persons is not for the sole benefit of the trust beneficiary and shall not be considered a special needs trust. The trust may provide for reasonable compensation to a trustee and shall provide for the reimbursement to the department on the death of the trust beneficiary.

(4) The trust shall specifically state that its purpose is to permit the use of trust assets to supplement, and not to supplant, impair or diminish, any benefits or assistance of any federal, state or other governmental entity for which the beneficiary may otherwise be eligible or for which the beneficiary may be receiving.

(5) Parents shall not be relieved of their duty to support a minor child. A minor's funds in a trust shall not be expended on routine support that should be provided by the parents.

(6) The trust shall specifically state the age of the trust beneficiary, whether the trust beneficiary is disabled within the definition of 42 U.S.C. Section 1382c(a)(3), and whether the trust beneficiary is competent at the time the trust is established.

(7) If the trust beneficiary is a minor, the trustee shall execute a bond to protect the child's funds or shall get a court's written order exempting him/her from the bond requirement.

(8) If there is some question about the trust beneficiary's disability, independent proof may be required.

(9) If the trust beneficiary is a minor, the trust shall state whether the trust beneficiary is expected to be competent at his or her majority.

(10) The trust shall specifically identify, in an attached schedule, the source of the initial trust property and all assets of the trust. If the trust is being established with funds from the proceeds of a settlement or judgment subsequent to the bringing of a legal cause of action, medicaid's claim for its expenditures that are related to the cause of action shall be repaid immediately upon the receipt of such proceeds and prior to the establishment of the trust.

(11) Subsequent additions made to the trust corpus shall be reported to the ISD caseworker upon application and recertification. Subsequent additions to the trust (other than interest on the corpus) after the applicant/recipient reaches age 65 may be subject to transfer of asset provisions (unless an exception to transfer of asset provisions applies).

(12) If subsequent additions are to be made to the trust corpus with funds not belonging to the trust beneficiary, it shall be understood that those funds are a gift to the trust beneficiary and cannot be reclaimed by the donor.

(13) If the trust makes provisions which are intended to limit invasion by creditors or to insulate the trust from liens or encumbrances, the trust shall state that such provisions are not intended to limit the state's right to reimbursement or to recoup incorrectly paid benefits.

(14) The special needs trust shall identify the grantor by name, indicate his/her relationship to the primary beneficiary, and state that it is established by a parent, grandparent, or legal guardian of the trust beneficiary, or by a court. A court can be named as the grantor, if the trust is established pursuant to a settlement of a case before it, or if the court is otherwise involved in the creation of the trust.

(15) The trust may pay administration fees and legal bills incurred by the beneficiary related to the trust administration.

(16) The trust shall specifically state that it is irrevocable. Neither the grantor, nor the beneficiary, or any remainder beneficiaries shall have any right or power, whether alone or in conjunction with others, in whatever capacity, to revoke or terminate the trust or to designate the persons who shall possess or enjoy the trust estate during his/her lifetime. However, the trustee may seek an amendment for the limited purpose of ensuring that the trust complies with any changes to the laws governing the trust, per the agreement of all interested parties, to include the department. All such amendments shall be reviewed, consented to, and approved in writing by the department or its successor agency prior to finalizing the amendments. Any amendments not agreed to in writing by the department are void. Trust records shall be open at all reasonable times to inspection by the department and copies shall be provided, at no cost to the department, upon the request of an authorized representative of the department.

(17) The trustee shall be specifically identified by name and address. The trust shall state that the original trust beneficiary cannot be the trustee. The trust shall make provisions for naming a successor trustee in the event that any trustee is unable or unwilling to serve. The department as well as the trust beneficiary or guardian (if applicable), shall be given prior notice if there is a change in the trustee.

(18) The trust shall specifically state that the trustee shall fully comply with all state laws and regulations, including prudent administration per, Section 46A-8-804 (2003) NMSA 1978. The trust shall provide that the trustee cannot take any actions not authorized by, or without regard to, state laws and regulations.

(19) The trust shall specifically state that the trustee shall be compensated only as provided by law. The costs of administration must comply with Section 46A-8-805 (2003) NMSA 1978. If the trust identifies a guardian, the trust shall specifically identify him or her by name. A guardian shall be compensated only as provided by law. The parent of a minor child shall not be compensated from the trust as the child's guardian.

(20) The trust shall specifically name the department as a remainder beneficiary with priority over any other beneficiaries except the primary beneficiary for whom the trust was created. The trust shall specifically state that, upon the death of the primary beneficiary, the department will be immediately notified by the trustee in writing, and shall be paid all amounts remaining in the trust up to the total value of all medical assistance paid on behalf of the primary beneficiary. The trustee shall comply fully with this obligation to first repay the department, without requiring the department to take any action except to establish the amount to be repaid. Repayment shall be made by the trustee to the department or to any successor agency within 30 days after receiving written notification by the department of the amounts expended on behalf of the primary beneficiary.

(a) Allowable administrative expenses: The following types of administrative expenses may be paid from the trust prior to reimbursement to the department for medical assistance paid: taxes due from the trust to the state or federal government because of the death of the beneficiary, and reasonable fees for administration of the trust estate such as an accounting of the trust to a court, completion and filing of documents, or other required actions associated with termination and wrapping up of the trust. Payment of such expenses must be fully documented and copies of the documentation provided to the department within seven calendar days of making such payments.

(b) Prohibited expenses and payments: Examples of some types of expenses that are not permitted prior to reimbursement to the department for medical assistance, include but are not limited to: taxes due from the estate of the beneficiary other than those arising from inclusion of the trust in the estate, inheritance taxes due for residual beneficiaries, payment of debts owed to third parties other than the department, funeral expenses, and payments to residual beneficiaries.

(21) If there is a provision for repayment of other assistance programs, the trust shall specifically state that the medicaid program shall be repaid prior to making repayment to any other assistance programs.

(22) The trust shall specifically state that if the beneficiary has received medicaid benefits in more than one state, each state that provided medicaid benefits shall be repaid. If there is an insufficient amount left to cover all benefits paid, then each state shall be paid its proportionate share of the amount left in the trust, based upon the amount of support provided by each state to the beneficiary.

(23) No provisions in the trust shall permit the trustee or the estate's representative to first repay other persons or creditors at the death of the beneficiary. Only what remains in the trust after the repayments specified in Paragraphs (20) through (22) above have been made shall be considered available for other expenses or beneficiaries of the estate.

(24) The trust shall specify that an accounting of all additions and expenditures made by or into the trust shall be submitted to the department on an annual basis, or more frequently upon the request of the department. The department shall not be charged any fees or costs for obtaining these records.

(25) The trust shall not create other trusts within it.

(26) If the trust is funded, in whole or in part, with an annuity or other periodic payment arrangement, the department must be named in the controlling documents as the primary remainder beneficiary up to the total amount of medical assistance paid on behalf of the individual.

(27) Distributions from the trust made to or for the benefit of a third party that are not for the sole primary benefit of the disabled individual are treated as a transfer of assets for less than fair market value and may create a period of ineligibility for certain medicaid services.

C. Income diversion trusts: An applicant/recipient whose income exceeds the income standard may be eligible to receive medicaid through the creation and funding of an income diversion trust. The trust terminates upon the death of the beneficiary. An income diversion trust must meet all of the following requirements.

(1) The trust is composed only of pension, social security, and other income to the applicant/recipient, including accumulated income in the trust.

(2) Only income distributed directly to the applicant/recipient or to a third party on the applicant/recipient's behalf by the trustee are considered available to the applicant/recipient in determining medicaid eligibility if the applicant/recipient could use the payment for food or shelter for him/herself.

(3) An income diversion trust is a reversionary trust meaning the trust must provide that, upon the death of the applicant/recipient, any funds remaining in the trust revert to the state medicaid agency, up to the amount paid in medicaid benefits on the applicant/recipient's behalf.

(4) If the applicant/recipient has resided in more than one state, the trust must provide that the funds remaining in the trust are distributed to each state in which the applicant/recipient received medicaid, based on the state's proportionate share of the total amount of medicaid benefits paid by all the states on the applicant/recipient's behalf.

(5) The trustee may, upon the death of the beneficiary, pay the expenses of the beneficiary's burial or cremation up to the amount then authorized for burial expenses under federal and state medicaid law and regulations, to the extent other resources are not so designated.

(6) The trusts described in this section are also known in New Mexico as Maxwell v. Heim income diversion trusts; those trusts executed on or after August 11, 1993 no longer have to be court ordered or approved.

D. Non-profit trusts for certain disabled individuals: Trusts containing the assets of applicants/recipients who meet the social security administration's definition of disability.

(1) The trust must meet all the following criteria to be considered a non-profit trust for certain disabled individuals:

(a) the trust is established and managed by a non-profit association;

(b) a separate account is maintained for each beneficiary of the trust but, for purposes of investment and management of funds, the trust pools these accounts;

(c) accounts in the trust are established solely for the benefit of applicants/recipients who meet the social security administration's definition of disability and are established by the parent, grandparent, or legal guardian of such applicants/recipients, by such applicants/recipients themselves, or by a court;

(d) to the extent that any amounts remaining in the applicant/recipient’s trust account upon his/her death are not retained by the trust, the trust pays to the department an amount equal to the total amount of medicaid benefits paid on behalf of the applicant/recipient;

(i) allowable administrative expenses: the following types of administrative expenses may be paid from the trust prior to reimbursement to the department for medical assistance paid: taxes due from the trust to the state or federal government because of the death of the beneficiary, and reasonable fees for administration of the trust estate such as an accounting of the trust to a court, completion and filing of documents, or other required actions associated with termination and wrapping up of the trust; payment of such expenses must be fully documented and copies of the documentation provided to the department within seven calendar days of making such payments;

(ii) prohibited expenses and payments: examples of some types of expenses that are not permitted prior to reimbursement to the department for medical assistance, include but are not limited to: taxes due from the estate of the beneficiary other than those arising from inclusion of the trust in the estate, inheritance taxes due for residual beneficiaries, payment of debts owed to third parties, funeral expenses, and payments to residual beneficiaries; and

(iii) any income or resources added to the trust after the applicant/recipient reaches 65 years of age may subject him or her to a transfer of assets penalty.

(2) A trustee of a non-profit trust, in order to fulfill his or her fiduciary obligations with respect to the state's remainder interest in the trust, must:

(a) notify the department, in writing, of the creation or funding of the trust for the benefit of an applicant/recipient; and

(b) notify the department, in writing, of the death of the beneficiary of the trust; and

(c) notify the department, in writing, in advance of any transactions involving transfers from the trust principal for less than fair market value.

(3) Trust records shall be open at all reasonable times to inspection by the department and copies shall be provided, at no cost to the department, upon the request of an authorized representative of the department.

8.281.510.12 OTHER TRUSTS:

A. Limited partnerships: A limited partnership is a "similar legal device" to a trust. Trust provisions of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993 (OBRA 93) direct that the term "trust" includes any legal device similar to a trust. Therefore, OBRA 93 trust provisions of this section apply to limited partnerships. The general partners act as trustee, and the limited partners are the equivalent of beneficiaries of an irrevocable trust. To the extent that the general partners can make each limited partner's ownership interest available to him, that interest is a countable resource and not a transfer of assets. However, a transfer of assets has occurred to the extent that:

(1) the value of the share of ownership purchased by the limited partner is less than the amount he invested;

(2) the general partners cannot make the limited partner's share available to him;

(3) if transfer-of-assets provisions apply, the look-back period is 60 months.

B. Trusts created by will: Trusts that are created by will, but are not in effect (i.e., the testator is not deceased) are not considered as countable resources. Once a trust created by will is in effect and funded (i.e., the testator is deceased), the trust will be reviewed according to Subsection C, below.

C. Third party trusts:

(1) Third party trusts are trusts which are established with assets contributed by individuals other than the applicant/recipient or the applicant/recipient's spouse for the benefit of an applicant/recipient.

(2) The terms of the trust will determine whether the trust fund is countable as a resource or income for medicaid eligibility.

(a) Trusts which limit distributions to non-support or supplemental needs will not be considered as a countable resource in their entirety.

(b) If the applicant/recipient has the right to demand a distribution, the amount that may be demanded is countable, whether or not it is actually distributed.

(c) If the trustee may exercise discretion in distributing income or resources to the applicant/recipient or on behalf of the applicant/recipient, only the actual distributions of income or resources are countable in determining eligibility.

(d) If the applicant/recipient as the beneficiary of the trust may revoke or direct distributions from the trust, the trust is considered a countable resource.

(3) Trust records shall be open at all reasonable times to inspection by the department and copies shall be provided, at no cost to the department, upon the request of an authorized representative of the department.

8.281.510.13 UNDUE HARDSHIP:

An applicant/recipients who has excess resources and is unable to access resources from an existing trust will not be found ineligible for medicaid where the department determines, on a case by case basis, that denial of eligibility on the basis of excess resources would work an undue hardship.

A. The applicant/recipient must demonstrate that the application of the trust regulation would deprive the applicant/recipient or his/her spouse of:

(1) medical care such that the applicant/recipient's health or life would be endangered; or

(2) food, clothing, shelter or other necessities of life.

B. The applicant/recipient must submit any documentation to support the claim that application of the trust regulation would constitute an undue hardship within 30 days of the date of the notice regarding eligibility for medicaid.

C. Undue hardship does not exist when the application of the trust regulation causes an applicant/recipient or his/her family members inconvenience or restricts their lifestyle.

D. The county director of the ISD office will make a decision regarding an application for waiver of the trust regulation within 30 days of receipt of the application. The decision to grant a waiver shall be reviewed at every re-certification to determine if the circumstances justifying a waiver are still applicable.

E. Notice of the decision shall be mailed to the applicant/recipient or his/her representative.

F. The applicant/recipient or his/her representative must notify the ISD caseworker of any change in circumstances which affects the application of the undue hardship waiver exception within ten days of the change in circumstances. The department will review the change of circumstances and determine the next appropriate action, which may include withdrawal of the waiver.

8.281.510.14 USE OF TRUST V. TRANSFER RULES FOR ASSETS PLACED IN TRUST:

When a non-excluded asset is placed in a trust, a transfer of assets for less than fair market value generally takes place. An applicant/recipient (or someone acting on behalf of the applicant/recipient) placing an asset in a trust generally gives up ownership of the asset to the trust. If the applicant/recipient does not receive fair compensation in return, a penalty is imposed under the transfer of assets provisions. However, the trust provisions contain specific requirements for treatment of assets placed in trusts. These requirements indicate when assets are considered countable as income or resources, and as a transfer of assets depending on the specific circumstances of the particular trust. Application of the trust regulations, along with the imposition of a penalty for the transfer of the assets into the trust, could result in the applicant/recipient being penalized twice for actions involving the same asset. If an asset is subject to the trust regulations and a transfer of asset penalty, the requirements of the trust regulations take precedence over a transfer of assets penalty for the same asset.

[8.281.510.14 NMAC - N, 10/1/2012]

8.281.510.15 EXCLUDED ASSETS PLACED IN A TRUST:

Placement of excluded assets in a trust, with the exception of a home, shall not result in a penalty of ineligibility because the transferred asset is not an asset for transfer purposes. However, a home, whether excluded or not, when transferred into a trust shall be considered a resource unless:

A. the trust is for the sole benefit for the applicant/recipient's spouse; or

B. was transferred to a trust that is in compliance with Subsection B or D of Section 8.281.510.11 NMAC that is established for the sole benefit of the applicant/recipient's disabled child, or

C. was transferred to a trust that is in compliance with Subsection B or D of Section 8.281.510.11 NMAC that is established solely for the benefit of an individual who is under 65 years of age and who is disabled.

[8.281.510.15 NMAC - N, 10/1/2012]

8.281.510.16 DOCUMENTATION OF TRUSTS AND TRUST RECORDS:

Applicants/recipients shall disclose the existence of any trust to which they have contributed income, resources, or are a beneficiary. Upon learning of the existence of a trust, the ISD caseworker must obtain a copy of the trust document, including all attachments, and forward it to the MAD eligibility unit so that it may be reviewed by MAD for a determination on how the trust may affect medicaid eligibility. Trust records shall be open at all reasonable times to inspection by the department and copies shall be provided upon the request of an authorized representative of the department. The department shall not be charged any fees or costs associated with providing trust records to the department. Any records relating to a trust that are sealed by a court order or settlement agreement shall be produced to the department by the applicant/recipient or trustee upon request. Failure to provide such records will result in the presumption that the applicant/recipient's trust is a countable resource that exceeds the resource limitation at 8.281.500 NMAC.

8.281.510.17 COMMENCEMENT OF PROCEEDINGS:

The department may commence a proceeding against the trustee of a trust, if the department considers any acts, omissions, or failures of the trustee to be inconsistent with the terms of the trust, contrary to applicable laws or regulations, or contrary to the fiduciary obligations of the trustee.

[8.281.510.17 NMAC - N, 10/1/2012]

8.281.510.18 NON-COMPLIANCE WITH TERMS OF TRUST:

If the department suspects or determines that the trustee is not complying with the terms of a trust that has been approved by the department, the department will send a letter to the recipient of services or his or her representative requesting more information or describing the specific actions that are not in compliance with the trust which may include but is not limited to proper management of the funds in the trust. The recipient will have 15 days to provide the requested information or demonstrate, through documentation, that the actions of the trustee are not in violation of the terms of the trust. Failure to respond or to adequately demonstrate that the terms of the trust have not been violated may result in a transfer of assets penalty, disqualification from eligibility to receive benefits, and legal action, as appropriate. If the department identifies that the violation of the terms of the trust has been to inadequately fund the trust, the recipient shall immediately obtain a corporate trustee and amend the trust to be managed by that corporate trustee.

[8.281.510.18 NMAC - N, 10/1/2012]

8.281.510.19 AMENDMENTS TO CERTAIN TRUSTS:

A special needs trust, income diversion trust, or pooled charitable trust that was created prior to the effective date of these regulations must fully comply with these regulations as part of any subsequent amendments made to those trusts on or after the effective date of these regulations.

8.281.600.10 BENEFIT DETERMINATION:

A. Application for institutional care medicaid is made using the HSD 100 application. Completed applications must be acted upon and notice of approval, denial, or delay sent out within 45 days from the date of registration. The income support division (ISD) worker explains time limits to the applicant and informs him or her of the date by which the application should be processed.

B. Representatives applying on behalf of individuals: If a representative makes application on behalf of an institutionalized individual, the representative is relied upon for information. The ISD worker sends all notices to the applicant/recipient in care of the representative. If the individual who makes an application is an employee of the institution, the ISD worker contacts the applicant's family or other involved individuals. The ISD worker focuses on the applicant/recipient's current circumstances and on past circumstances which may provide clues to existing or potential resources.

8.281.600.11 INITIAL BENEFITS:

A. For an applicant/recipient who loses supplemental security income (SSI) eligibility after entering an institution, the institutional care medicaid application date is the first day of the month of SSI termination, or the month the application is received by the ISD worker, whichever is earlier.

B. Notice of determination: Applicants eligible for institutional care medicaid are notified of the approval and advised of the amount, if any, of the medical care credit. Applicants who are ineligible are notified of the denial and provided with an explanation of appeal rights.

8.281.600.12 ONGOING BENEFITS:

A complete redetermination of eligibility must be performed by the ISD worker for each open case at least annually.

A. Regular reviews: For each regular yearly review, the ISD worker must determine:

(1) whether medical care credit payments are up to date; an overdue balance may indicate a change in circumstances that is unreported, particularly where rental property is involved; and

(2) whether the deposit to the recipient's personal fund is consistently no more than the applicable personal needs allowance amount per month; a larger deposit may indicate an increase in income that is unreported or a previously unidentified source of income.

B. Level of care reviews are required to be completed at least annually. Level of care determinations are made by the utilization review contractor or a member's selected or assigned managed care organization.

8.281.600.13 RETROACTIVE BENEFIT COVERAGE:

Up to three months of retroactive medicaid coverage can be furnished to applicants who have received medicaid-covered services during the retroactive period and would have met applicable eligibility criteria had they applied during the three months prior to the month of application. Retroactive medicaid coverage is provided in accordance with 8.200.400.14 NMAC.

8.281.600.14 CHANGES IN ELIGIBILITY:

A. The following procedures apply when an institutional care medicaid recipient leaves an institution:

(1) the recipient is notified in writing that his/her eligibility for institutional care medicaid has terminated;

(2) the institutional care medicaid case is closed;

(3) the recipient is screened for other medicaid program eligibility; or

(4) the recipient is referred to the social security administration for determination of eligibility for SSI benefits if appropriate; if a recipient dies in an institution, the case is closed the following month.

B. Discharge status: Discharge status continues after the utilization review (UR) contractor determines that there is no medical necessity for a high nursing facility (NF) or low NF placement. Discharge status does not apply to an acute care placement. After placement in discharge status, the recipient continues to be eligible for institutional care medicaid since he/she still requires institutional care.

(1) Abstract submission: Discharge status requires a new abstract be submitted at regular intervals. The institution must attach verification to the abstract that adequate placement has been and is being sought.

(2) Case closure: The ISD worker takes no action to close a case until the recipient is actually discharged from the institution. If the recipient is transferred from high NF to low NF, medicaid coverage is not interrupted, unless the recipient is ineligible for other reasons.

An applicant/ recipient who is eligible for medicaid under this category is eligible for emergency services coverage only for the duration of the emergency.

[8.285.600.9 NMAC - Rp 8.285.600.9 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.285.600.10 BENEFIT DETERMINATION:

A. Subsequent to the receipt of emergency services, an applicant must apply through the local county income support division (ISD) office. The application must be filed at the ISD office no later than the last day of the third month following the month the presumed emergency services were received.

B. Documentation requirements: The applicant must bring a completed emergency medical services for non-citizens (EMSNC) referral for eligibility determination form (MAD 308) to the ISD office for the financial eligibility determination. The emergency services provider must complete the referral form.

C. Financial documents: The applicant must provide all necessary documentation to prove that they meet all financial and non-financial eligibility standards. Medical providers cannot submit eligibility applications on behalf of the applicant. The applicant is financially responsible for any services not covered by medicaid. A completed and signed application form must be submitted for each request for EMSNC.

[8.285.600.10 NMAC - Rp 8.285.600.10 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.285.600.11 INITIAL BENEFITS:

Applications for medicaid must be acted on within 45 days of the date of application.

A. If an applicant is eligible for medicaid, the individual is sent a notice of case action (NOCA) form. The approval of financial eligibility is not a guarantee that medicaid will pay for the services. The NOCA form also serves as notice of case closure, since medicaid covers only emergency services received during the specified term of the emergency. The provider is sent the decision for emergency medical services for non-citizens (EMSNC) application (MAD 778) form. The provider must use the MAD 778 form to submit claims to the medicaid utilization review contractor for emergency review.

B. If an applicant is ineligible for medicaid or a decision on the application is delayed beyond the 45 day time limit, the individual is sent a NOCA form regarding the application for EMSNC. The NOCA form explains the reason for denial or delay and informs the applicant of their right to an administrative hearing. If the application is denied, the applicant must notify providers of the denial.

C. The applicant is responsible for payment for the medical services if they fail to apply promptly for coverage, verify eligibility for coverage, or notify the provider of the approval or denial of the application.

8.285.600.12 ONGOING BENEFITS:

No periodic review is necessary, since this category does not result in continuous eligibility. The eligibility for the specific period will only cover the bona fide emergency services. A medicaid card is not issued. No separate notice of case closure is necessary. Notice of approval serves as notice of closure as it indicates the specific period of eligibility. Medicaid covers emergency services only for the duration of the emergency, as determined by medicaid utilization review contractor.

8.290.400.8 MISSION STATEMENT:

8.290.400.9 HOME AND COMMUNITY-BASED SERVICES WAIVER - Category 091, 093, 094, 095, 096:

The human services department (HSD) is the single state agency designated to administer the medicaid program in New Mexico. HSD is charged with developing and implementing the community benefit to elderly, blind, and disabled individuals who meet both financial and medical criteria for nursing facility (NF) level of care (categories 091, 093, and 094). The department of health (DOH) and HSD are charged with developing and implementing HCBS waivers to medicaid applicants/recipients who meet both financial and medical criteria for intermediate care facility for individuals with intellectual disabilities (ICF/IID) level of care, for medically fragile (category 095) and developmentally disabled (category 096) individuals. Provision of these services under a waiver allows applicants/recipients to receive the care required at home at less cost than in an institution. The services to be furnished under the waiver must be cost-effective. This means the aggregate cost of care must be an amount less than the cost of maintaining individuals in institutions at the appropriate level of care. The types of services for which recipients are eligible vary based on the individual waiver.

8.290.400.10 BASIS FOR DEFINING THE GROUP:

Eligibility for applicants/recipients who apply for waiver services is determined as if he or she were actually institutionalized, although this requirement has been waived. Entry into some of the waiver programs may be based upon the number of UDRs (i.e., slots) available. The individual waiver program manager notifies the income support division (ISD) when a UDR is available.

A. Elderly, blind, and disabled individuals (categories 091, 093, and 094): For applicants/recipients who are under age 65 to qualify as disabled or blind, disability or blindness must have been determined to exist by the social security administration or the DDU. To qualify as an elderly person, the applicant/recipient must be 65 years of age or older. Applicants/recipients must also meet both the financial and non-financial eligibility requirements and meet the medical level of care for nursing facility services.

B. Developmental disabilities (DD) waiver: The DD waiver identified as category 096 was approved effective July 1984, subject to renewal. DD waiver services are intended for eligible recipients who have developmental disabilities limited to intellectual disability (IID) or a related condition as determined by the DOH/DDSD. The developmental disability must reflect the person's need for a combination and sequence of special interdisciplinary or generic treatment or other supports and services that are lifelong or of extended duration and are individually planned and coordinated. The eligible recipient must also require the level of care provided in an intermediate care facility for individuals with developmental disabilities (ICF/IID), in accordance with Section 8.313.2 NMAC, and meet all other applicable financial and non-financial eligibility requirements.

(1) Intellectual disability: An individual is considered to have an intellectual disability if she/he has significantly sub-average general intellectual functioning existing concurrently with deficits in adaptive behavior and manifested during the developmental period.

(a) General intellectual functioning is defined as the results obtained by assessment with one or more of the individually administered general intelligence tests developed for the purpose of assessing intellectual functioning.

(b) Significantly sub-average is defined as an intelligence quotient (IQ) of 70 or below.

(c) Adaptive behavior is defined as the effectiveness or degree with which individuals meet the standards of personal independence and social responsibility expected for age and cultural group.

(d) The developmental period is defined as the period of time between birth and the 18th birthday.

(2) Related condition: An individual is considered to have a related condition if she/he has a severe chronic disability, other than mental illness, that meets all of the following:

(a) is attributable to a condition, other than mental illness, found to be closely related to ID because this condition results in limitations in general intellectual functioning or adaptive behavior similar to that of persons with ID and requires similar treatment or services;

(b) is manifested before the person reaches age 22 years, is likely to continue indefinitely; and

(c) results in substantial functional limitations (adaptive behavior scores ≤70) in three or more of the following areas:

(i) self-care;

(ii) receptive and expressive language;

(iii) learning;

(iv) mobility;

(v) self-direction;

(vi) capacity for independent living; and

(v) economic self-sufficiency.

C. Medically fragile (MF) waiver: The medically fragile (MF) waiver identified as category 095 was established effective August, 1984 subject to renewal. Medically fragile is characterized by one or more of the following: a life threatening condition characterized by reasonable frequent periods of acute exacerbation which require frequent medical supervision, or physician consultation and which in the absence of such supervision or consultation would require hospitalization; a condition requiring frequent, time consuming administration of specialized treatments which are medically necessary; or dependence on medical technology such that without the technology a reasonable level of health could not be maintained; examples include but are not limited to ventilators, dialysis machines, enteral or parenteral nutrition support and supplemental oxygen. The eligible recipient must require the level of care provided in an ICF/IID, in accordance with 8.313.2 NMAC, and meet all other applicable financial and non-financial eligibility requirements and must have:

(1) a developmental disability, developmental delay, or be at risk for developmental delay as determined by the DDU, and

(2) a diagnosed medically fragile condition prior to the age of 22, defined as a chronic physical condition, which results in a prolonged dependency on medical care for which daily skilled (nursing) intervention is medically necessary, and which is characterized by one or more of the following:

(a) a life threatening condition characterized by reasonably frequent periods of acute exacerbation, which require frequent medical supervision or physician consultation and which, in the absence of such supervision or consultation, would require hospitalization;

(b) frequent, time-consuming administration of specialized treatments, which are medically necessary;

(c) dependency on medical technology such that without the technology a reasonable level of health could not be maintained; examples include, but are not limited to, ventilators, dialysis machines, enteral or parenteral nutrition support and continuous oxygen; and

(d) periods of acute exacerbation of a life-threatening condition, the need for extraordinary supervision or observation, frequent or time-consuming administration of specialized treatments, dependency on mechanical (life) support devices, and developmental delay or disability.

D. Acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS) and AIDS related condition (ARC) waiver: The acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS) and AIDS related condition waiver designated as category 090, was established effective July 1987, subject to renewal. The AIDS and AIDS related condition waiver stopped covering new individuals effective January 01, 2014 as the waiver was sunset and not renewed. Individuals already on the AIDS and AIDS related condition waiver are grandfathered and remain eligible as long as eligibility requirements are met.

E. Brain injury (BI): The brain injury category 092 stopped covering new individuals effective January 01, 2014. Individuals already on the brain injury category are grandfathered and remain eligible as long as eligibility requirements are met.

[8.290.400.10 NMAC - Rp, 8.290.400.10 NMAC, 1/1/2019; A/E, 12/15/2020; A, 5/1/2021]

8.290.400.11 GENERAL RECIPIENT REQUIREMENTS:

Eligibility for the waiver programs is always prospective per 8.290.600.11 NMAC. Applicants/recipients must meet, or expect to meet, all non-financial eligibility criteria in the month for which determination of eligibility is made including any mandatory income or resources deemed to a minor child per 8.290.500.17 and 8.290.500.21 NMAC.

A. Enumeration: An applicant/recipient must furnish his social security number in accordance with 8.200.410.10 NMAC.

B. Citizenship: Refer to 8.200.410.11 NMAC for citizenship requirements.

C. Residence: To be eligible for medicaid, an applicant/recipient must be physically present in New Mexico on the date of application or final determination of eligibility and must have declared an intent to remain in the state. If the applicant/recipient does not have the present mental capacity to declare intent, the applicant's/recipient's representative may assume responsibility for the declaration of intent. If the applicant/recipient does not have the mental capacity to declare intent and there is no representative to assume this responsibility, the state where the applicant/recipient is living will be recognized as the state of residence. If waiver services are suspended because the recipient is temporarily absent from the state but is expected to return within 90 consecutive days at which time waiver services will resume, the medicaid case remains open. If waiver services are suspended for any other reason for 90 consecutive days, the medicaid case is closed after appropriate notice is provided to the recipient.

D. Non-concurrent receipt of assistance: HCBS waiver services furnish medicaid benefits to an applicant/recipient who qualifies both financially and medically for institutional care but who, with provision of waiver services, can receive the care he needs in the community at less cost to the medicaid program than the appropriate level of institutional care. Individuals receiving services under a HCBS waiver may not receive concurrent services under nursing facility (NF), ICF/IID, personal care or any other HCBS waiver.

(1) SSI recipients: Applicants receiving supplemental security income (SSI) benefits are categorically eligible for waiver services. No further verification of income, resources, citizenship, age, disability, or blindness is required. The applicant must, however, meet the level of care requirement. (An SSI recipient must meet the assignment of rights and TPL requirements and not be ineligible because of a trust).

(2) Married SSI couples: All married SSI couples where neither member is institutionalized in a medicaid-certified facility are treated as separate individuals for purposes of determining eligibility and benefit amounts beginning the month after the month they began living apart. See Section 8012 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989. In the case of an initial application, or reinstatement following a period of ineligibility, when members of a married couple are not living together on the date of application or date of request for reinstatement, each member of the couple is considered separately as of the date of application or request, regardless of how recently the separation occurred.

E. Interview requirements: An interview is not required in accordance with 8.281.400.11 NMAC.

[8.290.400.11 NMAC - Rp, 8.290.400.11 NMAC, 1/1/2019; A/E, 12/15/2020; A, 5/1/2021]

8.290.400.12 SPECIAL RECIPIENT REQUIREMENTS:

A. Age: To be considered elderly, an applicant/recipient must be 65 years of age or older. See Section 8.281.400.16 NMAC, AGE, for information on verification of age.

B. Blind: To be considered blind, an applicant/recipient must have central visual acuity of 20/200 or less with corrective lenses or must be considered blind for practical purposes. The ISD worker is responsible for submitting medical reports to the DDU, if necessary. See Section 8.281.400.17 NMAC, Blind, For Information on documentation and verification of blindness.

C. Disability: To be considered disabled, an applicant/recipient must be unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity because of any medical determinable physical, developmental, or mental impairment, which has lasted, or is expected to last, for a continuous period of at least 12 months. The ISD worker is responsible for submitting medical reports to the DDU, if necessary. See Section 8.281.400.18 NMAC, Disability, for information on documentation and verification of disability.

D. Requires institutional care: An institutional level of care must be recommended for the applicant/recipient by a physician, nurse practitioner or a doctor of osteopathy, licensed to practice in the state of New Mexico. Institutions are defined as acute care hospitals, nursing facilities (either high NF or low NF as defined by medicaid regulations) and ICF/IID. Level of care reviews are completed by the medical assistance division (MAD) utilization review contractor or a member's selected or assigned managed care organization (MCO), as applicable to the applicant's HCBS program.

[8.290.400.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.290.400.12 NMAC, 1/1/2019]

8.290.400.13 RECIPIENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

An applicant/recipient is responsible for establishing his eligibility for medicaid. As part of this responsibility, the applicant/recipient must provide required information and documents or take the actions necessary to establish eligibility. Failure to do so must result in a decision that eligibility does not exist. An applicant/recipient must also grant the human services department (HSD) permission to contact other persons, agencies or sources of information, which are necessary to establish eligibility. See 8.200.430 NMAC, Recipient Rights And Responsibilities for specific information.

8.290.400.14 REPORTING REQUIREMENTS:

A medicaid applicant/recipient, case manager, direct service provider or any other responsible party must report any changes in circumstances which may affect the applicant's/recipient's eligibility within 10 days of the date of the change to the county income support division (ISD) office. These changes include but are not limited to: changes in income, resources, living arrangements, or marital status. The ISD worker must evaluate the effect of the change and take any required action as soon as possible; however, the action must take effect no later than the end of the month following the month in which the change took place.

8.290.500.14 ASSET TRANSFERS:

See 8.281.500.14 NMAC*, asset transfers*, and following subsections for rules governing transfers of assets. All provisions pertaining to transfers under institutional care medicaid apply to transfers under the waiver programs with the exception of the penalty for transfers of assets for less than fair market value. The penalty for transfers of assets for less than fair market value for waiver applicants/recipients is ineligibility for long term care medicaid services under the waiver programs. Federal regulations specify that, to be eligible for a waiver program, an individual must be receiving the waiver or long term care services. Because a waiver applicant/recipient is not eligible to receive these services under the medicaid program, they are ineligible for the HCBS waiver program. The period of ineligibility is based on when the assets were transferred during the look back period. After February 8, 2006, the look back period for transfers is 60 months prior to the date of application. As soon as the HCBS waiver applicant has no transfers for less than fair market value during the 60 months look back period, they are eligible to be reconsidered for HCBS provided all financial and non-financial criteria are met. If the transfer for less than fair market value is discovered after the applicant is approved for HCBS, the period of ineligibility begins the first day of the month in which the resources were transferred. If the applicant or recipient enters a nursing facility, a penalty period for the transfer of assets for less than fair market value is calculated based on 8.281.500.14, asset transfers. This penalty period runs whether or not the individual remains in the nursing facility.

[8.290.600.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.290.600.9 NMAC, 1/1/2019]

8.290.600.10 BENEFIT DETERMINATION:

Application for the waiver programs is made using the HSD 100 application. Upon notification by the appropriate program manager that an unduplicated recipient (UDR) is available for waiver services, applicants are registered on the income support division (ISD) eligibility system. Applications must be acted upon and notice of approval, denial, or delay sent out within 45 calendar days from the date of application, or within 90 calendar days if a disability determination is required from the disability determination unit (DDU). The eligible recipients must assist in completing the application, may complete the form themselves, or may receive help from a relative, friend, guardian, or other designated representative.

A. Representatives applying on behalf of individuals: If a representative makes application on behalf of the eligible recipient, that representative will continue to be relied upon for information regarding the eligible recipient's circumstances. The ISD caseworker will send all notices to the eligible recipient in care of the representative.

B. Additional forms: The following forms are also required as part of the application process:

(1) the eligible recipient or representative must complete and sign the primary freedom of choice (PFOC) form at the time of allocation; and

(2) the eligible recipient or representative must sign the applicant's statement of understanding at the time waiver services are declined or terminated.

C. Additional information furnished during application: The ISD caseworker provides an explanation of the waiver programs, including, but not limited to, income and resource limits and possible alternatives, such as institutionalization. The ISD caseworker refers potentially eligible recipients to the social security administration to apply for supplemental security income (SSI) benefits. If a disability decision by the DDU is required, but has not been made, the ISD caseworker must follow established procedures to refer the case for evaluation.

8.290.600.11 INITIAL BENEFITS:

A. The application process begins once the letter of allocation and the medicaid application for assistance are received by ISD. Once ISD has confirmed the applicant/recipient meets all eligibility criteria, the application can be approved effective the first month for which an approved level of care has been established. Medicaid eligibility covers acute and ancillary medicaid services that are effective immediately on the first day of the first month of medicaid eligibility. Home and community-based waiver services are prospective and are only available once the individual services plan (ISP) or comprehensive care plan (CCP) is approved and implemented. Following initial approval, waiver services must be provided when appropriate to eligible waiver recipients within 90 calendar days of approval. Medicaid eligibility under the waiver program is contingent on the receipt of waiver services. If an applicant/recipient is transitioning from one home and community-based services (HCBS) waiver program to another, ISD must be contacted to coordinate the start date based on the month the ISP or CCP is established for the new program. This is to ensure there is no interruption in services for the recipient.

B. Notice of determination: Applicants determined to be ineligible for waiver services are notified of the reason for the denial and provided with an explanation of appeal rights.

C. Applicants determined to be eligible for waiver services are notified of the approval.

[8.290.600.11 NMAC - Rp, 8.290.600.11 NMAC, 1/1/2019]

8.290.600.12 ONGOING BENEFITS:

A. A complete redetermination of eligibility must be performed annually by the ISD caseworker for each open case.

B. Level of care determinations are made by the utilization review contractor or a member's selected or assigned managed care organization, as applicable to the centennial care, community benefit program. Level of care reviews are required to be completed at least annually except for certain community benefit members whose chronic condition is not expected to improve. These individuals may be eligible for an ongoing nursing facility (NF) level of care (LOC). To qualify for ongoing NF LOC, the community benefit member must have met a NF LOC for the previous three years. The ongoing NF LOC status must be reviewed and approved annually by the managed care organization's medical director and must be supported in documentation by the member's physician. The complete criteria for an ongoing NF LOC can be found in the New Mexico medicaid nursing facility level of care criteria and instructions document.

C. 90 day reconsideration period: HSD will reconsider in a timely manner the waiver eligibility of an individual who is terminated for failure to submit the renewal form or necessary information, if the individual subsequently submits the renewal form within 90 days after the date of termination without requiring a new application per 42 CFR 435.916(C)(iii).

[8.290.600.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.290.600.12 NMAC, 1/1/2019]

8.290.600.13 RETROACTIVE BENEFITS:

Eligibility for these categories is prospective so retroactive coverage is not available in accordance with 8.200.400.14 NMAC.

[8.290.600.13 NMAC - Rp, 8.290.600.13 NMAC, 1/1/2019]

8.290.600.14 CHANGES IN ELIGIBILITY:

If the eligible recipient ceases to meet any of the eligibility criteria, the case is closed following provision of advance notice as appropriate. See Section 8.200.430.9 NMAC and following subsections for information about notices and hearing rights.

A. Non-provision of waiver services: To continue to be eligible for waiver services, an eligible recipient must be receiving waiver services, early and periodic screening, diagnostic and treatment (EPSDT) benefits or managed care services, other than case management, (42 CFR Section 435.217). If at any time waiver services are no longer being provided (e.g., a suspension) and are not expected to be provided for 90 consecutive days, the recipient is ineligible for the waiver category and the case must be closed after appropriate notice is provided by the ISD caseworker.

B. Admission to a hospital, nursing facility, or intermediate care facility for individuals with intellectual disabilities (ICF-IID): If an eligible waiver recipient enters an acute care hospital, a nursing facility, or an ICF-IID and remains for more than 90 consecutive days, the waiver case must be closed and an application for institutional care medicaid (ICM) must be processed. The eligible recipient is not required to complete a new application if the periodic review on the waiver case is not due in either the month of entry into the institution or the following month. If the waiver recipient is institutionalized within less than 90 consecutive days and still receives waiver services within that time frame, the waiver case is not closed and an application for ICM need not be processed.

C. Reporting changes in circumstances: The primary responsibility for reporting changes in the eligible recipient's circumstances rests with the eligible recipient or his/her representative. At the initial eligibility determination and all on-going eligibility redeterminations, the ISD caseworker must explain the reporting responsibilities requirement to the eligible recipient or his/her representative and document that such explanation was given. In the event that waiver services cease to be provided, the case manager or the waiver program manager (or designee) must immediately notify the income support division office of that fact by telephone. The telephone call is to be followed by a written notice to the ISD caseworker.

8.291.410.23 VERIFICATION OF INFORMATION THROUGH AN ELECTRONIC SERVICE (42 CFR 435.949(a) and (b)):

The federal government will establish an electronic service through which HSD may verify certain information with, or obtain such information from, federal agencies and other data sources, including SSA, the department of treasury, and the department of homeland security. To the extent that information related to eligibility for medicaid is available through the electronic service, HSD must obtain the information through such service.

[8.291.410.23 NMAC - N, 10/1/2017]

8.291.410.24 USE OF INFORMATION AND REQUESTS OF ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FROM INDIVIDUALS (42 CFR 435.952):

A. HSD will promptly evaluate information received or obtained by it in accordance with regulations per 42 CFR 435.940 through 435.960 to determine whether such information may affect the eligibility of an individual or the benefits to which he or she is entitled.

B. If information provided by or on behalf of an individual (on the application or renewal form or otherwise) is reasonably compatible with information obtained by HSD in accordance with 42. CFR 435.948, 435.949 or 435.956 HSD will determine or renew eligibility based on such information.

C. An individual must not be required to provide additional information or documentation unless information needed by the agency HSD in accordance with 42 CFR 435.948, 435.949 or 435.956 cannot be obtained electronically or the information obtained electronically is not reasonably compatible, as provided in the verification plan described in 8.291.410.24 NMAC with information provided by or on behalf of the individual.

(1) Income information obtained through an electronic data match shall be considered reasonably compatible with income information provided by or on behalf of an individual if both are either above or at or below the applicable income standard or other relevant income threshold.

(2) If information provided by or on behalf of an individual is not reasonably compatible with information obtained through an electronic data match, HSD must seek additional information from the individual including:

(a) A statement which reasonably explains the discrepancy; or

(b) Other information (which may include documentation), provided that documentation from the individual is permitted only to the extent electronic data are not available and establishing a data match would not be effective, considering such factors as the administrative costs associated with establishing and using the data match compared with the administrative costs associated with relying on paper documentation, and the impact on program integrity in terms of the potential for ineligible individuals to be approved as well as for eligible individuals to be denied coverage.

(c) HSD must provide the individual a reasonable period, defined as 10 calendar days, to furnish any additional information required under Subsection C of 8.291.410.24 NMAC.

(3) Exception for special circumstances. HSD must establish an exception to permit, on a case-by-case basis, self-attestation of individuals for all eligibility criteria when documentation does not exist at the time of application or renewal, or is not reasonably available, such as in the case of individuals who are homeless or have experienced domestic violence or a natural disaster. This exception does not apply if documentation is specifically required under title XI or XIX, such as requirements for verifying citizenship and immigration status.

D. HSD may not deny or terminate eligibility or reduce benefits for any individual on the basis of information received in accordance with regulations under 42 CFR 435.940 through 435.960 of this subpart unless HSD has sought additional information from the individual in accordance with Subsection C of 8.291.410.24 NMAC and provided proper notice and hearing rights to the individual.

B. Budget group: the budget group consists of the following types and will be established on an individual basis:

(a) the budget group will consist of applicants or recipients who are listed on the MAP application as the taxpayer and tax dependents;

(b) if there are multiple taxpayers listed on a single MAP application, the budget group(s) will be established based on who the taxpayer intends to claim as a dependent (including the taxpayer); only the taxpayer and their child and tax dependent (dependent) listed on the MAP application will be considered as part of the budget group;

(c) in the case of an applicant or recipient married couple living together, each spouse will be included in the household of the other spouse, regardless of whether they expect to file a joint tax return, a separate tax return or whether one spouse expects to be claimed as a tax dependent by the other spouse;

(d) exceptions to tax filer rules: the following applicants or recipients will be treated as non-filers:

(i) an applicant or a recipient other than a spouse or a biological, adopted, or step child who expect to be claimed as a tax dependent by another taxpayer outside of the household;

(ii) an applicant or a recipient under 19 who expect to be claimed by one parent as a tax dependent and are living with both parents but whose parents do not expect to file a joint tax return;

(iii) an applicant or a recipient under 19 who expect to be claimed as a tax dependent by a non-custodial parent.

(2) individuals who neither file a tax return nor are claimed as a tax dependent: in the case of applicants or recipients who do not expect to file a federal tax return and do not expect to be claimed as a tax dependent for the taxable year in which a MAP category of eligibility is being made, or meet an exception to tax filer requirements in Paragraph (1) of Subsection B of 8.291.430.14 NMAC, the budget group consists of the applicant or recipient and, if living with the applicant or recipient:

(a) the applicant's or recipient's spouse;

(b) the applicant's and recipient's natural, adopted and step children under the age of 19;

(c) in the case of applicants or recipients under the age of 19, the applicant's or recipient's natural, adopted and step parents and natural, adoptive and step siblings under the age of 19.

(3) households may submit a MAP application that includes both filer and non-filers as defined in Subsections A and B of 8.291.430.14 NMAC; the budget group(s) will be organized using the filer and non-filer concepts, and eligibility will be established on an individual basis.

8.291.430.15 INCOME STANDARDS:

Verification of income, both earned and unearned, is mandatory for all MAP categories of ACA related eligibility. Verification methods can be found at 8.291.410 NMAC.

A. All income will be calculated as defined by Section 36B of the Federal Tax Code to produce a MAGI. This amount is compared to the FPL for the appropriate MAP category of eligibility and household size.

B. MAGI is calculated using the methodologies defined in Section 36B(d)(2)(B) of the Federal Tax Code, with the following exceptions:

(1) an amount received as a lump sum is counted as income only in the month received except for qualified lottery and gambling winnings per Subsection D of 8.291.430.15 NMAC;

(2) scholarships, awards, or fellowship grants used for education purposes and not for living expenses are excluded from income;

(3) the following American Indian or Alaska native exceptions are excluded from income:

(a) distributions from Alaska native corporations and settlement trusts;

(b) distributions from any property held in trust, subject to federal restrictions, located within the most recent boundaries of a prior federal reservation, or otherwise under the supervision of the secretary of the interior;

(c) distributions and payments from rents, leases, rights of way, royalties, usage rights, or natural resource extraction and harvest from;

(i) rights of ownership or possession in any lands described in Subsection B of 8.291.430.15 NMAC; or

(ii) federally protected rights regarding off-reservation hunting, fishing, gathering, or usage of natural resources;

(d) distributions resulting from real property ownership interests related to natural resources and improvements;

(i) located on or near a reservation or within the most recent boundaries of a prior federal reservation; or

(ii) resulting from the exercise of federally-protected rights relating to such real property ownership interests.

(e) payments resulting from ownership interests in or usage rights to items that have unique religious, spiritual, traditional, or cultural significance or rights that support subsistence or a traditional lifestyle according to applicable tribal law or custom; and

(f) student financial assistance provided under the bureau of Indian affairs education programs.

C. Certain income of children and tax dependents: The following are not included in household income:

(1) The MAGI-based income of an applicant or recipient who is included in the household of their natural, adopted, or step parent and who is not expected to be required to file a tax return under Section 6012(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code for the taxable year in which a MAP category of eligibility is being determined, is not included in household income whether or not the applicant or recipient files a tax return.

(2) The MAGI-based income of an applicant's or recipient's dependent who is not expected to be required to file a tax return under Section 6012(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code for the taxable year in which a MAP category of eligibility is being determined is not included in the household income of the taxpayer whether or not such dependent files a tax return.

D. Qualified lottery and gambling winnings are included in MAGI-based income based on the following:

(1) Qualified lottery winnings are defined as winnings from sweepstakes, lottery, or pool described in section 4402 of the internal revenue code (which generally requires that these particular activities be conducted by a state agency or under the authority of state law), or winnings from a lottery operated by a multistate or multijurisdictional lottery association or tribe. Multijurisdictional lotteries include those that include multiple entities of government. Qualified lottery winnings apply to the single payout option. Lottery winnings paid out in installments are not considered qualified lottery winnings and are treated as recurring income that can be prorated over a twelve-month period to determine an average current monthly income for medicaid.

(2) Income that is received as a lump sum from monetary winnings from gambling is included in MAGI-based income. Gambling winnings include betting pools, wagers placed through bookmakers, slot machines, roulette wheels, dice tables, lotteries, bolita or number games, or the selling of chances therein including tribal winnings.

(3) Non-cash prizes, like a car or boat, are not counted as qualified lottery winnings or monetary winnings from gambling and are counted as lump sum income in the month received.

(4) Formula for counting qualified lottery or gambling winnings: For qualified winnings from lotteries or gambling occurring on or after January 1, 2018, the following formula applies for counting income:

(a) winnings less than $80,000 are counted in the month received;

(b) winnings of $80,000 but less than $90,000 are counted as income over two months with an equal amount counted in each month;

(c) for every additional $10,000 one month is added to the period over which total winnings are divided, in equal installments, and counted as income;

(d) the maximum period of time over which winnings may be counted is 120 months, which would apply for winnings of $1,260,000 and above. HCA in the notice of case action (NOCA) notifies individuals of the date on which the lottery or gambling winnings no longer will be counted for the purposes of medicaid eligibility; and

(e) the formula for counting winnings is applied separately to each instance of winnings.

(5) Lottery or gambling winnings count as MAGI-based income over multiple months only for the individual receiving the winnings in the household. For other individuals in the household, the winnings count only in the month received in determining their MAGI-based income eligibility.

(6) Verification of lottery winnings: HCA requires verification of lottery winnings, but will first access electronic data sources, if available, before requesting documentation.

(7) Hardship exemption: HCA allows for an exemption of the counting of lottery winnings if the applicant or recipient with the lottery winnings can demonstrate an undue medical hardship such that the applicant or recipient's health or life would be endangered. An applicant or recipient must submit a written request along with supporting documentation. A decision regarding a medical hardship exemption will be made within 30 calendar days of receipt of the written request. Notice of the exemption decision will be mailed to the applicant or recipient. If an exemption is approved, then an eligibility determination will be made without counting lottery winnings. If an exemption is denied, then the applicant or recipient can request an HCA administrative hearing pursuant to 8.352.2 NMAC. Hardship exemption request information is contained in the NOCA.

E. Parent mentor compensation: A parent mentor is a parent or guardian of a medicaid eligible child who is trained to assist families with children who have no health insurance coverage with respect to improving the social determinants of the health of such children. Section 3004 of the HEALTHY KIDS Act excludes certain parent mentor compensation from the MAGI calculation. The disregard of parent mentor income applies only in the case of parent mentors working with a grantee organization under section 2113 of the Social Security Act. Nominal amounts paid as a stipend, wages, or other compensation for participation as a parent mentor in a grant-funded program under section 2113 of the Act are excluded from income. A nominal amount is defined as $1,600 per month. Parent mentor income above $1,600 per month is counted in the MAGI calculation.

F. Discharged student loan debt: Student loan debt that is discharged, forgiven or cancelled is taxable income to the borrower, and the amount of discharged debt is included in the MAGI-based income. Discharged student loan debt is not included in income (and not counted in the MAGI-based income) of a borrower for tax years 2018 through 2025 if the debt is discharged on account of the death or the permanent and total disability of the student. The borrower and the student may or may not be the same person. Student loan debt discharged under these circumstances is not counted as income in determining household income for other members of the borrower's household.

G. Alimony received: Alimony payments under separation or divorce agreements finalized after December 31, 2018, or pre-existing agreements modified after December 31, 2018, are not included in the income of the recipient. For individuals with alimony agreements finalized on or before December 31, 2018, alimony continues to be included in the income of the recipient for the duration of the agreement unless or until the agreement is modified. Self-attestation is accepted for the verification of the date of execution of separation or divorce agreements that include the provision for alimony.

H. Alimony paid: Alimony payments under separation or divorce agreements finalized after December 31, 2018, or pre-existing agreements modified after December 31, 2018, are not deductible by the payer. For individuals with alimony agreements finalized on or before December 31, 2018, alimony payments continue to be deductible. Self-attestation is accepted for the verification of the date of execution of separation or divorce agreements that include the provision for alimony.

I. Moving expenses, including expenses incurred by the individual as well as reimbursements from an employer, are not deductible in calculating MAGI for tax years 2018 through 2025. Moving expenses are deductible for active duty members of the military who are ordered to move or change duty station.

J. Tuition and fees deduction: Effective January 1, 2018 the payment of tuition and fees for qualified education expenses for postsecondary education is not an allowable deduction in calculating MAGI.

8.300.1.8 MISSION STATEMENT:

The mission of the New Mexico medical assistance division (MAD) is to maximize the health status of eligible recipients by furnishing payment for quality health services at levels comparable to private health plans.

[8.300.1.8 NMAC - Rp 8.300.1.8 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.300.1.9 GENERAL PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:

The HCA, through MAD, is responsible for the administration of the medicaid program and other health care programs. This joint federal and state program provides payment for medically necessary health services furnished to eligible recipients.

[8.300.1.9 NMAC - Rp 8.300.1.9 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.300.1.10 RELATIONSHIP TO MEDICARE:

MAD covers medically necessary health services furnished to eligible recipients who meet specific income, resource and eligibility standards. Medicare is a federal program which offers health insurance coverage to eligible recipients 65 years of age or older, to those who have received disability benefits for 24 consecutive months, to those who have end stage renal disease, and to other eligible recipients, as specified by other provisions of the Social Security Act.

A. The state of New Mexico has entered into an agreement with the social security administration to pay medicaid eligible recipient premiums for medicare part B, and under some circumstances, medicare part A premiums.

B. After medicare has made payment for services, the medicaid program pays for the medicare co-insurance and deductible amounts for all eligible Medicaid recipients subject to the following medicaid reimbursement limitations.

(1) Medicaid payment for the co-insurance and deductible is limited such that the payment from medicare, plus the amount allowed by medicaid for the co-insurance and deductible, shall not exceed the medicaid allowed amount for the service. When the medicare payment exceeds the amount that medicaid would have allowed for the service, no payment is made for the co-insurance or deductible. The claim is considered paid in full. The provider may not collect any remaining portion of the medicare co-insurance or deductible from the eligible recipient or their personal representative. For services for which medicare part B applies a fifty percent co-insurance rate, medicare co-insurance and deductible amounts may be paid at an amount that allows the provider to receive more than medicaid allowed amount, not to exceed a percentage determined by HCA.

(2) The medicaid program will pay toward the medicare co-insurance and deductible to the extent that the amount paid by medicare and the allowed medicare co-insurance and deductible together do not exceed the medicaid allowed amount. The medicaid program will pay the medicare co-insurance and deductible when the medicaid program does not have a specific amount allowed for the service.

The HCC shall then determine, using the criteria in HIPAA privacy rule, if the request will be granted in part, in full, or denied.

(a) If the request will be granted in full, the PSO shall provide a written response arranging with the recipient or their personal representative a convenient time and place to inspect or obtain a copy of the PHI, or may mail the copy of the PHI at the recipient's or their personal representative's request; and shall discuss the scope, format, and other aspects of the recipient's or their personal representative's request with the recipient or personal representative as necessary to facilitate timely provision.

(b) If the PSO is unable to gather the required data within the time period required, the PSO may extend the time for the action by no more than 30 calendar days so long as the recipient or their personal representative is provided with a written statement of the reason(s) for the delay and the date by which the PSO shall complete the action on the request. However, only one such extension of time shall be allowed.

(c) The PSO shall provide a copy of the recipient's PHI to the recipient or their personal representative in the format requested, if possible. If not, the PSO shall provide the PHI in a readable hard copy form or in another format mutually agreed upon by the PSO and the recipient or their personal representative.

(2) If the request is denied, in part or in full, the PSO shall either:

(b) provide a written denial to the recipient or their personal representative; the denial shall be written in plain language and contain:

(i) the basis for the denial,

(ii) if applicable, a statement of the recipient's review rights, and

(iii) a description of how the recipient or their personal representative may complain to the PSO or to the secretary of HCA; this description shall include the title and telephone number of the PSO and the secretary of HCA.

(3) If the HCC does not maintain the PHI that is the subject of the request for inspection or copying, the PSO shall inform the recipient or their personal representative where to direct the request, if known.

(4) Exceptions: A recipient or their personal representative may not inspect the recipient's own protected health information (PHI) in a medical record in connection with:

(a) psychotherapy notes;

(b) information compiled in reasonable anticipation of, or for use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative proceeding;

(c) PHI maintained by the HCC that is subject to the clinical laboratory improvements amendments (CLIA) to the extent that access to the recipient or their personal representative is prohibited by CLIA;

(d) when the access to the PHI requested is reasonably likely to endanger the life or physical safety of the recipient or another person as determined by a licensed health care professional by using their professional judgment;

(e) when the PHI makes reference to another person (unless such other person is a health care provider) and a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that granting the access requested is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to such other person; or

(f) when the request for access is made by recipient's personal representative and a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the provision of access to such personal representative is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to the recipient or another person 45CFR 164.524.

(5) The PSO shall record all actions pertaining to access to inspect and copy

C. Accounting of disclosures: Accounting of all disclosures of a recipient's PHI shall be produced via written report by the PSO when the request is made in writing by the recipient or their personal representative and sent to the PSO.

(1) All disclosures shall be reported except for those:

(a) made to carry out TPO 45 CFR 164.506;

(b) for a facility directory;

(c) for notification purposes that include disaster relief, emergencies, or in the case of recipient death;

(d) for national security purposes;

(e) to correctional institutions or law enforcement officials having custody of an inmate;

(f) made prior to July 1, 2003;

(g) made more than six years prior to the date the accounting is requested;

(h) made to the recipient or their personal representative of the recipient's own PHI; or

(i) made to individuals involved in the recipient's care 45 CFR 164.528.

(2) If the HCC does not maintain the PHI that is the subject of the request for accounting, the PSO shall inform the recipient or their personal representative where to direct the request, if known.

(3) When a recipient or their personal representative requests in writing to the PSO an accounting of disclosures of PHI:

(a) within 60 calendar days of receiving a recipient's or their personal representative's request, HCC prepares a report from the PSO's database that includes all required PHI disclosures that occurred during the six years prior to the date of the request for an accounting, unless the recipient or their personal representative requested an accounting for a shorter period of time than six years.

(b) the deadline for producing the disclosure report may be extended for up to 30 calendar days, provided that a written statement is sent to the recipient citing the reasons for the delay and the date by which the accounting shall be received;

(c) the HCC must provide free of charge the first accounting report within any 12-month period; if additional requests for an accounting are made within the same 12-month period, the HCC shall notify the recipient or their personal representative if a fee will be charged for the additional copies;

(d) the accounting disclosure information is entered into the PSO's database.

D. Setting restrictions: A recipient or their personal representative may request restrictions on the uses and disclosures of their own protected health information (PHI) by submitting a request in writing to the HIPAA privacy and security officer (PSO).

(1) The PSO shall approve or deny requests for restriction(s) in writing within 15 calendar days.

(2) If the HCC does not maintain the PHI that is the subject of the request for setting restrictions, the PSO shall inform the recipient or their personal representative where to direct the request, if known.

(3) If a restriction is approved by the PSO, the information shall be entered into the PSO's database and the HCC shall not use or disclose the restricted PHI 45CFR 164.522(a).

(4) If the recipient or their personal representative is unable to write the request, the recipient or their personal representative may request assistance from the HCC. If assistance is provided, the HCC shall document that the assistance was given, have the recipient or their personal representative sign and date the document, co-sign and retain the document in the recipient's file.

(5) Limited use and disclosure of PHI is allowable when the recipient or their personal representative is not present for an emergency or because of the incapacity of the recipient or their personal representative.

(6) The HCC shall approve or deny the request as appropriate and ensure that the approval or denial of the restriction is entered into the medical record.

(7) If the restriction would involve more than a single location, the HCC staff worker shall send the request to the HIPAA privacy and security officer.

(8) The PSO shall inform the recipient or their personal representative in writing of the approval or denial of the request to restrict use and disclosure.

(9) The PSO shall document the restriction(s) in the PSO's database.

E. Amendments: It is the policy of the HCC that the HCC shall allow a recipient to request that an amendment be made to the recipient's own protected health information

(PHI) contained in a designated record set as long as the PHI was originated by the HCC.

(1) A request for an amendment shall be submitted in writing to the PSO 45 CFR 164.526.

(2) If the HCC does not maintain the PHI that is the subject of the request for amending, the PSO shall inform the recipient or their personal representative where to direct the request, if known.

(3) Within five working days of receiving the recipient's or their personal representative's written request for an amendment, the PSO shall forward the request to the possessor of the PHI requested to be amended for a determination on whether to grant or deny, in whole or in part, the recipient's or their personal representative's request.

(4) The possessor of the PHI shall:

(a) review the recipient's or their personal representative's request for an amendment;

(b) determine whether to grant or deny, in whole or in part, the recipient's or their personal representative's request;

(c) within 45 calendar days of receiving the recipient's or their personal representative written request for an amendment from the PSO, inform the PSO of the decision to grant or deny, in whole or in part, the recipient's or their personal representative's request and the reason(s) for reaching the decision;

(d) within 60 calendar days of the original receipt of the recipient's or their personal representative's request for an amendment, the PSO shall inform the recipient or their personal representative of the decision to grant or deny the requested amendment in whole or in part; and

(e) if the PSO is unable to act on the amendment within the required 60 calendar day period, the time may be extended by no more that 30 calendar days, provided that the PSO provides the recipient or their personal representative with a written statement of the reasons for the delay and the date the action on the request will be completed.

(5) If the recipient's or their personal representative's request is granted in whole or in part:

(a) the possessor shall make the appropriate amendment to the recipient's PHI in the designated record set;

(b) the PSO shall inform the recipient or their personal representative that the amendment is accepted;

(2) If the request for PHI is not routine or recurring, the request shall be limited to the minimum necessary PHI to accomplish the task.

(3) All requests for PHI shall be in writing and a copy given to the PSO for audit purposes.

8.300.22.9 ELECTRONIC HEALTH RECORDS INCENTIVE PROGRAM:

The New Mexico medical assistance division (MAD) administers the medicaid electronic health records incentive program (medicaid EHR incentive program) as authorized by the federal American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009. Under this program, New Mexico MAD providers may qualify for incentive payments if they meet the eligibility guidelines in this section and demonstrate they are engaged in efforts to adopt, implement, upgrade (AIU), or meaningfully use certified electronic health records (EHR) technology. The medicaid EHR incentive program is governed by the rule in this section, the electronic health records program final rule issued by centers for medicare and medicaid (CMS) in CMS-0033-F and 45 CFR 170, and the conditions of approval of the MAD plan approved by CMS. New Mexico MAD providers must also follow MAD instructions for enrolling in the medicaid EHR incentive program and provide documentation as required. Payments are made with federal funds and are contingent on the availability of those funds and federal requirements for reimbursement. Should the federal government discontinue funding, the incentive payments, inclusive, then incentive payments from the department will terminate.

[8.300.22.9 NMAC - N, 8-1-11]

8.300.22.10 ELIGIBLE PROVIDERS:

A. Health care to New Mexico MAD eligible recipients is furnished by a variety of providers and provider groups. The reimbursement for these services is administered by MAD. Upon approval of a New Mexico MAD provider participation agreement or a MAD EHR incentive payment agreement by MAD or its designee, licensed practitioners, facilities and other providers of services that meet applicable requirements are eligible to be reimbursed for furnishing covered services to eligible recipients. A provider must be approved before submitting a claim for payment to the MAD claims processing contractors. MAD makes available on the HSD/MAD website, on other program-specific websites, or in hard copy format, information necessary to participate in health care programs administered by HSD or its authorized agents, including program rules, billing instructions, utilization review instructions, and other pertinent materials. When approved, a provider receives instruction on how to access these documents. It is the provider's responsibility to access these instructions, to understand the information provided and to comply with the requirements. The provider must contact HSD or its authorized agents to obtain answers to questions related to the material or not covered by the material. To be eligible for reimbursement, a provider must adhere to the provisions of the MAD provider participation agreement or a MAD EHR incentive payment agreement, and all applicable statutes, regulations, and executive orders. MAD or its selected claims processing contractor issues payments to a provider using electronic funds transfer (EFT) only.

B. To qualify for incentive payments, a provider must be an eligible professional or an eligible hospital. A provider who receives incentive payments must have an existing fee-for-service (FFS) MAD provider participation agreement or a MAD EHR incentive payment agreement, and at least one of their facilities must be located within the state of New Mexico.

(1) An eligible professional provider may not be hospital-based, unless they practice predominantly at a federally qualified health center (FQHC) or a rural health center (RHC) as defined by the CMS final rule. A professional provider is considered "hospital-based" if he/she furnishes 90 percent or more of his/her medicaid professional services during the relevant EHR reporting period in a hospital inpatient or emergency room, using the facilities and equipment of the hospital. An eligible professional provider may not participate in both the medicaid EHR incentive payment program and medicare EHR incentive payment program during the same payment year. Eligible professional providers include:

(a) a physician;

(b) a physician assistant practicing in a FQHC or RHC led by a physician assistant;

(c) a board certified pediatrician;

(d) a nurse practitioner;

(e) a certified nurse midwife;

(f) a dentist; or

(g) other type of provider when specifically allowed by CMS.

(2) Eligible hospitals are children's hospitals or acute care hospitals, including critical access hospitals and cancer hospitals. A hospital must meet either of the following definitions to be eligible for incentive payments:

(a) an acute care hospital is defined as a health care facility where the average length of patient stay is 25 days or fewer and that has a CMS certification number that has the last four digits in the series 0001-0879 and 1300-1399; or

(b) a children's hospital is defined as a separately certified children's hospital, either freestanding or hospital-within-hospital, that predominantly treats individuals under 21 years of age and has a CMS certification number with the last four digits in the series 3300-3399.

[8.300.22.10 NMAC - N, 8-1-11]

8.300.22.11 ELIGIBLE RECIPIENT VOLUME:

An eligible professional provider and an eligible hospital must meet eligible recipient volume criteria to qualify for incentive payments. Eligible recipient volume criteria compliance will be verified by MAD through claims and encounter data and audits. Eligible recipient volume requirements represent Title XIX (medicaid) eligible recipients as a percent of total eligible recipients, except for an eligible professional provider practicing predominately in a FQHC or RHC, who may use "needy individuals" as defined below in calculating eligible recipient volume.

A. The CMS final rule provides two options for determining patient volume percentages. New Mexico MAD will allow both options, as described below:

(1) eligible recipient encounter method: medicaid eligible recipient encounters in any 90-day reporting period in the preceding calendar year divided by total eligible recipient encounters in same 90-day period; or

(2) unduplicated eligible recipient method: see formula below (total medicaid eligible recipients assigned to the provider in any representative continuous 90-day period in the preceding calendar year with at least one encounter in the year preceding the start of the 90-day period) + (unduplicated medicaid encounters in that same 90-day period) *100 divided by (total eligible recipients assigned to the provider in the same 90 days with at least one encounter in the year preceding the start of the 90-day period) + (all unduplicated encounters in that same 90-day period).

B. Eligible recipient volume thresholds vary by type of provider and practice location.

(1) An eligible professional provider must meet a 30 percent medicaid eligible recipient volume threshold over a continuous 90-day period in the preceding calendar year. The only exception is for pediatricians, as discussed in 8.300.22.16 NMAC, below.

(2) With the exception of a children's hospital, which have no eligible recipient volume requirement, an eligible hospital must meet a 10 percent medicaid eligible recipient volume threshold over a continuous 90-day period in the preceding calendar year.

(3) An eligible professional provider practicing predominantly in an FQHC or RHC must meet 30 percent "needy individual" eligible recipient volume. To qualify as a "needy individual," patients must meet one of the following criteria:

(a) receives medicaid under an appropriate category of eligibility; or

(b) were furnished services at either no cost or reduced cost based on a sliding scale determined by the individual’s ability to pay, or were furnished uncompensated care by the provider.

(4) A clinic or group practice may calculate eligible recipient volume using the clinic's or group's entire eligible recipient volume under the following conditions:

(a) the clinic or group practice's eligible recipient volume is appropriate as a eligible recipient volume methodology calculation for the eligible professional provider; and

(b) there is an auditable data source to support the eligible recipient volume determination; and

(c) all eligible professional providers in the clinic or group practice use the same methodology for the payment year; and

(d) the clinic or group practice does not limit eligible recipient volume in any way; and

(e) if an eligible professional provider works inside and outside of the clinic or practice, the eligible recipient volume calculation includes only those encounters associated with the clinic or group practice, and not the eligible professional provider's outside encounters.

(5) A pediatrician may qualify for a two-thirds incentive payment if their medicaid eligible recipient volume is 20-29 percent. To qualify as a pediatrician for the purpose of receiving a two-thirds payment under the medicaid EHR incentive program, the pediatrician must be enrolled as a pediatrician provider with MAD.

[8.300.22.11 NMAC - N, 8-1-11; A, 7-1-12]

8.300.22.12 NATIONAL REGISTRATION AND ATTESTATION SYSTEM:

An eligible professional provider or eligible hospital choosing to participate in the medicaid EHR incentive program must register with the CMS national level registry (NLR) and provide demographic information as well as participation choices. The NLR registration process is described in the medicaid EHR incentive program participation instructions.

[8.300.22.12 NMAC - N, 8-1-11]

8.300.22.13 ATTESTATION REQUIREMENTS:

An eligible professional provider or eligible hospital must attest to meeting the medicaid EHR incentive program participation requirements as a prerequisite to receiving payment. Attestation is accomplished through on-line access to the state level registry (SLR) and completion of an agreement. The agreement must be signed by the eligible professional provider or the eligible hospital and when accepted by MAD becomes part of the MAD provider participation agreement or a MAD EHR incentive payment agreement. The medicaid EHR incentive program attestation includes several elements, described in subsequent sections.

A. An eligible professional provider or eligible hospital in their first participation year under the medicaid EHR incentive program may choose to attest to adopting, implementing, or upgrading certified electronic health record (EHR) technology. Proof of A/I/U must be submitted to MAD as part of the attestation.

B. An eligible professional provider in their second through sixth participation year and an eligible hospital in their second through third, or fourth participation year must attest to meaningful use of certified EHR technology. An eligible hospital must attest to meaningful use if they are participating in both the medicare and MAD medicaid EHR incentive programs in their first participation year. The definition of "meaningful EHR user" and "meaningful use" is found in 42 CFR 495.4 and 42 CFR 495.6, respectively.

[8.300.22.13 NMAC - N, 8-1-11]

8.300.22.14 PAYMENT REQUIREMENTS:

An eligible professional provider and eligible hospital may receive yearly payments under the medicaid EHR incentive program. All medicaid EHR incentive program payments are subject to certain conditions.

A. Attestations must be accepted by MAD and the attested items verified pursuant to MAD guidelines.

B. An eligible professional provider or eligible hospital must identify a taxpayer identification number (TIN) to assign payment. Valid entities may be the individual eligible professional provider, a group with which the eligible professional provider s associated or an organization recognized by MAD as a qualified organization promoting the use of EHR technology. The "qualified organization" may not retain more than five percent of the annual medicaid EHR incentive program for those costs unrelated to the certified EHR, which will include salaries and benefits, rent, maintenance, utilities, insurance and travel.

C. The eligible professional or eligible hospital must have a current MAD provider participation agreement or a MAD EHR incentive payment agreement by MAD or its designee.

D. The eligible professional provider or eligible hospital is responsible for repayment of any identified overpayment of the medicaid EHR incentive program funds. MAD will recoup the overpaid funds by reducing any future payments, or through other arrangements as it determines.

[8.300.22.14 NMAC - N, 8-1-11]

8.300.22.15 PAYMENT CALCULATION:

MAD will calculate yearly payment amounts and the total payment amounts based on the guidelines described below.

A. An eligible professional provider may receive a maximum of $63,750 in the incentive payments over six years, unless otherwise reduced or increased by CMS.

(1) An eligible professional provider must initiate registration to receive payment in 2016 in order to participate in the program.

(2) An eligible professional provider may receive payment on an annual or non-consecutive basis for up to six years between 2011 through 2021.

(3) Payment will be made one time per year per eligible professional provider.

(4) To receive an incentive payment in the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth payment year, the eligible professional provider must demonstrate that it is a meaningful user of EHR technology, as described in 42 CFR 495.4.

B. An eligible hospital aggregated incentive amount calculation will be a one-time, up front calculation for each hospital, based on the methodology described in Paragraph (2) of Subsection B below.

(1) An eligible hospital has a base amount of $2,000,000 for each of four years, plus a discharge-related amount, times the MAD share of the total. The detailed formula is below {Sum over four years of [(base amount + discharge related amount applicable for each year) * transition factor applicable for each year]} * [(MAD inpatientbed-days + MAD managed care inpatient-bed-days) / {(total inpatient-bed-days) * (estimated total charges – charity care charges) / (estimated total charges)}].

(2) MAD will make payment to a hospital as follows:

(a) A hospital will be eligible for funding over three years with payments distributed at 50 percent of the total payment in the first participation year of program enrollment, 40 percent of the total payment in the second participation year of program enrollment, and 10 percent in the third participation year of program enrollment.

(b) MAD will accept the most recent submitted cost reports as the basis for calculation of EHR incentive program payments.

(c) MAD will use the MAD management information system (MMIS) data as the basis for validating hospital MAD eligible recipient volume.

(d) MAD will use the federal fiscal year as the basis for calculation of all measures related to a hospital.

(e) MAD will use the hospital audit agent to support the MAD calculation of each eligible hospital incentive payment, and reach agreement with the eligible hospital and their representative, the New Mexico hospital association on the accuracy of each eligible hospital calculation before submitting the results for payment.

(f) A hospital may not request a re-calculation of the medicaid EHR incentive program payment once the parties have agreed to the base year for the medicare cost report.

[8.300.22.15 NMAC - N, 8-1-11]

8.300.22.16 AUDIT AND RECORD RETETION:

Medicaid EHR incentive program participation and payments are subject to audit and recoupment if determined to be paid improperly. MAD will provide both prepayment verification and post payment audit of the payments made through the medicaid EHR incentive program.

A. MAD expects to verify most aspects of medicaid EHR incentive program eligibility as part of its pre-payment screening, including:

(1) active MAD provider participation agreement for an eligible professional provider and an eligible hospital or a MAD EHR incentive payment agreement;

(2) MAD eligible recipient volume for an eligible professional provider in an independent practice (broken out by FFS and for each contracted MCO);

(3) participation in the group practice identified by the eligible professional provider as meeting the threshold for MAD eligible recipient volume;

(4) total MAD eligible recipient for group practice;

(5) all members of a group use the same methodology for assigning eligible recipients to participating eligible professional providers;

(6) A/I/U certified EHR software for eligible professionals;

(7) not a hospital based provider for eligible professional providers;

(8) hospital eligible recipient volume from audit reports; and

(9) hospital incentive payment calculation (one-time process).

B. MAD may conduct post payment audits of any medicaid EHR incentive program participant. Post payment audits may include any aspect of medicaid EHR incentive program eligibility. An eligible professional provider, group or eligible hospital must maintain and make available documentation to support their participation in the medicaid EHR incentive program. Post payment audits will focus on verification of eligibility components not readily available to MAD as part of normal MAD program administration, including:

(1) validation of total eligible recipient volume, including "needy individuals" for all eligible professional providers;

(2) out-of-state medicaid eligible recipients;

(3) practices predominantly in a FQHC or RHC for eligible professional providers claiming that status; and

(4) meaningful use through meeting objectives for collecting and submitting clinical quality measures.

C. MAD eligible professional providers and eligible hospitals participating in the medicaid EHR incentive program must maintain all documentation supporting their participation in the program for six years from the date of receipt of any payment.

See 27-2-12 et. seq. NMSA 1978 (Repl. Pamp. 1991). Section 9-8-1 et seq. 8.301.5.6 OBJECTIVE:

The objective of these regulations is to provide policies for the service portion of the New Mexico medicaid program. These policies describe eligible providers, covered services, noncovered services, utilization review, and provider reimbursement.

[8.301.5.6 NMAC - Rp 8.301.5.6 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.301.5.7 DEFINITIONS:

[RESERVED]

8.301.5.8 MISSION STATEMENT:

The mission of the New Mexico medical assistance division (MAD) is to maximize the health status of medicaid-eligible individuals by furnishing payment for quality health services at levels comparable to private health plans.

[8.301.5.8 NMAC - Rp 8.301.5.8 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.301.5.9 MEDICAL MANAGEMENT:

The New Mexico medicaid program (medicaid) pays for medically necessary medical services furnished to medicaid recipients. To make sure that recipients receive only necessary services, the New Mexico medical assistance division (MAD) has developed the medical management program. The medical management program is designed to enhance the receipt of health care to a recipient by assigning a designated provider. This may also reduce the use of unnecessary services by medicaid recipients in certain instances. See 42 CFR 431.54(e). Medical management involves the identification of appropriate cases, selection of actual cases, documentation of the health care issue(s) necessitating management, development of assignment recommendations, and evaluation of the effectiveness of the assignments. The medical assistance division (MAD) medical director or another physician specifically appointed by MAD determines whether recipients are assigned to the medical management program.

[8.301.5.9 NMAC - Rp 8.301.5.9 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.301.5.10 SERVICES EXCLUDED FROM MEDICAL MANAGEMENT:

Recipients can receive emergency services and inpatient services without referrals from their designated providers. These services are exempt from medical management. Emergency room claims for services provided to any recipient may be reviewed before or after payment. Inappropriate non- emergency use of emergency room services results in denial of payment by medicaid and liability of the recipient for payment.

[8.301.5.10 NMAC - Rp 8.301.5.10 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.301.5.11 IDENTIFICATION OF CANDIDATES:

All medicaid recipients are potential candidates for inclusion in medical management, whether enrolled in Salud! or covered under medicaid fee-for-service. Recipients are identified as candidates for review by HCA, the MCO, a provider or other appropriate entities. The following situations may indicate a need for medical management:

A. individuals who overutilize medical services;

B. individuals who are habitually non-compliant and miss appointments, or who frequently seek unauthorized treatment or care; and

C. individuals who frequently change PCPs or simultaneously utilize multiple pharmacy providers;

D. individuals who regularly utilize emergency room services for inappropriate, non-emergency care.

[8.301.5.11 NMAC - Rp 8.301.5.11 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.301.5.12 SELECTION FOR MEDICAL MANAGEMENT:

HCA staff analyzes appropriate reports and documentation to decide whether a recipient will be referred to the MAD medical director for medical management determination. After reviewing HCA staff recommendations and supporting documentation, the MAD medical director or another physician designated by MAD determines whether the recipient should be assigned to medical management. Once the determination is made by the physician, the assignment of the recipient to medical management is implemented by MAD. The assignment is subject to the notice requirements and hearing process described below in Section 15, Recipient Notice and Section 16, Recipient Hearings.

A. Notification of decision: The HCA staff notifies the recipient, the claims processing contractor, the income support division (ISD), and, if enrolled in Salud!, the MCO, of the medical management assignments. Providers are informed that a client is in medical management at the time the provider verifies the client’s eligibility for the date the services are provided. Recipients placed in medical management receive medicaid identification cards which indicate "medical management" and the names of their "designated providers".

B. Assignments for recipients covered by third party insurers: Recipients who are eligible for medicare and medicaid services or recipients who have insurance can be assigned to a designated provider for services covered exclusively by medicaid.

Recipients in managed care plans are assigned to designated providers who participate in the recipient's plan.

[8.301.5.12 NMAC - Rp 8.301.5.12 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.301.5.13 DESIGNATED PROVIDERS:

Recipients who are in medical management are assigned to designated providers based on their specific health care situation. Recipients may be assigned to a designated provider who manages the recipient's overall receipt of health services by making referrals, a designated provider who furnishes only specialty services, or both. Medicaid payment for medical services is restricted to designated providers. Other providers can receive payment for services furnished to a recipient in medical management only with a referral from the designated provider. If a recipient is assigned a designated psychiatrist, only that psychiatrist is reimbursed by medicaid or the MCO for providing outpatient psychiatric services to the recipient, unless the designated psychiatrist determines that it is medically necessary for the recipient to be referred to a second psychiatrist. If a recipient is assigned a designated general provider, only that provider is reimbursed by medicaid or the MCO for providing outpatient services to the recipient, unless the designated general provider determines that it is medically necessary for the recipient to be referred to a secondary provider. If a recipient is assigned a designated pharmacy provider, only that provider is reimbursed by medicaid fee-for- service or the MCO.

A. Selection of designated providers: Providers of outpatient services are selected as "designated providers". The following guidelines are used to select a provider:

(1) the provider must be a medicaid fee-for- service or MCO contracted provider;

(2) the provider agrees to act in the capacity of a designated provider;

(3) the geographic location of the provider must not significantly impair or impede the recipient's access to services; and

(4) when feasible, the provider is one with whom the recipient has previously established a medically-beneficial relationship;

(5) if the designated provider is not the recipient's PCP, then the provider must coordinate with the recipient's PCP.

B. Changing designated providers: When any of the following circumstances occur, the MAD medical director or another physician designated by MAD can approve a request to change the designated providers permanently:

(1) the recipient moves from the geographic area of the designated provider;

(2) the recipient's medical condition changes and the designated provider is unable to furnish care or refer the recipient to an appropriate provider;

(3) the designated provider is no longer available or gives notice that they are no longer willing to serve as a designated provider; or

(4) the designated provider no longer participates in the medicaid program.

[8.301.5.13 NMAC - Rp 8.301.5.13 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.301.5.14 REEVALUATION OF ASSIGNMENT:

Initial medical management assignments are reevaluated by the HCA staff within a year of the effective date of the assignment or from the date of reevaluation. The reevaluation focuses on whether assignments met the objectives identified in the HCA staff recommendation or whether the initial assignments need modification. A reevaluation is conducted using information similar to that used in the initial medical management assignment analysis. If continuation or modification of an assignment is necessary, the reasons for the action are documented in the case file. The MAD medical director or another physician designated by MAD makes the final decision as to whether the assignment needs to be continued, modified or removed.

A. Medicaid eligibility changes: Changes in recipient eligibility status do not affect the status of a recipient in medical management or the reevaluation process. If a recipient on medical management becomes ineligible for medicaid benefits but later becomes medicaid eligible within the assignment period, the recipient remains in medical management.

B. Removal from the medical management program: Recipients are removed from medical management by HCA staff when the specific situation necessitating medical management has been resolved.

[8.301.5.14 NMAC - Rp 8.301.5.14 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.301.5.15 RECIPIENT NOTICE:

The medical assistance division gives a recipient and the MCO, if the recipient is enrolled in Salud!, 13 working days notice of the decision to place the recipient in medical management. Notice is given for the initial imposition of the assignment, modification of the assignment, or continuation of the assignment.

A. Time constraints: A recipient can submit a request for a hearing of their assignment into medical management, assignment of the designated providers, modification, or continuation of the assignment. If the recipient requests a hearing within the time frame established below in Section 16, Recipient Hearing, the proposed assignment shall remain imposed until a hearing decision states otherwise.

B. Information contained in the notice: The recipient notice contains the following information 42 CFR 431.210:

(1) statement describing the action MAD intends to take;

(2) reasons for the intended action;

(3) specific state or federal regulations supporting the action or change(s) in the law which require the action;

(4) explanation of the recipient's right to request an administrative hearing and the method and timetable by which the hearing can be requested;

(5) statement explaining the recipient's right to be represented at the administrative hearing by legal counsel, a friend, or other representative;

(6) explanation of the circumstances under which the benefits are continued; and

(7) effective date of the assignment.

[8.301.5.15 NMAC - Rp 8.301.5.15 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.301.5.16 RECIPIENT HEARING:

A recipient has a right to request a hearing regarding the MAD decision to assign the recipient into medical management. The request must be submitted to the quality assurance bureau of MAD, the HCA hearing bureau or the local ISD office within 90 days of the date the notice of action was postmarked. See 8.352.2 NMAC, Recipient Hearings.

8.301.6.9 CLIENT MEDICAL TRANSPORTATION SERVICES:

The medical assistance division (MAD) covers expenses for transportation, meals and lodging it determines are necessary to secure MAD covered medical examination and treatment for eligible recipients in or out of their home community 42 CFR 440.170. Travel expenses include the cost of transportation by long distance common carrier, taxicab, handivan, and ground or air ambulance, all as appropriate to the situation and location of the eligible recipient. When medically necessary, MAD covers similar expenses for an attendant who accompanies the eligible recipient to the medical examination or treatment.

[8.301.6.9 NMAC - Rp 8.301.6.9 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.301.6.10 COVERED SERVICES AND SERVICE LIMITATIONS:

MAD reimburses eligible recipients or transportation providers for medically necessary transportation subject to the following:

A. Free alternatives: Alternative transportation services which may be provided free of charge, include volunteers, relatives or transportation services provided by nursing facilities or other residential centers. An eligible recipient must certify in writing that they do not have access to free alternatives.

B. Least costly alternatives: MAD covers the most appropriate and least costly transportation alternatives suitable for the eligible recipient's medical condition. If an eligible recipient can use private vehicles or public transportation, those alternatives must be used before the eligible recipient can use more expensive transportation alternatives.

C. Non-emergency transportation service: MAD covers non-emergency transportation services for an eligible recipient who does not have primary transportation and who is unable to access a less costly form of public transportation.

D. Long distance common carriers: MAD covers long distance services furnished by a common carrier if the eligible recipient must leave their home community to receive medical services. Authorization forms for direct payment to long distance bus common carriers by MAD are available through the eligible recipient's local county income support division (ISD) office.

E. Ground ambulance services: MAD covers services provided by ground ambulances when:

(1) an emergency which requires ambulance service is certified by a physician or is documented in the provider's records as meeting emergency medical necessity as defined as:

(a) an emergency condition that is a medical or behavioral health condition manifesting itself by acute symptoms of sufficient severity (including severe pain) such that a prudent layperson, who possesses an average knowledge of health and medicine, could reasonably expect the absence of immediate medical attention to result in placing the health of the individual (or with respect to a pregnant woman, the health of the woman or her unborn child) in serious jeopardy, serious impairment to body function or serious dysfunction of any bodily organ or part; and

(b) "medical necessity" for ambulance services is established if the eligible recipient's condition is such that the use of any other method of transportation is contraindicated and would endanger the eligible recipient's health;

(2) scheduled, non-emergency ambulance services are ordered by a physician who certifies that the use of any other method of non-emergency transportation is contraindicated by the eligible recipient's medical condition; and

(3) MAD covers non-reusable items and oxygen required during transportation; coverage for these items are included in the base rate reimbursement for ground ambulance.

F. Air ambulance services: MAD covers services provided by air ambulances, including private airplanes, if an emergency exists and the medical necessity for the service is certified by the physician.

(1) An emergency condition is a medical or behavioral health condition manifesting itself by acute symptoms of sufficient severity (including severe pain) such that a prudent layperson, who possesses an average knowledge of health and medicine, could reasonably expect the absence of immediate medical attention to result in placing the health of the individual (or with respect to a pregnant woman, the health of the woman or her unborn child) in serious jeopardy, serious impairment to body function or serious dysfunction of any bodily organ or part.

(2) MAD covers the following services for air ambulances:

(a) non-reusable items and oxygen required during transportation;

(b) professional attendants required during transportation; and

(c) detention time or standby time up to one hour without physician documentation; if the detention or standby time is more than one hour, a statement from the attending physician or flight nurse justifying the additional time is required.

G. Lodging services: MAD covers lodging services if recipients are required to travel to receive medical services more than four hours one way and an overnight stay is required due to medical necessity or cost considerations. If medically justified and approved, lodging is initially set for up to five continuous days. For a longer stay, the need for lodging must be re-evaluated by the fifth day to authorize up to an additional 15 days. Re-evaluation must be made every 15 days for extended stays, prior to the expiration of the existing authorization. Approval of lodging is based on the medical provider's statement of need. Authorization forms for direct payment to medicaid lodging providers by MAD are available through local county income support division (ISD) offices.

H. Meal services: Medicaid covers meals if a recipient is required to leave their home community for eight hours or more to receive medical services. Authorization forms for direct payment to medicaid meal providers by MAD are available through local county ISD offices.

I. (2) a letter of credit, surety bond, or any combination thereof is required for each provider of a designated provider type;

B. Recipient freedom of choice: Unless otherwise restricted by specific health care program rules, an eligible recipient has the freedom of choice to obtain services from in-state and border providers who meet the requirements for MAD provider participation. Some restrictions to this freedom of choice apply to an eligible recipient who is assigned to a provider or providers in the medical management program (45 CFR 431.54 (e)). An eligible recipient is not required by this legislation to execute advance directives. Advance directives, such as living wills or durable power of attorney documents, must be established in a manner which is recognized under New Mexico state law. See applicable state law. A health care provider cannot object on the basis of conscience when an eligible recipient or personal representative wishes to implement an advance directive.

A. Information requirements: At the time of admission, a provider is required to provide written information to an adult eligible recipient or personal representative concerning their right to do the following:

(1) make decisions about their medical care;

(2) accept or refuse medical or surgical treatment;

(3) execute advance directives;

Exemptions will be given on a case by case basis with consideration given to barriers the provider may face in billing electronically, including when volumes are so small that developing electronic submission capability is impractical. The requirement for electronic submission of claims does not apply to situations for which paper attachments must accompany the claim form.

C. Responsibility for claims: A provider is responsible for all claims submitted under their national provider identifier (NPI) or other provider number including responsibility for accurate coding that represents the services provided without inappropriately upcoding, unbundling, or billing mutually exclusive codes as indicated by published coding manuals, directives, and the CMS correct coding initiative.

Following MAD payment, a provider cannot seek additional payment from an eligible recipient or their personal representative in addition to the amount paid by MAD. Following MAD denial of payment due to provider administrative error in filing a claim, a provider cannot seek payment from an eligible recipient or their personal representative or turn the balance over to collection. C. The eligible recipient still agrees in writing to have specific services provided with the knowledge that he will be financially responsible for payment.

As soon as possible, but at least 60 calendar days after a change in ownership, MAD reserves the right to withhold payment on all pending or current claims until any right MAD has to recoup portions or all of those payments is determined. 8.302.2.9 BILLING FOR MEDICAID SERVICES:

Health care for New Mexico medical assistance program MAP eligible recipients and members is furnished by a variety of providers and provider groups. The reimbursement and billing for these services is administered by MAD. Upon approval of a New Mexico MAD provider participation agreement (PPA) by MAD or its designee, licensed practitioners, facilities and other providers of services that meet applicable requirements are eligible to be reimbursed for furnishing covered services to eligible recipients. A provider must be enrolled before submitting a claim for payment to the MAD claims processing contractors. MAD makes available on the HSD website, on other program-specific websites, or in hard copy format, information necessary to participate in health care programs administered by HSD or its authorized agents, including program rules, billing instruction, service standards, utilization review (UR) instructions, and other pertinent material. When enrolled, a provider receives instruction on how to access these documents. It is the provider's responsibility to access these instructions, to understand the information provided and to comply with the requirements. MAD makes available on the HSD website, on other program specific websites, or in hard copy format, information necessary to participate in health care programs administered by HSD or its authorized agents, including program rules, billing instructions, service standards, UR instructions, and other pertinent material. To be eligible for reimbursement, a provider must adhere to the provisions of the MAD PPA and all applicable statutes, regulations, rules, billing instructions, service standards, UR instructions, and executive orders. MAD or its selected claims processing contractor issues payments to a provider using electronic funds transfer (EFT) only. Providers must supply necessary information in order for payment to be made. See 8.308.14 NMAC for additional MCO provider responsibilities.

[8.302.2.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.2.9 NMAC, 10/1/2017]

8.302.2.10 BILLING INFORMATION:

A. Billing for services: MAD only makes payment to a provider or to the following individuals or organizations for services:

(1) a government agency or third party with a court order, based on a valid provider payment assignment; see 42 CFR Section 447.10(d)(e); or

(2) a business agent, such as billing service or accounting firm that provides statements and receives payment in the name of the provider; the agent's compensation must be related to the cost of processing the claims and not based on a percentage of the amount that is billed or collected or dependent upon collection of the payment.

B. Billing for services from group practitioners or employers of practitioners: MAD may make payments to a group practice and to an employer of an individual practitioner if the practitioner is required to turn over his fees to the employer as a condition of employment. See 42 CFR 447.10(g) (2) (3). MAD may make payments to a facility where the services are furnished or to a foundation, plan, or similar organization operating as an organized health care delivery system if the facility, foundation, plan, or organization is required by contract to submit claims for an individual practitioner.

C. Billing for referral services: A referring provider must submit to the provider receiving the referral, specimen, image, or other record, all information necessary for the provider rendering the service to bill MAD within specified time limits. An eligible recipient or their authorized representative or MAD is not responsible for payment if the provider rendering the service fails to obtain this information from the referring provider. Ordering, referring, prescribing, rendering and attending providers must participate in a MCO or the MAD (FFS) program, or otherwise be identifiable as a participating, out-of-network, or in-network provider for services, as determined by MAD.

D. Hospital-based services: For services that are hospital based, the hospital must provide MAP recipient eligibility and billing information to providers of services within the hospital, including professional components, hospital emergency room (ER) physicians, hospital anesthesiologists, and other practitioners for whom the hospital performs admission, patient registration, or the patient intake process. An eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative, or MAD is not responsible for payment if the hospital-based provider does not obtain this information from the hospital as necessary to bill within the specified time limits.

E. Coordinated service contractors: Some MAD services are managed by a coordinated service contractor. Contracted services may include behavioral health services, dental services, physical health services, transportation, pharmacy or other benefits as designated by the MAD. The coordinated service contractor may be responsible for any or all aspects of program management, prior authorization, (UR), claims processing, and issuance of remittance advices and payments. A provider must submit claims to the appropriate coordinated service contractor as directed by MAD.

F. Reporting of service units: A provider must correctly report service units.

(1) For current procedural terminology (CPT) codes or healthcare common procedural coding system (HCPCS) codes that describe how units associated with time should be billed, providers are to follow those instructions.

(2) For CPT or HCPCS for services for which the provider is to bill 1 unit per 15 minute or per hour of service, the provider must follow the chart below when the time spent is not exactly 15 minutes or one hour.

time spent	number of 15-minute units that may be billed	number of 1-hour units that may be billed
Less than 8 minutes	0 services that are in their entirety less than 8 minutes cannot be billed.	0 services that are in their entirety less than 8 minutes cannot be billed
8 minutes through 22 minutes	1	.25
23 minutes through 37 minutes	2	.5
38 minutes through 52 minutes	3	.75
53 minutes through 67 minutes	4	1
68 minutes through 82 minutes	5	1.25
83 minutes through 97 minutes	6	1.5

(3) Only time spent directly working with an eligible recipient or member to deliver treatment services is counted toward the time codes.

(4) Total time spent delivering each service using a timed code must be recorded in the medical record of each eligible recipient or member. If services provided are appropriately described by using more than one CPT or HCPCS code within a single calendar day, then the total number of units that can be billed is limited to the total treatment time. Providers must assign the most units to the treatment that took the most time.

(5) The units for codes do not take precedence over centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS) national correct coding initiative (NCCI).

(6) Anesthesia units must be billed according to 8.310.3 NMAC.

(7) Units billed by a home and community-based services waiver provider, a behavioral health provider, an early intervention provider, and all rehabilitation services providers must also follow the requirements of this section unless exceptions are specifically stated in published MAD program rules or provider billing instructions.

G. MAD requires co-payments for specific services under the medicaid managed care program. The rules for medicaid managed care co-payments, including the co-payment amounts, co-payment exemptions, provider responsibilities, and member rights and responsibilities, are detailed at 8.308.14 NMAC.

H. Billing state gross receipts tax: For providers subject and registered to pay, gross receipts tax, the provider may include gross receipt tax in the billed amount when the tax applies to the item or service. The provider may only bill tax to the extent the tax is also charged to the general public. A provider may not include gross receipts tax in the billed amount when the provider is not obligated to pay gross receipts tax to the state.

8.302.2.11 BILLING AND CLAIMS FILING LIMITATIONS:

A. Claims must be received within the MAD filing limits as determined by the date of receipt by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor.

(1) Claims for services must be received within 90 calendar days of the date of service unless an alternative filing limit is stated within this section.

(2) Inpatient hospital and other inpatient facility claims must be received within 90 calendar days of the date of the eligible recipient or member's discharge, transfer, or otherwise leaving the facility.

(3) When the provider can document that a claim was filed with another primary payer including medicare, a HSD contracted MCO, medicare replacement plans, or another insurer, the claim must be received within 90 calendar days of the date the other payer paid or denied the claim as reported on the explanation of benefits or remittance advice of the other payer, not to exceed 210 calendar days from the date of service. It is the provider's responsibility to submit the claim to another primary payer within a sufficient timeframe to reasonably allow the primary payer to complete the processing of the claim and also meet the MAD timely filing limit. Denials by the primary payer due to the provider not meeting administrative requirements in filing the claim must be appealed by the provider to the primary payer. MAD only considers payment for a claim denied by the other primary payer when under the primary payer's plan the eligible recipient or member is not eligible, the diagnosis, service or item is not within the scope of the benefits, benefits are exhausted, pre-existing conditions are not covered, or out-of-pocket expenses or the deductibles have not been met. MAD will evaluate a claim for further payment including payment toward a deductible, co-insurance, co-payment or other patient responsibility. Claims for payment towards a deductible, co-insurance, co-payment or other patient responsibility also must be received within 90 calendar days of the date of the other payer's payment, not to exceed 210 calendar days from the date of service.

(4) For an eligible recipient or member for whom MAD benefits were not established at the time of service but retroactive eligibility has subsequently been established, claims must be received within 90 calendar days of the date the eligibility was added to the eligibility record of MAD or its selected claims processing contractor.

(5) For a provider of services not enrolled as a MAD provider at the time the services were rendered, including a provider that is in the process of purchasing an enrolled MAD provider entity such as a practice or facility, claims must be received within 90 calendar days of the date the provider is notified of the MAD approval of the PPA, not to exceed 210 calendar days from the date of service. It is the provider's responsibility to submit a PPA within a sufficient timeframe to allow completion of the provider enrollment process and submission of the claim within the MAD timely filing limit.

(6) For claims that were originally paid by a HSD contracted MCO from which the capitation payment is recouped resulting in recoupment of a provider's claim by the MCO, the claim must be received within 90 calendar days of the recoupment from the provider.

(7) For claims that were originally paid by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor and subsequently recouped by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor due to certain claims conflicts such as overlapping duplicate claims, a corrected claim subsequently submitted by the provider must be received within 90 calendar days of the recoupment.

B. The provider is responsible for submitting the claim timely, for tracking the status of the claim and determining the need to resubmit the claim.

(1) Filing limits are not waived by MAD due to the providers inadequate understanding of the filing limit requirements or insufficient staff to file the claim timely or failure to track pending claims, returns, denials, and payments in order to resubmit the claim or request an adjustment within the specified timely filing limitation.

(2) A provider must follow up on claims that have been transmitted electronically or hard copy in sufficient time to resubmit a claim within the filing limit in the event that a claim is not received by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor. It is the provider's responsibility to re-file an apparently missing claim within the applicable filing limit.

(3) In the event the provider's claim or part of the claim is returned, denied, or paid at an incorrect amount, the provider must resubmit the claim or an adjustment request within 90 calendar days of the date of the return, denial or payment of an incorrect amount, that was submitted in the initial timely filing period. This additional 90 calendar day period is a one-time grace period following the return, denial or mis-payment for a claim that was filed in the initial timely filing period and is based on the remittance advice date or return notice. Additional 90 calendar day grace periods are not allowed. However, within the 90 calendar day grace period the provider may continue to resubmit the claim or adjustment requests until the 90 calendar day grace period has expired.

(4) Adjustments to claims for which the provider feels additional payment is due, or for which the provider desires to change information previously submitted on the claim, the claim or adjustment request with any necessary explanations must be received by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor with the provider using a MAD-approved adjustment format and supplying all necessary information to process the claim within the one-time 90 calendar day allowed grace period.

C. The eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative is responsible for notifying the provider of MAP eligibility or pending eligibility and when retroactive MAP eligibility is received. When any provider including an enrolled provider, a non-enrolled provider, a MCO provider, and an out-of-network provider is informed of a recipient's MAP eligibility, the circumstances under which an eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative can be billed by the provider are limited.

(1) When the provider is unwilling to accept the eligible recipient as a (FFS) eligible recipient or a MCO member, the provider must provide the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative written notification that they have the right to seek treatment with another provider that does accept a FFS eligible recipient or a MCO member. It is the provider's responsibility to have the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative receive and sign a statement that they are aware the proposed service may be covered by MAD if rendered by an approved MAD or MCO provider and that by authorizing a non-approved provider to render the service, they agree to be held financially responsible for any payment to that provider. A provider may only bill or accept payment for services from an eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative if all the following requirements are satisfied:

(a) The eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative is advised by the provider before services are furnished that he or she does not accept patients whose medical services are paid for by MAD.

(b) The eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative is advised by the provider regarding the necessity, options, and the estimated charges for the service, and of the option of going to a provider who accepts MAD payment.

(2) The eligible recipient or member is financially responsible for payment if a provider's claims are denied because of the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative's failure to notify the provider of established eligibility or retroactive eligibility in a timely manner sufficient to allow the provider to meet the filing limit for the claim.

(3) When a provider is informed of MAP eligibility or pending eligibility prior to rendering a benefit, the provider cannot bill the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative for the benefit even if the claim is denied by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor unless the denial is due to the recipient not being eligible for the MAP category of eligibility or the benefit, or item is not a MAD benefit. In order to bill the eligible recipient or member for an item or benefit that is not a MAD benefit, prior to rendering the benefit or providing the item the provider must inform the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative the benefit is not covered by MAD and obtain a signed statement from the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative acknowledging such notice. It is the provider's responsibility to understand or confirm the eligible recipient or member's MAD benefits and to inform the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative when the benefit is not a MAD benefit and to inform the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative.

(4) The provider must accept MAD payment as payment in full and cannot bill a remaining balance to the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative other than a MAD allowed co-payment, coinsurance or deductible.

(5) If the provider claim is denied, the provider cannot use a statement signed by the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative to accept responsibility for payment unless such billing is allowed by MAD rules. It is the responsibility of the provider to meet the MAD program requirements for timely filing and other administrative requirements, to provide information to MAD or its selected claims processing contractor regarding payment issues on a claim, and to accept the decision of MAD or its selected claims processing contractor for a claim. The eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative does not become financially responsible when the provider has failed to meet the timely filing and other administrative requirements in filing a claim. The eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative does not become financially responsible for payment for services or items solely because MAD or its selected claims processing contractor denies payment for a claim.

(6) When a provider has been informed of MAP eligibility or pending eligibility of a recipient, the provider cannot turn an account over to collections or to any other entity intending to collect from the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative. If a provider has turned an account over for collection, it is the provider's responsibility to retrieve that account from the collection agency and to accept the decision on payment of the claim by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor and to notify the eligible recipient or member.

D. The filing limit does not apply to overpayments or money being returned to MAD or its selected claims processing contractor.

(1) If a provider receives payment from another source, such as any insurance plan, or other responsible third party, after receiving payment from MAD, an amount equal to the lower of either the insurance payment or the amount paid through MAD must be remitted to MAD or its selected claims processing contractor third party liability unit, properly identifying the claim to which the refund applies.

(2) For claims for which an over-payment was made to the provider, the provider must return the overpayment to MAD or its selected claims processing contractor. For more details see 8.351.2 NMAC. The timely filing provisions for payments and adjustments to claims do not apply when the provider is attempting to return an overpayment.

E. MAD or its selected claims processing contractor may waive the filing limit requirement in the following situations:

(1) An error or delay on the part of MAD or its selected claims processing contractor prevented the claim from being filed correctly within the filing limit period. In considering waiver of a filing limit for a claim for this situation, MAD or its selected claims processing contractor will consider the efforts made by the provider to initially file the claim in a timely manner and the follow up efforts made to secure payment in a timely manner from the other payer.

(2) The claim was filed within the filing limit period but the claim is being reprocessed or adjusted for issues not related to the filing limit.

(3) The claim could not be filed timely by the provider because another payer or responsible party could not or did not process the claim timely or provide other information necessary to file the claim timely. In considering a waiver of the filing limit for a claim for this situation, MAD or its selected claims processing contractor will consider the efforts made by the provider to initially file the claim and to follow up on the payment from another payer or responsible party in order to attempt to meet the MAD filing limit.

(4) An eligible recipient or member for whom MAP or medicare eligibility was established by hearing, appeal, or court order. In considering a waiver of the filing limit for a claim for this situation, MAD or its selected claims processing contractor will consider the efforts made by the provider to file the claim timely after the hearing or court decision.

(5) The claim is being reprocessed by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor for issues not related to the provider's submission of the claim. These circumstances may include when MAD is implementing retroactive price changes, or reprocessing the claim for accounting purposes.

(6) The claim was originally paid but recouped by another primary payer. In considering a waiver of the filing limit for a claim for this situation, MAD or its selected claims processing contractor will consider the efforts made by the provider to file the claim timely after the recoupment.

(7) The claim is from a federal IHS facility operating within HHS which is responsible for native American health care or is a PL 93-638 tribally operated hospital and clinic which must be finalized within two years of the date of service.

(8) The claim is from a MAD school-based service program when providing services to an a eligible recipient or member through an individualized education plan or an individualized family service plan to which an initial filing limit of 90 calendar days is applied.

F. MAD is jointly funded through state and federal sources. Claims will not be processed when the federal standards are not met, thereby precluding federal financial participation in payment of the claim.

G. A provider may not bill an eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative for a service or item when a claim is denied due to provider error in filing the claim or failing to meet the timely filing requirements. It is the provider's responsibility to understand or verify the specific MAP category of eligibility in which an eligible recipient or member is enrolled, the covered or non-covered status of a service or item, the need for prior authorization for a service or item, and to bill the claim correctly and supply required documentation. The eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative cannot be billed by the provider when a claim is denied because these administrative requirements have not been met.

(1) The provider cannot bill the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative for a service or item in the event of a denial of the claim unless the denial is due to the recipient not being eligible for the MAD service; or if the service is not a MAD benefit, prior to rendering the service the provider informed the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative that the specific service is not covered by MAD and obtained a signed statement from the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative acknowledging such.

(2) The provider cannot bill the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative for the service in the event that a payment is recouped by another primary payer and MAD or its selected claims processing contractor determines that the claim will not be reimbursed by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor.

(3) The provider cannot turn an account over to collections or to any other factor intending to collect from the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative. If a provider has turned an account over to a collection agency, it is the provider's responsibility to retrieve that account back from the collection agency and to accept the decision on payment of the claim by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor.

(4) The provider cannot bill the eligible recipient, or member or his or her authorized representative for office tasks such as billing claims, checking eligibility, making referrals calls, in the form of either routine charges or as penalties including missed appointments, failure to cancel an appointment, failure to show eligibility card or similar charges unless specifically allowed by MAD rules.

H. When documentation is required to show the provider met applicable filing limits, the date a claim is received by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor will be documented by the date on the claim transaction control number (TCN) as assigned by MAD or its selected claims processing contractor. Documentation of timely filing when another third party payer, including medicare, is involved will be accepted as documented on explanation of benefits payment dates and reason codes from the third party. Documentation may be required to be submitted with the claim.

[8.302.2.11 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.2.11 NMAC, 10/1/2017]

8.302.2.12 BILLING FOR DUAL-ELIGIBLE MEDICAID RECIPIENTS:

To receive payment for services furnished to an eligible recipient or member who is also entitled to medicare, a provider must first bill the appropriate medicare payer. The medicare payer pays the medicare covered portion of the bill. After medicare payment, MAD pays the amount the medicare payer determines is owed for co-payments, co-insurance and deductibles, subject to MAD reimbursement limitations. If a medically necessary service is excluded from medicare and it is a MAD covered benefit, MAD will pay for service. When the medicare payment amount exceeds the amount that MAD would have allowed for the service, no further payment is made for the coinsurance, deductible, or co-payment. The claim is considered paid in full. The provider may not collect any remaining portion of the medicare coinsurance, deductible, or co-payment from the eligible recipient or their authorized representative. For behavioral health professional services for which medicare part B applies to a "psych reduction" to the provider payment and increases the eligible recipient or member coinsurance rate, medicare coinsurance and deductible amounts are paid at an amount that allows the provider to receive eighty percent of the medicare allowed amount even if such amount exceeds the MAD allowed amount for the service. A provider must accept assignment on medicare claims for MAD eligible recipients and members. A provider who chooses not to participate in medicare or accept assignment on a medicare claim must inform the MAD eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative that the provider is not a medicare provider or will not accept assignment; and because of those provider choices, MAD cannot pay for the service. Additionally, the provider must inform the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative of the estimated amount for which the eligible recipient or member will be responsible, that service is available from other providers who will accept assignment on a medicare claim, and identify an alternative provider to whom the eligible recipient or member may seek services. The provider cannot bill a dually eligible MAP recipient or member for a service that medicare cannot pay because the provider chooses not to participate in medicare, or which MAD cannot pay because the provider chooses not to accept assignment on a claim, without the expressed consent of the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative even when the medicare eligibility is established retro-actively and covers the date of service.

A. Claim crossover: If there is sufficient information for medicare to identify an individual as an eligible recipient or member, medicare may send payment information directly to the MAD claims processing contractor in a form known as a "cross-over claim". In all cases where claims fail to crossover automatically to MAD, a provider must bill the appropriate MAD claims processing contractor directly, supplying the medicare payment and medicare "explanation of benefits" (EOB) information and meet the MAD filing limit.

B. Medicare replacement plan or other health maintenance organization (HMO) plan: When an eligible recipient or member belongs to a medicare replacement plan or HMO, MAD pays the amount the payer determines is owed for co-payment, coinsurance or deductible, subject to MAD reimbursement limitations. When the payer payment amount exceeds the amount that MAD would have allowed for the service, no further payment is made for the co-payment, coinsurance or deductible. The claim is considered paid in full. The provider may not collect any remaining portion of the payer co-payment, coinsurance or deductible from the eligible recipient, member or his or her authorized representative. For behavioral health services for which medicare part B applies to a "psych reduction" to the provider payment and increases the eligible recipient or member coinsurance rate, medicare coinsurance and deductible amounts are paid at the amount that allows the provider to receive up to eighty percent of the payer amount allowed even if the amount exceeds the MAD allowed amount for the services.

C. All other HMO and medicare replacement plan requirements, including provider network restrictions must be met for MAD to make payment on a claim.

[8.302.2.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.2.12 NMAC, 10/1/2017]

8.302.2.13 BILLING FOR CONTRACTED SERVICES:

MAD only makes payment to a provider who actually rendered the services. However, in the following instances a MAD provider can bill and be paid for covered contracted services.

A. A provider is reimbursed at encounter rates or other all-inclusive rates that may have some contracted services built into those rates. These providers include NF, ICF-IDD, residential treatment centers, a group home, a hospice agency, a federally qualified health center, a rural health clinic, and an IHS or tribal 638 facility.

B. A practitioner group, a clinic, an institutional professional component, and providers of professional services may bill for services furnished by practitioners under contract when the provider applications are approved by MAD, and the following apply:

(1) the MAD provider participation applications are completed by the billing entity and the practitioner rendering the service or in their employ; and

(2) the practitioner is listed as the rendering provider on the claim form.

C. Transportation providers may bill for contracted personnel, equipment or vehicles.

D. A provider may bill MAD directly for contracted services for the construction or assembly of equipment or prosthetic devices, construction of dental devices and prosthetics, hearing and vision prosthesis, orthotics, and repairs, when:

(1) the provider customarily uses the dental laboratory, optical supplier, hearing aid supplier, prosthetic or orthotic supplier equipment dealer, or manufacturer to do work; and

(2) the contractor doing the work does not qualify as an eligible provider in his or her own right.

E. For all other contracted services not specified above, written prior approval must be obtained from MAD or its designee before the provision of services.

F. Billing rates for contracted services: All services provided by a contractor and billed through a participating MAD provider must be billed at a rate based on direct and indirect costs, plus a reasonable administrative charge. The billing provider must ensure all MAD requirements are met by the contractor furnishing the service, including prior approval requirements, if applicable. Reimbursement for contracted services is included in the fee paid to the provider. For example, the amount paid to a dentist for a crown includes the dentist's work fitting the crown and the dental lab fees for making the crown.

G. Recipient freedom of choice: A provider cannot enter into contracts that are used to restrict an eligible recipient or member's freedom of choice. Some restrictions to this freedom of choice may apply to the purchases of medical devices and laboratory and radiology tests, and transportation 42 CFR Section 431.54(e), or for providers whose enrollment is under a moratorium as identified or approved by the secretary of the federal HHS or by CMS.

[8.302.2.13 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.2.13 NMAC, 10/1/2017]

8.302.2.14 BILLING AND PAYMENT LIMITATIONS:

A. Payment not allowed: MAD does not pay factors either directly or by power of attorney 42 CFR Section 447.10(h). A factor is an individual or an organization, such as a collection agency or service bureau.

B. No reimbursement for the discharge day: An institutional or other residential provider, such as a NF, a hospital, an ICF-IID, and a provider of treatment foster care services are reimbursed for services furnished to an eligible recipient or member on the day of admission but are not reimbursed for services furnished on day of discharge.

C. No payment made for wrong services: A provider shall not bill MAD for:

(1) services provided to the wrong patient;

(2) a service performed on the wrong body part of an eligible recipient or member; and

(3) an incorrect procedure performed on an eligible recipient or member.

D. Payments for acquired conditions: MAD may deny or limit payment on claims for services to treat an eligible recipient or member for a condition acquired during the course of a facility stay or in the rendering of other services.

[8.302.2.14 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.2.14 NMAC, 10/1/2017]

8.302.2.15 INTEREST RATES ON COST SETTLEMENTS:

MAD charges interest on overpayments and pays interest on underpayments as a result of year-end cost settlements, unless waived.

A. Interest periods: Interest accrues from the date of the final determination of costs or from a date required by a subsequent administrative reversal. Interest is charged on the overpayment balance or paid on the underpayment balance for each 30 calendar day period that payment is delayed.

(1) For purposes of this provision, a final determination is considered to occur when:

(a) MAD, the MAD selected claims processing contractor, or the MAD audit contractor makes a written demand for payment or a written determination of underpayment; or

(b) a cost report which was filed in a timely manner indicates that an amount is due MAD and the amount due is not included with the report.

(2) The date of final determination for an additional overpayment or underpayment, as determined by the MAD audit contractor, is considered to occur if any of the previously mentioned events occur.

(3) The date of final determination for an unfiled cost report occurs the day after the date the cost report was due. A single extension of time not to exceed 30 calendar days is granted for good cause. A written request for the time extension must be received and approved by MAD before the cost report due date. When the cost report is filed, a second final determination date is calculated based on the occurrence of either of the aforementioned events.

B. Interest rates: The interest rate on overpayments and underpayments is based on the prevailing rate specified in bulletins issued under article 8020.20 of the treasury fiscal requirement manual. When a provider signs a repayment agreement with MAD for an overpayment, the following provisions apply:

(1) the rate of interest specified in the agreement is binding unless a default in the agreement occurs; or

(2) the rate of interest on the balance may change to the prevailing rate if the provider or supplier defaults on an installment and the prevailing rate in effect on the date the installment becomes overdue is higher than the rate specified in the agreement.

C. Accrual of interest: Even though a filed cost report does not show an overpayment, interest begins to accrue on the date of final determination, if MAD, the MAD audit contractor, or the MAD selected claims processing contractor determines that providers have been overpaid.

(1) Interest continues to accrue during administrative or judicial appeals and until final disposition of claims.

(2) If a cost report is filed which indicates that an amount is due MAD, interest on the amount due accrues from the date the cost report is filed unless:

(a) the full payment on the amount due accompanies the cost report; or

(b) the provider and the MAD audit contractor agree in advance to liquidate the overpayment through a reduction in interim payments over the next 30 calendar day period.

(3) If the MAD audit contractor determines that a further overpayment exists, interest accrues from the date of final determination.

(4) If the cost report is not filed, interest accrues from the day following the date the report was due, plus a single extension of time not to exceed 30 calendar days if granted for good cause, until the time the cost report is filed. Written requests for time extensions must be received for approval by MAD before cost reports due dates.

(5) Interest accrues on an underpayment owed by MAD to a provider beginning 30 calendar days from the date of MAD's notification of the underpayment by the MAD audit contractor.

D. Interest charge waivers: MAD may waive the interest charges when:

(1) the overpayment is liquidated within 30 calendar days from the date of the final determination; or

(2) MAD determines that the administrative cost of collection exceeds the interest charges; interest is not waived for the period of time during which cost reports are due but remain unfiled for more than 30 calendar days.

E. Interest charges with installment or partial payments: If an overpayment is repaid in installments or recouped by withholding from several payments due to a billing provider, the amounts are applied in the following manner:

(1) each payment or recoupment is applied first to accrued interest and then to the principle; and

(2) after each payment or recoupment, interest accrues on the remaining unpaid balance; if an overpayment or an underpayment determination is reversed following an administrative hearing, appropriate adjustments are made on the overpayment or underpayment and the amount of interest charged.

F. Allowable interest cost: Allowable interest cost is the necessary and proper interest on both current and capital indebtedness. An interest cost is not allowable if it is one of the following:

(1) an interest assessment on a determined overpayment; or

(2) interest on funds borrowed to repay an overpayment; following an administrative review and favorable provider decision, interest paid on funds borrowed to repay an overpayment or the interest assessed on an overpayment becomes an allowable cost.

8.302.3.9 THIRD PARTY LIABILITY PROVIDER RESPONSIBILITIES:

The New Mexico medical assistance program (medicaid) is the payer of last resort. When resources are available from third parties, HSD administers a specific program to ensure that these resources are used to pay for the medical services furnished to eligible recipients. See 42 CFR Section 433 Subpart D - Third Party Liability and Subsection A of Section 27-2-23 NMSA 1978. This part provides an overview of this program, the collection process, and the responsibilities of providers, insurers, and the department. These provisions apply to the medical assistance program payments and to payments made on behalf of members by HSD contracted medicaid managed care organizations (MCOs).

[8.302.3.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.3.9 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.302.3.10 PAYMENT PROVISIONS:

For claims for recipients with medical coverage furnished by a third party, such as an insurer or other third party who may be liable for the medical bill, medicaid limits payment for the claim to the medicaid allowed amount less the third party payment amount, not to exceed the co-payment, co-insurance, deductible or other patient responsibility amount calculated by the third party when the reimbursement methodology is similar to the methodology used to calculate a medicaid payment, as determined by medical assistance division (MAD). If the third party payment amount exceeds the medicaid allowed amount, the medicaid program makes no further payment. The claim is considered paid in full. The provider may not collect any remaining portion of the unpaid co-payment, co-insurance, or deductible from the client. If a hospital is reimbursed under the diagnostic related group (DRG) reimbursement methodology and receives payments from third party insurers, medicaid pays the hospital the difference between the amount received from the third party and the lower of the hospital billed amount or the medicaid allowed DRG amount.

A. Payment acceptance: When providers furnish medical services to eligible recipients who have health coverage or coverage from liable third parties, providers must not seek payment from the recipient.

B. Sanctions for seeking recipient payments: Sanctions are imposed if providers seek payment for services from recipients after receiving payments for these services from the eligible recipient's health insurance company or other third parties. An amount equal to three times the amount sought from eligible recipients is deducted from providers' next medicaid payment. See 42 CFR Section 447.21.

C. Refunds to MAD after receipt of payment: A provider must immediately refund the lower of the third party or medicaid payment, if he or she receives payment from insurance companies or health plans for services already paid for by medicaid.

D. Provider discounts: MAD does not pay the difference between the payment received from the third party, based on the discount agreement and the actual charges for services, when providers enter into agreements with third party payers to accept payment at less than actual charges.

(1) The provider acceptance of less than actual charges constitutes receipt of a full payment for services and neither medicaid nor eligible recipients have a further legal obligation for payment.

(2) Provider discount arrangements are often referred to as "preferred provider agreements" or "preferred patient care agreements".

[8.302.3.10 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.3.10 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.302.3.11 SUBROGATION RIGHTS:

When MAD makes payments on behalf of eligible recipients, HSD is subrogated to the eligible recipient's right against a third party for recovery of medical expenses to the extent of the payment. See Subsection B of Section 27-2-23 NMSA 1978 (Repl. Pamp. 1991). If the eligible recipient is enrolled in the medicaid managed care program, the extent of the payment is the amount actually expended on the provision of care as documented by encounter data and not the capitation amount paid by MAD to the medicaid managed care contractor. All referrals indicating the existence of a third party medical resource are verified by MAD or its contractors. After verification, indicators are placed in the MAD claims processing contractor's eligibility file for use in claims processing.

8.302.3.12 PROCESS USED IF THIRD PARTY LIABILITY IDENTIFIED:

A. Pay and chase process: When medicaid or a managed care organization (MCO) pays a claim before learning of the existence of health insurance coverage, or before liability has been established, MAD or its contractors seek reimbursement, up to the amount paid. See 42 CFR Section 433.139. This process is referred to as "pay and chase".

B. Prior to paying a claim, the probable liability for the claim to be paid or partially paid by a third party must be determined by MAD for the medicaid fee-for-service program or MCOs for members enrolled in managed care. Probable liability includes determining if the eligible recipient or member has other primary insurance, the type of insurance, and if that insurance resource would likely include the coverage of the specific item or service being billed by a provider. It also includes the potential for coverage from casualty or tort case settlements.

C. If MAD, or the MCO following the instructions from MAD, has established the probable existence of third party liability at the time the claim is filed, and the probability that the claim services will be covered by the primary insurance, the claim must be cost avoided, which means the claim must be rejected or otherwise denied and the provider informed of the probable coverage of the claim by another insurance resource and the identity of that other insurance resource, subject to the following conditions.

(1) The claim may not be denied by MAD or a MCO due to probable third party liability from an insurance resource or a potential casualty or tort claim settlement when any of the following conditions apply. Rather, the claim must be paid by MAD, or the MCO if the eligible recipient is a member of a MCO, at the full amount allowed for the claim. MAD or the MCO must then seek reimbursement directly from the liable third party as "pay and chase" or as a party to the settlement of a casualty or tort claim.

(a) When the claim is for labor and delivery or postpartum care. However, the claims for the inpatient hospital stay for labor and delivery and postpartum care must be cost-avoided.

(b) When the third party liability is derived from an absent parent whose obligation to pay support is being enforced by the state title IV-D agency.

(c) When the claim is for prenatal care for pregnant women, or preventive services for children including early and periodic screening, diagnosis and treatment services.

(d) When the third party liability is in the form of a potential or determined tort or casualty recovery and the extent of any liability is undetermined and not likely to be determined within 120 calendar days of the date of service on the claim.

(e) When the probable liability cannot be established or information on the benefits likely to be available under the third party resource are not available at the time claim is filed; or if third party benefits information is not available to pay the eligible recipient or member's medical expenses at the time the claim is filed.

(2) The claim may not be denied by MAD or a MCO due to probable third party liability (including medicare coverage) when the item or service or services by the type of provider are generally not covered by the third party as determined by MAD.

D. The establishment of third party liability takes place when MAD or the MCO receives confirmation from the provider or a third party resource indicating the extent of the third party liability.

[8.302.3.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.3.12 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.302.3.13 INSURANCE COVERAGE AND HEALTH MAINTENANCE ORGANIZATIONS AND OTHER INSURANCE PLANS:

Providers must not refuse to furnish services to eligible recipients solely because an insurance company or third party may be liable for payment. See 42 CFR Section 447.20(b). When providers are aware of the existence of health insurance or health plan coverage for eligible recipients, the providers must seek payment from the insurance carrier before seeking payment from medicaid. Providers who do not participate in a specific health maintenance organization (HMO) or managed care plan (plan) are not required to furnish services to an eligible recipient who has primary coverage with such HMO or plan. The provider should refer the eligible recipient to a provider who participates in the eligible recipient's HMO or plan.

A. Eligible recipients with insurance coverage through a HMO or other insurance plan: When a medicaid eligible recipient belongs to a HMO or other insurance plan, the medicaid program limits the medicaid allowed amount less the third party payment amount, not to exceed the co-payment, deductible, co-insurance, and other patient responsibility amounts calculated by the HMO or other insurance plan. If the third party payment amount exceeds the medicaid allowed amount, the medicaid program makes no further payment and the claim is considered paid in full. The provider may not collect any portion of the unpaid co-payment, co-insurance, or deductible, or other patient responsibility from the eligible recipient. All other HMO requirements, including servicing provider restrictions, apply to the provision of services.

B. Eligible recipients covered by a HMO or other insurance plan are responsible for payment for medical services obtained outside the other plan without complying with the rules or policies of the HMO or other insurance plan.

[8.302.3.13 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.3.13 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.302.3.14 PROVIDER LIENS ON PERSONAL INJURY AWARDS:

A. Hospital liens: Hospitals are prohibited from imposing liens on potential lawsuit recoveries for the difference between the MAD payment and hospital billed amounts. MAD payment amounts are payment in full.

(1) Hospitals furnishing services to eligible recipients who have been injured in accidents may choose to file claims with MAD or forego medicaid reimbursement and file hospital liens against any potential lawsuit recoveries.

(2) If hospitals choose to bill medicaid, they must file claims within 120 calendar days of the date of discharge.

(3) If hospitals choose to impose a lien, they cannot bill eligible recipients or medicaid for any unpaid balance remaining after future settlement or lack of settlement.

(4) If hospitals file claims with MAD, the amounts received are payment in full.

B. Non-hospital providers: For non-hospital providers, medicaid payments are payment in full for medical services furnished to eligible recipients injured in accidents caused by other parties. Providers may not seek additional payment for these services from eligible recipients, even if eligible recipients later receive monetary awards or settlements from liable parties.

[8.302.3.14 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.3.14 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.302.3.15 NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS:

Providers must notify MAD or its appropriate contractor any time they are contacted by an attorney or another interested party who requests information relating to services furnished to eligible recipients, including information on amounts billed or paid, procedures performed or medical records. If an inquiry is received, providers must report to MAD or its appropriate contractor the name and address of the party requesting the information; the name and identification number of the eligible recipient and dates on which services were furnished.

[8.302.3.15 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.3.15 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.302.3.16 CANCELLATION OF INSURANCE:

Providers must not advise or recommend that eligible recipients cancel their health coverage. Failure to comply with this provision is grounds for termination of the provider agreement.

[8.302.3.16 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.3.16 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.302.3.17 MAD RESPONSIBILITIES:

A. MAD has the following responsibilities in administering the TPL program:

(1) determining the legal liability of third parties, including health insurers, in paying for the medical services furnished to eligible recipients 42 CFR 433.138(a);

(2) pursuing claims and recovery against third parties when the amount of the third party payment that HSD can reasonably expect to recover exceeds the cost of the recovery; and

(3) pays to the extent that the medicaid allowed amount exceeds the TPL amount after the amount of third party liability is established not to exceed any patient responsibility determined by another payer.

(4) The child support enforcement division (CSED) provides information to MAD or its contractors on cases identified by CSED as having health insurance. Unless the custodial parent and child have satisfactory insurance, absent parents can be ordered by the court to provide coverage for the child. See 45 CFR 303.31(b)(1). MAD transmits information on absent parents who are not providing health coverage, as required by court order, or who have health insurance available through an employer but have not obtained it for their dependents to CSED.

(5) The New Mexico IV-D agency establishes paternity and obtains support orders for medical payments. MAD notifies this agency of lapses and changes of coverage information when it is identified by MAD. See 45 CFR 303.31(b)(8). This notification takes place when MAD learns that claims for a dependent child are rejected by the health insurance companies of the absent parent because his or her policy have been canceled, revised or no longer cover the child receiving IV-D services.

B. Trauma diagnosis claims processing: To help identify liable third parties with respect to injuries received by eligible recipients, MAD or its contractors have implemented a process which recognizes all claims with a trauma diagnosis. See 42 CFR 433.138(4).

(1) Trauma inquiry letters are mailed to identified eligible recipients. The letters ask eligible recipients for information about possible accidents, causes of accidents and whether legal counsel has been obtained.

(2) Failure to respond to these inquiries is considered a failure to cooperate and results in termination of the eligible recipient's medicaid benefits.

[8.302.3.17 NMAC - Rp, 8.302.3.17 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.302.3.18 INSURER RESPONSIBILITIES:

Individual, blanket, group accident or health policies or certificates of insurance, including employee retirement income security Act (ERISA) plans, delivered, issued or renewed in the state of New Mexico must not contain exclusions or clauses which deny or limit insurance benefits to eligible recipients because of their eligibility for medicaid benefits. See Subsection D of Section 59-18-31 NMSA 1978 (Repl. Pamp. 1992).

A. Direct payments to HSD: All individual, blanket, or group accident or health policies or certificate of insurance, including ERISA plans, delivered, issued or renewed in the state of New Mexico must require insurers to reimburse HSD for benefits paid on behalf of eligible recipients in the following situations:

(1) HSD has paid or is paying benefits;

(2) HSD pays medicaid providers for the services in question; and

(3) insurers are notified that insured individuals receive medicaid benefits and that the benefits must be paid directly to HSD. HSD certifies to insurers at the time it files claims for reimbursement that these individuals are eligible for medicaid; and

(4) when the claim was paid by a MCO, payment may be made directly to the MCO. If the MCO fails to initiate recovery within 12 months following the original payment date, the payment must be made to HSD.

B. Direct provider payments: Medicaid providers may be paid directly by insurers for furnishing medical services to eligible recipients. Providers must inform insurers that the recipients are eligible for medicaid benefits by providing medicaid eligibility information on the recipient. See Subsection C of Section 59A-18-31 NMSA 1978 (Repl. Pamp. 1992).

C. Level of insurance required: The minimum standards of acceptable coverage, deductibles, coinsurance, lifetime benefits, out-of-pocket expenses, co-payments, and plan requirements are the minimum standards of health insurance policies and managed care plans established for small businesses in New Mexico. See the New Mexico Insurance Code.

8.302.4.10 ELIGIBLE PROVIDERS:

Health care to eligible recipients is furnished by a variety of providers and provider groups. The reimbursement and billing for these services is administered by MAD. Upon approval of a New Mexico MAD provider participation agreement by MAD or its designee, licensed practitioners, facilities and other providers of services that meet applicable requirements are eligible to be reimbursed for furnishing covered services to eligible recipients. A provider must be enrolled before submitting a claim for payment to the MAD claims processing contractors. MAD makes available on the HCA/MAD website, on other program-specific websites, or in hard copy format, information necessary to participate in health care programs administered by HCA or its authorized agents, including program rules, billing instructions, utilization review instructions, and other pertinent materials. When enrolled, a provider receives instruction on how to access these documents. It is the provider's responsibility to access these instructions, to understand the information provided and to comply with the requirements. The provider must contact HCA or its authorized agents to obtain answers to questions related to the material or not covered by the material. To be eligible for reimbursement, a provider must adhere to the provisions of the MAD provider participation agreement and all applicable statutes, regulations, and executive orders. MAD or its selected claims processing contractor issues payments to a provider using electronic funds transfer (EFT) only. The providers listed in Subsections A-C of 8.302.4.10 NMAC, eligible providers, are eligible for a provider participation agreement, bill and receive reimbursement for furnishing medical services:

A. Eligible providers include border area and out-of-state providers licensed by or certified by their respective states to practice medicine or osteopathy [42 CFR Section 440.50 (a)(1)(2)]; and other providers licensed or certified by their state to perform services equivalent to those covered by the medical assistance programs in New Mexico; practices or groups formed by these individuals may also receive reimbursement for services.

B. Eligible providers include border area providers within 100 miles of the New Mexico state border (Mexico excluded), subject to the rules governing the provision of services for an in-state provider.

C. Eligible providers include out-of-state providers more than 100 miles from the New Mexico state border (Mexico excluded), subject to the rules governing the provision of services for an in-state provider and any additional rules that may be specified for the specific services and providers within this manual.

[8.302.4.10 NMAC - Rp 8.302.4.10 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.302.4.11 PROVIDER RESPONSIBILITIES:

A. A provider who furnishes services to a medicaid or other health care program eligible recipient must comply with all federal and state laws, regulations and executive orders relevant to the provision of services as specified in the MAD provider participation agreement. A provider also must conform to MAD program rules and instructions as specified in the provider rules manual and its appendices, and program directions and billing instructions, as updated. A provider is also responsible for following coding manual guidelines and the centers for medicaid and medicare (CMS) correct coding initiatives, including not improperly unbundling or upcoding services. When services are billed to and paid by a coordinated services contractor authorized by HCA, the provider must follow that contractor’s instructions for billing and for authorization of services.

B. A provider must verify that an individual is eligible for a specific health care program administered by the HCA and its authorized agents, and must verify the eligible recipient’s enrollment status at the time services are furnished. A provider must determine if an eligible recipient has other health insurance. A provider must maintain records that are sufficient to fully disclose the extent and nature of the services provided to an eligible recipient.

C. When services are billed to and paid by a MAD fee-for-service coordinated services contractor authorized by HCA, under an administrative services contract, the provider must also enroll as a provider with the coordinated services contractor and follow that contractor’s instructions for billing and for authorization of services.

[8.302.4.11 NMAC - Rp 8.302.4.11 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.302.4.12 COVERED OUT-OF-STATE SERVICES:

MAD covers services and procedure furnished by a provider located within 100 geographical miles of the New Mexico border, even though the road miles may be greater than 100 miles, to the same extent and using the same coverage rules as for an in-state provider. See 8.302.4.9 NMAC, out of state and border area providers. When it is the general practice for an eligible recipient in a New Mexico locality to access medical services in a location more than 100 geographical miles from the New Mexico border, MAD will treat that out-of-state location as a border area. MAD covers services and procedures furnished by a provider more than 100 geographical miles from the New Mexico border, excluding Mexico, to the extent and using the same coverage rules as for in-state provider when one or more of the following conditions are met.

A. An eligible recipient is out-of-state at the time the services are needed and the delivery of services is of an emergent or urgent nature or if the eligible recipient's health would be endangered by traveling back to New Mexico. Services must be medically necessary to stabilize the eligible recipient's health and prevent significant adverse health effects, including preventable hospitalization. Claims for such services are subject to pre-payment or post-payment reviews to assure the emergent or urgent need or medical necessity of the services.

B. On-going-services provided by a medical assistance program within the state continue to be necessary when the eligible recipient is visiting another state.

C. Care is medically necessary for an eligible recipient that is placed by the state of New Mexico in foster care in an out-of-home placement or in an institution. Care is medically necessary for an eligible recipient that was adopted from New Mexico and resides out-of-state. If the agreement with the other state requires that state's medicaid program pay for covered services, MAD will only consider payment when a service is not covered by the other state and the eligible recipient would be eligible for that service if living in New Mexico.

D. Durable medical equipment, medical supplies, prosthetics or orthotics are purchased from out-of-state vendors.

E. Clinical laboratory tests, radiological interpretations, professional consultations or other services are performed by out-of-state laboratories but do not require the eligible recipient to leave the state.

F. Medical services or procedures considered medically necessary are not available in the state of New Mexico. All services that are not available in New Mexico require prior authorization when provided by an out-of-state provider. An out- of-state service may be limited to the closest provider or an otherwise economically prudent choice of provider capable of rendering the service.

G. Services, such as personal assistance, are needed by an eligible recipient out-of-state if that recipient is eligible to receive services through a medicaid home and community-based services waiver program and is traveling to another state.

[8.302.4.12 NMAC - Rp 8.302.4.12 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.302.4.13 NONCOVERED SERVICES:

Services furnished by an out-of-state or border provider are subject to the limitations and coverage restrictions which exist for other services rendered in-state as stated in the relevant administrative, provider, and other services sections of the MAD program policy manual. In addition, MAD programs do not cover the following specific services when furnished by an out-of-state or border provider:

A. services furnished outside the boundaries of the United States; and

B. services furnished in an out-of-state or border area nursing facility or intermediate care facility for the mentally retarded.

[8.302.4.13 NMAC - Rp 8.302.4.13 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.302.4.14 OUT-OF-STATE HOSPITAL SERVICES:

All out-of-state hospital, and other residential service claims are subject to prepayment review or periodic re-authorization by MAD or its designee for medical necessity and length of stay, in addition to requiring authorization for the initial placement.

[8.302.4.14 NMAC - Rp 8.302.4.14 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.302.4.15 PRIOR AUTHORIZATION AND UTILIZATION REVIEW:

All MAD services are subject to utilization review for medical necessity and program compliance. Reviews can be performed before services are furnished, after services are furnished, and before payment is made, or after payment is made. See 8.302.5 NMAC, Prior Authorization and Utilization Review. Once enrolled, a provider receives instructions on how to access utilization review documents necessary for prior approval and claims processing.

A. Prior authorization: Certain procedures or services can require prior approval from MAD or its designee. Services for which prior authorization was obtained remain subject to utilization review at any point in the payment process. A service provided through an out- of-state or border provider is subject to the same prior authorization and utilization review requirements, which exist for the service when not provided out-of-state.

B. Eligibility determination: Prior authorization of services does not guarantee an individual is eligible for medicaid and other health care programs. A provider must verify that an individual is eligible for a specific program at the time services are furnished and must determine if the eligible recipient has other health insurance.

C. Reconsideration: A provider who disagrees with prior authorization request denials and other review decisions can request a re-review and a re-consideration. See 8.350.2 NMAC, Reconsideration of Utilization Review Decisions.

[8.302.4.15 NMAC - Rp 8.302.4.15 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.302.4.16 OUT-OF-STATE BILLING OFFICES:

Services furnished within the state or border areas are subject to the rules for in- state providers even if the billing or administrative office is outside the state.

[8.302.4.16 NMAC - Rp 8.302.4.16 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.302.4.17 REIMBURSEMENT:

Reimbursement to an out-of-state or border area provider is made at the same rate as for an in-state provider except as otherwise stated in the relevant specific providers and services sections of the MAD program rules manual.

A. Unless payment for a service is made using a diagnosis related group or outpatient prospective payment system rate, reimbursement to a provider for covered services is made at the lesser of the following:

(1) the billed change which must be the provider’s usual and customary charge for service; "usual and customary charge" refers to the amount which the individual provider charges the general public in the majority of cases for a specific procedure or service; or

(2) the MAD fee schedule for the specific service or procedure.

B. When a provider and an MCO are unable to agree to terms or fail to execute an agreement for any reason, the MCO shall be obligated to pay, and the provider shall accept, one hundred percent of the "applicable reimbursement rate" based on the provider type for services rendered under both emergency and non-emergency situations. The "applicable reimbursement rate" is defined as the rate paid by HCA to a provider participating in medicaid or other medical assistance programs administered by HCA and excludes disproportionate share hospital and medical education payments.

[RESERVED]

8.308.2.8 [RESERVED]

[8.308.2.8 NMAC - Rp, 8.308.2.8 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.308.2.9 GENERAL REQUIREMENTS:

The HSD managed care organization (MCO) shall establish and maintain a comprehensive network of providers and required specialists in sufficient numbers to make all services included in the benefit package available in accordance with access standards. The MCO shall require any contracted provider to be enrolled through a fully executed provider participation agreement (PPA) with HSD's medical assistance division (MAD). In completing the PPA, the provider may choose to participate only in managed care, only in fee-for-service, or both. Providers who have completed a PPA can choose to pursue contracting with one or more MCOs but do not have to contract with all MCOs. The MCO shall refer any provider who notifies the MCO of a change in his or her location, licensure, certification, or status to the MAD provider web portal to update his or her provider information. In addition, the MCO shall provide an e-mail notification to MAD regarding changes in provider servicing location; change in licensure or certification; and the date on which the provider is no longer participating with the MCO, including the reason.

A. Required MCO policies and procedures:

(1) Pursuant to section 1932(b)(7) of the Social Security Act, and consistent with 42 CFR 438.12, the MCO shall not discriminate against a provider that serves high-risk populations or specializes in conditions that require costly treatment.

(2) The MCO shall not discriminate with respect to participation, reimbursement, or indemnification of any provider acting within the scope of his or her provider's license or certification under applicable state statute or rule solely on the basis of the provider's license or certification.

(3) The MCO shall upon declining to include an individual or a group of providers in its network, give the affected provider written notice of the reason for the MCO decision.

(4) The MCO shall conduct screenings of all subcontractors and contract providers in accordance with the Employee Abuse Registry Act, 27-7A-3 NMSA 1978, the New Mexico Caregivers Criminal History Screening Act, 2-17-2 et seq., NMSA 1978 and 7.1.9 NMAC, the New Mexico Children's and Juvenile Facility Criminal Records Screening Act, 32A-15-1 to 32A-15-4 NMSA 1978, Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA), and ensure that all subcontracted and contracted providers are screened against the federal "list of excluded individuals or entities" (LEIE) and the federal "excluded parties list system" (EPLS) (now known as the system for award management (SAM)) and any other databases that may be required through federal or state regulation.

(5) The MCO shall require that any provider, including a provider making a referral or ordering a covered service, have a national provider identifier (NPI) unless the provider is an atypical provider as defined by the centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS).

(6) The MCO shall require that each provider billing for or rendering services to a MCO member has a unique identifier in accordance with the provisions of Section 1173(b) of the Social Security Act.

(7) The MCO shall consider in establishing and maintaining the network of appropriate providers its:

(a) anticipated enrollment;

(b) numbers of contracted providers who are not accepting new patients; and

(c) geographic locations of contracted providers and members, considering distance, travel time, the means of transportation ordinarily used by members; and whether the location provides physical access for members with disabilities.

(8) The MCO shall ensure that a contracted provider offers hours of operation that are no less than the hours of operation offered to its commercial enrollees.

(9) The MCO shall establish mechanisms such as notices or training materials to ensure that a contracted provider comply with the timely access requirements, monitor such compliance regularly, and take corrective action if there is a failure to comply.

(10) The MCO shall provide to its members and contracted providers clear instructions on how to access covered services, including those that require prior approval and referral.

(11) The MCO shall ensure that all contracted providers meet all availability; time and distance standards set by HSD, and have a system to track and report this data.

(12) The MCO shall provide access to a non-contracted provider if the MCO is unable to provide covered benefits covered under its agreement with HSD in an adequate and timely manner to a member and continue to authorize the use of a non-contracted provider for as long as the MCO is unable to provide these services through its contracted providers. The MCO must ensure that the cost to its members utilizing a non-contracted provider is not greater than it would be if the service was provided within the MCO's network.

B. Health services contracting: Contracts with an individual and an institutional provider shall mandate compliance with the MCOs quality management (QM) and quality improvement (QI) programs.

C. Provider qualifications and credentialing: The MCO shall verify that each contracted or subcontracted provider (practitioner or facility) participating in, or employed by, the MCO meets applicable federal and state requirements for licensing, certification, accreditation and re-credentialing for the type of care or services within the scope of practice as defined by federal and state statutes, regulations, and rules.

D. Utilization of out-of-state providers: To the extent possible, the MCO is encouraged to utilize in-state and border providers, which are defined as those providers located within 100 miles of the New Mexico border, Mexico excluded. The MCO may include out-of-state providers in its network. All services must be rendered within the boundaries of the United States. No payment is allowed to any financial institution or entity located outside of the United States.

E. Provider lock-in: HSD shall allow the MCO to require that a member see a certain provider while ensuring reasonable access to quality services when identification of utilization of unnecessary services or the member's behavior is detrimental or indicates a need to provide case continuity. Prior to placing a member on a provider lock-in, the MCO shall inform the member of its intent to lock-in, including the reasons for imposing the provider lock-in and that the restriction does not apply to emergency services furnished to the member. The MCO's grievance procedure shall be made available to a member disagreeing with the provider lock-in. The member shall be removed from provider lock-in when the MCO has determined that the utilization problems or detrimental behavior have ceased and that recurrence of the problems is judged to be improbable. HSD shall be notified of provider lock-ins and provider lock-in removals at the time they occur as well as receiving existing lock-in information on a quarterly basis.

F. Pharmacy lock-in: HSD shall allow the MCO to require that its member see a certain pharmacy provider when the member's compliance or drug seeking behavior is suspected. Prior to placing the member on pharmacy lock-in, the MCO shall inform the member of the intent to lock-in. The MCO's grievance procedure shall be made available to a member being designated for pharmacy lock-in. The member shall be removed from pharmacy lock-in when the MCO has determined that the compliance or drug seeking behavior has been resolved and the recurrence of the problem is judged to be improbable. HSD shall be notified of all provider lock-ins and provider lock-in removals at the time they occur as well as receiving existing lock-in information on a quarterly basis.

[8.308.2.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.308.2.9 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.308.2.10 PRIMARY CARE PROVIDER (PCP):

The MCO shall ensure that each member is assigned a primary care provider (PCP), except a member that is dually eligible for medicare and medicaid (dual eligible). The PCP shall be a provider identified in Subsection A below, participating in the MCO's network who will assume the responsibility for supervising, coordinating, and providing primary health care to its member, initiating referrals for specialist care, and maintaining the continuity of the member's care. For a dual-eligible member, the MCO will be responsible for coordinating the primary, acute, behavioral health and long-term care services with the member's medicare PCP.

A. Types of PCPs: The MCO shall designate the following types of providers as a PCP as appropriate:

(1) medical doctors or doctors of osteopathic medicine with the following specialties: general practice, family practice, internal medicine, gerontology, gynecology and pediatrics;

(2) certified nurse practitioners, certified nurse midwives and physician assistants;

(3) specialists, on an individual basis, for members whose care is more appropriately managed by a specialist, such as members with infectious diseases, chronic illness, complex behavioral health conditions, or disabilities;

(4) a primary care team consisting of residents and a supervising faculty physician for contracts with teaching facilities or teams that include mid-level practitioners who, at the member's request, may serve as the point of first contact; in both instances the MCO shall organize its team to ensure continuity of care to the member and shall identify a "lead physician" within the team for each member; the "lead physician" shall be an attending physician; medical students, interns and residents may not serve as "lead physicians";

(5) federally qualified health centers (FQHC), rural health clinics (RHC), or Indian health service (IHS), tribal health providers, and urban Indian providers (I/T/U); or

(6) other providers that meet the credentialing requirements for PCPs.

B. Selection of or assignment to a PCP: The MCO shall maintain and implement written policies and procedures governing the process of member selection of a PCP and requests for change.

(1) Initial enrollment: At the time of enrollment, the MCO shall ensure that each member has the freedom to choose a PCP within a reasonable distance from his or her place of residence.

(2) Subsequent change in PCP initiated by a member: the MCO shall allow its member to change his or her PCP at any time for any reason. The request can be made in writing or verbally via telephone:

(a) if a request is made on or before the 20th calendar day of the month, the change shall be effective as the first of the following month;

(b) if a request is made after the 20th calendar day of the month, the change shall be effective the first calendar day of the second month following the request.

(3) A subsequent change in PCP initiated by the MCO: The MCO may initiate a PCP change for its member under the following circumstances:

(a) the member and the MCO agree that assignment to a difference PCP in the MCO’s provider network is in the member’s best interest, based on the member’s medical condition;

(b) a member’s PCP ceases to be a contracted provider;

(c) a member’s behavior toward his or her PCP is such that it is not feasible to safely or prudently provide medical care and the PCP has made reasonable efforts to accommodate the member;

(d) a member has initiated legal actions against the PCP; or

(e) the PCP is suspended for any reason.

(4) The MCO shall make a good faith effort to give written notice of termination of a contracted provider, within 15 calendar days after receipt or issuance of the termination notice, to each member who received his or her primary care from or was seen on a regular basis by the terminated provider. In such instances, the MCO shall allow affected members to select a PCP or the MCO shall make an assignment within 15 calendar days of the termination effective date.

[8.308.2.10 NMAC - Rp, 8.308.2.10 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.308.2.11 STANDARDS FOR ACCESS:

The MCO shall establish and follow protocols to ensure the accessibility, availability and referral to health care providers for each medically necessary service to its members. The MCO shall provide access to the full array of covered services within the benefit package. If a service is unavailable based on the access guidelines, a service equal to or higher than that service shall be offered.

A. Access to urgent and emergency services: Services for emergency conditions provided by physical and behavioral health providers, including emergency transportation, urgent conditions, and post-stabilization care shall be covered by the MCO (only within the United States for both physical and behavioral health). An urgent condition exists when a member manifests acute symptoms and signs that, by reasonable medical judgment, represent a condition of sufficient severity that the absence of medical attention within 24 hours could reasonably result in an emergency condition. Serious impairment of biopsychosocial functioning, imminent out-of-home placement for child and adolescent members or serious jeopardy to the behavioral health of the member are considered urgent conditions. An emergency condition exists when a member manifests acute symptoms and signs that, by reasonable lay person judgment, represent a condition of sufficient severity that the absence of immediate medical attention, including behavioral health treatment, could reasonably result in death, serious impairment of bodily function or major organ or serious jeopardy to the overall health of the member or with respect to a pregnant woman, the health of the woman or her unborn child, in serious jeopardy. Post-stabilization care means covered services related to an emergency medical or behavioral health condition, that are provided after the member is stabilized in order to maintain the stabilized condition and may include improving or resolving the member’s condition.

(1) The MCO shall ensure that there is no clinically significant delay caused by the MCO’s utilization control measures. Prior authorization is not required for emergency services in or out of the MCO’s network, and all emergency services shall be reimbursed at the HSD approved rate. The MCO shall not retroactively deny a claim for an emergency screening examination because the condition, which appeared to be an emergency medical or behavioral health condition under the prudent layperson standard, turned out to be non-emergent in nature.

8.308.7.9 MANAGED CARE ENROLLMENT:

A. General: A medical assistance division (MAD) eligible recipient is required to enroll in a HSD managed care organization (MCO) unless he or she is:

(1) a Native American who opts into managed care. If a Native American is dually eligible or in need of long-term care services, he or she is required to enroll in a MCO; or

(2) is in an excluded population. See 8.200.400 NMAC and 8.308.6 NMAC. Enrollment in a MCO may be the result of the eligible recipient's selection of a particular MCO or assignment by HSD. The MCO shall accept as a member an eligible recipient in accordance with 42 CFR. 434.25 and shall not discriminate against, or use any policy or practice that has the effect of discrimination against the potential or enrolled member on the basis of health status, the need for health care services, or race, color, national origin, ancestry, spousal affiliation, sexual orientation or gender identity. HSD reserves the right to limit enrollment in a specific MCO.

B. Newly eligible recipients: An individual who applies for a MAP category of eligibility (COE) and has an approved COE effective date of January 1, 2019, or later, and who is required to enroll in a MCO, must select a MCO at the time of his or her application for a MAP COE. An eligible recipient who fails to select a MCO at such time will be auto assigned to a MCO. See Subsection C of this Section. Members may choose a different MCO one time during the first three months of their enrollment.

C. Auto assignment: HSD will auto-assign an eligible recipient to a MCO in specific circumstances, including but not limited to: a) the eligible recipient is not exempt from managed care and does not select a MCO at the time of his or her application for MAD eligibility; b) the eligible recipient cannot be enrolled in the requested MCO pursuant to the terms of this rule (e.g., the MCO is subject to and has reached its enrollment limit). HSD may modify the auto-assignment algorithm, at its discretion, when it determines it is in the best interest of the program, including but not limited to, sanctions imposed on the MCO, consideration of quality measures, cost or utilization management performance criteria.

(1) The HSD auto-assignment process will consider the following:

(a) if the eligible recipient was previously enrolled with a MCO and lost his or her eligibility for a period of six months or less, he or she will be re-enrolled with that MCO, provided he or she is eligible for reenrollment in that MCO at the time of auto assignment;

(b) if the eligible recipient has a family member enrolled in a specific MCO, he or she will be enrolled with that MCO;

(c) if the eligible recipient has family members who are enrolled with different MCOs, he or she will be enrolled with the MCO that the majority of other family members are enrolled with;

(d) if the eligible recipient is a newborn, he or she will be assigned to the mother's MCO for the month of birth, at a minimum; see Subsection A of 8.308.6.10 NMAC; or

(e) if none of the above applies, the eligible recipient will be assigned to an MCO using the default logic that auto assigns an eligible recipient to a MCO.

D. Effective date for a newly eligible recipient's enrollment in managed care: In most instances, the effective date of enrollment with a MCO will be the same as the effective date of eligibility approval.

E. Retroactive MCO enrollment is limited to up to six months prior to the current month for the following reasons:

(1) retroactive medicare enrollment; or

(2) retroactive changes in eligibility; or

(3) retroactive nursing facility coverage; or

(4) changes in race code from Native American to non-Native American.

F. Eligible recipient member lock-in: A member's enrollment with a MCO is for a 12-month lock-in period. During the first three months of his or her initial MCO enrollment, either by the member's choice or by auto-assignment, he or she shall have one option to change MCOs for any reason, except as described below.

(1) If the member does not choose a different MCO during his or her first three months of enrollment, the member will remain with this MCO for the full 12-month lock-in period before being able to switch MCOs.

(2) If during the member's first three months of enrollment in the initially or annually-selected or a HSD assigned MCO, and he or she chooses a different MCO, he or she is subject to a new 12-month lock-in period and will remain with the newly selected MCO until the lock-in period ends. After that time, the member may switch to another MCO.

(3) At the conclusion of the 12-month lock-in period, the member shall have the option to select a new MCO, if desired. The member shall be notified of the option to switch MCOs two months prior to the expiration date of the member's lock-in period, the deadline by when to choose a new MCO.

(4) If an inmate, as defined at 8.200.410.17 NMAC, becomes a newly eligible recipient during incarceration and remains eligible at the time of their release, he or she will be enrolled with the MCO of their choice or auto-assigned to a MCO, unless they are Native American. Their initial 12-month lock-in period will begin on the first of the month of their release from incarceration.

(5) If a member misses what would have been his or her annual switch enrollment period due to incarceration, hospitalization or incapacitation, the member will have two months to choose a new MCO.

G. Eligible recipient MCO open enrollment period: The open enrollment period is the last two months of an eligible recipient's 12-month lock-in period, and is the time period during which a member can change his or her MCO without having to provide a specific reason to HSD. The open enrollment period may be initiated at HSD's discretion in order to support program needs.

H. Mass transfers from another MCO: A MCO shall accept any member transferring from another MCO as authorized by HSD. The transfer of membership may occur at any time during the year.

I. Change of enrollment initiated by a member during a MCO lock-in period:

(1) A member may select another MCO during his or her annual renewal of eligibility, or re-certification period.

(2) A member may request to be switched to another MCO for cause, even during a lock-in period. The member may submit the request to HSD's consolidated customer service center or the medical assistance division. Examples of "cause" include, but are not limited to:

(a) the MCO does not, because of moral or religious objections, cover the service the member seeks;

(b) the member requires related services (for example a cesarean section and a tubal ligation) to be performed at the same time, not all of the related services are available within the network, and his or her PCP or another provider determines that receiving the services separately would subject the member to unnecessary risk; and

(c) poor quality of care, lack of access to covered benefits, or lack of access to providers experienced in dealing with the member's health care needs.

(d) continuity of care (for example, a member's physician or specialist is no longer in the MCO's provider network or a member lives in a rural area and the closest physician that accepts their current MCO is too far away);

(e) family continuity (for example, a switch that is requested so that all family members are enrolled with the same MCO);

(f) administrative error (for example, a member chooses an MCO at initial enrollment or requests to change MCOs during an allowable switch period but the request was not honored).

(3) No later than the first calendar day of the second month following the month in which the request is filed by the member, HSD must respond in writing. If HSD does not respond timely, the request of the member is deemed approved. If the member is dissatisfied with HSD's determination, he or she may request a HSD administrative hearing; see 8.352.2 NMAC for detailed description.

(4) Native American opt-in and opt-out:

(a) Native American members in fee-for-service (FFS) may opt-in to managed care at any time during the year. MCO enrollment begins on the first calendar day of the month following HSD's receipt of the member's MCO opt-in request.

(b) Native American members may opt-out of managed care at any time during the year. MCO enrollment ends on the last calendar day of the enrollment month in which HSD receives the opt-out request.

(c) Native Americans who opt-in to managed care are not retroactively enrolled into managed care for prior months.

(d) A Native American who is approved for a category of eligibility that is required to be enrolled with a MCO must follow Subsection E, F and H of 8.308.7.9 NMAC regarding MCO enrollment.

8.308.7.10 DISENROLLMENT:

A. Member disenrollment initiated by a MCO: The MCO shall not, under any circumstances, disenroll a member. The MCO shall not request disenrollment because of a change in the member's health status, because of his or her utilization of medical or behavioral health services, his or her diminished mental capacity, or uncooperative or disruptive behavior resulting from his or her special needs.

B. Other HSD member disenrollment: A member may be disenrolled from a MCO or may lose his or her MAD eligibility if:

(1) he or she moves out of the state of New Mexico;

(2) he or she no longer qualifies for a MAP category of eligibility or has a change to a MAP category of eligibility that is not eligible for managed care enrollment;

(3) he or she requests disenrollment for cause, including but not limited to the unavailability of a specific care requirement that none of the contracted MCOs are able to deliver and disenrollment is approved by HSD;

(4) a member makes a request for disenrollment which is denied by HSD, but the denial is overturned in the member's HSD administrative hearing final decision; or

(5) HSD imposes a sanction on the MCO that warranted disenrollment.

C. Effective date of disenrollment: All HSD-approved disenrollment requests are effective on the first calendar day of the month following the month of the request for disenrollment, unless otherwise indicated by HSD. In all instances, the effective date shall be indicated on the termination record sent by HSD to the MCO.

8.308.7.11 MASS TRANSFER PROCESS:

The mass transfer process is initiated when HSD determines that the transfer of MCO members from one MCO to another is in the best interests of the program.

A. Triggering a mass transfer: The mass transfer process may be triggered by two situations:

(1) a maintenance change, such as changes in the MCO identification number or the MCO changes its name or other changes that is not relevant to the member and services will continue with that MCO; and

(2) a significant change in a MCO's contracting status, including but not limited to, the loss of licensure, substandard care, fiscal insolvency or significant loss in network providers; in such instances, a notice is sent to the member informing him or her of the transfer and the opportunity to select a different MCO.

B. Effective date of mass transfer: The change in enrollment initiated by the mass transfer begins with the first day of the month following HSD's identification of the need to transfer MCO members.

8.308.7.12 MEMBER IDENTIFICATION CARD:

A. Each member shall receive an identification card (ID) that provides his or her MCO membership information within 20 calendar days of notification of enrollment with the MCO.

B. The MCO shall re-issue a member ID card within 10 calendar days of notice if the member reports a lost card or if information on the card needs to be changed.

C. The MCO shall ensure a member understands that the ID card:

(1) is intended to be used only by the member;

(2) the sharing the member's ID card constitutes fraud; and

(3) the process of how to report sharing of a member's ID card.

Unless otherwise directed by MAD, a HSD contracted MCO is not required to follow MAD's reimbursement methodologies or MAD's fee schedules unless otherwise required in a NMAC rule. The MCO shall comply with 42 CFR Parts 438, 440, and 456.

8.308.11.9 TRANSITION OF CARE:

Transition of care refers to movement of an eligible recipient or a manage care organization (MCO) member from one health care practitioner or setting to another as their condition and health care needs change. The MCO shall have the resources, the policies and the procedures in place to actively assist the member with their transition of care.

A. Care coordination will be offered to members who are:

(1) transitioning from a nursing facility or out-of-home placement to the community;

(2) moving from a higher level of care to a lower level of care (LOC);

(3) turning 21 years of age;

(4) changing MCOs while hospitalized;

(5) changing MCOs during major organ and tissue transplantation services; and

(6) changing MCOs while receiving outpatient treatments for significant medical conditions. A member shall continue to receive medically necessary services in an uninterrupted manner during transitions of care.

B. The following is a list of HSD's general MCO requirements for transition of care.

(1) The MCO shall establish policies and procedures to ensure that each member is contacted in a timely manner and is appropriately assessed by its MCO, using the HSD prescribed timeframes, processes and tools to identify their needs.

(2) The MCO shall have policies and procedures covering the transition of an eligible recipient into a MCO, which shall include:

(a) member and provider educational information about the MCO;

(b) self-care and the optimization of treatment; and

(c) the review and update of existing courses of the member's treatment.

(3) The MCO shall not transition a member to another provider for continuing services, unless the current provider is not a contracted provider.

(4) The MCO shall facilitate a seamless transition into a new service, a new provider, or both, in a care plan developed by the MCO without disruption in the member's services.

(5) When a member of a MCO is transitioning to another MCO, the receiving MCO shall immediately contact the member's relinquishing MCO and request the transfer of "transition of care data" as specified by HSD. If a MCO is contacted by another MCO requesting the transfer of "transition of care data" for a transitioning member, then upon verification of such a transition, the relinquishing MCO shall provide such data in the timeframe and format specified by HSD to the receiving MCO, and both MCOs shall facilitate a seamless transition for the member.

(6) The receiving MCO will ensure that its newly transitioning member is held harmless by their provider for the costs of medically necessary covered services, except for applicable cost sharing.

(7) For a medical assistance division (MAD) medically necessary covered service provided by a contracted provider, the MCO shall provide continuation of such services from that provider, but may require prior authorization for the continuation of such services from that provider beyond 30 calendar days. The receiving MCO may initiate a provider change only as specified in the MCO agreement with HSD.

(8) The receiving MCO shall continue providing services previously authorized by HSD, its contractor or designee, in the member's approved community benefit care plan, behavioral health treatment plan or service plan without regard to whether such a service is provided by contracted or non-contracted provider. The receiving MCO shall not reduce approved services until the member's care coordinator conducts a comprehensive needs assessment (CNA).

C. Transplant services, durable medical equipment and prescription drugs:

(1) If an eligible recipient has received HSD approval, either through fee-for-service (FFS) or any other HSD contractor, the receiving MCO shall reimburse the HSD approved providers if a donor organ becomes available during the first 30 calendar days of the member's MCO enrollment.

(2) If a member was approved by a MCO for transplant services, HSD shall reimburse the MCO approved providers if a donor organ becomes available during the first 30 calendar days of the eligible recipient's FFS enrollment. The MCO provider who delivers these services will be eligible for FFS enrollment if the provider is willing.

(3) If a member received approval from their MCO for durable medical equipment (DME) costing $2,000 or more, and prior to the delivery of the DME item, was disenrolled from the MCO, the relinquishing MCO shall pay for the item.

(4) If an eligible recipient received FFS approval for a DME costing $2,000 or more, and prior to the delivery of the DME item, they are enrolled in a MCO, HSD shall pay for the item. The DME provider will be eligible for FFS provider enrollment if the provider is willing.

(5) If a FFS eligible recipient enrolls in a MCO, the receiving MCO shall pay for prescribed drug refills for the first 30 calendar days or until the MCO makes other arrangements.

(6) If a MCO member is later determined to be exempt from MCO enrollment, HSD will pay for prescription drug refills for the first 30 calendar days of their FFS enrollment. The pharmacy provider will be eligible for FFS enrollment if the provider is willing;

(7) If a FFS eligible recipient is later enrolled in a MCO, the receiving MCO will honor all prior authorizations granted by HSD or its contractors for the first 30 calendar days or until it makes other arrangements for the transition of services. A provider who delivered services approved by HSD or through its contractors shall be reimbursed by the receiving MCO.

(8) If a MCO member is later determined to be exempt from MCO enrollment, HSD will honor the relinquishing MCO's prior authorizations for the first 30 calendar days or until other arrangements for the transition of services have been made. The provider will be eligible for FFS enrollment if the provider is willing.

D. Transition of care requirements for pregnant individuals:

(2) When a newly enrolled member is in their first trimester of pregnancy and is receiving medically necessary covered prenatal care services prior to their enrollment, the receiving MCO shall be responsible for the costs of continuation of such medically necessary prenatal care services, including prenatal care and delivery, without any form of prior approval from the receiving MCO and without regard to whether such services are being provided by a contracted or non-contracted provider for up to 60 calendar days from their MCO enrollment or until they may be reasonably transferred to a MCO contracted provider without disruption in care, whichever is less.

(3) When a member is receiving services from a contracted provider, their MCO shall be responsible for the costs of continuation of medically necessary covered prenatal services from that provider, without any form of prior approval, through the 12-month postpartum period.

(4) When a member is receiving services from a non-contracted provider, their MCO will be responsible for the costs of continuation of medically necessary covered prenatal services, delivery, through the 12-month postpartum period, without any form of prior approval, until such time when their MCO determines it can reasonably transfer them to a contracted provider without impeding service delivery that might be harmful to their health.

transition has occurred and a new care plan is in place. The transition plan shall address the member's transition needs including but not limited to:

See Subsection M of 8.308.12.13 NMAC for a detailed description of this service.

N. Specialized therapies are non-experimental therapies or techniques that have been proven effective for certain conditions. A member may include specialized therapies in his or her care plan when the services enhance opportunities to achieve inclusion in community activities and avoid institutionalization. Services must be related to the member's disability or condition, ensure the member's health and welfare in the community, supplement rather than replace the member's natural supports and other community services for which the member may be eligible, and prevent the member's admission to institutional services.

(1) Acupuncture is a distinct system of primary health care with the goal of prevention, cure, or correction of any disease, illness, injury, pain or other physical or behavioral health condition by controlling and regulating the flow and balance of energy, form, and function to restore and maintain physical health and increased mental clarity to a member. Acupuncture may provide effective pain control, decreased symptoms of stress, improved circulation and a stronger immune system, as well as other benefits to the member.

(2) Biofeedback uses visual, auditory or other monitors to feed back physiological information of which the member is normally unaware. This technique enables a member to learn how to change physiological, psychological and behavioral responses for the purposes of improving emotional, behavioral, and cognitive health and performance. The use of biofeedback may assist in strengthening or gaining conscious control over the above processes in order for the member to self-regulate. Biofeedback therapy is also useful for muscle re-education of specific muscle groups or for treating the member's pathological muscle abnormalities of spasticity, incapacitating muscle spasm, or weakness.

(3) Chiropractic care for a member is designed to locate and remove interference with the transmissions or expression of nerve forces in the human body by the correction of misalignments or subluxations of the vertebral column and pelvis for the purpose of restoring and maintaining health for treatment of human disease primarily by, but not limited to, the adjustment and manipulation of the human structure. Chiropractic therapy may positively affect neurological function, improve certain reflexes and sensations, increase range of motion, and lead to improved general health of the member.

(4) Cognitive rehabilitation therapy services for a member are designed to improve cognitive functioning by reinforcing, strengthening, or reestablishing previously learned patterns of behavior, or establishing new patterns of cognitive activity or compensatory mechanisms for impaired neurological systems. Treatments may be focused on improving a particular cognitive domain such as attention, memory, language, or executive functions. Alternatively, treatments may be skill-based, aimed at improving performance of ADL. The overall goal is to restore the member's function in a cognitive domain or set of domains, or to teach compensatory strategies to overcome specific cognitive problems.

(5) Hippotherapy is a physical, occupational, and speech-language therapy treatment strategy that utilizes equine movement as part of an integrated intervention program to achieve functional outcomes. Hippotherapy applies multidimensional movement of a horse for a member with movement dysfunction and may increase mobility and range of motion, decrease contractures and aid in normalizing muscle tone. Hippotherapy requires that the member use cognitive functioning, especially for sequencing and memory. A member with attention deficits and maladaptive behaviors is redirecting attention and behaviors by focusing on the activity. Hippotherapy involves therapeutic exercise, neuromuscular education, kinetic activities, therapeutic activities, sensory integration activities, and for individual speech therapy. The activities may also help improve respiratory function and assist with improved breathing and speech production of the member.

(6) Massage therapy for a member is the assessment and treatment of soft tissues and their dysfunctions for therapeutic purposes primarily for comfort and relief of pain. It includes gliding, kneading, percussion, compression, vibration, friction, nerve strokes, stretching the tissue and exercising the range of motion, and may include the use of oils, salt glows, hot or cold packs or hydrotherapy. Massage increases the circulation, helps loosen contracted, shortened muscles and can stimulate weak muscles to improve posture and movement, improves range of motion and reduces spasticity. Massage therapy may increase, or help sustain, a member's ability to be more independent in the performance of ADL; thereby, decreasing dependency upon others to perform or assist with basic daily activities.

(7) Naprapathy focuses on the evaluation and treatment of neuro-musculoskeletal conditions, and is a system for restoring functionality and reducing pain in muscles and joints. The therapy uses manipulation and mobilization of the spine and other joints, and muscle treatments such as stretching and massage. Based on the concept that constricted connective tissue (ligaments, muscles and tendons) interfere with nerve, blood and lymph flow, naprapathy uses manipulation of connective tissue to open these channels of body function for a member.

(8) A native American healer is an individual who is recognized as a healer within his or her respective native American community. A native American member may be from one of the 22 sovereign tribes, nations and pueblos in New Mexico or may be from other tribal backgrounds. A native American healer delivers a wide variety of culturally-appropriate therapies that support the member by addressing the member's physical, emotional and spiritual health. Treatments delivered by a native American healer may include prayer, dance, ceremony and song, plant medicines and foods; participation in sweat lodges, and the use of meaningful symbols of healing, such as the medicine wheel or other sacred objects. A native American healer provides opportunities for the member to remain connected with his or her tribal community. The communal and spiritual support provided by this type of healing can reduce pain and stress and improve quality of life. It is also important to note that some tribes, nations and pueblos prefer to keep these healing therapies and practices safeguarded due to the significance of their religious ties.

(9) Specialized therapies for members entering the SDCB on or after January 1, 2019 are limited to a maximum of $2,000 annually per care plan year.

O. Start-up goods are used when a member is transitioning from the ABCB model to the SDCB model. Start-up goods enable a member to begin to self-direct his/her services. Start-up goods include, but are not limited to, computers, printers and fax machines. Start-up goods are provided one-time during the member's first full or prorated care plan year and are limited to $2,000.

A member that serves as his or her EOR has the option to do so or may, on his or her own, designate a person to serve as his or her EOR in writing. A designated EOR may not also be an employee of the member. The member's file must have documentation of either the member acting as his or her EOR or of the designated EOR. The member's MCO will make the final determination on whether the member may be his or her own EOR.

The FMA pays employees and vendors based upon the member's approved SDCB care plan and budget. The FMA assures member and program compliance with state and federal employment requirements, monitors, and makes available to the member and MAD reports related to utilization of services and budget expenditures. Based on the member's approved individual care plan and budget, the FMA must:

D. Budget: The member's MCO will determine the maximum annual budget allotment based on the member's CNA. The member may request a revision to the SDCB care plan and budget when a change in circumstances warrants such revisions, such as a change in health condition or loss of natural supports. All changes are subject to assessment and approval by the MCO.

E. SDCB care plan: The support broker and the member shall work together to develop an annual SDCB care plan for the SDCB services the member is identified to need as a result of his or her CNA. The SDCB care plan will not exceed the MCO determined budget. The support broker and member shall refer to the rates specified by HSD in selecting payment rates for qualified providers and vendors. The care plan for SDCB services shall be based upon the member's assessed needs and approved by the member's MCO. The support broker shall closely monitor the utilization of SDCB care plan services to ensure that the member does not exceed the approved annual budget.

(2) SDCB care plan revisions: The SDCB care plan may be revised based upon a change in the member's needs or circumstances, such as a change in the member's health status or condition or a change in the member's support system, such as the death or disabling condition of an individual who was providing services. The member or the EOR is responsible for assuring that all expenditures are in compliance with the most current determination of need. SDCB care plan revisions involve requests to add new goods or services to a care plan or to reallocate funds from any line item to another approved line item. SDCB care plan revisions must be submitted to the member's MCO for review and determination. Other than for critical health and safety reasons, SDCB care plan revisions may not be submitted to the MCO for review within the last 60 calendar days of the care plan year. Prior to submitting a SDCB care plan revision request, the member is responsible for communicating any utilization of services that are not in compliance with the care plan to the support broker. At the MCO's discretion, a revision to the SDCB care plan may require another CNA. F. SDCB back-up plan: The support broker shall assist the member and his or her EOR in developing a back-up plan for the member's SDCB services that identifies how the member and EOR will address situations when a scheduled provider is not available or fails to show up as scheduled. The member's support broker shall assess the adequacy of the member's back-up plan at least on an annual basis and when changes in the type, amount, duration, scope of the SDCB or the schedule of needed services, or a change of providers (when such providers also serve as back-up to other members) or change in availability of paid or unpaid back-up providers to deliver needed care.

G. Member and EOR training: The member's MCO shall require the member electing to enroll in the SDCB approach and his or her EOR to receive relevant training. The support broker shall be responsible for arranging for initial and ongoing training of the member and his or her EOR.

(1) At a minimum, self-direction training for member and his or her EOR shall address the following issues:

H. Claims submission and payment: The EOR shall review and approve timesheets of the member's providers and invoices from the member's vendors to determine accuracy and appropriateness. No SDCB provider shall exceed 40 hours paid work in one work week per EOR. Timesheets must be submitted and processed on a two-week pay schedule according to the FMA's prescribed payroll payment schedule. The FMA shall be responsible for processing the member's timesheets and invoices for approved SDCB services and goods.

8.308.12.21 TERMINATION FROM ABCB PCS/CDIRECTED OR SDCB:

The MCO may involuntarily terminate a member from the PCS/CDirected or the SDCB approach under any of the following circumstances.

A. The member, the member's authorized representative or his or her EOR refuses to follow NMAC rules, the MAD MCO policy manual, or his or her MCO policies after receiving focused technical assistance on multiple occasions and support from his or her care coordinator, PCS agency or FMA, which is supported by documentation of the efforts to assist the member. For purposes of this rule, focused technical assistance is defined as a minimum of three separate occasions where the member, authorized representative or his or her EOR have received training, education or technical assistance, or a combination of both, from the MCO, the FMA, the PCS agency or MAD.

B. There is an immediate risk to the member's health or safety by continued consumer direction or self-direction of services, i.e., the member is in imminent risk of death or serious bodily injury. Examples include but are not limited to the following:

(1) the member refuses to include and maintain services in his or her PCS/CDirected or SDCB care plan that would address health and safety issues identified in the member's CNA or challenges the assessment after repeated and focused technical assistance and support from program staff, the care coordinator, PCS agency or the FMA;

(4) the member expends his or her entire SDCB budget prior to the end of the care plan year; or

(5) the member or authorized representative intentionally misuses the member's PCS/CDirected or SDCB services or goods.

C. The MCO shall submit to MAD any requests to terminate a member from the PCS/CDirected or the SDCB approach with sufficient documentation regarding the rationale for termination. Upon MAD approval, the MCO shall notify the member regarding termination in accordance with NMAC rules and MCO policies. The member shall have the right to appeal the determination by requesting a MCO appeal and, if the termination is still upheld by the MCO, a HSD administrative hearing. Within 120 days of the final decision, the MCO shall facilitate a seamless transition from the PCS/CDirected to PCS/CDelegated or SDCB to ABCB to ensure there are no interruptions or gaps in services. Involuntary termination of a member from SDCB shall not affect a member's eligibility for ABCB covered services or continued MCO membership. However, a member that has been involuntarily terminated from SBCB must access PCS from the PCS/CDelegated model for at least one year. Involuntary termination of a member from PCS/CDirected shall not affect a member's eligibility for other CB services or PCS/CDelegated services.

D. A member who has voluntarily switched to PCS/CDelegated or ABCB or who has been involuntarily terminated from PCS/CDirected or from SDCB may request to be reinstated in the PCS/CDirected or the SDCB approach to his or her MCO. Such requests may not be made more than once in a calendar year. The member's PCS/CDirected or SDCB reinstatement when he or she was involuntarily terminated is at the discretion of his or her MCO. The care coordinator shall work with the member's PCS agency or FMA to ensure that the issues previously identified as reasons for termination have been adequately addressed prior to such reinstatement. A member shall be required to participate in SDCB training programs prior to his or her SDCB reinstatement. A member shall be required to participate in PCS/CDirected training programs and the MCO may request the member's PCP provide a signed statement that the PCS/CDirected approach is appropriate for the member prior to his or her PCS/CDirected reinstatement.

8.308.14.9 CO-PAYMENTS IN THE MEDICAID MANAGED CARE PROGRAM:

The medical assistance division (MAD) imposes co-payment provisions on certain members, certain categories of eligibility and on certain services. The member's HSD contracted managed care organization (MCO) is required to impose co-payments as directed by MAD at 8.302.2 NMAC and in accordance with federal regulations.

A. General requirements regarding co-payments:

(1) The MCO or its contracted providers may not deny services for a member's failure to pay the co-payment amounts.

(2) The MCO must take measures to educate and train both its contracted providers and members on co-payment requirements.

(3) The MCO shall not impose co-payment provisions on certain services that, in accordance with federal regulations, are always exempt from co-payment provisions. See 42 CFR 447.56, limitations on premiums and cost sharing and 8.302.2 NMAC.

(4) The MCO shall not impose co-payment provisions on certain member categories of eligibility that, in accordance with federal and state regulations and rules, are exempt from cost-sharing provisions.

(5) Payments to MCO contracted providers: In accordance with 42 CFR 447.56, limitations on premiums and cost sharing, the MCO must reduce the payment it makes to a contracted provider by the amount of the member's applicable co-payment obligation, regardless of whether the provider has collected the payment.

(6) At the direction of MAD, the MCO must report all co-payment amounts collected.

(7) The MCO may not impose more than one type of co-payment for any service, in accordance with 42 CFR 447.52.

(8) The MCO must track, by month, all co-payments collected from each individual member in the household to ensure that the household does not exceed the aggregate limit (cap). The cap is five percent of countable household income for all individual members in a household, calculated as applicable for a quarter. The MCO must be able to provide each household member, at his or her request, with information regarding co-payments that have been applied to claims for the member.

(9) The MCO must report to the provider when a co-payment has been applied to the provider's claim and when a co-payment was not applied to the provider's claim. The MCO shall be responsible for assuring the provider is aware that:

(a) the provider shall be responsible for refunding to the member any co-payments the provider collects after the member has reached the co-payment cap (five percent of the member's household income, calculated on a quarterly basis) which occurs because the MCO was not able to inform the provider of the exemption from co-payment due to the timing of claims processing;

(b) the provider shall be responsible for refunding to the member any co-payments the provider collects for which the MCO did not deduct the payment from the provider's payment whether the discrepancy occurs because of provider error or MCO error; and

(c) failure to refund a collected co-payment to a member and to accept full payment from the MCO may result in a credible allegation of fraud, see 8.351.2 NMAC.

[8.308.14.9 NMAC - Rp, 10/1/2017]

8.308.14.10 MEMBER RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

A. When a MAD benefit has a co-payment assigned for a MAP category of eligibility, the eligible recipient will at the time of service make payment or make arrangements with the provider for payment at a later date.

B. A member shares the responsibility to track his or her co-payments for each quarter. The member has the right to request from his or her MCO at any time an account of his or her household's co-payment total per quarter. If the member believes he or she has met the household's out-of-pocket (OOP) limit, he or she may request that the provider wait to charge future co-payments if the member has contacted his or her MCO to determine if the OOP limit has been met.

C. If a member had reached his or her household OOP limit but was not aware of it at the time the member paid a co-payment, the provider must refund the member the co-payment.

(1) The provider must refund the member within 10 working days after the member requests a reimbursement of the paid co-payment or the member's MCO notifies the provider that the member's OOP limit has been met.

(2) The member may notify verbally or in writing his or her MCO of the provider's failure to refund the co-payment within the required timeframe.

(3) Failure of the MCO to intervene to have its contracted provider refund the co-payment within 10 working days of the member notifying the MCO constitutes a MCO adverse action and the member may file a MCO appeal and if applicable, a HSD administrative hearing. See 8.308.15 and 8.352.2 NMAC for detailed information.

(4) The member may also contact the HSD office of inspector general after he or she has complied with Paragraph (2) and (3) above to report the provider's refusal to refund the member's co-payment as such action may result in a credible allegation of fraud.

8.308.15.7 DEFINITIONS:

A. "Administrative law judge (ALJ)" means the hearing officer appointed by the HSD fair hearings bureau (FHB) to oversee the claimant's administrative hearing process, to produce an evidentiary record and render a recommendation to the medical assistance division (MAD) director.

B. "Adverse action against a member" is when a HSD managed care organization (MCO) intends or has taken action against a member of his or her MCO as in one or more of the following situations.

(1) An adverse benefit determination is the denial, reduction, limited authorization, suspension, or termination of a newly requested benefit or benefit currently being provided to a member including determinations based on the type or level of service, medical necessity criteria or requirements, appropriateness of setting, or effectiveness of a service other than a value-added service. It includes the following:

(a) a change to a level of care (LOC) benefit currently being received through a MCO, including a reduction or other change in the member's LOC, and a transfer or discharge of a nursing facility (NF) resident;

(b) the retrospective denial, reduction, or limited authorization of a benefit rendered which was provided on a presumed emergency basis, whether in or out of network, or provided without having received any required authorization or LOC determination prior to the service being rendered, with the exception of a MCO value-added service;

(c) the denial in whole or in part of a member's provider claim by the MCO regardless of whether the member is being held responsible for payment;

(d) the failure of the MCO, or its designee:

(i) to make a benefit determination in a timely manner;

(ii) to provide a benefit in a timely matter;

(iii) to act within the timeframes regarding the MCO's established member appeal requirements;

(e) the belief of a member, his or her authorized representative or authorized provider that the MCO's admission determination, LOC determination, or preadmission screening and annual resident review (PASRR) requirements determination is not accurate or the belief that the frequency, intensity or duration of the benefit is insufficient to meet the medical needs of the member. When the issue stems from a PASRR determination, the member will request a HSD PASRR administrative hearing governed by 8.354.2 NMAC instead of a MCO member appeal or a HSD administrative hearing; and

(f) the denial of a request to dispute a financial liability, including co-payments, premiums or other member financial liabilities.

(2) Other actions include:

(a) a budget or allocation for which a member, his or her authorized representative, or authorized provider believes the member's home and community-based waiver benefit or the member's budget or allocations were erroneously determined or is insufficient to meet the member's needs; and

(b) a denial, limitation, or non-payment of emergency or non-emergency transportation, or meals and lodging.

C. "Adverse action against a provider" means when a MCO intends or has taken adverse action against a provider based on the MCO denial of the provider's payment, including a denial of a claim for lack of medical necessity or as not a covered benefit.

D. "Authorized provider" means the member's provider who has been authorized in writing by the member or his or her authorized representative to request a MCO expedited member appeal or a MCO standard member appeal on behalf of the member. An authorized provider does not have the full range of authority to make medical decisions on behalf of the member.

E. "Authorized representative" means the individual designated by the member or legal guardian to represent and act on the member's behalf.

(1) The member or authorized representative must provide documentation authorizing the named individual or individuals to access the identified case information for a specified purpose and time-frame. An authorized representative may be an attorney representing a person or household, a person acting under the authority of a valid power of attorney, a guardian, or any other individual or individuals designated in writing by the member.

(2) If a member, due to his or her medical incapacity, is unable to appoint an authorized representative and the authorized representative is unable to be reached and immediate medical care is needed, the member's treating provider may act as the member's authorized representative until such time as the member's authorized representative is available or until such time as the member is able to appoint an authorized representative. In this case, the authorized provider is allowed to file a MCO expedited or standard member appeal. The member's medical record must demonstrate that the member was incapacitated and the member's medical condition required immediate action prior to the authorized representative being located.

F. "HSD expedited administrative hearing" means an expedited informal evidentiary hearing conducted by the HSD fair hearings bureau (FHB) in which evidence may be presented as it relates to an adverse action taken or intended to be taken, by the MCO. A member or his or her authorized representative may request a HSD expedited administrative hearing only after exhausting his or her MCO expedited or standard member appeal process and unless the request for a HSD expedited administrative hearing is because the MCO has denied the member's request for a member appeal to be expedited. See 8.352.2 NMAC for a detailed description of the HSD expedited administrative hearing process and Subsection B of 8.308.15.13 NMAC.

G. "HSD PASRR administrative hearing" means a HSD administrative hearing process which is an informal evidentiary hearing conducted by FHB in which evidence may be presented as it relates to an adverse action taken or intended to be taken by a MCO of a member's disputed PASRR determination, or a member's disputed transfer or discharge from a NF. See 8.354.2 NMAC for a detailed description of the HSD PASRR administrative hearing process.

H. "HSD standard administrative hearing" means an informal evidentiary hearing conducted by FHB in which evidence may be presented as it relates to an adverse action taken or intended to be taken, by the MCO. A member or his or her authorized representative may request a HSD standard administrative hearing only after exhausting his or her MCO expedited or standard member appeal process. See 8.352.2 NMAC for a detailed description of the HSD standard administrative hearing process.

I. "MAD" means the medical assistance division, which administers medicaid and other medical assistance programs under HSD.

J. "MAP" means the medical assistance programs administered under MAD.

K. "MCO" means the member's HSD contracted managed care organization.

L. "MCO expedited member appeal" means the process open to a member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider when the member's MCO has taken or intends to take an adverse action against the member's benefit.

(1) A request for an expedited appeal is appropriate when the MCO, the member, his or her authorized representative, or the authorized provider believes that allowing the time for a standard member appeal resolution could seriously jeopardize the member's life, health, or his or her ability to attain, maintain, or regain maximum function.

(2) The process open to an authorized provider who has requested an authorization or other approval for the disputed benefit, including a LOC for a member which the MCO has denied in whole or in part or after the MCO has reconsidered any additional documentation or information from the authorized provider during the approval process.

M. "MCO standard member appeal" means:

(1) the process open to a member or his or her authorized representative when the member's MCO has taken or intends to take an adverse action against the member's benefit; or

(2) the process open to an authorized provider who has requested an authorization or other approval for the disputed benefit, including a LOC for a member which the MCO has denied in whole or in part or after the MCO has reconsidered any additional documentation or information from the authorized provider during the approval process.

(3) A MCO cannot change a member's, or his authorized representative's or authorized provider's request for a MCO expedited or standard member appeal to a MCO member grievance without the written consent of the appeal requestor.

N. "MCO member grievance" means an expression of dissatisfaction by a member or his or her authorized representative about any matter or aspect of the MCO or its operation that is not included in the definition of an adverse action. A MCO member grievance final decision does not provide a member the right to request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing, unless the reason for the request is based on the assertion by the member or his or her authorized representative that the MCO failed to act within the MCO member grievance time frames.

O. "MCO provider appeal" means the process open to a provider requesting a review by the MCO of his or her payment, including denial of a claim for lack of medical necessity or as not a covered benefit.

P. "MCO expedited or standard member appeal final decision" means the MCO's final decision regarding a member's or his or her authorized representative's or authorized provider's request for a MCO expedited or standard member appeal of the MCO's adverse action it intends to take or has taken against its member.

Q. "MCO provider grievance" means an expression of dissatisfaction by a provider about any matter or aspect of the MCO or its operation that is not included in the definition of an adverse action. The MCO provider grievance final decision does not allow a provider to request a HSD provider administrative hearing.

R. "Member" means an eligible recipient enrolled in a MCO.

S. "Notice of action" means the notice of an adverse action intended or taken by the member's MCO.

T. "Provider" means a practitioner or entity which has delivered or intends to provide a service or item whether the provider is contracted or not contracted with the member's MCO at the time services or items are to be provided.

U. "Valued added services" means services offered by a MCO that are not part of the MCO's required benefit package. Disputes concerning value-added services are not eligible for a MCO appeal or a HSD administrative hearing.

The MCO shall establish and maintain an expedited review process for a MCO expedited member appeal when the MCO, the member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider believes that allowing the time for a standard member appeal resolution could seriously jeopardize the member's life, health, or his or her ability to attain, maintain, or regain maximum function. Once a member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider requests a MCO expedited member appeal and the member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider requests a continuation of the member's disputed current benefit, the MCO will grant a continuation of the disputed current benefit until the MCO expedited member appeal final decision is rendered by the MCO. However, if the date of the MCO expedited member appeal final decision letter is prior to the notice of action's adverse action effective date, the MCO must continue the disputed current benefit up to the adverse action's effective date. The MCO shall ensure that health care professionals with appropriate clinical expertise in addressing the physical health, behavioral health, or long-term services and supports needs of the member are utilized during the MCO expedited member appeal process when the MCO notice of action for the disputed benefit is based on a lack of medical necessity.

A. A member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider in accordance with the member's MCO procedures has the right to request within 60 calendar days after the mailing of the MCO's notice of action a MCO expedited member appeal orally or in writing. When the mailing date of the notice of action is disputed or there is a discrepancy between the mailing date and the postmarked date, the postmarked date will prevail.

(1) If a member, his or her authorized representative or authorized provider elects to request a continuation of the member's disputed current benefit, the member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider must request a MCO expedited member appeal and request a continuation of the member's disputed current benefit within 10 calendar days of the mailing of the MCO's notice of action. When the mailing date of the notice of action is disputed or there is a discrepancy between the mailing date and the postmarked date, the postmarked date will prevail. The continuation of the disputed current benefits is not dependent on the approval to proceed to the MCO expedited appeal process. See 8.308.15.15 NMAC for a detailed description of the continuation of the disputed benefit process.

(2) If the member or authorized representative or authorized provider requests a MCO expedited member appeal, the following applies.

(a) If the member or his or her authorized representative designate in writing the member's provider to act as the member's authorized provider, the authorized provider may request a MCO expedited member appeal when the authorized provider believes that the MCO has made an incorrect decision concerning the member's disputed benefit.

(b) If the MCO upholds its adverse action, regardless of who requested the MCO expedited member appeal process, the MCO expedited member appeal process is considered exhausted and the member or his or her authorized representative may request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing concerning the member's disputed benefit.

(c) Once the member or his or her authorized representative request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing, he or she is referred to as the claimant.

(4) The member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider may have legal counsel or a spokesperson assist him or her during the MCO expedited member appeal process.

(5) The member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider does not have the right to request a MCO expedited or standard member appeal or a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing related to a value-added service offered by the MCO.

(6) The authorized provider is not eligible to request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing on the disputed benefit, unless the provider has been designated as the member's authorized representative. See 8.352.2 NMAC for a detailed description of the HSD expedited and standard administrative hearing processes.

B. The request for a MCO expedited member appeal may be made orally or in writing to the member's MCO within the required time frame. The reasons why a MCO expedited member appeal is necessary must be detailed in the oral or written request. A member's provider (regardless if the provider is not the authorized provider) may assist the member or his or her authorized representative in stating the reasons and providing supporting documentation that a MCO expedited member appeal is medically necessary. There can only be one MCO member appeal request concerning the disputed benefit at one time. If the MCO denies the request for a MCO expedited member appeal, the member or his or her authorized representative may then request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing regarding the issue of the denial of a MCO expedited member appeal. See 8.352.2 NMAC for a detailed description of the HSD expedited and standard administrative hearing processes.

C. The MCO shall designate a specific employee as its MCO expedited member appeal manager with the authority to:

(1) administer the policies and procedures for resolution of a MCO expedited member appeal;

(2) review patterns and trends in member expedited appeals and initiate corrective action; and

(3) ensure there is no punitive or retaliatory action taken against any member, his or her authorized representative or authorized provider that files an expedited MCO member appeal, or a provider that supports the member's appeal.

D. The MCO shall provide reasonable assistance to the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider requesting a MCO expedited member appeal in completing forms and completing procedural steps, including but not limited to:

(1) providing interpreter services;

(2) providing toll-free numbers that have adequate TTY/TTD and interpreter capability; and

(3) assisting the member, his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider in understanding the MCO rationale regarding the disputed benefit which was wholly denied, partially denied or that was limited in order to ensure that the issue under expedited appeal is sufficiently defined throughout the MCO expedited member appeal.

E. The MCO shall provide in writing to the member, his or her authorized representative, and the member's provider (regardless if the provider is not the authorized provider) with the following information once a request is made for a MCO expedited member appeal:

(1) the date the MCO expedited member appeal request was received by the MCO, and the MCO's understanding of what the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider is appealing concerning the member's disputed benefit;

(2) the expected date of the MCO member appeal decision:

(a) that is not to exceed 72 hours from the date of the receipt of the request for a MCO expedited member appeal; and

(b) that alerts the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider of the possibility of an appeal extension of up to an additional 14 calendar days when:

(i) the member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider requests the extension; or

(ii) the MCO determines it requires additional information and provides a written justification to the member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider, and also places in the member's MCO expedited member appeal file how the extension is in the best interest of the member.

F. Time frames:

(1) The MCO must act as expeditiously as the member's condition requires, but no later than 72 hours after receipt of a request for a MCO expedited member appeal, and provide the member and his or her authorized representative and the authorized provider its MCO expedited member appeal final decision. The MCO must also make reasonable efforts to provide oral notice of the decision.

(2) If the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider requests an extension of the decision date, the MCO shall extend the 72-hour time period up to 14 calendar days to allow the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider to submit additional documentation to the MCO supporting the need for the MCO expedited member appeal.

(3) The MCO may itself extend the 72-hour time period when it determines there is a need to collect and review additional information prior to rendering its MCO expedited member appeal final decision. The MCO must provide justification in writing to the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider and also place in the member's expedited member appeal file how the extension of time is in the member's best interest.

(4) A member or his or her authorized representative may file a MCO member grievance against the MCO's decision to extend the 72-hour time frame and up to an additional 14 calendar days.

G. MCO-initiated expedited MCO member appeal: When the MCO determines that allowing the time for a standard MCO member appeal process could seriously jeopardize the member's life, health, or his or her ability to attain, maintain, or regain maximum function, the MCO shall:

(1) automatically file a MCO-initiated expedited member appeal on behalf of the member and continue the disputed current benefit without cost to the member if the MCO-initiated expedited member appeal final decision upholds the MCO adverse action;

(2) make reasonable efforts to provide the member, his or her authorized representative and the member's provider (regardless if the provider is not the authorized provider) prompt oral notice of the automatic appeal, following up as expeditious as possible, but within 72 hours of the MCO expedited member appeal final decision; and

(3) use its best effort to involve the member, his or her authorized representative and the member's provider (regardless if the provider is not the authorized provider) in the member's MCO-initiated expedited member appeal. The member's MCO expedited appeal record will contain the dates, times, and methods the MCO utilized to contact the member, his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider, or another provider of the member. If the MCO-initiated member appeal final decision upholds the MCO's adverse action, the MCO member appeal process is exhausted and the member or his or her authorized representative may request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing.

8.308.15.14 MCO STANDARD MEMBER APPEAL PROCESS:

A. A member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider in accordance with the member's MCO procedures has the right to request within 60 calendar days after the mailing of the MCO's notice of action a MCO standard member appeal orally and in writing. When the mailing date of the notice of action is disputed or there is a discrepancy between the mailing date and the postmarked date, the postmarked date will prevail. If orally requested, the request must be followed up in writing within 13 calendar days of the oral request.

(1) If a member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider elects to request a continuation of the member's disputed current benefit, the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider must request a MCO standard member appeal and request a continuation of the member's disputed current benefit within 10 calendar days of the mailing of the MCO's notice of action. When the mailing date of the notice of action is disputed or there is a discrepancy between the mailing date and the postmarked date, the postmarked date will prevail. See 8.308.15.15 NMAC for a detailed description of the continuation of the disputed current benefit process.

(2) If the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider requests a MCO standard member appeal, the following apply.

(a) If the member or his or her authorized representative designate in writing the member's provider to act as the member's authorized provider, the authorized provider may request a MCO standard member appeal when the authorized provider believes that the MCO has made an incorrect decision concerning the member's disputed benefit.

(b) If the MCO upholds its adverse action, regardless of who requested the MCO standard member appeal process, the MCO standard member appeal process is considered exhausted and the member or his or her authorized representative may request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing concerning the member's disputed benefit.

(c) If a member or his or her authorized representative elects not to request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing, and if the date of the MCO standard member appeal final decision letter is prior to the notice of action's adverse action effective date, the MCO must continue the disputed current benefit up to the notice of action's adverse action effective date.

(d) Once the member or his or her authorized representative requests a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing, he or she is referred to as the claimant.

(3) The member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider may have legal counsel or a spokesperson assist him or her during the MCO standard member appeal process.

(4) The member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider does not have the right to request a MCO expedited or standard member appeal or a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing related to a value-added service offered by the MCO.

(5) The authorized provider is not eligible to request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing on the disputed benefit, unless the provider has been designated as the member's authorized representative. See 8.352.2 NMAC for a detailed description of the HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing processes.

B. The MCO shall designate a specific employee as its MCO standard member appeal manager with the authority to:

(1) administer the policies and procedures for resolution of a MCO standard member appeal;

(2) review patterns and trends in standard member appeals and initiate corrective action; and

(3) ensure there is no punitive or retaliatory action taken against any member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider that files a MCO standard member appeal, or a provider that supports the member's appeal.

C. The MCO shall provide reasonable assistance to the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider requesting a MCO standard member appeal in completing forms and completing procedural steps, including but not limited to:

(1) providing interpreter services;

(2) providing toll-free numbers that have adequate TTY/TTD and interpreter capability; and

(3) assisting the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider in understanding the MCO rationale regarding the disputed benefit which was wholly denied, partially denied or that was limited in order that the issue under appeal is sufficiently defined throughout the MCO standard member appeal.

D. The MCO shall provide the member or his or her authorized representative, and the member's provider (regardless if the provider is not the authorized provider) with the following information once a request is made for a MCO standard member appeal.

(1) The date the MCO standard member appeal request was received by the MCO, and the MCO's understanding of what the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider is appealing concerning the member's disputed benefit;

(2) The expected date of the MCO standard member appeal decision:

(a) that is not to exceed 30 calendar days from the date of the receipt of the request for a MCO standard member appeal; and

(b) that alerts the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider of the possibility of an appeal extension of up to an additional 14 calendar days when:

(i) the member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider requests the extension; or

(ii) the MCO determines it requires additional information and provides to the member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider, and also places in the member's MCO standard member appeal file how the extension is in the best interest of the member.

E. Time frames:

(1) The MCO must act as expeditiously as the member's condition requires, but no later than 30 calendar days after receipt of a request for a MCO standard member appeal, and provide the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider its MCO standard member appeal final decision.

(2) If the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider requests an extension of the decision date, the MCO shall extend the 30 calendar day time period up to an additional 14 calendar days to allow the member or his or her authorized representative or the authorized provider to submit additional documentation to the MCO supporting the medical necessity for the disputed benefit.

8.308.15.15 CONTINUATION OF A DISPUTED CURRENT BENEFIT DURING THE MCO EXPEDITED AND STANDARD MEMBER APPEAL PROCESSES:

A member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider requesting a MCO expedited or standard member appeal of an adverse action may request that the disputed current benefit continue during the MCO expedited or standard member appeal process. However, if the date of the MCO expedited or standard member appeal final decision letter is prior to the effective date of the notice of action's adverse action effective date, the MCO must continue the disputed current benefit up to the notice of action's adverse action effective date.

A. A request for a continuation of the disputed current benefit shall be accorded to any member who or through the member's authorized representative or authorized provider requests the continuation of the disputed current benefit who also requests a MCO expedited or standard member appeal within 10 calendar days of the mailing of the notice of action or prior to the date the notice of action states the benefit will be terminated. When the mailing date of the notice of action is disputed or there is a discrepancy between the mailing date and the postmarked date, the postmarked date will prevail.

B. The continuation of a disputed current benefit is only available to a member who is currently receiving the disputed benefit at the time of the MCO's notice of action.

(1) The continuation of the disputed current benefit is the same as the member's current benefit, which includes the member's current allocation, budget or LOC.

(2) The MCO must provide written information in its notice of action of the member's or his or her authorized representative's or authorized provider's rights and responsibilities to continue the disputed current benefit during the MCO expedited or standard member appeal process and of the possible responsibility of the member to repay the MCO for the disputed current benefit if the MCO expedited or standard member appeal final decision upholds the MCO's adverse action. If it was a MCO-initiated expedited member appeal, the MCO cannot recover the cost of the disputed current benefit if the MCO's adverse action is upheld.

C. A member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider has the right to not request a continuation of the disputed current benefit during the MCO expedited or standard member appeal process.

[8.308.15.15 NMAC - Rp, 8.308.15.15 NMAC, 5/1/2018]

8.308.15.16 MCO EXPEDITED MEMBER APPEAL AND MCO STANDARD MEMBER APPEAL FINAL DECISION AND IMPLEMENTATION:

A. The MCO shall provide the member or his or her authorized representative and the provider (regardless if the provider was not the one requesting the MCO member appeal) with its MCO expedited or standard member appeal final decision within the required time frames and provide supporting documentation substantiating the MCO's decision.

B. When the MCO expedited or standard member appeal final decision reverses the MCO's adverse action in total and the disputed benefit was not furnished during the member's expedited or standard member appeal process, the MCO shall authorize or provide the disputed benefit promptly and as expeditiously as the member's health condition requires.

C. When the MCO expedited or standard member appeal final decision reverses the MCO's adverse action in total and the member, his or her authorized representative or authorized provider had requested and the member had received a continuation of the disputed current benefit during the MCO expedited or standard member appeal process, the MCO may not recover from the member the cost of the continued disputed current benefit furnished during the MCO expedited or standard member appeal process.

D. When the MCO expedited or standard member appeal final decision upholds the MCO's adverse action and the member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider had requested and the member had received a continuation of the disputed current benefit, the MCO may recover from the member the cost of the disputed current benefit furnished during the MCO expedited or standard member appeal process if:

(1) the member, his or her authorized representative or authorized provider was informed in writing by the MCO that the member could be responsible for the cost of the disputed current benefit if the MCO expedited or standard member appeal final decision upholds the MCO adverse action; and

(2) the member or his or her authorized representative elects not to request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing of the disputed current benefit.

(3) A MCO cannot recover the cost of the continued disputed benefit regardless if the final decision is upheld or reverses the MCO adverse action when the MCO initiated the MCO expedited member appeal process. See Subsection E of 8.308.15.13 NMAC for detailed description of a MCO-initiated expedited member appeal process.

E. A member or his or her authorized representative may request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing if the MCO expedited or standard member appeal decision does not reverse in total the MCO's adverse action as the member or his or her authorized representative has now exhausted the MCO expedited or standard member appeal process. The authorized provider cannot request a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing on his or her own; this right is accorded only to the member or his or her authorized representative, unless the provider has been designated as the member's authorized representative.

F. A member or his or her authorized representative must request a HSD expedited administrative hearing within 30 calendar days of the date of the MCO member appeal final decision letter or request a HSD standard administrative hearing within 90 days of the date of the MCO member appeal final decision.

(1) A member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider may request and the member receive a continuation of the disputed current benefit at any time prior to the MCO notice of action's intended date the disputed benefit will be terminated. The request may be made even after the MCO expedited or standard member appeal final decision letter is issued if issued before the date the disputed benefit will be terminated.

(2) If the member received a continuation of his or her disputed current benefit during the MCO member appeal process, the member or his or her authorized representative does not need to request another continuation of the disputed current benefit when requesting a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing. It is automatically continued by the member's MCO.

(3) If the member or his or her authorized representative chooses to discontinue the disputed current benefit that is being provided during the MCO expedited or standard member appeal process or during the HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing process, the member or his or her authorized representative must notify the member's MCO in writing stating the date the disputed current benefit will end.

G. When the MCO expedited or standard member appeal final decision upholds the MCO's adverse action in total or in part and the member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider had requested and the member had received the disputed current benefit during the MCO member appeal, and the member or his or her authorized representative elects to continue the member's disputed current benefit during the member's HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing process, the MCO must in writing inform the member or his or her authorized representative that if the HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing final decision upholds the MCO's adverse action, the member could be responsible for the cost of the disputed current benefit during MCO expedited or standard member appeal process and the HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing process.

H. If the member or his or her authorized representative requests a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing and the member or his or her authorized representative or authorized provider requested and the member received the disputed current benefit during the MCO member appeal process, the MCO will not take action to recover the costs of the continued disputed current benefit until there is a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing final decision upholding the MCO adverse action.

I. If the member's MCO had automatically filed a MCO-initiated expedited member appeal on behalf of the member to continue the disputed current benefit during the MCO expedited member appeal process, the MCO cannot take action to recover the costs of the continued disputed current benefit if the MCO expedited member appeal final decision upholds the MCO's adverse action. However, if the member or his or her authorized representative wants to continue the disputed current benefit during the HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing, the member could be responsible for the cost of the continued disputed current benefit starting on the first calendar day the member or the authorized representative requested a HSD expedited or standard administrative hearing and requested the continuation of the disputed current benefit.

J. See 8.352.2 NMAC for a detailed description of the HSD expedited and standard administrative hearing processes and for a detailed description of the MCO recovery process.

8.308.20.9 REIMBURSEMENT FOR MANAGED CARE:

A. Payment for services: HSD shall make actuarially sound payments, in accordance with 42 C.F.R. 438.6(c), for the provision of the managed care medicaid benefit package, under capitated risk contracts to the designated managed care organizations (MCOs). Rates whether set by HSD or negotiated between HSD and the MCO are confidential.

(1) At the sole discretion of HSD, rates shall be appropriate for the medicaid populations to be covered and the services to be furnished under the contract. Rates may be adjusted based on factors, including but not limited to, changes in the scope of work; CMS requiring a modification of the 1115(a) waiver; new or amended federal or state statutes, regulations or rules; inflation; significant changes in the demographic characteristics of the member population; or the disproportionate enrollment selection of the MCO by members in certain rate cohorts.

(2) The MCO shall be responsible for the provision of services for members during the month of capitation. A medicaid eligible recipient shall not be liable for debts or costs incurred by an MCO under the MCO's managed care contract for providing health care to them. This includes but is not limited to:

(a) the MCO's debts in the event of its insolvency;

(b) services provided to the member that are not included in the medicaid benefit package and for which HSD does not pay the MCO, e.g., value added services;

(c) instances when the MCO does not pay the health care provider who furnishes the services under contractual, referral, or other arrangement;

(d) payments for covered services furnished under contract, referral, or other arrangement to the extent that those payments are in excess of the amount that the member would owe if the MCO provided the service directly; and

(e) if a MCO member loses eligibility for any reason and is reinstated as eligible by HSD before the end of the month, the MCO shall accept a retroactive capitation payment for that month of eligibility and assume financial responsibility for all medically-necessary covered benefit services supplied to the member.

(3) Retroactive capitation payments may not be issued for a member for the same coverage month in which fee-for-service claims have already been paid by HSD except in special situations determined by HSD.

B. Capitation disbursement requirements: HSD shall pay a capitated amount to the MCO for the provision of the managed care benefit package at specified rates. The monthly rate is based on actuarially sound capitation rate cells. The MCO shall accept the capitation rate paid each month by HSD as payment in full for all services including all administrative costs associated therewith, including gross receipts tax payable to the provider. The MCO is at risk of incurring losses if the cost of providing the managed care medicaid benefit package exceeds its capitation payment. HSD shall not provide retroactive payment adjustments to the MCO to reflect the actual cost of services furnished by the MCO.

C. Capitation recoupments: HSD shall have the discretion to recoup capitations or payments as provided for in its contract with the MCO.

(1) Instances when HSD shall recoup payments for members include, but are not limited to:

(a) member incorrectly enrolled with more than one MCO;

(b) member who dies prior to the enrollment month for which payment was made; or

(c) member who HSD later determines was not eligible for medicaid during the enrollment month, including retroactive months for which payment was made.

(2) HSD acknowledges and agrees that in the event of any recoupment pursuant to this rule, the MCO shall have the right to recoup from a provider or another person to whom the MCO has made payment during this period of time; however, may not recoup payments for any value added services provided. Recouped payments to a provider is subject to the time periods governed by the MCO provider agreement.

(3) Any duplicate payment identified by either the MCO or HSD shall be recouped upon identification.

(4) The MCO has the right to dispute any recoupment action in accordance with contractual provisions.

D. Patient liability: HSD monthly capitation payments will be net of patient liability. The capitation payments are developed on “gross” cost and will be reduced by the amount of average patient member responsibility each month. The MCO shall delegate the collection of patient member liability to the nursing facility or community-based residential alternative facility and shall pay the facility net of the applicable patient member liability amount. The MCO shall submit patient member liability information associated with claim payments in their encounter data submissions.

E. Payment time frames: A clean claim shall be paid by the MCO to contracted and non-contracted providers according to the following timeframe: ninety percent within 30 calendar days of the date of receipt and ninety-nine percent within 90 calendar days of the date of receipt, as required by federal guidelines in the code of federal regulations Section 42 CFR 447.45. The date of receipt is the date the MCO first receives the claim either manually or electronically. The MCO is required to date stamp all claims on the date of receipt. The date of payment is the date of the check or other form of payment. An exception to this requirement may be made if the MCO and its providers by mutual agreement establish an alternative payment schedule. However, any such alternative payment schedule shall first be incorporated into the contract between HSD and the MCO. The MCO shall be financially responsible for paying all claims for all covered, emergency and post-stabilization services that are furnished by non-contracted providers, at no more than the medicaid fee-for-service rate, including medically or clinically necessary testing to determine if a physical or behavioral health emergency exists.

(1) The MCO shall pay a contracted and non-contracted provider interest on the MCO's liability at the rate of one and one-half percent per month on the amount of a clean claim (based upon the current medicaid fee schedule) submitted by the participating provider and not paid within 30 calendar days of the date of receipt of an electronic claim and 45 calendar days of receipt of a paper claim. Interest shall accrue from the 31st calendar day for electronic claims and from the 46th calendar day for manual claims. The MCO shall be required to report the number of claims and the amount of interest paid, on a timeframe determined by HSD/MAD.

(2) No contract between the MCO and a participating provider shall include a clause that has the effect of relieving either party of liability for its actions or inactions.

(3) If the MCO is unable to determine liability for or refuses to pay a claim of a participating provider within the times specified above, the MCO shall make a good-faith effort to notify the participating provider by fax, electronically or via other written communication within 30 calendar days of receipt of the claim, stating specific reasons why it is not liable for the claim or request specific information necessary to determine liability for the claim.

F. Special payment requirements: This section lists special payment requirements by provider type.

(1) Reimbursement to a federally qualified health center (FQHC) and a rural health clinic (RHC): a contracted and non-contracted FQHC or RHC shall be reimbursed at a minimum of the prospective payment system (PPS) as determined by HSD or its designee or an alternative payment methodology in compliance with Section 1905(a)(2)(C) of the 1902 Social Security Act, as established by HSD.

(2) Reimbursement to Indian health service (IHS), tribal health providers, and urban Indian providers authorized to provide services as defined in the Indian Health Care Improvement Act, 25 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.

8.310.2.9 GENERAL PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:

A. The New Mexico medical assistance division (MAD) pays for medically necessary health care services furnished by a MAD enrolled medical provider. See 42 CFR 440.210; Section 27-2-16 NMSA 1978 (Repl. Pamp. 1991).

B. MAD pays for medically necessary behavioral health professional services including assessments, evaluations, and therapy required by the condition of the medical assistance program (MAP) eligible recipient. See 42 CFR Sections 440.40, 440.60(a) and 441.571.

C. MAD covers services which are medically necessary for the diagnosis or treatment of illnesses, injuries or conditions of a MAP eligible recipient, as determined by MAD or its designee. All services must be furnished within the limits of the MAD New Mexico administrative code (NMAC) rules policies and instructions within the scope of practice defined by the provider's licensing board, scope of practice act, or regulatory authority. Any claim submitted for reimbursement is subject to review by MAD or its designee to verify the medical necessity of the service. All claims are subject to pre-payment or post-payment review and recoupment.

D. HSD, through MAD, is responsible for the administration of the medicaid program and other health care programs. This joint federal and state program provides payment for medically necessary health services furnished to MAP eligible recipients.

E. A provider must be eligible for participation as a MAD approved provider at the time services are furnished. MAD does not cover services performed during a time period when the provider or facility did not meet required licensing or certification requirement.

F. If a MAP eligible recipient is enrolled with a MAD managed care organization (MCO), the provider must contact that member's MCO for specific reimbursement information. A MCO contracted with the state of New Mexico is not required to follow the MAD fee-for-service (FFS) fee schedules or reimbursement methodologies unless otherwise instructed by MAD. Reimbursement arrangements are determined contractually between the MCO and the provider.

[8.310.2.9 NMAC - N, 1-1-14]

8.310.2.10 RELATIONSHIP TO MEDICARE:

MAD covers medically necessary health services furnished to a MAP eligible recipient who meets specific income, resource and eligibility standards. Medicare is a federal program which offers health insurance coverage to MAP eligible recipient 65 years of age and older, to those who have received disability benefits for 24 consecutive months, to those who have end stage renal disease, and to other MAP eligible recipients as specified by other provisions of the Social Security Act.

A. New Mexico has entered into an agreement with the social security administration to pay a medicaid MAP eligible recipient's premium for medicare part B, and under some circumstances, medicare part A premiums.

B. After medicare has made payment for services, MAD pays for the medicare co-insurance, deductible and copayment amounts for a MAP eligible recipient subject to the following reimbursement limitations.

(1) Medicaid payment for the co-insurance, deductible, copayment or other patient responsibility is limited such that the payment from medicare, plus the amount allowed by MAD for the co-insurance, copayment and deductible, shall not exceed the MAD allowed amount for the service. When the medicare payment exceeds the amount that medicaid would have allowed for the service, no payment is made for the co-insurance, copayment, deductible or other patient responsibility. The claim is considered paid in full. The provider may not collect any remaining portion of the medicare co-insurance, copayment or deductible from the MAP eligible recipient or his or her authorized representative. For services for which medicare part B applies a 50 percent co-insurance rate, medicare co-insurance, copayment and deductible amounts are paid at an amount that allows the provider to receive more than MAD allowed amount, not to exceed a percentage determined by HSD.

(2) MAD will pay toward the medicare co-insurance and deductible to the extent that the amount paid by medicare and the allowed medicare co-insurance, deductible and copayment together do not exceed the MAD allowable amount. MAD will pay the full medicare co-insurance and deductible when MAD does not have a specific amount allowed for the service. When MAD does not use an equivalent payment methodology for a service, the full coinsurance, deductible and copayment amounts will be paid. This occurs when providers are paid at encounter rates, percent of billed charges followed by cost settlements, or when providers are entitled to a full reimbursement rate such as for federally qualified health centers and hospital outpatient prospective payment system reimbursement.

[8.310.2.10 NMAC - Rp, 8.300.1.10 NMAC, 1-1-14]

8.310.2.11 SERVICE LIMITATIONS AND RESTRICTIONS:

MAD covers the following services with the frequency limits indicated. For purpose of this rule, a provider is considered part of the same provider group if he or she practices in the same office or clinic or has direct access to the MAP eligible recipient's medical or behavioral health records. Exceeding these limits requires prior authorization.

A. Office visits in a practitioner's office: Visits are limited to one-per-day from the same provider or provider group, unless the claim documents a change in the MAP eligible recipient's condition that could not have been anticipated at the first visit.

B. Physical medicine modalities in a professional practitioner's office: These modalities are limited to three-per-month. The limit is met when the same modality is performed three times during a calendar month, when three different modalities are performed during a month, or when three different modalities are performed during one visit.

The limit is met when the same procedure is performed three times during a calendar month, when three different procedures are performed during a month, or when three procedures are performed during one visit.

The limit is met when a manipulation of three different areas or of the same area at three different visits is performed during a month.

E. Medically necessary services: All services are limited to those that are medically necessary, including the length of time and the frequency of service.

A. Medical practitioner services:

(1) Second surgical opinions: MAD covers second opinions when surgery is considered.

(2) Services performed in an outpatient setting: MAD covers procedures performed in the office, clinic or as outpatient institutional services as alternatives to hospitalization. These procedures are those for which an overnight stay in a hospital is seldom necessary.

(a) A MAP eligible recipient may be hospitalized if they have existing medical conditions that predispose them to complications even with minor procedures.

(b) Claims may be subject to pre-payment or post-payment review.

(c) Medical justification for performance of these procedures in a hospital must be documented in the MAP eligible recipient's medical record.

(3) Noncovered therapeutic radiology and diagnostic imaging services: MAD does not pay for kits, films or supplies as separate charges. All necessary materials and minor services are included in the service or procedure charge. (d) MAD covers a MAP eligible pregnant recipient's labor and delivery services at a New Mexico department of health (DOH) licensed birth center through the "Birthing Options Program" (BOP). MAD reimburses the birth center facility and the rendered services of a midwife separately. BOP services are provided by an eligible midwife that enrolls as a BOP provider with the human services department/medical assistance division (HSD/MAD). The facility must comply with all DOH licensing requirements, including limiting licensure. The facility must maintain all clinical documentation, including schedules, for the period of time as required under 8.302.1 NMAC. The program does not cover the full scope of midwifery services nor replace pediatric care that should occur at a primary care clinic.

(e) Non-covered midwife services: Midwife services are subject to the limitation and coverage restrictions which exist for other MAD services. MAD does not cover the following specific services furnished by a midwife:

(i) oral medications or medications, such as ointments, creams, suppositories, ophthalmic and otic preparations which can be appropriately self-administered by the MAP eligible recipient;

(ii) services furnished by an apprentice; unless billed by the supervising midwife;

Transportation to a pharmacy is not a MAD allowed benefit with the exception for justice-involved MAP eligible recipients who are released from incarceration at a correctional facility within the first seven days of release.

C. Laboratory and diagnostic imaging services: MAD covers medically necessary laboratory and diagnostic imaging services ordered by primary care provider (PCP), physician assistant (PA), certified nurse practitioner (CNP), or clinical nurse specialists (CNS) and performed in the office by a provider or under his or her supervision by a clinical laboratory or a radiology laboratory, or by a hospital-based clinical laboratory or radiology laboratory that are a enrolled MAD provider. See 42 CFR Section 440.30.

(1) MAD covers interpretation of diagnostic imaging with payment as follows: when diagnostic radiology procedures, diagnostic imaging, diagnostic ultrasound, or non-invasive peripheral vascular studies are performed in a hospital inpatient or outpatient setting, payment is made only for the professional component of the service. This limitation does not apply if the hospital does not bill for any component of the radiology procedures and does not include the cost associated with furnishing these services in its cost reports.

(2) A provider may bill for the professional components of imaging services performed at a hospital or independent radiology laboratory if the provider does not request an interpretation by the hospital radiologist.

(3) Only one professional component is paid per radiological procedure.

(4) Radiology professional components are not paid when the same provider or provider group bills for professional components or interpretations and for the performance of the complete procedure.

(5) Professional components associated with clinical laboratory services are payable only when the work is actually performed by a pathologist who is not billing for global procedures and the service is for anatomic and surgical pathology only, including cytopathology, histopathology, and bone marrow biopsies, or as otherwise allowed by the medicare program.

(6) Specimen collection fees are payable when obtained by venipuncture, arterial stick, or urethral catheterization, unless a MAP eligible recipient is an inpatient of a nursing facility or hospital.

(7) Noncovered laboratory services: MAD does not cover laboratory specimen handling, mailing, or collection fees. Specimen collection is covered only if the specimen is drawn by venipuncture, arterial stick, or collected by urethral catheterization from a MAP eligible recipient who is not a resident of a NF or hospital. MAD does not cover the following specific laboratory services:

(i) The ISD CMT fund custodian or a MAD FFS coordinated service contractor or the appropriate utilization review (UR) contractor verifies that the recipient is eligible for a MAD service and has a medical or behavioral health appointment prior to advancing money from the CMT fund and that the MAP eligible recipient is not enrolled in a HSD contracted MCO;

(ii) written referral for out of community service must be received by the CMT fund custodian or a MAD FFS coordinated service contractor or the appropriate UR contractor no later than 30-calendar days from the date of the medical or behavioral health appointment for which the advance funds were requested. If a MAP eligible recipient fails to provide supporting documentation, recoupment proceedings are initiated; see Section OIG-900, Restitutions.

(d) MAP Eligible recipients enrolled in a HSD contracted MCO: A member enrolled in HSD contracted MCO on the date of service is not eligible to use the client medical transportation fund for services that are the responsibility of the MAP eligible recipient's MCO.

(13) Noncovered transportation services: Transportation services are subject to the same limitations and coverage restrictions which exist for other services. A payment for transportation to a non-covered MAD service is subject to retroactive recoupment. MAD does not cover the following services or related costs of travel:

(a) an attendant where there is not the required certification from the MAP eligible recipient's medical or behavioral health provider;

(b) minor aged children of the MAP eligible recipient that are simply accompanying them to medical or behavioral health services;

(c) transportation to a non-covered MAD service;

(d) transportation to a pharmacy provider with the exception for justice-involved MAP eligible recipients who are released from incarceration at a correctional facility within the first seven days of release; see 8.324.7 NMAC.

M. Telehealth services:

(1) Telemedicine visits: An interactive HIPAA compliant telecommunication system must include both interactive audio and video and be delivered on a real-time basis at the originating and distant sites. If real-time audio/video technology is used in furnishing a service when the MAP eligible recipient and the practitioner are in the same institutional or office setting, then the practitioner should bill for the service furnished as if it was furnished in person as a face to face encounter. Coverage for services rendered through telemedicine shall be determined in a manner consistent with medicaid coverage for health care services provided through in person consultation. For telemedicine services, when the originating-site is in New Mexico and the distant-site is outside New Mexico, the provider at the distant-site must be licensed for telemedicine to the extent required by New Mexico state law and regulations or meet federal requirements for providing services to IHS facilities or tribal contract facilities. Provision of telemedicine services does not require that a certified medicaid healthcare provider be physically present with the MAP eligible recipient at the originating site unless the telemedicine consultant at the distant site deems it necessary.

(a) Telemedicine originating-site: The location of a MAP eligible recipient at the time the service is being furnished via an interactive telemedicine communications system. The origination-site can be any of the following medically warranted sites where services are furnished to a MAP eligible recipient.

(i) The office of a physician or practitioner.

(ii) A critical access hospital (as described in section 1861 (mm)(1) of the Act).

(iii) A rural health clinic (as described in 1861 (mm)(2) of the Act).

(iv) A federally qualified health center (as defined in section 1861 (aa)(4) of the Act).

(v) A hospital (as defined in section 1861 (e) of the Act).

(vi) A hospital-based or critical access hospital-based renal dialysis center (including satellites).

(vii) A skilled nursing facility (as defined in section 1819(a) of the Act).

(viii) A community mental health center (as defined in section 1861(ff)(3)(B) of the Act).

(ix) A renal dialysis facility (only for the purposes of the home dialysis monthly ESRD-related clinical assessment in section 1881(b)(3)(B) of the Act).

(x) The home of an individual (only for purposes of the home dialysis ESRD-related clinical assessment in section 1881(b)(3)(B) of the Act).

(xi) A mobile stroke unit (only for the purposes of diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of symptoms of an acute stroke provided in accordance with section 1834(m)(6) of the Act).

(xii) The home of an individual (only for the purposes of treatment of a substance use disorder or a co-occurring mental health disorder), furnished on or after July 1, 2019, to an individual with a substance use disorder diagnosis.

(xiii) The home of an individual when an interactive audio and video telecommunication system that permits real-time visit is used between the eligible provider and the MAP eligible recipient.

(xiv) A School Based Health Center (SBHC) as defined by section 2110(c)(9) of the Act.

(b) Telemedicine distant-site: The location where the telemedicine provider is physically located at the time of the telemedicine service. All services are covered to the same extent the service and the provider are covered when not provided through telemedicine. For these services, use of the telemedicine communications system fulfills the requirement for a face-to-face encounter.

(c) Telemedicine reimbursement: MAD covers both distant (where the eligible provider is located) as well as the originating sites (where the MAP eligible recipient is located, if another eligible provider accompanies the patient). If audio/video technology is used in furnishing a service when the MAP eligible recipient and the practitioner are in the same institutional or office setting, then the practitioner should bill for the service furnished as if it was furnished in person and no additional reimbursement is made.

(d) Telemedicine providers: Reimbursement for professional services at the originating-site and the distant-site are made at the same rate as when the services provided are furnished without the use of a telecommunication system. In addition, reimbursement is made to the originating-site for a real-time interactive audio/video technology telemedicine system fee (where the MAP eligible recipient is located, if another eligible provider accompanies the patient) at the lesser of the provider's billed charge, or the maximum allowed by MAD for the specific service of procedure. If the originating site is the patient's home, the originating site fee should not be billed if the eligible provider does not accompany the MAP eligible recipient. The MAP eligible recipient is not reimbursed for their computer/internet.

(e) A telemedicine originating-site communication system fee is covered if the MAP eligible recipient was present at and participated in the telemedicine visit at the originating-site and the system that is used meets the definition of a telemedicine system.

(2) Telephone visits: MAD will reimburse eligible providers for limited professional services delivered by telephone without video. No additional reimbursement is made to the originating-site for an interactive telemedicine system fee.

(3) MAD will reimburse for services delivered through store-and-forward. To be eligible for payment under store-and-forward, the service must be provided through the transference of digital images, sounds, or previously recorded video from one location to another; to allow a consulting provider to obtain information, analyze it, and report back to the referring physician providing the telemedicine consultation. Store-and-forward telemedicine includes encounters that do not occur in real time (asynchronous) and are consultants that do not require face-to-face live encounter between patient and telemedicine provider.

(4) Noncovered telemedicine services: A service provided through telemedicine is subject to the same program restrictions, limitations and coverage which exist for the service when not provided through telemedicine. Telemedicine services are not covered when audio/video technology is used in furnishing a service when the MAP eligible recipient and the practitioner are in the same institutional or office setting.

N. Pregnancy termination services: MAD does not cover the performance of 'elective' pregnancy termination procedures. MAD will only pay for services to terminate a pregnancy when certain conditions are met.

(1) Prior to performing pregnancy termination services providers must complete and file in the MAP eligible recipient medical record, a consent for pregnancy termination that includes written certification of a provider that the procedure meets one of the following conditions:

(a) the procedure is necessary to save the life of the MAP eligible recipient as certified in writing by a provider;

(b) the pregnancy is a result of rape or incest, as certified by the treating provider, the appropriate reporting agency, or if not reported, the MAP eligible recipient is not physically or emotionally able to report the incident; or

(c) the procedure is necessary to terminate an ectopic pregnancy; or

(d) the procedure is necessary because the pregnancy aggravates a pre-existing condition, makes treatment of a condition impossible, interferes with or hampers a diagnosis, or has a profound negative impact upon the physical, emotional or mental health of the MAP eligible recipient.

(2) Psychological services: MAD covers behavioral health services for a pregnant MAP eligible recipient.

(3) Oral medications: MAD covers oral medications approved by the FDA have been determined a benefit by MAD for pregnancy termination. MAD will cover oral medications when administered by a provider acting within the scope of his or her practice board and licensure.

(4) Informed consent: Under New Mexico law, the provider may not require any MAP eligible recipient to accept any medical service, diagnosis, or treatment or to undergo any other health service provided under the plan if the MAP eligible recipient objects on religious grounds or in the case of a non-emancipated MAP eligible recipient, the legal parent or guardian of the non-emancipated MAP eligible recipient objects.

(a) Consent: Voluntary, informed consent by a MAP eligible recipient 18 years of age and older, or an emancipated minor MAP eligible recipient must be given to the provider prior to the procedure to terminate pregnancy, except in the following circumstances:

(i) in instances where a medical emergency exists; a medical emergency exists in situations where the attending PCP certifies that, based on the facts of the case presented, in his or her best clinical judgment, the life or the health of the MAP eligible recipient is endangered by the pregnancy so as to require an immediate pregnancy termination procedure;

(ii) in instances where the MAP eligible recipient is unconscious, incapacitated, or otherwise incapable of giving consent; in such circumstances, the consent shall be obtained as prescribed by New Mexico law;

(iii) in instances where pregnancy results from rape or incest or the continuation of the pregnancy endangers the life of the MAP eligible recipient;

(iv) consent is valid for 30-calendar days from the date of signature, unless withdrawn by the MAP eligible recipient prior to the procedure.

(b) Required acknowledgements: In signing the consent, the MAP eligible recipient must acknowledge that they have received, at least, the following information:

(i) alternatives to pregnancy termination;

(ii) medical procedure(s) to be used;

(iii) possibility of the physical, mental, or both, side effects from the performance of the procedure;

(iv) right to receive pregnancy termination behavioral health services from an independent MAD provider; and

(v) right to withdraw consent up until the time the procedure is going to be performed.

(c) Record retention: A dated and signed copy of the consent, with counseling referral information, if requested, must be given to the MAP eligible recipient. The provider must keep the original signed consent with the MAP eligible recipient's medical records.

(d) Consent for a MAP eligible recipient under 18 years of age who is not an emancipated minor, in instances not involving life endangerment, rape or incest: Informed written consent for an non-emancipated minor to terminate a pregnancy must be obtained, dated and signed by a parent, legal guardian, or another adult acting 'in loco parentis' to the minor. An exception is when the minor objects to parental involvement for personal reasons or the parent, guardian or adult acting 'in loco parentis' is not available. The treating PCP shall note the minor's objections or the unavailability of the parent or guardian in the minor's chart, and:

(i) certify in his or her best clinical judgment, the minor is mature enough and well enough informed to make the decision about the procedure; in the circumstance where sufficient maturity and information is not present or apparent, certify that the procedure is in the minor's best interests based on the information provided to the treating PCP by the minor; or

(ii) refer the minor to an independent MAD behavioral health provider in circumstances where the treating PCP believes behavioral health services are necessary before a clinical judgment can be rendered on the criteria established in Paragraph (1) above; the referral shall be made on the same day of the visit between the minor and the treating PCP where consent is discussed; the independent MAD behavioral health provider shall meet with the minor and confirm in writing to the treating PCP whether or not the minor is mature enough and sufficiently informed to make the decision about the procedure; in the circumstance where sufficient maturity and information is not present or apparent, that the procedure is in the minor's best interests based on the information provided to the independent MAD behavioral health provider by the minor; this provider's written report is due to the treating PCP within 72 hours of initial referral;

(iii) a minor shall not be required to obtain behavioral health services referenced in Paragraph (2) above; however, if the treating PCP is unable or unwilling to independently certify the requirements established in Paragraph (1) above, the minor must be informed by the treating PCP that written consent must be obtained by the parent, legal guardian or parent 'in loco parentis' prior to performing the procedure; or, that the minor must obtain a court order allowing the procedure without parental consent.

O. Behavioral health professional services: Behavioral health services are addressed specifically in 8.321.2 NMAC.

P. Experimental or investigational services: MAD covers medically necessary services which are not considered unproven, investigational or experimental for the condition for which they are intended or used as determined by MAD. MAD does not cover experimental or investigational medical, surgical or health care procedures or treatments, including the use of drugs, biological products, other products or devices, except the following:

(1) Phase I, II, III or IV: MAD may approve coverage for routine patient care costs incurred as a result of the MAP eligible recipient's participation in a phase I, II, III, or IV cancer trial that meets the following criteria. The cancer clinical trial is being conducted with the approval of at least one of the following:

(a) one of the federal national institutes of health;

(b) a federal national institutes of health cooperative group or center;

(c) the federal department of defense;

(d) the FDA in the form of an investigational new drug application;

(e) the federal department of veteran affairs; or

(f) a qualified research entity that meets the criteria established by the federal national institutes of health for grant eligibility.

(2) Review and approval: The clinical trial has been reviewed and approved by an institutional review board that has a multiple project assurance contract approved by the office of protection from research risks of the federal national institutes of health.

(3) Experimental or investigational interventions: Any medical, surgical, or other healthcare procedure or treatment, including the use of a drug, a biological product, another product or device, is considered experimental or investigational if it meets any of the following conditions:

(a) current, authoritative medical and scientific evidence regarding the medical, surgical, or other health care procedure or treatment, including the use of a drug, a biological product, another product or device for a specific condition shows that further studies or clinical trials are necessary to determine benefits, safety, efficacy and risks, especially as compared with standard or established methods or alternatives for diagnosis or treatment or both outside an investigational setting;

(b) the drug, biological product, other product, device, procedure or treatment (the "technology") lacks final approval from the FDA or any other governmental body having authority to regulate the technology;

(c) the medical, surgical, other health care procedure or treatment, including the use of a drug, a biological product, another product or device is the subject of ongoing phase I, II, or III clinical trials or under study to determine safety, efficacy, maximum tolerated dose or toxicity, especially as compared with standard or established methods or alternatives for diagnosis or treatment or both outside an investigational setting.

(4) Review of conditions: On request of MAD or its designee, a provider of a particular service can be required to present current, authoritative medical and scientific evidence that the proposed technology is not considered experimental or investigational.

(5) Reimbursement: MAD does not reimburse for medical, surgical, other health care procedures or treatments, including the use of drugs, biological products, other products or devices that are considered experimental or investigational, except as specified as follows. MAD will reimburse a provider for routine patient care services, which are those medically necessary services that would be covered if the MAP eligible recipient were receiving standard cancer treatment, rendered during the MAP eligible recipient's participation in phase I, II, III, or IV cancer clinical trials.

(6) Experimental or investigational services: MAD does not cover procedures, technologies or therapies that are considered experimental or investigational.

Q. Smoking/Tobacco cessation: MAD covers tobacco cessation services for all MAP eligible recipients.

(1) Eligible medical, dental, and behavioral health practitioner: Cessation counseling services may be provided by one of the following:

(a) by or under the supervision of a physician; or

(b) by any other MAD enrolled health care professional authorized to provide other MAD services who is also legally authorized to furnish such services under state law;

(c) generally, eligible practitioners would be medical practitioners, including independently enrolled CNPs, behavioral health and dental practitioners; physician assistants and CNPs not enrolled as independent MAD providers, and registered nurses and dental hygienists may bill for counseling services through the enrolled entity under which their other services are billed, when under the supervision of a dentist or physician;

(d) counseling service must be prescribed by a MAD enrolled licensed practitioner.

(2) Eligible pharmacy providers: For rendering tobacco cessation services, eligible pharmacists are those who have attended at least one continuing education course on tobacco cessation in accordance with the federal public health guidelines found in the United States department of health and human services; public health services' quick reference guide for clinicians, and treating tobacco use and dependence.

(3) Tobacco cessation drug items: MAD covers all prescribed tobacco cessation drug items for a MAP eligible recipient as listed in this section when ordered by a MAD enrolled prescriber and dispensed by a MAD enrolled pharmacy. MAD does not require prior authorization for reimbursement for tobacco cessation products, but the items must be prescribed by a MAD enrolled practitioner. Tobacco cessation products include, but are not limited to the following:

(a) sustained release buproprion products;

(b) varenicline tartrate tablets; and

(c) prescription and over-the-counter (OTC) nicotine replacement drug products, such as lozenges, patches, gums, sprays and inhalers.

(4) Covered services: MAD makes reimbursement for assessing all MAP eligible recipient's tobacco dependence including a written tobacco cessation treatment plan of care as part of an evaluation and management (E&M) service, and may bill using the E&M codes. MAD covers face-to-face counseling when rendered by an appropriate provider. The effectiveness of counseling is comparable to pharmacotherapy alone. Counseling plus medication provides additive benefits. Treatment may include prescribing any combination of tobacco cessation products and counseling. Providers can prescribe one or more modalities of treatment. Cessation counseling session refers face-to-face MAP eligible recipient contact of either

(a) intermediate session (greater than three minutes up to 10 minutes); or

(b) intensive session (greater than 10 minutes).

(5) Documentation for counseling services: Ordering and rendering practitioners must maintain sufficient documentation to substantiate the medical necessity of the service and the services rendered, which may consist of documentation of tobacco use. The rendering practitioner must maintain documentation that face-to-face counseling was prescribed by a practitioner, even if the case is a referral to self, consistent with other NMAC rules and other materials.

(6) Limitations on counseling sessions: The services do not have any limits on the length of treatment or quit attempts per year. The program also allows participants to try multiple treatments and does not impose any requirement to enroll into counseling. During the 12-month period, the practitioner and the MAP eligible recipient have flexibility to choose between intermediate or intensive counseling modalities of treatment for each session.

R. Screening, brief intervention and referral to treatment (SBIRT) service: SBIRT is a community-based practice designed to identify, reduce and prevent problematic substance use or misuse and co-occurring mental health disorders as an early intervention. Through early identification in a medical setting, SBIRT services expand and enhance the continuum of care and reduce costly health care utilization. The primary objective is the integration of behavioral health with physical health care. SBIRT is delivered through a process consisting of universal screening, scoring the screening tool and a warm hand-off to a SBIRT trained professional who conducts a face-to-face brief intervention for positive screening results. If the need is identified for behavioral health treatment, the certified SBIRT staff, with the eligible recipient's approval, assists in securing behavioral health services. Only a physical health office, clinic, or facility who has been certified by a HSD approved SBIRT trainer and uses the approved healthy lifestyle questionnaire (HLQ) can complete the screen. The physical office, clinic or facility must be the billing provider, not the individual practitioner. All practitioners must be SBIRT certified and are employees or contractors of a SBIRT physical health office, clinic or facility. See the SBIRT policy and billing manual for detailed description of the service and billing requirements.

S. Other services: Other covered and noncovered services including hospitalization and other residential facilities, devices for hearing and vision correction, behavioral health services, home and community based services, EPSDT services, case management and other adjunct and specialty services are described in other NMAC rules.

8.310.2.13 GENERAL NONCOVERED SERVICES:

A. General noncovered services: MAD does not cover certain procedures, services, or miscellaneous items. See specific provider or service rules or sections of this rule for additional information on service coverage and limitations. A provider cannot turn an account over to collections or to any other factor intending to collect from the MAP eligible recipient or his or her authorized representative; see 8.302.2 NMAC. A provider cannot bill a MAP eligible recipient or his or her authorized representative for the copying of the MAP eligible recipient's records, and must provide copies of the MAP eligible recipient's records to other providers upon request of the MAP eligible recipient.

B. Appointment, interest and carrying charges: MAD does not cover penalties on payments for broken or missed appointments, costs of waiting time, or interest or carrying charges on accounts. A provider may not bill a MAP eligible recipient or his or her authorized representative for these charges or the penalties associated with missed or broken appointments or failure to produce eligibility cards, with the exception of MAP recipient eligibility categories of CHIP or WDI who may be charged up to $5 for a missed appointment.

C. Contract services: Services furnished by a contractor, an organization, or an individual who is not the billing provider must meet specific criteria for coverage as stated in MAD or its designee's NMAC rules, billing instructions, policy manuals; see 8.302.2 NMAC.

D. Cosmetic services and surgeries: MAD does not cover cosmetic items or services that are prescribed or used for aesthetic purposes. This includes items for aging skin, for hair loss, and personal care items such as non-prescription lotions, shampoos, soaps or sunscreens. MAD does not cover cosmetic surgeries performed for aesthetic purposes. "Cosmetic surgery" is defined as a procedure performed to improve the appearance of physical features that may or may not improve the functional ability of the area of concern. MAD covers only a surgery that meets specific criteria and is approved as medically necessary reconstructive surgery.

E. Postmortem examinations: MAD does not cover postmortem examinations.

F. Education or vocational services: MAD does not cover literature, booklets, and other educational materials. Dietary counseling is covered only for a MAP eligible recipient under 21 years of age, as part of the EPSDT program and for a pregnant MAP eligible recipient. MAD does not cover formal educational or vocational training services, unless those services are included as active treatment services for a MAP eligible recipient in intermediate care facility for individuals with intellectual disabilities (ICF-IID) or for a MAP eligible recipient under 21 years of age receiving inpatient psychiatric services. "Formal educational services" relate to training in traditional academic subjects. Vocational training services relate to organized programs directly related to the preparation of a MAP eligible recipient for paid or unpaid employment.

G. Hair or nail analysis: MAD does not cover hair or nail analysis.

H. Preparations dispensed for home use: MAD does not cover oral, topical, otic, or ophthalmic preparations dispensed to a MAP eligible recipient by a PCP, a CNP, a P.A., or an optometrist for home use or self administration unless authorized by MAD to assure the availability of medications.

I. Routine physical examinations: MAD only covers a routine physical examination for:

(1) a MAP eligible recipient residing in a NF or an ICF-IID facility.

(2) a MAP eligible recipient under 21 years of age through the tot to teen health check screen, New Mexico's EPSDT screening program. Included in the coverage is the physical examinations, screenings and treatment.

J. Screening services: MAD does not cover screening services that are not used to make a diagnosis, such as chromosome screening, hypertension screening, diabetic screening, general health panels, executive profiles, paternity testing, or premarital screens. MAD covers screening services for a MAP eligible recipient under 21 years of age through the tot to teen healthcheck program. MAD covers screening services ordered by a provider for cancer detection such as pap smears and mammograms for a MAP eligible recipient when medically appropriate.

K. Services not covered by medicare: MAD does not cover services, procedures, or devices that are not covered by medicare due to their determination that the service is not medically necessary or that the service is experimental or not effective.

L. Bariatric surgery services: Bariatric surgery services are covered only when medically indicated and alternatives are not successful.

M. Services and tests which are not routinely warranted due to the MAP eligible recipient's age: MAD does not reimburse for routine screening, tests, or services which are not medically necessary due to the age of the MAP eligible recipient:

(1) Papanicolaou test (pap smear) for women under 21 years of age unless prior history or risk factors make the test medically warranted; and

(2) prostate specific antigen (PSA) test for men under age 40 unless prior history or risk factors make the test medically warranted.

N. Services for surrogate mothers: MAD does not pay for services for pregnancy, complications encountered during pregnancy related conditions, prenatal care and postpartum care, or delivery for services to a surrogate mother for which an agreement or contract between the surrogate mother and another party exists.

[8.310.2.13 NMAC - Rp, 8.310.2.14 NMAC, 1/1/2014; A, 8/10/2021; A, 4/5/2022]

8.310.2.14 PRIOR AUTHORIZATION AND UTILIZATION REVIEW:

All MAD services are subject to UR for medical necessity and program compliance. Reviews can be performed before services are furnished, after services are furnished and before payment is made, or after payment is made. The provider must contact HSD or its authorized agents to request UR instructions. It is the provider's responsibility to access these instructions or ask for hard copies to be provided, to understand the information provided, to comply with the requirements, and to obtain answers to questions not covered by these materials. When services are billed to and paid by a coordinated services contractor authorized by HSD, the provider must follow that contractor's instructions for authorization of services.

A. Prior authorization: Procedures or services may require a prior authorization from MAD or its designee. Services for which a prior authorization was obtained remain subject to UR at any point in the payment process, including after payment has been made. It is the provider's responsibility to contact MAD or its designee and review documents and instructions available from MAD or its designee to determine when a prior authorization is necessary.

(1) Dental services: MAD covers certain services, including some diagnostic, preventive, restorative, endodontic, periodontic, removable prosthodontics, maxillofacial prosthetic, oral surgery, and orthodontic services only when a prior authorization is received from MAD or its designee. MAD covers medically necessary orthodontic services to treat handicapping malocclusions for a MAP eligible recipient under 21 years of age by prior authorization.

(2) Transplantation services: A written prior authorization must be obtained for any transplant, with the exception of a cornea and a kidney. The prior authorization process must be started by the MAP eligible recipient's attending PCP contacting the MAD UR contractor. Services for which prior approval was obtained remain subject to UR at any point in the payment process.

(3) Pregnancy termination services: Services to terminate a pregnancy do not require a prior authorization from MAD or its designee.

(4) Eligibility determination: The prior authorization of a service does not guarantee that an individual is eligible for MAD or other health care programs. A provider must verify that an individual is eligible for a specific program at the time services are furnished and must determine if a MAP eligible recipient has other health insurance.

(5) Reconsideration: A provider who disagrees with a prior authorization - request denial or another review decision can request reconsideration; see 8.350.2 NMAC.

B. Prior authorization and UR: MAD has developed an UR process to regulate provider compliance with MAD quality control and cost containment objectives. See 42 CFR Section 456. Specific details pertinent to a service or a provider are contained in NMAC rules or UR instructions for that specific service or provider type. MAD makes available on the HSD/MAD website, on other program-specific websites, or in hard copy format, information necessary to participate in health care programs administered by HSD or its authorized agents, including program rules, billing instruction, UR instructions, and other pertinent materials. When enrolled, a provider receives instruction on how to access these documents. It is the provider's responsibility to access these instructions, to understand the information provided and to comply with the requirements. The provider must contact HSD or its authorized agents to obtain answers to questions related to the material or not covered by the material. To be eligible for reimbursement, a provider must adhere to the provisions of his or her MAD provider participation agreement (PPA) and all applicable statutes, regulations, rules, and executive orders. MAD or its selected claims processing contractor issues payments to a provider using electronic funds transfer (EFT) only. A provider must supply necessary information in order for payment to be made.

C. Medical necessity requirements: MAD reimburses a provider for furnishing MAD covered service to a MAP eligible recipient only when the service is medically necessary. Medical necessity is required for the specific service, level of care (LOC), and service setting, if relevant to the service. A provider must verify that MAD covers a specific service and that the service is medically necessary prior to furnishing the service. Medical necessity determinations are made by professional peers based on established criteria, appropriate to the service that are reviewed and approved by MAD. MAD denies payment for services that are not medically necessary and for services that are not covered by MAD. The process for determining medical necessity is called UR. The UR of a MAD service may be performed directly by MAD or its designee, or another state agency designated by MAD.

D. Timing of UR:

(1) A UR may be performed at any time during the service, payment, or post payment processes. In signing the MAD PPA, a provider agrees to cooperate fully with MAD or its designee in their performance of any review and agree to comply with all review requirements. The following are examples of the reviews that may be performed:

(a) prior authorization review (review occurs before the service is furnished);

(b) concurrent review (review occurs while service is being furnished);

(c) pre-payment review (claims review occurring after service is furnished but before payment);

(d) retrospective review (review occurs after payment is made); and

(e) one or more reviews may be used by MAD to assess the medical necessity and program compliance of any service.

(2) Prior authorization reviews: A claim for a service that requires a prior authorization are paid only if the prior authorization was obtained and approved by MAD or MAD's UR contractor, prior to services being furnished. A prior authorization specifies the approved number of service units that a provider is authorized to furnish to a MAP eligible recipient and the date the service must be provided.

(a) A prior authorization does not guarantee that an individual is eligible for a specific MAD service. A provider must verify that individuals are eligible for a specific MAD service at the time the service is furnished.

(b) Information on the specific service or procedure that requires a prior authorization for a specific provider type are contained in the applicable MAD rules and the UR instructions for that provider type or service.

(c) A service that has been approved by MAD or its designee does not prevent a later denial of payment if the service has been determined to be not medically necessary or if the individual was not eligible for the service.

(d) A prior authorization review is used to authorize service for a MAP eligible recipient before a service is furnished. A request for a retroactive prior authorization may be approved only under the following circumstances:

(i) approval is made as part of the process of determining MAD eligibility for certain categories, such as a MAD institutional care or home and community-based services waiver (HCBSW) programs. In these situations, the determination of medical necessity for an institutional LOC of the service is a factor in establishing MAD eligibility and may be made after the MAP eligible recipient receives NF or HCBSW services;

(ii) the service is furnished before the determination of the effective date of the recipient's MAP eligibility for a MAD service or the servicing provider's MAD PPA; a retrospective request for a prior authorization is based on retrospective recipient or provider eligibility must be received in writing by MAD or its designee within 30 calendar days of the date of the eligibility determination;

(iii) in cases of medical emergency; a medical emergency is defined as a medical condition, manifesting itself by acute symptoms of sufficient severity that the absence of immediate medical attention could be reasonably expected to result in one of the following: an individual's death; placement of an individual's health in serious jeopardy; serious impairment of bodily functions; or serious dysfunction of any bodily organ or part;

(iv) a service that is furnished to a medicare recipient who is also eligible for a MAD service and medicare has denied payment for a reason that is not based on medical necessity; requests for a retroactive prior authorization must be accompanied by a copy of the document from medicare that denied payment and states the reason for denial; a service denied payment by medicare because of lack of medical necessity is not covered by MAD.

(3) Concurrent review: A concurrent review is conducted while the service is being furnished. A continued stay or continued service review is concurrent review for medical necessity.

(4) Prepayment review: A prepayment review is conducted after a service has been furnished and a claim for payment has been filed by the provider. If a service is not a covered MAD benefit or not medically necessary, payment for that service will be denied.

(5) Retrospective review: A retrospective review is conducted after the claim has been processed and payment is made. Information from the paid claim is compared with the provider records detailing the service and medical necessity.

(a) If MAD determines the service specified on the claim was not performed or, was not a covered benefit or was not medically necessary, the MAD payment is recouped.

(b) Retrospective review involves the review of a specific portion or the entire record of service. Depending on the service, validation of either or both the diagnosis or procedure, validation of diagnostic related groups (DRGs), and quality of care are examples of indicators or issues which may be reviewed.

(c) A retrospective review may be conducted by MAD or its designee on a random or selective basis. In addition to reviews performed by a MAD staff or its designee, MAD analyzes statistical data to determine utilization patterns. Specific areas of overutilization may be identified that result in recoupment or repayment from either or both a provider or the assignment of a MAP eligible recipient to a MAD medical management designated provider.

(d) A selective or scheduled review is conducted to focus on the overutilization and underutilization of a specific service or provider. The service or procedure selected for this focused retrospective review is identified by MAD as potential or actual problems.

E. Denial of payment: If a service or procedure is not medically necessary or not a covered MAD service, MAD may deny a provider's claim for payment. If MAD determines that a service is not medically necessary before the claim payment, the claim is denied. If this determination is made after payment, the payment amount is subject to recoupment or repayment.

F. Review of decisions: A provider who disagrees with a prior authorization request denial or another review decision may request reconsideration from MAD or the MAD designee that performed the initial review and issued the initial decision; see 8.350.2 NMAC. A provider who is not satisfied with the reconsideration determination may request a HSD provider administrative hearing; see 8.352.3 NMAC.

8.310.3.9 ELIGIBLE PROVIDERS:

A. Health care to eligible medical assistance program (MAP) recipients is furnished by a variety of providers and provider groups. The reimbursement and billing for these services is administered by the HSD medical assistance division (MAD). Upon approval of a New Mexico MAD provider participation agreement (PPA) by MAD or its designee, licensed practitioners, facilities and other providers of services that meet applicable requirements are eligible to be reimbursed for furnishing covered services to a MAP eligible recipient. A provider must be enrolled before submitting a claim for payment to the MAD claims processing contractors. MAD makes available on the HSD/MAD website, on other program-specific websites, or in hard copy format, information necessary to participate in health care programs administered by HSD or its authorized agents, including MAD New Mexico administrative code (NMAC) program rules, billing instructions, utilization review instructions, and other pertinent materials. When enrolled, a provider receives instruction on how to access these documents. It is the provider's responsibility to access these instructions, to understand the information provided and to comply with the requirements. The provider must contact HSD or its authorized agents to obtain answers to questions related to the material. To be eligible for reimbursement, a provider must adhere to the provisions of their MAD PPA and all applicable statutes, regulations, and executive orders. MAD or its selected claims processing contractor issues payments to a provider using electronic funds transfer (EFT) only. Upon approval of the New Mexico medical assistance PPA by MAD, the following practitioners and facilities may be enrolled as MAD providers:

(1) medical practitioners:

(a) a physician licensed to practice medicine or osteopathy;

(b) a licensed certified nurse practitioner under the supervision or in collaboration with a physician or as an independent practitioner;

(c) a licensed physician assistant certified by the national commission on certification of physician assistants under the supervision of a physician;

(d) a licensed pharmacist clinician under the supervision of a physician;

(n) a licensed chiropractor; or

(o) a licensed naturopathic doctor;

(2) dental practitioners:

(a) a licensed dentist; or

(b) a licensed dental hygienist certified for collaborative practice;

(3) therapists:

(6) other providers described in other rules found in NMAC rules eligible to provide services or receive reimbursement, such as behavioral health services, early and periodic screening, diagnostic and treatment (EPDST) services, institutional services, and other specialized services.

B. Upon approval of the New Mexico MAD PPA agreement by MAD or its designee, the clinic, professional association, or other legal entity may be enrolled as a MAD provider in order that payment may be made to the clinic, professional association, or other legal entity formed by one or more individual practitioners. The individual practitioners that are employed by or contracted by the clinic, professional practice or other legal entity must also be enrolled as individual providers. All requirements under state law and regulations or rules regarding supervision, direction, and approved supervisory practitioners must be met. Such entities include:

(1) professional components for inpatient and outpatient institutions;

(2) professional corporations and other legal entities;

(3) licensed diagnostic and treatment centers, including a birthing center licensed as a diagnostic and treatment center;

D. All providers must be licensed in New Mexico for services performed in New Mexico. For services performed by providers outside of New Mexico, a provider's out of state license may be accepted in lieu of licensure in New Mexico if the out of state licensure requirements are similar to those of the state of New Mexico. For services provided under the public health service including IHS, providers must meet the requirements of the public health service corps.

E. Additional licensure or certification requirements may be required for specialized services such as services provided to MAP special needs recipients. Transplantation providers are eligible for enrollment if licensed as state transplantation centers by the licensing and certification bureau of the New Mexico department of health (DOH); or if certified as transplantation centers by the centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS).

F. For telemedicine services, when the originating-site is in New Mexico and the distant-site is outside New Mexico, the provider at the distant-site must be licensed for telemedicine to the extent required by New Mexico state law and NMAC rules or meet federal requirements for providing services to IHS facilities or tribal contract facilities.

[8.310.3.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.310.3.9 NMAC, 1/1/2023]

8.310.3.10 COVERED SERVICES:

MAD covers services and procedures that are medically necessary for the diagnosis and treatment of an illness or injury as indicated by the MAP eligible recipient's condition. All services must be furnished within the limits of NMAC rules and benefits and within the scope and practice of the provider's professional standards.

[8.310.3.10 NMAC - Rp, 8.310.3.10 NMAC, 1/1/2023]

8.310.3.11 REIMBURSEMENT:

Providers must submit claims for reimbursement on the CMS-1500, American dental association (ADA), or universal billing (UB) claim form or their successor or their electronic equivalents, as appropriate to the provider type and service.

A. A provider is responsible for following coding manual guidelines and CMS national correct coding initiatives, including not improperly unbundling or upcoding services, not reporting services together inappropriately, and not reporting an inappropriate number or quantity of the same service on a single day. Bilateral procedures and incidental procedure are also subject to special billing payment policies. The payment for some services includes payment for other services. For example, payment for a surgical procedure may include hospital visits and follow up care or supplies which are not paid separately.

B. General reimbursement:

(1) reimbursement to professional service providers is made at the lesser of the following:

(a) the provider's billed charge; or

(b) the MAD fee schedule for the specific service or procedure;

(2) the billed charge must be the provider's usual and customary charge for the service or procedure.

(3) "usual and customary" charge refers to the amount that the provider charges the general public in the majority of cases for a specific procedure or service.

C. Reimbursement limitations:

(1) Nurses: Reimbursement to CNPs and CNSs who are in independent practice are limited to 90 percent of the MAD fee schedule amount allowed for physicians providing the same service.

(2) Midwife services: Reimbursement for a certified nurse midwife or a licensed midwife for maternity services is based on one global fee which includes prenatal care, delivery, postnatal and postpartum care. Services related to false labor are included as part of the global fee. Certified nurse midwives are reimbursed at the rate paid to physicians for furnishing similar services. Licensed midwives are reimbursed at seventy-seven percent of the rate paid to physicians for furnishing the global services and at one hundred percent of the rate paid to physicians for add-on services. Other services are paid according to the MAD fee schedule.

(3) Surgery: Surgical assistants are reimbursed at twenty percent of the allowed primary surgeon amount. Surgical assistants are paid only when the surgical code allows for assistants as determined by medicare, CMS, or MAD. Physician assistants (PA), pharmacist clinicians, CNP's, midwives, and CNS's can only be paid as surgical assistants when it is within the scope of their practice as determined by state statute and their licensing boards.

(4) Physician extenders: Physician assistants, pharmacist clinicians and other providers not licensed for independent practice are not paid directly. Reimbursement is made to the supervising provider or entity under which the extender works.

(5) Hospital settings: Reimbursement for services provided in hospital settings that are ordinarily furnished in a provider's office is made at sixty percent of the fee schedule allowed amount. MAD follows medicare principles in determining which procedures and places of service are subject to this payment reduction. For services not covered by medicare, the determination is made by MAD. For facility-based providers, costs billed separately as a professional component must be identified for exclusion from the facility cost report prior to cost settlement or rebasing.

(6) Dietician and nutrition services: For nutritional counseling services, physicians, physician extenders and clinics must include the charges for nutritional services in the office visit code when services are furnished by physicians or physician extenders. The level of the office visit reflects the length and complexity of the visit. For services furnished as part of prenatal or postpartum care, nutritional counseling services are included in the reimbursement fees for prenatal and postpartum care and are not reimbursed separately. Nutritional assessment and counseling services can be billed as a separate charge only when services are furnished to a MAP eligible recipient under age 21 by licensed nutritionists or licensed dieticians who are employed by eligible providers. Reimbursement is made to eligible providers and not directly to the nutritionists or dieticians.

(7) Laboratory and diagnostic imaging reimbursement limitations:

(a) Use of medicare maximums: The MAD payment does not exceed the amount allowed by medicare for any laboratory service. Medicare notifies MAD on an annual basis of its fee schedule for clinical laboratory services. These new fees become the maximums for reimbursement upon implementation by MAD.

(b) Referrals from providers: Physicians and other private practitioners cannot bill for laboratory tests which are sent to an outside laboratory or other facility. Payment for laboratory services cannot be made directly to a practitioner unless the tests were performed in their own office. Laboratories can bill for tests sent to other laboratories only if the CLIA number of the other laboratory is identified on the claim form. State facilities which contract for services with other state-operated laboratories, such as the state health laboratory, can bill for those services providing the amount billed for the service does not exceed the amount paid by the state facility to the contractor.

(c) Reimbursement for collection costs: MAD does not reimburse an independent clinical laboratory separately for associated collection costs such as office visits, home visits or nursing home visits.

(d) Services performed as profile or panel: Individual lab procedures that are routinely considered to be included in a profile or panel must be billed as a panel. MAD cannot be billed for individual lab procedures that are considered included in a profile or panel.

(8) Radiology:

(a) Non-profit licensed diagnostic and treatment centers and state facilities: Non-profit licensed diagnostic and treatment centers which contract for radiological services can bill for services provided that the charge does not exceed the amount paid to the contractor by the licensed diagnostic and treatment center.

(b) Reimbursement for additional charges: Reimbursement for performance of a radiology procedure is considered paid in full when payment is made for the procedure. Additional services such as office visits, home visits, and nursing home visits are not reimbursed separately.

(c) Reimbursement for inclusive procedures: Reimbursement for certain radiological procedures is included in the reimbursement for other procedures. Reimbursement for the lesser procedure is always considered to be included in the payment for the more comprehensive procedure for a specified group.

(d) Reimbursement for the professional component of a radiology service does not exceed forty percent of the amount allowed for the complete procedure.

(i) A professional component or interpretation is not payable to the same provider who bills for the complete procedure.

(ii) A claim for"supervision and interpretation only" is not payable in addition to a claim for the complete procedure.

(9) Telemedicine providers: Reimbursement for services at the originating-site (where the MAP eligible recipient is located) and the distant-site (where the provider is located) are made at the same amount as when the services provided are furnished without the use of a telecommunication system. In addition, reimbursement is made to the originating-site for an interactive telemedicine system fee at the lesser of the provider's billed charge; or the maximum allowed by MAD for the specific service or procedure.

D. Reimbursement for services furnished by medical interns or residents: Reimbursement for services furnished by an intern or a resident in a hospital with an approved teaching program or services furnished in another hospital that participates in a teaching program is only made through an institutional reimbursement process. Medical or surgical services performed by an intern or a resident that are unrelated to educational services, internship, or residency, are reimbursed according to the MAD fee schedule for physician services when all of the following provisions are met:

(1) services are identifiable physician services that are performed by the physician in person;

(2) services must contribute to the diagnosis or treatment of the MAP eligible recipient's medical condition;

(3) an intern or resident is fully licensed as a physician;

(4) services are performed under the terms of a written contract or agreement and are separately identified from services required as part of the training program; and

(5) services are excluded from outpatient hospital costs; when these criteria are met the services are considered to have been furnished by the practitioner in their capacity as a physician and not as an intern or resident.

E. Services of an assistant surgeon in an approved teaching program:

(1) MAD does not pay for the services of an assistant surgeon in a facility with approved teaching program since the resident is available to perform services unless the following exceptional medical circumstances exist:

(a) an assistant surgeon is needed due to unusual medical circumstances;

(b) the surgery is performed by a team of physicians during a complex procedure; or

(c) the presence of, and active care by, a physician of another specialty is necessary during the surgery due to the MAP eligible recipient's medical condition.

(2) This reimbursement rule may not be circumvented by private contractors or agreements entered into by a hospital with a physician or a physician group.

F. Reimbursement for dental residents: Reimbursement can be made for dental residents in an approved teaching program when all the following conditions are met:

(1) the resident is fully licensed as a dentist for independent practice;

(2) the costs of the dental residency program is not included in the direct or graduate medical education payments to a provider operating the teaching program; and

(3) only one dental claim is submitted for the service; the supervising dentist and the rendering dentist will not be both paid for the service or procedure.

G. Non-independent practitioners: Reimbursement for services furnished by a physician assistant, a pharmacist clinician, or another practitioner whose license is not for independent practice, is made only to the billing supervising practitioner or entity rather than directly to the supervised practitioner.

H. Surgical procedures: Reimbursement for surgical procedures is subject to certain restrictions and limitations.

(1) When multiple procedures that add significant time or complexity to care are furnished during the same operative session, the major procedure is reimbursed at one hundred percent of the allowable amount, the secondary procedure is reimbursed at fifty percent of the allowable amount and any remaining procedures are reimbursed at twenty-five percent of the allowable amount. Multiple procedures occurring in one incision are reimbursed similarly. "Multiple surgery" is defined as multiple surgical procedures billed by the same physician for the same MAP eligible recipient on the same date of service.

(2) Bilateral procedures that are furnished in the same operative session are billed as one service with a modifier. Reimbursement for bilateral procedures is one hundred fifty percent of the amount allowed for a unilateral procedure.

(3) Surgeons are not reimbursed for the performance of incidental procedures, such as incidental appendectomies, incidental scar excisions, puncture of ovarian cysts, simple lysis of adhesions, simple repair of hiatal hernias, or tubal ligations done in conjunction with cesarean sections.

(4) Providers are not reimbursed for performing complete physical examinations or histories during follow-up treatment after a surgical procedure.

(5) Other health care related to a surgery is considered to be reimbursed in the payment for the surgery and is not paid as a separate cost. Surgical trays and local anesthesia are included in the reimbursement for the surgical procedure.

(6) Under certain circumstances, the skills of two surgeons, usually with different surgical specialties may be required in the management of a specific surgical problem. The total allowed value of the procedure is increased by twenty-five percent and each surgeon is paid fifty percent of that amount.

I. Maternity services: Reimbursement for maternity care is based on one global fee. Routine prenatal, delivery postnatal and postpartum care are included in the global fee. Services related to false labor and induced labor are also included in the global fee.

(1) If partial services are furnished by multiple providers, such as prenatal care only, one or two trimesters of care only, or delivery only, the procedure codes billed must reflect the actual services performed. The date of services must be the last day services were furnished for that specific procedure code.

(2) MAD pays based on a modifier for high-risk pregnancies or for complicated pregnancies. The determination of high risk is based on a claims review.

(3) If partial services are furnished by a certified nurse midwife or licensed midwife, such as prenatal care only, one or two trimesters of care only or delivery only, the procedure codes billed must reflect the actual services performed. The date of service must be the last day services were furnished for that specific code.

(4) If the services furnished include a combination of services performed by a certified nurse midwife or licensed midwife, and a physician in the same group practice, reimbursement for midwife services is based on trimesters of service furnished by the certified nurse midwife or licensed midwife.

(5) MAD pays supply fees only when a MAP eligible recipient is accommodated for two hours or more in the home or a birthing center prior to delivery. Payment for use of a licensed birthing center includes supplies.

(6) MAD covers postnatal and postpartum care by a certified nurse midwife or licensed midwife, as a separate service only when the midwife does not perform the delivery.

(7) Reimbursement for a single vaginal delivery assist is allowed when the assist service is furnished by licensed or certified midwives who are MAD providers. The need for the assistance based on the medical condition of the MAP eligible recipient must be documented.

(8) Reimbursement for cesarean sections and inductions is made only when the service is medically necessary. These services are not covered as elective procedures.

(9) MAD covers laboratory and diagnostic imaging services related to an essentially normal pregnancy. These services can be billed separately.

(10) Non/covered midwife services: Midwife services are subject to the limitation and coverage restrictions which exist for other MAD services. MAD does not cover the following specific services furnished by a midwife:

(a) oral medications or medications, such as ointments, creams, suppositories, ophthalmic and otic preparations which can be appropriately self/administered by the MAP eligible recipient;

(b) services furnished by an apprentice, unless billed by the supervising midwife;

(c) an assistant at a home birth unless necessary based on the medical condition of the MAP eligible recipient which must be documented in the claim.

(11) Birthing options program (BOP): The BOP is specifically for basic obstetric care for uncomplicated pregnancies and childbirth, including immediate newborn care that is limited to stabilization of the baby during this transition. The program does not cover full scope of midwifery services nor replace pediatric care that should occur at a primary care clinic.

(a) The BOP out-of-hospital birth locations include a pregnant member's home or a licensed birth center.

(b) A BOP participant may elect to have a home birth or birth in a licensed birth center when she has BOP services provided by an eligible midwife that enrolls as a BOP provider with the Human Services Department/medical assistance division (HSD/MAD) and the New Mexico Department of Health/maternal health division (NMDOH/MHC).

J. Services limited by frequency:

(1) services furnished by another provider: where coverage of services provided to MAP eligible recipient is restricted or limited by frequency of services, procedures or materials, it is a provider's responsibility to determine if a proposed service has already been furnished by another provider, such that the MAP eligible recipient has exhausted the benefit. Examples include but are not limited to dental services, vision exams and eyeglasses.

(2) direct MAP eligible recipient payment for services: a provider can make arrangements for direct payment from a MAP eligible recipient or their authorized representative for noncovered services. A MAP eligible recipient or their authorized representative can only be billed for noncovered services if:

(a) a MAP eligible recipient or their authorized representative is advised by a provider of the necessity of the service and the reasons for the non-covered status;

(b) a MAP eligible recipient or their authorized representative is given options to seek treatment at a later date or from a different provider;

(c) a MAP eligible recipient or their authorized representative agrees in writing to be responsible for payment; and

(d) the provider fully complies with the NMAC rules relating to billing and claims filing limitations.

(3) services considered part of the total treatment: a provider cannot bill separately for the services considered included in the payment for the examination, another service, or for routine post-operative or follow-up care.

K. Anesthesia services:

(1) Reimbursement for anesthesia services is calculated using the MAD fee schedule anesthesia"base units" plus units for time.

(a) Each anesthesia procedure is assigned a specific number of relative value units which becomes the"base unit" for the procedure. Units of time are also allowed for the procedure. Reimbursement is calculated by multiplying the total number of units by the conversion factor allowed for each unit.

(b) The reimbursement per anesthesia unit may vary depending on who furnishes the service. Separate rates are established for a physician anesthesiologist, a medically-directed certified registered nurse anesthetist (CRNA), anesthesiologist assistant (AA) and a non-directed CRNA.

(c) For anesthesia provided directly by a physician anesthesiologist, CRNA, or an anesthesiologist assistant, one time unit is allowed for each 15-minute period a MAP eligible recipient is under anesthesia. For medical direction, one time unit is allowed for each 15-minute period.

(2) Medical direction: Reimbursement is made at fifty percent of the full anesthesia service amount for medical direction by a physician anesthesiologist who is not the surgeon or assistant surgeon, for directing an anesthesiology resident, a registered nurse anesthetist (CRNA) or an anesthesiologist assistant (AA). Reimbursement is made at fifty percent of the full anesthesia service amount for the anesthesia service provided by the medically directed anesthesiology resident, CRNA or AA. Medical direction occurs if the physician medically directs qualified practitioners in two, three, or four concurrent cases and the physician performs the activities described below. Concurrency is defined with regard to the maximum number of procedures that the physician is medically directing within the context of a single procedure and whether these other procedures overlap each other. Concurrency is not dependent on each of the cases involving a MAP eligible recipient. For example, if an anesthesiologist directs three concurrent procedures, two of which involve non-MAP eligible recipients and the remaining is a MAP eligible recipient, this represents three concurrent cases.

(a) Time units for medical direction are allowed at one time unit for each 15-minute interval.

(b) Anesthesia claims are not payable if the surgery is not a MAD benefit or if any required documentation was not obtained.

(c) Medical direction is a covered service only if the physician:

(i) performs a pre-anesthesia examination and evaluation; and

(ii) prescribes the anesthesia plan; and

(iii) personally participates in the most demanding procedures of the anesthesia plan including induction and emergence; and

(iv) ensures that any procedures in the anesthesia plan that they do not perform are performed by a qualified anesthetist; and

(v) monitors the course of anesthesia administration at frequent intervals; and

(vi) remains physically present and available for immediate diagnosis and treatment of emergencies; and

(vii) provides indicated post-anesthesia care.

(d) For medical direction, the physician must document in the medical record that he performed the pre-anesthetic exam and evaluation, provided indicated post-anesthesia care, was present during some portion of the anesthesia monitoring, and was present during the most demanding procedures, including induction and emergence, where indicated.

(e) A physician who is concurrently directing the administration of anesthesia to not more than four surgical patients may not ordinarily be involved in furnishing additional services to other patients. Addressing an emergency of short duration in the immediate area, administering an epidural or caudal anesthetic to ease labor pain, or periodic, rather than continuous, monitoring of an obstetrical patient does not substantially diminish the scope of control exercised by the physician in directing the administration of anesthesia to surgical patients. Medical direction criteria are met even though the physician responds to an emergency of short duration.

(f) While directing concurrent anesthesia procedures, a physician may receive patients entering the operating suite for the next surgery, check or discharge patients in the recovery room, or handle scheduling matters without affecting fee schedule payment.

(g) If a physician leaves the immediate area of the operating suite for other than short durations or devotes extensive time to an emergency case or is otherwise not available to respond to the immediate needs of the surgical patient, the physician's services to the surgical patients are supervisory in nature. Medical direction cannot be billed.

(3) Monitored anesthesia care: Medically necessary monitored anesthesia care (MAC) services are reimbursed at base units plus time units.

(a) "Monitored anesthesia care" is anesthesia care that involves the intraoperative monitoring by a physician or qualified practitioner under the medical direction of a physician, or of the MAP eligible recipient's vital physiological signs in anticipation of the need for administration of general anesthesia, or of the development of adverse physiological MAP eligible recipient reaction to the surgical procedure and includes:

(i) performance of a pre-anesthetic examination and evaluation;

(ii) prescription of the anesthesia care required;

(iii) continuous intraoperative monitoring by a physician anesthesiologist or qualified certified registered nurse anesthetist of the MAP eligible recipient's physiological signs;

(iv) administration of medication or other pharmacologic therapy as can be required for the diagnosis and treatment of emergencies; and

(v) provision of indicated postoperative anesthesia care.

(b) For MAC, documentation must be available to reflect pre- and post-anesthetic evaluations and intraoperative monitoring.

(c) Medical direction for monitored anesthesia is reimbursed if it meets the medical direction requirements.

(4) Medical supervision: If an anesthesiologist is medically directing more than four CRNAs, the service must be billed as medically supervised rather than medically directed anesthesia services. The MAD payment to the CRNA will be fifty percent of the MAD allowable amount for the procedure. Payment to the anesthesiologist will be based on three base units per procedure when the anesthesiologist is involved in furnishing more than four procedures concurrently or is performing other services while directing the concurrent procedure.

(5) Obstetric anesthesia: Reimbursement for neuraxial labor anesthesia is paid using the base units plus one unit per hour for neuraxial analgesia management including direct patient contact time (insertion, management of adverse events, delivery, and removal).

(6) Unusual circumstances: When it is medically necessary for both the CRNA and the anesthesiologist to be completely and fully involved during a procedure, full payment for the services of each provider is allowed. Documentation supporting the medical necessity for both must be noted in the MAP eligible recipient's record.

(7) Pre-anesthetic exams and cancelled surgery: A pre-anesthetic examination and evaluation of a MAP eligible recipient who does not undergo surgery may also be considered for payment. Payment is determined under the physician fee schedule for the medical or surgical service.

(8) Performance of standard procedures: If an anesthesiologist performs procedures which are generally performed by other physicians without specific anesthesia training, such as local anesthesia or an injection, the anesthesiologist is reimbursed the fee schedule amount for performance of the procedure. Reimbursement is not made for base units or units for time.

(9) Add-on codes for anesthesia: Add-on codes for anesthesia involving burn excisions or debridement and obstetrical anesthesia are paid in addition to the primary anesthesia code. Anesthesia add-on codes are priced differently than multiple anesthesia codes. Only the base unit of the add-on code will be allowed. All anesthesia time must be reported with the primary anesthesia code. There is an exception for obstetrical anesthesia. MAD requires for the obstetrical add-on codes, that the anesthesia time be separately reported with each of the primary and the add-on codes based on the amount of time appropriately associated with either code. Both the base unit and the time units for the primary and the add-on obstetrical anesthesia codes are recognized.

(10) Anesthesia services furnished by the same physician providing the medical and surgical service:

(a) A physician who both performs and provides moderate sedation for medical or surgical services will be paid for the conscious sedation consistent with CPT guidelines; however, a physician who performs and provides local or minimal sedation for these procedures cannot bill and cannot be paid separately for the sedation services. The continuum of complexity in anesthesia services (from least intense to most intense) ranges from:

(i) local or topical anesthesia; to

(ii) moderate (conscious) sedation; to

(iii) regional anesthesia; to

(iv) general anesthesia.

(b) Moderate sedation is a drug-induced depression of consciousness during which a MAP eligible recipient responds purposefully to verbal commands, either alone or accompanied by light tactile stimulation. It does not include minimal sedation, deep sedation or monitored anesthesia care. If the physician performing the procedure also provides moderate sedation for the procedure, payment may be made for conscious sedation consistent with CPT guidelines. However, if the physician performing the procedure provides local or minimal sedation for the procedure, no separate payment is made for the local or minimal sedation service.

All services provided by the FQHC must be furnished in accordance with applicable federal, state, and local laws and regulations and must be furnished within the limitations applicable to medicaid- covered benefits. If not specified in this section, MAD adopts definitions of coverage delineated in the FQHC sections of medicare statutes. (2) Services and supplies incident to a physician's professional service are covered if the service or supply meets delineated requirements. Services and supplies include the professional component of radiology services, laboratory services performed by the FQHC and specimen collection for laboratory services furnished by an off-site laboratory. To meet the definition of "incident to" a professional service, the service and supplies must be:

(3) Inpatient hospital visits are those services furnished to an individual as a "patient" of the FQHC. Therefore, FQHC services furnished off-site (including those furnished to a person who is an inpatient of a hospital or nursing facility) will be considered FQHC services only if the physician's agreement with the FQHC requires that they seek compensation from the FQHC. B. Eligibility determination: Prior approval of services does not guarantee that the individuals are eligible for medicaid. Providers must verify that individuals are eligible for medicaid at the time services are furnished and determine if medicaid clients have other health insurance.

C. Reconsideration: Providers who disagree with prior approval request denials or other review decisions can request a re- review and a reconsideration. See 8.350.2 NMAC, Reconsideration of Utilization Review Decisions.

[8.310.4.13 NMAC - Rp 8.310.4.13 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

FQHC services are covered when provided in outpatient settings only, including a client's place of residence, which may be a skilled nursing facility or a nursing facility or other institution used as a client's home. FQHC services are not covered in a hospital as defined in section 1861(e)(1) of the Act.

A. Service limitations: An FQHC may be compensated for provision of other "ambulatory services" covered in the medicaid fee-for-service program (per the Balanced Budget Act of 1997). 8.310.4.15 REIMBURSEMENT:

FQHCs must submit claims for reimbursement on the UB-92 claim form or its successor. See 8.302.2 NMAC, Billing for Medicaid Services. Once enrolled, providers receive instructions on documentation, billing, and claims processing. Interim reimbursement for services provided by an FQHC is made by MAD based on submitted claims.

A. Initial rates: The initial interim rate for new FQHC providers will be the interim rate set by medicare.

B. Cost settlement:

(1) FQHCs must submit cost reports on an annual basis to MAD or its designee within the time frames specified by medicare. FQHCs will not be granted an extension to the cost report filing time frames.

(2) A final cost settlement based on the audit data will be made in accordance with delineated medicaid requirements or applicable medicare cost reimbursement principles when medicaid requirements are not specified. Final cost settlements are based on the allowable cost as audited or desk reviewed costs by MAD or its designee. "Allowable costs" are costs incurred by an FQHC which are reasonable in amount, proper and necessary for the efficient delivery of services by the FQHC (MAD or its designee will follow the HCFA Pub. 15-1 in determining allowable costs). MAD uses the productivity standards used in the medicare cost report. However, MAD does not use the costs limits imposed by medicare. If an FQHC disagrees with an audit settlement, the provider can request a reconsideration. See 8.350.4 NMAC, Reconsideration of Audit Settlement.

(4) HCA or its designee will complete their initial review of cost settlement materials within 150 days of the receipt of all required information.

C. What constitutes a visit: A visit is a face-to-face encounter between a center client and a physician, physician assistant, nurse practitioner, nurse midwife, visiting nurse, qualified clinical psychologist or qualified clinical social worker. Encounters with more than one health professional and multiple encounters with the same health professional on the same day and at a single location constitute a single visit, except when one of the following conditions exist:

(2) the client has a dental visit, or medical visit and another health visit (e.g., a face-to- face encounter between the client and a clinical psychologist, clinical social worker, or other health professional for mental health services listed in Subsection C of 8.310.4.12 NMAC.

[8.310.10.6 NMAC - N, 04/01/16]

8.310.10.7 DEFINITIONS:

[RESERVED]

8.310.10.8 MISSION:

We ensure that New Mexicans attain their highest level of health by providing whole-person, cost-effective, accessible, and high-quality health care and safety-net services.

[8.310.10.8 NMAC - N, 4/1/2016; Repealed, 5/1/2018; A, 9/1/2024]

8.310.10.9 HEALTH HOMES:

CareLink NM is a set of services authorized by Section 2703 of the Affordable Care Act (ACA). CareLink NM health home (CareLink NM) services are delivered through a designated provider agency. In addition to being enrolled as a provider, a provider agency must complete a CareLink NM application and successfully complete a readiness assessment by HCA prior to becoming a designated health home. CareLink NM services enhance the integration and the coordination of primary, acute, behavioral health, and long-term services and supports. The CareLink NM provider agency assists an eligible recipient by engaging him or her in a comprehensive needs assessment which is then utilized to develop their integrated service plan and individual treatment plan, increasing their access to health education and promotion activities, monitoring the eligible recipient's treatment outcomes and utilization of resources, coordinating appointments with the eligible recipient's primary care and specialty practitioners, sharing information among their physical and behavioral practitioners to reduce the duplication of services, actively managing the eligible recipient's transitions between services, and participating as appropriate in the development of the eligible recipient's hospital discharge.

[8.310.10.9 NMAC - N, 4/1/2016; A, 5/1/2018; A, 9/1/2024]

8.310.10.10 ELIGIBLE PROVIDERS AND PRACTITIONERS:

A. Health care to eligible recipients in a health home is furnished by a variety of providers and provider groups. The reimbursement and billing for these services is administered by medical assistance division (MAD). Upon approval of a New Mexico provider participation agreement (PPA) by MAD or its designee, licensed practitioners, facilities and other providers of services that meet applicable requirements are eligible to be reimbursed for furnishing covered services to eligible recipients. A provider agency must be enrolled before submitting a claim for payment to the MAD claims processing contractors or the HCA contracted managed care organizations (MCOs). MAD makes available on the HCA website, on other program-specific websites, or in hard copy format, information necessary to participate in health care programs administered by MAD or its designees including program rules, billing instructions, utilization review (UR) instructions, supplements, policy, and other pertinent materials. When enrolled, a provider agency and a practitioner receive instruction on how to access these documents. It is the provider agency's and practitioner's responsibility to access these instructions, to understand the information provided and to comply with the requirements. The provider agency must contact HCA or its authorized agents to obtain answers to questions related to the material. To be eligible for reimbursement, a provider agency and practitioner must adhere to the provisions of the MAD PPA and all applicable statutes, regulations, and executive orders. MAD, its selected claims processing contractor or the MCO, issues payments to a provider agency using electronic funds transfer (EFT) only. To be eligible to receive a CareLink NM health home designation, a provider agency must hold a comprehensive community support service (CCSS) certification or attest that the agency has received all required training.

B. A provider agency must follow CareLink NM staffing requirements found in this rule and further detailed in the CareLink NM policy manual. The provider agency must agree to fulfill other responsibilities as listed in Subsection B of 8.310.10.10 NMAC. The following individuals and practitioners must be contracted or employed by the provider agency as part of its CareLink NM service delivery:

(1) A director specifically assigned to CareLink NM service oversight and administrative responsibilities.

(2) A health promotion coordinator with a bachelor's-level degree in a human or health services field and experience in developing curriculum and curriculum instruction. The health promotion coordinator manages health promotion services and resources appropriate for an eligible recipient such as interventions related to substance use prevention and cessation, nutritional counseling, or health weight management;

(3) A care coordinator who develops and oversees an eligible recipient's comprehensive care management, including the planning and coordination of all physical, behavioral, and support services. The number of care coordinators is based upon ratio in Paragraph (5) of Subsection D of 8.310.10.11 NMAC. The care coordinator:

(a) is a regulation and licensing department (RLD) licensed behavioral health practitioner; or

(b) holds a bachelor's or master's level degree and has two years of relevant healthcare experience; or

(c) is registered nurse in the state of New Mexico; or

(d) is approved through the CLNM NM health home steering committee.

(4) A community liaison who speaks a language that is utilized by a majority of non-fluent English-speaking eligible recipients, and who is experienced with the resources in the eligible recipient's local community. The community liaison identifies, connects, and engages with community services, resources, and providers. The community liaison works with an eligible recipient's care coordinator in appropriately connecting and integrating the eligible recipient to needed community services, resources, and practitioners.

(5) A supervisor who is an independently licensed behavioral health practitioner as described in 8.321.2 NMAC who supervises the care coordinator, the community liaison, the health promotion coordinator, peer and family support workers, and other optional staff that is the part of the CareLink NM multidisciplinary team. The supervisor must have direct service experience in working with both adult and child populations. Physical health and psychiatric consultants must comply with their respective licensing boards' requirements for supervision.

(6) Certified peer support worker(s) (CPSW) who hold a certification by the New Mexico credentialing board for behavioral health professionals as a certified peer support worker. The CPSW has successfully navigated their own behavioral health experiences, and is willing to assist their peers in their recovery processes.

(7) Certified family support specialist(s) who hold a certification by the New Mexico credentialing board for behavioral health professionals as a certified family support worker.

(8) A physical health consultant who is a physician licensed to practice medicine (MD) or osteopathy (DO), a licensed certified nurse practitioner (CNP), or a licensed certified nurse specialist (CNS) as described in 8.310.3 NMAC.

(9) A psychiatric consultant who is a physician (MD or DO) licensed by the board of medical examiners or board of osteopathy and is board-eligible or board-certified in psychiatry as described in 8.321.2 NMAC.

8.310.10.11 PROVIDER RESPONSIBILITIES:

A. A provider agency who furnishes MAD services to an eligible recipient must comply with all federal and state laws, rules, regulations, and executive orders relevant to the provision of services as specified in the MAD PPA. A provider agency also must comply with all appropriate New Mexico administrative code (NMAC) rules, billing instructions, supplements, and policy, as updated. A provider agency is also responsible for following coding manual guidelines and centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS) national correct coding initiatives (NCCI), including not improperly unbundling or upcoding services.

B. A provider agency must verify that a recipient is eligible for a specific health care program administered by HCA and its authorized agents, and must verify the recipient's enrollment status at the time services are furnished. A provider agency must determine if an eligible recipient has other health insurance and notify HCA. A provider agency must maintain records that are sufficient to fully disclose the extent and nature of the services provided to an eligible recipient.

C. When services are billed to and paid by a MAD fee-for-service (FFS) coordinated services contractor authorized by HCA, under an administrative services contract, the provider agency must also enroll as a provider with the coordinated services contractor and follow that contractor's instructions for billing and for authorization of services; see 8.302.1 NMAC.

D. The provider agency must:

(1) demonstrate the ability to meet all data and quality reporting requirements as detailed in the CareLink NM policy manual;

(2) be approved through a HCA application and readiness process as described in the CareLink NM policy manual;

(3) have the ability to provide primary care services for all ages of eligible recipients, or have a memorandum of agreement with at least one primary care practice in the area that serves eligible recipients under 21 years of age, and one that serves eligible recipients 21 years of age and older;

(4) have established eligible recipient referral protocols with the area hospitals and residential treatment facilities;

(5) maintain the following suggested range of care coordinator staff ratios for CareLink NM eligible recipients as described in the CareLink NM policy manual:

(a) 1:51-100 for care coordination level 6;

(b) 1:30-50 for care coordination level 7;

(c) 1:50 for care coordination level 8; and

(d) 1:10 for care coordination level 9.

E. For the provider agency that renders physical health and behavioral health services, additional staff may be included; see CareLink NM policy manual for detailed descriptions.

8.310.10.12 IDENTIFIED POPULATION:

An eligible recipient:

A. is 21 years of age and older who meets the HCA criteria for serious mental illness (SMI); or

B. is under 21 years of age who meets the HCA criteria for serious emotional disturbance (SED); or

C. meets the criteria for substance use disorder (SUD).

[8.310.10.12 NMAC - N, 4/1/2016; A, 5/1/2018; A, 9/1/2024]

8.310.10.13 COVERED SERVICES:

Health home services through CareLink NM are coordinated with the eligible recipient and their family and a CareLink NM provider agency as appropriate. CareLink NM services identify available community-based resources and actively manage appropriate referrals and access to care, engagement with other community and social supports, and follow-up post engagement. Common linkages include continuation of the eligible recipient's MAP category of eligibility, and their other disability benefits, housing assistance, legal services, educational and employment supports, and other personal needs consistent with their recovery goals and CareLink NM care plan. CareLink NM staff make and follow-up on referrals to community services, link an eligible recipient with natural supports, and assure that these connections are solid and effective. Services are linked as appropriate and feasible by health information technology. CareLink NM services are comprised of six unique categories (and further defined in the CareLink NM policy manual):

A. comprehensive care management;

B. care coordination;

C. health promotion;

D. comprehensive transitional care;

E. individual and family support services; and

F. referrals for the eligible recipient to community and social support services.

[8.310.10.13 NMAC - N, 4/1/2016; A, 5/1/2018; A, 9/1/2024]

8.310.10.14 GENERAL NON-COVERED SERVICES:

Non-covered CareLink NM services are subject to the limitations and coverage restrictions that exist for other MAD services. See 8.310.2 and 8.321.2 NMAC for general non-covered services. Specific to CareLink NM services, the following apply:

A. CareLink NM services rendered during an eligible recipient's stay in an acute care or freestanding psychiatric hospital and a residential treatment facility (not to include foster care and treatment foster care placements), except when part of the eligible recipient's transition plan, are not covered services.

B. Services which duplicate other MAD services, including care coordination activities that the MCO has not delegated to the provider agency, are not covered services.

[8.310.10.14 NMAC - N, 05/01/2018]

8.310.10.15 PRIOR AUTHORIZATION (PA) AND UTILIZATION REVIEW (UR):

All MAD services are subject to utilization review (UR) for medical necessity and program compliance. Reviews can be performed before services are furnished, after services are furnished, before payment is made, or after payment is made. The provider agency must contact MAD or its designees to request UR instructions. It is the provider agency's responsibility to access these instructions or ask for hard copies to be provided, to understand the information provided, to comply with the requirements, and to obtain answers to questions not covered by these materials. When services are billed to and paid by a coordinated services contractor authorized by HCA, the provider agency and practitioner must follow that ontractor's instructions for authorization of services. A provider agency and practitioner rendering services to a member must comply with that MCO's prior authorization requirements.

A. Prior authorization: CareLink NM services do not require prior authorization, but are provided as approved by the CareLink provider agency. However, other procedures or services may require a prior authorization from MAD or its designee. Services for which a prior authorization is required remain subject to UR at any point in the payment process, including after payment has been made. It is the provider agency's responsibility to contact MAD or its designee and review documents and instructions available from MAD or its designee to determine when a prior authorization is necessary.

B. Timing of UR: A UR may be performed at any time during the service, payment, or post payment processes. In signing the MAD PPA, a provider agency agrees to cooperate fully with MAD or its designee in its performance of any review and agrees to comply with all review requirements. The following are examples of the reviews that may be performed:

(1) prior authorization review (review occurs before the service is furnished);

(2) concurrent review (review occurs while service is being furnished);

(3) pre-payment review (claims review occurring after service is furnished but before payment);

(4) retrospective review (review occurs after payment is made); and

(5) one or more reviews may be used by MAD to assess the medical necessity and program compliance of any service.

C. Denial of payment: If a service or procedure is not medically necessary or not a covered MAD service, MAD may deny a provider agency's claim for payment. If MAD determines that a service is not medically necessary before the claim payment, the claim is denied. If this determination is made after payment, the payment amount is subject to recoupment or repayment.

D. Review of decisions: A provider agency that disagrees with a prior authorization request denial or another review decision may request reconsideration from MAD or the MAD designee that performed the initial review and issued the initial decision; see 8.350.2 NMAC. A provider agency that is not satisfied with the reconsideration determination may request a HCA provider administrative hearing; see 8.352.3 NMAC. A provider agency that disagrees with the member's MCO decision is to follow the process detailed in 8.308.15 NMAC.

8.310.10.16 PAYMENT FOR SERVICES AND BILLING INSTRUCTION:

CareLink NM services are reimbursed through a per-member-per-month (PMPM) payment to the provider agency. CareLink NM dedicated services are those outlined in 8.310.10.13 NMAC. MAD covered services provided to an eligible recipient including behavioral and physical health services, are billed and reimbursed independent of the PMPM payment to the provider agency. The PMPM reimbursement is paid for CareLink NM services regardless of whether the eligible recipient is a MCO member or enrolled in fee-for-service (FFS). The CareLink NM provider agency is responsible for verifying that the eligible recipient has affirmatively agreed to participate in CareLink NM services, documentation of which should be in a signed statement in the eligible recipient's file, in order to receive reimbursement. PMPM codes will be used to document various CareLink NM services provided to an eligible recipient, and trigger the PMPM reimbursement. To receive reimbursement, the provider agency must fully execute at least one CareLink NM service in a given month, meaning direct contact and interaction with an eligible recipient to deliver comprehensive care management, care coordination and health promotion, comprehensive transitional care, individual and family support services, or referral to community and support services. A non-exhaustive list of actions by a CareLink NM provider agency that fail to meet full execution of a CareLink NM service includes attempting to call or visit an eligible member. For referral to community and support services that may not include direct contact with an eligible recipient, the provider agency must, at a minimum, include a service referral and a follow-up with the service provider after the eligible recipient engagement, in order to receive reimbursement.

A. Fee-for-service (FFS) reimbursement: For an eligible recipient who is utilizing FFS benefits, the provider agency will submit a PMPM health home code through the fiscal agent's claims system when a CareLink NM service is provided to an eligible recipient, which will then result in a PMPM payment. The requirement for the provider agency to submit a claim for payment allows HCA to ensure that the eligible recipient receives the CareLink NM service before payment is made. If a CareLink NM service is not provided to an eligible recipient in a given month, the provider agency will not receive a PMPM payment. The claims submission also provides data to HCA on CareLink NM services rendered and the date of service for monitoring and evaluation purposes including outcome and quality studies.

B. Managed care reimbursement: For an eligible recipient who is a member of a MCO, the provider agency and the MCO shall negotiate reimbursement at an amount no less than the established PMPM rate for a health home.

8.310.12.9 INDIAN HEALTH SERVICE AND TRIBAL 638 FACILITIES:

HSD, through the medical assistance division (MAD), pays for medically necessary health services furnished to an eligible recipient, including American Indian and Alaska native (AI/AN) eligible recipients. The Indian health service (IHS) is a federal agency within the United States department of health and human services (DHHS) that is responsible for providing health services to AI/ANs based on the unique government-to-government relationship between federally recognized tribes and nations and the federal government. The IHS health care delivery system consists of health facilities owned and operated by IHS, facilities owned by IHS and operated by tribes or tribal organizations under Title I or Title III of the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act (Public Law 93-638, as amended) agreements, and facilities owned and operated by tribes or tribal organizations under such agreements, hereafter referred to as"IHS and tribal 638 facilities". Pursuant to Section 1911 of the Social Security Act; see 42 U.S.C. 1369j and the 1996 memorandum of agreement between IHS and the centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS), IHS and tribal 638 facilities are eligible to be reimbursed by MAD for furnishing covered healthcare services to a MAP eligible AI/AN recipient (eligible recipient). Specific to this rule, an eligible recipient includes a member enrolled in a HSD contracted managed care organization (MCO).

[8.310.12.9 NMAC - N, 11-1-14]

8.310.12.10 ELIGIBLE PROVIDERS:

A. Health care to an eligible recipient is furnished by a variety of providers and provider groups. Reimbursement and billing for these services are administered by MAD. Upon approval of a New Mexico provider participation agreement (PPA) by MAD or its designee, licensed practitioners, facilities and other providers of services that meet applicable requirements are eligible to be reimbursed for furnishing covered services to an eligible recipient. Providers must be enrolled before submitting a claim for payment to the MAD claims processing contractor. MAD makes available on the HSD website, on other program specific websites, or in hard copy format, information necessary to participate in health care programs administered by HSD or its authorized agents, including program rules, billing instructions, utilization review instructions, and other pertinent material. When enrolled, a provider receives instruction on how to access these documents. It is the provider’s responsibility to access these instructions, to understand the information provided therein and comply with the requirements. Providers must contact MAD for answers to billing questions or any of these materials. To be eligible for reimbursement, a provider must adhere to provisions of the MAD PPA and applicable statutes, regulations, rules and executive orders. MAD, or its selected claims processing contractor, issues payment to a provider using electronic funds transfer (EFT) only. Upon approval of the provider's PPA by MAD, the following practitioners and facilities may be enrolled as MAD providers:

(1) IHS facilities;

(2) Public Law 93-638 tribal facilities;

(3) urban Indian facilities (follows the rules for a federally qualified health center);

(4) IHS or tribal 638 facility pharmacies which follow 8.324.4 NMAC; and

(5) off site locations on federal land and facilities approved by MAD.

B. Practitioners contracted or employed by the above facilities are enrolled as individual providers for rendering services when appropriate.

C. Services rendered must be medically necessary and within the scope of practice of the practitioner or provider and are limited to benefits and services covered by MAD.

D. For services provided under the federal public health service, including IHS, rendering providers must meet the requirements of the public health service corp.

E. Additional provider numbers or NPI numbers may be required when necessary to assure that claiming of federal matching funds by MAD is accurate as per federal requirements to distinguish between 100% federal match rates and other match rates.

[8.310.12.10 NMAC - N, 11-1-14]

8.310.12.11 PROVIDER RESPONSIBILITIES AND REQUIREMENTS:

A. A provider who furnishes services to an eligible recipient must comply with all applicable laws, regulations, rules, standards, and the provisions of the MAD PPA. A provider must adhere to MAD program rules as specified in the New Mexico administrative code (NMAC) and program policies that include, but are not limited to, supplements, billing instructions, and utilization review directions, as updated. The provider is responsible for following coding manual guidelines and centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS) correct coding initiatives, including not improperly unbundling or upcoding services.

B. A provider must verify an individual is eligible for a specific MAD service and verify the recipient's enrollment status at time of service. A provider must determine if an eligible recipient has other applicable health insurance. A provider must maintain records that are sufficient to fully disclose the extent and nature of the services provided to an eligible recipient.

C. Services furnished must be within the scope of practice defined by the provider's licensing board, scope of practice act or regulatory authority, or as customarily provided under IHS or public health service administrative direction including the level of supervision required for services.

[8.310.12.11 NMAC - N, 11-1-14]

8.310.12.12 COVERED SERVICES:

MAD covers medically necessary services and procedures for the diagnosis and treatment of an illness or injury as indicated by the eligible recipient's condition. Services must be furnished within the limits of MAD rules and within the scope of practice of the provider's professional standards. Public health services including services by public health nurses are covered to the same extent their services would be covered for non-IHS public health facilities. Limitations on covered services based on age and category of eligibility also apply to services rendered at an IHS or tribal 638 facility. Examples include enhanced benefits only available to early and periodic screening, diagnostic and treatment (EPSDT) eligible recipients, and limitations and enhanced services for alternative benefit plan (ABP) eligible recipients and eligible recipient pregnant women.

A. Outpatient encounters and visits: An outpatient encounter or visit is face-to-face contact between a practitioner and an eligible recipient as documented in the eligible recipient's physical or behavioral health record. An encounter or visit can occur at an IHS facility, tribal 638 facility, or a MAD recognized offsite location including IHS or tribal facility-based services that are provided in the home or in community centers or other locations but the medical records and the supervision or direction of the service comes from the eligible facility. To be billable as an encounter, the eligible recipient must be seen by a level of practitioner who would be eligible to be enrolled as a MAD provider or a practitioner comparable to that required by other service and provider rules or the service must be supervised by a level of practitioner who would be eligible to be enrolled as a MAD provider or a practitioner comparable to that required by other service and provider rules. Examples include but are not limited to the following: audiologist, behavioral health professional, certified nurse midwife, certified nurse practitioner, clinical nurse specialist, clinical pharmacy specialist, dentist, dental hygienist, licensed dietician, occupational therapist, optometrist, pharmacist clinician, physician assistant, physician, physical therapist, podiatrist, speech therapist and other provider types within their scope of practice as designated by MAD; see 8.310.2 NMAC, 8.310.3 NMAC and 8.321.2 NMAC.

(1) Visits to the same facility, on the same day, for the same or related diagnosis constitutes a single encounter.

(2) Multiple encounters can occur on the same date of service when the services are distinct. The following are examples of types of separate encounters:

(a) an eligible recipient receives a service that is not associated with the initial encounter and the service provided is for a different principal diagnosis; or

(b) an eligible recipient is seen at two different facilities (different provider numbers) and one of the facilities is unable to provide the necessary services for the diagnosis or treatment of the eligible recipient's condition.

(3) An outpatient encounter may be billed when a visit consists of services that could be provided in a physician's office such as instructions to a diabetic, medication management, and anticoagulant management, when provided by a qualified individual as part of a facility-based outpatient program if no other related encounter occurs that day, similar to how services would be covered for other providers and clinics in other MAD service rules.

(4) An outpatient encounter may be billed when an eligible recipient returns at a later date for a follow up MAD service such as a laboratory, radiology, or therapy service which does not require an additional physician visit if no other related visit occurs that day.

(5) When a MAD service typically requires multiple visits such as orthodontia services, crowns, and dentures, the provider may bill an amount for the initial service that includes the standard number of encounters for the service are for the standard number of visits, similar to how services would be covered for other providers in other MAD service rules, or be paid at a fee schedule amounts that closely approximates the appropriate payment for multiple services.

B. Inpatient hospital stays: An inpatient hospital stay occurs when an eligible recipient is admitted and stays overnight.

C. Services not subject to office of management and budget (OMB) codes or rates: Some services are covered by MAD when occurring within an IHS or a tribal facility but are not included or billed at the OMB rate. These services are covered to the extent described under applicable rules for the service, and include:

(1) anesthesia (professional charges);

(2) ambulatory surgical center facility services;

(3) targeted case management;

(4) hearing appliances (hearing testing is reimbursed at the OMB rate);

(5) physician inpatient hospital visits and surgeries;

(6) smoking cessation;

(7) vision appliances, including frames, lenses, dispensing, and contacts (vision exams are at the OMB rate); and

(8) telemedicine's originating site facility fee; a telemedicine originating site fee is covered when the requirements of 8.310.2 NMAC are met; both the originating and distant sites may be IHS or tribal facilities at two different locations or if the distant site is under contract to the IHS or tribal facility and would qualify to be an enrolled provider; a telemedicine originating site fee is not payable if the telemedicine technology is used to connect an employee or staff member of a facility to the eligible recipient being seen at the same facility; however, even if the service does not qualify for a telemedicine originating site fee, the use of telemedicine technology may be appropriate thereby allowing the service provided to meet the standards to qualify as an encounter by providing the equivalent of face-to-face contact.

D. Behavioral health services:

(1) Outpatient behavioral health services billed using the outpatient OMB codes include assessments and evaluations, outpatient therapies, comprehensive community support services (CCSS), and other services as approved by MAD.

(2) Other specialized behavior health services may be reimbursed at the MAD fee for service (FFS) rate or at an OMB rate, as agreed between the facility and MAD.

(3) Prior to billing specialized behavioral health services including CCSS, the IHS or tribal 638 facility must submit documentation to MAD demonstrating the ability to adhere to the service definitions and standards for the specific service; see 8.321.2 NMAC.

E. Pharmacy services: See 8.324.4 NMAC for an IHS and a tribal 638 facility enrolled as a pharmacy. Pharmacy services are not part of the OMB rate. Pharmacy claims are not limited to a 30 or 90 day supply when the prescriber has written for a larger days' supply of medication. Pharmacy claims may exceed the days' supply limitations if the amounts dispensed at one time is reasonable. IHS and tribal 638 facility pharmacy claims are not subject to formularies or preferred drug lists or authorization as the facility maintains its own formulary.

F. Transportation services: For a detailed description of transportation services, see 8.324.7 NMAC.

[8.310.12.12 NMAC - N, 11-1-14]

8.310.12.13 PRIOR AUTHORIZATION AND UTILIZATION REVIEW:

IHS and tribal 638 facilities need not obtain prior authorization for services, but must continue to follow standards of care within its scope of practice and retain documentation in the eligible recipient's physical and behavioral health record. MAD services are subject to utilization review for medical necessity and program compliance. Reviews may be performed before or after services are furnished.

[8.310.12.13 NMAC - N, 11-1-14]

8.310.12.14 NON-COVERED SERVICES:

For a detailed description of general non-covered MAD services, see 8.310.2 NMAC and 8.321.2 NMAC. Other MAD service rules may have additional non-covered MAD service restrictions.

[8.310.12.14 NMAC - N, 11-1-14]

8.310.12.15 REIMBURSEMENT:

OMB rates are published annually in the federal register and are applicable to an IHS and a tribal 638 facility. These rates are applied retroactively to their effective date.

A. IHS OMB outpatient and inpatient reimbursement rates include facility fees and professional fees except as described in this rule.

(1) Outpatient encounters and visits: MAD reimburses outpatient encounters and visits at the OMB outpatient encounter rate. Reimbursement at OMB rates is retroactive to the dates of service for which the OMB rates are applicable.

(2) Inpatient hospital service: MAD reimburses covered inpatient hospital stays at the federally published OMB hospital inpatient per diem rate. The inpatient OMB rate applies when an eligible recipient has been under outpatient care observation or is receiving extended outpatient medical services, and the time period has been for 24 hours or more whether the eligible recipient has been formally admitted or not. Risk factors such as distance of the facility from the eligible recipient's residence for potential emergency follow up care, as well as lack of availability of step-down care providers (home health services, nursing facilities, and acute long term care hospital facilities) may be considered in making discharge decisions regarding the eligible recipient. Alternatively, the facility may elect to bill a daily outpatient OMB rate for an eligible recipient under observation. Reimbursement at OMB rates is retroactive to the date of service for which the federal OMB rates are applicable.

(3) Reimbursement following medicare payment is made at the full copayment, deductible and co-insurance amounts determined by medicare. Reimbursement following payment by other insurance is made at the OMB rate, is applicable, less the payment received from the other insurer.

B. Services not subject to the OMB rates are reimbursed according to MAD rules for the specific service. For services not reimbursable the facility at 100% federal matching funds, the facility may be enrolled additionally for services to be paid at standard federal matching rates.

C. Electronic billing requirements: Electronic billing of claims is required unless an exemption has been allowed by MAD. Exemptions will be given on a case-by-case basis with consideration given to barriers faced by the provider in electronic billing, such as small volume for which developing electronic submission capability is impractical. The requirement for electronic submission of claims does not apply when paper attachments must accompany the claim form.

D. Responsibility for claims: A provider is responsible for all claims submitted under his or her national provider identifier (NPI) or provider number, including responsibility for accurate coding representing the services provided without inappropriately upcoding, unbundling, or billing mutually exclusive codes as indicated by published coding manuals, directives, CMS correct coding initiatives, and NMAC MAD rules.

8.311.2.9 HOSPITAL SERVICES:

[8.311.2.9 NMAC - Rp 8.311.2.9 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.311.2.10 ELIGIBLE PROVIDERS:

Health care to eligible recipients is furnished by a variety of providers and provider groups. The reimbursement and billing for these services is administered by MAD. Upon approval of a New Mexico MAD provider participation agreement by MAD or its designee, licensed practitioners, facilities and other providers of services that meet applicable requirements are eligible to be reimbursed for furnishing covered services to eligible recipients. A provider must be enrolled before submitting a claim for payment to the MAD claims processing contractors. MAD makes available on the HCA/MAD website, on other program-specific websites, or in hard copy format, information necessary to participate in health care programs administered by HCA or its authorized agents, including program rules, billing instructions, utilization review instructions, and other pertinent materials. When enrolled, a provider receives instruction on how to access these documents. It is the provider's responsibility to access these instructions, to understand the information provided and to comply with the requirements. The provider must contact HCA or its authorized agents to obtain answers to questions related to the material. To be eligible for reimbursement, a provider must adhere to the provisions of the MAD provider participation agreement and all applicable statutes, regulations, and executive orders. MAD or its selected claims processing contractor issues payments to a provider using electronic funds transfer (EFT) only. Eligible providers include:

A. a general acute care hospital, rehabilitation, extended care or other specialty hospital:

(1) licensed by the New Mexico department of health (DOH), and

(2) participating in the Title XVIII (medicare) program or accredited by the joint commission (previously known as JCAHO accreditation);

B. a rehabilitation inpatient unit or a psychiatric unit in an inpatient hospital (referred to as a prospective payment system exempt unit (PPS-exempt));

C. a free-standing psychiatric hospital may be reimbursed for providing inpatient and outpatient services to an eligible recipient under 21 years of age; see 8.321.2 NMAC, Inpatient Psychiatric Care in Free-Standing Psychiatric Hospitals;

D. a border area and out-of-state hospital is eligible to be reimbursed by MAD if its licensure and certification to participate in its state medicaid or medicare program is accepted in lieu of licensing and certification by MAD; and

E. a hospital certified only for emergency services is reimbursed for furnishing inpatient and outpatient emergency services for the period during which the emergency exists.

[8.311.2.10 NMAC - Rp 8.311.2.10 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.311.2.11 PROVIDER RESPONSIBILITIES:

A. A provider who furnishes services to an eligible recipient must comply with all federal and state laws, regulations and executive orders relevant to the provision of services as specified in the MAD provider participation agreement. A provider also must conform to MAD program rules and instructions as specified in the provider rules manual and its appendices, as well as current program directions and billing instructions, as updated. A provider is also responsible for following coding manual guidelines and CMS correct coding initiatives, including not improperly unbundling or upcoding services.

B. A provider must verify that an individual is eligible for a specific health care program administered by the HCA and its authorized agents and must verify the eligible recipient's enrollment status at the time services are furnished. A provider must determine if an eligible recipient has other health insurance. A provider must maintain records that are sufficient to fully disclose the extent and nature of the services provided to an eligible recipient. See 8.302.1 NMAC, General Provider Policies.

C. A provider agrees to be paid by the MAD managed care organizations (MCOs) at any amount mutually-agreed between the provider and MCOs when the provider enters into contracts with MCOs contracting with HCA for the provision of managed care services to the MAD population.

(1) If the provider and the MCOs are unable to agree to terms or fail to execute an agreement for any reason, the MCOs shall be obligated to pay, and the provider shall accept, one hundred percent of the "applicable reimbursement rate" based on the provider type for services rendered under both emergency and non-emergency situations.

(2) The "applicable reimbursement rate" is defined as the rate paid by HCA to the provider participating in medicaid or other medical assistance programs administered by HCA and excludes disproportionate share hospital and medical education payments.

D. When services are billed to and paid by a MAD fee-for-service coordinated services contractor authorized by HCA, under an administrative services contract, the provider must also enroll as a provider with the coordinated services contractor and follow that contractor's instructions for billing and for authorization of services.

[8.311.2.11 NMAC - Rp 8.311.2.11 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.311.2.12 COVERED SERVICES:

MAD covers inpatient and outpatient hospital, and emergency services which are medically necessary for the diagnosis, the treatment of an illness or injury or as required by the condition of the eligible recipient. MAD covers items or services ordinarily furnished by a hospital for the care and treatment of an eligible recipient. These items or services must be furnished under the direction of an enrolled MAD physician, podiatrist, or dentist with staff privileges in a hospital which is an enrolled MAD provider. Services must be furnished within the scope and practice of the profession as defined by state laws and in accordance with applicable federal and state and local laws and regulations.

[8.311.2.12 NMAC - Rp 8.311.2.12 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.311.2.13 PRIOR AUTHORIZATION AND UTILIZATION REVIEW:

All MAD services are subject to utilization review for medical necessity and program compliance. Reviews may be performed before services are furnished, after services are furnished and before payment is made, or after payment is made. See 8.302.5 NMAC, Prior Authorization and Utilization Review. It is the provider's responsibility to access these instructions or ask for paper copies to be provided, to understand the information provided, to comply with the requirements, and to obtain answers to questions not covered by these materials. When services are billed to and paid by a coordinated services contractor authorized by HCA, the provider must follow that contractor's instructions for authorization of services.

A. Prior authorization: Certain procedures or services may require prior authorization from MAD or its designee. A procedure that requires prior authorization is primarily one for which the medical necessity may be uncertain, which may be for cosmetic purposes, or which may be of questionable effectiveness or long-term benefit.

(1) All transfers from one acute care DRG reimbursed hospital to another DRG reimbursed hospital.

(2) All inpatient stays for a PPS-exempt psychiatric unit of a general acute care hospital requires admission and continued stay reviews.

(3) All inpatient stays in a rehabilitation hospital, a PPS-exempt rehabilitation unit in a general acute care hospital, and an extended care or other specialty hospital requires admission and continued stay reviews.

(4) Outpatient physical, occupational, and speech therapies services require prior authorization.

(5) Services for which prior authorization was obtained remain subject to utilization review at any point in the payment process.

B. Eligibility determination: Prior authorization of services does not guarantee that an individual is eligible for MAD services. A provider must verify that an individual is eligible for the MAD services at the time services are furnished and determine if an eligible recipient has other health insurance.

C. Consideration: A provider who disagrees with a prior authorization request denial or another review decision may request a re-review and a reconsideration. See MAD-953, Reconsideration of Utilization Review Decisions.

[8.311.2.13 NMAC - Rp 8.311.2.13 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.311.2.14 INPATIENT SERVICES:

MAD coverage of some inpatient services may be conditional or limited.

A. Medically warranted days: A general hospital is not reimbursed for days of acute level inpatient services furnished to an eligible recipient as a result of difficulty in securing alternative placement. A lack of nursing facility placement is not sufficient grounds for continued acute-level hospital care.

B. Awaiting placement days:

(1) When the MAD utilization review (UR) contractor determines that an eligible recipient no longer meets the care criteria in a rehabilitation, extended care or other specialty hospital or PPS exempt rehabilitation hospital but requires a nursing facility level of care which may not be immediately located, those days during which the eligible recipient is awaiting placement in a lower level of care facility are termed "awaiting placement days". Payment to the hospital for awaiting placement days is made at the weighted average rate paid by MAD for the level of nursing facility services required by the eligible recipient (high NF or low NF).

(2) When the MAD UR contractor determines that a recipient under 21 years of age no longer meets acute care criteria and it is verified that an appropriate reviewing authority has made a determination that the eligible recipient requires a residential level of care which may not be immediately located, those days during which the eligible recipient is awaiting placement to the lower level of care are termed "awaiting placement days". MAD does not cover residential care for individuals over 21 years of age.

(3) Payment to the hospital for awaiting placement days is made at the weighted average rate paid by MAD for residential services that may have different levels of classification based on the medical necessity for the placement of the eligible recipient. See 8.302.5 NMAC, Prior Authorization and Utilization Review. A separate claim form must be submitted for awaiting placement days.

(4) MAD does not pay for any ancillary services for "awaiting placement days". The rate paid is considered all inclusive. Medically necessary physician visits or, in the case of the eligible recipient under 21 years of age requiring residential services, licensed Ph.D. psychologist visits, are not included in this limitations.

C. Private rooms: A hospital is not reimbursed for the additional cost of a private room unless the private room is medically necessary to protect the health of the eligible recipient or others.

D. Services performed in an outpatient setting: MAD covers certain procedures performed in an office, clinic, or as an outpatient institutional service which are alternatives to hospitalization. Generally, these procedures are those for which an overnight stay in a hospital is seldom necessary.

(1) An eligible recipient may be hospitalized if there is an existing medical condition which predisposes the eligible recipient to complications even with minor procedures.

(2) All claims for one- or two-day stays for hospitalization are subject to pre-payment or post-payment review.

E. Observation stay: If a physician orders an eligible recipient to remain in the hospital for less than 24 hours, the stay is not covered as inpatient admission, but is classified as an observation stay. An observation stay is considered an outpatient service.

(1) The following are exemptions to the general observation stay definition:

(a) the eligible recipient dies;

(b) documentation in medical records indicates that the eligible recipient left against medical advice or was removed from the facility by their legal guardian against medical advice;

(c) an eligible recipient is transferred to another facility to obtain necessary medical care unavailable at the transferring facility; or

(d) an inpatient admission results in delivery of a child.

(2) MAD or its designee determines whether an eligible recipient's admission falls into one of the exempt categories or considers it to be a one- or two-day stay.

(a) If an admission is considered an observation stay, the admitting hospital is notified that the services are not covered as an inpatient admission.

(b) A hospital must bill these services as outpatient observation services. However, outpatient observation services must be medically necessary and must not involve premature discharge of an eligible recipient in an unstable medical condition.

(3) The hospital or attending physician can request a re-review and reconsideration of the observation stay decision. See MAD 953, Reconsideration of Utilization Review Decisions.

(4) The observation stay review does not replace the review of one- and two-day stays for medical necessity.

(5) MAD does not cover medically unnecessary admissions, regardless of length of stay.

F. Review of hospital admissions: All cases requiring a medical peer review decision on appropriate use of hospital resources, quality of care or appropriateness of admission, transfer into a different hospital, and readmission are reviewed by MAD or its designee. MAD or its designee performs a medical review to verify the following:

(1) admission to acute care hospital is medically necessary;

(2) all hospital services and surgical procedures furnished are appropriate to the eligible recipient's condition and are reasonable and necessary to the care of the eligible recipient;

(3) patterns of inappropriate admissions and transfers from one hospital to another are identified and are corrected; hospitals are not reimbursed for inappropriate admissions or transfers; and

(4) the method of payment and its application by a hospital does not jeopardize the quality of medical care.

G. Non-covered services: MAD does not cover the following specific inpatient benefits:

(1) a hospital service which is not considered medically necessary by MAD or its designee for the condition of the eligible recipient;

(2) a hospital service that requires prior authorization for which the approval was not requested except in cases with extenuating circumstances as granted by MAD or its designee;

(3) a hospital service which is furnished to an individual who was not eligible for MAD services on the date of service;

(4) an experimental or investigational procedure, technology or therapy and the service related to it, including hospitalization, anesthesiology, laboratory tests, and imaging services; see MAD-765, Experimental or Investigational Procedures or Therapies;

(5) a drug classified as "ineffective" by the federal food and drug administration;

(6) private duty or incremental nursing services;

(7) laboratory specimen handling or mailing charges; and

(8) formal educational or vocational training services which relate to traditional academic subjects or training for employment.

H. Covered services in hospitals certified for emergency services-only: Certain inpatient and outpatient services may be furnished by a hospital certified to participate in the Title XVIII (medicare) program as an emergency hospital. MAD reimburses a provider only for treatment of conditions considered to be medical or surgical emergencies. "Emergency" is defined as a condition which develops unexpectedly and needs immediate medical attention to prevent the death or serious health impairment of the eligible recipient which necessitates the use of the most accessible hospital equipped to furnish emergency services.

(1) MAD covers the full range of inpatient and outpatient services furnished to an eligible recipient in an emergency situation in a hospital which is certified for emergency services-only.

(2) MAD reimbursement for emergency services furnished in a hospital certified for an emergency services- only is made for the period during which the emergency exists.

(a) Documentation of the eligible recipient’s condition, the physician’s statement that emergency services were necessary, and the date when, in the physician’s judgment, the emergency ceased, must be attached to the claim form.

(b) An emergency no longer exists when it becomes safe from a medical standpoint to move the eligible recipient to a certified inpatient hospital or to discharge the eligible recipient.

(c) Reimbursement for services in an emergency hospital is made at a percentage of reasonable charges as determined by HCA. No retroactive adjustments are made.

I. Patient self determination act: An adult eligible recipient must be informed of their right to make health decisions, including the right to accept or refuse medical treatment, as specified in the Patient Self-Determination Act. See 8.302.1 NMAC, General Provider Policies.

J. Psychiatric services furnished to an eligible recipient under 21 years of age in PPS-exempt units of acute care hospitals: Services furnished to an eligible recipient must be under the direction of a physician. In the case of psychiatric services furnished to an eligible recipient under 21 years of age, these services must be furnished under the direction of board eligible/board certified psychiatrist, or a licensed psychologist working in collaboration with a similarly qualified psychiatrist. The psychiatrist must conduct an evaluation of the eligible recipient, in person, within 24 hours of admission. In the case of an eligible recipient under 12 years of age, the psychiatrist must be board eligible/board certified in child or adolescent psychiatry. The requirement for the specified psychiatrist for an eligible recipient under age 12 and under 21 years of age may be waived when all of the following conditions are met:

(1) the need for admission is urgent or emergent, and transfer or referral to another provider poses an unacceptable risk for adverse patient outcomes; and

(2) at the time of admission, a board eligible/ board certified psychiatrist, or in the case of an eligible recipient under 12 years of age, a child psychiatrist is not accessible in the community in which the facility is located; and

(3) another facility which is able to furnish a board eligible/board certified psychiatrist, or in the case of an eligible recipient under 12 years of age, a child psychiatrist, is not available or accessible in the community; and

(4) the admission is for stabilization only and transfer arrangements to the care of a board eligible/ board certified psychiatrist, or in the case of an eligible recipient under 12 years of age, a child psychiatrist is made as soon as possible with the understanding that if the eligible recipient needs to transfer to another facility, the actual transfer will occur as soon as the eligible recipient is stable for transfer, in accordance with professional standards.

K. Reimbursement for inpatient services: MAD reimburses for inpatient hospital services using different methodologies. See 8.311.3 NMAC, Methods and Standards for Establishing Payment Rates - Inpatient Hospital Services.

(1) All services or supplies furnished during the hospital stay are reimbursed by the hospital payment amount and no other provider may bill for services or supplies; an exception to this general rule applies to durable medical equipment delivered for discharge and ambulance transportation.

(2) A physician's services are not reimbursed to a hospital under hospital services regulations, but may be payable as a professional component of a service. See 8.310.2 NMAC, Medical Services Providers, for information on the professional component of services.

(3) Transportation services are billed as part of a hospital claim if the hospital is DRG reimbursed and transportation is necessary during the inpatient stay.

(a) Transportation is included in a DRG payment when an eligible recipient is transported to a different facility for procedure(s) not available at the hospital where the eligible recipient is a patient.

(b) Exceptions are considered for air ambulance services operated by a facility when air transportation constitutes an integral part of the medical services furnished by the facility. See 8.324.7 NMAC, Transportation Services.

L. Reimbursement limitations for capital costs: Reimbursement for capital costs follows the guidelines set forth in HIM-15. See P.L. 97-248 (TEFRA). In addition, MAD applies the following restrictions for new construction:

(1) The total basis of depreciable assets does not exceed the median cost of constructing a hospital as listed in an index acceptable to MAD, adjusted for New Mexico costs and for inflation in the construction industry from the date of publication to the date the provider is expected to become a MAD provider.

(2) The cost of construction is expected to include only the cost of buildings and fixed equipment.

(3) A reasonable value of land and major movable equipment is added to obtain the value of the entire facility.

[8.311.2.14 NMAC - Rp 8.311.2.14 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.311.2.15 OUTPATIENT SERVICES:

MAD covers outpatient services which are medically necessary for prevention, diagnosis or rehabilitation as indicated by the condition of an eligible recipient. Services must be furnished within the scope and practice of a professional provider as defined by state laws and regulations.

A. Outpatient covered services: Covered hospital outpatient care includes the use of minor surgery or cast rooms, intravenous infusions, catheter changes, first aid care of injuries, laboratory and radiology services, and diagnostic and therapeutic radiation, including radioactive isotopes. A partial hospitalization program in a general hospital psychiatric unit is considered under outpatient services. See 8.321.5 NMAC, Outpatient Psychiatric Services and Partial Hospitalization.

B. Outpatient noncovered services: MAD does not cover the following specific outpatient benefits:

(1) outpatient hospital services not considered medically necessary for the condition of the eligible recipient;

(2) outpatient hospital services that require prior approval for which the approval was not requested except in cases with extenuating circumstances as granted by MAD or its designee;

(3) outpatient hospital services furnished to an individual who was not eligible for MAD services on the date of service;

(4) experimental or investigational procedures, technologies or therapies and the services related to them, including hospitalization, anesthesiology, laboratory tests, and imaging services; see 8.325.6 NMAC, Experimental or Investigational Procedures or Therapies;

(5) drugs classified as "ineffective" by the federal food and drug administration;

(6) laboratory specimen handling or mailing charges; and

(7) formal educational or vocational services which relate to traditional academic subjects or training for employment.

C. MCO payment rates: If a provider and an MCO are unable to agree to terms or fail to execute an agreement for any reason, the MCO shall be obliged to pay, and the provider shall accept, one hundred percent of the "applicable reimbursement rate" based on the provider type for services rendered under both emergency and non-emergency situations. The "applicable reimbursement rate" is defined as the rate paid by HCA to the provider participating in medicaid or other medical assistance programs administered by HCA and excludes disproportionate share hospital and medical education payments.

D. Prior authorization: Certain procedures or services performed in outpatient settings can require prior approval from MAD or its designee. Outpatient physical, occupational, and speech therapies services require prior authorization.

E. Reimbursement for outpatient services: Effective November 1, 2010, outpatient hospital services are reimbursed using outpatient prospective payment system (OPPS) rates. The OPPS rules for payment for packaged services, separately reimbursed services are based on the medicare ambulatory payment classification (APC) methodology.

(1) Reimbursement for laboratory services, radiology services, and drug items will not exceed maximum levels established by MAD. Hospitals must identify drugs items purchased at 340B prices.

(2) Services or supplies furnished by a provider under contract or through referral must meet the contract services requirements and be reimbursed based on approved methods. See 8.302.2 NMAC, Billing For Medicaid Services.

(3) For critical access hospital providers, the MAD outpatient prospective payment system (OPPS) fee-for-service rate will be set based on the provider's reported cost to charge ratio reported in the provider's most recently filed cost report prior to February 1, 2012.

(4) For services not reimbursed using the outpatient prospective payment system (OPPS) methodology or fee schedule, reimbursement for a MAD fee-for-service provider will be made using the medicare allowable cost method, reducing medicare allowable costs by three percent. An interim rate of payment is established by MAD. A rate of payment for providers not subject to the cost settlement process is also established by MAD to equal or closely approximate the final payment rates that apply under the cost settlement TEFRA principals. If the provider is not cost settled, the reimbursement rate will be at the provider's cost to charge ratio reported in the provider's most recently filed cost report prior to February 1, 2012. Otherwise, rates are established after considering available cost to charge ratios, payment levels made by other payers, and MAD payment levels for services of similar cost, complexity and duration.

[8.311.2.15 NMAC - Rp 8.311.2.15 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.311.2.16 EMERGENCY ROOM SERVICES:

MAD covers emergency room services which are medically necessary for the diagnosis and treatment of medical or surgical emergencies to an eligible recipient and which are within the scope of the MAD program.

A. Covered emergency services: An emergency condition is a medical or behavioral health condition manifesting itself by acute symptoms of sufficient severity (including severe pain) such that a prudent layperson, who possesses an average knowledge of health and medicine could reasonably expect the absence of immediate medical attention to result in placing the health of the individual (or with respect to a pregnant woman, the health of the woman or her unborn child) in serious jeopardy, serious impairment to body function or serious dysfunction of any bodily organ or part.

B. Retrospective review: An emergency room service may be subject to prepayment or post-payment review. A provider, including an enrolled provider, a non-enrolled provider, a managed care organization provider, or an out of network provider cannot bill an eligible recipient for emergency room services including diagnostic and ancillary services which have been denied due to lack of medical necessity or lack of being an emergency except as specifically allowed by 8.302.2 NMAC, Billing for Medicaid Services. When an eligible recipient has identified himself or herself to a provider as a medicaid eligible recipient and is enrolled in a managed care organization, the provider of services must accept and adhere to the provisions of 42 CFR 438 Subpart C Enrollee Rights and Protections which state the administrative and payment responsibilities of a managed care organization and limit the financial responsibilities that can be passed on to an eligible recipient. Payment may be limited to medically necessary diagnostic and treatment services to sufficiently assess the recipient's condition and need for emergency services, the duration of a condition, and available alternatives to emergency room services.

C. Prior authorization: Some services or procedures performed in an emergency room setting need prior approval from MAD or its designee. Procedures that require prior approval in non- emergency settings also require prior approval in emergency settings.

D. Noncovered emergency services: MAD does not cover the following specific emergency services:

(1) diagnostic and other ancillary services which are not considered medically necessary as emergency services;

(2) emergency services furnished to individuals who were not eligible for MAD services on the date of service;

(3) experimental or investigational procedures, technologies or therapies and the services related to them, including hospitalization, anesthesiology, laboratory tests and imaging services; see 8.325.6 NMAC, Experimental or Investigational Procedures or Therapies;

(4) drugs classified as "ineffective" by the federal food and drug administration; and

(5) laboratory specimen handling or mailing charges.

E. Reimbursement for emergency room service: An emergency service furnished by an eligible provider is reimbursed as outpatient hospital services. See Subsection D of 8.311.2.15 NMAC, reimbursement for outpatient services.

(1) An emergency room service furnished in a DRG-reimbursed hospital in conjunction with an inpatient admission is included with the charges for inpatient care. In this case, a payment for an emergency room service is included in the DRG rate.

(2) A physician's service furnished in an emergency room is not reimbursed to a hospital but may be paid as a professional component of a service. See 8.310.2 NMAC, Medical Services Providers.

(3) A service furnished in an urgent care center of a hospital which does not meet the definition of an emergency, may not be submitted as an emergency room service.

The New Mexico title XIX program reimburses appropriately licensed and certified acute care hospitals for inpatient services as outlined in this part. Procedures and policies governing state licensure, certification of providers, utilization review and any other aspect of state regulation of the title XIX program not relating to the method of computing payment rates for inpatient services are not affected by this part.

[8.311.3.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.311.3.9 NMAC, 6/1/2016]

8.311.3.10 GENERAL REIMBURSEMENT POLICY:

The state of New Mexico human services department (hereinafter called the department) will reimburse inpatient hospital services rendered on or after October 1, 1989 in the following manner:

A. Covered inpatient services provided to eligible recipients admitted to in-state acute care hospitals and acute care units on or after October 1, 1989 will be reimbursed at a prospectively set rate, determined by the methodology set forth in 8.311.3.12

NMAC, unless the hospital or unit is classified into one of the prospective payment system (PPS) exempt categories outlined in Subsection C through D below.

B. Covered inpatient services provided to eligible recipients admitted to acute care hospitals and acute care units within hospitals located out-of-state or in border areas (Mexico excluded) will be reimbursed at a prospectively set rate as described in Paragraph (16) of Subsection C of 8.311.12 NMAC, unless the hospital or unit is classified into one of the prospective payment system (PPS) exempt categories outlined in Subsections C through D below or at a negotiated rate not to exceed the rate paid by federal programs such as medicare. Negotiation of rates will only be allowed when the department determines that the hospital provides a unique service required by an eligible recipient.

C. Inpatient services provided in rehabilitation and specialty hospitals and medicare PPS-exempt distinct part units within hospitals will be reimbursed using the provisions and principles of reimbursement set forth in Public Law 97-248. This legislation, which was effective October 1, 1982, is commonly referred to as TEFRA (Tax Equity and Finance Reduction Act) and is described in 8.311.3.11 NMAC.

D. Indian health services hospitals will be reimbursed using a per diem rate established by the federal government.

E. New Mexico providers entering the medical assistance division (MAD) program will be reimbursed at the peer group median rate for the applicable peer group, until such time as a distinct rate can be established, unless the hospital meets the criteria for prospective payment exemption as described in Subsections C through D above.

F. All hospitals which meet the criteria in Subsection A of 8.311.3.13 NMAC will be eligible for a disproportionate share adjustment.

G. Effective for discharges on or after April 1, 1992, and in accordance with Section 4604 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (OBRA) of 1990, the department provides for an outlier adjustment in payment amounts for medically necessary inpatient services involving exceptionally high costs or long lengths of stay for children who have not attained the age of six years in disproportionate share hospitals, and for infants under one year of age in all hospitals, and for individuals of any age in the state teaching hospital. The outlier adjustment for these cases is described in Subsection F of 8.311.3.12 NMAC.

H. MAD covered inpatient services provided in specialty hospitals will be reimbursed at an interim rate established by MAD to equal or closely approximate the final payment rates that apply under the cost settlement TEFRA principals. If a provider is not cost settled, the reimbursement rate will be at the provider’s cost to charge ratio reported in the provider’s most recently filed cost report prior to February 1, 2012. Otherwise, rates are established after considering available cost to charge ratios, payment levels made by other payers, and MAD payment levels for services of similar cost, complexity and duration.

I. The reimbursement rates established by MAD using the reimbursement principles stated in 8.311.3 NMAC may be reduced or limited by budget availability at the department's discretion.

8.311.3.11 PAYMENT METHODOLOGY FOR PPS-EXEMPT HOSPITALS AND EXEMPT UNITS WITHIN HOSPITALS:

A. Application of TEFRA principles of reimbursement:

(1) The principles and methods identified in Public Law 97-248 provision (TEFRA), effective October 1, 1982, regarding allowable payment for inpatient hospital services, and any subsequent changes to such provision shall be used to determine:

(a) the amount payable by the department through its fiscal agent for services covered under the MAD program and provided to eligible recipients; and

(b) the manner of payment and the manner of settlement or overpayments and underpayment for inpatient services provided by hospitals for MAD reimbursement purposes, effective for all accounting periods which begin on or after October 1, 1983.

(2) The inflation factor used in the calculations will be identical to that used by medicare to update payments to hospitals which are reimbursed using the TEFRA methodology, except for the period October 9, 1991 through September 30, 1992, for which the inflation factor will be half percent for urban hospitals and one and a half percent for rural hospitals.

(3) In accordance with Section 1902 (s)(3) of the Social Security Act effective July 1, 1991, the TEFRA rate of increase limit for inpatient hospital services will not apply to the delivery of such services to any individual who has not attained their first birthday, (or in the case of such an individual who is an inpatient on his first birthday until such individual is discharged).

B. Appeals:

(1) Hospitals may appeal the target rate and application of same, if circumstances beyond the hospitals' control have caused the reimbursement rates to fall at least five percent below actual allowable costs.

(2) Such appeals must be filed in writing within 180 calendar days of the notice of final settlement and must contain sufficient supporting documentation to demonstrate that the circumstances causing the situation were not within the control of the hospital and that the continued imposition of the target rate would cause a significant financial hardship.

(3) The department shall review the supporting documentation and, if appropriate, grant an exemption from or modification of the target rate. The department's determination on the merits of the appeal will be made within 180 calendar days of receipt of the appeal request, although the state may make a determination to extend such period to a specified date as necessary.

[8.311.3.11 NMAC - Rp, 8.311.3.11 NMAC, 6/1/2016]

8.311.3.12 PROSPECTIVE PAYMENT METHODOLOGY FOR HOSPITALS:

Payment for all covered inpatient services rendered to eligible recipients admitted to acute care hospitals (other than those identified in Subsections C through D of 8.311.3.10 NMAC) on or after October 1, 1989 shall be made based on a prospective payment approach which compensates hospitals an amount per discharge for discharges classified according to the diagnosis related group (DRG) methodology. The prospective rates for each hospital's MAD discharges will be determined by the department in the manner described in the following subsections.

A. Services included in or excluded from the prospective payment rate:

(1) Prospective payment rates shall constitute payment in full for each MAD discharge. Hospitals may not separately bill the eligible recipient or the MAD program for medical services rendered during an inpatient stay, except as described below. Hospitals may submit a claim for payment only upon the final discharge of an eligible recipient or upon completion of the transfer of the eligible recipient to another acute care hospital.

(2) The prospective payment rate shall include all services provided to hospital inpatients. These services shall include all items and non-physician services furnished directly or indirectly to hospital inpatients, such as:

(a) laboratory services;

(b) pacemakers and other prosthetic devices, including lenses and artificial limbs, knees and hips;

(c) radiology services, including computed tomography (CT) or magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) scans furnished to an eligible recipient by a physician's office, other hospital or radiology clinic;

(d) transportation (including transportation by ambulance) to and from another hospital or freestanding facility to receive specialized diagnostic or therapeutic services.

(3) Services which may be billed separately include:

(a) ambulance service when the eligible recipient is transferred from one hospital to another and is admitted as an inpatient to the second hospital;

(b) physician services furnished to an individual eligible recipient.

B. Computation of DRG relative weights:

(1) Relative weights used for determining rates for cases paid by DRG under the state plan shall be derived, to the greatest extent possible, from New Mexico MAD hospital claim data. All such claims are included in the relative weight computation, except as described below.

(2) Hospital claim data for discharges occurring from January 1, 1985 through approximately the end of calendar year 1988 are included in the computation and prepared as follows:

(a) claims are edited to merge interim bills from the same discharge;

(b) all MAD inpatient discharges will be classified using the DRG methodology, a patient classification system that reflects clinically cohesive groupings of inpatient cases which consume similar amounts of hospital resources; claims are assigned to appropriate DRGs using DRG grouper software;

(c) claims included in the computation of DRG relative weights were restricted to those claims for cases to be included in the proposed PPS; claims for services provided in PPS-exempt hospitals or units (or for services otherwise exempt from the PPS) were not used to compute DRG relative weights.

(3) Charges for varying years are adjusted to represent a common year through application of inflation indices as described in Paragraph (8) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC.

(4) Initial relative weights are computed by calculation of the average MAD charge for each DRG category divided by the average charge for all DRGs.

(5) Where the New Mexico MAD-specific claims and charge data are insufficient to establish a stable relative weight, a relative weight is imported from other sources such as the CHAMPUS or medicare prospective payment systems. Weights obtained from external sources are normalized so that the overall case mix is 1.0.

(6) The relative weights computed as described above shall remain in effect until the next year. At that time, the relative weights will be recalculated using the DRG grouper version similar to the one in use by medicare.

C. Computation of hospital prospective payment rates:

(1) Rebasing of rates: Beginning October 1, 1997, the department discontinued the rebasing of rates every three years. Hospital rates in effect October 1, 1996 were updated by the most current market basket index (MBI) as determined by the centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS) for rates effective October 1, 1997 and succeeding years. Thereafter, pursuant to budget availability and at the department's discretion, the application of the MBI inflation factor will be reviewed based upon economic conditions and trends. A notice will be sent annually, informing the provider if an MBI increase or a percentage up to the MBI is planned for the year. Comments will be accepted by the department prior to making a final decision.

(2) Base year discharge and cost data:

(a) The state's fiscal agent will provide the department with MAD discharges for the provider's last fiscal year which falls in the calendar year prior to year one.

(b) The state's audit agent will provide MAD costs incurred, reported, audited, or desk audited for the same period.

(c) To calculate the total reimbursable inpatient operating costs from the cost and discharge data described above, the department will:

(i) exclude estimated outlier discharges and costs as described in Paragraph (4) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC;

(ii) exclude pass-through costs, as identified in the TEFRA provisions and further defined in Paragraph (3) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC below.

(3) Definition of excludable costs per discharge; reduction of excludable capital costs:

(a) The approach used by the department to define excludable costs parallels medicare's approach. Excludable costs are defined according to the PPS or TEFRA methodology and include such costs as those associated with capital, organ acquisition, and certified nurse anesthetists.

(b) The pass-through capital costs identified using TEFRA provisions will be reduced in a manner similar to that employed by the medicare PPS. For example, excludable capital costs for fiscal year 1989 will be reduced by fifteen percent as required by Section 4006 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1987. However, any such reduction to pass-through capital costs will only apply to those costs incurred after October 1, 1989.

(4) Outlier adjustment factors: Hospital-specific outlier adjustment factors will be used to deduct outlier costs and cases from the total MAD inpatient operating costs and cases used in rate setting. These factors will be determined by using actual claim and cost data for outlier cases for the base year period. Only claims for cases to be paid by DRG will be included in the analysis used to determine this estimate. The definition of an outlier case can be found in Paragraph (1) of Subsection F of 8.311.3.12 NMAC.

(5) Calculation of base year operating cost per discharge: The total reimbursable inpatient operating cost (excluding pass-through costs and estimated outlier costs) is divided by the hospital's number of non-outlier MAD discharges to produce the base year operating cost per discharge. The base rate methodology is described below:

BYOR = OC/D

BYOR = base year operating cost per discharge

OC = total Title XIX inpatient operating cost for the base year, less excludable costs and estimated outlier costs

D = MAD discharges for the hospital's base year as provided by the department's fiscal agent, less estimated outlier cases

(6) Possible use of interim base year operating cost per discharge rate:

(a) If the fiscal agent and audit agent have not provided the department with a hospital's base year discharges and costs as of June 1 prior to year one, the department will develop an interim operating cost per discharge base rate. This rate will be developed according to the normal base rate methodology, but using costs and discharges for the fiscal year prior to the base year.

(b) When an interim rate is developed, the operating costs per discharge are first multiplied by an inflation index (as described in Paragraph (8) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC) to bring the costs to the midpoint of the base year. When the provider's actual base year costs and discharges become available, the department will calculate a final base year operating cost per discharge using the normal base rate methodology. The rate that is computed from the final base year operating costs per discharge will apply to all discharges in year one, retroactive to the effective date of the interim rate.

(7) Prohibition against substitution or rearrangement of base year cost reports:

(a) A hospital's base year cost reports cannot be substituted or rearranged once the department has determined that the actual cost submission is suitable. A submission shall be deemed suitable 180 calendar days from the date of the notice of proposed rate (NPR) issued by the state's intermediary in the absence of an appeal by the hospital to the intermediary and the state.

(b) In the event of such an appeal, the state must make a written determination on the merits of the appeal within 180 calendar days of receipt, although the state may make a determination to extend such period to a specified date as necessary. Once such an appeal has been determined, the resulting base cost will be effective retroactively to year one and will not be changed until subsequent rebasing of all hospitals has been completed.

(8) Application of inflation factors:

(a) The inflation factors used to update operating costs per discharge will be identical to those established by congress and adopted for use by CMS to update medicare inpatient prospective payment rates. The medicare prospective payment update factor (MPPUF) is determined by CMS, usually on an annual basis, and may differ depending upon the hospital type (urban, large urban, or rural) as defined by CMS.

(b) Each hospital's base year operating cost per discharge will be indexed up to the common point of December 31 falling prior to year one, using the applicable medicare prospective payment update factors (MPPUF) for that hospital for that period. That is, the inflation factors used will be identical to those established by congress and adopted for use by CMS to update medicare inpatient prospective payment rates, including any established differential for urban and rural hospitals. Then this value will be indexed using the applicable MPPUF corresponding to the period beginning October 1 (prior to year one) and ending with the midpoint of operating year one. For years two and three, the inflation factors will be the applicable MPPUF as specified by CMS.

(c) For the period October 9, 1991, through September 30, 1992, an exception to (a) and (b) above was made. The inflation factor used to update rates for that period is half percent for urban hospitals and one and a half percent for rural hospitals.

(9) Case-mix adjustments for base year operating cost per discharge rate:

(a) The department will adjust the operating cost per discharge rate to account for case-mix changes, based on the classification of inpatient hospital discharges according to the DRG methodology established and used by the medicare program.

(b) For each DRG, the department determines a relative value (the DRG relative weight) which reflects the charges for hospital resources used for the DRG relative to the average charges of all hospital cases. The department's methodology for computing DRG relative weights was discussed earlier in Subsection B of 8.311.3.12

NMAC. Case-mix adjustments will be computed using the methodology described below.

(c) Case-mix computation: Each base year, a hospital's case-mix index will be computed by the department and its fiscal agent as follows:

(i) all MAD discharges are assigned to appropriate DRGs;

(ii) the case-mix index is computed for each hospital by summing the products of the case frequency and its DRG weight and dividing this sum by the total number of title XIX cases at the hospital.

(d) The case-mix adjustment is applied to the base year operating cost per discharge as described in Subparagraph (e) of Paragraph (10) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC below.

(10) Limitations on operating cost prospective per discharge rates:

(a) Limitations on operating cost prospective base rates will be imposed using a peer group methodology. Effective October 1, 1989, hospitals will be placed in one of six possible peer groups (teaching, referral, regional, low-volume regional, community and low-volume community) based on the following criteria: bed size, case-mix, services available, population served, location, trauma designation, teaching status, and low-volume (i.e. less than 150 MAD discharges per year.)

(b) At the time of the next rebasing year following October 1, 1989, the criteria regarding low-volume utilization was dropped along with the low-volume peer groups, thus leaving four possible peer groups for assignment (teaching, referral, regional and community).

(c) The department will determine the peer group assignment of each hospital, and appeal of such assignment will be allowed only as described in Paragraph (1) of Subsection D of 8.311.3.12 NMAC.

(d) A ceiling on allowable operating costs will be set at one hundred ten percent of the median of costs for all hospitals in the peer group, after application of each hospital's case mix and indexing of the cost from the hospital's fiscal year end to a common point of December 31. These adjustments are made to equalize the status of each hospital for ceiling establishment purposes. The median shall be the midpoint of rates (or the average of the rates of the two hospitals closest to the midpoint).

(e) The case-mix equalization for each hospital in a peer group will be calculated as follows:

PGR = BYOR/CMI

PGR = hospital rate equalized for peer group comparison

BYOR = base year operating cost per discharge

CMI = case-mix index in the base year

(f) The allowable operating cost per discharge rate (hospital-specific rate) will be the lower of:

(i) the ceiling for the hospital's peer group; or

(ii) the hospital rate resulting from the computation found in Subparagraph (e) of Paragraph (10) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC above.

(11) Computation of prospective operating cost per discharge rate: The following formulas are used to determine the prospective operating cost per discharge rate for years one, two and three:

Year one

PDO1 = HSR x (1 + MPPUF)

PDO1 = per discharge operating cost rate for year one

HSR = the hospital-specific rate, which is the lower of the peer group ceiling or the hospital's rate, equalized for peer group comparison

MPPUF = the applicable medicare prospective payment update factor as described in Paragraph (8) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC

Year two

PDO2 = PDO1 x (1 + MPPUF)

PDO2 = per discharge operating cost rate for year two

PDO1 = per discharge operating cost rate for year one

MPPUF = the applicable medicare prospective payment update factor as described in Paragraph (8) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC

Year three

PDO3 = PDO2 x (1 + MPPUF)

PDO3 = per discharge operating cost rate for year three

PDO2 = per discharge operating cost rate for year two

MPPUF = the applicable medicare prospective payment update factor as described in Paragraph (8) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC.

(12) Computation of excludable cost per discharge rate: Total MAD excludable cost, as identified in TEFRA, with excludable capital costs reduced as indicated in Paragraph (3) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC, will be paid in the following manner:

(a) An excludable cost per discharge rate is computed using the following methodology:

ER = ECP/DCY

ER = excludable cost per discharge rate

ECP = excludable costs on the hospital's most recently settled cost report prior to the rate year, as determined by the audit agent.

DCY = MAD discharges for the calendar year prior to the rate year, as determined by the department's fiscal agent.

(b) The retrospective settlement will be determined based on a percentage of the actual allowable amount of MAD excludable costs incurred by a hospital during the hospital's fiscal year as determined by the department.

(13) Computation of prospective per discharge rate: The excludable cost per discharge, as described in Paragraph (12) of Subsection C of 8.311.3.12 NMAC above, will be added to the appropriate operating per discharge rates to determine the prospective rates.

(14) Effective dates of prospective rates: Rates were implemented October 1, 1989 and continue to be effective as of October 1 of each year for each hospital.

(15) Effect on prospective payment rates of a change of hospital ownership: When a hospital is sold or leased, no change is made to the hospital's per discharge rate as a result of the sale or lease transaction.

(16) Rate setting for border-area hospitals: Border-area hospitals will be reimbursed at median rate (including excludable cost pass-throughs) for the regional peer group.

D. Changes to prospective rates:

(1) Appeals: Hospitals may appeal for a change in the operating component of the prospective payment rate, including a change in peer group assignment, as applicable. For an appeal to be considered, the hospital must demonstrate in the appeal that:

(a) the following five requirements are satisfied:

(i) the hospital inpatient service mix for MAD admissions has changed due to a major change in scope of facilities and services provided by the hospital;

(ii) the change in scope of facilities and services has satisfied all regulatory and statutory requirements which may be applicable, such as facility licensure and certification requirements and any other facility or services requirements which might apply;

(iii) the expanded services were a) not available to eligible recipients in the area; or b) are now provided to eligible recipients by the hospital at a lower reimbursement rate than would be obtained in other hospitals providing the service;

(iv) the magnitude of the proposed (as appealed) prospective per discharge rate for the subsequent year will exceed one hundred five percent of the rate that would have otherwise been paid to the hospital;

(v) in addition to requirements Items (i) through (iv) above, appeals for rate adjustment will not be considered if cost changes are due to changes in hospital occupancy rate, collective bargaining actions, changes in hospital ownership or affiliation, or changes in levels of rates of increases of incurred cost items which were included in the base rate;

(b) the appeal must provide a specific recommendation(s) regarding the magnitude of alterations in the appellant's prospective rate per discharge and peer group reassignment, as applicable; in making its decision on any appeal, the department shall be limited to the following options:

(i) reject the appeal on the basis of a failure of the appellant to demonstrate necessary conditions and documentation for an appeal as specified in Subparagraph (a) of Paragraph (1) of Subsection D of 8.311.3.12 NMAC above; or

(ii) accept all of the specific recommendations, as stated in the appeal, in their entirety; or

(iii) adopt modified versions of the recommendations as stated in the appeal; or

(iv) reject all of the recommendations in the appeal;

(c) hospitals are limited to one appeal per year, which must be filed in writing with the MAD director by a duly authorized officer of the hospital no later than July 1 of each year; within 15 calendar days of the filing date, the department shall offer the appellant the opportunity for hearing of the appeal; if such a hearing is requested, it shall occur within 30 calendar days of the filing date; the department shall notify the appellant of the decision of the appeal in writing no later than September 15 of the year in which the appeal is filed.

E. Retroactive settlement:

(1) Retroactive settlement may occur in those cases in which no audited cost reports were available at the time of rate setting and an interim rate was used. Retroactive settlement will only occur in those cases where adjustments to interim rates are required. For year one, the department's audit agent will determine the difference between payments to the hospital under the interim operating cost per discharge rate and what these payments would have been under the final rate. The audit agent will report the amount of overpayment or underpayment for each facility within 90 calendar days of the effective date of the final rate. Retroactive settlements will be based on actual claims paid while the interim rate was in effect.

(2) Underpayments: In the event that the interim rate for year one is less than the final rate, the department will include the amount of underpayment in a subsequent payment to the facility within 30 calendar days of notification of underpayment.

(3) Overpayments: In the event that the interim rate exceeds the final rate, the following procedure will be implemented: the facility will have 30 calendar days from the date of notification of overpayment to submit the amount owed to the department in full. If the amount is not submitted on a timely basis, the department will begin withholding from future payments until the overpayment is satisfied in full.

(4) Retroactive settlements for excludable costs will be handled in the same manner as described above.

F. Special prospective payment provisions:

(1) Outlier cases:

(a) For other than the state teaching hospital, outlier cases are defined as those cases with medically necessary services exceeding $100,000 in billed charges, or those with medically necessary lengths of stay of 75 calendar days or more, when such services are provided to eligible children up to age six in disproportionate share hospitals, and to eligible infants under age one in all hospitals. For the state teaching hospital only, the outlier provisions are applied without regard to age of the recipient in cases with medically necessary services exceeding $125,000 in billed charges or those medically necessary lengths of stay of 75 calendar days or more. All cases will be removed from the DRG payment system and paid at an amount equal to eighty-five percent of the hospital's standardized cost. Standardized costs are determined by multiplying the hospital's allowable billed charges by the hospital's cost-to-charge ratio as calculated from the hospital's most recent cost report.

(b) Utilization review will be performed on all outlier cases to determine the medical necessity of services rendered. Should this review determine non-medical necessity for all or part of the services, these services will be deducted from the billed amount prior to payment.

(2) Payment for transfer cases:

(a) All cases transferred from one acute care hospital to another will be monitored under a utilization review policy to ensure that the department does not pay for inappropriate transfers.

(b) The following methodology will be used to reimburse the transferring and discharging hospitals for appropriate transfers if both hospitals and any hospital units involved are included in the PPS.

(i) A hospital inpatient shall be considered"transferred" when an eligible recipient has been moved from one DRG acute inpatient facility to another DRG acute inpatient facility. Movement of an eligible recipient from one unit to another unit within the same hospital shall not constitute a transfer, unless the eligible recipient is being moved to a PPS exempt unit within the hospital.

(ii) The transferring hospital will be paid the lesser of standardized costs or the appropriate DRG payment amount. Should the stay in the transferring hospital qualify for an outlier payment, then the case will be paid as an outlier as described in Subsection F of 8.311.3.12 NMAC. Standardized costs are determined by multiplying the hospital's allowable billed charges by the hospital's cost-to-charge ratio.

(iii) The receiving hospital which ultimately discharges the eligible recipient will receive the full DRG payment amount, or, if applicable, any outlier payments associated with the case. All other hospitals which admitted and subsequently transferred the eligible recipient to another acute care hospital during a single spell of illness shall be considered transferring hospitals.

(c) If the transferring or discharge hospital or unit is exempt from the PPS, that hospital or unit will be reimbursed according to the method of payment applicable to the particular facility or unit.

(3) Payment for readmissions:

(a) Readmissions that occur within 24 hours of the previous discharge of an eligible recipient with the same or related diagnosis related group (DRG) will be considered part of the prior admission and not paid separately when the admissions are to the same hospital. When the second admission is to a different hospital, the claims may be reviewed to determine if the initial claim should be considered as a transfer.

(b) Readmissions occurring within 15 calendar days of prior acute care admission for a related condition may be reviewed to determine medical necessity and appropriateness of care. If it is determined that either or both admissions were unnecessary or inappropriate, payment for either or both admissions may be denied. Such review may be focused to exempt certain cases at the sole discretion of the department.

(4) Payment for inappropriate brief admissions: Hospital stays of up to two calendar days in length may be reviewed for medical necessity and appropriateness of care. (Discharges involving eligible recipient healthy mothers and healthy newborns are excluded from this review provision.) If it is determined that the inpatient stay was unnecessary or inappropriate, the prospective payment for the inpatient discharge will be denied. If the inpatient claim is denied, the hospital is permitted to resubmit an outpatient claim for the services rendered. Such review may be further focused to exempt certain cases at the sole discretion of the department.

(5) Payment for non-medically warranted days:

(a) Reimbursement for eligible recipients admitted to a hospital receiving services at an inappropriate level of care will be made at rates reflecting the level of care actually received. The number of days covered by the MAD program is determined based only upon medical necessity for an acute level of hospital care.

(b) When it is determined that an eligible recipient no longer requires acute-level care but does require a lower level of institutional care, and when placement in such care cannot be located, a DRG hospital will be reimbursed for"awaiting placement" days. Reimbursement will be made at the weighted average rate paid by the department in the preceding calendar year for the level of care needed. There is no limit on the number of covered"awaiting placement" days as long as those days are medically necessary. However, the hospital is encouraged to make every effort to secure appropriate placement for the eligible recipient as soon as possible. During"awaiting placement" days, no ancillary services will be paid, but medically necessary physician visits will be reimbursed.

(6) Indirect medical education (IME) adjustment: To help cover the cost of residency programs, each acute care hospital that qualifies as a teaching hospital will receive an IME payment adjustment, which covers the increased operating or patient care costs that are associated with approved intern and resident programs. The IME payment adjustment is subject to available state and federal funding, as determined by the department and shall not exceed any amounts specified in the medicaid state plan.

(a) In order to qualify as a teaching hospital and be deemed eligible for an IME adjustment, the hospital must:

(i) be licensed by the state of New Mexico; and

(ii) be reimbursed on a DRG basis under the plan; and

(iii) have 125 or more full-time equivalent (FTE) residents enrolled in approved teaching programs or operate a nationally-accredited primary care residency program.

(b) Determination of a hospital's eligibility for an IME adjustment will be done annually by the department, as of the first day of the provider's fiscal year. If a hospital meets the qualification for an IME adjustment after the start of its fiscal year, it will be deemed eligible for the IME adjustment beginning on the first day of the quarter after the date the qualification were met. A determination that a hospital qualifies as a teaching hospital for IME payments is not to be construed as the state teaching hospital with regard to DRG outlier payments or for GME payments.

(c) The IME payment will be calculated separately for regular medicaid and group VIII (the other adult group who are newly eligible for medicaid under the affordable care act).

(d) The IME payment amount by population group is determined by multiplying DRG operating payments for each group, which are DRG payments and outlier payments, by the IME adjustment factor computed by the following formula:

$$1.89*((1+R)^{.405}-1)$$

where R equals the number of approved full-time equivalent (FTE) residents divided by the number of available beds (excluding nursery and neonatal bassinets). FTE residents are counted in accordance with 42 CFR 412.105(f), except that the limits on the total number of FTE residents in 42 CFR 412.10(f)(1)(iv) shall not apply, and at no time shall exceed 450 FTE residents. For purposes of this paragraph, DRG operating payments include the estimated average per discharge amount that would otherwise have been paid for MAD managed care enrollees if those persons had not been enrolled in managed care.

(e) Quarterly IME payments will be made to qualifying hospitals at the end of each quarter. Prior to the end of each quarter, the provider will submit to the department's audit agent the information necessary to make the calculation, i.e. number of beds, number of estimated residents for the quarter, and the MAD DRG amount. After review and adjustment, if necessary, the audit agent will notify the department of the amount due to/from the provider for the application quarter. Final settlement of the IME adjustment amount will be made through the cost report; that is, the number of beds, residents, and DRG amounts used in the quarterly calculation will be adjusted to the actual numbers shown on the provider's cost report for those quarters.

(7) Payment for direct graduate medical education (GME): For services provided on or after July 1, 1998, payment to hospitals for GME expense is made on a prospective basis as described in this section. Payments will be made quarterly to qualifying hospitals, at a rate determined by the number of resident full-time-equivalents (FTEs) in the various categories defined below, who worked at the hospital during the preceding year, and subject to an upper limit on total payments. The GME payment is subject to available state and federal funding, as determined by the department, and shall not exceed any amounts specified in the medicaid state plan.

(a) To be counted for MAD reimbursement, a resident must be participating in an approved medical residency program, as defined by medicare in 42 CFR 413.75. With regard to categorizing residents, as described in Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (9) below, the manner of counting and weighting resident FTEs will be the same as is used by medicare in 42 CFR 413.79 except that the number of FTE residents shall not be subject to the FTE resident cap described in 42 CFR 413.79(b)(2). Resident FTEs whose costs will be reimbursed by the department as a medical expense to a federally qualified health center are not eligible for reimbursement under this section. To qualify for MAD GME payments, a hospital must be licensed by the state of New Mexico, be currently enrolled as a MAD provider, and must have achieved a MAD inpatient utilization rate of five percent or greater during its most recently concluded hospital fiscal year. For the purposes of this section, the MAD inpatient utilization rate will be calculated as the ratio of New Mexico MAD eligible days, including inpatient days paid under MAD managed care arrangements, to total inpatient hospital days.

(b) Approved resident FTEs are categorized as follows for MAD GME payment:

(i) Primary care/obstetrics resident: Primary care is defined per 42 CFR 413.75(b).

(ii) Rural health resident: A resident is defined as participating in a designated rural health residency program. Residents enrolled in a designated rural health residency program will be counted as a rural health resident FTE for the entire duration of their residency, including those portions of their residency which may be served in a non-rural hospital or clinic. Should any resident meet the criteria for both rural health and primary care in this section, this resident will be counted as a rural health resident.

(iii) Other approved resident: Any resident not meeting the criteria in Items (i) or (ii), above.

(c) MAD GME payment amount per resident FTE:

(i) The annual MAD payment amount per resident FTE with state fiscal year 2017 is as follows:

Primary care/obstetrics resident:	$41,000
Rural health resident:	$52,000
Other resident:	$50,000

(ii) The per resident amounts specified in Item (i) of Subparagraph (c) of Paragraph (9) of Subsection F of 8.311.3.11 NMAC will be inflated for state fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 2017 using the annual inflation update factor described in Item (ii) of Subparagraph (d) of Paragraph (7) of Subsection F of 8.311.3.11 NMAC.

(d) Annual inflation update factor:

(i) Effective for state fiscal years 2000 and beyond, the department has updated the per resident GME amounts and the upper limit on GME payments for inflation, using the market basket forecast published in the CMS Dallas regional medical services letter issued for the quarter ending in March 1999 to determine the GME rates for state fiscal year 2000 (July 1, 1999 - June 30, 2000).

(ii) The department will use the market basket forecast shown for PPS hospitals that is applicable to the period during which the rates will be in effect. MAD will determine the percentage of funds available for GME payments to eligible hospitals.

(e) Annual upper limits on GME payments:

(i) Total annual MAD GME payments will be limited to $18,500,000 for state fiscal year 2017. This amount will be updated for inflation, beginning with state fiscal year 2018, in accordance with Subparagraph (d) of Paragraph (7) of Subsection F of 8.311.3.11 NMAC.

(ii) Total annual GME payments for residents in Category B.3,"Other," will be limited to the following percentages of the $18,500,000 total annual limit (as updated for inflation in accordance with Subparagraph (d) of Paragraph (7) of Subsection F of 8.311.3.11 NMAC):

state fiscal year 1999	58.3 percent
state fiscal year 2000	56.8 percent
state fiscal year 2001	53.3 percent
state fiscal year 2002	50.7 percent
state fiscal year 2003	48.0 percent
state fiscal year 2004	45.5 percent
state fiscal year 2005	43.0 percent
state fiscal year 2006	40.4 percent
state fiscal year 2017 and thereafter	no limit

(f) Allocation Methodology: The result of the GME payment calculation will be allocated between regular medicaid and group VIII (the other adult group who are newly eligible for medicaid under the affordable care act) based on the medicaid enrollment ratio from the most recent available quarter.

(g) Reporting and payment schedule:

(i) Hospitals will count the number of residents working according to the specification in this part during each fiscal year (July 1 through June 30) and will report this information to the department by December 31. Counts will represent the weighted average number of residents who worked in the hospitals during the specified 12-month period. Hospitals may also add to this count any FTEs associated with newly approved residency programs that will be implemented on or before the start of the prospective GME payment year, to the extent that these FTEs are not already reflected in the weighted average counts of the preceding year. To illustrate, resident FTE amounts would be counted from 07/01/96 - 06/30/97 for the payment year 07/01/98 - 06/30/99. The department may require hospitals to provide documentation necessary to support the summary counts provided.

(ii) The department will establish the amount payable to each hospital for the prospective payment period that will begin each July 1. Should total payments as initially calculated exceed either of the limitations in Subsection D of 8.311.3.11 NMAC, the amount payable to each will be proportionately reduced.

(iii) The annual amount payable to each hospital is divided into four equal payments. These payments will be made by the department on or about the start of each prospective payment quarter.

(iv) Should a facility not report timely with the accurate resident information as required in Item (i) of Subparagraph (f) of Paragraph (7) of Subsection F of 8.311.3.11 NMAC above, it will still be entitled to receive payment for any quarter yet remaining in the prospective payment year, after acceptable information has been submitted. However, payments to untimely reporting facilities will be limited to the amount of funds that remain available under the upper limits described in Subsection D of 8.311.3.11 NMAC, after prospective payment amounts to timely filing facilities have been established.

[8.311.3.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.311.3.12 NMAC, 6/1/2016; A, 1/1/2018; A, 1/1/2019]

8.311.3.13 DISPROPORTIONATE SHARE HOSPITALS:

To take into account the situation of hospitals serving a disproportionate number of low-income patients with special needs, a payment will be made to qualifying hospitals.

A. Criteria for deeming hospitals eligible for a disproportionate share payment:

(1) Determination of each hospital's eligibility for a disproportionate share payment for the MAD inpatient utilization rate as listed below, will be done annually by the department's audit agent, based on the hospital's most recently filed cost report. Hospitals which believe they qualify under the low income utilization rate must submit documentation justifying their qualification. This documentation should be submitted to the department by March 31 of each year.

(2) In the case of a DRG hospital with a PPS exempt specialty unit, data from the entire facility will be considered to determine DSH status.

(3) The following criteria must be met before a hospital is deemed to be eligible:

(a) Minimum criteria: The hospital must have:

(i) a MAD inpatient utilization rate greater than the mean MAD inpatient utilization rate for hospitals receiving MAD payments in the state; or

(ii) a low-income utilization rate exceeding twenty-five percent; (refer to Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of 8.311.3.13 NMAC for definitions of these criteria).

(iii) The hospital must have at least two obstetricians with staff privileges at the hospital who have agreed to provide obstetric services to eligible recipients entitled to such services under MAD; in the case of a hospital located in a rural area (defined as an area outside of a metropolitan statistical area (MSA), as defined by the United States executive office of management and budget), the term"obstetrician" includes any physician with staff privileges at the hospital to perform non-emergency obstetric procedures.

(iv) Item (iii) of Subparagraph (a) of Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of 8.311.3.13 NMAC does not apply to a hospital which meets the following criteria: the inpatients are predominantly individuals under 18 years of age; or the hospital did not offer non-emergency obstetric services as of December 22, 1987;

(v) the hospital must have, at a minimum, a MAD inpatient utilization rate (MUR) of one percent.

(b) Definitions of criteria:

(i) MAD inpatient utilization: For a hospital, the total number of its MAD inpatient days in a cost reporting period, divided by the total number of the hospital's inpatient days in the same period. These include both MAD managed care and non-managed care MAD inpatient days.

(ii) Low-income utilization rate: For a hospital, the sum (expressed as a percentage) of the following fractions: the sum of total MAD inpatient and outpatient net revenues (this includes MAD managed care and non-managed care revenues) paid to the hospital, plus the amount of the cash subsidies received directly from state and local governments in a cost reporting period, divided by the total amount of net revenues of the hospital for inpatient and outpatient services (including the amount of such cash subsidies) in the same cost reporting period; and the total amount of the hospital's charges for inpatient hospital services attributable to charity care (care provided to individuals who have no source of payment, third-party or personal resources) in a cost reporting period, less the amount of the cash subsidies received directly from the state and local governments in that period reasonably attributable to inpatient hospital services, divided by the total amount of the hospital's charges for inpatient services in the hospital in the same period. If this number is zero or less than zero, then it is assumed to be zero. The total inpatient charges attributed to charity care shall not include contractual allowances and discounts (other than for indigent patients not eligible for medical assistance under an approved MAD state plan), that is, reductions in charges given to other third-party payers, such as HMOs, medicare, or Blue Cross.

(iii) The medicaid utilization rate (MUR) is computed as follows:

MUR % = 100 x M/T

M = hospital's number of inpatient days attributable to eligible recipients under the MAD state plan; these include MAD managed care and non-managed care days

T = hospital's total inpatient days.

(iv) Newborn days, days in specialized wards, and administratively necessary days are included in this calculation. Additionally, days attributable to individuals eligible for medicaid in another state are included. MAD inpatient days includes both MAD managed care and non-managed care patient days.

(v) The numerator (M) does not include days attributable to recipients 21 or older in institutions for mental disease (IMD) as these patients are not eligible for MAD coverage in IMDs under the New Mexico state plan and cannot be considered a MAD day.

B. Inpatient disproportionate share pools: Section 1923 of the Social Security Act allows qualifying hospitals to receive a disproportionate share payment, in addition to their allowable regular claims payments and any other payments to which they are entitled. This determination is performed annually as described in Subsection A of 8.311.3.13 NMAC. Qualifying hospitals will be classified into one of three disproportionate share hospital pools: Teaching PPS hospitals, non-teaching PPS hospitals, and PPS-exempt (TEFRA) hospitals. Hospitals may also qualify for a payment from a fourth pool: reserve pool, as explained in this Subsection C of 8.311.3.13 NMAC below.

(1) To qualify as a teaching hospital and be eligible for the teaching hospital DSH payment, the hospital must:

(a) be licensed by the state of New Mexico; and

(b) reimbursed, or be eligible to be reimbursed, under the DRG basis under the plan; and

(c) have 125 or more full-time equivalent (FTE) residents enrolled in approved teaching programs.

(2) A non-teaching PPS (DRG) hospital qualifies if it is an in-state acute care hospital reimbursed by or eligible to be reimbursed by prospective payment methodology.

(3) A PPS-exempt hospital (TEFRA) such as rehabilitation hospitals, children's hospitals, or free-standing psychiatric hospitals, qualify if it is reimbursed by or eligible to be reimbursed by TEFRA methodology as described in 8.311.3.11 NMAC.

(4) The reserve pool is to compensate DSH qualifying hospitals which have had a disproportionate shift in the delivery of services between low-income and MAD-covered inpatient days in any given quarter. A hospital will qualify for payment from the reserve pool if its charity ratio, as described in Item (ii) of Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of 8.311.3.13 NMAC, exceeds twenty percent. A qualifying hospital may receive a payment from the reserve pool in addition to its payment from one of the three other pools.

C. Disproportionate share hospital payments:

(1) DSH payments are subject to available state and federal funding, as determined by the department.

(2) If DSH funds are available, they shall be allocated to each pool and paid to qualifying hospitals based on the number of MAD discharges. These include both MAD managed care and non-managed care discharges. A discharge occurs when a patient dies in the hospital, is formally released from the hospital, or is transferred to another hospital or nursing home.

(3) Payments are made quarterly, with the annual amount for the pool divided into four parts, and each part distributed after the end of each quarter based on MAD discharges during that quarter. The quarterly payment to each hospital qualifying for DSH pools one, two, or three will be computed by dividing the number of MAD discharges for that hospital by the total number of MAD discharges from all hospitals qualifying for that DSH pool and then multiplying this pro-rata share by the quarterly allocation for the respective pool. This amount cannot exceed the OBRA 93 DSH limit, which is described in Subsections E and F of 8.311.3.13 NMAC.

(4) MAD will review the allocation of DSH funds prior to the start of each state fiscal year and may re-allocate funds between pools at that time in consideration of shifts in the hospital utilization of MAD and low-income/indigent care patients.

(5) The percentages allocated to each pool for state fiscal year 1998 are as listed below. The total allocations shall be adjusted in subsequent state fiscal years based on the medicare prospective payment update factor (MPPUF) or the DSH budget as defined by the department. The base year DSH budget for state fiscal year 1998 is $22,000,000.00.

(a) The teaching PPS hospital DSH pool is fifty-six percent of the overall DSH budget, as defined by HSD.

(b) The non-teaching PPS (DRG) hospital DSH pool is twenty two and a half percent of the overall DSH budget, as defined by HSD.

(c) The PPS-exempt hospital (TEFRA) DSH pool is one and a half percent of the overall DSH budget, as defined by HSD.

(d) The reserve DSH pool is twenty percent of the overall DSH budget, as defined by HSD. Quarterly payments may be made directly from the reserve pool to hospitals qualifying for any of the other three DSH pools at the rate of N dollars per MAD discharge, where N is equal to the fraction described in Item (ii) of Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of 8.311.3.13 NMAC minus twenty percent, multiplied by $1,750.

D. Request for DSH payment procedures: Hospitals must submit to the department the number of MAD discharges (both managed care and fee for service discharges), which they have incurred 30 calendar days after the end of each quarter. The department will review the hospital's documentation supporting their discharge information. Any requests received later than 60 calendar days from the end of the quarter will be denied as untimely.

E. DSH limits:

(1) Pursuant to section 1923 (g) of the Social Security Act, a limit is placed on the payment adjustment for any hospital. A hospital's payment adjustment determined in Subsections B through D of 8.311.3.13 NMAC shall not exceed that hospital's hospital-specific DSH limit, as determined under Subsection E of 8.311.3.13 NMAC. This limit is calculated as follows:

DSH limit = M + U

M = Cost of services to eligible recipients, less the amount paid by the MAD program under the non-DSH payment provisions of this plan

U = Cost of services to uninsured patients, less any cash payments made by them.

(2) The cost of services will include both inpatient and outpatient costs for purposes of calculating the limit. The"costs of services" are defined as those costs determined allowable under this plan."Uninsured patients" are defined as those patients who do not possess health insurance or do not have a source of third-party payment for services provided, including individuals who do not possess health insurance which would apply to the service for which the individual sought treatment. Payments made to a hospital for services provided to indigent patients made by the state or a unit of local government within the state shall not be considered to be a source of third-party payment.

(3) Recovery of Overpayments: The department has one year from the date of discovery of an overpayment to a provider to recover or seek to recover the overpayment before the federal share must be refunded to CMS in accordance with 42 CFR 433.312. Upon DSH reconciliation, the audit agent or the department will notify the provider in writing of an overpayment and will specify the dollar amount that is subject to recovery. The provider has 90 calendar days from the date of notification to submit the payment in full unless otherwise directed by the department.

F. Limitations in New Mexico DSH allotment: If the DSH payment amounts as described in Subsections C through E of 8.311.3.13 NMAC above, exceed in any given year, the federal determined DSH allotment for New Mexico, the DSH allocations by pool will be reduced proportionately to a level in compliance with the New Mexico DSH allotment.

[8.311.3.13 NMAC - Rp, 8.311.3.13 NMAC, 6/1/2016; A, 1/1/2019]

8.311.3.14 DETERMINATION OF ACTUAL, ALLOWABLE, AND REASONABLE COSTS:

A. Adequate cost data:

(1) All hospitals must provide adequate cost data based on financial and statistical records which can be verified by qualified auditors. The hospital will submit a cost report each year. The cost data must be based on an approved method of cost finding and on the accrual basis of accounting. However, where governmental institutions operate on a cash basis of accounting, cost data on this basis will be acceptable, subject to appropriate treatment of capital expenditures.

(2) The cost finding method to be used by hospitals will be the step-down method. This method recognizes that services rendered by certain non-revenue-producing departments or centers are utilized by certain other non-revenue-producing centers. All costs of non-revenue-producing centers are allocated to all centers which they serve, regardless of whether or not these centers produce revenue. The cost of the non-revenue-producing center serving the greatest number of other centers while receiving benefits from the least number of centers is apportioned first. Following the apportionment of the cost of the non-revenue-producing center, that center will be considered"closed" and no further costs will be apportioned to it. This applies even though it may have received some service from a center whose cost is apportioned later. Generally when two centers render services to an equal number, that center which has the greatest amount of expense will be allocated first.

B. Reporting year: For the purpose of determining payment rates, the reporting year is the hospital's fiscal year.

C. Cost reporting: At the end of each of its fiscal years, the hospital will provide to the department or its audit agent an itemized list of allowable costs (financial and statistical report) on the New Mexico MAD cost reporting form. The cost report must be submitted within five months after the close of the hospital's fiscal year. Failure to file a report within the five month limit, unless an extension is granted, will result in any or all of the following: suspensions of MAD payments, suspension of the provider's medicaid number, or a penalty of $100 per day until such time as the report and other substantiating data is received. Extensions may be granted based on 42 CFR Part 413.

D. Retention of records:

(1) Each hospital will maintain financial and statistical records of the period covered by such cost report for a period of 10 years following the date of submittal of the New Mexico MAD cost report to the department. These records must be accurate and in sufficient detail to substantiate the cost data reported. The provider will make such records available upon demand to representatives of the department, the state of New Mexico audit agent, or the United States department of health and human services.

(2) The department or its audit agent will retain all cost reports submitted by providers for a period of 10 years following the date of final settlement of such reports.

E. Audits:

(1) Desk audit: Each cost report submitted will be subjected to a comprehensive desk audit by the state's audit agent. This desk audit is for the purpose of analyzing the cost report. After each desk audit is performed, the audit agent will submit a complete report of the desk review to the department.

(2) Field audit: Field audits will be performed on all facilities and per the auditing schedule established by medicare. The purpose of the field audit of the facility's financial and statistical records is to verify that the data submitted on the cost report is accurate, complete, and reasonable. The field audits are conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Field audits are of sufficient scope to determine that only proper items of cost applicable to the service furnished were included in the provider's calculation of its cost and to determine whether the expense attributable to such proper items of cost was accurately determined and reasonable. After each field audit is performed, the audit agent will submit a complete report of the audit to the department. This report will meet generally accepted auditing standards and shall declare the auditor's opinion as to whether, in all material respects, the costs reported by the provider are allowable, accurate, and reasonable. These audit reports will be retained by the department for a period of not less than three years from the date of final settlement of such reports. Audits will be performed in accordance with applicable federal regulations.

F. Overpayments: All overpayments found in audits will be accounted for on the CMS-64 report in accordance with 42 CFR 433.300 through 42 CFR 433.322.

G. Allowable and non-allowable costs: Allowable costs, non-allowable costs, and reasonableness of costs will be determined as on the basis of the medicare health insurance manual (HIM-15).

8.311.3.15 PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF COST REPORTS:

A. As required by law, cost reports submitted by participating providers as a basis for reimbursement are available to the public upon receipt of a written request to the medical assistance program audit agent. Disclosure information is limited to cost report documents required by social security administration regulations and, in the case of a settled cost report, the notice of program settlement.

B. The request must identify the provider and the specific report(s) requested.

C. The provider whose report has been requested will be notified by the MAD audit agent that its cost report has been requested, by whom the request was made, and that the provider shall have 10 calendar days in which to comment to the requestor before the cost report is released.

D. The cost for copying will be charged to the requestor.

8.311.5.8 MISSION STATEMENT:

The mission of the New Mexico medical assistance division (MAD) is to maximize the health status of medicaid-eligible individuals by furnishing payment for quality health services at levels comparable to private health plans.

8.311.5.9 SWING BED HOSPITAL SERVICES:

The New Mexico medicaid program (medicaid) pays for medically necessary health services furnished to eligible recipients. To help New Mexico recipients receive necessary services, the New Mexico medical assistance division (MAD) pays for services furnished in general hospital settings which can also be used interchangeably as high or low nursing facility beds. This part describes eligible providers, covered services, service limitations, and general reimbursement methodology.

8.311.5.10 ELIGIBLE PROVIDERS:

A. Upon approval of New Mexico medical assistance program provider participation agreements by MAD, small rural hospitals that meet the following requirements are eligible to be reimbursed for providing services as swing bed providers:

(1) hospital is licensed and certified by the licensing and certification bureau of the New Mexico department of health (DOH) to participate in the medicare and/or the medicaid programs and has received additional certification from the DOH to act as a swing bed provider;

(2) hospital must have fewer than 100 inpatient hospital beds, counting all inpatient hospital beds maintained by the hospital, exclusive of beds for newborns and intensive care beds; and

(3) hospital must be located in a rural area; any geographic area not designated as"urban" in the most recent census is considered"rural" for the purpose of this regulation.

B. Since a swing bed hospital already has an approved provider agreement for the provision of acute care services, a separate agreement for swing bed services is not required. An addendum to the current provider agreement grants approval for swing bed participation.

C. Once enrolled, providers receive a packet of information, including medicaid program policies, billing instructions, utilization review instructions, and other pertinent material from MAD. Providers are responsible for ensuring that they have received these materials and for updating them as new materials are received from MAD.

8.311.5.11 CONDITIONS OF PARTICIPATION:

To participate as a swing bed hospital, the facility must comply with the following conditions:

A. be licensed and certified as meeting all the requirements for participation as a hospital;

B. meet the requirements for hospital providers of long term care services. See 42 CFR 405.1041;

C. conform to MAD policy regarding recipient’s personal funds; and

D. have an addendum to the medicaid provider agreement which conveys approval for swing bed participation; hospitals which have a waiver of the twenty-four (24) hour coverage requirement of Section 1861(e)(s) of the Social Security Act are not eligible to participate as swing bed hospitals.

8.311.5.12 PROVIDER RESPONSIBILITIES:

Providers who furnish services to medicaid recipients must comply with all specified medicaid participation requirements. See 8.302.1 NMAC, General Provider Policies. Providers must verify that individuals are eligible for medicaid at the time services are furnished and determine if medicaid recipients have other health insurance. Providers must maintain records which are sufficient to fully disclose the extent and nature of the services furnished to recipients. See 8.302.1 NMAC General Provider Policies.

Swing bed services are subject to the limitations and coverage restrictions which exist for other medicaid services. See 8.301.3 NMAC, General Noncovered Services.

[2/1/95; 8.311.5.14 NMAC - Rn, 8 NMAC 4.MAD.723.5, 3/1/12]

8.311.5.15 PRIOR APPROVAL AND UTILIZATION REVIEW:

All medicaid services are subject to utilization review for medical necessity and program compliance. Reviews can be performed before services are furnished, after services are furnished and before payment is made, or after payment is made. See 8.302.5 NMAC, Prior Authorization and Utilization Review. Once enrolled, providers receive instructions and documentation forms necessary for prior approval and claims processing.

A. Prior approval: All utilization review activities, including level of care determinations and length of stay assignments for recipients at a nursing facility are carried out according to established MAD policy. All physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech therapy furnished to inpatients in swing bed facilities at a high or low level require prior approval. Services for which prior approval was obtained remain subject to utilization review at any point in the payment process.

B. Eligibility determination: Prior approval of services does not guarantee that individuals are eligible for medicaid. Providers must verify that individuals are eligible for medicaid at the time services are furnished and determine if medicaid recipients have other health insurance.

C. Reconsideration: Providers who disagree with prior approval request denials and other review decisions can request a re-review and a reconsideration. See Section MAD-953, Reconsideration of Utilization Review Decisions.

8.311.5.16 RECIPIENT PERSONAL FUNDS ACCOUNTS:

A. As a condition for participation in medicaid, each swing bed provider must establish and maintain an acceptable system of accounting for a resident’s personal funds when a Title XIX (medicaid) recipient requests that his/her personal funds be cared for by the facility. See 42 CFR 483.10(c).

(1) Requests for swing bed providers to care or not care for a recipient's funds must be made in writing and secured by the request to handle recipient's fund form or a letter signed by the recipient or his/her representative. The form or letter is kept in the recipient's file at the facility.

(2) A recipient's personal fund consists of a monthly maintenance allowable, established by MAD. If the recipient receives any income in excess of this allowance, the excess is applied to the cost of the recipient's medical care at the facility. This excess is reported as a medical care credit to the swing bed provider by the local county income support division (ISD) office, when applicable.

(3) All swing bed facilities must have procedures for handling of medicaid recipients' funds. These procedures must not allow the facility to commingle medicaid recipients' funds with facility funds.

(4) Swing bed facilities should use medicaid guidelines to develop procedures for handling recipient funds.

(5) Recipients have the right to manage their financial affairs and no facility can require recipients to deposit their personal funds with the facility.

(6) Facilities must purchase a surety bond or provide self-insurance to ensure the security of all personal funds deposited with the facility.

B. Fund custodians: Swing bed facilities must designate a full-time employee and an alternate to serve as fund custodians for handling all medicaid residents' money on a daily basis.

(1) Another individual, other than those employees who have daily responsibility for the fund, must do the following:

(a) reconcile balances of the individual medicaid recipients' accounts with the collective bank account;

(b) periodically audit and reconcile the petty cash fund; and

(c) authorize checks for the withdrawal of funds from the bank account.

(2) Facilities must ensure that there is a full, complete and separate accounting, based on generally accepted accounting principles, of each recipient's personal funds entrusted to the facilities on the recipient's behalf.

C. Bank account: Swing bed facilities must establish a bank account for the deposit of all money for medicaid recipients who request the facility to handle their funds. Recipients' personal funds are held separately and not commingled with facility funds.

(1) Facilities must deposit any recipient's personal funds more than fifty ($ 50) dollars in an interest bearing account that is separate from any of the facility operating accounts and which credits all interest earned on the recipient's account to that account.

(2) Facilities must maintain recipients' personal funds up to fifty ($50) in a non-interest bearing account or a petty cash fund. Recipients must have convenient access to these funds.

(3) Individual financial records must be available on the request of recipients or their legal representatives.

(4) Within thirty (30) days of the death of a recipient whose personal funds are deposited with the facility, a swing bed provider must convey the recipient's funds and a final accounting of these funds promptly to the individual or probate jurisdiction administering the recipient's estate.

D. Establishment of individual accounts: Swing bed facilities must establish an account for each medicaid recipient in which all transactions can be recorded. Accounts can be maintained in a general ledger book, a card file or looseleaf binder.

(1) For money received, the source, amount and date is recorded. Recipients or their authorized representatives must be given receipts for the money. The swing bed facility retains a copy of the deposit in the recipient's individual account file.

(2) The purpose, amount and date of all disbursements to or on behalf of recipients must be recorded. Any money spent either on behalf of recipients or withdrawn by recipients or their representatives must be validated by receipts or signatures on individual ledger sheets.

(3) Facilities must notify each medicaid recipient when the account balance is two hundred ($200) dollars less than the supplemental security income (SSI) resource limit for one person specified in section 1611(a)(3)(B) of the Social Security Act. If the amount of the account and the value of the recipient's other nonexempt resources reach the SSI resource limit for one person, the recipient can lose eligibility for medicaid or SSI.

E. Personal fund reconciliation: The swing bed facility must balance individual accounts, collective bank accounts and the petty cash fund at least once a month. The swing bed facility must provide medicaid recipients or their authorized representatives with an accounting of the recipients' funds at least once a quarter. Copies of individual account records can be used to provide this information.

F. Petty cash fund: A swing bed facility must maintain a cash fund in the facility to accommodate the small cash requirements of medicaid recipients. Five dollars ($5.00) or less per individual recipient may be adequate. The amount of money kept in the petty cash fund is determined by the number of recipients using the service and the frequency and availability of bank service. A petty cash fund ledger must be established to record all action regarding money in this fund.

(1) To establish the fund, the swing bed facility must withdraw money from the collective bank account and keep it in a locked cash box.

(2) To use the petty cash fund, the following procedures should be established:

(a) recipients or their authorized representatives request small amounts of spending money;

(b) the amount disbursed is entered on the individual ledger record; and

(c) the recipient or representative signs an account record and receives a receipt.

(3) To replenish the petty cash fund, the following procedures should be used:

(a) the money left in the cash box is counted and added to the total of all disbursements made since the last replenishment; and the total of the disbursements plus cash on hand equals the beginning amount;

(b) money equal to the amount of disbursements is withdrawn from the collective bank account.

(4) To reconcile the fund, the following procedure should be used once each month:

(a) count money on hand; and

(b) total cash disbursed either from receipts or individual account records. The cash on hand plus total disbursements equals petty cash total.

(5) To close the recipient account, the swing bed facility should to the following:

(a) enter date of and reason for closing the account;

(b) write a check against the collective bank account for the balance shown on the individual account record;

(c) get signature of the recipient or their authorized representative on the individual recipient account record as receipt of payment; and

(d) notify the local ISD office if closure is caused by death of a recipient so that prompt action can be taken to terminate assistance.

(6) Within thirty (30) days of the death of a recipient who has no relatives, the swing bed facility conveys the recipient's funds and a final accounting of the funds to the individual or probate jurisdiction administering the recipient's estate. See 42 CFR 483.10(c)(6).

G. Retention of records: All account records are retained for a minimum of three (3) years or, in case of an audit, until the audit is completed.

H. Non-acceptable uses of recipients' personal funds:

(1) Non-acceptable uses of recipients' personal funds include the following:

(a) payment or charges for services or supplies covered by medicaid or medicare-specified as allowable costs; see Subsection G of 8.312.3.11 NMAC, Costs Related Reimbursement of Nursing Facilities;

(b) difference between the swing bed facility's billed charge and the medicaid payment; and

(c) payment for services or supplies routinely furnished by the facility, such as linens and nightgowns.

(2) A swing bed facility cannot impose charges against recipients' personal funds for any item or service for which payment is made by medicaid or for any item recipients or their representatives did not request. Facilities must not require recipients or representatives to request any item or service as a condition of admission or continued stay. Swing bed facilities must inform recipients or representatives who request a noncovered item or service that there is a charge for the item and the amount of the charge.

I. State monitoring of recipients' personal funds: Swing bed facilities must make all files and records involving recipients' personal funds available for inspection by authorized state personnel or federal auditors.

(1) The licensing and certification bureau of the DOH verifies that facilities have established systems to account for recipients' personal funds, including the components described above. Failure to provide an acceptable accounting system constitutes a deficiency that must be corrected.

(2) The human services department (HSD) or its designee can complete a thorough audit of recipients' personal funds at HSD's discretion.

[2/1/95; 8.311.5.16 NMAC - Rn, 8 NMAC 4.MAD.723.7, 3/1/12]

8.311.5.17 PATIENT SELF DETERMINATION ACT:

All adult recipients must be informed of their right to make health decisions, including their right to accept or refuse medical treatment, as specific in the Patient Self-Determination Act. See 8.302.1.18 NMAC, General Provider Policies.

[2/1/95; 8.311.5.17 NMAC - Rn, 8 NMAC 4.MAD.723.8, 3/1/12]

8.311.5.18 RESERVE BED DAYS:

To allow recipients to visit family or friends for short periods of approved therapeutic leave or to allow trial placement to adjust to a new environment as part of a discharge plan, MAD pays the routine rate to hold or reserve the bed for the recipient's return.

A. Coverage of reserve bed days: Medicaid covers six (6) reserve bed days per calendar year for every swing bed recipient at a high or low nursing facility level without prior approval of the reserve days for any reason other than acute hospitalization, including home visits and acclimation to a new environment. Medicaid covers an additional six (6) days per calendar year with prior approval for visits which help the recipient adjust to a new environment, as part of a discharge plan.

(1) In these cases, the recipient's discharge plan must clearly state objectives including how the home visit or visit to alternative placement relates to discharge implementation.

(2) The prior approval request must include the recipient's name, medicaid number, requested approval dates, and a copy of the discharge plan.

B. Reserve bed days and services not covered: Medicaid does not cover reserve bed days used for transfer to a nursing facility. Medicaid does not pay for ancillary services associated with reserve bed days.

C. Level of care determinations needed: A new level of care determination must be performed if a recipient is gone from the facility for more than three (3) midnights. An abstract must be completed which includes the reason the recipient was absent, outcome of the leave and any other pertinent information.

D. Reimbursement and billing: Reimbursement to a hospital is limited to the rate applicable for the level of care medically necessary for the eligible recipient as determined and certified by MAD. Billing for reserve beds days is based on the nursing census, which runs from midnight to midnight. Under normal circumstances, medicaid pays for the admission day but does not pay for the discharge day. The same principle applies in calculating and billing reserve bed days.

[2/1/95; 8.311.5.18 NMAC - Rn, 8 NMAC 4.MAD.723.9, 3/1/12]

8.311.5.19 REIMBURSEMENT:

Swing bed providers must submit claims for reimbursement on the long term care turn around document (TAD) or its successor. See 8.302.2 NMAC, Billing for Medicaid Services. Once enrolled, providers receive instructions on documentation, billing, and claims processing. Swing bed hospitals are paid for high and low nursing facility routine services at the statewide average rates paid under the state plan during the previous calendar year to nursing facilities, as appropriate.

A. The following services or items are considered routine and are reimbursed as part of the routine rate:

(1) regular room;

(2) dietary and nursing services;

(3) medical and surgical supplies, including syringes, catheters, ileostomy, and colostomy supplies;

(4) use of equipment and facilities;

(5) general services, including administration of oxygen and related medications, hand feeding, incontinence care, tray service and enemas;

(6) standard items furnished routinely to all patients, such as patient gowns, water pitchers, basins and bed pans;

(7) items stocked at nursing stations in gross supply and distributed or used individually in small quantities such as cotton balls, band aids, laxatives, stool softeners, aspirin, antacids, OTC ointments and tongue depressors;

(8) reusable items expected to be available, such as ice bags, bed rails, canes, crutches, walkers, wheelchairs, traction equipment, oxygen administration equipment and other durable medical equipment;

(9) laundry services, including basic personal laundry;

(10) special dietary supplements used for tube feeding or oral feeding even if prescribed by a physician; and

(11) oxygen.

B. Ancillary services: Ancillary services are reimbursed at the same rate as outpatient services. Swing bed providers must submit claims using its hospital provider number for ancillary services on the UB-92 claim form or its successor. The reasonable costs of ancillary services for swing bed facility levels of care are determined in the same manner as for outpatient hospital services. Ancillary services are those services not considered routine, such as lab, radiology, pharmacy, and therapies.

C. Cost allocation: To allocate costs between hospital and long term care services, the total reimbursement due for all classes of long-term care recipients is subtracted from the hospital's total routine costs, before determining reimbursement for routine hospital services.

D. Medical care credits: If a recipient has income above the maintenance allowance, MAD reimburses the provider facility the difference between the allowed rate and the medical care credit. The facility is responsible for collecting the amount reported as a medical care credit.

8.312.2.10 ELIGIBLE PROVIDERS:

Health care to eligible recipients or members is furnished by a variety of providers and provider groups. The reimbursement and billing for these services is administered by MAD. Upon approval of a New Mexico MAD provider participation agreement (PPA) by MAD or its designee, licensed practitioners, facilities and other providers of services that meet applicable requirements are eligible to be reimbursed for furnishing covered services to eligible recipients. A provider must be enrolled before submitting a claim for payment to the MAD claims processing contractors or the MCO. MAD makes available on the HCA/MAD website, on other program-specific websites, or in hard copy format, information necessary to participate in health care programs administered by HCA or its authorized agents, including program rules, billing instructions, utilization review (UR) instructions, and other pertinent materials. When enrolled, a provider receives instructions on how to access these documents. It is the provider's responsibility to access these instructions, to understand the information provided and to comply with the requirements. The provider must contact HCA or its authorized agents to obtain answers to questions related to the material. To be eligible for reimbursement, a provider must adhere to the provisions of the MAD PPA and all applicable statutes, regulations, and executive orders. MAD, its selected claims processing contractor or the MCO issues payments to a provider using electronic funds transfer (EFT) only. Eligible providers include:

A. nursing facilities (NF) which:

(1) are currently licensed and certified by the department of health (DOH) to meet MAD nursing facility conditions of participation; see 42 CFR Part 483, as amended;

(2) comply with the eligible recipient or MCO member resident's personal funds rules;

(3) comply with MAD, its UR or the MCO UR processes and agree to operate in accordance with all MAD NMAC rules, including the performance of discharge planning;

(4) comply with the NMAC MAD rules for the pre-admission screening and resident review (PASRR) of mentally ill and intellectually disabled program;

(5) ensure the required nurse aide training is implemented; and

(6) ensure that facilities with 60 or more MAD beds certify a minimum of four distinct beds in the medicare program.

B. the above requirements can be waived if the NF meets one of the following conditions:

(1) the NF is located in a rural area and is unable to attract therapists as required by the medicare program. For a waiver to be granted under this condition, the provider must prove that good faith efforts to hire or contract with the required therapists have been made;

(2) the NF has obtained a waiver of the registered nurse (RN) staffing requirement from DOH, in accordance with applicable federal regulations; or

(3) the NF is one of two or more NFs in the same town owned or operated by the same owner/manager and one of the other facilities is medicare-certified; in addition, the NF must demonstrate on a yearly basis that the waiver does not hinder access to medicare part A services for eligible recipients or members and that the facility is using, to the best of its ability, corridor billings to medicare for part B services(s); if medicare removes the ability to do corridor billing, the waiver automatically ceases;

(a) Any requests for a waiver must contain sufficient documentation to support the request and must be submitted in writing to MAD;

(b) medicare is the primary payer for NF services covered under the medicare program; NF services must be provided within the scope of the practice and licensure for each provider; and must be in compliance with the statutes, rules and regulations of the applicable practice and with the New Mexico administrative code (NMAC) MAD rules.

A provider also must conform to MAD program rules and instructions as specified in the MAD NMAC rule manual and its appendices, and program directions and billing instructions, as updated. A provider is also responsible for following coding manual guidelines and centers for medicare and medicaid services (CMS) national correct coding initiatives (NCCI), including not improperly unbundling or upcoding services.

B. A provider must verify that an individual is eligible for a specific health care program administered by HCA and its authorized agents, and must verify the recipient's enrollment status at the time services are furnished. A provider must determine if an eligible recipient or member has other health insurance. A provider must maintain records that are sufficient to fully disclose the extent and nature of the services provided to an eligible recipient or member.

C. When services are billed to and paid by a MAD fee-for-service coordinated services contractor authorized by HCA, under an administrative services contract, the provider must also enroll as a provider with the coordinated services contractor and follow that contractor's instructions for billing and for authorization of services; see 8.302.1 NMAC.

A NF is required to provide the following to a MAP eligible recipient or member resident.

A. Room and board.

B. Professional nursing services 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Professional nursing services are those services which are performed directly by a RN or a licensed practical nurse (LPN), under the direction of a MAD enrolled, and, as appropriate, MCO contracted medical practitioner.

C. Services of a RN are on an eight hours a day, seven days a week basis, and at least the services of a LPN at all other times.

D. Personal assistance services on a 24 hours a day, seven days a week basis. Personal assistance services are those services, other than professional nursing services, that are provided to an eligible recipient who, because of age, infirmity, physical or behavioral health limitations, requires assistance to accomplish activities of daily living.

[8.312.2.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.312.2.12 NMAC, 8/1/2014]

8.312.2.13 COVERED SERVICES:

A. MAD covers NF services identified as allowable costs; see 8.312.3 NMAC.

B. MAD covers physical, occupational and speech therapy services furnished to an eligible recipient or member residing in a NF in the following manner:

(1) if the eligible recipient or member is also eligible for medicare and the NF does part B billing, the co-payment or deductible is processed by MAD or the MCO for services is paid by MAD or the MCO;

(2) if the eligible recipient or member receives high NF level services, services are included in the MAD facility rate; or

(3) if eligible, the recipient or member receives low NF level services, services are billed separately by participating therapy providers.

C. MAD covers a NF per diem add-on for ventilator services in long-term and skilled nursing facilities in New Mexico.

(1) The per diem add-on costs of providing services to the ventilator dependent resident or member shall be maintained separately (as a distinct part) of each facility's annual cost report.

(2) Ventilator dependent per diem add-on rates will cover skilled nursing care services and will be all-inclusive.

(3) Ventilator dependent per diem add-on services must be prior authorized by the MCO. The resident's or member's clinical condition shall be reviewed every 90 days to determine if the resident's or member's medical condition continues to warrant services at the ventilator dependent NF rate. Prior authorization (PA) through the MCO spans a 90-day maximum time period. The NF is required to resubmit requests for continued stay prior to expiration of the current PA. If a resident or member no longer requires the use of a ventilator, the provider shall not receive additional reimbursement beyond the New Mexico medicaid nursing home per diem rate determined for the facility.

(4) Long-term and skilled nursing facilities in New Mexico must be certified by the department of health to provide ventilator services.

(5) Eligible ventilator dependent recipients residing in a NF must meet the following criteria:

(a) Have a health condition that requires close medical supervision defined as 24 hours a day of licensed nursing care along with specialized services or equipment;

(b) Require mechanical ventilation greater than or equal to six hours a day;

(c) Have tracheostomy (with daily care) and require mechanical ventilation for a portion of each day for stabilization;

(d) Require continuous pulse oximetry monitoring to check the stability of oxygen saturation levels;

(e) Require respiratory assessment and daily documentation by a licensed respiratory therapist or registered nurse;

(f) Have a provider's order for respiratory care to include suctioning as needed;

(g) Have tracheostomy care with suctioning and room air mist or oxygen as needed, and one of the four treatment procedures listed below:

(ii) inpatient physical, occupational, or speech therapy;

(iii) tube feeding (nasogastric or gastrostomy); or

(iv) inhalation therapy treatments every shift and a minimum of four times per 24-hour period;

(h) The recipient's diagnosis must be consistent with ICD diagnosis codes for ventilator dependency;

(i) The skilled nursing facility must be approved for ventilator care; and

(j) Providers must be specially trained and competent in respiratory and vent care.

8.312.2.14 NONCOVERED SERVICES:

NF services are subject to the limitations and coverage restrictions which exist for other MAD services. See also 8.310.2, 8.310.3, 8.312.3, 8.324.4 NMAC.

[8.312.2.14 NMAC - Rp, 8.312.2.14 NMAC, 8/1/2014]

8.312.2.15 ELIGIBLE RECIPIENT AND MEMBER PERSONAL FUND ACCOUNTS:

A. As a condition for MAD provider participation, each NF must establish and maintain an acceptable system of accounting for an eligible recipient or member resident's personal funds when an eligible recipient or member requests that their personal funds be cared for by the facility. See 42 CFR Section 483.10(c) and see 7.9.2.22 NMAC.

(1) Requests for a NF to care or not care for an eligible recipient or member resident's funds must be made in writing and secured by a request to handle recipient or member funds form or letter signed by the eligible recipient or member or their authorized representative. The form or letter is kept in the eligible recipient or member's file at the facility.

(2) An eligible recipient or member's personal fund consists of a monthly maintenance allowable, established by MAD. If the eligible recipient or member resident receives any income in excess of this allowance, the excess is applied to the cost of the eligible recipient or member resident's medical care at the NF. This excess is reported as a medical care credit to the facility by the local county income support division (ISD) office, when applicable.

(3) A NF must have procedures on the handling of eligible recipient or member residents' funds. These procedures must not allow the facility to commingle eligible recipient or member residents' funds with facility funds.

(4) A NF should use these applicable federal statutes, regulations and state rules to develop procedures for handling eligible recipient or member resident's funds.

(5) An eligible recipient or member resident has the right to manage their financial affairs and no NF can require an eligible recipient or member resident to deposit their personal funds with the NF.

(6) A NF must purchase a surety bond or furnish self-insurance to ensure the security of all personal funds deposited with the NF.

(7) Failure of a NF to furnish an acceptable accounting system constitutes a deficiency that must be corrected by the provider and verified by DOH survey teams.

B. Fund custodians: A NF must designate a full-time employee and an alternate to serve as fund custodians for handling an eligible recipient or member resident's money on a daily basis; see 7.9.2.22 NMAC.

(1) Another individual, other than those employees who have daily responsibility for the fund, must do the following:

(a) reconcile balances of each eligible recipient or member accounts with the collective bank account;

(b) periodically audit and reconcile the petty cash fund; and

(c) authorize checks for the withdrawal of funds from the bank account.

(2) A NF must ensure that there is a full, complete and separate accounting, based on generally accepted accounting principles, of each eligible recipient or member resident's personal funds entrusted to their NF on the eligible recipient or member resident's behalf.

C. Bank account: A NF must establish a bank account for the deposit of all money for each eligible recipient or member resident who requests the NF to handle their funds. An eligible recipient or member resident's personal funds are to be held separately and not commingled with the NF funds; see 7.9.2.22 NMAC.

(1) A NF must deposit an eligible recipient or member's personal funds of more than $50 in an interest bearing account that is separate from any of the NF operating accounts and which credits all interest earned on the eligible recipient or member resident's account to that account. An eligible recipient or member resident must have convenient access to these funds.

(2) A NF must maintain an eligible recipient or member resident's personal funds up to $50 in an interest bearing account or a petty cash fund that is separate from any of the NF operating accounts. An eligible recipient or member resident must have convenient access to these funds.

(3) Individual financial records must be available on the request of an eligible recipient or member resident or their authorized representative.

(4) Within 30 calendar days of the death of an eligible recipient or member resident whose personal funds are deposited with the facility, a NF must convey the deceased eligible recipient or member resident's funds and a final accounting of these funds to the individual or probate jurisdiction administering the deceased eligible recipient or member resident's estate.

D. Establishment of individual accounts: A NF must establish accounts for each eligible recipient or member resident in which all transactions can be recorded. Accounts can be maintained in a general ledger book, card file or loose leaf binder; see 7.9.2.22 NMAC.

(1) For money received, the source, amount and date must be recorded. The NF must provide the eligible recipient or member resident or their authorized representative receipts for the money. The NF still retains a copy of the deposit in the eligible recipient or member resident's individual account file.

(2) The purpose, amount and date of all disbursements to or on behalf of an eligible recipient or member resident must be recorded. All money spent either on behalf of the eligible recipient or member resident or withdrawn by the eligible recipient or member resident or their authorized representative must be validated by receipts or signatures on each eligible recipient or member resident's individual ledger sheet.

(3) The NF must notify each eligible recipient or member resident when the account balance is $200 less than the supplemental security income (SSI) resource limit for one person specified in Subparagraph (a) of Paragraph (3) of Subsection B of Section 1611 of the Social Security Act. If the amount of the account and the value of the eligible recipient or member resident's other nonexempt resources reach the SSI resource limit for one person, the eligible recipient or member resident can lose eligibility for a medical assistance program (MAP) or SSI.

E. Personal fund reconciliation: The NF must balance each eligible recipient or member resident's individual accounts, the collective bank accounts and the petty cash fund at least once each month. The NF must furnish each eligible recipient or member resident or their authorized representative with an accounting of the eligible recipient or member residents' funds at least quarterly. Copies of each eligible recipient or member resident's individual account records can be used to furnish this information; see 7.9.2.22 NMAC.

F. Petty cash fund: The NF must maintain a cash fund in the facility to accommodate the small cash requirements of an eligible recipient or member resident. $5 or less per each eligible recipient or member resident may be adequate. The amount of money kept in the petty cash fund is determined by the number of NF residents using the service and the frequency and availability of bank service. A petty cash fund ledger must be established to record all actions regarding money in this fund; see 7.9.2.22 NMAC.

(1) To establish the fund, the NF must withdraw money from the collective bank account and keep it in a locked cash box.

(2) To use the petty cash fund, the following procedures should be established:

(a) an eligible recipient or member resident or their authorized representative request small amounts of spending money;

(b) the amount disbursed is entered on each eligible recipient resident's individual ledger record; and

(c) the eligible recipient or member resident or their authorized representative signs an account record and receives a receipt.

(3) To replenish the petty cash fund, the following procedures should be used.

(a) The money left in the cash box is counted and added to the total of all disbursements made since the last replenishment; and the total of the disbursements plus cash on hand equals the beginning amount.

(b) Money equal to the amount of disbursements is withdrawn from the collective bank account.

(4) To reconcile the fund, the following procedures should be used once each month:

(a) count money at hand; and

(b) total cash disbursed either from receipts or each eligible recipient or member resident's individual account records; the cash on hand plus total disbursements equals petty cash total.

(5) To close each eligible recipient or member resident account, the NF should do the following:

(a) enter date of and reason for closing the account;

(b) write a check against the collective bank account for the balance shown on each eligible recipient or member resident's individual account record;

(c) get signature of the eligible recipient resident or their authorized representative on the eligible recipient or member resident's individual account record, as receipt of payment; and

(d) notify the local ISD office if closure is caused by death of an eligible recipient or member resident so that prompt action can be taken to terminate assistance; within 30 calendar days of the death of an eligible recipient or member resident who has no relatives; the NF conveys the eligible recipient or member resident's funds and a final accounting of the funds to the individual or probate jurisdiction administering the eligible recipient or member resident's estate; see 42 CFR Section 483.10(c)(6).

G. Retention of records: All account records are retained for at least six years or, in case of an audit, until the audit is completed.

H. Non-acceptable uses of residents' personal funds: Non-acceptable uses of an eligible recipient or member resident's personal funds include the following:

(1) payment or charges for services or items covered by MAD or medicare specified as allowable costs; see 8.312.3 NMAC;

(2) difference between the NF's billed charge and the MAD payment; and

(3) payment for services or supplies routinely furnished by the NF, such as linens or nightgowns;

(4) a NF cannot impose charges against eligible recipient resident's personal funds for any item or service for which payment is made by MAD or for any item the eligible recipient or member resident or their authorized representative did not request;

(5) a NF must not require eligible recipient or member resident or their authorized representative to request any item or service as a condition of admission or continued stay;

(6) a NF must inform an eligible recipient or member resident or their authorized representative who requests non-covered items or services that there is a charge for the item and the amount of the charge.

I. Monitoring of residents' personal funds: NFs must make all files and records involving an eligible recipient or member resident's personal funds available for inspection by authorized state or federal auditors. DOH survey teams verify that a NF has established systems to account for an eligible recipient or member resident's personal funds, including the components described above. Failure to furnish an acceptable accounting system constitutes a deficiency that must be corrected; see 7.9.2.22 NMAC.

8.312.2.16 RESERVE BED DAYS:

MAD pays to hold or reserve a bed for an eligible recipient or member resident in a NF to allow for the eligible recipient or member resident to make a brief home visit, for acclimation to a new environment, or for hospitalization according to the limits and conditions outlined below.

A. Coverage of reserve bed days: MAD covers six reserve bed days per calendar year for every long term care eligible recipient or member resident for hospitalization without prior approval. MAD covers three reserve bed days per calendar year for a brief home visit without prior approval. MAD covers an additional six reserve bed days per calendar year with prior approval to support an eligible recipient or member resident to adjust to a new environment as part of the discharge plan.

(1) An eligible recipient or member resident's discharge plan must clearly state the objectives, including how the home visits or visits to alternative placement relate to discharge implementation.

(2) The prior approval request must include the eligible recipient or member resident's name, MAP identification number, requested approval dates, copy of the discharge plan, name and address for individuals who will care for the eligible recipient or member resident during the visit or placement and a written medical order for trial placement.

B. Documentation of reserve bed days: When an eligible recipient or member resident is discharged from a NF for any reason, appropriate documentation must be placed in the eligible recipient or member resident's chart. A medical order must be obtained if the eligible recipient or member resident is hospitalized, requests a home visit or a trial placement.

C. Re-admission review: A new level of care (LOC) determination must be performed by MAD, its UR contractor or the MCO if an eligible recipient or member resident is gone from their NF for more than three midnights. A NF notification form must be completed, including information on the reason for the eligible recipient or member resident's absence, outcome of the leave and any other pertinent information concerning the leave; see the MAD managed care policy manual.

D. Reimbursement and billing for reserve bed days: Reimbursement for reserve bed days to the NF is limited to the rate applicable for LOC medically necessary for the eligible recipient or member resident, as determined and approved by MAD, its UR contractor or the MCO. The reserve bed day reimbursement is equal to 50% of the regular payment rate for MAD fee-for-service or as otherwise negotiated between the NF provider and the MCO. Billing for reserve bed days is based on the nursing census, which runs from midnight to midnight. MAD or the MCO pays for the admission day but not for the discharge day.

8.312.2.17 LEVEL OF CARE DETERMINATION:

Medical necessity, LOC, and length of stay determinations are carried out in accordance with MAD UR instructions or the MAD MCO policy manual, as authorized under Title XIX of the Social Security Act; see 8.310.2 and 8.350.4 NMAC.

[8.312.2.17 NMAC - Rp, 8.312.2.17 NMAC, 8/1/2014]

8.312.2.18 PRE-ADMISSION SCREENING AND RESIDENT REVIEW (PASRR) OF MENTALLY ILL AND INTELLECTUALLY DISABLED INDIVIDUALS:

As part of the initial NF communication form for a new admission or as part of a subsequent specified review as determined by PASRR, or a significant change review as indicated by the minimum data set (MDS) for an eligible recipient or member resident with identified mental illness or is intellectually disabled, the NF must complete a level I PASRR screening. See Omnibus Reconciliation Acts of 1987 and 1990 as codified at 42 CFR Section 483.100 Subpart C. See also P.L. 104-315 which amends title XIX of the Social Security Act effective October 19, 1996. This requirement applies to all applicants or residents, regardless of payment source.

A. Pre-admission screens not required: Pre-admission screens do not need to be performed on the following eligible recipient or member resident:

(1) when admitted from the hospital whose attending physicians certify before admission to the NF that the eligible recipient or member resident is likely to require NF care for less than 30 days (as determined by PASRR review of their level I screen data which was done prior to NF admission);

(2) when readmitted to NFs from a hospital to which they were transferred for the purpose of receiving care; and

(3) when transferred from one NF to another without an intervening hospital stay.

B. Purpose of the screens: The purpose of the PASRR screen is to determine whether residents have a mental illness or an intellectual disability, need the level of services furnished in a NF and need specialized services based on the mental illness or intellectual disability. A NF performs the level I screen which identifies an eligible recipient or member resident who has a mental illness or an intellectual disability. When an eligible recipient or member resident is identified, the NF refers them to the HCA DDSD for a PASRR level II evaluation.

C. Level II screen determination: The PASRR level II screen determines the following:

(1) the eligible recipient or member resident's total needs are such that their needs can be met in an appropriate community setting;

(2) the eligible recipient or member resident's total needs are such that they can be met only on an inpatient basis, which can include the option of placement in a home and community-based service waiver program, but for which inpatient care is necessary;

(3) if inpatient care is appropriate and desired, the NF is an appropriate institutional setting for meeting those needs; or

(4) if inpatient care is appropriate and desired but the NF is not the appropriate setting for meeting the eligible recipient or member resident's needs, another setting, such as an intermediate care facility for individuals with intellectual disabilities (ICF-IID) can be indicated.

D. Right to an administrative hearing: An individual who has been adversely affected by the preadmission screening or resident review screening is entitled to a HCA administrative hearing. See 8.354.2 NMAC for a detailed description of this specific type of HCA administrative hearings.

(1) An eligible recipient or member or their authorized representative may request a HCA administrative hearing.

(2) MAD, the MCO or their designees do not pay fees or costs, including attorney's fees, incurred by the individual or their authorized representative as a result of a HCA pre-hearing conference or a HCA administrative hearing, or if they file an appeal of the HCA administrative hearing final decision.

E. Restriction on reimbursement for medicaid residents: A NF is not reimbursed for any service furnished to an eligible recipient or member resident when pre-admission screens, subsequent specified reviews or significant change reviews are not performed in a timely manner. MAD or the MCO pays only for services furnished after the screens or reviews are performed and will recoup amounts paid to a NF during periods of noncompliance. MAD or the MCO payment for services does not begin until a level II screening has been performed, if applicable.

8.312.2.19 MINIMUM DATA SET:

A. A long term care facility participating in the medicare and is an enrolled MAD provider is required to conduct a comprehensive, accurate, standardized, reproducible assessment of each eligible recipient or member resident's functional capacity. See Sections 4201 (a)(3) and 4211 (a)(3) of the Omnibus Reconciliation Act (OBRA) of 1987.

B. The capacity assessment describes the resident's ability to perform daily life functions and any significant impairment in functional capacity. The assessment is based on a uniform MDS of core elements and common definitions specified by the secretary of the federal health and human services department. A NF is required to use the most current iteration of the MDS. A section of the MDS requires a NF to identify eligible recipient or member residents who may be interested in transitioning back to their community.

(1) The resident assessment instrument (RAI) is specified by the state. State RAIs include at least the health care financing administration MDS, triggers, resident assessment protocols (RAPs) and utilization guidelines.

(2) On a date to be specified by the federal government, NFs will be required to encode the MDS in machine-readable form. After that date, all MDS reporting will be done electronically.

8.312.2.20 MEDICAL CARE CREDITS:

If an eligible recipient or member resident is required to pay a medical care credit, MAD or the MCO reimburses the NF for the difference between the NF’s reimbursable rate and the medical care credit. The NF is responsible for collecting the amount reported as the medical care credit. These medical care credit requirements also apply to co-payments and deductibles for medicare crossover payments.

8.312.2.21 NURSE AIDE TRAINING:

Pursuant to the public health emergency declared by the governor of New Mexico in Executive Order 2020-004 on March 11, 2020, and any renewal and subsequent Executive Order, and the department of health and human services centers for medicaid and medicaid services COVID-19 Emergency Declaration Waiver of Subsection D of 42 C.F.R. 483.35 ,with the exception of Subparagraph (i) of Paragraph (1) of Subsection D of 42 C.F.R. 483.35, the New Mexico human services department does hereby waive enforcement of Paragraphs (1) and (2) of Subsection A of Section 8.321.2.21 NMSA 1978, along with Subsection A of Section 8.321.2.21 NMSA 1978. The NF will not be approved as a MAD or MCO provider if the NF has been out of compliance with federal requirement within the previous two calendar years.

A. Requirements for nurse aide training: Waived.

(1) Waived.

(2) Waived.

(3) A NF must ensure that students in the NATCEP programs do not perform any services for which they have not been trained and found proficient by instructors. A NF must ensure that all students in NATCEP programs are under the general supervision of licensed or registered nurses when they perform services for eligible recipient or member residents.

(4) A NF must furnish regular performance reviews and in-service education to ensure that individuals who serve as nurse aides are competent to perform nurse aide services.

B. Other nurse aide requirements: A NF must not employ individuals who have been convicted by the court of abuse or neglect of any NF residents or misappropriation of any NF residents' property.

C. Nurse aide registry: DOH maintains a registry of all nursing aides who have successfully completed, who have been considered to have completed a NATCEP or CEP program or who have had the NATCEP or CEP requirement waived by New Mexico.

8.312.2.23 RESIDENT RIGHTS TO REQUEST AN ADMINISTRATIVE HEARING:

An eligible recipient or member resident who believes that the NF has erroneously determined that they should be transferred or discharged may request a HCA administrative hearing. A NF must provide an eligible recipient or member resident notice of the proposed transfer or discharge. The notice must inform the eligible recipient or member resident of their right to request a hearing, the method by which a hearing can be requested and their right to present evidence in person or through their authorized representative; see 8.354.2 NMAC and the MAD MCO policy manual.

8.312.2.24 PRIOR APPROVAL AND UTILIZATION REVIEW:

All MAD services are subject to utilization review for medical necessity, inspection of care, and program compliance. Reviews can be performed before services are furnished, after services are furnished, and before payment is made, or after payment is made; see 8.310.2 NMAC. The provider must contact HCA or its authorized agents to request UR instructions. It is the provider's responsibility to access these instructions or ask for paper copies to be provided, to understand the information provided, to comply with the requirements, and to obtain answers to questions not covered by these materials.

A. Prior approval: Certain procedures or services can require prior approval from MAD, the MCO or their designee. Services for which prior approval was obtained remain subject to UR at any point in the payment process.

B. Eligibility determination: Prior authorization of services does not guarantee that an individual is eligible for MAD services or other health care programs. A provider must verify that an individual is eligible for a specific program at the time services are furnished and must determine if the eligible recipient or member has other health insurance.

C. Reconsideration: A provider who disagrees with a prior approval request denial or other review decisions can request a reconsideration of utilization review; see 8.350.2 NMAC.

(3) the NF's billed charge must be its usual and customary charge for services; "usual and customary charge" refers to the amount which the individual provider charges the general public in the majority of cases for a specific procedure or service.

B. Reimbursement limitations: Payments are made only to a MAD enrolled, and as appropriate a HCA MCO contracted NF. Payments to a NF are limited to those service costs which are included as allowable costs under approved provisions of the medicaid state plan or the MAD alternative benefit; see 8.312.3 NMAC. B. Allocable costs: An item or group of items of cost chargeable to one or more objects, processes, or operations in accordance with cost responsibilities, benefits received, or other identifiable measure of application or consumption.

C. Applicable credits: Those receipts or types of transactions which offset or reduce expense items that are allocable to cost centers as direct or indirect costs. Typical examples of such transactions are: purchase discounts, rebates, or allowances; recoveries or indemnities on losses; sales of scrap or incidental services; adjustments of over-payments or erroneous charges; and other income items which serve to reduce costs. In some instances, the amounts received from the federal government to finance hospital activities or service operations should be treated as applicable credits.

D. Cash basis of accounting: Under the cash basis of accounting, revenues are recognized only when cash is received and expenditures for expense and asset items are not recorded until cash is disbursed for them.

E. Charges: The regular rates established by the provider for services rendered to both beneficiaries and to other paying patients whether inpatient or outpatient. The rate billed to the department shall be the usual and customary rate charged to all patients.

F. Closed facility: A facility which has been either voluntarily or involuntarily terminated from participation in the medicaid program not to include termination for construction of a replacement facility.

G. Cost center: A division, department, or subdivision thereof, a group of services or employees or both, or any other unit or type of activity into which functions of an institution are divided for purposes of cost assignment and allocations.

It is the determination of the cost of an operation by the allocation of direct costs and the proration of indirect costs.

I. Facility: The actual physical structure in which services are provided.

J. General service cost centers: Those cost centers which are operated for the benefit of other general service areas as well as special or patient care departments. Examples of these are: housekeeping, laundry, dietary, operation of plant, maintenance of plant, etc. Costs incurred for these cost centers are allocated to other cost centers on the basis of services rendered.

K. Governmental institution: A provider of services owned and operated by a federal, state or local governmental agency.

L. Imputed occupancy: The level of occupancy attributed for the purpose of calculating the reimbursement rate.

M. Inpatient cost centers: Cost centers established to accumulate costs applicable to providing routine and ancillary services to inpatients for the purposes of cost assignment and allocation.

O. Provider: The entity responsible for the provision of services. The provider must have entered into a valid agreement with the medicaid program for the provision of such services.

P. RCC: This is the ratio of charges to charges. The bases or charges used in the RCC formula vary as to the costs to be allocated. The ratios may be expressed as follows:

(1) ratio of beneficiary charges to total charges on a departmental basis.

8.312.3.9 COST RELATED REIMBURSEMENT OF NURSING FACILITIES:

[8.312.3.9 NMAC - Rp, 8.312.3.9 NMAC, 9/1/2021]

8.312.3.10 GENERAL REIMBURSEMENT POLICY:

The human services department will reimburse nursing facilities (effective October 1, 1990, the skilled nursing facility/intermediate care facility SNF/ICF distinction is eliminated; see 8.312.3.16 NMAC) the lower of the following, effective July 1, 1984:

A. billed charges; and

B. the prospective rate as constrained by the ceilings (8.312.3.16 NMAC) established by the department as described in this plan.

[8.312.3.10 NMAC - Rp, 8.312.3.10 NMAC, 9/1/2021]

8.312.3.11 DETERMINATION OF ACTUAL, ALLOWABLE AND REASONABLE COSTS AND SETTING OF PROSPECTIVE RATES:

A. Adequate cost data:

(1) Providers receiving payment on the basis of reimbursable cost must provide adequate cost data based on financial and statistical records which can be verified by qualified auditors. The cost data must be based on an approved method of cost finding and on the accrual basis of accounting. However, where governmental institutions operate on a cash basis of accounting, cost data on this basis will be acceptable, subject to appropriate treatment of capital expenditures.

(2) Cost finding: The cost finding method to be used by NF providers will be the step-down method. This method recognizes that services rendered by certain non-revenue-producing departments or centers are utilized by certain other non-revenue-producing centers. All costs of non-revenue-producing centers are allocated to all centers which they serve, regardless of whether or not these centers produce revenue. The cost of the non-revenue-producing center serving the greatest number of other centers, while receiving benefits from the least number of centers, is apportioned first. Following the apportionment of the cost of the non-revenue-producing center, that center will be considered"closed" and no further costs will be apportioned to it. This applies even though it may have received some service from a center whose cost is apportioned later. Generally when two centers render services to an equal number, that center which has the greater amount of expense will be allocated first.

B. Reporting year: For the purpose of determining a prospective per diem rate related to cost for NF services, the reporting year is the provider's fiscal year. The provider will submit a cost report each year.

C. Cost reporting: At the end of each fiscal year the provider will provide to the state agency or its audit agent an itemized list of allowable cost (financial and statistical report) on the N.M. Title XIX cost reporting form. This itemized list must be submitted within 150 days after the close of the provider's cost reporting year. Failure to file a report within the 150-day limit will result in termination of Title XIX payments. In the case of a change of ownership the previous provider must file a final cost report as of the date of the change of ownership in accordance with reporting requirements specified in this plan. The department will withhold the last month's payment to the previous provider as security against any outstanding obligations to the department. The provider must notify the department 60 days prior to any change in ownership.

D. Retention of records:

(1) Each NF provider shall maintain financial and statistical records of the period covered by such cost report for a period of 10 years following the date of submittal of the New Mexico Title XIX cost report to the state agency. These records must be accurate and in sufficient detail to substantiate the cost data reported. The provider shall make such records available upon demand to representatives of the state agency, the state audit agent, or the department of health and human services.

(2) The state agency or its audit agent will retain all cost reports submitted by providers for a period of 10 years following the date of final settlement of such reports.

E. Audits: Audits will be performed in accordance with 42 CFR 447.202.

(1) Desk audit: Each cost report submitted will be subjected to a comprehensive desk audit by the state audit agent. This desk audit is for the purpose of analyzing the cost report. After each desk audit is performed, the audit agent will submit a complete report of the desk review to the state agency.

(2) Field audit: Field audits will be performed on all providers at least once every three years. The purpose of the field audit of the provider's financial and statistical records is to verify that the data submitted on the cost report are in fact accurate, complete and reasonable. The field audits are conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and of sufficient scope to determine that only proper items of cost applicable to the service furnished were included in the provider's calculation of its cost and to determine whether the expenses attributable to such proper items of cost were accurately determined and reasonable. After each field audit is performed, the audit agent will submit a complete report of the audit to the state agency. This report will meet generally accepted auditing standards and shall declare the auditor's opinion as to whether, in all material respects, the costs reported by the provider are allowable, accurate and reasonable in accordance with the state plan. These audit reports will be retained by the state agency for a period of not less than three years from the date of final settlement of such reports.

F. Overpayments: All overpayments found in audits will be accounted for on the HCFA-64 report to health and human services (HHS) no later than the second quarter following the quarter in which found.

G. Allowable costs: The following identifies costs that are allowable in the determination of a provider's actual, allowable and reasonable costs. All costs are subject to all other terms stated in HIM-15 that are not modified by these regulations.

(1) Cost of meeting certification standards: These will include all items of expense that the provider must incur under:

(a) 42 CFR 442;

(b) Sections 1861(j) and 1902(a)(28) of the Social Security Act;

(c) standards included in 42 CFR 431.610; and

(d) cost incurred to meet requirements for licensing under state law which are necessary for providing NF service.

(2) Costs of routine services: Allowable costs shall include all items of expense that providers incur to provide routine services, known as operating costs. Operating costs include such things as:

(a) regular room;

(b) dietary and nursing services;

(c) medical and surgical supplies (including syringes, catheters; ileostomy, and colostomy supplies);

(d) use of equipment and facilities;

(e) general services, including administration of oxygen and related medications, hand feeding, incontinency care, tray service and enemas;

(f) items furnished routinely and relatively uniform to all patients, such as patient gowns, water pitchers, basins and bed pans;

(g) items stocked at nursing stations or on the floor in gross supply and distributed or used individually in small quantities, such as alcohol and body rubs, applicators, cotton balls, bandaids, laxatives and fecal softeners, aspirin, antacids, over-the-counter (OTC) ointments, and tongue depressors;

(h) items which are used by individual patients but which are reusable and expected to be available, such as ice bags, bed rails, canes, crutches, walkers, wheelchairs, traction equipment, and other durable equipment;

(i) special dietary supplements used for tube feeding or oral feeding even if prescribed by a physician;

(j) laundry services including basic personal laundry;

(k) the department will make payment directly to the medical equipment provider in accordance with procedures outlined in 8.324.5 NMAC, Durable Medical Equipment and Medical Supplies, and subject to the limitations on rental payments contained in that section; and

(l) managerial, administrative, professional, and other services related to the providers operation and rendered in connection with patient care.

(3) Facility costs, for purpose of specific limitations included in this plan, include only depreciation, lease costs, and long-term interest.

(a) Depreciation is the systematic distribution of the cost or other basis of tangible assets, less salvage value, over the estimated useful life of the assets.

(i) The basis for depreciation is the historical cost of purchased assets or the fair market value at the time of donation for donated assets.

(ii) Historical cost is the actual cost incurred in acquiring and preparing an asset for use.

(iii) Fair market value is the price for which an asset would have been purchased on the date of acquisition in an arms-length transaction between an informed buyer and seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or sell. Fair market value shall be determined by a qualified appraiser who is a registered member of the American institute of real estate appraisers (MAI) and who is acceptable to the department.

(iv) In determining the historical cost of assets where an on-going facility is purchased, the provisions of medicare provider reimbursement manual (HIM-15), Section 104.14 will apply.

(v) Depreciation will be calculated using the straight-line method and estimated useful lives approximating the guidelines published in American hospital association chart of accounts for hospitals.

(b) Long-term interest is the cost incurred for the use of borrowed funds for capital purposes, such as the acquisition of facility, equipment, improvements, etc., where the original term of the loan is more than one year.

(c) Lease term will be considered a minimum of five years for purposes of determining allowable lease costs.

(4) Gains and losses on disposition: Gains or losses on the disposition of depreciable assets used in the program are calculated in accordance with Section 130 and 132 of HIM-15. Disposition of a provider's depreciable assets which effectively terminates its participation in the program shall include the sale, lease or other disposition of a facility to another entity whether or not that entity becomes a participant in the program. The amount of gain on the disposition of depreciable assets will be subject to recapture as allowed by HIM-15.

(5) Depreciation, interest, lease costs, or other costs are subject to the limitations stated in Section 2422 of HIM-15 regarding approval of capital expenditures in accordance with Section 1122 of the Social Security Act.

(6) Facility costs are subject to all other terms stated in HIM-15 that are not modified by these regulations.

H. Non-allowable costs:

(1) bad debts, charity, and courtesy allowances: bad debts on non-Title XIX program patients and charity and courtesy allowances shall not be included in allowable costs;

(2) purchases from related organizations: cost applicable to services, facilities, and supplies furnished to a provider by organizations related to the provider by common ownership or control shall not exceed the lower of the cost to the related organization or the price of comparable services, facilities or supplies purchased elsewhere; providers shall identify such related organizations and costs in the state's cost reports;

(3) return on equity capital;

(4) other cost and expense items identified as unallowable in HIM-15;

(5) interest paid on overpayments as per 8.302.2 NMAC, Billing for Medicaid Services; and

(6) any civil monetary penalties levied in connection to intermediate sanctions, licensure, certification, or fraud regulations.

8.312.3.12 ESTABLISHMENT OF PROSPECTIVE PER-DIEM RATES:

Prospective per diem rates will be established as follows and will be the lower of the amount calculated using the following formulas, or the ceiling:

A. Base year: Rebasing of the prospective per diem rate will take place every three years. Therefore, the operating years under this plan will be known as year one, year two and year three. Because rebasing is done every three years, operating year four will again become year one, etc. Cost incurred, reported, audited or desk reviewed for the provider's last fiscal year which falls in the calendar year prior to year one will be used to rebase the prospective per-diem rate. Rebasing of costs in excess of one hundred and ten percent of the previous year's audited cost per diem times the index (as described further on in these regulations) will not be recognized for calculation of the base year costs. For implementation year one (effective July 1, 1984) the base year is the provider's last available audited cost report prior to January 1, 1984. Rebasing will occur out of cycle for rates effective January 1, 1996, using the provider's FYE 1994 audited cost reports. The rate period January 1, 1996, through June 30, 1996, will be considered year one. The rate period July 1, 1996, through June 30, 1997, will be considered year two, and the rate period July 1, 1997, through June 30, 1998, will be considered year three. The rebasing cycle will resume for rates effective July 1, 1998, and continue as described in the first paragraph of this section. Pursuant to budget availability, any changes to reimbursement, including the decision to rebase rates will be at the department's discretion.

B. Inflation factor to recognize economic conditions and trends during the time period covered by the provider's prospective per diem rate:

(1) Pursuant to budget availability and at the department's discretion, an inflation factor may be used to recognize economic conditions and trends. A notice will be sent out every July informing each provider that a:

(a) MBI will or will not be authorized; and

(b) the percentage increase if the MBI is authorized.

(2) If utilized, the index used to determine the inflation factor will be the center for medicare and medicaid services (CMS) market basket index (MBI) or a percentage up to the MBI.

(3) Each provider's operating costs will be indexed up to a common point of 12/31 for the base year, and then indexed to a mid-year point of 12/31 for operating year one, if applicable. For out-of-cycle rebasing occurring for rates effective January 1, 1996, through June 30, 1996, the mid-year point for indexing in operating year one will be 3/31.

(4) The inflation factor for the period July 1, 1996, through June 30, 1997, will be the percentage change in the (MBI) for the previous year plus two percentage points.

C. Incentives to reduce increases in costs: As an incentive to reduce the increases in the costs of operation, the department will share with the provider in accordance with the following formula, the savings below the operating cost ceiling in effect during the state's fiscal year.

$I = [1/2(M - N)] \leq $2.00$

where

M = current operating cost ceiling per diem

N - allowable operating per diem rate based on the base year's cost report

I = allowable incentive per diem

D. Calculation of the prospective per-diem rate: The following formulas are used to determine the prospective per diem rate:

YEAR ONE

$PR = BYOC \times (1 + \Delta MBI) + I + FC$

where

PR = prospective per diem rate

BYOC = allowable base year operating costs as described in A above, and indexed as described in B above.

NHI = the change in the MBI as described in B above

I = allowable incentive per diem

FC = allowable facility costs per diem

YEARS TWO and THREE

$PR = (OP + I) \times (1 + \Delta MBI) + FC$

where

PR = prospective per-diem rate

OP= allowable operating costs per diem

I = allowable incentive per diem

NHI = the change in the MBI as described in B above

FC = allowable facility costs per diem

E. Effective dates of prospective rates: Rates are effective July 1 of each year for each facility.

F. Calculation of rates for existing providers that do not have 1983 actuals, and for newly constructed facilities entering the program after July 1, 1984.

(1) For existing and for newly constructed facilities entering the program that do not have 1983 actuals, the provider's interim prospective per-diem rate will become the sum of:

(a) the applicable facility cost ceiling; and

(b) the operating cost ceiling.

(2) After six months of operation or at the provider's fiscal year end, whichever comes later, the provider will submit a completed cost report. This will be audited to determine the actual operating and facility cost, and retroactive settlement will take place. The provider's prospective per-diem rate will then become the sum of:

(a) the lower of allowable facility costs or the applicable facility cost ceiling; and

(b) the lower of allowable operating costs or the operating cost ceiling.

(3) Such providers will not be eligible for incentive payments until the next operating year one, after rebasing.

G. Changes of provider by sale of an existing facility:

(1) When a change of ownership occurs, the provider's prospective per-diem rate will become the sum of:

(a) the lower of allowable facility costs determined by using the medicare principles of reimbursement, or the facility cost ceiling; and

(b) the operating cost established for the previous owner/operator, or the median of operating costs for its category, whichever is higher.

(2) Such providers will not be eligible for incentive payments until the next operating year one, after rebasing.

H. Changes of provider by lease of an existing facility:

(1) When a change of ownership occurs, the provider's prospective per-diem rate will become the sum of:

(a) the lower of allowable facility costs or the facility cost ceiling, as defined by this plan; and

(b) the operating cost established for the previous owner/operator, or the median of operating costs for its category, whichever is higher.

(2) Such providers will not be eligible for incentive payments until the next operating year one, after rebasing.

I. Sale/leaseback of an existing facility: When a sale/leaseback of an existing facility occurs, the provider's prospective rate will remain the same as before the transaction.

J. Replacement of an existing facility: When an existing facility is replaced, the provider's prospective rate will become the sum of:

(1) the lower of allowable facility costs or the facility cost ceiling as defined by this plan; and

(2) the operating cost plus incentive payment paid to the provider prior to the construction of the replacement facility.

K. Replaced facility re-entering the medicaid program:

(1) When a facility is replaced by a replacement facility and the replaced facility re-enters the medicaid program either under the same ownership or under different ownership, the provider's prospective rate will become the sum of:

(a) the median operating cost for its category; and

(b) the lower of allowable facility costs or the applicable facility cost ceiling.

(2) Such providers will not be eligible for incentive payments until the next operating year one, after rebasing.

L. Closed facility re-entering the medicaid program:

(1) When a facility has been closed and re-enters the medicaid program under new ownership, it shall be considered a change of ownership and either Subsection G or Subsection H, whichever is applicable, will apply.

(2) When a facility has been closed and re-enters the medicaid program under the same ownership within 12 months of closure, the provider's prospective rate will be the same as prior to the closing.

(3) When a facility has been closed and re-enters the medicaid program under the same ownership more than 12 months after closure, the provider's prospective rate will be the sum of:

(a) the median operating cost for its category; and

(b) the lower of allowable facility costs or the applicable facility cost ceiling.

(4) Providers of such facilities will not be eligible for incentive payments until the next operating year one, after rebasing.

[8.312.3.12 NMAC - Rp, 8.312.3.12 NMAC, 9/1/2021]

8.312.3.13 ESTABLISHMENT OF CEILINGS:

The following categories are used to establish ceilings for calculating prospective per diem rates: 1) state-owned and operated NF, 2) non-state-owned and operated NF. The department determines the status of each provider for exclusion from or inclusion in any one category. Ceilings will be separately established for each category as described above, and separately established for the two areas of allowable costs, i.e. operating costs and facility costs. The operating cost ceiling will be calculated using the base year costs for year one. For years two and three, the operating cost ceiling will not be recalculated. It will be indexed forward using the appropriate inflation factor. The facility cost ceiling of $11.50 will be trended forward in year two beginning July 1, 1985, by MBI minus one percentage point and then annually by the MBI.

A. Operating costs: The ceiling for operating costs will be established at one hundred and ten percent of the median of allowable costs for the base year, indexed to 12/31 of base year.

B. Facility costs: For existing, replacement, and newly constructed facilities, including remodeling of a facility to become a long term care facility, facility costs will be limited as follows:

(1) Any facility that is participating in medicaid by July 1, 1984, or has been granted Section 1122 approval by July 1, 1984, for construction (including bed additions to such facilities) will be paid the lower of actual allowable facility costs or the applicable facility cost ceiling for implementation year one. The facility cost ceiling will be eleven dollars and fifty cents ($11.50).

(2) Any new facility not approved July 1, 1984, under Section 1122 for construction (including bed additions to such facilities) will be paid the lower of actual allowable facility costs or the median of facility costs for all other existing facilities in the same category.

(3) Effective for leases executed and binding on both parties on or after January 1, 1988, total allowable lease costs for the entire term of the lease for each facility will be limited to an amount determined by a discounted cash flow technique which will provide the lessor an annual rate of return on the fair market value of the facility equal to one time the average of the rates of interest on special issues of public debt obligations issued to the federal hospital insurance trust fund for the twelve months prior to the date the facility became a provider in the New Mexico medicaid program. The rates of interest for this fund are published in both the federal register and the commerce clearing house (CCH). The basis of the total investment will be subject to the limitations described in Paragraphs 1 and 2 of Subsection B of 8.312.3.13 NMAC. The rate of return described above will be exclusive of any escalator clauses contained in the lease. The effect of escalator clauses will be considered at the time they become effective and the reasonableness of such clauses will be determined by the inflation factor described in Subsection B of 8.312.3.12 NMAC. Any appraisal necessary to determine the fair market value of the facility will be the sole responsibility of the provider and is not an allowable cost for reimbursement under the program. The appraisals must be conducted by an appraiser certified by a nationally recognized entity, and such appraiser must be familiar with the health care industry, specifically long term care, and must be familiar with the geographic area in which the facility is located. Prior to the appraisal taking place, the provider must submit to the department the name of the appraiser, a copy of his/her certification, and a brief description of the appraiser's relevant experience. The use of a particular appraiser is subject to the approval of the department.

(4) For newly constructed facilities, reconstruction of a facility to become a long term care facility, and replacement facilities entering the medicaid program on or after January 1, 1988, the total basis of depreciable assets shall not exceed the median cost of construction of a nursing home as listed in the Robert S. Means construction index, adjusted for New Mexico costs and for inflation in the construction industry from the date of publication to the date the provider is expected to enter the New Mexico medicaid program. The costs of construction referred to herein is expected to include only the cost of the building and fixed equipment. A reasonable value of land and major moveable equipment will need to be added to obtain the value of the entire facility.

(5) When an existing facility is sold, facility costs per day will be limited to the lower of:

(a) allowable facility costs determined by using the medicare principles of reimbursement; or

(b) the facility cost ceiling.

(6) When an existing facility is leased, the facility costs per day will be limited to the lower of:

(a) actual allowable facility costs; or

(b) for facilities owned or operated by the lessor for 10 years or longer, the applicable facility cost ceiling; or

(c) for facilities owned or operated by the lessor less than 10 years, one hundred and ten percent of the median of facility costs for all providers in the same category.

(7) When a replaced facility re-enters the medicaid program either under the same ownership as existed prior to the replacement or under different ownership, facility costs per day will be limited to the lower of:

(a) actual allowable facility costs; or

(b) the median of facility costs for all other existing facilities in the same category.

[8.312.3.13 NMAC - Rp, 8.312.3.13 NMAC, 9/1/2021]

8.312.3.14 IMPUTED OCCUPANCY:

In order to insure that the medicaid program does not pay for costs associated with unnecessary beds as evidenced by under-utilization, allowable facility costs will be calculated by imputing a ninety percent occupancy rate. This provision will apply to:

A. any new facility certified for participation in the medicaid program on or after January 1, 1988;

B. existing facilities, if the number of licensed or certified beds increases on or after January 1, 1988. In such cases, occupancy will be imputed for all beds;

C. replacement facilities, certified for participation in the medicaid program on or after January 1, 1988, if the replacement facility contains a higher number of licensed or certified beds than the facility being replaced;

D. any replaced facility which re-enters the medicaid program on or after January 1, 1988, either under the same ownership or different ownership;

E. any closed facility which re-enters the medicaid program on or after January 1, 1988;

F. facility costs will be adjusted and the resulting rate change will become effective when any of the above occurs; providers operating such facilities shall submit appropriate information regarding facility costs so that the rate adjustment can be computed.

[8.312.3.14 NMAC - Rp, 8.312.3.14 NMAC, 9/1/2021]

8.312.3.15 ADJUSTMENTS TO BASE YEAR COSTS:

A. Since rebasing of the prospective per diem rate will take place every three years, the department recognizes that certain circumstances may warrant an adjustment to the base rate. Therefore, the provider may request such an adjustment for the following reasons:

(1) additional costs incurred to meet new requirements imposed by government regulatory agencies, taxation authorities, or applicable law (e.g. minimum staffing requirements, social security taxation of 501 (c)(3) corporations, minimum wage change, property tax increases, etc.);

(2) additional costs incurred as a result of uninsurable losses from catastrophic occurrences; and

(3) additional costs of approved expansion, remodeling or purchase of equipment;

B. Such additional costs must reach a minimum of $10,000 incurred cost per year for rebasing to be considered. The provider may request consideration of such rebasing no more than twice in its fiscal year. The provider is encouraged to submit such rebasing requests before the cost is actually incurred if possible. The department will approve or disapprove the rebasing request in a timely manner. If the rebasing is approved, the resulting increase in the prospective per diem rate will go into effect:

(1) beginning with the month the cost was actually incurred if prior approval was obtained; or

(2) no later than 30 days from the date of the approval if retroactive approval was obtained.

C. At no time will rebasing in excess of the applicable operating or facility cost ceilings be allowed, unless the department determines that a change in law or regulation has equal impact on all providers regardless of the ceiling limitation. An example of this would be the minimum wage law.

D. Pursuant to budget availability, the decision to approve any adjustments to base year costs will be at the department's discretion.

8.312.3.16 IMPLEMENTATION OF NURSING HOME REFORM REQUIREMENTS EFFECTIVE OCTOBER 1, 1990:

As mandated by Section 1919 of the Social Security Act, the following changes are made effective October 1, 1990:

A. Elimination of SNF/ICF Distinction: Effective October 1, 1990, the SNF and ICF distinctions will be eliminated and all participating providers will become NFs. In order to account for the change the following will be implemented:

(1) Two levels of NF services will exist, representing the care needs of the respective recipients: High NF; Low NF.

(2) A high NF rate and a low NF rate will be established for each provider.

(3) For existing SNFs, the High NF rate will be the provider's SNF rate in effect on September 30, 1990.

(4) For existing SNFs with no existing ICF rate, the low NF rate will be the provider's SNF rate in effect on September 30, 1990, minus an amount equal to the statewide mean differential of the operating component of current SNF/ICF rates.

(5) For existing ICFs, the low NF rate will be the provider's ICF rate in effect on September 30, 1990.

(6) For existing ICFs with no existing SNF rate, the high NF rate will be the provider's ICF rate in effect on September 30, 1990, plus an amount equal to the statewide mean differential of the operating component of current SNF/ICF rates.

B. Cost increases related to nursing home reform: To account for cost increases necessary to comply with the nursing home reform provisions, the following amounts will be added to NF rates (see above), effective October 1, 1990: high NF $3.69; low NF $4.96.

[8.312.3.16 NMAC - Rp, 8.312.3.16 NMAC, 9/1/2021]

8.312.3.17 PAYMENT OF RESERVE BED DAYS:

When medicaid payment is made to reserve a bed while the recipient is absent from the facility, the reserve bed day payment shall be in an amount equal to fifty percent of the regular payment rate.

8.312.3.18 RECONSIDERATION PROCEDURES FOR LONG TERM CARE DETERMINATIONS:

A. A provider who is dissatisfied with the base year rate determination or the final settlement (in the case of a change in ownership) may request a reconsideration of the determination by addressing a request for reconsideration to: director, medical assistance division, human services department, P.O. Box 2348, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87504-2348.

B. The filing of a request for reconsideration will not effect the imposition of the determination.

C. A request for reconsideration, to be timely, must be filed with or received by the medical assistance division director no later than 30 days after the date of the determination notice to the provider.

D. The written request for reconsideration must identify each point on which it takes issue with the audit agent and must include all documentation, citation of authority, and argument on which the request is based. Any point not raised in the original filed request may not be raised later.

E. The medical assistance division will submit copies of the request and supporting material to the audit agent. A copy of the transmittal letter to the audit agent will be sent to the provider. A written response from the audit agent must be filed with or received by the medical assistance division no later than 30 days after the date of the transmittal letter.

F. The medical assistance division will submit copies of the audit agent's response and supporting material to the provider. A copy of the transmittal letter to the provider will be sent to the audit agent. Both parties may then come up with additional submittals on the point(s) at issue. Such follow-up submittals must be filed with or received by the medical assistance division no later than 15 days after the date of the transmittal letter to the provider.

G. The request for reconsideration and supporting materials, the response and supporting materials, and any additional submittal will be delivered by the medical assistance division director to the secretary, or his/her designee, within 5 days after the closing date for final submittals.

H. The secretary, or his/her designee, may secure all information and call on all expertise he/she believes necessary to decide the issues.

I. The secretary, or his/her designee, will make a determination on each point at issue, with written findings and will mail a copy of the determinations to each party within 30 days of the delivery of the material to him. The secretary's determinations on appeals will be made in accordance with the applicable provisions of the plan. The secretary's decision will be final and any changes to the original determination will be implemented pursuant to that decision.

8.312.3.19 PUBLIC DISCLOSURE OF COST REPORTS:

A. Providers' cost reports submitted by participating providers as a basis for reimbursement as required by law are available to the public upon receipt of a written request to the medical assistance division. Information thus disclosed is limited to cost report documents required by social security administration regulations and, in the case of a settled cost report, the notice of program settlement.

B. The request must identify the provider and the specific report(s) requested.

C. The provider whose report has been requested will be notified by the medical assistance division that its cost report has been requested, and by whom. The provider shall have 10 days in which to comment to the requester before the cost report is released.

[8.313.2.16 NMAC - Rp 8.313.2.16 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.313.2.17 RECIPIENT PERSONAL FUND ACCOUNTS:

A. As a condition for participation in medicaid, each ICF- MR must establish and maintain an acceptable system of accounting for a resident's personal funds when a Title XIX (medicaid) recipient requests that their personal funds be cared for by the facility. See 42 CFR 483.10(c).

(1) Requests for ICFs-MR to care or not care for a resident's funds must be made in writing and secured by a request to handle recipient's fund form or a letter signed by the resident or their representative. The form or letter is retained in the recipient's file at the facility.

(2) A recipient's personal fund consists of a monthly maintenance allowance established by MAD. If the resident receives any income in excess of this allowance, the excess is applied to the cost of the resident's medical care at the facility. This excess is reported as a medical care credit to the facility by the local county income support division (ISD) office, when applicable.

(3) All facilities must have procedures on the handling of medicaid residents' funds. These procedures must not allow the facility to commingle medicaid residents' funds with facility funds.

(4) Facilities should use these medicaid guidelines to develop procedures for handling resident funds.

(5) Residents have the right to manage their financial affairs and no facility can require residents to deposit their personal funds with the facility.

(6) Facilities must purchase a surety bond or provide self-insurance to ensure the security of all personal funds deposited with the facility.

B. Fund custodians: Facilities must designate a full-time employee and an alternate to serve as fund custodians for handling all medicaid residents' money on a daily basis. Another individual, other than those employees who have daily responsibility for the fund, must do the following:

(1) reconcile balances of the individual medicaid residents' accounts with the collective bank account;

(2) periodically audit and reconcile the petty cash fund;

(3) authorize checks for the withdrawal of funds from the bank account; and

(4) facilities must ensure that there is a full, complete and separate accounting, based on generally accepted accounting principles, of each resident's personal funds entrusted to facilities on the resident's behalf.

C. Bank account: Facilities must establish a bank account for the deposit of all medicaid residents who request the facility to handle their funds. Residents' personal funds are held separately and not commingled with facility funds.

(1) Facilities must deposit any resident's personal funds of more than $50 in an interest bearing account that is separate from any of the facility operating accounts and which credits all interest earned on the resident's account to that account.

(2) Facilities must maintain residents' personal fund up to $50 in a non-interest bearing account or a petty cash fund. Residents must have convenient access to these funds.

(3) Individual financial records must be available on the request of residents or their legal representatives.

(4) Within 30 days of the death of residents whose personal funds are deposited with the facility, the ICF-MR must convey the resident's funds and a final accounting of these funds promptly to the individual or probate jurisdiction administering the resident's estate.

D. Establishment of individual accounts: Facilities must establish accounts for each medicaid resident in which all transactions can be recorded. Accounts can be maintained in a general ledger book, card file, or looseleaf binder.

(1) For money received, the source, amount, and date must be recorded. Residents or their authorized representatives must be given receipts for the money. The facility must retain a copy of the deposit in the resident's individual account file.

(2) The purpose, amount and date of all disbursements to or on behalf of residents must be recorded. Any money spent either on behalf of residents or withdrawn by residents or their representatives must be validated by receipts or signatures on individual ledger sheets.

(3) Facilities must notify each medicaid resident when the account balance is $200 less than the supplemental security income (SSI) resource limit for one person, specified in Section 1611(a)(3)(B) of the Social Security Act. If the amount of the account and the value of the resident's other nonexempt resources reach the SSI resource limit for one person, the resident can lose eligibility for medicaid or SSI.

E. Personal fund reconciliation: Facilities must balance the individual accounts, the collective bank accounts and the petty cash fund at least once a month. The facility must provide medicaid residents or their authorized representatives with an accounting of the resident's funds at least once a quarter. Copies of individual account records can be used to provide this information.

F. Petty cash fund: Facilities must maintain a cash fund to accommodate the small cash requirements of medicaid residents. Five dollars ($5.00) or less per individual recipient may be adequate. The amount of money maintained in the petty cash fund is determined by the number of residents using the service and the frequency and availability of bank service. A petty cash fund ledger must be established to record all actions regarding money in this fund.

(1) To establish the fund, the ICF-MR must withdraw money from the collective bank account and keep it in a locked cash box.

(2) To use the petty cash fund, the following procedures should be established:

(a) recipients or their authorized representatives request small amounts of spending money;

(b) the amount disbursed is entered on individual ledger record; and

(c) the resident or representative signs an account record and receives a receipt.

(3) To replenish the fund, the following procedures should be used:

(a) money in the cash box is counted and added to the total of all disbursements made since the last replenishment; and

(b) the total of the disbursements plus cash on hand equals the beginning amount;

(c) money equal to the amount of disbursements is withdrawn from the collective bank account.

(4) To reconcile the fund, the following procedures must be established and used at least once each month:

(a) count money on hand; and

(b) total cash disbursed either from receipts or individual account records; the cash on hand plus total disbursements equals the petty cash total.

(5) To close the resident's account, ICFs-MR should do the following:

(a) enter date of and reason for closing the account;

(b) write a check against the collective bank account for the balance shown on the individual account record;

(c) get signature of the recipient or their authorized representative on the individual recipient account record, as receipt of payment;

(d) notify the local ISD office if closure is caused by the death of the recipient so that action can be taken to terminate assistance; and

(e) within 30 days of the death of a resident who had no relatives, the ICF-MR conveys the resident's funds and a final accounting of the funds to the individual or probate jurisdiction administering the resident's estate; see 42 CFR 483.10(c)(6).

G. Retention of records: All account records other than financial and statistical cost reports must be retained until after an audit is complete or six years, whichever is greater. For details on retention of financial and statistical cost reports, see Subsection D of 8.313.3.12 NMAC Retention of Records.

H. Non-acceptable uses of recipients' personal funds:

(1) Facilities cannot impose charges against a resident's personal funds for any item or service for which payment is made by medicaid or for any item residents or their representatives did not request. Facilities must not require residents or representative to request any item or services as a condition of admission or continued stay.

(2) Facilities must inform residents or their representative requesting non-covered items or services that there is a charge for the item and the amount of the charge.

(3) Non- acceptable uses of residents' personal funds include the following:

(a) payment for services or supplies covered by medicaid or medicare; see 8.313.3 NMAC, Cost Related Reimbursement of Intermediate Care Facilities for the Mentally Retarded;

(b) difference between the facility billed charge and the medicaid payment; or

(c) payment for services or supplies routinely furnished by the facility, such as linens and nightgowns.

I. State monitoring of residents' personal funds: Facilities must make all files and records involving residents' personal funds available for inspection by authorized state personnel or federal auditors.

(1) The division of health improvement, health facility licensing & certification bureau of the HCA verifies that facilities have a system of accounting for residents' personal funds, including the components described above. Failure to provide an acceptable accounting system constitutes a deficiency that must be corrected.

(2) The HCA or its designee can complete a thorough audit of residents' personal fund accounts at HCA's discretion.

8.313.2.18 LEVEL OF CARE DETERMINATION:

Medical necessity, level of care or length of stay determinations, and on-site review activities are carried out in accordance with the MAD utilization review policy and procedures, authorized under Title XIX of the Social Security Act. See 8.350.3 NMAC, Abstract Submission for Level of Care Determinations.

[8.313.2.18 NMAC - Rp 8.313.2.18 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.313.2.19 PRIOR AUTHORIZATION AND UTILIZATION REVIEW:

All HCA/MAD program services are subject to utilization review for medical necessity and program compliance. Reviews can be performed before services are furnished, after services are furnished and before payment is made, or after payment is made. See 8.302.5 NMAC, Prior Authorization and Utilization Review. Once enrolled, providers receive instructions and documentation forms necessary for prior authorization and claims processing.

A. Prior authorization: Certain procedures or services can require prior authorization from MAD or its designee. Services for which prior authorization was obtained remain subject to utilization review at any point in the payment process.

B. Eligibility determination: Prior authorization of services does not guarantee that individuals are eligible for HCA/ MAD programs. Providers must verify that individuals are eligible for HCA/MAD programs at the time services are furnished and determine if HCA/MAD program recipients have other health insurance.

C. Reconsideration: Providers who disagree with prior authorization request denials or other review decisions can request a re- review and a reconsideration. See Section MAD-953, Reconsideration Of Utilization Review Decisions.

[8.313.2.19 NMAC - Rp 8.313.2.19 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.313.2.20 RESERVE BED DAYS:

Medicaid pays to hold or reserve a bed for a resident of an ICF- MR for the following reasons: 1) to allow the resident to make home and community visits, e.g., vacations; 2) to adjust to a new living environment; or 3) for hospitalizations.

A. Coverage of reserve bed days: Without prior authorization, medicaid covers 65 reserve bed days per calendar year for every resident for family visits, vacations, home visits, hospitalizations and adjustment to a new living environment. Reserve bed days used under this section require documentation in the facility or the client records for all absences from the facility. If the absence from the facility is not documented in the facility or the client records, medicaid will recoup the reserve bed day payment. If the resident is away from the facility with facility staff supervision, the absence is not considered a reserve bed day.

B. Prior authorization: After the 65 days have been expended, medicaid covers, with prior authorization, an additional six reserve bed days per calendar year for discharge planning.

(1) A resident’s discharge plan must clearly state the objectives, including how visits to alternative placements relate to discharge plan implementation.

(2) To obtain medicaid prior authorization, the facility must submit the following information in writing to MAD:

(a) the resident’s name;

(b) social security number;

(c) requested approval dates;

(d) copy of the discharge plan;

(e) name and address of the individual who will care for the resident; and

(f) written physician order for trial placement.

(3) Documentation of the resident's absence from the facility for these six additional reserve bed days must be in the facility or the client records.

C. Documentation of reserve bed days: If residents leave the ICF-MR for any reason, documentation of the absence from the facility must be in the facility or client records. Hospitalizations must be documented in the client records at the ICF-MR.

D. Reimbursement and billing for reserve bed days: Reimbursement for reserve bed days to the ICF-MR is limited to the provider's level III rate. Billing for reserve bed days is based on the facility census, which runs from midnight to midnight. Medicaid pays for the admission day but does not pay for the discharge day. To receive payment for the additional six reserve bed days, which require prior authorization, the provider must attach a copy of the written notification of approval by MAD to the claim.

[8.313.2.20 NMAC - Rp 8.313.2.20 NMAC, 7/1/2024]

8.313.2.21 REIMBURSEMENT:

Intermediate care providers must submit claims for reimbursement on the long term care turn around documents (TAD) or its successor. See Section MAD-702, Billing for Medicaid Services. Once enrolled, providers receive instructions on documentation, billing, and claims processing.

A. MAD reimburses ICF-MR the lower of the following:

(1) the provider's billed charges; or

(2) the prospective rate as constrained by the ceilings established by MAD. See 8.313.3 NMAC, Cost Related Reimbursement of Intermediate Care Facilities for the Mentally Retarded.

B. Reimbursement limitations: medicaid pays only those ICF-MRs which meet the conditions for participation, specified in this section. Payments to ICF-MRs for services are limited to those services which are included as allowable service costs under the approved state plan. All claims for payment submitted to MAD are subject to utilization review and control.

C. Reimbursement methodology: See 8.313.3 NMAC, Cost Related Reimbursement of Intermediate Care Facilities for the Mentally Retarded.
